²⁰Then answered I them, and said to them, "The God of heaven will prosper us. Therefore we, his servants, will arise and build; but you have no portion, nor right, nor memorial, in Jerusalem."

3 Then Eliashib the high priest rose up with his brothers the priests, and they built the Sheep Gate. They sanctified it and set up its doors; they sanctified it as far as the Tower of the Hundred and^d as far as the Tower of Hananel. ²And the men of Jericho built next to him. And next to them Zaccur son of Imri built. ³The sons of Hassenaah built the Fish Gate. They laid its beams, and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars. ⁴Next to them, Meremoth the son of Uriah, the son of Hakkoz made repairs. Next to them, Meshullam the son of Berechiah, the son of Meshezabel made repairs. Next to them, Zadok the son of Baana made repairs. ⁵Next to them, the Tekoites made repairs; but their nobles did not put their necks to the work of their lord. ⁶Joiada the son of Paseah and Meshullam the son of Besodeiah repaired the Old Gate. They laid its beams, and set up its doors, and its bolts, and its bars. ⁷Next to them, Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Meronothite, the men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah, repaired the residence of the governor beyond the River. ⁸Next to him, Uzziel the son of Harhaiah, goldsmiths, made repairs. Next to him, Hananiah one of the perfumers made repairs, and they fortified Jerusalem even to the Broad Wall. ⁹Next to them, Rephaiah the son of Hur, the ruler of half the district of Jerusalem, made repairs. ¹⁰Next to them, Jedaiah the son of Harumaph made repairs^b across from his house. Next to him, Hattush the son of Hashabneiah made repairs. ¹¹Malchijah the son of Harim, and Hasshub the son of Pahath-Moab, repaired another portion, and the Tower of the Ovens. ¹²Next to him, Shallum the son of Hallohesh, the ruler of half the district of Jerusalem, he and his daughters, made repairs. ¹³Hanun and the inhabitants of Zanoah repaired the Valley Gate. They built it, and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars, and one thousand seven hundred twenty-two feet six inches^c of the wall to the Dung Gate. ¹⁴Malchijah the son of Rechab, the ruler of the district of Beth Haccherem repaired the Dung Gate. He built it, and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars. ¹⁵Shallum^d the son of Colhozeh, the ruler of the district of Mizpah repaired the Fountain Gate. He built it, and covered it, and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars, and the wall of the Pool of Shiloah^e by the king's garden, even to the stairs that go down from the City of David. ¹⁶After him, Nehemiah the son of Azbuk, the ruler of half the district of Beth Zur, made repairs to the place opposite the tombs of David, and to the pool that was made, and to the house of the mighty men. ¹⁷After him, the Levites made repairs: Rehum the son of Bani, and^f next to him, Hashabiah, the ruler of half the district of Keilah, made repairs for his district. ¹⁸After him, their brothers, Binnui^g the son of Henadad, the ruler of half the district of Keilah made repairs.

4 But it happened that when Sanballat heard that we were building the wall, he was angry, and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews. ²And he spoke before his brothers and the army of Samaria, and said, "What are these feeble Jews doing? Will they restore it for themselves? Will they sacrifice? Will they finish in a day? Will they revive the stones out of the heaps of rubbish, which are burned?" ³Now Tobiah the Ammonite was by him, and he said, "What they are building, if a fox climbed up it, he would break down their stone wall."

⁶So we built the wall; and all the wall was joined together to half its height: for the people had a mind to work. ⁷But it happened that when Sanballat, Tobiah, the Arabians, the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites heard that the repairing of the walls of Jerusalem went forward, and that the breaches began to be filled, then they were very angry; ⁸and they conspired all of them together to come and fight against Jerusalem, and to cause confusion in it. ⁹But we made our prayer to our God, and set a watch against them day and night, because of them. ¹⁰Judah said, "The strength of the bearers of burdens is fading, and there is much rubbish; so that we are not able to build the wall." ¹¹Our adversaries said, "They shall not know, neither see,

¹²It happened that when the Jews who lived by them came, they said to us ten times from all places, “Wherever you turn, they will attack us.” ¹³Therefore set I in the lowest parts of the space behind the wall, in the open places, I set the people after their families with their swords, their spears, and their bows. ¹⁴I looked, and rose up, and said to the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, “Do not be afraid of them. Remember the Lord, who is great and awesome, and fight for your brothers, your sons, and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.”

5 Then there arose a great cry of the people and of their wives against their brothers the Jews. ²For there were that said, “We, our sons and our daughters, are many. Let us get grain, that we may eat and live.” ³Some also there were that said, “We are mortgaging our fields, and our vineyards, and our houses. Let us get grain, because of the famine.” ⁴There were also some who said, “We have borrowed money for the king’s tribute using our fields and our vineyards as collateral. ⁵Yet now our flesh is as the flesh of our brothers, our children as their children. Look, we bring into bondage our sons and our daughters to be servants, and some of our daughters have been brought into bondage. Neither is it in our power to help it; for other men have our fields and our vineyards.”

⁶I was very angry when I heard their cry and these words. ⁷Then I consulted with myself, and contended with the nobles and the rulers, and said to them, “You exact usury, everyone of his brother.” I held a great assembly against them. ⁸I said to them, “We, after our ability, have redeemed our brothers the Jews that were sold to the nations; and would you even sell your brothers, and should they be sold to us?” Then they held their peace, and found never a word. ⁹Also I said, “The thing that you do is not good. Ought you not to walk in the fear of our God, to prevent the taunts of the nations our enemies? ¹⁰I likewise, my brothers and my servants, lend them money and grain.

¹²Then they said, “We will restore them, and will require nothing of them; so will we do, even as you say.”

Then I called the priests, and took an oath of them, that they would do according to this promise. ¹³Also I shook out my lap, and said, “So may God shake out every man from his house, and from his labor, that doesn’t perform this promise; even thus be he shaken out, and emptied.”

All the assembly said, “Amen,” and praised the LORD. The people did according to this promise.

¹⁴Moreover from the time that I was appointed to be their governor^c in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year even to the two and thirtieth year of Artachshasta the king, that is, twelve years, I and my brothers have not eaten the bread of the governor. ¹⁵But the former governors who were before me were supported by the people, and took bread and wine from them, besides^d forty shekels of silver; yes, even their servants ruled over the people: but I did not do so, because of the fear of God. ¹⁶Yes, also I continued in the work of this wall, neither bought we any land: and all my servants were gathered there to the work. ¹⁷Moreover there were at my table, of the Jews and the rulers, one hundred fifty men, besides those who came to us from among the nations that were around us. ¹⁸Now that which was prepared for one day was one ox and six choice sheep; also fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten days store of all sorts of wine: yet for all this I did not demand the bread of the governor, because the bondage was heavy on this people. ¹⁹Remember to me, my God, for good, all that I have done for this people.

6 Now it happened, when it was reported to Sanballat and Tobiah, and to Geshem the Arabian, and to the rest of our enemies, that I had built the wall, and that there was no breach left in it; (though even to that time I had not set up the doors in the gates;) ²that Sanballat and Geshem sent to me, saying, “Come, let us meet together at Ha-Kephirim^e in the plain of Ono.” But they intended to harm me.

³I sent messengers to them, saying, “I am doing a great work, so that I can’t come down. Why should the work cease, while I leave it, and come down to you?” ⁴They sent to me four times after this sort; and I answered them the same way. ⁵Then Sanballat sent his servant to me the same way the fifth time with an open letter in his hand, ⁶in which was written, “It is reported among the nations, and Gashmu says it, that you and the Jews intend to rebel. Because of that, you are building the wall. You would be their king, according to these words. ⁷You have also appointed prophets to preach of you at Jerusalem, saying, ‘There is a king in Judah.’ Now it will be reported to the king according to these words. Come now therefore, and let us take counsel together.”

⁸Then I sent to him, saying, “There are no such things done as you say, but you imagine them out of your own heart.” ⁹For they all would have made us afraid, saying, “Their hands will be weakened from the work, that it not be done. But now, strengthen my hands.”

¹⁰I went to the house of Shemaiah the son of Delaiah the son of Mehetabel, who was shut in at his home; and he said, “Let us meet together in God’s house, within the temple, and let us shut the doors of the temple; for they will come to kill you; yes, in the night will they come to kill you.”

¹¹I said, “Should such a man as I flee? Who is there that, being such as I, would go into the temple to save his life? I will not go in.”

¹²I discerned, and look, God had not sent him; but he pronounced this prophecy against me. Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him. ¹³He hired so that I would be afraid, do so, and sin, and that they might have material for an unfavorable report, that they might taunt me. ¹⁴“Remember, my God, Tobiah and Sanballat according to these their works, and also the prophetess Noadiah, and the rest of the prophets, that would have put me in fear.”

¹⁵So the wall was finished in the twenty-fifth day of Elul, in fifty-two days. ¹⁶And it happened, when all our enemies heard of it, and all the surrounding nations saw it, that they lost their confidence; for they recognized that this work was done by our God. ¹⁷Moreover in those days the nobles of Judah sent many letters to Tobiah, and Tobiah’s letters came to them. ¹⁸For there were many in Judah sworn to him, because he was the son-in-law of Shecaniah the son of Arah; and his son Jehohanan had taken the daughter of Meshullam the son of Berechiah as wife. ¹⁹Also they spoke of his good deeds before me, and reported my words to him. Tobiah sent letters to put me in fear.

7 Now it happened, when the wall was built, and I had set up the doors, and the gatekeepers and the singers and the Levites were appointed, ²that I put my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the commander of the fortress, in charge of Jerusalem; for he was a faithful man, and feared God above many. ³I said to them, “Do not let the gates of Jerusalem be opened until the sun is hot; and while they stand guard, let them shut the doors, and you bar them; and appoint watches of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, everyone in his watch, with everyone near his house.”

⁴Now the city was wide and large; but the people were few in it, and the houses were not built. ⁵My God put into my heart to gather together the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, that they might be reckoned by genealogy. I found the book of the genealogy of those who came up at the first, and I found written in it: ⁶These are the people of the province, who went up out of the captivity of those who had been carried away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away, and who returned to Jerusalem and to Judah, everyone to his city; ⁷who came with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Seraiah,^a Reelaiah,^b Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispar,^c Bigvai, Rehum,^d Baanah. houses, nor their descent, whether they were of Israel: ⁶²The descendants of Delaiah, the descendants of Tobiah, the descendants of Nekoda, six hundred forty-two. ⁶³Of the priests: the descendants of Hobaiah, the descendants of Hakkoz, the descendants of Barzillai, who took a wife of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called after their name. ⁶⁴These searched for their genealogical records, but couldn't find them. Therefore were they deemed polluted and put from the priesthood. ⁶⁵The governor said to them, that they should not eat of the most holy things, until there stood up a priest with Urim and Thummim. ⁶⁶The whole assembly together was forty-two thousand three hundred sixty, ⁶⁷besides their male servants and their female servants, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred thirty-seven: and they had two hundred forty-five singing men and singing women. ⁶⁸Their horses were seven hundred thirty-six; their mules, two hundred forty-five; ⁶⁹their camels, four hundred thirty-five; their donkeys, six thousand seven hundred twenty. ⁷⁰Some from among the heads of ancestral houses gave to the work. The governor gave to the treasury one thousand darics of gold, fifty basins, and five hundred thirty priests' garments. ⁷¹Some of the heads of ancestral houses gave into the treasury of the work twenty thousand darics of gold, and two thousand two hundred minas of silver. ⁷²That which the rest of the people gave was twenty thousand darics of gold, and two thousand minas of silver, and sixty-seven priests' garments. ⁷³So the priests, and the Levites, and the gatekeepers, and the singers, and some of the people, and the Nethinim, and all Israel, lived in their cities. When the seventh month had come, the children of Israel were in their cities.

8 All the people gathered themselves together as one man into the square that was before the Water Gate; and they spoke to Ezra the scribe to bring the scroll of the law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded to Israel. ²Ezra the priest brought the law before the assembly, both men and women, and all who could hear with understanding, on the first day of the seventh month. ³And he read it before the square that was before the Water Gate from early morning until midday, in the presence of the men and the women, and of those who could understand; and the ears of all the people were attentive to the scroll of the law. ⁴Ezra the scribe stood on a pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpose; and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Anaiah, and Uriah, and Hilkiah, and Maaseiah, on his right hand; and on his left hand, Pedaiah, and Mishael, and Malchijah, and Hashum, and Hashbaddanah, Zechariah, and Meshullam. ⁵Ezra opened the scroll in the sight of all the people; (for he was above all the people;) and when he opened it, all the people stood up: ⁶and Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God. All the people answered, "Amen, Amen," with the lifting up of their hands. They bowed their heads, and worshiped the LORD with their faces to the ground. ⁷Also Jeshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah,^a the Levites, explained the law to the people, and the people stayed in their place. ⁸They read in the scroll, in the law of God, distinctly; and they gave the sense, so that they understood the reading. ⁹Nehemiah, who was the governor, and Ezra the priest the scribe, and the Levites who taught the people, said to all the people, "This day is holy to the LORD your God. Do not mourn, nor weep." For all the people wept, when they heard the words of the law. ¹⁰Then he said to them, "Go your way. Eat the fat, drink the sweet, and send portions to him for whom nothing is prepared; for this day is holy to our Lord. Do not be grieved; for the joy of the LORD is your strength."

¹⁶So the people went out, and brought them, and made themselves booths, everyone on the roof of his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of God's house, and in the broad place of the Water Gate, and in the broad place of the Ephraim Gate. ¹⁷All the assembly of those who had come again out of the captivity made booths, and lived in the booths; for since the days of Jeshua the son of Nun to that day the children of Israel had not done so. There was very great gladness. ¹⁸Also day by day, from the first day to the last day, he read in the scroll of the law of God. They kept the feast seven days; and on the eighth day was a solemn assembly, according to the ordinance.

9 Now in the twenty-fourth day of this month the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth on them. ²The descendants of Israel separated themselves from all foreigners, and stood and confessed their sins, and the iniquities of their fathers. ³They stood up in their place, and read in the scroll of the law of the LORD their God a fourth part of the day; and a fourth part they confessed, and worshiped the LORD their God. ⁴Then Jeshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani of the Levites stood up on the stairs, and cried with a loud voice to the LORD their God. ⁵Then the Levites, Jeshua, and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabneiah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, said, "Stand up and bless the LORD your God from everlasting to everlasting. Blessed be your glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise. ⁶You are the LORD, even you alone. You have made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their army, the earth and all things that are on it, the seas and all that is in them, and you preserve them all. The army of heaven worships you. ⁷You are the LORD, the God who chose Abram, and brought him out of Ur Kasdim, and gave him the name of Abraham, ⁸and found his heart faithful before you, and made a covenant with him to give the land of the Canaanite, the Hethite, the Amorite, and the Perizzite, and the Jebusite, and the Girgashite, to give it to his descendants, and have performed your words; for you are righteous.

¹³“You came down also on Mount Sinai, and spoke with them from heaven, and gave them right ordinances and true laws, good statutes and commandments, ¹⁴and made known to them your holy Sabbath, and commanded them commandments, and statutes, and a law, by Moses your servant, ¹⁵and gave them bread from the sky for their hunger, and brought forth water for them out of the rock for their thirst, and commanded them that they should go in to possess the land which you had sworn to give them.

¹⁶“But they and our fathers dealt proudly and hardened their neck, did not listen to your commandments, ¹⁷and refused to obey, neither were they mindful of your wonders that you did among them, but hardened their neck, and appointed a leader to return to their slavery in Egypt.^a But you are a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant^b in loving kindness, and did not forsake them. ¹⁸Yes, when they had made them a molten calf, and said, ‘This is your God who brought you up out of Egypt,’ and had committed awful blasphemies; ¹⁹yet you in your manifold mercies did not forsake them in the wilderness: the pillar of cloud did not depart from over them by day, to lead them in the way; neither the pillar of fire by night, to show them light, and the way in which they should go. ²⁰You gave also your good Spirit to instruct them, and did not withhold your manna from their mouth, and gave them water for their thirst.

²¹“Yes, forty years you sustained them in the wilderness. They lacked nothing. Their clothes did not grow old, and their feet did not swell. ²²Moreover you gave them kingdoms and peoples, which you allotted according to their portions. So they possessed the land of Sihon^c king of Heshbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan. ²³You also multiplied their children as the stars of the sky, and brought them into the land concerning which you said to their fathers, that they should go in to possess it.

²⁶“Nevertheless they were disobedient, and rebelled against you, and cast your law behind their back, and killed your prophets that testified against them to turn them again to you, and they committed awful blasphemies. ²⁷Therefore you delivered them into the hand of their adversaries, who distressed them. In the time of their trouble, when they cried to you, you heard from heaven; and according to your manifold mercies you gave them saviors who saved them out of the hand of their adversaries. ²⁸But after they had rest, they did evil again before you; therefore left you them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion over them; yet when they returned, and cried to you, you heard from heaven; and many times you delivered them according to your mercies, ²⁹and testified against them, that you might bring them again to your law. Yet they dealt proudly, and did not listen to your commandments, but sinned against your ordinances, (which if a man does, he shall live in them), turned their backs, stiffened their neck, and would not hear. ³⁰Yet many years you put up with them, and testified against them by your Spirit through your prophets. Yet would they not give ear. Therefore you gave them into the hand of the peoples of the lands.

³¹“Nevertheless in your manifold mercies you did not make a full end of them, nor forsake them; for you are a gracious and merciful God. ³²Now therefore, our God, the great, the mighty, and the awesome God, who keeps covenant and loving kindness, do not let all the travail seem little before you, that has come on us, on our kings, on our leaders, and on our priests, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all your people, since the time of the kings of Assyria to this day. ³³However you are just in all that has come on us; for you have dealt truly, but we have done wickedly; ³⁴neither have our kings, our leaders, our priests, nor our fathers, kept your law, nor listened to your commandments and your testimonies with which you testified against them. ³⁵For they have not served you in their kingdom, and in your great goodness that you gave them, and in the large and rich land which you gave before them, neither did they turn from their wicked works.

³⁶“Look, we are servants this day, and as for the land that you gave to our fathers to eat its fruit and its good, look, we are servants in it. ³⁷It yields much increase to the kings whom you have set over us because of our sins: also they have power over our bodies, and over our livestock, at their pleasure, and we are in great distress. ³⁸Yet for all this, we make a sure covenant, and write it; and our leaders, our Levites, and our priests, seal it.”

10 Now those who sealed were: Nehemiah the governor, the son of Hacaliah, and Zedekiah, ²Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah, ³Pashhur, Amariah, Malchijah, ⁴Hattush, Shebaniah, Malluch, ⁵Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah, ⁶Daniel, Ginnethon, Baruch, ⁷Meshullam, Abijah, Mijamin, ⁸Maaziah, Bilgai, Shemaiah; these were the priests. ⁹The Levites: namely, ⁴Jeshua the son of Azaniah, Binnui of the sons of Henadad, Kadmiel; ¹⁰and their brothers, Shebaniah, Hodiah, Kelita, Pelaiah, Hanan, ¹¹Mica, Rehob, Hashabiah, ¹²Zakkur, Sherebiah, Shebaniah, ¹³Hodiah, Bani, Beninu. ¹⁴The chiefs of the people: Parosh, Pahath-Moab, Elam, Zattu, Bani, ¹⁵Bunni, Azgad, Bebai, ¹⁶Adonijah, Bigvai, Adin, ¹⁷Ater, Hezekiah, Azzur, ¹⁸Hodiah, Hashum, Bezai, ¹⁹Hariph, Anathoth, Nobai, ²⁰Magpiash, Meshullam, Hezir, ²¹Meshezabel, Zadok, Jaddua, ²²Pelataiah, Hanan, Anaiah, ²³Hoshea, Hananiah, Hasshub, ²⁴Hallohesh, Pilha, Shobek, ²⁵Rehum, Hashabnah, Maaseiah, ²⁶and Ahiah, Hanan, Anan, ²⁷Malluch, Harim, Baanah. ²⁸The rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the Nethinim, and all those who had separated themselves from the peoples of the lands to the law of God, their wives, their sons, and their daughters, everyone who had knowledge, and understanding—²⁹they joined with their brothers, their nobles, and entered into a curse, and into an oath, to walk in God’s law, which was given by Moses the servant of God, and to observe and do all the commandments of the LORD our Lord, and his ordinances and his statutes; ³⁰and that we would not give our daughters to the peoples of the land, nor take their daughters for our sons; ³¹and if the peoples of the land bring wares or any grain on the Sabbath day to sell, that we would not buy of them on the Sabbath, or on a holy day; and that we would forego the seventh year, and the exaction of every debt. ³²Also we made ordinances for ourselves, to charge ourselves yearly with the third part of a shekel for the service of the house of our God; ³³for the show bread, and for the continual meal offering, and for the continual burnt offering, for the Sabbaths, for the new moons, for the set feasts, and for the holy things, and for the sin offerings to make atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the house of our God.³⁴We cast lots, the priests, the Levites, and the people, for the wood offering, to bring it into the house of our God, according to our fathers' houses, at times appointed, year by year, to burn on the altar of the LORD our God, as it is written in the law;³⁵and to bring the first fruits of our ground, and the first fruits of all fruit of all kinds of trees, year by year, to the house of the LORD;³⁶also the firstborn of our sons, and of our livestock, as it is written in the law, and the firstborn of our herds and of our flocks, to bring to the house of our God, to the priests who minister in the house of our God;³⁷and that we should bring the first fruits of our coarse meal, our contributions, the fruit of every tree, the new wine and the oil to the priests to the storerooms of the house of our God; and the tithes of our land to the Levites, for the Levites take the tithes in all the cities where we work.³⁸The priest the son of Aaron shall be with the Levites, when the Levites take tithes: and the Levites shall bring up the tithe of the tithes to the house of our God, to the rooms, into the treasure house.³⁹For the children of Israel and the descendants of Levi shall bring the wave offering of the grain, of the new wine, and of the oil, to the rooms, where are the vessels of the sanctuary, and the priests who minister, and the gatekeepers, and the singers. We will not forsake the house of our God.

11 And the princes of the people lived in Jerusalem. And the rest of the people also cast lots, to bring one of ten to dwell in Jerusalem the holy city, and nine parts in the other cities.²The people blessed all the men who willingly offered themselves to dwell in Jerusalem.³Now these are the chiefs of the province who lived in Jerusalem; but in the cities of Judah everyone lived in his possession in their cities: Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the Nethinim, and the descendants of Solomon's servants.⁴In Jerusalem lived certain of the people of Judah, and of the people of Benjamin. Of the people of Judah: Athaiah the son of Uzziyah, the son of Zechariah, the son of Amariah, the son of Shephatiah, the son of Mahalalel, of the descendants of Perez;⁵and Maaseiah the son of Baruch, the son of Colhozeh, the son of Hazaiah, the son of Adaiah, the son of Joiarib, the son of Zechariah, the son of a Shelanite.⁶All the sons of Perez who lived in Jerusalem were four hundred sixty-eight valiant men.⁷These are the sons of Benjamin: Sallu the son of Meshullam, the son of Joed, the son of Pedaiyah, the son of Kolaiah, the son of Maaseiah, the son of Ithiel, the son of Jeshaiyah.⁸After him Gabbai, Sallai, nine hundred twenty-eight.⁹Joel the son of Zikri was their overseer; and Judah the son of Hassenuah was second over the city.¹⁰Of the priests: Jedaiah the son of Joiarib, Jakin,¹¹Azariah^b the son of Hilkiah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, the ruler of God's house,¹²and their brothers who did the work of the house, eight hundred twenty-two; and Adaiah the son of Jeroham, the son of Pelaliah, the son of Amzi, the son of Zechariah, the son of Pashhur, the son of Malchijah,¹³and his brothers, chiefs of ancestral houses, two hundred forty-two; and Amashsai the son of Azarel, the son of Ahzai, the son of Meshillemoth, the son of Immer,¹⁴and his^c brothers, mighty men of valor, one hundred twenty-eight; and their overseer was Zabdiel, the son of Haggadolim.¹⁵Of the Levites: Shemaiah the son of Hasshub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Bunni;¹⁶and Shabbethai and Jozabad, of the chiefs of the Levites, who had the oversight of the outward business of God's house;¹⁷and Mattaniah the son of Micah, the son of Zikri,^d the son of Asaph, the praise^e leader who led in thanksgiving and prayer, and Bakbukiah, the second among his brothers; and Abda the son of Shammua, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun.¹⁸All the Levites in the holy city were two hundred eighty-four.¹⁹Moreover the gatekeepers, Akkub, Talmon, and their brothers, who kept watch at the gates, were one hundred seventy-two.²⁰The residue of Israel, of the priests, the Levites, were in all the cities of Judah, everyone in his inheritance.²¹But the temple servants lived on Ophel, and Ziha and Gishpa were in charge of the temple servants.²²The overseer also of the Levites at Jerusalem was Uzzi the son of Bani, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Mica, of the sons of Asaph, the singers, over the business of God's house.²³For there was a commandment from the king concerning them, and a settled provision for the singers, as every day required.²⁴Pethahiah the son of Meshezabel, of the descendants of Zerah the son of Judah, was at the king's hand in all matters concerning the people.²⁵As for the villages, with their fields, some of the people of Judah lived in Kiriath Arba and its towns, and in Dibon and its towns, and in Jekabzeel and its villages,²⁶and in Jeshua, and in Moladah, and Beth Pelet,²⁷and in Hazar Shual, and in Beersheba and its towns,²⁸and in Ziklag, and in Meconah and in its towns,²⁹and in En Rimmon, and in Zorah, and in Jarmuth,³⁰Zanoah, Adullam, and their villages, Lachish and its fields, Azekah and its towns. So they camped from Beersheba to the Valley of Hinnom.³¹And some^f of the people of Benjamin also lived from Geba onward, at Michmash and Aija, and at Bethel and its towns,³²at Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah,³³Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim,³⁴Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat,³⁵Lod, and Ono,^g Ge-harashim.³⁶Of the Levites, certain divisions in Judah settled in Benjamin's territory.

12 Now these are the priests and the Levites who went up with Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,²Amariah, Malluch, Hattush,³Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,⁴Iddo, Ginnethon,^h Abijah,⁵Mijamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,⁶Shemaiah, and Joiarib, Jedaiah.⁷Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, Jedaiah. These were the chiefs of the priests and of their brothers in the days of Jeshua.⁸Moreover the Levites: Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and Mattaniah, who was over the thanksgiving, he and his brothers.⁹Also Bakbukiah and Umni,ⁱ their brothers, were over against them according to their offices.¹⁰Jeshua became the father of Joiakim, and Joiakim became the father of Eliashib, and Eliashib became the father of Joiada,¹¹and Joiada became the father of Jonathan, and Jonathan became the father of Jaddua.¹²In the days of Joiakim were priests, heads of ancestral houses: of Seraiah, Meraiah; of Jeremiah, Hananiah;¹³of Ezra, Meshullam; of Amariah, Jehohanan;¹⁴of Malluch,^j Jonathan; of Shecaniah,^k Joseph;¹⁵of Harim, Adna; of Meremoth,^l Helkai;¹⁶of Iddo,^m Zechariah; of Ginnethon, Meshullam;¹⁷of Abijah, Zikri; of Minjamin, of Moadiah, Piltai;¹⁸of Bilgah, Shammua; of Shemaiah, Jehonathan;¹⁹and of Joiarib, Mattenai; of Jedaiah, Uzzi;²⁰of Sallai, Kallai; of Amok, Eber;²¹of Hilkiah, Hashabiah; of Jedaiah, Nethanel.

²²As for the Levites, in the days of Eliashib, Joiada, and Johanan, and Jaddua, there were recorded the heads of ancestral houses; also the priests, in the reign of Darayavush^a the Persian. ²³The sons of Levi, heads of ancestral houses, were written in the scroll of the chronicles, even until the days of Johanan the son of Eliashib. ²⁴The chiefs of the Levites: Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, with their brothers over against them, to praise and give thanks, according to the commandment of David the man of God, watch next to watch. ²⁵Mattaniah, and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, Akkub, were gatekeepers keeping the watch at the storehouses of the gates. ²⁶These were in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor, and of Ezra the priest the scribe. ²⁷At the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem, to keep the dedication with gladness, both with giving thanks, and with singing, with cymbals, stringed instruments, and with harps. ²⁸The sons of the singers gathered themselves together, both out of the plain around Jerusalem, and from the villages of the Netophathites; ²⁹also from Beth Gilgal, and out of the fields of Geba and Azmaveth: for the singers had built them villages around Jerusalem. ³⁰The priests and the Levites purified themselves; and they purified the people, and the gates, and the wall. ³¹Then I brought up the leaders of Judah onto the wall, and appointed two great companies who gave thanks and went in procession. One went on the right hand on the wall toward the Dung Gate; ³²and after them went Hoshaiah, and half of the leaders of Judah, ³³and Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam, ³⁴Judah, and Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah, ³⁵and certain of the priests' sons with trumpets: Zechariah the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Micaiah, the son of Zakkur, the son of Asaph; ³⁶and his brothers, Shemaiah, and Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, and Judah, Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God; and Ezra the scribe was before them. ³⁷By the Fountain Gate, and straight before them, they went up by the stairs of the City of David, at the ascent of the wall, above the house of David, even to the Water Gate eastward. ³⁸The other company of those who gave thanks went to meet them, and I after them, with the half of the people, on the wall, above the Tower of the Ovens, to the Broad Wall, ³⁹and above the Ephraim Gate, and by the Jeshanah^b Gate, and by the Fish Gate, and the Tower of Hananel, and the Tower of the Hundred, and as far as the Sheep Gate. And they stood still in the Gate of the Guard. ⁴⁰So stood the two companies of those who gave thanks in God's house, and I, and the half of the rulers with me; ⁴¹and the priests, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Micaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah, with trumpets; ⁴²and Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer. The singers sang loud, with Jezrahiah their overseer. ⁴³They offered great sacrifices that day, and rejoiced; for God had made them rejoice with great joy; and the women also and the children rejoiced: so that the joy of Jerusalem was heard even afar off. ⁴⁴On that day men were appointed over the storerooms, for the contributions, the first fruits, and the tithes, to gather into them from^c the fields of the cities the portions appointed by the law for the priests and Levites, for Judah rejoiced over the priests and the Levites who ministered. ⁴⁵They performed the duty of their God, and the duty of the purification, and so did the singers and the gatekeepers, according to the commandment of David, and^d of Solomon his son. ⁴⁶For long ago in the days of David and Asaph there were directors^e of the singers and songs of praise and thanksgiving to God. ⁴⁷All Israel in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the singers and the gatekeepers, as every day required: and they set apart that which was for the Levites; and the Levites set apart that which was for the sons of Aaron.

13 On that day they read in the scroll of Moses in the audience of the people; and in it was found written, that an Ammonite and a Moabite should not enter into the assembly of God forever, ²because they did not meet the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balaam against them, to curse them: however our God turned the curse into a blessing. ³It came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated from Israel all the mixed multitude. ⁴Now before this, Eliashib the priest, who was appointed over the rooms of the house of our God, being allied to Tobiah, ⁵had prepared for him a great room, where before they laid the meal offerings, the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithes of the grain, the new wine, and the oil, which were given by commandment to the Levites, and the singers, and the gatekeepers; and the wave offerings for the priests. ⁶But in all this, I was not at Jerusalem; for in the two and thirtieth year of Artachshasta king of Babylon I went to the king; and after certain days asked I leave of the king, ⁷and I came to Jerusalem, and understood the evil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in preparing him a room in the courts of God's house. ⁸It grieved me severely: therefore I cast forth all the household stuff of Tobiah out of the room. ⁹Then I commanded, and they cleansed the rooms: and there brought I again the vessels of God's house, with the meal offerings and the frankincense. ¹⁰I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given them; so that the Levites and the singers, who did the work, had fled everyone to his field. ¹¹Then I contended with the rulers, and said, "Why is God's house forsaken?" I gathered them together, and set them in their place. ¹²Then brought all Judah the tithe of the grain and the new wine and the oil to the treasuries. ¹³I made treasurers over the treasuries, Shelemiah the priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Levites, Pedaiah; and next to them was Hanan the son of Zakkur, the son of Mattaniah; for they were counted faithful, and their business was to distribute to their brothers. ¹⁴Remember me, my God, concerning this, and do not wipe out my good deeds that I have done for the house of my God, and for its observances. ¹⁵In those days I saw in Judah some men treading winepresses on the Sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and loading donkeys; as also wine, grapes, and figs, and all kinds of burdens, which they brought into Jerusalem on the Sabbath day: and I testified against them in the day in which they sold food. ¹⁶There lived men of Tyre also in it, who brought in fish, and all kinds of wares, and sold on the Sabbath to the people of Judah, and in Jerusalem. ¹⁷Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said to them, "What evil thing is this that you do, and profane the Sabbath day? ¹⁸Did not your fathers do thus, and did not our God bring all this disaster on us, and on this city? Yet you bring more wrath on Israel by profaning the Sabbath."

¹⁹It came to pass that, when the gates of Jerusalem began to be dark before the Sabbath, I commanded that the doors should be shut, and commanded that they should not be opened until after the Sabbath. I set some of my servants over the gates, that no burden should be brought in on the Sabbath day. ²⁰So the merchants and sellers of all kinds of wares lodged outside of Jerusalem once or twice. ²¹Then I testified against them, and said to them, "Why do you stay around the wall? If you do so again, I will lay hands on you." From that time on, they did not come on the Sabbath. ²²I commanded the Levites that they should purify themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to sanctify the Sabbath day. Remember to me, my God, this also, and spare me according to the greatness of your loving kindness. ²³In those days also saw I the Jews who had married women of Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab: ²⁴and their children spoke half in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speak in the Judean language, but according to the language of each people. ²⁵I contended with them, and cursed them, and struck certain of them, and plucked off their hair, and made them swear by God, "You shall not give your daughters to their sons, nor take their daughters for your sons, or for yourselves. ²⁶Did not Solomon king of Israel sin by these things? Yet among many nations was there no king like him, and he was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel. Nevertheless foreign women caused even him to sin. ²⁷Shall we then listen to you to do all this great evil, to trespass against our God in marrying foreign women?" ²⁸One of the sons of Joiada, the son of Eliashib the high priest, was son-in-law to Sanballat the Horonite: therefore I chased him from me. ²⁹Remember them, my God, because they have defiled the priesthood, and the covenant of the priests, ³and of the Levites. ³⁰Thus I cleansed them from all foreigners, and appointed duties for the priests and for the Levites, everyone in his work; ³¹and for the wood offering, at times appointed, and for the first fruits. Remember me, my God, for good.

Esther

1 Now it happened in the days of Achashyeroth^b (this is Achashyeroth who reigned from India even to Ethiopia,^c over one hundred twenty-seven provinces), ²that in those days, when the King Achashyeroth sat on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shushan the palace, ³in the third year of his reign, he made a feast for all his officials and his servants; the power of Persia and Media, the nobles and princes of the provinces, being before him. ⁴He displayed the riches of his glorious kingdom and the honor of his excellent majesty many days, even one hundred eighty days. ⁵When these days were fulfilled, the king made a seven day feast for all the people who were present in Shushan the palace, both great and small, in the court of the garden of the king's palace. ⁶There were hangings of white, green, and blue material, fastened with cords of fine linen and purple to silver rings and marble pillars. The couches were of gold and silver, on a pavement of red, white, yellow, and black marble. ⁷They gave them drinks in golden vessels of various kinds, including royal wine in abundance, according to the bounty of the king. ⁸In accordance with the law, the drinking was not compulsory; for so the king had instructed all the officials of his house, that they should do according to every man's pleasure. ⁹Also Vashti the queen made a feast for the women in the royal house which belonged to King Achashyeroth.

¹⁰On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcass, the seven eunuchs who served in the presence of Achashyeroth the king, ¹¹to bring Vashti the queen before the king with the royal crown, to show the people and the officials her beauty; for she was beautiful. ¹²But the queen Vashti refused to come at the king's commandment by the eunuchs. Therefore the king was very angry, and his anger burned in him. ¹³Then the king said to the wise men, who knew the times, (for it was the king's custom to consult those who knew law and judgment; ¹⁴and the next to him were Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan, the seven officials of Persia and Media, who saw the king's face, and sat first in the kingdom), ¹⁵"What shall we do to the queen Vashti according to law, because she has not done the bidding of the King Achashyeroth by the eunuchs?"

¹⁶Memucan answered before the king and the officials, "Vashti the queen has not done wrong to just the king, but also to all the officials, and to all the people who are in all the provinces of the King Achashyeroth. ¹⁷For this deed of the queen will become known to all women, causing them to show contempt for their husbands, when it is reported, 'King Achashyeroth commanded Vashti the queen to be brought in before him, but she did not come.' ¹⁸Today, the princesses of Persia and Media who have heard of the queen's deed will tell all the king's officials. This will cause much contempt and wrath. ¹⁹If it please the king, let a royal commandment go from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes, so that it cannot be altered, that Vashti may never again come before King Achashyeroth; and let the king give her royal estate to another who is better than she. ²⁰When the king's decree which he shall make is published throughout all his kingdom (for it is great), all the wives will give their husbands honor, both great and small."

²¹And this advice pleased the king and the officials, and the king did according to the word of Memucan: ²²for he sent letters into all the king's provinces, into every province according to its writing, and to every people in their language, that every man should rule his own house, speaking in the language of his own people.

2 After these things, when the wrath of King Achashyeroth was pacified, he remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed against her. ²Then the king's servants who served him said, "Let beautiful young virgins be sought for the king. ³Let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together all the beautiful young virgins to the citadel of Shushan, to the women's house, to the custody of Hegai the king's eunuch, keeper of the women. Let cosmetics be given them; ⁴and let the maiden who pleases the king be queen instead of Vashti." The thing pleased the king, and he did so.

⁵There was a certain Jew in the citadel of Shushan, whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjamite, ⁶who had been carried away from Jerusalem with the captives who had been carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away. ⁷He brought up Hadassah, that is, Esther, his uncle's daughter; for she had neither father nor mother. The maiden was fair and beautiful; and when her father and mother were dead, Mordecai took her for his own daughter. ⁸So it happened, when the king's commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together to the citadel of Shushan, to the custody of Hegai, that Esther was taken into the king's house, to the custody of Hegai, keeper of the women. ⁹The maiden pleased him, and she obtained kindness from him. He quickly gave her cosmetics and her portions of food, and the seven choice maidens who were to be given her out of the king's house. He moved her and her maidens to the best place in the women's house. ¹⁰Esther had not made known her people nor her relatives, because Mordecai had instructed her that she should not make it known. ¹¹Mordecai walked every day in front of the court of the women's house, to find out how Esther did, and what would become of her.

¹²Each young woman's turn came to go in to King Achashyerosh after her purification for twelve months (for so were the days of their purification accomplished, six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet fragrances and with preparations for beautifying women). ¹³The young woman then came to the king like this: whatever she desired was given her to go with her out of the women's house to the king's house. ¹⁴In the evening she went, and on the next day she returned into the^a second women's house, to the custody of Shaashgaz, the king's eunuch, who kept the secondary wives. She came in to the king no more, unless the king delighted in her, and she was called by name. ¹⁵Now when the turn of Esther, the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her for his daughter, came to go in to the king, she required nothing but what Hegai the king's eunuch, the keeper of the women, advised. Esther obtained favor in the sight of all those who looked at her. ¹⁶So Esther was taken to King Achashyerosh into his royal house in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign. ¹⁷The king loved Esther more than all the women, and she obtained favor and kindness in his sight more than all the virgins; so that he set the royal crown on her head, and made her queen instead of Vashti.

¹⁹When the virgins were gathered together the second time, Mordecai was sitting in the King's Gate. ²⁰Esther had not yet made known her relatives nor her people, as Mordecai had commanded her; for Esther obeyed Mordecai, like she did when she was brought up by him. ²¹In those days, while Mordecai was sitting in the King's Gate, two of the king's eunuchs, Bigthan and Teresh, who were doorkeepers, were angry, and sought to lay hands on the King Achashyerosh. ²²This thing became known to Mordecai, who informed Esther the queen; and Esther informed the king in Mordecai's name. ²³When this matter was investigated, and it was found to be so, they were both hanged on a tree; and it was written in the book of the chronicles in the king's presence.

²All the king's servants who were in the King's Gate bowed down, and paid homage to Haman; for the king had so commanded concerning him. But Mordecai did not bow down or pay him homage. ³Then the king's servants, who were in the King's Gate, said to Mordecai, "Why do you disobey the king's commandment?" ⁴Now it came to pass, when they spoke daily to him, and he did not listen to them, that they told Haman, to see whether Mordecai's reason would stand; for he had told them that he was a Jew. ⁵When Haman saw that Mordecai did not bow down, nor pay him homage, Haman was full of wrath. ⁶But he scorned the thought of laying hands on Mordecai alone, for they had made known to him Mordecai's people. Therefore Haman sought to destroy all the Jews who were throughout the whole kingdom of Achashyerosh, even Mordecai's people.

⁷In the first month, which is the month Nisan, in the twelfth year of King Achashyerosh, they cast Pur (that is, the lot) before Haman from day to day, and from month to month, and chose the twelfth month, which is the month Adar. ⁸Haman said to King Achashyerosh, "There is a certain people scattered abroad and dispersed among the peoples in all the provinces of your kingdom, and their laws are different than other people's. They do not keep the king's laws. Therefore it is not for the king's profit to allow them to remain. ⁹If it pleases the king, let it be written that they be destroyed; and I will pay ten thousand talents of silver into the hands of those who are in charge of the king's business, to bring it into the king's treasuries."

¹⁰The king took his ring from his hand, and gave it to Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews' enemy. ¹¹The king said to Haman, "The silver is given to you, the people also, to do with them as it seems good to you." ¹²Then the king's scribes were called in on the first month, on the thirteenth day of the month; and all that Haman commanded was written to the king's satraps, and to the governors who were over every province, and to the officials of every people, to every province according its writing, and to every people in their language. It was written in the name of King Achashyerosh, and it was sealed with the king's ring. ¹³Letters were sent by couriers into all the king's provinces, to destroy, to kill, and to cause to perish, all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, and to plunder their possessions. ¹⁴A copy of the letter, that the decree should be given out in every province, was published to all the peoples, that they should be ready against that day. ¹⁵The couriers went forth in haste by the king's commandment, and the decree was given out in the citadel of Shushan. The king and Haman sat down to drink; but the city of Shushan was perplexed.

4 Now when Mordecai found out all that was done, Mordecai tore his clothes, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, and wailed loudly and a bitterly. ²He came even before the King's Gate, for no one is allowed inside the King's Gate clothed with sackcloth. ³In every province, wherever the king's commandment and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and fasting, and weeping, and wailing; and many lay in sackcloth and ashes. ⁴Esther's maidens and her eunuchs came and told her this, and the queen was exceedingly grieved. She sent clothing to Mordecai, to replace his sackcloth; but he did not receive it. ⁵Then Esther called for Hathach, one of the king's eunuchs, whom he had appointed to attend her, and commanded him to go to Mordecai, to find out what this was, and why it was. ⁶So Hathach went out to Mordecai, to city square which was before the King's Gate. ⁷Mordecai told him of all that had happened to him, and the exact sum of the money that Haman had promised to pay to the king's treasuries for the destruction of the Jews. ⁸He also gave him the copy of the writing of the decree that was given out in Shushan to destroy them, to show it to Esther, and to declare it to her, and to urge her to go in to the king, to make petition to him, and to make request before him, for her people.

⁹Hathach came and told Esther the words of Mordecai. ¹⁰Then Esther spoke to Hathach, and gave him a message to Mordecai: ¹¹"All the king's servants, and the people of the king's provinces, know, that whoever, whether man or woman, comes to the king into the inner court without being called, there is one law for him, that he be put to death, except those to whom the king might hold out the golden scepter, that he may live. I have not been called to come in to the king these thirty days."

¹²They told to Mordecai Esther's words. ¹³Then Mordecai asked them return answer to Esther, "Do not think to yourself that you will escape in the king's house any more than all the Jews. ¹⁴For if you remain silent now, then relief and deliverance will come to the Jews from another place, but you and your father's house will perish.

^a2:14 LXX. MT lacks the definite article "the"

Who knows if you haven't come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

¹⁵Then Esther asked them to answer Mordecai, ¹⁶"Go, gather together all the Jews who are present in Shushan, and fast for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night or day. I and my maidens will also fast the same way. Then I will go in to the king, which is against the law; and if I perish, I perish." ¹⁷So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

5 Now it happened on the third day that Esther put on her royal clothing, and stood in the inner court of the king's house, next to the king's house. The king sat on his royal throne in the royal house, next to the entrance of the house. ²When the king saw Esther the queen standing in the court, she obtained favor in his sight; and the king held out to Esther the golden scepter that was in his hand. So Esther came near, and touched the top of the scepter. ³Then the king asked her, "What would you like, queen Esther? What is your request? It shall be given you even to the half of the kingdom."

⁴Esther said, "If it seems good to the king, let the king and Haman come today to the banquet that I have prepared for him."

⁵Then the king said, "Bring Haman quickly, so that it may be done as Esther has said." So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

⁶The king said to Esther at the banquet of wine, "What is your petition? It shall be granted you. What is your request? Even to the half of the kingdom it shall be performed."

⁷Then Esther answered and said, "My petition and my request is this. ⁸If I have found favor in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to grant my petition and to perform my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I will prepare for them, and I will do tomorrow as the king has said."

¹⁴Then Zeresh his wife and all his friends said to him, "Let a gallows be made seventy-three feet eight inches^a high, and in the morning speak to the king about hanging Mordecai on it. Then go in merrily with the king to the banquet." This pleased Haman, so he had the gallows made.

6 On that night, the king couldn't sleep. He commanded the book of records of the chronicles to be brought, and they were read to the king. ²It was found written that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king's eunuchs, who were doorkeepers, who had tried to lay hands on the King Achashyerosh. ³The king said, "What honor and dignity has been bestowed on Mordecai for this?"

Then the king's servants who attended him said, "Nothing has been done for him."

⁴The king said, "Who is in the court?" Now Haman had come into the outer court of the king's house, to speak to the king about hanging Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him.

⁵The king's servants said to him, "Look, Haman stands in the court."

The king said, "Let him come in." ⁶So Haman came in. The king said to him, "What shall be done to the man whom the king delights to honor?"

Now Haman said in his heart, "Who would the king delight to honor more than myself?" ⁷Haman said to the king, "For the man whom the king delights to honor. ⁸Let royal clothing be brought which the king uses to wear, and the horse that the king rides on, and on the head of which a crown royal is set. ⁹And let the clothing and the horse be delivered to the hand of one of the king's most noble officials, and let him^b clothe the man whom the king delights to honor with them, and have him ride on horseback through the city square, and proclaim before him, 'Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delights to honor.'"

¹⁰Then the king said to Haman, "Hurry and take the clothing and the horse, as you have said, and do this for Mordecai the Jew, who sits at the King's Gate. Let nothing fail of all that you have spoken."

¹²Mordecai came back to the King's Gate, but Haman hurried to his house, mourning and having his head covered. ¹³Haman recounted to Zeresh his wife and all his friends everything that had happened to him. Then his wise men and Zeresh his wife said to him, "If Mordecai, before whom you have begun to fall, is of Jewish descent, you will not prevail against him, but you will surely fall before him." ¹⁴While they were yet talking with him, the king's eunuchs came, and hurried to bring Haman to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

7 So the king and Haman came to banquet with Esther the queen. ²The king said again to Esther on the second day at the banquet of wine, "What is your petition, queen Esther? It shall be granted you. What is your request? Even to the half of the kingdom it shall be performed."

³Then Esther the queen answered, "If I have found favor in your sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request. ⁴For we are sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish. But if we had been sold for bondservants and bondmaids, I would have held my peace, although the adversary could not have compensated for the king's loss."

⁵Then King Achashyerosh said to Esther the queen, "Who is he, and where is he who dared presume in his heart to do so?"

⁶Esther said, "An adversary and an enemy, even this wicked Haman."

Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queen. ⁷The king arose in his wrath from the banquet of wine and went into the palace garden. Haman stood up to make request for his life to Esther the queen; for he saw that there was evil determined against him by the king. ⁸Then the king returned out of the palace garden into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman had fallen on the couch where Esther was. Then the king said, "Will he even assault the queen in front of me in the house?" As the word went out of the king's mouth, they covered Haman's face.

⁹Then Harbonah, one of the eunuchs who were with the king said, "Look, the gallows seventy-three feet eight inches^a high, which Haman has made for Mordecai, who spoke good for the king, is standing at Haman's house."

The king said, "Hang him on it."

¹⁰So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified.

8 On that day, King Achashyerosh gave the house of Haman, the Jews' enemy, to Esther the queen. Mordecai came before the king; for Esther had told what he was to her. ²The king took off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it to Mordecai. Esther set Mordecai over the house of Haman. ³Esther spoke yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet, and begged him with tears to put away the mischief of Haman the Agagite, and his plot that he had devised against the Jews. ⁴Then the king held out to Esther the golden scepter. So Esther arose, and stood before the king. ⁵She said, "If it pleases the king, and if I have found favor in his sight, and the thing seem right to the king, and I am pleasing in his eyes, let it be written to reverse the letters devised by Haman, the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to destroy the Jews who are in all the king's provinces. ⁶For how can I endure to see the disaster that would come to my people? How can I endure to see the destruction of my relatives?"

⁷Then King Achashyerosh said to Esther the queen and to Mordecai the Jew, "See, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and him they have hanged on the gallows, because he laid his hand on the Jews. ⁸Write also to the Jews, as it pleases you, in the king's name, and seal it with the king's ring; for the writing which is written in the king's name, and sealed with the king's ring, may not be reversed by any man."

⁹Then the king's scribes were called at that time, in the third month Sivan, on the twenty-third day of the month; and it was written according to all that Mordecai commanded to the Jews, and to the satraps, and the governors and officials of the provinces which are from India to Ethiopia, one hundred twenty-seven provinces, to every province according to its writing, and to every people in their language, and to the Jews in their writing, and in their language. ¹⁰He

wrote in the name of King Achashyerosh, and sealed it with the king's ring, and sent letters by courier on horseback, riding on royal horses that were bred from swift steeds. ¹¹In those letters, the king granted the Jews who were in every city to gather themselves together, and to defend their life, to destroy, to kill, and to cause to perish, all the power of the people and province that would assault them, their little ones and women, and to plunder their possessions, ¹²on one day in all the provinces of King Achashyerosh, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar. ¹³A copy of the letter, that the decree should be given out in every province, was published to all the peoples, that the Jews should be ready for that day to avenge themselves on their enemies. ¹⁴So the couriers who rode on royal horses went out, hastened and pressed on by the king's commandment. The decree was given out in the citadel of Shushan.

9 Now in the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, on the thirteenth day of the month, when the king's commandment and his decree drew near to be put in execution, on the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to conquer them, (but it was turned out the opposite happened, that the Jews conquered those who hated them), ²the Jews gathered themselves together in their cities throughout all the provinces of the King Achashyerosh, to lay hands on those who wanted to harm them. No one could withstand them, because the fear of them had fallen on all the people. ³And all the officials of the provinces, the satraps, the governors, and those who did the king's business helped the Jews, because the fear of Mordecai had fallen on them. ⁴For Mordecai was great in the king's house, and his fame went out throughout all the provinces; for the man Mordecai grew greater and greater. ⁵The Jews struck all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, and with slaughter and destruction, and did what they wanted to those who hated them. ⁶In the citadel of Shushan, the Jews killed and destroyed five hundred men. ⁷They killed Parshandatha, Dalphon, Aspatha, ⁸Poratha, Adalia, Aridatha, ⁹Parmashta, Arisai, Aridai, and Vaizatha, ¹⁰the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Jew's enemy, but they did not lay their hand on the plunder. ¹¹On that day, the number of those who were slain in the citadel of Shushan was brought before the king. ¹²The king said to Esther the queen, "The Jews have slain and destroyed five hundred men in the citadel of Shushan, including the ten sons of Haman; what then have they done in the rest of the king's provinces. Now what is your petition? It shall be granted you. What is your further request? It shall be done."

¹³Then Esther said, "If it pleases the king, let it be granted to the Jews who are in Shushan to do tomorrow also according to this day's decree, and let Haman's ten sons be hanged on the gallows."

¹⁴The king commanded this to be done. A decree was given out in Shushan; and they hanged Haman's ten sons. ¹⁵The Jews who were in Shushan gathered themselves together on the fourteenth day also of the month Adar, and killed three hundred men in Shushan; but they did not lay their hand on the spoil. ¹⁶The other Jews who were in the king's provinces gathered themselves together, defended their lives,

had rest from their enemies, and killed seventy-five thousand of those who hated them; but they did not lay their hand on the plunder.¹⁷This was done on the thirteenth day of the month Adar; and on the fourteenth day of that month they rested and made it a day of feasting and gladness.¹⁸But the Jews who were in Shushan assembled together on the thirteenth and on the fourteenth days of the month; and on the fifteenth day of that month, they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness.¹⁹Therefore the Jews of the villages, who live in the unwallied towns, make the fourteenth day of the month Adar a day of gladness and feasting, a good day, and a day of sending presents of food to one another.²⁰Mordecai wrote these things, and sent letters to all the Jews who were in all the provinces of the king Achashyerosh, both near and far,²¹to enjoin them that they should keep the fourteenth and fifteenth days of the month Adar yearly,²²as the days in which the Jews had rest from their enemies, and the month which was turned to them from sorrow to gladness, and from mourning into a good day; that they should make them days of feasting and gladness, and of sending presents of food to one another, and gifts to the needy.²³The Jews accepted the custom that they had begun, as Mordecai had written to them;²⁴because Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had plotted against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast "Pur," that is the lot, to consume them, and to destroy them;²⁵but when this became known to the king, he commanded by letters that his wicked device, which he had devised against the Jews, should return on his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows.²⁶Therefore they called these days "Purim,"^a from the word "Pur." Therefore because of all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seen concerning this matter, and that which had come to them,²⁷the Jews established, and imposed on themselves, and on their descendants, and on all those who joined themselves to them, so that it should not fail, that they would keep these two days according to what was written, and according to its appointed time, every year;²⁸and that these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city; and that these days of Purim should not fail from among the Jews, nor the memory of them perish among their descendants.

10 King Achashyerosh laid a tribute on the land, and on the islands of the sea.²All the acts of his power and of his might, and the full account of the greatness of Mordecai, to which the king advanced him, aren't they written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Media and Persia? ³For Mordecai the Jew was next to King Achashyerosh, and great among the Jews, and accepted by the multitude of his brothers, seeking the good of his people, and speaking peace to all his descendants.

Job

1 There was a man in the land of Uz,^b whose name was Job, and that man was blameless and upright, and one who feared God, and turning away from evil.²There were born to him seven sons and three daughters.³His possessions also were seven thousand sheep, three thousand camels, five hundred yoke of oxen, five hundred female donkeys, and a very great household; so that this man was the greatest of all the people of the east.⁴His sons went and held a feast in the house of each one on his day; and they sent and called for their three sisters to eat and to drink with them.⁵It was so, when the days of their feasting had run their course, that Job sent and sanctified them, and rose up early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Job said, "It may be that my sons have sinned, and cursed^c God in their hearts." Job did so continually.

⁶Now it happened on the day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, that Satan also came among them.⁷The LORD said to Satan, "Where have you come from?"

Then Satan answered the LORD, and said, "From going back and forth on the earth, and from walking up and down on it."

⁸The LORD said to Satan, "Have you considered my servant, Job? For there is none like him in the earth, a blameless and an upright man, one who fears God, and turns away from evil."

⁹Then Satan answered the LORD, and said, "Does Job fear God for nothing? ¹⁰Haven't you made a hedge around him, and around his household, and around all that he has, on every side? You have blessed the work of his hands, and his livestock have increased in the land.¹¹But put forth your hand now, and strike all that he has, and he will curse^d you to your face."

¹²The LORD said to Satan, "Look, all that he has is in your power. Only do not put forth your hand on him."

So Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD.¹³Now the day came when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house,¹⁴that there came a messenger to Job, and said, "The oxen were plowing, and the donkeys grazing beside them,¹⁵and Sheba attacked, and took them away. Yes, they have killed the servants with the edge of the sword, and I alone have escaped to tell you."

¹⁶While he was still speaking, there also came another, and said, "The fire of God has fallen from the sky, and has burned up the sheep and the young men, and consumed them, and I alone have escaped to tell you."

¹⁷While he was still speaking, there came also another, and said, "The Kasdim made three bands, and swept down on the camels, and have taken them away, and killed the young men with the edge of the sword; and I alone have escaped to tell you."

¹⁸While he was still speaking, there came also another, and said, "Your sons and your daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house,¹⁹ and look, there came a great wind from the wilderness, and struck the four corners of the house, and it fell on the young people, and they are dead. I alone have escaped to tell you."

²⁰Then Job arose, and tore his robe, and shaved his head, and fell down with his face to the ground. ²¹He said, "Naked I came out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return there. The LORD gave, and the LORD has taken away. Blessed be the name of the LORD."²²In all this, Job did not sin, nor charge God with wrongdoing.

2 Again it happened on the day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, that Satan came also among them to present himself before the LORD. ²The LORD said to Satan, "Where have you come from?"

Satan answered the LORD, and said, "From going back and forth on the earth, and from walking up and down on it."

³The LORD said to Satan, "Have you considered my servant Job? For there is none like him in the earth, a blameless and an upright man, one who fears God, and turns away from evil. And he still holds firmly to his integrity, although you incited me against him, to ruin him without cause."

⁴Then Satan answered the LORD, and said, "Skin for skin. Indeed, all that a man has he will give for his life. ⁵But put forth your hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will curse^a you to your face."

⁶The LORD said to Satan, "Look, he is in your power. Only preserve his life."

⁷So Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD, and struck Job with painful boils from the sole of his foot to the top of his head. ⁸And he took for himself a potsherd to scrape himself with while he sat among the ashes. ⁹Then his wife said to him, "Do you still hold firmly to your integrity? Curse^b God, and die."

¹¹Now when Job's three friends heard of all this adversity that had come on him, they each came from his own place: Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, and they made an appointment together to come to sympathize with him and to comfort him. ¹²When they lifted up their eyes from a distance, and did not recognize him, they raised their voices, and wept; and they each tore his robe, and threw dust in the air over their heads. ¹³So they sat down with him on the ground seven days and seven nights, and none spoke a word to him, for they saw that his pain was very great.

3 After this Job opened his mouth, and cursed his day. ²Job answered:
³"Let the day perish in which I was born,
 the night which said, 'A man is conceived.'
⁴Let that day be darkness.
 May God above not care about it, neither let the light shine on it.
⁵Let darkness and the shadow of death claim it for their own.
 Let a cloud dwell on it.

Let the blackness of the day terrify it.
⁶As for that night, let thick darkness seize on it.
 Let it not rejoice among the days of the year.
 Let it not come into the number of the months.
⁷Look, let that night be barren.
 Let no joyful voice come in it.
⁸Let them curse it who curse the day,
 who are ready to rouse up leviathan.
⁹Let the stars of its twilight be dark.
 Let it look for light, but have none,
 neither let it see the eyelids of the morning, ¹⁰because it did not shut up the doors of my mother's womb, nor did it hide trouble from my eyes.

¹¹"Why did I not die from the womb?
 Why did I not give up the spirit when my mother bore me?
¹²Why did the knees receive me?
 Or why the breast, that I should suck?
¹³For now should I have lain down and been quiet.
 I should have slept, then I would have been at rest, ¹⁴with kings and counselors of the earth,
 who built up waste places for themselves; ¹⁵or with princes who had gold,
 who filled their houses with silver:
¹⁶or as a hidden untimely birth I had not been,
 as infants who never saw light.
¹⁷There the wicked cease from troubling.
 There the weary are at rest.
¹⁸There the prisoners are at ease together.
 They do not hear the voice of the taskmaster.
¹⁹The small and the great are there.
 The servant is free from his master.

²⁰"Why is light given to him who is in misery, life to the bitter in soul, ²¹Who long for death, but it doesn't come;
 and dig for it more than for hidden treasures, ²²who rejoice exceedingly,
 and are glad, when they can find the grave?
²³Why is light given to a man whose way is hid, whom God has hedged in?
²⁴For my sighing comes before I eat.
 My groanings are poured out like water.
²⁵For the thing which I fear comes on me,
 That which I am afraid of comes to me.
²⁶I am not at ease, neither am I quiet, neither have I rest;
 but trouble comes."

4 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered,
²"If someone ventures to talk with you, will you be grieved?
 But who can withhold himself from speaking?
³Look, you have instructed many,
 you have strengthened the weak hands.
⁴Your words have supported him who was falling,
 You have made firm the feeble knees.
⁵But now it is come to you, and you faint.
 It touches you, and you are troubled.
⁶Isn't your piety your confidence?
 Isn't the integrity of your ways your hope?
⁷"Remember, now, whoever perished, being innocent?"

^a2:5 Cf. 1:5 fn

^b2:9 Ibid

Or where were the upright cut off?
⁸According to what I have seen, those who plow iniquity, and sow trouble,
 reap the same.
⁹By the breath of God they perish.
 By the blast of his anger are they consumed.
¹⁰The roaring of the lion, and the voice of the fierce lion,
 the teeth of the young lions, are broken.
¹¹The old lion perishes for lack of prey.
 The cubs of the lioness are scattered abroad.
¹²“Now a thing was secretly brought to me.
 My ear received a whisper of it.
¹³In thoughts from the visions of the night,
 when deep sleep falls on men, ¹⁴fear came on me, and trembling, which made all my bones shake.
¹⁵Then a spirit passed before my face.
 The hair of my flesh stood up.
¹⁶It stood still, but I couldn’t discern its appearance.
 A form was before my eyes.
 Silence, then I heard a voice, saying,
¹⁷“Shall mortal man be more just than God?
 Shall a man be more pure than his Maker?
¹⁸Look, he puts no trust in his servants.
 He charges his angels with error.
¹⁹How much more, those who dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust,
 who are crushed before the moth.
²⁰Between morning and evening they are destroyed.
 They perish forever without any regarding it.
²¹Isn’t their tent cord plucked up within them?
 They die, and that without wisdom.”

5 “Call now; is there any who will answer you?
 To which of the holy ones will you turn?
²For resentment kills the foolish man,
 and jealousy kills the simple.
³I have seen the foolish taking root,
 but suddenly I cursed his habitation.
⁴His children are far from safety.
 They are crushed in the gate.
 Neither is there any to deliver them, ⁵whose harvest the hungry eats up,
 and take it even out of the thorns.
 And the thirsty^a swallow up their wealth.
⁶For affliction doesn’t come forth from the dust, neither does trouble spring out of the ground; ⁷but man is born to trouble,
 as the sparks fly upward.
⁸“But as for me, I would seek God.
 I would commit my cause to God, ⁹who does great things that can’t be fathomed, marvelous things without number; ¹⁰who gives rain on the earth,
 and sends waters on the fields; ¹¹so that he sets up on high those who are low,
 those who mourn are exalted to safety.
¹²He frustrates the devices of the crafty,
 So that their hands can’t perform their enterprise.

¹³He traps the wise in their own craftiness,^b and the counsel of the cunning are brought to a quick end.
¹⁴They meet with darkness in the day time,
 and grope at noonday as in the night.
¹⁵But he saves from the sword of their mouth, even the needy from the hand of the mighty.
¹⁶So the poor has hope,
 and injustice shuts her mouth.
¹⁷“Look, blessed is the man whom God corrects.
 Therefore do not despise the chastening of Shaddai.
¹⁸For he wounds, and binds up.
 He injures, and his hands make whole.
¹⁹He will deliver you in six troubles;
 yes, in seven there shall no evil touch you.
²⁰In famine he will redeem you from death;
 in war, from the power of the sword.
²¹You shall be hidden from the scourge of the tongue, neither shall you be afraid of destruction when it comes.
²²At destruction and famine you shall laugh, neither shall you be afraid of the animals of the earth.
²³For you shall be in league with the stones of the field.
 The animals of the field shall be at peace with you.
²⁴You shall know that your tent is in peace.
 You shall visit your fold, and shall miss nothing.
²⁵You shall know also that your descendants shall be great,
 and your offspring as the grass of the earth.
²⁶You shall come to your grave in a full age, like a shock of grain comes in its season.
²⁷Look this, we have searched it, so it is.
 Hear it, and know it for your good.”

6 Then Job answered,
²“Oh that my anguish were weighed,
 and all my calamity laid in the balances.
³For now it would be heavier than the sand of the seas, therefore have my words been rash.
⁴For the arrows of Shaddai are within me.
 My spirit drinks up their poison.
 The terrors of God set themselves in array against me.
⁵Does the wild donkey bray when he has grass?
 Or does the ox low over his fodder?
⁶Can that which has no flavor be eaten without salt?
 Or is there any taste in the white of an egg?
⁷My soul refuses to touch them.
 They are as loathsome food to me.
⁸“Oh that I might have my request, that God would grant the thing that I long for, ⁹even that it would please God to crush me;
 that he would let loose his hand, and cut me off.
¹⁰Be it still my consolation,
 yes, let me exult in pain that doesn’t spare, that I have not denied the words of the Holy One.
¹¹What is my strength, that I should wait?
 What is my end, that I should be patient?
¹²Is my strength the strength of stones?
 Or is my flesh of bronze?
¹³Isn’t it that I have no help in me,
 That wisdom is driven quite from me?
¹⁴“To the despairing, kindness should be shown from his friend;

^b5:13 1Co 3:19

even to him who forsakes the fear of Shaddai.
¹⁵My brothers have dealt deceitfully as a brook,
 as the channel of brooks that pass away;
¹⁶Which are black by reason of the ice,
 in which the snow hides itself.
¹⁷In the dry season, they vanish.
 When it is hot, they are consumed out of their place.
¹⁸The caravans that travel beside them turn aside.
 They go up into the waste, and perish.
¹⁹The caravans of Tema looked.
 The companies of Sheba waited for them.
²⁰They were distressed because they were confident.
 They came there, and were confounded.
²¹For now you are nothing.
 You see a terror, and are afraid.
²²Did I say, 'Give to me?'
 or, 'Offer a present for me from your substance?'
²³or, 'Deliver me from the adversary's hand?'
 or, 'Redeem me from the hand of the oppressors?'

²⁴"Teach me, and I will hold my peace.
 Cause me to understand wherein I have erred.
²⁵How forcible are words of uprightness.
 But your reproof, what does it reprove?
²⁶Do you intend to reprove words, seeing that the speeches of one who is desperate are as wind?
²⁷Yes, you would even cast lots for the fatherless, and make merchandise of your friend.
²⁸Now therefore be pleased to look at me,
 for surely I shall not lie to your face.
²⁹Please return.
 Let there be no injustice.
 Yes, return again.
 My cause is righteous.
³⁰Is there injustice on my tongue?
 Can't my taste discern mischievous things?

7 "Isn't a man forced to labor on earth?
 Aren't his days like the days of a hired hand?
²As a servant who earnestly desires the shadow,
 as a hireling who looks for his wages, ³so am I made to possess months of misery,
 wearisome nights are appointed to me.
⁴When I lie down, I say,
 'When shall I arise, and the night be gone?'
 I toss and turn until the dawning of the day.
⁵My flesh is clothed with worms and clods of dust.
 My skin closes up, and breaks out afresh.
⁶My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, and are spent without hope.
⁷Oh remember that my life is a breath.
 My eye shall no more see good.
⁸The eye of him who sees me shall see me no more.
 Your eyes shall be on me, but I shall not be.
⁹As the cloud is consumed and vanishes away, so he who goes down to Sheol shall come up no more.
¹⁰He shall return no more to his house,
 neither shall his place know him any more.

¹¹"Therefore I will not keep silent.
 I will speak in the anguish of my spirit.
 I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.
¹²Am I a sea, or a sea monster, that you put a guard over me?
¹³When I say, 'My bed shall comfort me.

My couch shall ease my complaint;'
¹⁴then you scare me with dreams, and terrify me through visions:
¹⁵so that my soul chooses strangling, death rather than my bones.
¹⁶I loathe my life.
 I do not want to live forever.
 Leave me alone, for my days are but a breath.
¹⁷What is man, that you should magnify him,
 that you should set your mind on him, ¹⁸that you should visit him every morning,
 and test him every moment?
¹⁹How long will you not look away from me,
 nor leave me alone until I swallow down my spittle?
²⁰If I have sinned, what do I do to you, you watcher of men?
 Why have you set me as a mark for you,
 so that I am a burden to myself?
²¹Why do you not pardon my disobedience, and take away my iniquity?
 For now shall I lie down in the dust.
 You will seek me diligently, but I shall not be."

8 Then Bildad the Shuhite answered,
²"How long will you speak these things?
 Shall the words of your mouth be a mighty wind?
³Does God pervert justice?
 Or does Shaddai pervert righteousness?
⁴If your children have sinned against him,
 He has delivered them into the hand of their disobedience.
⁵If you want to seek God diligently, make your petition to Shaddai.
⁶If you were pure and upright, surely now he would awaken for you,
 and make the habitation of your righteousness prosperous.
⁷Though your beginning was small,
 yet your latter end would greatly increase.

⁸"Please inquire of past generations.
 Find out about the learning of their fathers.
⁹(For we are but of yesterday, and know nothing, because our days on earth are a shadow.)
¹⁰Shall they not teach you, tell you,
 and utter words out of their heart?
¹¹"Can the papyrus grow up without mire?
 Can the rushes grow without water?
¹²While it is yet in its greenness, not cut down,
 it withers before any other reed.
¹³So are the paths of all who forget God.
 The hope of the godless man shall perish,
¹⁴Whose confidence shall break apart,
 Whose trust is a spider's web.
¹⁵He shall lean on his house, but it shall not stand.
 He shall cling to it, but it shall not endure.
¹⁶He is green before the sun.
 His shoots go forth over his garden.
¹⁷His roots are wrapped around the rock pile.
 He sees the place of stones.
¹⁸If he is destroyed from his place, then it shall deny him, saying, 'I have not seen you.'
¹⁹Look, this is the joy of his way:
 out of the earth, others shall spring.
²⁰"Look, God will not cast away a blameless man, neither will he uphold the evildoers.

²¹He will still fill your mouth with laughter, your lips with shouting.
²²Those who hate you shall be clothed with shame.
The tent of the wicked shall be no more.”

9 Then Job answered,
²“Truly I know that it is so,
but how can man be just with God?
³If he is pleased to contend with him,
he can’t answer him one time in a thousand.
⁴God who is wise in heart, and mighty in strength:
who has hardened himself against him, and prospered?
⁵He removes the mountains, and they do not know it,
when he overturns them in his anger.
⁶He shakes the earth out of its place.
Its pillars tremble.
⁷He commands the sun, and it doesn’t rise,
and seals up the stars.
⁸He alone stretches out the heavens, and treads on the waves of the sea.^a ⁹He makes Osh, Kesil, and Kimah,^b and the chambers of the south.
¹⁰He does great things past finding out;
yes, marvelous things without number.
¹¹Look, he goes by me, and I do not see him.
He passes on also, but I do not perceive him.
¹²Look, he snatches away.
Who can hinder him?
Who will ask him, ‘What are you doing?’

¹³“God will not withdraw his anger.
The helpers of Rahab stoop under him.
¹⁴How much less shall I answer him,
And choose my words to argue with him?
¹⁵Though I were righteous, yet I wouldn’t answer him.
I would make petition to my judge.
¹⁶If I had called, and he had answered me,
yet I wouldn’t believe that he listened to my voice.
¹⁷For he bruises me with a storm,
and multiplies my wounds without cause.
¹⁸He will not allow me to catch my breath,
but fills me with bitterness.
¹⁹If it is a matter of strength, look, he is mighty.
And if of justice, who will summon him?^c ²⁰Though I am righteous, my own mouth shall condemn me.
Though I am blameless, it shall prove me perverse.
²¹I am blameless.
I do not regard myself.
I despise my life.

²²“It is all the same.
Therefore I say he destroys the blameless and the wicked.
²³If the scourge kills suddenly,
he will mock at the trial of the innocent.
²⁴The earth is given into the hand of the wicked.
He covers the faces of its judges.
If not he, then who is it?

²⁵“Now my days are swifter than a runner.
They flee away, they see no good,
²⁶They have passed away as the swift ships,

as the eagle that swoops on the prey.
²⁷If I say, ‘I will forget my complaint,
I will put off my sad face, and cheer up;’
²⁸I am afraid of all my sorrows,
I know that you will not hold me innocent.
²⁹I shall be condemned.
Why then do I labor in vain?
³⁰If I wash myself with snow water,^d and cleanse my hands with lye, ³¹yet you will plunge me in the ditch.
My own clothes shall abhor me.
³²For he is not a man, as I am, that I should answer him,
that we should come together in judgment.
³³There is no umpire between us,
that might lay his hand on us both.
³⁴Let him take his rod away from me.
Let his terror not make me afraid;
³⁵then I would speak, and not fear him,
for I am not so in myself.

10 “My soul is weary of my life.
I will give free course to my complaint.
I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.
²I will tell God, ‘Do not condemn me.
Show me why you contend with me.
³Is it good to you that you should oppress, that you should despise the work of your hands,
and smile on the counsel of the wicked?
⁴Do you have eyes of flesh?
Or do you see as man sees?
⁵Are your days as the days of mortals, or your years as man’s years, ⁶that you inquire after my iniquity,
and search after my sin?
⁷Although you know that I am not wicked,
there is no one who can deliver out of your hand.

⁸“Your hands have framed me and fashioned me altogether, yet you destroy me.
⁹Remember, I beg you, that you have fashioned me as clay.
Will you bring me into dust again?
¹⁰Haven’t you poured me out like milk,
and curdled me like cheese?
¹¹You have clothed me with skin and flesh,
and knit me together with bones and sinews.
¹²You have granted me life and loving kindness.
Your visitation has preserved my spirit.
¹³Yet you hid these things in your heart.
I know that this is with you:
¹⁴if I sin, then you mark me.
You will not acquit me from my iniquity.
¹⁵If I am wicked, woe to me.
If I am righteous, I still shall not lift up my head,
being filled with disgrace,
and conscious of my affliction.
¹⁶And if I lift myself up, you hunt me like a lion.
Again you show yourself powerful to me.
¹⁷You renew your witnesses against me,
and increase your indignation on me.
Changes and warfare are with me.

^a9:8 Matthew 14:26; Mark 6:49; John 6:19

^b9:9 Or, “He makes the Bear, Orion, and the Pleiades”

^c9:19 Cf. LXX. MT reads “me”

¹⁸“Why, then, have you brought me forth out of the womb?
I wish I had given up the spirit, and no eye had seen me.
¹⁹I should have been as though I had not been.
I should have been carried from the womb to the grave.
²⁰Aren’t my days few?
Cease then.
Leave me alone, that I may find a little comfort, ²¹before I go where I shall not return from,
to the land of darkness and of the shadow of death; ²²the land dark as midnight,
of the shadow of death,
without any order,
where the light is as midnight.”

11 Then Zophar, the Naamathite, answered,
²“Shouldn’t the multitude of words be answered?
Should a man full of talk be justified?

³Should your boastings make men hold their peace?
When you mock, shall no man make you ashamed?
⁴For you say, ‘My doctrine is pure.
I am clean in your eyes.’
⁵But oh that God would speak, and open his lips against you, ⁶that he would show you the secrets of wisdom.
For true wisdom has two sides.
Know therefore that God exacts of you less than your iniquity deserves.

⁷“Can you fathom the mystery of God?
Or can you probe the limits of Shaddai?
⁸They are high as heaven. What can you do?
They are deeper than Sheol. What can you know?
⁹Its measure is longer than the earth, and broader than the sea.
¹⁰If he passes by, or confines, or convenes a court, then who can oppose him?
¹¹For he knows false men.
He sees iniquity also, even though he doesn’t consider it.
¹²An empty-headed man becomes wise
when a man is born as a wild donkey’s colt.

¹³“If you set your heart aright, stretch out your hands toward him.
¹⁴If iniquity is in your hand, put it far away.
Do not let unrighteousness dwell in your tents.
¹⁵Surely then you shall lift up your face without spot;
Yes, you shall be steadfast, and shall not fear:
¹⁶for you shall forget your misery.
You shall remember it as waters that are passed away.
¹⁷Life shall be clearer than the noonday.
Though there is darkness, it shall be as the morning.
¹⁸You shall be secure, because there is hope.
Yes, you shall search, and shall take your rest in safety.
¹⁹Also you shall lie down, and none shall make you afraid.
Yes, many shall court your favor.
²⁰But the eyes of the wicked shall fail.
They shall have no way to flee.
Their hope shall be the giving up of the spirit.”

12 Then Job answered,
²“No doubt, but you are the people,
and wisdom shall die with you.

³But I have understanding as well as you;
I am not inferior to you.
Yes, who doesn’t know such things as these?

⁴I am like one who is a joke to his neighbor,
I, who called on God, and he answered.
The just, the blameless man is a joke.
⁵In the thought of him who is at ease there is contempt for misfortune.

It is ready for them whose foot slips.
⁶The tents of robbers prosper.
Those who provoke God are secure,
who carry their god in their hands.

⁷“But ask the animals, now, and they shall teach you;
the birds of the sky, and they shall tell you.

⁸Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach you.
The fish of the sea shall declare to you.

⁹Who doesn’t know that in all these,
the hand of the LORD has done this, ¹⁰in whose hand is the life of every living thing,
and the breath of all humankind?

¹¹Doesn’t the ear try words, even as the palate tastes its food?

¹²With aged men is wisdom,
in length of days understanding.

¹³“With him is wisdom and might.
He has counsel and understanding.

¹⁴Look, he breaks down, and it can’t be built again.
He imprisons a man, and there can be no release.

¹⁵Look, he withholds the waters, and they dry up.
Again, he sends them out, and they overturn the earth.

¹⁶With him is strength and wisdom.
The deceived and the deceiver are his.

¹⁷He leads counselors away stripped.
He makes judges fools.

¹⁸He loosens the bond of kings.
He binds their waist with a belt.

¹⁹He leads priests away stripped,
and overthrows the mighty.

²⁰He removes the speech of those who are trusted, and takes away the understanding of the elders.

²¹He pours contempt on princes, and loosens the belt of the strong.

²²He uncovers deep things out of darkness, and brings out to light the shadow of death.

²³He increases the nations, and he destroys them.
He enlarges the nations, and he leads them captive.

²⁴He takes away understanding from the chiefs of the people of the earth, and causes them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.

²⁵They grope in the dark without light.
He makes them stagger like a drunken man.

13 “Look, my eye has seen all this.
My ear has heard and understood it.
²What you know, I know also.

I am not inferior to you.

³“Surely I would speak to Shaddai.
I desire to reason with God.

⁴But you are forgers of lies.
You are all physicians of no value.

⁵Oh that you would be completely silent.
Then you would be wise.

⁶Hear now my reasoning.
Listen to the pleadings of my lips.

7Will you speak unrighteously for God,
 and talk deceitfully for him?
 8Will you show partiality to him?
 Will you contend for God?
 9Is it good that he should search you out?
 Or as one deceives a man, will you deceive him?
 10He will surely reprove you if you secretly show partiality.
 11Shall not his majesty make you afraid,
 And his dread fall on you?
 12Your memorable sayings are proverbs of ashes,
 Your defenses are defenses of clay.

 13“Be silent, leave me alone, that I may speak.
 Let come on me what will.
 14Why should I take my flesh in my teeth,
 and put my life in my hand?
 15Look, though he should kill me,
 I will hope in him.^a
 Nevertheless, I will argue my ways before him.
 16This also shall be my salvation, that a godless man shall not come before him.
 17Hear diligently my speech.
 Let my declaration be in your ears.
 18See now, I have set my cause in order.
 I know that I am righteous.
 19Who is he who will contend with me?
 For then would I hold my peace and give up the spirit.

 20“Only do not do two things to me;
 then I will not hide myself from your face:
 21withdraw your hand far from me;
 and do not let your terror make me afraid.
 22Then call, and I will answer;
 or let me speak, and you answer me.
 23How many are my iniquities and sins?
 Make me know my disobedience and my sin.
 24Why hide you your face,
 and hold me for your enemy?
 25Will you harass a driven leaf?
 Will you pursue the dry stubble?
 26For you write bitter things against me,
 and make me inherit the iniquities of my youth:
 27You also put my feet in the stocks,
 and mark all my paths.
 You set a bound to the soles of my feet, 28though I am decaying like a rotten thing,
 like a garment that is moth-eaten.

14 ¹“Man, who is born of a woman, is of few days, and full of trouble.
²He comes forth like a flower, and is cut down.
 He also flees like a shadow, and doesn’t continue.

³Do you open your eyes on such a one,
 and bring me into judgment with you?
⁴Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean?
 Not one.
⁵Seeing his days are determined,
 the number of his months is with you,
 and you have appointed his bounds that he can’t pass;
⁶Look away from him, that he may rest, until he shall accomplish, as a hireling, his day.

⁷“For there is hope for a tree,
 If it is cut down, that it will sprout again,
 that the tender branch of it will not cease.
⁸Though its root grows old in the earth,
 and its stock dies in the ground, ⁹yet through the scent of water it will bud,
 and put forth boughs like a plant.
¹⁰But man dies, and is laid low.
 Yes, man gives up the spirit, and where is he?
¹¹As the waters fail from the sea,
 and the river wastes and dries up, ¹²so man lies down and doesn’t rise.
 Until the heavens are no more, they shall not awake, nor be roused out of their sleep.

¹³“Oh that you would hide me in Sheol, that you would keep me secret, until your wrath is past,
 that you would appoint me a set time, and remember me.
¹⁴If a man dies, shall he live again?
 All the days of my warfare would I wait, until my release should come.
¹⁵You would call, and I would answer you.
 You would have a desire to the work of your hands.
¹⁶But now you number my steps.
 Do you not watch over my sin?
¹⁷My disobedience is sealed up in a bag.
 You fasten up my iniquity.

¹⁸“But the mountain falling comes to nothing.
 The rock is removed out of its place;
¹⁹The waters wear the stones.
 The torrents of it wash away the dust of the earth.
 So you destroy the hope of man.
²⁰You forever prevail against him, and he departs.
 You change his face, and send him away.
²¹His sons come to honor, and he doesn’t know it.
 They are brought low, but he doesn’t perceive it of them.
²²But his flesh on him has pain,
 and his soul within him mourns.”

15 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered,
²“Should a wise man answer with vain knowledge, and fill himself with the east wind?

³Should he reason with unprofitable talk, or with speeches with which he can do no good?
⁴Yes, you do away with fear, and hinder devotion before God.
⁵For your iniquity teaches your mouth,
 and you choose the language of the crafty.
⁶Your own mouth condemns you, and not I.
 Yes, your own lips testify against you.

⁷“Are you the first man who was born?
 Or were you brought forth before the hills?
⁸Have you heard the secret counsel of God?
 Do you limit wisdom to yourself?
⁹What do you know, that we do not know?
 What do you understand, which is not in us?
¹⁰With us are both the gray-headed and the very aged men,

^a13:15 MT Qere Hebrew Mss LXX Syr Vg, reading lw “(hope) to/in him.”
 MT Kethib reads l’ “no (hope)”

much elder than your father.

- ¹¹Are the consolations of God too small for you,
even the word that is gentle toward you?
¹²Why does your heart carry you away?
Why do your eyes flash,
¹³That you turn your spirit against God,
and let such words go out of your mouth?
¹⁴What is man, that he should be clean?
What is he who is born of a woman, that he should be righteous?
¹⁵Look, he puts no trust in his holy ones.
Yes, the heavens are not clean in his sight;
¹⁶how much less one who is abominable and corrupt,
a man who drinks iniquity like water.
- ¹⁷“I will show you, listen to me;
that which I have seen I will declare:
¹⁸(Which wise men have told by their fathers,
and have not hidden it;
¹⁹to whom alone the land was given,
and no stranger passed among them):
²⁰the wicked man writhes in pain all his days, even the number of years that are laid up for the oppressor.
²¹A sound of terrors is in his ears.
In prosperity the destroyer shall come on him.
²²He doesn’t believe that he shall return out of darkness.
He is waited for by the sword.
²³He wanders abroad for bread, saying, ‘Where is it?’
He knows that the day of darkness is ready at his hand.
²⁴Distress and anguish make him afraid.
They prevail against him, as a king ready to the battle.
²⁵Because he has stretched out his hand against God,
and behaves himself proudly against Shaddai; ²⁶he runs at him with a stiff neck,
with the thick shields of his bucklers; ²⁷because he has covered his face with his fatness, and gathered fat on his thighs.
²⁸He has lived in desolate cities, in houses which no one inhabited,
which were ready to become heaps.
²⁹He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall their possessions^a be extended on the earth.
³⁰He shall not depart out of darkness.
The flame shall dry up his branches.
By the breath of God’s mouth shall he go away.
³¹Let him not trust in emptiness, deceiving himself;
for emptiness shall be his reward.
³²It shall be accomplished before his time.
His branch shall not be green.
³³He shall shake off his unripe grape as the vine,
and shall cast off his flower as the olive tree.
³⁴For the company of the goddess shall be barren, and fire shall consume the tents of bribery.
³⁵They conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.
Their heart prepares deceit.”

16 Then Job answered,
²“I have heard many such things.
You are all miserable comforters.

- ³Shall vain words have an end?
Or what provokes you that you answer?

- ⁴I also could speak as you do.
If your soul were in my soul’s place,
I could join words together against you,
and shake my head at you,
⁵but I would strengthen you with my mouth.
The solace of my lips would relieve you.
- ⁶“Though I speak, my grief is not subsided.
Though I forbear, what am I eased?
⁷But now he has worn me out.
You have laid waste all my company.
⁸You have shriveled me up. This is a witness against me.
My leanness rises up against me.
It testifies to my face.
⁹He has torn me in his wrath, and persecuted me.
He has gnashed on me with his teeth.
My adversary sharpens his eyes on me.
¹⁰They have gaped on me with their mouth.
They have struck me on the cheek reproachfully.
They gather themselves together against me.
¹¹God delivers me to the ungodly, and casts me into the hands of the wicked.
¹²I was at ease, and he broke me apart.
Yes, he has taken me by the neck, and dashed me to pieces.
He has also set me up for his target.
¹³His archers surround me.
He splits my kidneys apart, and does not spare.
He pours out my gall on the ground.
¹⁴He breaks me with breach on breach.
He runs on me like a giant.
¹⁵I have sewed sackcloth on my skin,
and have thrust my horn in the dust.
¹⁶My face is red with weeping.
Deep darkness is on my eyelids.
¹⁷Although there is no violence in my hands, and my prayer is pure.
- ¹⁸“Earth, do not cover my blood.
Let my cry have no place to rest.
¹⁹Even now, look, my witness is in heaven.
He who vouches for me is on high.
²⁰My friends scoff at me.
My eyes pour out tears to God, ²¹that he would maintain the right of a man with God,
of a son of man with his neighbor.
²²For when a few years have come,
I shall go the way from where I shall not return.

17 “My spirit is consumed.
My days are extinct,
And the grave is ready for me.

- ²Surely there are mockers with me.
My eye dwells on their provocation.
- ³“Now give a pledge, be collateral for me with yourself.
Who is there who will strike hands with me?
⁴For you have hidden their heart from understanding,
Therefore you shall not exalt them.
⁵He who denounces his friends for a prey,
Even the eyes of his children shall fail.

^a15:29 Heb. minlam, a hapax legomenon, found in the Ebla tablets as ma-ni-lum “property” or “cow”

⁶“But he has made me a byword of the people.
They spit in my face.
⁷My eye also is dim by reason of sorrow.
All my members are as a shadow.
⁸Upright men shall be astonished at this.
The innocent shall stir up himself against the godless.
⁹Yet shall the righteous hold on his way.
He who has clean hands shall grow stronger and stronger.
¹⁰But as for you all, come on now again;
I shall not find a wise man among you.
¹¹My days are past, my plans are broken off,
as are the thoughts of my heart.
¹²They change the night into day, saying ‘The light is near’ in the presence of darkness.
¹³If I look for Sheol as my house,
if I have spread my couch in the darkness,
¹⁴If I have said to corruption, ‘You are my father;’
to the worm, ‘My mother,’ and ‘my sister;’
¹⁵where then is my hope?
As for my hope, who shall see it?
¹⁶Shall it go down with me to the gates of Sheol, or descend together into the dust?”

18 Then Bildad the Shuhite answered,
²“How long will you hunt for words?
Consider, and afterwards we will speak.

³Why are we counted as animals, which have become unclean in your sight?
⁴You who tear yourself in your anger, shall the earth be forsaken for you?
Or shall the rock be removed out of its place?
⁵“Yes, the light of the wicked shall be put out,
The spark of his fire shall not shine.
⁶The light shall be dark in his tent.
His lamp above him shall be put out.
⁷The steps of his strength shall be shortened.
His own counsel shall cast him down.
⁸For he is cast into a net by his own feet,
and he wanders into its mesh.
⁹A snare will take him by the heel.
A trap will catch him.
¹⁰A noose is hidden for him in the ground,
a trap for him in the way.
¹¹Terrors shall make him afraid on every side,
and shall chase him at his heels.
¹²His strength shall be famished.
Calamity shall be ready at his side.
¹³The members of his body shall be devoured.
The firstborn of death shall devour his members.
¹⁴He shall be rooted out of his tent where he trusts.
He shall be brought to the king of terrors.
¹⁵There shall dwell in his tent that which is none of his.
Sulfur shall be scattered on his habitation.
¹⁶His roots shall be dried up beneath.
Above shall his branch be cut off.
¹⁷His memory shall perish from the earth.
He shall have no name in the street.
¹⁸He shall be driven from light into darkness, and chased out of the world.
¹⁹He shall have neither son nor grandson among his people, nor any remaining where he sojourned.
²⁰Those who come after shall be astonished at his day,
as those who went before were frightened.
²¹Surely such are the dwellings of the unrighteous.

This is the place of him who doesn't know God.”

19 Then Job answered,
²“How long will you torment me,
and crush me with words?
³You have reproached me ten times.
You aren't ashamed that you attack me.
⁴If it is true that I have erred,
my error remains with myself.
⁵If indeed you will magnify yourselves against me,
and plead my disgrace against me;
⁶know now that God has subverted me,
and has surrounded me with his net.
⁷“Look, I cry out ‘Injustice.’ but there is no justice.
⁸He has walled up my way so that I can't pass, and has set darkness in my paths.
⁹He has stripped me of my glory,
and taken the crown from my head.
¹⁰He has broken me down on every side, and I am gone.
My hope he has plucked up like a tree.
¹¹He has also kindled his wrath against me.
He counts me among his adversaries.
¹²His troops come on together, build a siege ramp against me,
and camp around my tent.
¹³“He has put my brothers far from me.
My acquaintances are wholly estranged from me.
¹⁴My relatives have gone away.
My familiar friends have forgotten me.
¹⁵Those who dwell in my house, and my maids, count me for a stranger.
I am a foreigner in their sight.
¹⁶I call to my servant, and he gives me no answer.
I beg him with my mouth.
¹⁷My breath is offensive to my wife.
I am loathsome to the children of my own mother.
¹⁸Even young children despise me.
If I arise, they speak against me.
¹⁹All my familiar friends abhor me.
They whom I loved have turned against me.
²⁰My bones stick to my skin and to my flesh.
I have escaped by the skin of my teeth.
²¹“Have pity on me, have pity on me, you my friends;
for the hand of God has touched me.
²²Why do you persecute me as God,
and are not satisfied with my flesh?
²³“Oh that my words were now written.
Oh that they were inscribed in a scroll.
²⁴That with an iron pen and lead
they were engraved in the rock forever.
²⁵But as for me, I know that my Redeemer lives.
In the end, he will stand upon the earth.
²⁶After my skin is destroyed,
then in my flesh shall I see God,
²⁷Whom I, even I, shall see on my side.
My eyes shall see, and not as a stranger.
My heart is consumed within me.
²⁸If you say, ‘How we will persecute him, because the root of the matter is found in him.^a ²⁹Be afraid of the sword, for wrath brings the punishments of the sword,

that you may know there is a judgment.”

20 Then Zophar the Naamathite answered,
²“Therefore do my thoughts give answer to me,
even by reason of my haste that is in me.

³I have heard the reproof which puts me to shame.

The spirit of my understanding answers me.

⁴Do you not know this from old time, since humankind was placed on earth, ⁵that the triumphing of the wicked is short,
the joy of the godless but for a moment?

⁶Though his height mount up to the heavens,
and his head reach to the clouds,

⁷yet he shall perish forever like his own dung.

Those who have seen him shall say, ‘Where is he?’

⁸He shall fly away as a dream, and shall not be found.

Yes, he shall be chased away like a vision of the night.

⁹The eye which saw him shall see him no more,
neither shall his place any more see him.

¹⁰His children shall seek the favor of the poor.
His hands shall give back his wealth.

¹¹His bones are full of his youth,
but youth shall lie down with him in the dust.

¹²“Though wickedness is sweet in his mouth,
though he hide it under his tongue,

¹³though he spare it, and will not let it go,
but keep it still within his mouth;

¹⁴yet his food in his bowels is turned.

It is cobra venom within him.

¹⁵He has swallowed down riches, and he shall vomit them up again.
God will cast them out of his belly.

¹⁶He shall suck cobra venom.

The viper’s tongue shall kill him.

¹⁷He shall not look at the rivers,
the flowing streams of honey and butter.

¹⁸That for which he labored he shall restore, and shall not swallow it down.

According to the substance that he has gotten, he shall not rejoice.

¹⁹For he has oppressed and forsaken the poor.

He has violently taken away a house, and he shall not build it up.

²⁰“Because he knew no quietness within him,
he shall not save anything of that in which he delights.

²¹There was nothing left that he did not devour, therefore his prosperity shall not endure.

²²In the fullness of his sufficiency, distress shall overtake him.
The hand of everyone who is in misery shall come on him.

²³When he is about to fill his belly, he will cast the fierceness of his wrath on him.

It will rain on him while he is eating.

²⁴He shall flee from the iron weapon.

The bronze arrow shall strike him through.

²⁵He draws it forth, and it comes out of his body.
Yes, the glittering point comes out of his liver.
Terrors are on him.

²⁶All darkness is laid up for his treasures.

An unfanned fire shall devour him.

It shall consume that which is left in his tent.

²⁷The heavens shall reveal his iniquity.

The earth shall rise up against him.

²⁸The increase of his house shall depart.

They shall rush away in the day of his wrath.

²⁹This is the portion of a wicked man from God,
the heritage appointed to him by God.”

21 Then Job answered,
²“Listen diligently to my speech.
Let this be your consolation.

³Allow me, and I also will speak;

After I have spoken, mock on.

⁴As for me, is my complaint to man?

Why shouldn’t I be impatient?

⁵Look at me, and be astonished.

Lay your hand on your mouth.

⁶When I remember, I am troubled.

Horror takes hold of my flesh.

⁷“Why do the wicked live, become old, yes, and grow mighty in power?

⁸Their child is established with them in their sight, their offspring before their eyes.

⁹Their houses are safe from fear, neither is the rod of God upon them.

¹⁰Their bulls breed without fail.

Their cows calve, and do not miscarry.

¹¹They send forth their little ones like a flock.
Their children dance.

¹²They sing to the tambourine and harp, and rejoice at the sound of the pipe.

¹³They spend their days in prosperity.
In an instant they go down to Sheol.

¹⁴They tell God, ‘Depart from us, for we do not want to know about your ways.

¹⁵What is Shaddai, that we should serve him?

What profit should we have, if we pray to him?’

¹⁶Look, their prosperity is not in their hand.

The counsel of the wicked is far from me.

¹⁷“How often is it that the lamp of the wicked is put out,
that their calamity comes on them,

that he distributes sorrows in his anger?

¹⁸How often is it that they are as stubble before the wind, as chaff that the storm carries away?

¹⁹You say, ‘God lays up his iniquity for his children.’

Let him recompense it to himself, that he may know it.

²⁰Let his own eyes see his destruction.

Let him drink of the wrath of Shaddai.

²¹For what does he care for his house after him,
when the number of his months is cut off?

²²“Shall any teach God knowledge, seeing he judges those who are high?

²³One dies in his full strength, being wholly at ease and quiet.

²⁴His pails are full of milk.

The marrow of his bones is moistened.

²⁵Another dies in bitterness of soul,
and never tastes of good.

^a19:28 Hebrew Mss Versions. MT reads “in me”

²⁶They lie down alike in the dust.
The worm covers them.

²⁷“Look, I know your thoughts,
the devices with which you would wrong me.

²⁸For you say, ‘Where is the house of the prince?
Where is the tent in which the wicked lived?’

²⁹Haven’t you asked wayfaring men?
Do you not know their evidences,

³⁰that the evil man is reserved to the day of calamity,
That they are led forth to the day of wrath?

³¹Who shall declare his way to his face?
Who shall repay him what he has done?

³²Yet he will be borne to the grave.
Men shall keep watch over the tomb.

³³The clods of the valley shall be sweet to him.
All men shall draw after him,
as there were innumerable before him.

³⁴So how can you comfort me with nonsense, seeing that in your answers there remains only falsehood?”

22 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered,
²“Can a man be profitable to God?
Surely he who is wise is profitable to himself.

³Is it any pleasure to Shaddai, that you are righteous?
Or does it benefit him, that you make your ways perfect?

⁴Is it for your piety that he reproves you,
that he enters with you into judgment?

⁵Isn’t your wickedness great?
Neither is there any end to your iniquities.

⁶For you have taken pledges from your brother for nothing, and stripped the naked of their clothing.

⁷You haven’t given water to the weary to drink, and you have withheld bread from the hungry.

⁸But as for the mighty man, he had the earth.
The honorable man, he lived in it.

⁹You have sent widows away empty, and the arms of the fatherless have been broken.

¹⁰Therefore snares are around you.
Sudden fear troubles you,

¹¹or darkness, so that you can not see,
and floods of waters cover you.

¹²“Isn’t God in the heights of heaven?
See the height of the stars, how high they are.

¹³You say, ‘What does God know?
Can he judge through the thick darkness?’

¹⁴Thick clouds are a covering to him, so that he doesn’t see.
He walks on the vault of the sky.’

¹⁵Will you keep the old way, which wicked men have trodden, ¹⁶who were snatched away before their time,
whose foundation was poured out as a stream, ¹⁷who said to God, ‘Depart from us;’
and, ‘What can Shaddai do for us?’

¹⁸Yet he filled their houses with good things, but the counsel of the wicked is far from me.

¹⁹The righteous see it, and are glad.
The innocent ridicule them,

²⁰saying, ‘Surely those who rose up against us are cut off.
The fire has consumed the remnant of them.’

²¹“Acquaint yourself with him, now, and be at peace.
Thereby good shall come to you.

²²Please receive instruction from his mouth, and lay up his words in your heart.

²³If you return to Shaddai, you shall be built up,
if you put away unrighteousness far from your tents.

²⁴Lay your treasure in the dust,
the gold of Ophir among the stones of the brooks.

²⁵Shaddai will be your treasure, and precious silver to you.

²⁶For then you will delight yourself in Shaddai, and shall lift up your face to God.

²⁷You shall make your prayer to him, and he will hear you.
You shall pay your vows.

²⁸And you will also decree a thing, and it will be established for you, and light will shine on your ways.

²⁹When they cast down, you shall say, ‘be lifted up.’
And he will save the humble.

³⁰He will even deliver him who is not innocent.
Yes, he shall be delivered through the cleanness of your hands.”

23 Then Job answered,
²“Even today my complaint is rebellious.
His hand is heavy in spite of my groaning.

³Oh that I knew where I might find him.
That I might come even to his seat.

⁴I would set my cause in order before him,
and fill my mouth with arguments.

⁵I would know the words which he would answer me,
and understand what he would tell me.

⁶Would he contend with me in the greatness of his power?
No, but he would listen to me.

⁷There the upright might reason with him,
so I should be delivered forever from my judge.

⁸“If I go east, he is not there;
if west, I can’t find him;

⁹He works to the north, but I can’t see him.
He turns south, but I can’t catch a glimpse of him.

¹⁰But he knows the way that I take.
When he has tried me, I shall come forth like gold.

¹¹My foot has held fast to his steps.
I have kept his way, and not turned aside.

¹²I haven’t gone back from the commandment of his lips.
I have treasured up the words of his mouth more than my necessary food.

¹³But he stands alone, and who can oppose him?
What his soul desires, even that he does.

¹⁴For he performs that which is appointed for me.
Many such things are with him.

¹⁵Therefore I am terrified at his presence.
When I consider, I am afraid of him.

¹⁶For God has made my heart faint.
Shaddai has terrified me.

¹⁷Because I was not cut off before the darkness, neither did he cover the thick darkness from my face.

24 “Why aren’t times made known by Shaddai?
Why do not those who know him see his days?
²There are people who remove the landmarks.
They violently take away flocks, and feed them.

³They drive away the donkey of the fatherless, and they take the widow’s ox for a pledge.

⁴They turn the needy out of the way.
The poor of the earth all hide themselves.

⁵Look, as wild donkeys in the desert,

they go forth to their work, seeking diligently for food.
The wilderness yields them bread for their children.

⁶They cut their provender in the field.
They glean the vineyard of the wicked.

⁷They lie all night naked without clothing, and have no covering in the cold.

⁸They are wet with the showers of the mountains, and embrace the rock for lack of a shelter.

⁹There are those who pluck the fatherless from the breast, and take a pledge of the poor,

¹⁰So that they go around naked without clothing.
Being hungry, they carry the sheaves.

¹¹They make oil within the walls of these men.
They tread wine presses, and suffer thirst.

¹²From out of the populous city, men groan.
The soul of the wounded cries out,
yet God doesn't regard the folly.

¹³"These are of those who rebel against the light.
They do not know its ways,
nor abide in its paths.

¹⁴The murderer rises with the light.
He kills the poor and needy.
In the night he is like a thief.

¹⁵The eye also of the adulterer waits for the twilight, saying, 'No eye shall see me.'
He disguises his face.

¹⁶In the dark they dig through houses.
They shut themselves up in the daytime.
They do not know the light.

¹⁷For the morning is to all of them like thick darkness, for they know the terrors of the thick darkness.

¹⁸"They are foam on the surface of the waters.
Their portion is cursed in the earth.
They do not turn into the way of the vineyards.

¹⁹Drought and heat consume the snow waters,
so does Sheol those who have sinned.

²⁰The womb shall forget him.
The worm shall feed sweetly on him.
He shall be no more remembered.
Unrighteousness shall be broken as a tree.

²¹He devours the barren who do not bear.
He shows no kindness to the widow.

²²Yet he preserves the mighty by his power.
He rises up who has no assurance of life.

²³He gives them security, and they rest in it.
His eyes are on their ways.

²⁴They are exalted; yet a little while, and they are gone.
Yes, they are brought low, they are taken out of the way as all others,
and are cut off as the tops of the ears of grain.

²⁵If it isn't so now, who will prove me a liar, and make my speech worth nothing?"

25 Then Bildad the Shuhite answered,
²"Dominion and fear are with him.
He makes peace in his high places.

³Can his armies be counted?

On whom does his light not arise?

⁴How then can man be just with God?

Or how can he who is born of a woman be clean?

⁵Look, even the moon has no brightness, and the stars are not pure in his sight;

⁶How much less man, who is a worm,
the son of man, who is a worm."

26 Then Job answered,
²"How have you helped him who is without power.
How have you saved the arm that has no strength.

³How have you counseled him who has no wisdom, and plentifully declared sound knowledge.

⁴To whom have you uttered words?
Whose spirit came forth from you?

⁵"Those who are deceased tremble, those beneath the waters and all that live in them.

⁶Sheol^a is naked before him,
and Abaddon^b has no covering.

⁷He stretches out the north over empty space, and hangs the earth on nothing.

⁸He binds up the waters in his thick clouds, and the cloud is not burst under them.

⁹He encloses the face of his throne,
and spreads his cloud on it.

¹⁰He has described a boundary on the surface of the waters, and to the confines of light and darkness.

¹¹The pillars of heaven tremble and are astonished at his rebuke.

¹²He stirs up the sea with his power,
and by his understanding he strikes through Rahab.

¹³By his Spirit the heavens are garnished.
His hand has pierced the swift serpent.

¹⁴Look, these are but the outskirts of his ways.
How small a whisper do we hear of him.
But the thunder of his power who can understand?"

27 Job again took up his parable, and said,
²"As God lives, who has taken away my right,
Shaddai, who has made my soul bitter.

³(For the length of my life is still in me, and the spirit of God is in my nostrils);

⁴surely my lips shall not speak unrighteousness, neither shall my tongue utter deceit.

⁵Far be it from me that I should justify you.
Until I die I will not put away my integrity from me.

⁶I hold fast to my righteousness, and will not let it go.
My conscience will not accuse me as long as I live.

⁷"Let my enemy be as the wicked.
Let him who rises up against me be as the unrighteous.

⁸For what is the hope of the godless, when he is cut off, when God takes away his life?

⁹Will God hear his cry when trouble comes on him?

¹⁰Will he delight himself in Shaddai, and call on God at all times?

¹¹I will teach you about the hand of God.
That which is with Shaddai will I not conceal.

¹²Look, all of you have seen it yourselves;
why then have you become altogether vain?

¹³"This is the portion of a wicked man with God,
the heritage of oppressors, which they receive from Shaddai.

¹⁴If his children are multiplied, it is for the sword.

^a26:6 Sheol is the lower world or the grave

^b26:6 Abaddon means Destroyer

His offspring shall not be satisfied with bread.
¹⁵Those who remain of him shall be buried in death.
 His widows shall make no lamentation.
¹⁶Though he heap up silver as the dust,
 and prepare clothing as the clay; ¹⁷he may prepare it, but the just shall put it on,
 and the innocent shall divide the silver.
¹⁸He builds his house as the moth,
 as a booth which the watchman makes.
¹⁹He lies down rich, but he shall not do so again.
 He opens his eyes, and it is gone.
²⁰Terrors overtake him like waters.
 A storm steals him away in the night.
²¹The east wind carries him away, and he departs.
 It sweeps him out of his place.
²²For it hurls at him, and does not spare,
 as he flees away from his hand.
²³Men shall clap their hands at him,
 and shall hiss him out of his place.

28 ¹“Surely there is a mine for silver, and a place for gold which they refine.
²Iron is taken out of the earth, and copper is smelted out of the ore.
³Man sets an end to darkness, and searches out, to the furthest bound,
 the stones of obscurity and of thick darkness.
⁴He breaks open a shaft away from where people live.
 They are forgotten by the foot.
 They hang far from men, they swing back and forth.
⁵As for the earth, out of it comes bread;
 Underneath it is turned up as it were by fire.
⁶Sapphires come from its rocks.
 It has dust of gold.
⁷That path no bird of prey knows, neither has the falcon’s eye seen it.
⁸The proud animals have not trodden it,
 nor has the fierce lion passed by there.
⁹He puts forth his hand on the flinty rock,
 and he overturns the mountains by the roots.
¹⁰He cuts out channels among the rocks.
 His eye sees every precious thing.
¹¹He binds the streams that they do not trickle.
 The thing that is hidden he brings forth to light.
¹²“But where shall wisdom be found?
 Where is the place of understanding?
¹³Man doesn’t know its price;
 Neither is it found in the land of the living.
¹⁴The deep says, ‘It isn’t in me.’
 The sea says, ‘It isn’t with me.’
¹⁵It can’t be gotten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for its price.
¹⁶It can’t be valued with the gold of Ophir,
 with the precious onyx, or the sapphire^a.
¹⁷Gold and glass can’t equal it,
 neither shall it be exchanged for jewels of fine gold.
¹⁸No mention shall be made of coral or of crystal.
 Yes, the price of wisdom is above rubies.
¹⁹The topaz of Ethiopia shall not equal it,
 Neither shall it be valued with pure gold.
²⁰From where then comes wisdom?

Where is the place of understanding?
²¹Seeing it is hidden from the eyes of all living,
 and kept close from the birds of the sky.
²²Destruction and Death say,
 ‘We have heard a rumor of it with our ears.’
²³“God understands its way,
 and he knows its place.
²⁴For he looks to the farthest parts of the earth,
 and sees under the whole sky.
²⁵He establishes the force of the wind.
 Yes, he measures out the waters by measure.
²⁶When he made a decree for the rain,
 and a way for the lightning of the thunder;
²⁷then he saw it, and declared it.
 He established it, yes, and searched it out.
²⁸To man he said,
 ‘Look, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom.
 To depart from evil is understanding.’”

29 Job again took up his parable, and said,
²“Oh that I were as in the months of old,
 as in the days when God watched over me;
³when his lamp shone on my head,
 and by his light I walked through darkness, ⁴as I was in the ripeness of my days,
 when the friendship of God was in my tent, ⁵when Shaddai was yet with me,
 and my children were around me, ⁶when my steps were washed with butter,
 and the rock poured out streams of oil for me, ⁷when I went forth to the city gate,
 when I prepared my seat in the street.
⁸The young men saw me and hid themselves.
 The aged rose up and stood.
⁹The princes refrained from talking,
 and laid their hand on their mouth.
¹⁰The voice of the nobles was hushed,
 and their tongue stuck to the roof of their mouth.
¹¹For when the ear heard me, then it blessed me;
 and when the eye saw me, it commended me:
¹²Because I delivered the poor who cried,
 and the fatherless also, who had none to help him, ¹³the blessing of him who was ready to perish came on me,
 and I caused the widow’s heart to sing for joy.
¹⁴I put on righteousness, and it clothed me.
 My justice was as a robe and a diadem.
¹⁵I was eyes to the blind,
 and feet to the lame.
¹⁶I was a father to the needy.
 The cause of him who I did not know, I searched out.
¹⁷I broke the jaws of the unrighteous, and plucked the prey out of his teeth.
¹⁸Then I said, ‘I shall die in my own house,
 I shall number my days as the sand.
¹⁹My root is spread out to the waters.
 The dew lies all night on my branch.
²⁰My glory is fresh in me.
 My bow is renewed in my hand.’
²¹“Men listened to me, waited, and kept silence for my counsel.

^a28:16 Or, lapis lazuli

²²After my words they did not speak again.
 My speech fell on them.
²³They waited for me as for the rain.
 Their mouths drank as with the spring rain.
²⁴I smiled on them when they had no confidence.
 They did not reject the light of my face.
²⁵I chose out their way, and sat as chief.
 I lived as a king in the army,
 as one who comforts the mourners.

30 “But now those who are younger than I have me in derision, whose fathers I would have disdained to put with my sheep dogs.

²Of what use is the strength of their hands to me,
 men in whom ripe age has perished?
³They are gaunt from lack and famine.
 They gnaw the dry ground, in the gloom of waste and desolation.
⁴They pluck salt herbs by the bushes.
 The roots of the broom are their food.
⁵They are driven out from the midst of men.
 They cry after them as after a thief;
⁶So that they dwell in frightful valleys,
 and in holes of the earth and of the rocks.
⁷Among the bushes they bray;
 and under the nettles they are gathered together.
⁸They are children of fools, yes, children of base men.
 They were flogged out of the land.

⁹“Now I have become their song.
 Yes, I am a byword to them.
¹⁰They abhor me, they keep their distance from me,
 and do not hesitate to spit in my face.
¹¹For he has untied his cord, and afflicted me;
 and they have thrown off restraint before me.
¹²On my right hand rise the rabble.
 They thrust aside my feet,
 They cast up against me their ways of destruction.
¹³They mar my path,
 They set forward my calamity,
 without anyone’s help.
¹⁴As through a wide breach they come,
 in the midst of the ruin they roll themselves in.
¹⁵Terrors have turned on me.
 They chase my honor as the wind.
 My welfare has passed away as a cloud.

¹⁶“Now my soul is poured out within me.
 Days of affliction have taken hold on me.
¹⁷In the night season my bones are pierced in me,
 and the pains that gnaw me take no rest.
¹⁸By great force is my garment disfigured.
 It binds me about as the collar of my coat.
¹⁹He has cast me into the mire.
 I have become like dust and ashes.
²⁰I cry to you, and you do not answer me.
 I stand up, and you gaze at me.
²¹You have turned to be cruel to me.
 With the might of your hand you persecute me.
²²You lift me up to the wind, and drive me with it.
 You dissolve me in the storm.
²³For I know that you will bring me to death,
 To the house appointed for all living.

²⁴“However doesn’t one stretch out a hand in his fall?
 Or in his calamity therefore cry for help?
²⁵Did I not weep for him who was in trouble?
 Wasn’t my soul grieved for the needy?
²⁶When I looked for good, then evil came;
 When I waited for light, there came darkness.
²⁷My heart is troubled, and doesn’t rest.
 Days of affliction have come on me.
²⁸I go mourning without the sun.
 I stand up in the assembly, and cry for help.
²⁹I am a brother to jackals, and a companion to ostriches.
³⁰My skin grows black and peels from me.
 My bones are burned with heat.
³¹Therefore my harp has turned to mourning,
 and my pipe into the voice of those who weep.

31 “I made a covenant with my eyes,
 how then should I look lustfully at a young woman?
²For what is the portion from God above, and the heritage from Shaddai on high?

³Is it not calamity for the unrighteous, and disaster for evildoers?
⁴Doesn’t he see my ways,
 and number all my steps?

⁵“If I have walked with falsehood, and my foot has hurried to deceit ⁶(let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know my integrity); ⁷if my step has turned out of the way,
 if my heart walked after my eyes,
 if any defilement has stuck to my hands, ⁸then let me sow, and let another eat.
 Yes, let the produce of my field be rooted out.

⁹“If my heart has been enticed to a woman,
 and I have lain in wait at my neighbor’s door, ¹⁰then let my wife grind for another,
 and let others sleep with her.
¹¹For that would be a heinous crime.
 Yes, it would be an iniquity to be punished by the judges:
¹²For it is a fire that consumes to destruction, and would root out all my increase.

¹³“If I have despised the cause of my male servant
 or of my female servant,
 when they contended with me;
¹⁴What then shall I do when God rises up?
 When he visits, what shall I answer him?
¹⁵Did not he who made me in the womb make him?
 Did not the same one fashion us in the womb?

¹⁶“If I have withheld the poor from their desire,
 or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail, ¹⁷or have eaten my morsel alone,
 and the fatherless has not eaten of it ¹⁸(no, from my youth he grew up with me as with a father, her have I guided from my mother’s womb); ¹⁹if I have seen any perish for want of clothing, or that the needy had no covering; ²⁰if his heart hasn’t blessed me,
 if he hasn’t been warmed with my sheep’s fleece; ²¹if I have lifted up my hand against the fatherless, because I saw my help in the gate,

²²then let my shoulder fall from the shoulder blade,
and my arm be broken from the bone.
²³For calamity from God is a terror to me.
Because his majesty, I can do nothing.

²⁴“If I have made gold my hope, and have said to the fine gold, ‘You are my confidence;’
²⁵If I have rejoiced because my wealth was great,
and because my hand had gotten much; ²⁶if I have seen the sun when it shined,
or the moon moving in splendor, ²⁷and my heart has been secretly enticed,
and my hand threw a kiss from my mouth, ²⁸this also would be an iniquity to be punished by the judges;
for I should have denied the God who is above.

²⁹“If I have rejoiced at the destruction of him who hated me, or lifted up myself when evil found him;
³⁰(yes, I have not allowed my mouth to sin by asking his life with a curse);
³¹if the men of my tent have not said,
‘Who can find one who has not been filled with his meat?’
³²(the foreigner has not lodged in the street, but I have opened my doors to the traveler);
³³if like Adam I have covered my transgressions, by hiding my iniquity in my heart, ³⁴because I feared the great multitude,
and the contempt of families terrified me,
so that I kept silence, and did not go out of the door—³⁵oh that I had one to hear me.
(look, here is my signature, let Shaddai answer me);
let the accuser write my indictment.
³⁶Surely I would carry it on my shoulder;
and I would bind it to me as a crown.
³⁷I would declare to him the number of my steps;
as a prince would I go near to him.
³⁸If my land cries out against me,
and its furrows weep together;
³⁹if I have eaten its fruits without money,
or have caused its owners to lose their life, ⁴⁰let briars grow instead of wheat, and stinkweed instead of barley.”

The words of Job are ended.

32 So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes. ²Then the wrath of Elihu the son of Barakel, the Buzite, of the family of Ram, was kindled against Job. His wrath was kindled because he justified himself rather than God. ³Also his wrath was kindled against his three friends, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job. ⁴Now Elihu had waited to speak to Job, because they were elder than he. ⁵When Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, his wrath was kindled.

⁶Elihu the son of Barakel the Buzite answered,
“I am young, and you are very old;
Therefore I held back, and did not dare show you my opinion.
⁷I said, ‘Days should speak, and multitude of years should teach wisdom.’ ⁸But there is a spirit in man, and the breath of Shaddai gives them understanding.
⁹It is not the great who are wise,
nor the aged who understand justice.
¹⁰Therefore I said, ‘Listen to me;

I also will show my opinion.’

¹¹“Look, I waited for your words, and I listened for your reasoning,
while you searched out what to say.
¹²Yes, I gave you my full attention,
but there was no one who convinced Job,
or who answered his words, among you.
¹³Beware lest you say, ‘We have found wisdom,
God may refute him, not man;’
¹⁴for he has not directed his words against me;
neither will I answer him with your speeches.

¹⁵“They are amazed. They answer no more.
They do not have a word to say.
¹⁶Shall I wait, because they do not speak, because they stand still, and answer no more?
¹⁷I also will answer my part,
and I also will show my opinion.
¹⁸For I am full of words.
The spirit within me constrains me.
¹⁹Look, my breast is as wine which has no vent;
like new wineskins it is ready to burst.
²⁰I will speak, that I may be refreshed.
I will open my lips and answer.
²¹Please do not let me respect any man’s person, neither will I give flattering titles to any man.
²²For I do not know how to give flattering titles;
or else my Maker would soon take me away.

33 “However, Job, Please hear my speech, and listen to all my words.
²See now, I have opened my mouth.
My tongue has spoken in my mouth.
³My words shall utter the uprightness of my heart.
That which my lips know they shall speak sincerely.
⁴The Spirit of God has made me,
and the breath of Shaddai gives me life.
⁵If you can, answer me.
Set your words in order before me, and stand forth.
⁶Look, I am toward God even as you are.
I am also formed out of the clay.
⁷Look, my terror shall not make you afraid, neither shall my pressure be heavy on you.

⁸“Surely you have spoken in my hearing,
I have heard the voice of your words, saying,
⁹I am clean, without disobedience.
I am innocent, neither is there iniquity in me.
¹⁰Look, he finds occasions against me.
He counts me for his enemy.
¹¹He puts my feet in the stocks.
He marks all my paths.’
¹²“Look, I will answer you. In this you are not just, for God is greater than man.
¹³Why do you strive against him, because he doesn’t give account of any of his matters?
¹⁴For God speaks once,
yes twice, though man pays no attention.
¹⁵In a dream, in a vision of the night,
when deep sleep falls on men,
in slumbering on the bed;
¹⁶Then he opens the ears of men,
and seals their instruction,

¹⁷That he may withdraw man from his purpose,
and hide pride from man.
¹⁸He keeps back his soul from the pit,
and his life from perishing by the sword.
¹⁹He is chastened also with pain on his bed,
with continual strife in his bones;
²⁰So that his life abhors bread, and his soul choicest food.
²¹His flesh is so consumed away, that it can't be seen.
His bones that were not seen stick out.
²²Yes, his soul draws near to the pit,
and his life to the destroyers.

²³"If there is beside him an angel, an interpreter, one among a thousand,
to show to man what is right for him;
²⁴then God is gracious to him, and says,
'Deliver him from going down to the pit,
I have found a ransom.'
²⁵His flesh shall be fresher than a child's.
He returns to the days of his youth.
²⁶He prays to God, and he is favorable to him,
so that he sees his face with joy.
He restores to man his righteousness.
²⁷He sings before men, and says,
'I have sinned, and perverted that which was right,
and it did not profit me.
²⁸He has redeemed my soul from going into the pit.
My life shall see the light.'

²⁹"Look, God works all these things, twice, yes three times, with a man, ³⁰to bring back his soul from the pit,
that he may be enlightened with the light of the living.
³¹Mark well, Job, and listen to me.
Hold your peace, and I will speak.
³²If you have anything to say, answer me.
Speak, for I desire to justify you.
³³If not, listen to me.
Hold your peace, and I will teach you wisdom."

34 Moreover Elihu answered,
²"Hear my words, you sages.
Give ear to me, you who have knowledge.
³For the ear tries words,
as the palate tastes food.
⁴Let us choose for us that which is right.
Let us know among ourselves what is good.
⁵For Job has said, 'I am righteous,
God has taken away my right:
⁶Notwithstanding my right I am considered a liar.
My wound is incurable, though I am without disobedience.'
⁷What man is like Job,
who drinks scorn like water, ⁸Who goes in company with evildoers, and walks with wicked men?
⁹For he has said, 'It profits a man nothing that he should delight himself with God.'

¹⁰"Therefore listen to me, you men of understanding:
far be it from God, that he should do wickedness,
from Shaddai, that he should commit iniquity.
¹¹For the work of a man he will render to him,
and cause every man to find according to his ways.
¹²Yes surely, God will not do wickedly, neither will Shaddai pervert justice.

¹³Who put him in charge of the earth?
or who has appointed him over the whole world?
¹⁴If he set his heart on himself,
If he gathered to himself his spirit and his breath, ¹⁵all flesh would perish together,
and man would turn again to dust.

¹⁶"If now you have understanding, hear this.
Listen to the voice of my words.
¹⁷Shall even one who hates justice govern?
Will you condemn him who is righteous and mighty?— ¹⁸Who says to a king, 'Vile.'
or to nobles, 'Wicked.?'
¹⁹Who doesn't respect the persons of princes, nor regards the rich more than the poor;
for they all are the work of his hands.
²⁰In a moment they die, even at midnight.
The people are shaken and pass away.
The mighty are taken away without a hand.

²¹"For his eyes are on the ways of a man.
He sees all his goings.
²²There is no darkness, nor thick gloom,
where evildoers may hide themselves.
²³For he doesn't need to consider a man further,
that he should go before God in judgment.
²⁴He breaks in pieces mighty men in ways past finding out,
and sets others in their place.
²⁵Therefore he takes knowledge of their works.
He overturns them in the night, so that they are destroyed.
²⁶He strikes them as wicked men
in the open sight of others; ²⁷because they turned aside from following him,
and wouldn't pay attention to any of his ways, ²⁸so that they caused the cry of the poor to come to him.
He heard the cry of the afflicted.
²⁹When he gives quietness, who then can condemn?
When he hides his face, who then can see him?
Alike whether to a nation, or to a man, ³⁰that the godless man may not reign,
that there be no one to ensnare the people.

³¹"For has any said to God,
'I am guilty, but I will not offend any more.
³²Teach me that which I do not see.
If I have done iniquity, I will do it no more?'
³³Shall his recompense be as you desire, that you refuse it?
For you must choose, and not I.
Therefore speak what you know.
³⁴Men of understanding will tell me,
yes, every wise man who hears me:
³⁵'Job speaks without knowledge.
His words are without wisdom.'
³⁶I wish that Job were tried to the end, because of his answering like wicked men.
³⁷For he adds rebellion to his sin.
He claps his hands among us,
and multiplies his words against God."

35 Moreover Elihu answered,
²"Do you think this to be your right, or do you say, 'My righteousness is more than God's,'
³That you ask, 'What advantage will it be to you?'"

What profit shall I have, more than if I had sinned?
⁴I will answer you,
 and your companions with you.
⁵Look to the heavens, and see.
 See the skies, which are higher than you.
⁶If you have sinned, what effect do you have against him?
 If your transgressions are multiplied, what do you do to him?
⁷If you are righteous, what do you give him?
 Or what does he receive from your hand?
⁸Your wickedness may hurt a man as you are,
 and your righteousness may profit a son of man.
⁹“By reason of the multitude of oppressions they cry out.
 They cry for help by reason of the arm of the mighty.
¹⁰But none says, ‘Where is God my Maker, who gives songs in the night, ¹¹who teaches us more than the animals of the earth, and makes us wiser than the birds of the sky?’
¹²There they cry, but none gives answer, because of the pride of evil men.
¹³Surely God will not hear an empty cry, neither will Shaddai regard it.
¹⁴How much less when you say you do not see him.
 The cause is before him, and you wait for him.
¹⁵But now, because he has not visited in his anger,
 neither does he greatly regard arrogance.
¹⁶Therefore Job opens his mouth with empty talk,
 and he multiplies words without knowledge.”

36 Elihu also continued, and said,
²“Bear with me a little, and I will show you;
 for I still have something to say on God’s behalf.

³I will get my knowledge from afar,
 and will ascribe righteousness to my Maker.
⁴For truly my words are not false.
 One who is perfect in knowledge is with you.
⁵“Look, God is mighty, and doesn’t despise anyone.
 He is mighty in strength of understanding.
⁶He doesn’t preserve the life of the wicked,
 but gives to the afflicted their right.
⁷He doesn’t withdraw his eyes from the righteous,
 but with kings on the throne,
 he sets them forever, and they are exalted.
⁸If they are bound in fetters,
 and are taken in the cords of afflictions, ⁹then he shows them their work,
 and their transgressions, that they have behaved themselves proudly.
¹⁰He also opens their ears to instruction, and commands that they return from iniquity.
¹¹If they listen and serve him,
 they shall spend their days in prosperity,
 and their years in pleasures.
¹²But if they do not listen, they shall perish by the sword;
 they shall die without knowledge.
¹³“But those who are godless in heart lay up anger.
 They do not cry for help when he binds them.
¹⁴They die in youth.
 Their life perishes among the unclean.
¹⁵He delivers the afflicted by their affliction, and opens their ear in oppression.
¹⁶Yes, he would have allured you out of distress, into a broad place, where there is no restriction.

That which is set on your table would be full of fatness.

¹⁷“But you are full of the judgment of the wicked.
 Judgment and justice take hold of you.
¹⁸Do not let riches entice you to wrath, neither let the great size of a bribe turn you aside.
¹⁹Would your wealth sustain you in distress, or all the might of your strength?
²⁰Do not desire the night,
 when people are cut off in their place.
²¹Take heed, do not regard iniquity;
 for you have chosen this rather than affliction.
²²Look, God is exalted in his power.
 Who is a teacher like him?
²³Who has prescribed his way for him?
 Or who can say, ‘You have committed unrighteousness?’
²⁴“Remember that you magnify his work, whereof men have sung.
²⁵All men have looked thereon.
 Man sees it afar off.
²⁶Look, God is great, and we do not know him.
 The number of his years is unsearchable.
²⁷For he draws up the drops of water, which distill in rain from his vapor, ²⁸Which the skies pour down and which drop on humankind abundantly.
²⁹Yes, can any understand the spreading of the clouds, and the thunderings of his pavilion?
³⁰Look, he spreads his light around him.
 He covers the bottom of the sea.
³¹For by these he judges the people.
 He gives food in abundance.
³²He covers his hands with the lightning, and commands it to strike the mark.
³³Its noise tells about him,
 and the livestock also concerning the storm that comes up.

37 “Yes, at this my heart trembles, and is moved out of its place.
²Hear, oh, hear the noise of his voice,
 the sound that goes out of his mouth.
³He sends it forth under the whole sky,
 and his lightning to the farthest parts of the earth.
⁴After it a voice roars.
 He thunders with the voice of his majesty.
 He doesn’t hold back anything when his voice is heard.
⁵God thunders marvelously with his voice.
 He does great things, which we can’t comprehend.
⁶For he says to the snow, ‘Fall on the earth;’
 likewise to the shower of rain, and to the showers of his mighty rain.
⁷He seals up the hand of every man, that all men whom he has made may know it.
⁸Then the animals take cover,
 and remain in their dens.
⁹Out of its chamber comes the storm,
 and cold out of the north.
¹⁰By the breath of God, ice is given,
 and the breadth of the waters is frozen.
¹¹Yes, he loads the thick cloud with moisture.
 He spreads abroad the cloud of his lightning.
¹²It is turned around by his guidance, that they may do whatever he commands them on the surface of the habitable world,

¹³Whether it is for correction, or for his land, or for loving kindness, that he causes it to come.

¹⁴“Listen to this, Job.

Stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God.

¹⁵Do you know how God controls them,
and causes the lightning of his cloud to shine?

¹⁶Do you know the workings of the clouds,
the wondrous works of him who is perfect in knowledge?

¹⁷You whose clothing is warm, when the earth is still by reason of the south wind?

¹⁸Can you, with him, spread out the sky,
which is strong as a cast metal mirror?

¹⁹Teach us what we shall tell him,
for we can’t make our case by reason of darkness.

²⁰Shall it be told him that I would speak?
Or should a man wish that he were swallowed up?

²¹Now men do not see the light which is bright in the skies, but the wind passes, and clears them.

²²Out of the north comes golden splendor.
With God is awesome majesty.

²³We can’t reach Shaddai.
He is exalted in power.
In justice and great righteousness, he will not oppress.

²⁴Therefore men revere him.
He doesn’t regard any who are wise of heart.”

38 Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, ²“Who is this who darkens counsel by words without knowledge?”

³Brace yourself like a man, for I will question you, then you answer me.

⁴“Where were you when I laid the foundations of the earth?
Declare, if you have understanding.

⁵Who determined its measures, if you know?
Or who stretched the line on it?

⁶Whereupon were its foundations fastened?
Or who laid its cornerstone,

⁷when the morning stars sang together,
and all the sons of God shouted for joy?

⁸“Or who shut up the sea with doors,
when it broke forth from the womb,

⁹when I made clouds its garment, and wrapped it in thick darkness,

¹⁰marked out for it my bound,
set bars and doors,

¹¹and said, ‘Here you may come, but no further.
Here your proud waves shall be stayed?’

¹²“Have you commanded the morning in your days,
and caused the dawn to know its place;

¹³that it might take hold of the farthest parts of the earth, and shake the wicked out of it?

¹⁴It is changed as clay under the seal,
and stands forth as a garment.

¹⁵From the wicked, their light is withheld.
The high arm is broken.

¹⁶“Have you entered into the springs of the sea?
Or have you walked in the recesses of the deep?”

¹⁷Have the gates of death been revealed to you?
Or have you seen the gates of the shadow of death?

¹⁸Have you comprehended the earth in its breadth?
Declare, if you know it all.

¹⁹“What is the way to the dwelling of light?
As for darkness, where is its place,

²⁰that you should take it to its bound,
that you should discern the paths to its house?

²¹Surely you know, for you were born then,
and the number of your days is great.

²²Have you entered the treasures of the snow,
or have you seen the treasures of the hail,

²³which I have reserved against the time of trouble, against the day of battle and war?

²⁴By what way is the lightning distributed,
or the east wind scattered on the earth?

²⁵Who has cut a channel for the flood water, or the path for the thunderstorm;

²⁶To cause it to rain on a land where no man is;
on the wilderness, in which there is no man;

²⁷to satisfy the waste and desolate ground, to cause the tender grass to spring forth?

²⁸Does the rain have a father?
Or who fathers the drops of dew?

²⁹Out of whose womb came the ice?
The gray frost of the sky, who has given birth to it?

³⁰The waters become hard like stone,
when the surface of the deep is frozen.

³¹“Can you fasten the chains of Kimah, or loosen the cords of Kesil?^a ³²Can you lead forth the Mazzaroth in their season?

Or can you lead Aysh with her children?^b

³³Do you know the laws of the heavens?
Can you establish its dominion over the earth?

³⁴“Can you lift up your voice to the clouds,
That abundance of waters may cover you?

³⁵Can you send forth lightnings, that they may go?
Do they report to you, ‘Here we are?’

³⁶Who has put wisdom in the inward parts?
Or who has given understanding to the mind?

³⁷Who can number the clouds by wisdom?
Or who can pour out the bottles of the sky,

³⁸when the dust runs into a mass,
and the clods of earth stick together?

³⁹“Can you hunt the prey for the lioness, or satisfy the appetite of the young lions,

⁴⁰when they crouch in their dens,
and lie in wait in the thicket?

⁴¹Who provides for the raven his prey, when his young ones cry to God,
and wander for lack of food?

39 “Do you know the time when the mountain goats give birth?
Do you watch when the doe bears fawns?

²Can you number the months that they fulfill?
Or do you know the time when they give birth?

³They bow themselves, they bring forth their young,

^a38:31 Or, “chains of the Pleiades, or loosen the cords of Orion?”

^b38:31 Or, “lead the Bear with her cubs?”

they end their labor pains.
⁴Their young ones become strong.
 They grow up in the open field.
 They go forth, and do not return again.

⁵“Who has set the wild donkey free?
 Or who has loosened the bonds of the swift donkey, ⁶Whose home I have made the wilderness,
 and the salt land his dwelling place?
⁷He scorns the tumult of the city,
 neither does he hear the shouting of the driver.
⁸The range of the mountains is his pasture,
 He searches after every green thing.

⁹“Will the wild ox be content to serve you?
 Or will he stay by your feeding trough?
¹⁰Can you hold the wild ox in the furrow with his harness?
 Or will he till the valleys after you?
¹¹Will you trust him, because his strength is great?
 Or will you leave to him your labor?
¹²Will you have faith in him, that he will bring in^a your grain, and gather it to your threshing floor?

¹³“The wings of the ostrich wave proudly;
 but are they the feathers and plumage of love?
¹⁴For she leaves her eggs on the earth,
 warms them in the dust, ¹⁵and forgets that the foot may crush them,
 or that the wild animal may trample them.
¹⁶She deals harshly with her young ones, as if they were not hers.
 Though her labor is in vain, she is without fear, ¹⁷because God has deprived her of wisdom,
 neither has he imparted to her understanding.
¹⁸When she lifts up herself on high,
 she scorns the horse and his rider.

¹⁹“Have you given the horse might?
 Have you clothed his neck with a quivering mane?
²⁰Have you made him to leap as a locust?
 The glory of his snorting is awesome.
²¹He paws in the valley, and rejoices in his strength.
 He goes out to meet the armed men.
²²He mocks at fear, and is not dismayed, neither does he turn back from the sword.
²³The quiver rattles against him,
 the flashing spear and the javelin.
²⁴He eats up the ground with fierceness and rage, neither does he stand still at the sound of the trumpet.
²⁵As often as the trumpet sounds he snorts, ‘Aha.’
 He smells the battle afar off,
 the thunder of the captains, and the shouting.

²⁶“Is it by your wisdom that the hawk soars, and stretches her wings toward the south?
²⁷Is it at your command that the eagle mounts up,
 and makes his nest on high?
²⁸On the cliff he dwells, and makes his home,
 on the point of the cliff, and the stronghold.
²⁹From there he spies out the prey.
 His eyes see it afar off.
³⁰His young ones also suck up blood.
 Where the slain are, there he is.”

Moreover the LORD answered Job,
²“Shall he who argues contend with Shaddai?
40 He who argues with God, let him answer it.”

³Then Job answered the LORD,
⁴“Look, I am of small account. What shall I answer you?
 I lay my hand on my mouth.
⁵I have spoken once, and I will not answer;
 Yes, twice, but I will proceed no further.”

⁶Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, ⁷“Now brace yourself like a man.
 I will question you, and you will answer me.
⁸Will you even annul my judgment?
 Will you condemn me, that you may be justified?
⁹Or do you have an arm like God?
 Can you thunder with a voice like him?

¹⁰“Now deck yourself with excellency and dignity.
 Array yourself with honor and majesty.
¹¹Pour out the fury of your anger.
 Look at everyone who is proud, and bring him low.
¹²Look at everyone who is proud, and humble him.
 Crush the wicked in their place.
¹³Hide them in the dust together.
 Bind their faces in the hidden place.
¹⁴Then I will also admit to you that your own right hand can save you.

¹⁵“Look now at the sauropod, which I made as well as you.
 He eats grass as an ox.
¹⁶Look now, his strength is in his thighs.
 His force is in the muscles of his belly.
¹⁷He moves his tail like a cedar.
 The sinews of his thighs are knit together.
¹⁸His bones are like tubes of bronze.
 His limbs are like bars of iron.
¹⁹He is the chief of the ways of God.
 He who made him gives him his sword.
²⁰Surely the mountains produce food for him,
 where all the animals of the field play.
²¹He lies under the lotus trees,
 in the covert of the reed, and the marsh.
²²The lotuses cover him with their shade.
 The willows of the brook surround him.
²³Look, if a river overflows, he doesn’t tremble.
 He is confident, though the Jordan swells even to his mouth.
²⁴Shall any take him when he is on the watch, or pierce through his nose with a snare?

41 “Can you draw out Deinosuchus with a fishhook, or press down his tongue with a cord?
²Can you put a rope into his nose, or pierce his jaw through with a hook?
³Will he make many petitions to you,
 or will he speak soft words to you?
⁴Will he make a covenant with you,
 that you should take him for a servant forever?
⁵Will you play with him as with a bird?
 Or will you bind him for your girls?”

^a39:12 MT Qere. MT Kethib “will return,” an apparent waw-yod confusion ⁶Will traders barter for him?

 Will they part him among the merchants?
⁷Can you fill his skin with barbed irons, or his head with fish spears?
⁸Lay your hand on him.
 Remember the battle, and do so no more.
⁹Look, the hope of him is in vain.
 Won't one be cast down even at the sight of him?
¹⁰None is so fierce that he dare stir him up.
 Who then is he who can stand before me?
¹¹Who has confronted me, that I should repay?
 Everything under the heavens is mine.
¹²"I will not keep silence concerning his limbs,
 nor his mighty strength, nor his goodly frame.
¹³Who can strip off his outer garment?
 Who shall come within his jaws?
¹⁴Who can open the doors of his face?
 Around his teeth is terror.
¹⁵Strong scales are his pride, shut up together with a close seal.
¹⁶One is so near to another,
 that no air can come between them.
¹⁷They are joined one to another.
 They stick together, so that they can't be pulled apart.
¹⁸His sneezing flashes out light.
 His eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.
¹⁹Out of his mouth go burning torches.
 Sparks of fire leap forth.
²⁰Out of his nostrils a smoke goes,
 as of a boiling pot over a fire of reeds.
²¹His breath kindles coals.
 A flame goes forth from his mouth.
²²There is strength in his neck.
 Terror dances before him.
²³The flakes of his flesh are joined together.
 They are firm on him.
 They can't be moved.
²⁴His heart is as firm as a stone,
 yes, firm as the lower millstone.
²⁵When he raises himself up, the mighty are afraid.
 They retreat before his thrashing.
²⁶If one attacks him with the sword, it can't prevail;
 nor the spear, the dart, nor the pointed shaft.
²⁷He counts iron as straw;
 and bronze as rotten wood.
²⁸The arrow can't make him flee.
 Sling stones are like chaff to him.
²⁹Clubs are counted as stubble.
 He laughs at the rushing of the javelin.
³⁰His undersides are like sharp potsherds, leaving a trail in the mud like a threshing sledge.
³¹He makes the deep to boil like a pot.
 He makes the sea like a pot of ointment.
³²He makes a path shine after him.
 One would think the deep had white hair.
³³On earth there is not his equal,
 that is made without fear.
³⁴He sees everything that is high.
 He is king over all the sons of pride."

Then Job answered the LORD, 42²"I know that you can do all things,
 and that no purpose of yours can be restrained.
³You asked, 'Who is this who hides counsel without knowledge?'
 therefore I have uttered that which I did not understand, things too wonderful for me, which I did not know.
⁴You said, 'Listen, now, and I will speak;
 I will question you, and you will answer me.'
⁵I had heard of you by the hearing of the ear, but now my eye sees you.
⁶Therefore I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes."

⁷It was so, that after the LORD had spoken these words to Job, the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite, "My wrath is kindled against you, and against your two friends; for you have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job has. ⁸Now therefore, take to yourselves seven bulls and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you, for I will accept him, that I not deal with you according to your folly. For you have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job has."

⁹So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did what the LORD commanded them, and the LORD accepted Job.

¹⁰The LORD turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends. The LORD gave Job twice as much as he had before. ¹¹Then came there to him all his brothers, and all his sisters, and all those who had been of his acquaintance before, and ate bread with him in his house. They comforted him, and consoled him concerning all the evil that the LORD had permitted^a on him. And each of them gave him a kesitah and a gold ring.

¹²So the LORD blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning. He had fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, one thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand female donkeys. ¹³He had also seven sons and three daughters. ¹⁴He called the name of the first, Jemimah; and the name of the second, Keziah; and the name of the third, Keren Happuch. ¹⁵In all the land were no women found so beautiful as the daughters of Job. Their father gave them an inheritance among their brothers. ¹⁶After this Job lived one hundred forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, to four generations.
¹⁷So Job died, being old and full of days.

The Psalms

BOOK I

^a42:11 BDB 1053 "2. allow to come... Est 5:12."; Hol 975 "2. let come."

Psalm 1

¹Blessed is the one^a who doesn't follow the advice^b of the wicked, or take^c the path of sinners,
 or join in^d with scoffers.
²But his delight is in the law of the LORD,
 and on his law he meditates day and night.
³And he is like a tree planted by flowing streams, that brings forth its fruit in its season,
 and its leaf does not wither,
 and whatever he does shall prosper.
⁴Not so with the wicked;^e instead, they are like the chaff which the wind drives away from the surface of the ground.^f ⁵Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.
⁶For the LORD knows the way of the righteous,
 but the way of the wicked shall perish.

Psalm 2

¹Why do the nations rage,
 and the peoples plot in vain?
²The kings of the earth take a stand,
 and the rulers take counsel together,
 against the LORD, and against his Anointed One:^g ³"Let's tear off their shackles, and throw off their ropes from us."
⁴The one who sits in the heavens laughs.
 The LORD^h scoffs at them.
⁵Then he will speak to them in his anger,
 and terrify them in his wrath:
⁶"But I myself have installed my king on Zion, my holy mountain."
⁷I will tell of the decree.ⁱ
 The LORD said to me, "You are my son.
 Today I have become your father.^j ⁸Ask of me, and I will give the nations as your inheritance, and the farthest parts of the earth for your possession.
⁹You shall rule^k them with an iron scepter.
 You shall dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel."^l ¹⁰Now therefore, you kings, be wise; receive correction, you judges of the earth.
¹¹Serve the LORD with fear, and rejoice with trembling.
¹²Do homage in purity,^m lest he be angry, and you perish in the way, for his wrath will soon be kindled.
 Blessed are all those who take refuge in him.

Psalm 5

For the Chief Musician, with the flutes. A Psalm by David.

- ¹Listen to my words, LORD.
Consider my meditation.
- ²Give attention to the voice of my cry, my King and my God;
for to you do I pray.
- ³LORD, in the morning you shall hear my voice.
In the morning I will lay my requests before you, and watch.
- ⁴For you are not a God who desires wickedness.
Evil can't live with you.
- ⁵The arrogant shall not stand in your sight.
You hate all evildoers.
- ⁶You will destroy those who speak lies.
The LORD despises a person of bloodshed and deceit.
- ⁷But as for me, in the abundance of your loving kindness I will enter into your house.
I will bow toward your holy temple in reverence of you.
- ⁸Lead me, LORD, in your righteousness because of my enemies.
Make your way straight before me.
- ⁹For there is nothing reliable in their^a mouth.
Their heart is destruction.
Their throat is an open tomb;
with their tongues they flatter.^b
- ¹⁰Hold them guilty, God.
Let them fall by their own counsels.
Cast them out because of the multitude of their transgressions, for they have rebelled against you.
- ¹¹But let all those who take refuge in you rejoice.
Let them always shout for joy, because you defend them.
And let those who love your name be joyful in you.
- ¹²For you bless the righteous, LORD. You surround him with favor like a shield.

LORD, heal me, for my bones are trembling.

But you, LORD, how long?
- ⁴Return, LORD. Deliver my soul.
Save me because of your lovingkindness.

Psalm 7

A meditation by David, which he sang to the LORD, concerning the words of Cush, the Benjamite.

- ¹LORD, my God, I take refuge in you.
Save me from all those who pursue me, and deliver me,

- ⁶Arise, LORD, in your anger.
Lift up yourself against the rage of my adversaries.^d
Awake, my God;^e you have appointed judgment.
⁷And let the congregation of the peoples surround you,
and rule over them on high.
- ⁸The LORD administers judgment to the peoples.
Judge me, LORD, according to my righteousness,
and to my integrity that is in me.
- ⁹Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end,
but establish the righteous;
their minds and hearts are searched by the righteous God.
- ¹⁰My shield is with God,
who saves the upright in heart.

Psalm 18

For the Chief Musician. By David the servant of the LORD, who spoke to the LORD the words of this song in the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul. He said, ¹I love you, LORD, my strength.

²The LORD is my Rock, my fortress, and my deliverer;
 my God, my Rock, in whom I take refuge;
 my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower.
³I call on the LORD, who is worthy to be praised;
 and I am saved from my enemies.
⁴The waves^f of death surrounded me,
 and the currents of ungodliness overwhelmed me.
⁵The cords of Sheol were around me.
 The snares of death came on me.
⁶In my distress I called upon the LORD,
 and cried out to my God.
 He heard my voice out of his temple,
 and my cry before him came into his ears.
⁷Then the earth shook and trembled.
 The foundations also of the mountains quaked and were shaken,
 because he was angry.
⁸Smoke went out of his nostrils.
 Consuming fire came out of his mouth.
 Coals were kindled by it.
⁹He bowed the heavens also, and came down.
 Thick darkness was under his feet.
¹⁰He rode on a cherub, and flew.
 Yes, he soared on the wings of the wind.
¹¹He made darkness his hiding place,
 his canopy around him thick clouds dark with water.
¹²From the brightness before him his thick clouds passed on,
 with hailstones and coals of fire.
¹³The LORD also thundered in the sky.
 The Most High uttered his voice.^g ¹⁴And he sent out arrows^h and scattered them, and he shot lightning bolts and routed them.
¹⁵And the depths of the seaⁱ appeared.
 The foundations of the world were laid bare at your rebuke,
 LORD,
 at the blast of the breath of your nostrils.
¹⁶He sent from on high.
 He took me.
 He drew me out of many waters.
¹⁷He delivered me from my strong enemy, from those who hated me; for they were too mighty for me.
¹⁸They came on me in the day of my calamity,
 but the LORD was my support.
¹⁹He brought me forth also into a large place.

Psalm 29

A Psalm by David.

¹Ascribe to the LORD, you sons of the mighty,^c
ascribe to the LORD glory and strength.
²Ascribe to the LORD the glory due to his name.
Worship the LORD in holy array.

³The voice of the LORD is on the waters.
The God of glory^d thunders, even the LORD on many waters.
⁴The voice of the LORD is powerful.
The voice of the LORD is full of majesty.
⁵The voice of the LORD breaks the cedars.
Yes, the LORD breaks in pieces the cedars of Lebanon.
⁶He makes them also to skip like a calf;
Lebanon and Sirion like a young, wild ox.^e ⁷The voice of the LORD strikes with flashes of lightning.
⁸The voice of the LORD shakes the wilderness.
The LORD shakes the wilderness of Kadesh.
⁹The voice of the LORD makes the large trees^f tremble, and strips the forests bare.
In his temple everything says, "Glory."

¹⁰The LORD sat enthroned at the Flood.
Yes, the LORD sits as King forever.

Psalm 30

A Psalm. A Song for the Dedication of the Temple. By David.

¹I will extol you, LORD, for you have raised me up,
and have not made my foes to rejoice over me.
²LORD my God, I cried to you,
and you have healed me.
³LORD, you have brought up my soul from Sheol.
You have kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit.
⁴Sing praise to the LORD, you his faithful ones.
Give thanks to his holy name.
⁵For his anger is but for a moment.
His favor is for a lifetime.
Weeping may stay for the night,
but joy comes in the morning.
⁶As for me, I said in my prosperity,
“I shall never be moved.”
⁷You, LORD, when you favored me, made my mountain stand strong;
but when you hid your face, I was troubled.
⁸I cried to you, LORD.
To the Lord I made petition:
⁹“What profit is there in my destruction, if I go down to the pit?
Shall the dust praise you?
Shall it declare your truth?
¹⁰Hear, LORD, and have mercy on me.
LORD, be my helper.”
¹¹You have turned my mourning into dancing for me.
You have removed my sackcloth, and clothed me with gladness, ¹²To the end that my heart may sing praise to you, and not be silent.
LORD my God, I will give thanks to you forever.

Psalm 31

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

¹In you, LORD, I take refuge.
Let me never be disappointed.
Deliver me in your righteousness.
²Bow down your ear to me.
Deliver me speedily.
Be to me a strong rock,
a house of defense to save me.
³For you are my rock and my fortress,
therefore for your name’s sake lead me and guide me.
⁴Pluck me out of the net that they have laid secretly for me,
for you are my stronghold.
⁵Into your hands I commit my spirit.
You redeem me, LORD, God of truth.^a ⁶I hate those who regard lying vanities, but I trust in the LORD.
⁷I will be glad and rejoice in your loving kindness,
for you have seen my affliction.
You have known my soul in adversities.

⁸You have not shut me up into the hand of the enemy.
You have set my feet in a large place.
⁹Have mercy on me, LORD, for I am in distress.
My eye, my soul, and my body waste away with grief.
¹⁰For my life is spent with sorrow,
my years with sighing.
My strength fails because of my affliction,^b and my bones waste away.
¹¹Because of all my adversaries I have become utterly contemptible to my neighbors,
A fear to my acquaintances.
Those who saw me on the street fled from me.
¹²I am forgotten from their hearts like a dead man.
I am like broken pottery.
¹³For I have heard the slander of many, terror on every side, while they conspire together against me,
they plot to take away my life.
¹⁴But I trust in you, LORD.
I said, “You are my God.”
¹⁵My times are in your hand.
Deliver me from the hand of my enemies, and from those who persecute me.
¹⁶Make your face to shine on your servant.
Save me in your loving kindness.
¹⁷Let me not be disappointed, LORD, for I have called on you.
Let the wicked be disappointed.
Let them be silent in Sheol.
¹⁸Let the lying lips be mute, which speak against the righteous insolently, with pride and contempt.
¹⁹Oh how great is your goodness,^c which you have stored up for those who fear you,
which you have worked for those who take refuge in you,
before the descendants of Adam.
²⁰In the shelter of your presence you will hide them from the plotting of man.
You will keep them secretly in a dwelling away from the strife of tongues.
²¹Praise be to the LORD, for he has shown me his marvelous loving kindness in a besieged city.
²²As for me, I said in my haste, “I am cut off from before your eyes.”
Nevertheless you heard the voice of my petitions when I cried to you.
²³Oh love the LORD, all you his faithful ones.
The LORD preserves the faithful, and fully recompenses him who behaves arrogantly.
²⁴Be strong, and let your heart take courage, all you who hope in the LORD.

 and he will not surrender him to the will of his enemies.
³The LORD will sustain him on his sickbed, and restore him from his bed of illness.
⁴I said, “LORD, have mercy on me.
 Heal me, for I have sinned against you.”
⁵My enemies speak evil against me:
 “When will he die, and his name perish?”
⁶If he comes to see me, he speaks falsehood.
 His heart gathers iniquity to itself.
 When he goes abroad, he tells it.
⁷All who hate me whisper together against me.
 They imagine the worst for me.
⁸“A wicked thing is poured out on him; and he who lies down will not rise again.”
⁹Even my own close friend, in whom I trusted, who ate my bread,
 has lifted up his heel against me.^b

^a41:1 LXX Tg. MT lacks “and needy” from sight confusion in Paleo-Hebrew: bywn-bywm

^b41:9 John 13:18

¹⁰But you, LORD, have mercy on me, and raise me up, that I may repay them.
¹¹By this I know that you delight in me,
 because my enemy doesn’t triumph over me.
¹²As for me, you uphold me in my integrity, and set me in your presence forever.
¹³Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, from everlasting and to everlasting.
 Amen and amen.

BOOK II

Psalm 42

For the Chief Musician. A contemplation by the sons of Korah.

¹As the deer pants for the water brooks,
 so my soul pants after you, God.
²My soul thirsts for God, for the living God.
 When shall I come and appear before God?
³My tears have been my food day and night,
 while they continually ask me, “Where is your God?”
⁴These things I remember, and pour out my soul within me, how I used to go in the tent of the Majestic One,^c to the house of God,
 with the voice of joy and praise, a multitude keeping a holy day.
⁵Why are you in despair, my soul?
 Why are you disturbed within me? Hope in God. For I will again give him thanks, my saving presence and my God.^d
⁶My soul is in despair within me.
 Therefore I remember you from the land of the Jordan,
 the heights of Hermon, from the hill Mizar.
⁷Deep calls to deep at the noise of your waterfalls.
 All your breakers and waves have swept over me.
⁸The LORD will command his loving kindness in the daytime.
 In the night his song shall be with me:
 a prayer to the God of my life.
⁹I will ask God, my Rock, “Why have you forgotten me?
 Why do I go mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?”
¹⁰As with a sword in my bones, my adversaries taunt me,
 while they continually ask me, “Where is your God?”
¹¹Why are you in despair, my soul?
 Why are you disturbed within me?
 Hope in God. For I will again give him thanks,
 my saving presence and my God.

^c42:4 Or, “tent of the Mighty One.” Cf. LXX Syr Vg. MT reads “go with the throng I was walking with”

^d42:5 Hebrew Mss LXX Syr. MT is divided differently, placing “my God” at the beginning of the next verse

Psalm 43

¹Vindicate me, God, and plead my cause against a faithless nation.
 Oh, deliver me from the deceitful and unjust man.
²For you, God, are my strength.^a Why have you rejected me?
 Why do I go mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?
³Oh, send out your light and your truth.
 Let them lead me.
 Let them bring me to your holy mountain,
 To your tents.
⁴Then I will go to the altar of God,
 to God, my exceeding joy.
 I will praise you on the harp, God, my God.
⁵Why are you in despair, my soul?
 Why are you disturbed within me?
 Hope in God.
 For I will again give him thanks,
 my saving presence and my God.

Psalm 44

For the Chief Musician. By the sons of Korah. A contemplative
 psalm.

¹We have heard with our ears, God;
 our fathers have told us,
 what work you did in their days,
 in the days of old.
²You drove out the nations with your hand,
 but you planted them.
 You afflicted the peoples,
 but you spread them abroad.
³For they did not get the land in possession by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them;
 but your right hand, and your arm, and the light of your face,
 because you were favorable to them.
⁴You are my King, my God, who commands^b victories for Jacob.
⁵Through you we will push back our adversaries.
 Through your name we will trample down those who rise up against us.
⁶For I will not trust in my bow,
 neither shall my sword save me.
⁷But you have saved us from our adversaries, and have shamed those who hate us.
⁸In God we have made our boast all day long,
 we will give thanks to your name forever.

Selah.

⁹But now you rejected us, and brought us to dishonor, and do not go out with our armies.
¹⁰You make us turn back from the adversary.
 Those who hate us take spoil for themselves.
¹¹You have made us like sheep for food,
 and have scattered us among the nations.
¹²You sell your people for nothing,

^a43:2 Cf. LXX Tg Heir and BHS: Elohim Uzzi. MT has a different word division (Elohe Mauzi)

^b44:4 LXX Aquila Syr. MT has a different word division, and reads “my King, God. Command”

and have gained nothing from their sale.
¹³You make us the taunt of our neighbors,
 a scoffing and a derision to those who are around us.
¹⁴You make us a byword among the nations,
 a shaking of the head among the peoples.
¹⁵All day long my dishonor is before me,
 and shame covers my face, ¹⁶At the taunt of one who reproaches and verbally abuses, because of the enemy and the avenger.
¹⁷All this has come on us,
 yet have we not forgotten you,
 Neither have we been false to your covenant.
¹⁸Our heart has not turned back,
 neither have our steps strayed from your path, ¹⁹Though you have crushed us in the haunt of jackals,
 and covered us with the shadow of death.
²⁰If we have forgotten the name of our God,
 or spread forth our hands to a strange god;
²¹won't God search this out?
 For he knows the secrets of the heart.

²²For your sake we are killed all day long. We are regarded as sheep to be slaughtered.^c

²³Wake up.
 Why do you sleep, Lord?
 Arise.
 Do not reject us forever.
²⁴Why do you hide your face, and forget our affliction and our oppression?
²⁵For our soul is bowed down to the dust.
 Our body cleaves to the earth.
²⁶Rise up to help us.
 Redeem us for your loving kindness' sake.

Psalm 45

For the Chief Musician. Set to “The Lilies.” A contemplation by the sons of Korah. A wedding song.

¹My heart overflows with a noble theme.
 I recite my verses for the king.
 My tongue is like the pen of a skillful writer.
²You are the most handsome^d of the sons of men.
 Grace has anointed your lips,
 therefore God has blessed you forever.
³Gird your sword on your thigh, mighty one:
 your splendor and your majesty.
⁴In your majesty ride on victoriously on behalf of truth, humility, and righteousness.
 Let your right hand display awesome deeds.
⁵Your arrows are sharp.
 The nations fall under you, with arrows in the heart of the king's enemies.
⁶Your throne, God, is forever and ever.
 A scepter of equity is the scepter of your kingdom.
⁷You have loved righteousness, and hated wickedness.
 Therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness above your companions.^e ⁸All your garments smell like myrrh and aloes and^f cassia.

Out of ivory palaces stringed instruments have made you glad.
⁹Kings' daughters are among your honorable women.
 At your right hand the queen stands in gold of Ophir.
¹⁰Listen, daughter, consider, and turn your ear.
 Forget your own people, and also your father's house.
¹¹So the king will desire your beauty, honor him, for he is your lord.
¹²The daughter of Tyre comes with a gift.
 The rich among the people will seek your favor.
¹³The princess inside is all glorious.
 Her clothing is interwoven with gold.
¹⁴She shall be led to the king in embroidered work.
 The virgins, her companions who follow her, shall be brought
 to you.
¹⁵With gladness and rejoicing they shall be led.
 They shall enter into the king's palace.
¹⁶Your sons will take the place of your fathers.
 You shall make them princes in all the earth.
¹⁷I will make your name to be remembered in all generations.
 Therefore the peoples shall give you thanks forever and ever.

Psalm 46

For the Chief Musician. By the sons of Korah. According to Alamo^a.

¹God is our refuge and strength,
 a very present help in trouble.
²Therefore we won't be afraid, though the earth changes, though the mountains are shaken into the heart of the seas; ³though its waters roar and are troubled, though the mountains tremble with their swelling.
 Selah.
⁴There is a river, the streams of which make the city of God glad,
 the holy place of the tents of the Most High.
⁵God is in her midst. She shall not be moved.
 God will help her at dawn.
⁶The nations raged. The kingdoms were moved.
 He lifted his voice, and the earth melted.
⁷The LORD of hosts is with us.
 The God of Jacob is our refuge.
 Selah.
⁸Come, see the LORD's works,
 what desolations he has made in the earth.
⁹He makes wars cease throughout the earth.
 He breaks the bow, and shatters the spear.
 He burns the chariots in the fire.
¹⁰"Be still, and know that I am God.
 I will be exalted among the nations.
 I will be exalted in the earth."
¹¹The LORD of hosts is with us.
 The God of Jacob is our refuge.
 Selah.

Psalm 47

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.

¹Oh clap your hands, all you nations.

^a46:0 Alamo^a is a musical term

Shout to God with the voice of triumph.
²For the LORD Most High is awesome.
 He is a great King over all the earth.
³He subdues nations under us,
 and peoples under our feet.
⁴He chooses our inheritance for us,
 the glory of Jacob whom he loved.
 Selah.
⁵God has gone up with a shout,
 the LORD with the sound of a trumpet.
⁶Sing praise to God, sing praises.
 Sing praises to our King, sing praises.
⁷For God is the King of all the earth.
 Sing praises with understanding.
⁸God reigns over the nations.
 God sits on his holy throne.
⁹The princes of the peoples are gathered together,
 the people of the God of Abraham.
 For the shields of the earth belong to God.
 He is greatly exalted.

Psalm 48

A Song. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.

¹Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised,
 in the city of our God, in his holy mountain.
²Beautiful in elevation, the joy of the whole earth, is Mount Zion, in the far north,
 the city of the great King.
³God has shown himself in her citadels as a refuge.
⁴For, look, the kings assembled themselves,
 they passed by together.
⁵They saw it, then they were amazed.
 They were dismayed.
 They hurried away.
⁶Trembling took hold of them there,
 pain, as of a woman in travail.
⁷With the east wind, you break the ships of Tarshish.
⁸As we have heard, so we have seen, in the city of the LORD of hosts, in the city of our God.
 God will establish it forever.
 Selah.
⁹We have thought about your loving kindness, God,
 in the midst of your temple.
¹⁰As is your name, God,
 so is your praise to the farthest parts of the earth.
 Your right hand is full of righteousness.
¹¹Let Mount Zion be glad.
 Let the daughters of Judah rejoice,
 Because of your judgments.
¹²Walk about Zion, and go around her.
 Number its towers.
¹³Consider her defenses.
 Consider her palaces,
 that you may tell it to the next generation.
¹⁴For this God is our God forever and ever.
 He will guide us forever.^b

^b48:14 LXX. MT reads "until death"

Psalm 49

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.

¹Hear this, all you peoples.
 Listen, all you inhabitants of the world, ²both low and high,
 rich and poor together.
³My mouth will speak words of wisdom.
 My heart shall utter understanding.
⁴I will incline my ear to a proverb.
 I will open my riddle on the harp.
⁵Why should I fear in the days of evil,
 when the iniquity of those who deceive me^a surrounds me?
⁶They trust in their wealth, and boast in the multitude of their riches.
⁷Truly^b these cannot redeem a person,
 nor give to God a ransom for him.
⁸For the redemption of their life is costly,
 no payment is ever enough, ⁹that he should live on forever,
 that he should not see corruption.
¹⁰For he sees that wise men die;
 likewise the fool and the senseless perish,
 and leave their wealth to others.
¹¹Their tombs^c are their homes forever,
 and their dwelling places to all generations.
 They name their lands after themselves.
¹²But man, despite his riches, doesn't endure.
 He is like the animals that perish.
¹³This is the destiny of those who are foolish, and of those who approve their sayings.

Selah.

¹⁴They are appointed as a flock for Sheol.
 Death shall be their shepherd.
 The upright shall have dominion over them in the morning.
 Their beauty shall decay in Sheol, far from their mansion.
¹⁵But God will redeem my soul from the power of Sheol, for he will receive me.

Selah.

¹⁶Do not be afraid when a man is made rich,
 when the glory of his house is increased.
¹⁷For when he dies he shall carry nothing away.
 His glory shall not descend after him.
¹⁸Though while he lived he blessed his soul—
 and men praise you when you do well for yourself—¹⁹he shall go to the generation of his fathers.
 They shall never see the light.
²⁰A man who has riches without understanding, is like the animals that perish.

Psalm 50

A Psalm by Asaph.

¹The Mighty One, God, the LORD, speaks, and summons the earth from the rising of the sun to its setting.

^a49:5 Origin. MT vocalizes as "my heels"

^b49:7 Hebrew Mss cf. v.16. MT reads "brother"

²Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty,
 God shines forth.
³Our God comes, and does not keep silent.
 A fire devours before him.
 It is very stormy around him.
⁴He calls to the heavens above,
 to the earth, that he may judge his people:
⁵"Gather my faithful ones together to me,
 those who have made a covenant with me by sacrifice."
⁶The heavens shall declare his righteousness, for God himself is judge.

Selah.

⁷"Hear, my people, and I will speak;
 Israel, and I will testify against you.
 I am God, your God.
⁸I do not rebuke you for your sacrifices.
 Your burnt offerings are continually before me.
⁹I have no need for a bull from your stall, nor male goats from your pens.
¹⁰For every animal of the forest is mine,
 and the livestock on a thousand hills.
¹¹I know all the birds of the mountains.
 The wild animals of the field are mine.
¹²If I were hungry, I would not tell you,
 for the world is mine, and all that is in it.
¹³Will I eat the flesh of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?
¹⁴Offer to God the sacrifice of thanksgiving.
 Pay your vows to the Most High.
¹⁵Call on me in the day of trouble.
 I will deliver you, and you will honor me."

¹⁶But to the wicked God says,
 "What right do you have to declare my statutes,
 that you have taken my covenant on your lips, ¹⁷seeing you hate instruction, and throw my words behind you?
¹⁸When you saw a thief, you consented with him,
 and have participated with adulterers.

¹⁹"You give your mouth to evil.
 Your tongue frames deceit.
²⁰You sit and speak against your brother.
 You slander your own mother's son.
²¹You have done these things, and I kept silent.
 You thought that I was just like you.
 I will rebuke you, and accuse you in front of your eyes.

²²"Now consider this, you who forget God, lest I tear you into pieces, and there be none to deliver.
²³Whoever offers the sacrifice of thanksgiving^d glorifies me;
 and to him who orders his conduct I will show the salvation of God."

Psalm 51

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David, when Nathan the prophet came to him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba.

^a49:11 LXX Tg Syr, reading qbrm "tombs." MT reads qrbm "inward part," a metathesis of beth and resh

^d50:23 Or, "of praise"

¹Have mercy on me, God, according to your loving kindness.
According to the multitude of your tender mercies, blot out my transgressions.

²Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity.
Cleanse me from my sin.

³For I know my transgressions.
My sin is constantly before me.

⁴Against you, and you only, have I sinned,
and done that which is evil in your sight;
that you may be proved right when you speak,
and justified when you judge.^a ⁵Look, I was brought forth in iniquity.

In sin my mother conceived me.

⁶Look, you desire truth in the inward parts.
You teach me wisdom in the inmost place.

⁷Purify me with hyssop, and I will be clean.
Wash me, and I will be whiter than snow.

⁸Let me hear joy and gladness,
That the bones which you have broken may rejoice.

⁹Hide your face from my sins,
and blot out all of my iniquities.

¹⁰Create in me a clean heart, O God.
Renew a right spirit within me.

¹¹Do not throw me from your presence, and do not take your holy Spirit from me.

¹²Restore to me the joy of your salvation.
Uphold me with a willing spirit.

¹³Then I will teach transgressors your ways.
Sinners shall be converted to you.

¹⁴Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God, the God of my salvation.
My tongue shall sing aloud of your righteousness.

¹⁵Lord, open my lips.
My mouth shall declare your praise.

¹⁶For you do not delight in sacrifice, or else I would give it.
You have no pleasure in burnt offering.

¹⁷The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit.
A broken and contrite heart, O God, you will not despise.

¹⁸Do well in your good pleasure to Zion.
Build the walls of Jerusalem.

¹⁹Then you will delight in the sacrifices of righteousness, in burnt offerings and in whole burnt offerings.

Then they will offer bulls on your altar.

Psalm 52

For the Chief Musician. A contemplation by David, when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, "David has come to Abimelech's house."

¹Why do you boast of mischief, mighty man?
God's loving kindness endures continually.

²Your tongue plots destruction, like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.

³You love evil more than good, lying rather than speaking the truth.

⁴You love all devouring words,
you deceitful tongue.

⁵God will likewise destroy you forever.

Selah.

^a51:4 Romans 3:4

^b53:3 Romans 3:10-12

He will take you up, and pluck you out of your tent,
and root you out of the land of the living.

Selah.

⁶The righteous also will see it, and fear,
and laugh at him, saying,

⁷"Look, this is the man who did not make God his strength, but trusted in the abundance of his riches,
and was confident in his desire."

⁸But as for me, I am like a green olive tree in God's house.
I trust in God's loving kindness forever and ever.

⁹I will give you thanks forever, because you have done it.
I will hope in your name, for it is good,
in the presence of your faithful ones.

Psalm 53

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Mahalath." A contemplation by David.

¹The fool has said in his heart, "There is no God."
They are corrupt, and have done abominable iniquity.
There is no one who does good.

²God looks down from heaven on the descendants of Adam,
to see if there are any who are wise,
who seek after God.

³Every one of them has gone back.
They have become filthy together.
There is no one who does good, no, not one.^b

⁴Have evildoers no knowledge, who eat up my people as they eat bread,
and do not call on God?

⁵There they will be in great fear, where no fear had been, for God will scatter the bones of those who encamp against you.

You will put them to shame,
because God has rejected them.

⁶Oh that the salvation of Israel would come out of Zion.
When God brings back his people from captivity, may Jacob rejoice,
may Israel be glad.

Psalm 54

For the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments. A contemplation by David, when the Ziphites came and said to Saul, "Isn't David hiding himself among us?"

¹Save me, God, by your name.
Vindicate me in your might.

²Hear my prayer, God.
Listen to the words of my mouth.

³For strangers have risen up against me.
Violent men have sought after my soul.
They haven't set God before them.

⁴Look, God is my helper.^c
The Lord is the one who sustains my soul.

⁵He will repay the evil to my enemies.
Destroy them in your truth.

Selah.

^c54:4 Elohim Ozer Li

Psalm 55

⁶With a free will offering, I will sacrifice to you.
I will give thanks to your name, LORD, for it is good.
⁷For he has delivered me out of all trouble.
My eye has seen triumph over my enemies.

Psalm 55

For the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments. A contemplation by David.

¹Listen to my prayer, God.
Do not hide yourself from my petition.
²Attend to me, and answer me.
I am restless in my complaint, and moan,
³Because of the voice of the enemy,
Because of the oppression of the wicked.
For they bring suffering on me.
In anger they hold a grudge against me.
⁴My heart is severely pained within me.
The terrors of death have fallen on me.
⁵Fearfulness and trembling have come on me.
Horror has overwhelmed me.
⁶I said, "Oh that I had wings like a dove.
Then I would fly away, and be at rest.
⁷Look, then I would wander far off.
I would lodge in the wilderness." Selah.
⁸"I would hurry to a shelter from the stormy wind and storm."
⁹Confuse them, Lord, and confound their language, for I have seen violence and strife in the city.
¹⁰Day and night they prowl around on its walls.
Malice and abuse are also within her.
¹¹Destructive forces are within her.
Threats and lies do not depart from her streets.
¹²For it was not an enemy who insulted me,
then I could have endured it.
Neither was it he who hated me who raised himself up against me,
then I would have hid myself from him.
¹³But it was you, a man like me,
my companion, and my familiar friend.
¹⁴We took sweet fellowship together.
We walked in God's house with company.
¹⁵Let death come suddenly on them.
Let them go down alive into Sheol.
For wickedness is in their dwelling, in the midst of them.
¹⁶As for me, I will call on God.
The LORD will save me.
¹⁷Evening, morning, and at noon, I will cry out in distress.
He will hear my voice.
¹⁸He has redeemed my soul in peace from the battle that was against me,
although there are many who oppose me.
¹⁹God, who is enthroned forever, will hear, and humble^a them.

Selah.

They never change,
who do not fear God.
²⁰He has stretched out his hand against those who were at peace with him.
He has violated his covenant.
²¹His mouth was smooth as butter,

but his heart was war.
His words were softer than oil,
yet they were drawn swords.

²²Cast your burden on the LORD, and he will sustain you.
He will never allow the righteous to be moved.
²³But you, God, will bring them down into the pit of destruction.
Bloodthirsty and deceitful men shall not live out half their days,
but I will trust in you.

Psalm 56

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Silent Dove in Distant Lands." A poem by David, when the Philistines seized him in Gath.

¹Be merciful to me, God, for man wants to swallow me up.
All day long, he attacks and oppresses me.
²My enemies want to swallow me up all day long,
for they are many who fight proudly against me.
³When I am afraid,
I will put my trust in you.
⁴In God, I praise his word.
In God, I put my trust.
I will not be afraid.
What can flesh do to me?
⁵All day long they twist my words.
All their thoughts are against me for evil.
⁶They conspire and lurk,
watching my steps, they are eager to take my life.
⁷Shall they escape by iniquity?
In anger cast down the peoples, God.
⁸You number my wanderings.
You put my tears into your bottle.
Aren't they in your book?
⁹Then my enemies shall turn back in the day that I call.
I know this, that God is for me.
¹⁰In God, I will praise his word.
In the LORD, I will praise his word.
¹¹I have put my trust in God.
I will not be afraid.
What can man do to me?
¹²Your vows are on me, God.
I will give thank offerings to you.
¹³For you have delivered my soul from death,
and prevented my feet from falling,
that I may walk before God in the light of the living.

Psalm 57

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A poem by David, when he fled from Saul, in the cave.

¹Be merciful to me, God, be merciful to me, for my soul takes refuge in you.
Yes, in the shadow of your wings, I will take refuge,
until disaster has passed.
²I cry out to God Most High,
to God who accomplishes my requests for me.
³He will send from heaven, and save me,

^a55:19 Piel. MT reads Qal

he rebukes the one who is pursuing me.

Selah.

God will send out his loving kindness and his truth.

⁴My soul is among lions.

I lie among those who are set on fire,
even the sons of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows,
and their tongue a sharp sword.

⁵Be exalted, God, above the heavens.

Let your glory be above all the earth.

⁶They have prepared a net for my steps.

My soul is bowed down.

They dig a pit before me.

They fall into its midst themselves.

⁷My heart is steadfast, God, my heart is steadfast.

I will sing, yes, I will sing praises.

⁸Wake up, my glory. Wake up, psaltery and harp.

I will wake up the dawn.

⁹I will give thanks to you, Lord, among the peoples.

I will sing praises to you among the nations.

¹⁰For your great loving kindness reaches to the heavens, and your truth to the skies.

¹¹Be exalted, God, above the heavens.

Let your glory be over all the earth.

Psalm 58

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of “Do Not Destroy.” A poem by David.

¹Do you rulers^a indeed speak righteousness?

Do you judge blamelessly, you descendants of Adam?

²No, in your heart you plot injustice.

You measure out the violence of your hands in the earth.

³The wicked go astray from the womb.

They are wayward as soon as they are born, speaking lies.

⁴Their poison is like the poison of a serpent;

like a deaf viper that stops its ear,

⁵which doesn’t listen to the voice of charmers, no matter how skillful the charmer may be.

⁶Break their teeth, God, in their mouth.

Break out the great teeth of the young lions, LORD.

⁷Let them vanish as water that flows away.

When they draw the bow, let their arrows be made blunt.

⁸Let them be like a snail which melts and passes away, like the stillborn child, who has not seen the sun.

⁹Before your pots can feel the heat of the thorns,

he will sweep away the green and the burning alike.

¹⁰The righteous shall rejoice when he sees the vengeance.

He shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked;

¹¹so that men shall say, “Most certainly there is a reward for the righteous.

Most certainly there is a God who judges the earth.”

Psalm 59

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of “Do Not Destroy.” A poem by David, when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him.

¹Deliver me from my enemies, my God.

Set me on high from those who rise up against me.

²Deliver me from evildoers.

Save me from the bloodthirsty men.

³For, look, they lie in wait for my soul.

The mighty gather themselves together against me, not for my disobedience, nor for my sin, LORD.

⁴I have done no wrong, yet they are ready to attack me.

Rise up, look, and help me.

⁵You, LORD God of hosts,^b the God of Israel, rouse yourself to punish the nations.

Show no mercy to the wicked traitors.

Selah.

⁶They return at evening, howling like dogs,

and prowl around the city.

⁷Look, they spew with their mouth.

Swords are in their lips,

“For,” they say, “who hears us?”

⁸But you, LORD, laugh at them.

You scoff at all the nations.

⁹Oh, my Strength, I watch for you,

for God is my high tower.^c

¹⁰My God of mercy^d will come to meet me.

God will let me look at my enemies in triumph.

¹¹Do not kill them, or my people may forget.

Scatter them by your power, and bring them down, Lord our shield.

¹²For the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips, let them be caught in their pride,

for the curses and lies which they utter.

¹³Consume them in wrath.

Consume them, and they will be no more.

Let them know that God rules in Jacob, to the farthest parts of the earth.

Selah.

¹⁴At evening let them return.

Let them howl like a dog, and go around the city.

¹⁵They shall wander up and down for food, and wait all night^e if they aren’t satisfied.

¹⁶But I will sing of your strength.

Yes, I will sing aloud of your loving kindness in the morning.

For you have been my high tower,

a refuge in the day of my distress.

¹⁷To you, my strength, I will sing praises.

For God is my high tower, the God of my mercy.

and with Aram Zobah, and Joab returned, and killed twelve thousand of Edom in the Valley of Salt.

¹God, you have rejected us.
You have broken us down.
You have been angry.
Restore us, again.
²You have made the land tremble.
You have torn it.
Mend its fractures,
for it quakes.
³You have shown your people hard things.
You have made us drink the wine that makes us stagger.
⁴You have given a banner to those who fear you,
that it may be displayed because of the truth.

⁵So that your beloved may be delivered, save with your right hand and answer me.^a ⁶God has spoken from his sanctuary:
"I will triumph.
I will divide Shechem,
and measure out the Valley of Succoth.
⁷Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine.
Ephraim also is the defense of my head.
Judah is my scepter.
⁸Moab is my wash basin.
I will throw my shoe on Edom.
I shout^b in triumph over^c Philistia."
⁹Who will bring me into the strong city?
Who will lead me to Edom?
¹⁰Haven't you, God, rejected us?
You do not go out with our armies, God.
¹¹Give us help against the adversary,
for the help of man is vain.
¹²Through God we shall do valiantly, for it is he who will tread down our adversaries.

Psalm 61

For the Chief Musician. For a stringed instrument. By David.

¹Hear my cry, God.
Listen to my prayer.
²From the most remote place of the earth, I will call to you, when my heart is overwhelmed.
Lead me to the rock that is higher than I.
³For you have been a refuge for me,
a strong tower from the enemy.
⁴I will dwell in your tent forever.
I will take refuge in the shelter of your wings.

⁵For you, God, have heard my vows.
You have given me the heritage of those who fear your name.
⁶You will prolong the king's life;
his years shall be for generations.
⁷He shall be enthroned in God's presence forever.
Appoint your loving kindness and truth, that they may preserve him.
⁸So I will sing praise to your name forever, that I may fulfill my vows day after day.

Psalm 62

For the Chief Musician. To Jeduthan. A Psalm by David.

¹My soul rests in God alone,
for^d my salvation is from him.
²He alone is my rock and my salvation, my fortress—
I will never be greatly shaken.
³How long will you assault a man, would all of you throw him down,
Like a leaning wall, like a tottering fence?
⁴They fully intend to throw him down from his lofty place.
They delight in lies.
They bless with their mouth, but they curse inwardly.

⁵My soul, wait in silence for God alone,
for my expectation is from him.
⁶He alone is my rock and my salvation, my fortress.
I will not be shaken.
⁷With God is my salvation and my honor.
The rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.
⁸Trust in him at all times,
O people.
Pour out your heart before him.
God is a refuge for us.

⁹Surely men of low degree are just a breath,
and men of high degree are a lie.
In the balances they will go up.
They are together lighter than a breath.
¹⁰Do not trust in oppression.
Do not become vain in robbery.
If riches increase,
do not set your heart on them.
¹¹God has spoken once;
twice I have heard this,
that power belongs to God.
¹²Also to you, Lord, belongs loving kindness, for you reward every man according to his work.

Psalm 63

A Psalm by David, when he was in the desert of Judah.

¹God, you are my God.
I will earnestly seek you.
My soul thirsts for you.
My flesh longs for you,
in a dry and weary land, where there is no water.
²So I have seen you in the sanctuary,
watching your power and your glory.
³Because your loving kindness is better than life,
my lips shall praise you.
⁴So I will bless you while I live.
I will lift up my hands in your name.
⁵My soul shall be satisfied as with the richest food.

Psalm 64

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

¹Hear my voice, God, in my complaint.
 Preserve my life from fear of the enemy.
²Hide me from the conspiracy of the wicked,
 from the noisy crowd of the ones doing evil;
³who sharpen their tongue like a sword,
 and aim their arrows, bitter words,

BOOK III

Psalm 73

A Psalm by Asaph.

¹Surely God is good to Israel,
 to those who are pure in heart.
²But as for me, my feet were almost gone.
 My steps had nearly slipped.
³For I was envious of the arrogant,
 when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.
⁴For there are no struggles in their death,
 but their strength is firm.
⁵They are free from burdens of men,
 neither are they plagued like other men.
⁶Therefore pride is like a chain around their neck.
 Violence covers them like a garment.
⁷Their sin^b proceeds forth from fatness.
 Their hearts overflow with imaginations.
⁸They scoff and speak with malice.
 In arrogance, they threaten oppression.
⁹They have set their mouth in the heavens.
 Their tongue walks through the earth.
¹⁰Therefore my^c people turn to them,
 and they drink up waters of abundance.

Is there knowledge in the Most High?"
¹²Look, these are the wicked.
 Being always at ease, they increase in riches.
¹³Surely in vain I have cleansed my heart,
 and washed my hands in innocence, ¹⁴For all day long have I been plagued,
 and punished every morning.
¹⁵If I had said, "I will speak thus;"
 look, I would have betrayed the generation of your children.
¹⁶When I tried to understand this,
 it was too painful for me;
¹⁷Until I entered God's sanctuary, and considered their latter end.
¹⁸Surely you set them in slippery places.
 You throw them down to destruction.
¹⁹How they are suddenly destroyed.
 They are completely swept away with terrors.
²⁰As a dream when one wakes up,

²²I was so senseless and ignorant.

²³Nevertheless, I am continually with you.
 You have held my right hand.
²⁴You will guide me with your counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.
²⁵Who do I have in heaven?
 There is no one on earth who I desire besides you.
²⁶My flesh and my heart fails,
 but God is the strength of my heart and my portion forever.
²⁷For, look, those who are far from you shall perish.
 You have destroyed all those who are unfaithful to you.
²⁸But it is good for me to come close to God.
 I have made the^d LORD my refuge, that I may tell of all your works in the gates of the daughter of Zion.^e

Psalm 74

A contemplation by Asaph.

¹God, why have you rejected us forever?
 Why does your anger smolder against the sheep of your pasture?
²Remember your congregation, which you purchased of old,
 which you have redeemed to be the tribe of your inheritance;
 Mount Zion, in which you have lived.
³Lift up your feet to the perpetual ruins,
 all the evil that the enemy has done in the sanctuary.
⁴Your adversaries have roared in the midst of your assembly.
 They have set up their standards as signs.
⁵They behaved like men wielding axes, cutting through a thicket of trees.
⁶Now they break all its carved work down with hatchet and hammers.
⁷They have burned your sanctuary to the ground.
 They have profaned the dwelling place of your Name.
⁸They said in their heart, "We will crush them completely."

Psalm 75

They have burned up all the places in the land where God was worshiped.
⁹We see no miraculous signs.
There is no longer any prophet,
neither is there among us anyone who knows how long.
¹⁰How long, God, shall the enemy mock?
Shall the enemy blaspheme your name forever?
¹¹Why do you draw back your hand, even your right hand?
Take it out of your pocket and consume them.
¹²Yet God is my King from long ago, working salvation in the midst of the earth.
¹³You divided the sea by your strength.
You broke the heads of the sea monsters in the waters.
¹⁴You broke the heads of Leviathan in pieces.
You gave him as food to people and desert creatures.
¹⁵You opened up spring and stream.
You dried up mighty rivers.
¹⁶The day is yours, the night is also yours.
You have prepared the light and the sun.
¹⁷You have set all the boundaries of the earth.
You have made summer and winter.

¹⁸Remember this, that the enemy has mocked you, LORD.
Foolish people have blasphemed your name.
¹⁹Do not deliver the soul of your dove to wild beasts.
Do not forget the life of your poor forever.
²⁰Honor your covenant,
for haunts of violence fill the dark places of the earth.
²¹Do not let the oppressed return ashamed.
Let the poor and needy praise your name.
²²Arise, God. Plead your own cause.
Remember how the foolish man mocks you all day.
²³Do not forget the voice of your adversaries.
The tumult of those who rise up against you ascends continually.

Psalm 75

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A Psalm by Asaph. A song.

¹We give thanks to you, God.
We give thanks, for your Name is near.
Men tell about your wondrous works.

²When I choose the appointed time,
I will judge blamelessly.
³The earth and all its inhabitants quake.
I firmly hold its pillars.

⁴I said to the arrogant, "Do not boast."
I said to the wicked, "Do not lift up the horn."
⁵Do not lift up your horn on high.
Do not speak with a stiff neck."
⁶For neither from the east, nor from the west,
nor yet from the south, comes exaltation.
⁷But God is the judge.
He puts down one, and lifts up another.
⁸For in the hand of the LORD there is a cup, full of foaming wine mixed with spices.

Selah.

He pours it out.
Indeed the wicked of the earth drink and drink it to its very dregs.

⁹But I will declare this forever:
I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.
¹⁰I will cut off all the horns of the wicked,
but the horns of the righteous shall be lifted up.

Psalm 76

For the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments. A Psalm by Asaph. A song.

¹In Judah, God is known.
His name is great in Israel.
²And his abode is in Salem,
and his lair in Zion.
³There he broke the flaming arrows of the bow,
the shield, and the sword, and the weapons of war.

Selah.

⁴Glorious are you, and excellent,
more than mountains of game.
⁵Valiant men lie plundered,
they have slept their last sleep.
None of the men of war can lift their hands.
⁶At your rebuke, God of Jacob,
both chariot and horse are cast into a deep sleep.
⁷You, even you, are to be feared.
Who can stand in your sight when you are angry?
⁸You pronounced judgment from heaven.
The earth feared, and was silent, ⁹when God arose to judgment,
to save all the afflicted ones of the earth.

Selah.

¹⁰Surely the wrath^a of man praises you.
The survivors of your wrath are restrained.
¹¹Make vows to the LORD your God, and fulfill them.
Let all of his neighbors bring presents to him who is to be feared.
¹²He humbles the spirit of princes.
He is feared by the kings of the earth.

Psalm 77

For the Chief Musician. To Jeduthun. A Psalm by Asaph.

¹My cry goes to God.
Indeed, I cry to God for help,
and for him to listen to me.
²In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord.
My hand was stretched out in the night, and did not get tired.
My soul refused to be comforted.
³I remember God, and I groan.
I complain, and my spirit is overwhelmed.

Selah.

⁴You hold my eyelids open.
I am so troubled that I can't speak.

^a76:10 MT reads hmt "anger." Syr: "wisdom" = hkmt. A possible misreading. LXX reads enthymion "the inward thought"

⁵I have considered the days of old,
the years of ancient times.
⁶I remember my song in the night.
I consider in my own heart;
my spirit diligently inquires:
⁷“Will the Lord reject us forever?
Will he be favorable no more?
⁸Has his loving kindness vanished forever?
Does his promise fail for generations?
⁹Has God forgotten to be gracious?
Has he, in anger, withheld his compassion?”

Selah.

¹⁰And I thought, “This is my wounding, that the right hand of the Most High has changed.”
¹¹I will remember the works of the LORD;^a for I will remember your wonders of old.
¹²I will also meditate on all your work,
and consider your doings.
¹³Your way, God, is in the sanctuary.
What god is great like God?
¹⁴You are the God who does wonders.
You have made your strength known among the peoples.
¹⁵You have redeemed your people with your arm,
the sons of Jacob and Joseph.

Selah.

¹⁶The waters saw you, God.
The waters saw you, and they writhed.
The depths also convulsed.
¹⁷The clouds poured out water.
The skies resounded with thunder.
Your arrows also flashed around.
¹⁸The voice of your thunder was in the whirlwind.
The lightnings lit up the world.
The earth trembled and shook.
¹⁹Your way was through the sea;
your paths through the great waters.
Your footsteps were not known.
²⁰You led your people like a flock,
by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Psalm 78

A contemplation by Asaph.

¹Hear my teaching, my people.
Turn your ears to the words of my mouth.
²I will open my mouth in a parable.^b
I will utter dark sayings since the beginning of the world,^c ³which we have heard and known,
and our fathers have told us.
⁴We will not hide them from their descendants, telling to the generation to come the praises of the LORD,
his strength, and his wondrous works that he has done.
⁵For he established a testimony in Jacob,
and appointed a teaching in Israel,
which he commanded our fathers,
that they should make them known to their children; ⁶that the generation to come might know it, the children yet unborn, and^d arise and tell their children, ⁷that they might set their hope in God,

and not forget the works of God,
but keep his commandments, ⁸and might not be as their fathers,
a stubborn and rebellious generation,
a generation that did not make their hearts loyal,
whose spirit was not steadfast with God.
⁹The people of Ephraim, being armed and carrying bows, turned back in the day of battle.
¹⁰They did not keep God’s covenant, and refused to walk by his Law.
¹¹They forgot his doings,
his wondrous works that he had shown them.
¹²He did marvelous things in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.
¹³He split the sea, and caused them to pass through.
He made the waters stand as a heap.
¹⁴In the daytime he also led them with a cloud,
and all night with a light of fire.
¹⁵He split rocks in the wilderness,
and gave them drink abundantly as out of the depths.
¹⁶He brought streams also out of the rock,
and caused waters to run down like rivers.
¹⁷Yet they still went on to sin against him,
to rebel against the Most High in the desert.
¹⁸They tempted God in their heart
by asking food according to their desire.
¹⁹Yes, they spoke against God.
They said, “Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?
²⁰Look, he struck the rock, so that waters gushed out,
and streams overflowed.
Can he give bread also?
Will he provide flesh for his people?”
²¹Therefore the LORD heard, and was angry.
A fire was kindled against Jacob,
anger also went up against Israel, ²²because they did not believe in God,
and did not trust in his salvation.
²³Yet he commanded the clouds above,
and opened the doors of heaven.
²⁴He rained down manna on them to eat, and gave them bread^e from heaven.^f
²⁵Man ate the bread of the mighty ones.^g
He sent them food to the full.
²⁶He caused the east wind to blow in the sky.
By his power he guided the south wind.
²⁷He rained also flesh on them as the dust;
winged birds as the sand of the seas.
²⁸And he let it fall in the midst of his camp,
all around his tent.
²⁹So they ate, and were well filled.
He gave them their own desire.
³⁰They did not turn from their cravings.
Their food was yet in their mouths, ³¹when the anger of God went up against them, killed some of the fattest of them,
and struck down the young men of Israel.
³²For all this they still sinned,
and did not believe in his wondrous works.

³³Therefore he consumed their days in vanity, and their years in terror.
³⁴When he killed them, then they inquired after him.
They returned and sought God earnestly.
³⁵They remembered that God was their rock,
the Most High God, their redeemer.
³⁶But they flattered him with their mouth,
and lied to him with their tongue.
³⁷For their heart was not right with him, neither were they faithful in his covenant.
³⁸But he, being merciful, forgave iniquity, and did not destroy them.
Yes, many times he turned his anger away,
and did not stir up all his wrath.
³⁹He remembered that they were but flesh,
a wind that passes away, and doesn't come again.
⁴⁰How often they rebelled against him in the wilderness, and grieved him in the desert.
⁴¹They turned again and tempted God,
and gave pain to the Holy One of Israel.
⁴²They did not remember his hand,
nor the day when he redeemed them from the adversary;
⁴³how he set his signs in Egypt,
his wonders in the field of Zoan, ⁴⁴he turned their rivers into blood,
and their streams, so that they could not drink.
⁴⁵He sent among them swarms of flies, which devoured them;
and frogs, which destroyed them.
⁴⁶He gave also their increase to the caterpillar, and their labor to the locust.
⁴⁷He destroyed their vines with hail,
their sycamore fig trees with frost.
⁴⁸He gave over their livestock also to the hail,
and their flocks to hot thunderbolts.
⁴⁹He threw on them the fierceness of his anger, wrath, indignation, and trouble,
and a band of destroying angels.
⁵⁰He made a path for his anger.
He did not spare their soul from death,
but gave their life over to the pestilence, ⁵¹and struck all the firstborn in Egypt,
the chief of their strength in the tents of Ham.
⁵²But he led forth his own people like sheep,
and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.
⁵³He led them safely, so that they weren't afraid,
but the sea overwhelmed their enemies.
⁵⁴He brought them to the border of his sanctuary, to this mountain, which his right hand had taken.
⁵⁵He also drove out the nations before them, allotted them for an inheritance by line,
and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.
⁵⁶Yet they tempted and rebelled against the Most High God, and did not keep his testimonies;
⁵⁷but turned back, and dealt treacherously like their fathers.
They were turned aside like a deceitful bow.
⁵⁸For they provoked him to anger with their high places,
and moved him to jealousy with their engraved images.
⁵⁹When God heard this, he was angry,
and greatly abhorred Israel;
⁶⁰so that he forsook the tabernacle at Shiloh,
the tent where he dwelt among men; ⁶¹and delivered his strength into captivity,
his glory into the adversary's hand.
⁶²He also gave his people over to the sword, and was angry with his inheritance.

⁶³Fire devoured their young men.
Their virgins had no wedding song.
⁶⁴Their priests fell by the sword,
and their widows couldn't weep.
⁶⁵Then the Lord awakened as one out of sleep,
like a mighty man who shouts by reason of wine.
⁶⁶He struck his adversaries backward.
He made them a permanent shame.
⁶⁷Moreover he rejected the tent of Joseph,
and did not choose the tribe of Ephraim, ⁶⁸but chose the tribe of Judah,
Mount Zion which he loved.
⁶⁹He built his sanctuary like the heights,
like the earth which he has established forever.
⁷⁰He also chose David his servant,
and took him from the sheepfolds; ⁷¹from following the ewes that have their young, he brought him to be the shepherd of Jacob his servant,^a and Israel his inheritance.
⁷²So he was their shepherd according to the integrity of his heart, and guided them by the skillfulness of his hands.

Psalm 79

A Psalm by Asaph.

¹God, the nations have come into your inheritance.
They have defiled your holy temple.
They have laid Jerusalem in heaps.
²They have given the dead bodies of your servants to be food for the birds of the sky,
the flesh of your faithful to the animals of the earth.
³Their blood they have shed like water around Jerusalem.
There was no one to bury them.
⁴We have become objects of contempt to our neighbors, mocked and ridiculed by those who are around us.
⁵How long, LORD?
Will you be angry forever?
Will your jealousy burn like fire?
⁶Pour out your wrath on the nations that do not know you;
on the kingdoms that do not call on your name; ⁷For they have devoured Jacob,
and destroyed his homeland.
⁸Do not hold the iniquities of our forefathers against us.
Let your tender mercies speedily meet us,
for we are in desperate need.
⁹Help us, God of our salvation, for the glory of your name.
Deliver us, and forgive our sins, for your name's sake.
¹⁰Why should the nations say, "Where is their God?"
Let it be known among the nations, before our eyes, that vengeance for your servants' blood is being poured out.
¹¹Let the sighing of the prisoner come before you.
According to the greatness of your power, free^b those who are sentenced to death.
¹²Pay back to our neighbors seven times into their lap
the insults with which they have insulted you, Lord.
¹³So we, your people and sheep of your pasture, will give you thanks forever.
We will praise you forever, to all generations.

Psalm 80

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "The Lilies of the Covenant." A Psalm by Asaph.

- ¹Hear us, Shepherd of Israel,
you who lead Joseph like a flock,
you who sit above the cherubim, shine forth.
- ²Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh, stir up your might.
Come to save us.
- ³Restore us, God.
Cause your face to shine,
and we will be saved.
- ⁴LORD God of hosts,
How long will you be angry against the prayer of your people?
- ⁵You have fed them with the bread of tears,
and given them tears to drink in large measure.
- ⁶You make us a source of contention to our neighbors.
Our enemies have mocked us.
- ⁷Restore us, God of hosts.
Cause your face to shine,
and we will be saved.
- ⁸You brought a vine out of Egypt.
You drove out the nations, and planted it.
- ⁹You cleared the ground for it.
It took deep root, and filled the land.
- ¹⁰The mountains were covered with its shadow.
Its boughs were like God's cedars.
- ¹¹It sent out its branches to the sea,
Its shoots to the River.
- ¹²Why have you broken down its walls,
so that all those who pass by the way pluck it?
- ¹³The boar out of the wood ravages it.
The wild animals of the field feed on it.
- ¹⁴Return, we beg you, God of hosts.
Look down from heaven, and see, and visit this vine, ¹⁵the stock which your right hand planted,
the branch that you made strong for yourself.
- ¹⁶It's burned with fire.
It's cut down.
They perish at your rebuke.
- ¹⁷Let your hand be on the man of your right hand,
on the son of man whom you made strong for yourself.
- ¹⁸So we will not turn away from you.
Revive us, and we will call on your name.
- ¹⁹Restore us, LORD God of hosts.
Cause your face to shine, and we will be saved.

Psalm 81

For the Chief Musician. On an instrument of Gath. By Asaph.

- ¹Sing aloud to God, our strength.
Make a joyful shout to the God of Jacob.
- ²Raise a song, and bring here the tambourine,

the pleasant lyre with the harp.

- ³Blow the trumpet at the New Moon,
at the full moon, on our feast day.
- ⁴For it is a statute for Israel,
an ordinance of the God of Jacob.
- ⁵He appointed it in Joseph for a testimony,
when he went out over the land of Egypt,
I heard a language that I did not know.
- ⁶"I removed his shoulder from the burden.
His hands were freed from the basket.
- ⁷You called in trouble, and I delivered you.
I answered you in the secret place of thunder.
I tested you at the waters of Meribah."

Selah.

- ⁸"Hear, my people, and I will testify to you,
Israel, if you would listen to me.
- ⁹There shall be no strange god in you,
neither shall you worship any foreign god.
- ¹⁰I am the LORD, your God,
who brought you up out of the land of Egypt.
Open your mouth wide, and I will fill it.
- ¹¹But my people did not listen to my voice.
Israel desired none of me.
- ¹²So I let them go after the stubbornness of their hearts,
that they might walk in their own counsels.
- ¹³Oh that my people would listen to me,
that Israel would walk in my ways.
- ¹⁴I would soon subdue their enemies,
and turn my hand against their adversaries.
- ¹⁵The haters of the LORD would cringe before him,
and their punishment would last forever.
- ¹⁶And he would have fed him with the finest wheat, and satisfied you with honey from the rock."

- ⁵They do not know, neither do they understand.
They walk back and forth in darkness.
All the foundations of the earth are shaken.

²Let my prayer enter into your presence.

³For my soul is full of troubles.
 My life draws near to Sheol.
⁴I am counted among those who go down into the pit.
 I am like a man who has no help, ⁵set apart among the dead,
 like the slain who lie in the grave,

⁸You have taken my friends from me.
 You have made me an abomination to them.
 I am confined, and I can’t escape.
⁹My eyes are dim from grief.
 I have called on you daily, LORD.
 I have spread out my hands to you.
¹⁰Do you show wonders to the dead?
 Do the dead rise up and praise you?
Selah.
¹¹Is your loving kindness declared in the grave?
 Or your faithfulness in Destruction?
¹²Are your wonders made known in the dark?
 Or your righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?
¹³But to you, LORD, I have cried.
 In the morning, my prayer comes before you.
¹⁴LORD, why do you reject my soul?
 Why do you hide your face from me?
¹⁵I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up.
 While I suffer your terrors, I am distracted.
¹⁶Your fierce wrath has gone over me.
 Your terrors have cut me off.
¹⁷They came around me like water all day long.
 They completely engulfed me.
¹⁸You have put lover and friend far from me,
 and my friends into darkness.

Psalm 89

A contemplation by Ethan, the Ezrahite.

¹I will sing of the loving kindness of the LORD forever.
 With my mouth I will make known your faithfulness to all generations.
²I indeed declare, “Love stands firm forever.
 You established the heavens.
 Your faithfulness is in them.”

^c87:4 Rahab is a reference to Egypt

^d88:1 Yahweh Elohe Yeshuathi

³“I have made a covenant with my chosen one,
I have sworn to David, my servant,
⁴I will establish your offspring forever, and build up your throne for all generations.””

Selah.

⁵The heavens will praise your wonders, LORD;
your faithfulness also in the assembly of the holy ones.
⁶For who in the skies can be compared to the LORD?
Who among the sons of God is like the LORD, ⁷a very awesome God in the council of the holy ones,
to be feared above all those who are around him?
⁸LORD, God of hosts, who is a mighty one like you, LORD?^a
Your faithfulness is around you.
⁹You rule the pride of the sea.
When its waves rise up, you calm them.^b
¹⁰You have broken Rahab in pieces, like one of the slain.
You have scattered your enemies with your mighty arm.
¹¹The heavens are yours.
The earth also is yours;
the world and its fullness.
You have founded them.
¹²The north and the south, you have created them.
Tabor and Hermon rejoice in your name.
¹³You have a mighty arm.
Your hand is strong, and your right hand is exalted.
¹⁴Righteousness and justice are the foundation of your throne.
Loving kindness and truth go before your face.
¹⁵Blessed are the people who know the joyful shout.
They walk in the light of your presence, LORD.
¹⁶In your name they rejoice all day.
In your righteousness, they are exalted.
¹⁷For you are the glory of their strength.
In your favor, our horn will be exalted.
¹⁸For our shield belongs to the LORD;
our king to the Holy One of Israel.
¹⁹Then you spoke in a vision to your faithful ones,
and said, “I have bestowed strength on the warrior.
I have exalted a young man from the people.
²⁰I have found David, my servant.
I have anointed him with my holy oil,
²¹with whom my hand shall be established.
My arm will also strengthen him.
²²No enemy will tax him.
No wicked man will oppress him.
²³I will beat down his adversaries before him,
and strike those who hate him.
²⁴But my faithfulness and my loving kindness will be with him.
In my name, his horn will be exalted.
²⁵I will set his hand also on the sea,
and his right hand on the rivers.
²⁶He will call to me, ‘You are my Father,
my God, and the rock of my salvation.’
²⁷I will also appoint him my firstborn, the highest of the kings of the earth.
²⁸I will keep my loving kindness for him forevermore.
My covenant will stand firm with him.
²⁹And I will establish his descendants forever,
and his throne as the days of heaven.
³⁰If his children forsake my Law,
and do not walk in my ordinances;
³¹if they break my statutes,
and do not keep my commandments;

³²then I will punish their sin with the rod,
and their iniquity with stripes.
³³But I will not completely take my loving kindness from him, nor allow my faithfulness to fail.
³⁴I will not break my covenant,
nor alter what my lips have uttered.
³⁵Once have I sworn by my holiness,
I will not lie to David.
³⁶His descendants will endure forever,
his throne like the sun before me.
³⁷It will be established forever like the moon,
the faithful witness in the sky.”

Selah.

³⁸But you have rejected and spurned.
You have been angry with your anointed.
³⁹You have renounced the covenant of your servant.
You have defiled his crown in the dust.
⁴⁰You have broken down all his hedges.
You have brought his strongholds to ruin.
⁴¹All who pass by the way rob him.
He has become an object of ridicule to his neighbors.
⁴²You have exalted the right hand of his adversaries.
You have made all of his enemies rejoice.
⁴³Yes, you turn back the edge of his sword, and haven’t supported him in battle.
⁴⁴You have ended his splendor,
and thrown his throne down to the ground.
⁴⁵You have shortened the days of his youth.
You have covered him with shame.

Selah.

⁴⁶How long, LORD?
Will you hide yourself forever?
Will your wrath burn like fire?
⁴⁷Remember how short my time is.
Have you created the descendants of Adam for no reason?
⁴⁸What man is he who shall live and not see death, who shall deliver his soul from the power of Sheol?

Selah.

⁴⁹Lord, where are your former loving kindnesses, which you swore to David in your faithfulness?
⁵⁰Remember, Lord, the ridicule of all the many peoples against your servants
I have borne in my heart,
⁵¹how your enemies have ridiculed, LORD,
how they have ridiculed the footsteps of your anointed one.
⁵²Blessed be the LORD forevermore.
Amen, and Amen.

BOOK IV

Psalm 90

A Prayer by Moses, the man of God.

- ¹Lord, you have been our dwelling place for all generations.
²Before the mountains were brought forth, before you had formed the earth and the world,
even from everlasting to everlasting, you are God.
³You turn man to destruction, saying,
“Return, you descendants of Adam.”
⁴For a thousand years in your sight are just like yesterday when it is past,
like a watch in the night.
⁵You sweep them away as they sleep.
In the morning they sprout like new grass.
⁶In the morning it sprouts and springs up.
By evening, it is withered and dry.
⁷For we are consumed in your anger.
We are troubled in your wrath.
⁸You have set our iniquities before you,
our secret sins in the light of your presence.
⁹For all our days have passed away in your wrath.
We bring our years to an end as a sigh.
¹⁰The days of our years are seventy,
or even by reason of strength eighty years;
yet their pride is but labor and sorrow,
for it passes quickly, and we fly away.
¹¹Who knows the power of your anger, your wrath according to the fear that is due to you?
¹²So teach us to number our days,
that we may gain a heart of wisdom.
¹³Relent, LORD.
How long?
Have compassion on your servants.
¹⁴Satisfy us in the morning with your loving kindness, that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.
¹⁵Make us glad for as many days as you have afflicted us, for as many years as we have seen evil.
¹⁶Let your work appear to your servants;
your glory to their children.
¹⁷Let the favor of the Lord our God be on us;
establish the work of our hands for us;
yes, establish the work of our hands.

Psalm 91

- ¹He who dwells in the secret place of the Most High will rest in the shadow of Shaddai.
²I will say of the LORD, “He is my refuge and my fortress;
my God, in whom I trust.”
³For he will deliver you from the snare of the fowler, and from the deadly pestilence.
⁴He will cover you with his feathers.
Under his wings you will take refuge.
His truth is an encompassing shield.
⁵You shall not be afraid of the terror by night,

- nor of the arrow that flies by day;
⁶nor of the pestilence that walks in darkness,
nor of the destruction that wastes at noonday.
⁷A thousand may fall at your side,
and ten thousand at your right hand;
but it will not come near you.
⁸You will only look with your eyes,
and see the recompense of the wicked.
⁹Because you have made the LORD, my refuge,
the Most High, your dwelling place, ¹⁰no evil shall overtake you;
no plague shall come near your dwelling.
¹¹For he will put his angels in charge of you,
to guard you in all your ways.
¹²In their hands they will lift you up, so that you will not strike your foot against a stone.^a ¹³You will tread upon the lion and the viper.
You will trample the young lion and the serpent underfoot.
¹⁴“Because he has set his love on me, therefore I will deliver him.
I will set him on high, because he has known my name.
¹⁵He will call on me, and I will answer him.
I will be with him in trouble.
I will deliver him, and honor him.
¹⁶I will satisfy him with long life,
and show him my salvation.”

Psalm 92

A Psalm. A song for the Sabbath day.

- ¹It is a good thing to give thanks to the LORD, to sing praises to your name, Most High;
²to proclaim your loving kindness in the morning,
and your faithfulness every night, ³with the ten-stringed lute, with the harp,
and with the melody of the lyre.
⁴For you, LORD, have made me glad through your work.
I will triumph in the works of your hands.
⁵How great are your works, LORD.
Your thoughts are very deep.
⁶A senseless man doesn't know, neither does a fool understand this:
⁷though the wicked spring up as the grass,
and all the evildoers flourish,
they will be destroyed forever.
⁸But you, LORD, are on high forevermore.
⁹For, look, your enemies, LORD,
for, look, your enemies shall perish.
All the evildoers will be scattered.
¹⁰But you have exalted my horn like that of the wild ox.
I am anointed with fresh oil.
¹¹My eye has also seen my enemies.
My ears have heard of the wicked enemies who rise up against me.
¹²The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree.
He will grow like a cedar in Lebanon.
¹³They are planted in the LORD's house.
They will flourish in our God's courts.
¹⁴They will still bring forth fruit in old age.
They will be full of sap and green,
¹⁵to show that the LORD is upright.

^a91:12 Matthew 4:6; Luke 4:10-11

He is my Rock,
and there is no unrighteousness in him.

Psalm 93

¹The LORD reigns.
He is clothed with majesty.
The LORD is armed with strength.
The world also is established.
It can't be moved.
²Your throne is established from long ago.
You are from everlasting.
³The floods have lifted up, LORD,
the floods have lifted up their voice.
The floods lift up their waves.
⁴More majestic than the sounds of many waters,
more majestic than the breakers^a of the sea,
the LORD on high is majestic.
⁵Your statutes stand firm.
Holiness adorns your house,
LORD, forevermore.

Psalm 94

¹LORD, you God to whom vengeance belongs, you God to whom vengeance belongs, shine forth.
²Rise up, you judge of the earth.
Pay back the proud what they deserve.
³LORD, how long will the wicked,
how long will the wicked triumph?
⁴They pour out arrogant words.
All the evildoers boast.
⁵They break your people in pieces, LORD,
and afflict your heritage.
⁶They kill the widow and the alien,
and murder the fatherless.
⁷They say, "The LORD^b will not see, neither will Jacob's God consider."
⁸Consider, you senseless among the people;
you fools, when will you be wise?
⁹He who implanted the ear, won't he hear?
He who formed the eye, won't he see?
¹⁰He who disciplines the nations, won't he punish?
He who teaches man knows.
¹¹The LORD knows the thoughts of man,^c that they are futile.^d ¹²Blessed is the man whom you discipline, LORD,^e and teach out of your Law; ¹³that you may give him rest from the days of adversity, until the pit is dug for the wicked.
¹⁴For the LORD won't reject his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.
¹⁵For judgment will return to righteousness.
All the upright in heart shall follow it.
¹⁶Who will rise up for me against the wicked?

^a93:4 Reading "majestic than the breakers." MT reads "majestic (the) breakers," apparently from a misdivision of two words. Cf. F. L. Hossfeld and E. Zenger, A Commentary on Psalms 51-100 (Hermeneia), 447

^b94:7 Hebrew: "Yah"

Who will stand up for me against the evildoers?
¹⁷Unless the LORD had been my help,
my soul would have soon lived in silence.
¹⁸When I said, "My foot is slipping."
Your loving kindness, LORD, held me up.
¹⁹In the multitude of my thoughts within me, your comforts delight my soul.
²⁰Shall the throne of wickedness have fellowship with you,
which brings about mischief by statute?
²¹They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent blood.
²²But the LORD has been my high tower,
my God, the rock of my refuge.
²³He has brought on them their own iniquity,
and will cut them off in their own wickedness.
The LORD, our God, will cut them off.

Psalm 95

¹Oh come, let's sing to the LORD.
Let's shout aloud to the rock of our salvation.
²Let's come before his presence with thanksgiving.
Let's extol him with songs.
³For the LORD is a great God,
a great King above all gods.
⁴In his hand are the deep places of the earth.
The heights of the mountains are also his.
⁵The sea is his, and he made it.
His hands formed the dry land.
⁶Oh come, let's worship and bow down.
Let's kneel before the LORD, our Maker,
⁷for he is our God.
We are the people of his pasture,
and the sheep in his care.
Today, if you would hear his voice.
⁸Do not harden your heart, as at Meribah,
as in the day of Massah in the wilderness, ⁹when your fathers tempted me, tested me, and saw my work.
¹⁰For forty years I loathed that generation, and said, "It is a people who go astray in their heart,
and they do not know my ways."
¹¹Therefore I swore in my wrath,
"They won't enter into my rest."^f

Psalm 96

¹Sing to the LORD a new song.
Sing to the LORD, all the earth.
²Sing to the LORD.
Bless his name.
Proclaim his salvation from day to day.
³Declare his glory among the nations,
his marvelous works among all the peoples.

^a94:11 1Co 3:20 quotes Psalm 94:11 and reads sophos "wise" rather than "man." In DSS Isaiah script אָדָם "man" and אָדָם "wise" are visually very similar, suggesting the possibility of a misreading here.

^b94:11 1Co 3:20

^c94:12 Hebrew: "Yah"

^d95:11 Hebrews 4:3,5

⁴For great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised.
 He is to be feared above all gods.
⁵For all the gods of the peoples are idols,
 but the LORD made the heavens.
⁶Honor and majesty are before him.
 Strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.
⁷Ascribe to the LORD, you families of nations,
 ascribe to the LORD glory and strength.
⁸Ascribe to the LORD the glory due to his name.
 Bring an offering, and come into his courts.
⁹Worship the LORD in holy array.
 Tremble before him, all the earth.
¹⁰Say among the nations, "The LORD reigns."
 The world is also established.
 It can't be moved.
 He will judge the peoples with equity.
¹¹Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice.
 Let the sea roar, and its fullness.
¹²Let the field and all that is in it exult.
 Then all the trees of the woods shall sing for joy ¹³before the LORD; for he comes,
 for he comes to judge the earth.
 He will judge the world with righteousness,
 the peoples with his truth.

Psalm 97

¹The LORD reigns.
 Let the earth rejoice.
 Let the multitude of islands be glad.
²Clouds and darkness are around him.
 Righteousness and justice are the foundation of his throne.
³A fire goes before him,
 and burns up his adversaries on every side.
⁴His lightning lights up the world.
 The earth sees, and trembles.
⁵The mountains melt like wax at the presence of the LORD,
 at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.
⁶The heavens declare his righteousness.
 All the peoples have seen his glory.
⁷Let all them be shamed who serve engraved images, who boast in their idols.
 Worship him, all you gods.^a ⁸Zion heard and was glad.
 The daughters of Judah rejoiced,
 because of your judgments, LORD.
⁹For you, LORD, are most high above all the earth.
 You are exalted far above all gods.
¹⁰You who love the LORD, hate evil.
 He preserves the souls of his faithful ones.
 He delivers them out of the hand of the wicked.
¹¹Light is sown for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart.
¹²Be glad in the LORD, you righteous people.
 Give thanks to his holy Name.

Psalm 98

A Psalm.

¹Sing to the LORD a new song,
 for he has done marvelous things.
 His right hand, and his holy arm, have worked salvation for him.
²The LORD has made known his salvation.
 He has openly shown his righteousness in the sight of the nations.
³He has remembered his loving kindness and his faithfulness toward
 the house of Israel.
 Every part of the earth has seen the salvation of our God.
⁴Make a joyful noise to the LORD, all the earth.
 Burst out and sing for joy, yes, sing praises.
⁵Sing praises to the LORD with the harp, with the harp and the voice of melody.
⁶With trumpets and sound of the ram's horn, make a joyful noise before the King, the LORD.
⁷Let the sea roar with its fullness;
 the world, and those who dwell in it.
⁸Let the rivers clap their hands.
 Let the mountains sing for joy together.
⁹Let them sing before the LORD,
 for he comes to judge the earth.
 He will judge the world with righteousness,
 and the peoples with equity.

Psalm 99

¹The LORD reigns. Let the peoples tremble.
 He sits enthroned among the cherubim;
 the earth shakes.
²The LORD is great in Zion.
 He is high above all the peoples.
³Let them praise your great and awesome name.
 He is Holy.
⁴The King's strength also loves justice.
 You do establish equity.
 You execute justice and righteousness in Jacob.
⁵Exalt the LORD our God.
 Worship at his footstool.
 He is Holy.
⁶Moses and Aaron were among his priests,
 Samuel among those who call on his name;
 they called on the LORD, and he answered them.
⁷He spoke to them in the pillar of cloud.
 They kept his testimonies,
 the statute that he gave them.
⁸You answered them, LORD our God.
 You are a God who forgave^b them,
 although you took vengeance for their doings.
⁹Exalt the LORD, our God.
 Worship at his holy mountain,
 for the LORD, our God, is holy.

^b99:8 El Nose

Psalm 100

A Psalm of thanksgiving.

- ¹Shout for joy to the LORD, all you lands.
²Serve the LORD with gladness.
Come before his presence with singing.
³Know that the LORD, he is God.
It is he who has made us, and we belong to him.^a
We are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.
⁴Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise.
Give thanks to him, and bless his name.
⁵For the LORD is good.
His loving kindness endures forever,
and his faithfulness to all generations.

Psalm 101

A Psalm by David.

- ¹I will sing of loving kindness and justice.
To you, LORD, I will sing praises.
²I will be careful to live a blameless life.
When will you come to me?
I will walk within my house with a blameless heart.
³I will set no vile thing before my eyes.
I hate the deeds of faithless men.
They will not cling to me.
⁴A perverse heart will be far from me.
I will have nothing to do with evil.
⁵I will silence whoever secretly slanders his neighbor.
I won't tolerate one who is haughty and conceited.
⁶My eyes will be on the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me.
He who walks in a perfect way,
he will serve me.
⁷He who practices deceit won't dwell within my house.
He who speaks falsehood won't be established before my eyes.
⁸Morning by morning, I will destroy all the wicked of the land;
to cut off all evildoers from the LORD's city.

Psalm 102

A Prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed and pours out his complaint before the LORD.

- ¹Hear my prayer, LORD.
Let my cry come to you.
²Do not hide your face from me in the day of my distress.
Turn your ear to me.
Answer me quickly in the day when I call.
³For my days consume away like smoke.
My bones are burned like a hearth.
⁴My heart is blighted like grass, and withered, for I forget to eat my bread.

^a100:3 Hebrew Mss MT Qere LXX Syr Vg. MT Kethib reads "and not we ourselves"

^b102:18 Hebrew: "Yah"

- ⁵By reason of the voice of my groaning,
my bones stick to my skin.
⁶I am like a pelican of the wilderness.
I have become as an owl of the waste places.
⁷I watch, and have become like a sparrow that is alone on the housetop.
⁸My enemies reproach me all day.
Those who are mad at me use my name as a curse.
⁹For I have eaten ashes like bread,
and mixed my drink with tears, ¹⁰Because of your indignation and your wrath,
for you have taken me up, and thrown me away.
¹¹My days are like a long shadow.
I have withered like grass.
¹²But you, LORD, will abide forever;
your renown endures to all generations.
¹³You will arise and have mercy on Zion;
for it is time to have pity on her.
Yes, the set time has come.
¹⁴For your servants take pleasure in her stones,
and have pity on her dust.
¹⁵So the nations will fear the name of the LORD;
all the kings of the earth your glory.
¹⁶For the LORD has built up Zion.
He has appeared in his glory.
¹⁷He has responded to the prayer of the destitute, and has not despised their prayer.
¹⁸This will be written for the generation to come,
that a people yet to be created may praise the LORD.^b ¹⁹For he has looked down from the height of his sanctuary.
From heaven, the LORD looked at the earth; ²⁰to hear the groans of the prisoner;
to free those who are condemned to death;
²¹that men may declare the name of the LORD in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem; ²²when the peoples are gathered together,
the kingdoms, to serve the LORD.
²³He weakened my strength along the course.
He shortened my days.
²⁴I said, "My God, do not take me away in the midst of my days.
Your years are throughout all generations.
²⁵In the beginning, LORD,^c you established the foundation of the earth.
The heavens are the works^d of your hands.
²⁶They will perish, but you remain;
and they will all wear out like a garment.
You will change them like a cloak, and they will be changed.
²⁷But you are the same.
Your years will have no end.^e ²⁸The children of your servants will continue, and their descendants will be established before you."

Psalm 103

By David.

- ¹Praise the LORD, my soul,

^c102:25 LXX Vg. MT lacks "LORD"

^d102:25 Hebrew Ms DSS LXX. MT reads "work"

^e102:25-27 Hebrews 1:10-12

and all that is within me, praise his holy name.
²Praise the LORD, my soul,
and do not forget all his benefits; ³who forgives all your sins;
who heals all your diseases;
⁴who redeems your life from destruction;
who crowns you with loving kindness and tender mercies; ⁵who satisfies you^a with good things;
your youth is renewed like the eagle's.
⁶The LORD executes righteous acts, and justice for all who are oppressed.
⁷He made known his ways to Moses,
his deeds to the children of Israel.
⁸The LORD is merciful and gracious,
slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness.
⁹He will not always accuse;
neither will he stay angry forever.
¹⁰He has not dealt with us according to our sins, nor repaid us for our iniquities.
¹¹For as the heavens are high above the earth,
so great is his loving kindness toward those who fear him.
¹²As far as the east is from the west,
so far has he removed our transgressions from us.
¹³Like a father has compassion on his children,
so the LORD has compassion on those who fear him.
¹⁴For he knows how we are made.
He remembers that we are dust.
¹⁵As for man, his days are like grass.
As a flower of the field, so he flourishes.
¹⁶For the wind passes over it, and it is gone,
and its place remembers it no more.
¹⁷But the LORD's loving kindness is from everlasting to everlasting with those who fear him,
his righteousness to children's children; ¹⁸to those who keep his covenant,
to those who remember to obey his precepts.
¹⁹The LORD has established his throne in the heavens.
His kingdom rules over all.
²⁰Praise the LORD, all^b you angels of his,
who are mighty in strength, who fulfill his word,
obeying the voice of his word.
²¹Praise the LORD, all you armies of his,
you servants of his, who do his pleasure.
²²Praise the LORD, all you works of his,
in all places of his dominion.
Praise the LORD, my soul.

Psalm 104

¹Bless the LORD, my soul.
The LORD, my God, you are very great.
You are clothed with splendor and majesty.
²He covers himself with light as with a garment.
He stretches out the heavens like a curtain.
³He lays the beams of his chambers in the waters.

He makes the clouds his chariot.
He walks on the wings of the wind.
⁴He makes his angels winds, and^c his servants a flame of fire.^d ⁵He laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be moved forever and ever.
⁶You covered it with the deep as with a cloak.
The waters stood above the mountains.
⁷At your rebuke they fled.
At the voice of your thunder they hurried away.
⁸The mountains rose,
the valleys sank down,
to the place which you had assigned to them.
⁹You have set a boundary that they may not pass over;
that they do not turn again to cover the earth.
¹⁰He sends forth springs into the valleys.
They run among the mountains.
¹¹They give drink to every animal of the field.
The wild donkeys quench their thirst.
¹²The birds of the sky nest by them;
among the branches they give forth a sound.^e ¹³He waters the mountains from his chambers.
The earth is filled with the fruit of your works.
¹⁴He causes the grass to grow for the livestock, and plants for man to cultivate,
that he may bring forth food out of the earth:
¹⁵wine that makes glad the heart of man,
oil to make his face to shine,
and bread that strengthens man's heart.
¹⁶The LORD's trees are well watered,
the cedars of Lebanon, which he has planted;
¹⁷where the birds make their nests.
The stork makes its home in the fir trees.
¹⁸The high mountains are for the wild goats.
The rocks are a refuge for the rock badgers.
¹⁹He appointed the moon for seasons.
The sun knows when to set.
²⁰You make darkness, and it is night,
in which all the animals of the forest prowl.
²¹The young lions roar after their prey,
and seek their food from God.
²²The sun rises, and they steal away,
and lie down in their dens.
²³Man goes forth to his work,
to his labor until the evening.
²⁴LORD, how many are your works.
In wisdom have you made them all.
The earth is full of your riches.
²⁵There is the sea, great and wide,
in which are innumerable living things,
both small and large animals.
²⁶There the ships go,
and leviathan, whom you formed to play there.
²⁷All of them look to you to give them^f their food at the proper time.
²⁸You give to them; they gather.
You open your hand; they are satisfied with good.
²⁹You hide your face: they are troubled;
you take away their breath: they die, and return to the dust.
³⁰You send forth your Spirit: they are created.

³¹Let the glory of the LORD endure forever.
 Let the LORD rejoice in his works.
³²He looks at the earth, and it trembles.
 He touches the mountains, and they smoke.
³³I will sing to the LORD all my life.
 I will sing praise to my God as long as I exist.

Psalm 105

¹Give thanks to the LORD. Call on his name.
 Make his deeds known among the peoples.
²Sing to him, sing praises to him.
 Tell of all his marvelous works.
³Glory in his holy name.
 Let the heart of those who seek the LORD rejoice.
⁴Seek the LORD and his strength.
 Seek his face forever more.
⁵Remember his marvelous works that he has done;
 his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth, ⁶you offspring of Abraham, his servant,
 you descendants of Jacob, his chosen ones.
⁷He is the LORD, our God.
 His judgments are in all the earth.
⁸He has remembered his covenant forever,
 the word which he commanded to a thousand generations, ⁹the covenant which he made with Abraham, his oath to Isaac,^b ¹⁰and confirmed the same to Jacob for a statute;
 to Israel as an everlasting covenant, ¹¹saying, "To you I will give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance;" ¹²when they were but a few men in number,
 yes, very few, and foreigners in it.
¹³They went about from nation to nation,
 from one kingdom to another people.
¹⁴He allowed no one to do them wrong.
 Yes, he reproved kings for their sakes,
¹⁵"Do not touch my anointed ones.
 Do my prophets no harm."
¹⁶He called for a famine on the land.
 He destroyed the food supplies.
¹⁷He sent a man ahead of them,
 Joseph, sold as a slave.
¹⁸They bruised his feet with shackles.
 His neck was locked in irons, ¹⁹until the time that his word happened,
 and the LORD's word proved him true.
²⁰The king sent and freed him;
 even the ruler of peoples, and let him go free.
²¹He made him lord of his house,
 and ruler of all of his possessions;

²²to discipline^c his princes at his pleasure,
 and to teach his elders wisdom.
²³Israel also came into Egypt.
 Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham.
²⁴He increased his people greatly,
 and made them stronger than their adversaries.
²⁵He turned their heart to hate his people,
 to conspire against his servants.
²⁶He sent Moses, his servant,
 and Aaron, whom he had chosen.
²⁷They performed miracles among them,
 and wonders in the land of Ham.
²⁸He sent darkness, and made it dark,
 but they^d rebelled against his words.
²⁹He turned their waters into blood,
 and killed their fish.
³⁰Their land swarmed with frogs,
 even in the chambers of their kings.
³¹He spoke, and swarms of flies came,
 and gnats in all their territory.
³²He gave them hail for rain,
 flaming fire in their land.
³³He struck their vines and also their fig trees,
 and shattered the trees of their country.
³⁴He spoke, and the locusts came,
 and the grasshoppers, without number, ³⁵ate up every plant in their land;
 and ate up the fruit of their ground.
³⁶He struck also all the firstborn in their land,
 the first fruits of all their manhood.
³⁷And he brought them out with silver and gold,
 and there was no one among their tribes who stumbled.
³⁸Egypt was glad when they departed,
 for the fear of them had fallen on them.
³⁹He spread a cloud for a covering,
 fire to give light in the night.
⁴⁰They asked, and he brought quails,
 and satisfied them with the bread of the sky.
⁴¹He opened the rock, and waters gushed out.
 They ran as a river in the dry places.
⁴²For he remembered his holy word,
 and Abraham, his servant.
⁴³He brought forth his people with joy,
 his chosen with singing.
⁴⁴He gave them the lands of the nations.
 They took the labor of the peoples in possession, ⁴⁵that they might keep his statutes, and observe his laws.

²Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD, or fully declare all his praise?
³Blessed are those who uphold justice, who practice righteousness at all times.
⁴Remember me, LORD, with the favor that you show to your people.
Visit me with your salvation,
⁵that I may see the prosperity of your chosen,
that I may rejoice in the gladness of your nation,
that I may glory with your inheritance.

⁶We have sinned with our fathers.
We have committed iniquity.
We have done wickedly.
⁷Our fathers did not understand your wonders in Egypt.
They did not remember the multitude of your loving kindnesses,
but were rebellious at the sea, even at the Sea at the End.^a ⁸Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake, that he might make his mighty power known.
⁹He rebuked the Sea at the End also, and it was dried up;
so he led them through the depths, as through a desert.
¹⁰He saved them from the hand of him who hated them,
and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.
¹¹The waters covered their adversaries.
There was not one of them left.
¹²Then they believed his words.
They sang his praise.

¹³They soon forgot his works.
They did not wait for his counsel, ¹⁴but gave in to craving in the desert,
and tested God in the wasteland.
¹⁵He gave them their request,
but sent leanness into their soul.
¹⁶They envied Moses also in the camp,
and Aaron, the LORD's holy one.
¹⁷The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.
¹⁸A fire was kindled in their company.
The flame burned up the wicked.
¹⁹They made a calf in Horeb, and worshiped a molten image.
²⁰Thus they exchanged their glory for an image of a bull that eats grass.
²¹They forgot God, their Savior,
who had done great things in Egypt, ²²Wondrous works in the land of Ham,
and awesome things by the Sea at the End.
²³Therefore he said that he would destroy them, had Moses, his chosen, not stood before him in the breach,
to turn away his wrath, so that he wouldn't destroy them.
²⁴Yes, they despised the pleasant land.
They did not believe his word, ²⁵but murmured in their tents,
and did not listen to the LORD's voice.
²⁶Therefore he swore to them that he would overthrow them in the wilderness, ²⁷and that he would make their offspring fall among the nations,
and scatter them in the lands.
²⁸They joined themselves also to Baal Peor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead.
²⁹Thus they provoked him to anger with their deeds.

^a106:7 Cf. Exodus 10:19 fn

The plague broke in on them.
³⁰Then Phinehas stood up, and executed judgment,
so the plague was stopped.
³¹That was credited to him as righteousness, for all generations to come.
³²They angered him also at the waters of Meribah,
so that Moses was troubled for their sakes; ³³because they were rebellious against his spirit,
he spoke rashly with his lips.
³⁴They did not destroy the peoples,
as the LORD commanded them, ³⁵but mixed themselves with the nations,
and learned their works.
³⁶They served their idols,
which became a snare to them.
³⁷Yes, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters to demons.
³⁸They shed innocent blood,
even the blood of their sons and of their daughters,
whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan.
The land was polluted with blood.
³⁹Thus were they defiled with their works,
and prostituted themselves in their deeds.
⁴⁰Therefore the LORD burned with anger against his people.
He abhorred his inheritance.
⁴¹He gave them into the hand of the nations.
Those who hated them ruled over them.
⁴²Their enemies also oppressed them.
They were brought into subjection under their hand.
⁴³Many times he delivered them,
but they were rebellious in their counsel,
and were brought low in their iniquity.
⁴⁴Nevertheless he regarded their distress,
when he heard their cry.
⁴⁵He remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his loving kindnesses.
⁴⁶He made them also to be pitied
by all those who carried them captive.

⁴⁷Save us, LORD, our God, gather us from among the nations,
to give thanks to your holy name,
to triumph in your praise.

⁴⁸Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, from everlasting to everlasting.
And let all the people say, "Amen."

BOOK V

Psalm 107

¹Give thanks to the LORD,
for he is good,
for his loving kindness endures forever.
²Let the redeemed by the LORD say so,
whom he has redeemed from the hand of the adversary, ³And gathered out of the lands,

^b106:48 Hebrew: "Yah"

from the east and from the west,
 from the north and from the south.
⁴They wandered in the wilderness in a desert way.
 They found no city to live in.
⁵Hungry and thirsty,
 their soul fainted in them.
⁶Then they cried to the LORD in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses, ⁷he led them also by a straight way,
 that they might go to a city to live in.
⁸Let them praise the LORD for his loving kindness,
 for his wonderful works for the descendants of Adam.
⁹For he satisfies the longing soul.
 He fills the hungry soul with good.
¹⁰Some sat in darkness and in the shadow of death,
 being bound in affliction and iron, ¹¹because they rebelled against the words of God, and condemned the counsel of the Most High.
¹²Therefore he brought down their heart with labor.
 They fell down, and there was none to help.
¹³Then they cried to the LORD in their trouble, and he saved them out of their distresses.
¹⁴He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and broke their bonds in sunder.
¹⁵Let them praise the LORD for his loving kindness,
 for his wonderful works for the descendants of Adam.
¹⁶For he has broken the gates of bronze,
 and cut through bars of iron.
¹⁷Fools are afflicted because of their disobedience, and because of their iniquities.
¹⁸Their soul abhors all kinds of food.
 They draw near to the gates of death.
¹⁹Then they cried to the LORD in their trouble;
 he saved them out of their distresses.
²⁰He sent his word and healed them;
 he delivered them from their traps.
²¹Let them praise the LORD for his loving kindness,
 for his wonderful works for the descendants of Adam.
²²Let them offer the sacrifices of thanksgiving,^a and declare his works with singing.
²³Those who go down to the sea in ships,
 who do business in great waters; ²⁴These see the LORD's works,
 and his wonders in the deep.
²⁵For he commands, and raises the stormy wind, which lifts up its waves.
²⁶They mount up to the sky; they go down again to the depths.
 Their soul melts away because of trouble.
²⁷They reel back and forth, and stagger like a drunken man,
 and are at their wits' end.
²⁸Then they cry to the LORD in their trouble, and he brings them out of their distress.
²⁹He makes the storm a calm,
 so that its waves are still.^b ³⁰Then they are glad because it is calm, so he brings them to their desired haven.
³¹Let them praise the LORD for his loving kindness,
 for his wonderful works for the descendants of Adam.
³²Let them exalt him also in the assembly of the people, and praise him in the seat of the elders.

³³He turns rivers into a desert,
 water springs into a thirsty ground, ³⁴and a fruitful land into a salt waste,
 for the wickedness of those who dwell in it.
³⁵He turns a desert into a pool of water,
 and a dry land into water springs.
³⁶There he makes the hungry live, that they may prepare a city to live in,
³⁷sow fields, plant vineyards, and reap the fruits of increase.
³⁸He blesses them also, so that they are multiplied greatly.
 He doesn't allow their livestock to decrease.
³⁹Again, they are diminished and bowed down through oppression, trouble, and sorrow.
⁴⁰He pours contempt on princes, and causes them to wander in a trackless waste.
⁴¹Yet he lifts the needy out of their affliction, and increases their families like a flock.
⁴²The upright will see it, and be glad.
 All the wicked will shut their mouths.
⁴³Whoever is wise will pay attention to these things.
 They will consider the loving kindnesses of the LORD.

Psalm 108

A Song. A Psalm by David.

¹My heart is steadfast, God.
 I will sing and I will make music with my soul.
²Wake up, harp and lyre.
 I will wake up the dawn.
³I will give thanks to you, LORD, among the nations.
 I will sing praises to you among the peoples.
⁴For your loving kindness is great above the heavens.
 Your faithfulness reaches to the skies.
⁵Be exalted, God, above the heavens.
 Let your glory be over all the earth.
⁶That your beloved may be delivered,
 save with your right hand, and answer us.
⁷God has spoken from his sanctuary: "In triumph,
 I will divide Shechem, and measure out the Valley of Succoth.
⁸Gilead is mine. Manasseh is mine.
 Ephraim also is my helmet.
 Judah is my scepter.
⁹Moab is my wash pot.
 I will toss my sandal on Edom.
 I will shout in triumph over Philistia."
¹⁰Who will bring me into the fortified city?
 Who has led me to Edom?
¹¹Haven't you rejected us, God?
 You do not go forth, God, with our armies.
¹²Give us help against the enemy,
 for the help of man is vain.
¹³Through God, we will do valiantly.
 For it is he who will trample down our enemies.

Psalm 109

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- ¹God of my praise, do not remain silent, ²for they have opened the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of deceit against me.
They have spoken to me with a lying tongue.
³They have also surrounded me with words of hatred,
and fought against me without a cause.
⁴In return for my love, they are my adversaries;
but I am in prayer.
⁵They have rewarded me evil for good,
and hatred for my love.
⁶Set a wicked man over him.
Let an adversary stand at his right hand.
⁷When he is judged, let him come forth guilty.
Let his prayer be turned into sin.
⁸Let his days be few.
Let another take his office.^a ⁹Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.
¹⁰Let his children be wandering beggars.
Let them be sought from their ruins.
¹¹Let the creditor seize all that he has.
Let strangers plunder the fruit of his labor.
¹²Let there be none to extend kindness to him, neither let there be any to have pity on his fatherless children.
¹³Let his posterity be cut off.
In the generation following let their name be blotted out.
¹⁴Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered by the LORD.
Do not let the sin of his mother be blotted out.
¹⁵Let them be before the LORD continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth; ¹⁶because he did not remember to show kindness, but persecuted the poor and needy man,
the broken in heart, to kill them.
¹⁷Yes, he loved cursing, and it came to him.
He did not delight in blessing, and it was far from him.
¹⁸He clothed himself also with cursing as with his garment.
It came into his inward parts like water,
like oil into his bones.
¹⁹Let it be to him as the clothing with which he covers himself, for the belt that is always around him.
²⁰This is the reward of my adversaries from the LORD,
of those who speak evil against my soul.
²¹But deal with me, the LORD the Lord, for your name's sake, because your loving kindness is good, deliver me;
²²for I am poor and needy.
My heart is wounded within me.
²³I fade away like an evening shadow.
I am shaken off like a locust.
²⁴My knees are weak through fasting.
My body is thin and lacks fat.
²⁵I have also become a reproach to them.
When they see me, they shake their head.
²⁶Help me, LORD, my God.

Psalm 120

A Song of Ascents.

¹In my distress, I cried to the LORD.
He answered me.
²Deliver my soul, LORD, from lying lips,
from a deceitful tongue.
³What will be given to you, and what will be done more to you,
you deceitful tongue?
⁴Sharp arrows of the mighty,
with coals of juniper.
⁵Woe is me, that I live in Meshech, that I dwell among the tents of Kedar.
⁶My soul has had her dwelling too long with him who hates peace.
⁷I am for peace,
but when I speak, they are for war.

Psalm 121

A Song of Ascents.

¹I will lift up my eyes to the hills.

Where does my help come from?
²My help comes from the LORD,
 who made heaven and earth.
³He will not allow your foot to be moved.
 He who keeps you will not slumber.
⁴Look, he who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.
⁵The LORD is your keeper.
 The LORD is your shade on your right hand.
⁶The sun will not harm you by day,
 nor the moon by night.
⁷The LORD will keep you from all evil.
 He will keep your soul.
⁸The LORD will keep your going out and your coming in,
 from this time forth, and forevermore.

Psalm 122

A Song of Ascents. By David.

¹I was glad when they said to me,
 "Let's go to the LORD's house."
²Our feet are standing within your gates, Jerusalem;
³Jerusalem is built as a city that is joined together;
⁴where the tribes go up, even the tribes of the LORD,^a according to an ordinance for Israel, to give thanks to the name of the LORD.
⁵For there are set thrones for judgment,
 the thrones of David's house.
⁶Pray for the peace of Jerusalem.
 Those who love you will prosper.
⁷Peace be within your walls,
 and prosperity within your palaces.
⁸For my brothers' and companions' sakes,
 I will now say, "Peace be within you."
⁹For the sake of the house of the LORD our God,
 I will seek your good.

Psalm 123

A Song of Ascents.

¹To you I do lift up my eyes,
 you who sit in the heavens.
²Look, as the eyes of servants look to the hand of their master, as the eyes of a maid to the hand of her mistress;
 so our eyes look to the LORD, our God,
 until he has mercy on us.
³Have mercy on us, LORD, have mercy on us,
 for we have endured much contempt.
⁴Our soul is exceedingly filled with the scoffing of those who are at ease,
 with the contempt of the proud.

Psalm 124

A Song of Ascents. By David.

¹If it had not been the LORD who was on our side,
 let Israel now say,
²if it had not been the LORD who was on our side,
 when men rose up against us;
³then they would have swallowed us up alive,
 when their wrath was kindled against us;
⁴then the waters would have overwhelmed us,
 the stream would have gone over our soul;
⁵then the proud waters would have gone over our soul.
⁶Blessed be the LORD,
 who has not given us as a prey to their teeth.
⁷Our soul has escaped like a bird out of the fowler's snare.
 The snare is broken, and we have escaped.
⁸Our help is in the name of the LORD,
 who made heaven and earth.

Psalm 125

A Song of Ascents.

¹Those who trust in the LORD are as Mount Zion, which cannot be moved, but remains forever.
²As the mountains surround Jerusalem, so the LORD surrounds his people from this time forth and forevermore.
³For the scepter of wickedness won't remain over the allotment of the righteous;
 so that the righteous won't use their hands to do evil.
⁴Do good, LORD, to those who are good,
 to those who are upright in their hearts.
⁵But as for those who turn aside to their crooked ways,
 The LORD will lead them away with evildoers.
 Peace be on Israel.

Psalm 126

A Song of Ascents.

¹When the LORD brought back those who returned to Zion,
 we were like those who dream.
²Then our mouth was filled with laughter,
 and our tongue with singing.
 Then they said among the nations,
 "The LORD has done great things for them."
³The LORD has done great things for us, and we are glad.
⁴Restore our fortunes again, LORD,
 like the streams in the Negev.
⁵Those who sow in tears will reap in joy.
⁶He who goes out weeping, carrying seed for sowing,
 will certainly come again with joy, carrying his sheaves.

Psalm 127

A Song of Ascents. By Solomon.

¹Unless the LORD builds the house,
 they labor in vain who build it.

^a122:4 Hebrew: "Yah"

Unless the LORD watches over the city,
the watchman guards it in vain.
²It is vain for you to rise up early,
to stay up late,
eating the bread of toil;
for he gives sleep to his loved ones.
³Look, children are a heritage of the LORD.
The fruit of the womb is a reward.
⁴As arrows in the hand of a mighty man,
so are the children of youth.
⁵Blessed is the man who has his quiver full of them.
They won't be disappointed when they speak with their enemies in the gate.

Psalm 128

A Song of Ascents.

¹Blessed is everyone who fears the LORD, who walks in his ways.
²For you will eat the labor of your hands;
you will be blessed, and it will be well with you.
³Your wife will be as a fruitful vine,
in the innermost parts of your house;
your children like olive plants,
around your table.
⁴Look, thus is the man blessed who fears the LORD.
⁵May the LORD bless you out of Zion, and may you see the good of Jerusalem all the days of your life.
⁶Yes, may you see your children's children.
Peace be upon Israel.

Psalm 129

A Song of Ascents.

¹Many times they have afflicted me from my youth up.
Let Israel now say,
²many times they have afflicted me from my youth up,
yet they have not prevailed against me.
³The plowers plowed on my back.
They made their furrows long.
⁴The LORD is righteous.
He has cut apart the cords of the wicked.
⁵Let them be disappointed and turned backward,
all those who hate Zion.
⁶Let them be as the grass on the housetops, which withers before it grows up; ⁷with which the reaper doesn't fill his hand,
nor he who binds sheaves, his bosom.
⁸Neither do those who go by say,
"The blessing of the LORD be on you.
We bless you in the name of the LORD."

Psalm 130

A Song of Ascents.

¹Out of the depths I have cried to you, LORD.
²Lord, hear my voice.
Let your ears be attentive to the voice of my petitions.
³If you, LORD,^a kept a record of sins,
Lord, who could stand?
⁴But there is forgiveness with you,
so that you may be revered.
⁵I wait for the LORD.
My soul waits.
I hope in his word.
⁶My soul longs for the Lord more than watchmen long for the morning;
more than watchmen for the morning.
⁷Israel, hope in the LORD,
for with the LORD there is loving kindness.
With him is abundant redemption.
⁸He will redeem Israel from all their sins.

Psalm 131

A Song of Ascents. By David.

¹LORD, my heart isn't haughty, nor my eyes lofty;
nor do I concern myself with great matters,
or things too wonderful for me.
²Surely I have stilled and quieted my soul,
like a weaned child with his mother,
like a weaned child is my soul within me.
³Israel, hope in the LORD,
from this time forth and forevermore.

Psalm 132

A Song of Ascents.

¹LORD, remember David and all his affliction, ²how he swore to the LORD,
and vowed to the Mighty One of Jacob:
³"Surely I will not come into the structure of my house,
nor go up into my bed;
⁴I will not give sleep to my eyes,
or slumber to my eyelids;
⁵until I find out a place for the LORD,
a dwelling for the Mighty One of Jacob."
⁶Look, we heard of it in Ephrathah.
We found it in the field of Jaar:
⁷"We will go into his dwelling place.
We will worship at his footstool."
⁸Arise, LORD, to your resting place,
you and the ark of your strength.
⁹Let your priest be clothed with righteousness.
Let your faithful ones shout for joy."
¹⁰For your servant David's sake,
do not turn away the face of your anointed one.
¹¹The LORD has sworn to David in truth.

^a130:3 Hebrew: "Yah"

He will not turn from it:
 “I will set the fruit of your body on your throne.
¹²If your children will keep my covenant,
 my testimony that I will teach them,
 their children also will sit on your throne forevermore.”
¹³For the LORD has chosen Zion;
 he has desired it for his dwelling.
¹⁴“This is my resting place forever.
 Here I will live, for I have desired it.
¹⁵I will abundantly bless her provision.
 I will satisfy her poor with bread.
¹⁶Her priests I will also clothe with salvation.
 Her faithful ones will shout aloud for joy.
¹⁷There I will make the horn of David to bud.
 I have ordained a lamp for my anointed.
¹⁸I will clothe his enemies with shame,
 but on himself, his crown will be resplendent.”

Psalm 133

A Song of Ascents. By David.

¹See how good and how pleasant it is for brothers to live together in unity.
²It is like the precious oil on the head,
 that ran down on the beard,
 even Aaron’s beard;
 that came down on the edge of his robes; ³like the dew of Hermon,
 that comes down on the hills of Zion:
 for there the LORD gives the blessing,
 even life forevermore.

Psalm 134

A Song of Ascents.

¹Look. Praise the LORD, all you servants of the LORD, who stand by night in the LORD’s house.
²Lift up your hands in the sanctuary.
 Praise the LORD.
³May the LORD bless you from Zion;
 even he who made heaven and earth.

Psalm 135

¹Praise the LORD.^a
 Praise the name of the LORD.
 Praise him, you servants of the LORD, ²you who stand in the house of the LORD,
 in the courts of our God’s house.
³Praise the LORD,^b for the LORD is good.
 Sing praises to his name, for that is pleasant.
⁴For the LORD^c has chosen Jacob for himself;
 Israel for his own possession.
⁵For I know that the LORD is great,
 that our Lord is above all gods.

^a135:1 Hebrew: “Yah”

^b135:3 Hebrew: “Yah”

⁶Whatever the LORD pleased, that he has done, in heaven and in earth, in the seas and in all deeps;
⁷who causes the clouds to rise from the farthest parts of the earth;
 who makes lightnings with the rain;
 who brings forth the wind out of his treasuries; ⁸Who struck the firstborn of Egypt,
 both of man and animal;
⁹Who sent signs and wonders into the midst of you, Egypt, on Pharaoh, and on all his servants;
¹⁰who struck many nations,
 and killed mighty kings, ¹¹Sihon king of the Amorites,
 Og king of Bashan,
 and all the kingdoms of Canaan, ¹²and gave their land for a heritage,
 a heritage to Israel, his people.
¹³Your name, LORD, endures forever;
 your renown, LORD, throughout all generations.
¹⁴For the LORD will judge his people,
 and have compassion on his servants.
¹⁵The idols of the nations are silver and gold,
 the work of men’s hands.
¹⁶They have mouths, but they can’t speak.
 They have eyes, but they can’t see.
¹⁷They have ears, but they can’t hear;
 neither is there any breath in their mouths.
¹⁸Those who make them will be like them;
 yes, everyone who trusts in them.
¹⁹House of Israel, praise the LORD.
 House of Aaron, praise the LORD.
²⁰House of Levi, praise the LORD.
 You who fear the LORD, praise the LORD.
²¹Blessed be the LORD from Zion, who dwells at Jerusalem.
 Praise the LORD.^d

Psalm 136

Psalm 137

¹By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down.
 Yes, we wept, when we remembered Zion.
²On the willows in its midst,
 we hung up our harps.
³For there, those who led us captive asked us for songs.
 Those who tormented us demanded songs of joy:
 "Sing us one of the songs of Zion."
⁴How can we sing the LORD's song in a foreign land?
⁵If I forget you, Jerusalem,
 let my right hand be forgotten.^b ⁶Let my tongue stick to the roof of my mouth if I do not remember
 you;
 if I do not prefer Jerusalem above my chief joy.
⁷Remember, LORD, against the descendants of Edom, the day of Jerusalem;
 who said, "Raze it.
 Raze it even to its foundation."
⁸Daughter of Babylon, doomed to destruction, he will be blessed who rewards you,
 as you have served us.
⁹Blessed shall he be who takes and dashes your little ones against the rock.

Psalm 138

By David.

¹I will give you thanks, LORD^c, with my whole heart.
 Before the gods^d I will sing praises to you.
²I will bow down toward your holy temple, and give thanks to your Name for your loving kindness and for your truth;
 for you have exalted your Name and your word above all.
³In the day that I called, you answered me.
 You encouraged me with strength in my soul.
⁴All the kings of the earth will give you thanks, LORD,
 for they have heard the words of your mouth.
⁵Yes, they will sing of the ways of the LORD;
 for great is the LORD's glory.
⁶For though the LORD is high, yet he looks after the lowly;
 but the proud, he knows from afar.
⁷Though I walk in the midst of trouble, you will revive me.
 You will stretch forth your hand against the wrath of my enemies.
 Your right hand will save me.
⁸The LORD will fulfill that which concerns me;
 your loving kindness, LORD, endures forever.
 Do not forsake the works of your own hands.

Psalm 139

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

¹LORD, you have searched me,
 and you know me.
²You know my sitting down and my rising up.
 You perceive my thoughts from afar.
³You search out my path and my lying down,
 and are acquainted with all my ways.
⁴For there is not a word on my tongue,
 but, look, LORD, you know it altogether.
⁵You encircle me behind and in front,
 and you place your hand upon me.
⁶This knowledge is beyond me.
 It's lofty.
 I can't attain it.
⁷Where could I go from your Spirit?
 Or where could I flee from your presence?
⁸If I ascend up into heaven, you are there.
 If I make my bed in Sheol, look, you are there.
⁹If I take the wings of the dawn,
 and settle in the uttermost parts of the sea;
¹⁰Even there your hand will lead me,
 and your right hand will hold me.
¹¹If I say, "Surely the darkness will overwhelm me;
 the light around me will be night;"
¹²even the darkness doesn't hide from you,
 but the night shines as the day.
 The darkness is like light to you.
¹³For you formed my inmost being.
 You knit me together in my mother's womb.
¹⁴I will give thanks to you,

^c138:3 DSS(11QPs (a)) LXX Tg Syr Vg. MT reads "Lord" for I am awesomely and wonderfully made.

 Your works are wonderful,
 and my soul knows that very well.
¹⁵My frame wasn't hidden from you,
 when I was made in secret,
 woven together in the depths of the earth.
¹⁶Your eyes saw my body.
 In your book they were all written,
 the days that were ordained for me,
 when as yet there were none of them.
¹⁷How precious to me are your thoughts, God.
 How vast is the sum of them.
¹⁸If I would count them, they are more in number than the sand.
 When I wake up, I am still with you.
¹⁹If only you, God, would kill the wicked.
 Get away from me, you bloodthirsty men.
²⁰For they speak against you wickedly.
 Your enemies take your name in vain.
²¹LORD, do I not hate those who hate you?
 Am I not grieved with those who rise up against you?
²²I hate them with perfect hatred.
 They have become my enemies.
²³Search me, God, and know my heart.
 Try me, and know my thoughts.
²⁴See if there is any wicked way in me,
 and lead me in the everlasting way.

Psalm 140

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

¹Deliver me, LORD, from the evil man.
 Preserve me from the violent man;
²those who devise mischief in their hearts.
 They continually gather themselves together for war.
³They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent.
 Viper's poison is under their lips.
 Selah.
⁴LORD, keep me from the hands of the wicked.
 Preserve me from the violent men who have determined to trip my feet.
⁵The proud have hidden a snare for me,
 they have spread the cords of a net by the path.
 They have set traps for me.
 Selah.
⁶I said to the LORD, "You are my God."
 Listen to the cry of my petitions, LORD.
⁷LORD, the Lord, the strength of my salvation,
 you have covered my head in the day of battle.
⁸LORD, do not grant the desires of the wicked.
 Do not let their evil plans succeed, or they will become proud.
 Selah.
⁹As for the head of those who surround me,
 let the mischief of their own lips cover them.
¹⁰Let burning coals fall on them.
 Let them be thrown into the fire,
 into miry pits, from where they never rise.
¹¹An evil speaker won't be established in the earth.
 Evil will hunt the violent man to overthrow him.
¹²I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted, and justice for the needy.
¹³Surely the righteous will give thanks to your name.
 The upright will dwell in your presence.

Psalm 141

A Psalm by David.

¹LORD, I have called on you.
 Come to me quickly.
 Listen to my voice when I call to you.
²Let my prayer be set before you like incense;
 the lifting up of my hands like the evening sacrifice.
³Set a watch, LORD, before my mouth.
 Keep the door of my lips.
⁴Do not incline my heart to any evil thing,
 to practice deeds of wickedness with men who work iniquity.
 Do not let me eat of their delicacies.
⁵Let the righteous strike me, it is kindness;
 let him reprove me, it is like oil on the head;
 do not let my head refuse it;
 Yet my prayer is always against evil deeds.
⁶Their judges are thrown down by the sides of the rock.
 They will hear my words, for they are well spoken.
⁷"As when one plows and breaks up the earth,
 our bones are scattered at the mouth of Sheol."
⁸For my eyes are on you, LORD, the Lord.
 In you, I take refuge.
 Do not leave my soul destitute.
⁹Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me,
 from the traps of evildoers.
¹⁰Let the wicked fall together into their own nets, while I pass by.

Psalm 142

A contemplation by David, when he was in the cave. A Prayer.

¹I cry with my voice to the LORD.
 With my voice, I ask the LORD for mercy.
²I pour out my complaint before him.
 I tell him my troubles.
³When my spirit was overwhelmed within me,
 you knew my path.
 In the way in which I walk,
 they have hidden a snare for me.
⁴Look on my right, and see;
 for there is no one who is concerned for me.
 Refuge has fled from me.
 No one cares for my soul.
⁵I cried to you, LORD.
 I said, "You are my refuge,
 my portion in the land of the living."
⁶Listen to my cry,
 for I am in desperate need.
 Deliver me from my persecutors,
 for they are stronger than me.
⁷Bring my soul out of prison,
 that I may give thanks to your name.
 The righteous will surround me,
 for you will be good to me.

Psalm 143

A Psalm by David.

¹Hear my prayer, LORD.
 Listen to my petitions.
 In your faithfulness and righteousness, relieve me.

²Do not enter into judgment with your servant,
 for in your sight no man living is righteous.

³For the enemy pursues my soul.
 He has struck my life down to the ground.
 He has made me live in dark places, as those who have been long dead.

⁴Therefore my spirit is overwhelmed within me.
 My heart within me is desolate.

⁵I remember the days of old.
 I meditate on all your doings.
 I contemplate the work of your hands.

⁶I spread forth my hands to you.
 My soul thirsts for you, like a parched land.

Selah.

⁷Hurry to answer me, LORD.
 My spirit fails.
 Do not hide your face from me,
 so that I do not become like those who go down into the pit.

⁸Cause me to hear your loving kindness in the morning, for I trust in you.
 Cause me to know the way in which I should walk,
 for I lift up my soul to you.

⁹Deliver me, LORD, from my enemies.
 I run to you for refuge.^a ¹⁰Teach me to do your will,

 for you are my God.
 Your Spirit is good.
 Lead me in the land of uprightness.

¹¹Revive me, LORD, for your name's sake.
 In your righteousness, bring my soul out of trouble.

¹²In your loving kindness, cut off my enemies, and destroy all those who afflict my soul,
 For I am your servant.

Psalm 144

By David.

¹Blessed be the LORD, my Rock, who teaches my hands to war,
 and my fingers to battle:

²my loving kindness, my fortress,
 my high tower, my deliverer,
 my shield, and he in whom I take refuge;
 who subdues peoples^b under me.

³LORD, what is man, that you care for him?
 Or the son of man, that you think of him?

⁴Man is like a breath.
 His days are like a shadow that passes away.

⁵Part your heavens, LORD, and come down.
 Touch the mountains, and they will smoke.

⁶Throw out lightning, and scatter them.
 Send out your arrows, and rout them.

⁷Stretch out your hand from above, rescue me, and deliver me out of great waters,
 out of the hands of foreigners;
⁸whose mouths speak deceit,

Whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

⁹I will sing a new song to you, God.
 On a ten-stringed lyre, I will sing praises to you.

¹⁰You are he who gives salvation to kings, who rescues David, his servant, from the deadly sword.

¹¹Rescue me, and deliver me out of the hands of foreigners, whose mouths speak deceit,
 whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

¹²Then our sons will be like well-nurtured plants,
 our daughters like pillars carved to adorn a palace.

¹³Our storehouses are full, filled with all kinds of provision.
 Our sheep bring forth thousands and ten thousands in our fields.

¹⁴Our oxen will pull heavy loads.
 There is no breaking in, and no going away,
 and no outcry in our streets.

¹⁵Blessed are the people who are in such a situation.
 Blessed are the people whose God is the LORD.

Proverbs

1 The proverbs of Solomon, the son of David, king of Israel:
²To know wisdom and instruction,
to discern the words of understanding.

³To receive instruction in wise dealing,
in righteousness, justice, and equity.

⁴To give shrewdness to the inexperienced, knowledge and discretion to the young man.

⁵A wise man will hear and increase in learning, and a man of understanding will attain to sound counsel.

⁶To understand a proverb, and parables,
the words and riddles of the wise.

⁷The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge;
but the foolish despise wisdom and instruction.

⁸My son, listen to your father's instruction,
and do not forsake your mother's teaching:

⁹for they will be a garland to grace your head,
and a necklace around your neck.

¹⁰My son, if sinners entice you, do not consent.

¹¹If they say, "Come with us,
Let's lie in wait for blood;
let's lurk secretly for the innocent without cause;

¹²let's swallow them up alive like Sheol,
and whole, like those who go down into the pit.

¹³We'll find all valuable wealth.
We'll fill our houses with spoil.

¹⁴Throw in your lot with us.
We'll all have one purse."

¹⁵My son, do not walk in the way with them.
Keep your foot from their path,

¹⁶for their feet run to evil.
They hurry to shed blood.

¹⁷For in vain is the net spread in the sight of any bird;
¹⁸but these lie in wait for their own blood.

They lurk secretly for their own lives.

¹⁹So are the ways of everyone who is greedy for gain.
It takes away the life of its owners.

²⁰Wisdom calls aloud in the street.
She utters her voice in the public squares.

²¹She calls at the head of noisy places.
At the entrance of the city gates, she utters her words:

²²"How long, you simple ones, will you love simplicity?
How long will mockers delight themselves in mockery,
and fools hate knowledge?"

²³Turn at my reproof.
Look, I will pour out my spirit on you.
I will make known my words to you.

²⁴Because I have called, and you have refused;
I have stretched out my hand, and no one has paid attention;

²⁵but you have ignored all my counsel,
and wanted none of my reproof;

²⁶I also will laugh at your disaster.
I will mock when calamity overtakes you;

²⁷when calamity overtakes you like a storm,
when your disaster comes on like a whirlwind;
when distress and anguish come on you.

²⁸Then will they call on me, but I will not answer.
They will seek me diligently, but they will not find me;

²⁹because they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the LORD.

³⁰They wanted none of my counsel.
They despised all my reproof.

³¹Therefore they will eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own schemes.

³²For the backsliding of the simple will kill them.
The careless ease of fools will destroy them.

³³But whoever listens to me will dwell securely, and will be at ease, without fear of harm."

2 My son, if you will receive my words, and store up my commandments within you;
²So as to turn your ear to wisdom,
and apply your heart to understanding;

³Yes, if you call out for discernment, and lift up your voice for understanding;

⁴If you seek her as silver,
and search for her as for hidden treasures:

⁵then you will understand the fear of the LORD,
and find the knowledge of God.

⁶For the LORD gives wisdom.
Out of his mouth comes knowledge and understanding.

⁷He lays up sound wisdom for the upright.
He is a shield to those who walk in integrity;

⁸that he may guard the paths of justice, and preserve the way of his faithful ones.^a ⁹Then you will understand righteousness and justice, equity and every good path.

¹⁰For wisdom will enter into your heart.
Knowledge will be pleasant to your soul.

¹¹Discretion will watch over you.
Understanding will keep you,

¹²to deliver you from the way of evil,
from the men who speak perverse things;

¹³who forsake the paths of uprightness, to walk in the ways of darkness;

¹⁴who rejoice to do evil,
and delight in the perverseness of evil;

¹⁵who are crooked in their ways,
and wayward in their paths:

¹⁶To deliver you from the strange woman,
even from the foreigner who flatters with her words;

¹⁷who forsakes the friend of her youth,
and forgets the covenant of her God:

¹⁸for her house leads down to death,
her paths to the dead.

¹⁹None who go to her return again,
neither do they attain to the paths of life:

²⁰that you may walk in the way of good men,
and keep the paths of the righteous.

²¹For the upright will dwell in the land.
The perfect will remain in it.

²²But the wicked will be cut off from the land.
The treacherous will be uprooted out of it.

3 My son, do not forget my teaching;
but let your heart keep my commandments:
²for length of days, and years of life,
and peace, will they add to you.

³Do not let kindness and truth forsake you.
Bind them around your neck.

^a2:8 MT Qere LXX Syr. MT Kethib reads sg

Write them on the tablet of your heart.
⁴So you will find favor,
 and good understanding in the sight of God and man.
⁵Trust in the LORD with all your heart, and do not lean on your own understanding.
⁶In all your ways remember him,
 and he will make your paths straight.
⁷Do not be wise in your own eyes.
 Fear the LORD, and depart from evil.
⁸It will be health to your body,
 and nourishment to your bones.
⁹Honor the LORD with your substance, with the first fruits of all your increase: ¹⁰so your storehouses will be filled with plenty,
 and your vats will overflow with new wine.
¹¹My son, do not despise the discipline of the LORD,
 nor resent his correction.
¹²For whom the LORD loves he disciplines, and punishes^a every^b son he accepts.^c ¹³Blessed is the man who finds wisdom,
 the man who gets understanding.
¹⁴For her good profit is better than getting silver,
 and her return is better than fine gold.
¹⁵She is more precious than rubies.
 None of the things you can desire are to be compared to her.
¹⁶Length of days is in her right hand.
 In her left hand are riches and honor.
¹⁷Her ways are ways of pleasantness.
 All her paths are peace.
¹⁸She is a tree of life to those who lay hold of her,
 and those who hold on to her are blessed.
¹⁹By wisdom the LORD founded the earth.
 By understanding, he established the heavens.
²⁰By his knowledge, the depths were broken up,
 and the skies drop down the dew.
²¹My son, let them not depart from your eyes.
 Keep sound wisdom and discretion:
²²so they will be life to your soul,
 and grace for your neck.
²³Then you shall walk in your way securely,
 and your foot won't stumble.
²⁴When you lie down, you will not be afraid;
 you will lie down, and your sleep will be sweet.
²⁵Do not be afraid of sudden fear, or of the storm of the wicked when it comes:
²⁶for the LORD will be your confidence, and will keep your foot from being taken.
²⁷Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due,
 when it is in the power of your hand to do it.
²⁸Do not say to your neighbor, "Go, and come again;
 tomorrow I will give it to you,"
 when you have it by you.
²⁹Do not devise evil against your neighbor,
 seeing he dwells securely by you.
³⁰Do not strive with a man without cause,
 if he has done you no harm.

^a3:12 LXX cf. BHS, reading mastigoi de = וְיַכְּ אִתְּךָ יְיָ אֱלֹהֶיךָ we yak'ib (Hiphil) "and punishes/inflicts pain," cf. Hol3663; BDB 4309; Proverbs 14:13, Job 5:18. MT reads וְיַכְּ אִתְּךָ "and as a father," a scribal misreading of the consonantal text

^b3:12 LXX, reading panta = kl. MT lacks "every" from homoioarcton by sight confusion: כָּל-כָּל

³¹Do not envy the man of violence.
 Choose none of his ways.
³²For the perverse is an abomination to the LORD,
 but his friendship is with the upright.
³³The LORD's curse is in the house of the wicked,
 but he blesses the habitation of the righteous.
³⁴Surely he is scornful to scoffers,^d
 but he gives grace to the humble.^e ³⁵The wise will inherit glory,
 but shame will be the promotion of fools.

4 Listen, sons, to a father's instruction.
 Pay attention and know understanding;
²for I give you sound learning.
 Do not forsake my law.
³For I was a son to my father, tender and an only child in the sight of my mother.
⁴He taught me, and said to me:
 "Let your heart retain my words.
 Keep my commandments, and live."
⁵Get wisdom.
 Get understanding.
 Do not forget, neither swerve from the words of my mouth.
⁶Do not forsake her, and she will preserve you.
 Love her, and she will keep you.
⁷Wisdom is supreme.
 Get wisdom.
 Yes, though it costs all your possessions, get understanding.
⁸Esteem her, and she will exalt you.
 She will bring you to honor, when you embrace her.
⁹She will give to your head a garland of grace.
 She will deliver a crown of splendor to you."

¹⁰Listen, my son, and receive my sayings.
 The years of your life will be many.
¹¹I have taught you in the way of wisdom.
 I have led you in straight paths.
¹²When you go, your steps will not be hampered.
 When you run, you will not stumble.
¹³Take firm hold of instruction.
 Do not let her go.
 Keep her, for she is your life.
¹⁴Do not enter into the path of the wicked.
 Do not walk in the way of evil men.
¹⁵Avoid it, and do not pass by it.
 Turn from it, and pass on.
¹⁶For they do not sleep, unless they do evil.
 Their sleep is taken away, unless they make someone fall.
¹⁷For they eat the bread of wickedness,
 and drink the wine of violence.
¹⁸But the path of the righteous is like a shining light, that shines brighter and brighter until the full day.
¹⁹The way of the wicked is like darkness.
 They do not know what they stumble over.
²⁰My son, attend to my words.
 Turn your ear to my sayings.

^c3:12 Vocalization based on LXX, reading paradechetai = yeratseh (Niph) "accepts" (Hol8041: "nif...be treated as acceptable"). MT vocalizes the same consonantal text as yirtseh (Qal) "delights" (Hol8041: "qal...be pleased with"). LXX translates Heb. yirtseh as eudokeo "delight in, pleased," in Job 14:16 and Psalm 147:10. Hebrews 12:5-6

^e3:34 James 4:6; 1Peter 5:5

²¹Let them not depart from your eyes.
Keep them in the midst of your heart.

²²For they are life to him who finds them,
and health to all of his body.

²³Guard your heart with all diligence, for out of it is the wellspring of life.

²⁴Put away from yourself a perverse mouth.
Put corrupt lips far from you.

²⁵Let your eyes look straight ahead.
Fix your gaze directly before you.

²⁶Make the path of your feet level.^a Let all of your ways be established.

Remove your foot from evil.

5 My son, pay attention to my wisdom.
Turn your ear to my understanding:
²that you may maintain discretion, that your lips may preserve knowledge.

³For the lips of an adulteress drip honey.
Her mouth is smoother than oil,

⁴But in the end she is as bitter as wormwood, and as sharp as a two-edged sword.

⁵Her feet go down to death.
Her steps lead straight to Sheol.

⁶She gives no thought to the way of life.
Her ways are crooked, and she doesn't know it.

⁷Now therefore, son,^b listen to me.
Do not depart from the words of my mouth.

⁸Remove your way far from her.
Do not come near the door of her house,

⁹lest you give your honor to others,
and your years to the mercilees;

¹⁰lest strangers feast on your wealth, and your labors enrich another man's house.

¹¹You will groan at your latter end,
when your flesh and your body are consumed,

¹²and say, "How I have hated instruction, and my heart despised reproof;

¹³neither have I obeyed the voice of my teachers,
nor turned my ear to those who instructed me.

¹⁴I have come to the brink of utter ruin,
in the midst of the gathered assembly."

¹⁵Drink water out of your own cistern, running water out of your own well.

¹⁶Should your springs overflow in the streets, streams of water in the public squares?

¹⁷Let them be for yourself alone, not for strangers with you.

¹⁸Let your spring be blessed.
Rejoice in the wife of your youth.

¹⁹A loving doe and a graceful deer—
let her breasts satisfy you at all times.
Be captivated always with her love.

²⁰For why should you, my son, be captivated with an adulteress?
Why embrace the bosom of another?

²¹For the ways of man are before the eyes of the LORD.
He examines all his paths.

²²The evil deeds of the wicked ensnare him.

The cords of his sin hold him firmly.

²³He will die for lack of instruction.
In the greatness of his folly, he will go astray.

6 My son, if you have become collateral for your neighbor, if you have struck your hand^c in pledge for a stranger;
²You are trapped by the words of your mouth.
You are ensnared with the words of your mouth.

³Do this now, my son, and deliver yourself,
seeing you have come into the hand of your neighbor.
Go, humble yourself.
Press your plea with your neighbor.

⁴Give no sleep to your eyes,
nor slumber to your eyelids.

⁵Free yourself, like a gazelle from the hand of the hunter, like a bird from the snare of the fowler.

⁶Go to the ant, you sluggard.
Consider her ways, and be wise;
⁷which having no chief, overseer, or ruler, ⁸provides her bread in the summer,
and gathers her food in the harvest.

⁹How long will you sleep, sluggard?
When will you arise out of your sleep?

¹⁰A little sleep, a little slumber,
a little folding of the hands to sleep:
¹¹so your poverty will come as a robber,
and your scarcity as an armed man.

¹²A worthless person, a man of iniquity, is he who walks with a perverse mouth;
¹³who winks with his eyes, who signals with his feet,
who motions with his fingers;

¹⁴in whose heart is perverseness, who devises evil continually,
who always sows discord.

¹⁵Therefore his calamity will come suddenly.
He will be broken suddenly, and that without remedy.

¹⁶There are six things which the LORD hates;
yes, seven which are an abomination to him:
¹⁷haughty eyes, a lying tongue,
hands that shed innocent blood;

¹⁸a heart that devises wicked schemes, feet that are swift in running to mischief, ¹⁹a false witness who utters lies,
and he who sows discord among brothers.

²⁰My son, keep your father's commandment,
and do not forsake your mother's teaching.

²¹Bind them continually on your heart.
Tie them around your neck.

²²When you walk, it will lead you.
When you sleep, it will watch over you.
When you awake, it will talk with you.

²³For the commandment is a lamp,
and the Law is light.
Reproofs of instruction are the way of life, ²⁴to keep you from the immoral woman,
from the flattery of the foreign woman.

²⁵Do not lust after her beauty in your heart,

^a:26 Hebrews 12:13

^b:5:7 LXX Vg cf. BHS. MT reads "my sons"

^c:6:1 Hebrew Mss LXX Syr Vg. MT reads "hands" neither let her captivate you with her eyelids.

²⁶For a prostitute reduces you to a piece of bread.
 The adulteress hunts for your precious life.
²⁷Can a man scoop fire into his lap,
 and his clothes not be burned?
²⁸Or can one walk on hot coals,
 and his feet not be scorched?
²⁹So is he who goes in to his neighbor's wife.
 Whoever touches her will not be unpunished.
³⁰Men do not despise a thief,
 if he steals to satisfy himself when he is hungry;
³¹but if he is found, he must repay seven times.
 He shall give all the wealth of his house.
³²He who commits adultery with a woman is void of understanding.
 He who does it destroys his own soul.
³³He will get wounds and dishonor.
 His reproach will not be wiped away.
³⁴For jealousy arouses the fury of the husband.
 He won't spare in the day of vengeance.
³⁵He won't regard any ransom, neither will he rest content, though you give many gifts.

7 My son, keep my words.
 Lay up my commandments within you.
²Keep my commandments and live.
 Guard my teaching as the apple of your eye.
³Bind them on your fingers.
 Write them on the tablet of your heart.
⁴Tell wisdom, "You are my sister."
 Call understanding your relative, ⁵that they may keep you from the strange woman,
 from the foreigner who flatters with her words.
⁶For at the window of my house,
 I looked out through my lattice.
⁷I saw among the simple ones.
 I discerned among the youths a young man void of understanding,
⁸passing through the street near her corner,
 he went the way to her house, ⁹in the twilight, in the evening of the day,
 in the middle of the night and in the darkness.
¹⁰Look, there a woman met him with the attire of a prostitute, and with crafty intent.
¹¹She is loud and defiant.
 Her feet do not stay in her house.
¹²Now she is in the streets, now in the squares,
 and lurking at every corner.
¹³So she caught him, and kissed him.
 With an impudent face she said to him:
¹⁴"Sacrifices of peace offerings are with me.
 This day I have paid my vows.
¹⁵Therefore I came out to meet you,
 to diligently seek your face,
 and I have found you.
¹⁶I have spread my couch with carpets of tapestry, with striped cloths of the yarn of Egypt.
¹⁷I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.
¹⁸Come, let's take our fill of loving until the morning.
 Let's solace ourselves with loving.
¹⁹For my husband isn't at home.
 He has gone on a long journey.
²⁰He has taken a bag of money with him.

He will come home at the full moon."
²¹With persuasive words, she led him astray.
 With the flattering of her lips, she seduced him.
²²He followed her immediately,
 as an ox goes to the slaughter,
 as a stag leaping into a trap, ²³till an arrow strikes through his liver;
 as a bird hurries to the snare,
 and doesn't know that it will cost his life.
²⁴Now therefore, son,^a listen to me.
 Pay attention to the words of my mouth.
²⁵Do not let your heart turn to her ways.
 Do not go astray in her paths,
²⁶for she has thrown down many wounded.
 Yes, all her slain are a mighty army.
²⁷Her house is the way to Sheol, going down to the chambers of death.

8 Doesn't wisdom cry out?
 Doesn't understanding raise her voice?
²On the top of high places by the way,
 where the paths meet, she stands.
³Beside the gates, at the entry of the city,
 at the entry doors, she cries aloud:
⁴"To you men, I call.
 I send my voice to the sons of humankind.
⁵You simple, understand prudence.
 You fools, be of an understanding heart.
⁶Hear, for I will speak excellent things.
 The opening of my lips is for right things.
⁷For my mouth speaks truth.
 Wickedness is an abomination to my lips.
⁸All the words of my mouth are in righteousness.
 There is nothing crooked or perverse in them.
⁹They are all plain to him who understands,
 right to those who find knowledge.
¹⁰Receive my instruction rather than silver;
 knowledge rather than choice gold.
¹¹For wisdom is better than rubies.
 All the things that may be desired can't be compared to it.
¹²"I, wisdom, have made prudence my dwelling.
 Find out knowledge and discretion.
¹³The fear of the LORD is to hate evil.
 I hate pride, arrogance, the evil way, and the perverse mouth.
¹⁴Counsel and sound knowledge are mine.
 I have understanding and power.
¹⁵By me kings reign,
 and rulers decree justice.
¹⁶By me princes rule;
 nobles, and all the righteous rulers of the earth.
¹⁷I love those who love me.
 Those who seek me diligently will find me.
¹⁸With me are riches, honor, enduring wealth, and prosperity.
¹⁹My fruit is better than gold, yes, than fine gold;
 my yield than choice silver.
²⁰I walk in the way of righteousness,
 in the midst of the paths of justice;
²¹That I may give wealth to those who love me.
 I fill their treasuries.

^a7:24 LXX Vg cf. BHS. MT reads "my sons"

²²“The LORD created me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old.
²³I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning,
before the earth existed.
²⁴When there were no depths, I was brought forth,
when there were no springs abounding with water.
²⁵Before the mountains were settled in place,
before the hills, I was brought forth; ²⁶while as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the beginning of the dust of the world.
²⁷When he established the heavens, I was there;
when he set a circle on the surface of the deep, ²⁸when he established the clouds above,
when the springs of the deep became strong, ²⁹when he gave to the sea its boundary, that the waters should not violate his commandment,
when he marked out the foundations of the earth;
³⁰then I was the craftsman by his side.
I was a delight day by day,
always rejoicing before him, ³¹Rejoicing in his whole world.
My delight was with the sons of men.

³²“Now therefore, son,^a listen to me,
for blessed are those who keep my ways.
³³Hear instruction, and be wise.
Do not refuse it.
³⁴Blessed is the man who hears me, watching daily at my gates,
waiting at my door posts.
³⁵For whoever finds me, finds life,
and will obtain favor from the LORD.
³⁶But he who sins against me wrongs his own soul.
All those who hate me love death.”

9 Wisdom has built her house.
She has set up^b her seven pillars.
¹She has prepared her meat.
She has mixed her wine.
She has also set her table.
²She has sent out her maidens.
She cries from the highest places of the city:
³“Whoever is simple, let him turn in here.”
As for him who is void of understanding, she says to him,
⁴“Come, eat some of my bread,
Drink some of the wine which I have mixed.
⁵Leave your simple ways, and live.
Walk in the way of understanding.”

⁶He who corrects a mocker invites insult.
He who reproves a wicked man invites abuse.
⁷Do not reprove a scoffer, lest he hate you.
Reprove a wise man, and he will love you.
⁸Instruct a wise man, and he will be still wiser.
Teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.
⁹The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom.
The knowledge of the Holy One is understanding.
¹⁰For by me your days will be multiplied.
The years of your life will be increased.
¹¹If you are wise, you are wise for yourself.
If you mock, you alone will bear it.

¹³The foolish woman is loud,
Undisciplined, and knows nothing.
¹⁴She sits at the door of her house,
on a seat in the high places of the city, ¹⁵To call to those who pass by,
who go straight on their ways,
¹⁶“Whoever is simple, let him turn in here.”
as for him who is void of understanding, she says to him, ¹⁷“Stolen water is sweet.
Food eaten in secret is pleasant.”
¹⁸But he doesn’t know that the dead are there, that her guests are in the depths of Sheol.

but he who forsakes reproof leads others astray.
¹⁸He who hides hatred has lying lips.
He who utters a slander is a fool.

but he who restrains his lips does wisely.
²⁰The tongue of the righteous is like choice silver.
The heart of the wicked is of little worth.
²¹The lips of the righteous feed many,
but the foolish die for lack of understanding.
²²The LORD’s blessing brings wealth,
and he adds no trouble to it.

but wisdom is a man of understanding's pleasure.
²⁴What the wicked fear, will overtake them,
 but the desire of the righteous will be granted.
²⁵When the whirlwind passes, the wicked is no more;
 but the righteous stand firm forever.
²⁶As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes,
 so is the sluggard to those who send him.

⁵A truthful witness will not lie,
 but a false witness pours out lies.
⁶A scoffer seeks wisdom, and doesn't find it,
 but knowledge comes easily to a discerning person.
⁷Stay away from a foolish man,
 for you won't find knowledge on his lips.
⁸The wisdom of the prudent is to think about his way,
 but the folly of fools is deceit.
⁹Fools mock at making atonement for sins, but among the upright there is good will.
¹⁰The heart knows its own bitterness and joy;
 he will not share these with a stranger.
¹¹The house of the wicked will be destroyed,
 but the tent of the upright will flourish.
¹²There is a way which seems right to a man,
 but in the end it leads to death.
¹³Even in laughter the heart may be sorrowful, and mirth may end in heaviness.
¹⁴The unfaithful will be repaid for his own ways;
 likewise a good man will be rewarded for his ways.
¹⁵A simple man believes everything,
 but the prudent man carefully considers his ways.
¹⁶A wise man is cautious^c and turns away from evil,
 but the fool is arrogant and reckless.
¹⁷He who is quick to become angry will commit folly,
 and a crafty man is hated.
¹⁸The simple inherit folly,
 but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.
¹⁹The evil bow down before the good,
 and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.
²⁰The poor person is shunned even by his own neighbor,

^a13:15 LXX adds "and to know the law is the sign of a sound understanding"

^b13:15 LXX Syr cf. BHS. MT reads "unfaithful is harsh"

^c14:16 Or, "fears"

but the rich person has many friends.
²¹He who despises his neighbor sins,
 but blessed is he who shows kindness to the poor.
²²Do they not go astray who plot evil?
 But love and faithfulness belong to those who plan good.
²³In all hard work there is profit,
 but the talk of the lips leads only to poverty.
²⁴The crown of the wise is their riches,
 but the folly of fools crowns them with folly.
²⁵A truthful witness saves souls,
 but a false witness is deceitful.
²⁶In the fear of the LORD is a secure fortress,
 and he will be a refuge for his children.
²⁷The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life,
 turning people from the snares of death.
²⁸In the multitude of people is the king's glory,
 but in the lack of people is the destruction of the prince.
²⁹He who is slow to anger has great understanding, but he who has a quick temper displays folly.
³⁰The life of the body is a heart at peace,
 but envy rots the bones.
³¹He who oppresses the poor shows contempt for his Maker, but he who is kind to the needy honors him.
³²The wicked is brought down in his calamity,
 but the righteous has a refuge in his death.
³³Wisdom rests in the heart of one who has understanding, and is even made known in the inward part of fools.
³⁴Righteousness exalts a nation,
 but sin is a disgrace to any people.
³⁵The king's favor is toward a servant who deals wisely, but his wrath is toward one who causes shame.

15 A gentle answer turns away wrath,
 but a harsh word stirs up anger.
²The tongue of the wise commends knowledge,
 but the mouth of fools gush out folly.

³The eyes of the LORD are everywhere, keeping watch on the evil and the good.
⁴A gentle tongue is a tree of life,
 but deceit in it crushes the spirit.
⁵A fool despises his father's correction,
 but he who heeds reproof shows prudence.
⁶In the house of the righteous is much treasure,
 but the income of the wicked brings trouble.
⁷The lips of the wise spread knowledge;
 not so with the heart of fools.
⁸The sacrifice made by the wicked is an abomination to the LORD,
 but the prayer of the upright is his delight.
⁹The way of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD,
 but he loves him who follows after righteousness.
¹⁰There is stern discipline for one who forsakes the way:
 whoever hates reproof shall die.
¹¹Sheol and Abaddon are before the LORD—
 how much more than the hearts of human beings.
¹²A scoffer doesn't love to be reproved;
 he will not go to the wise.
¹³A glad heart makes a cheerful face;
 but an aching heart breaks the spirit.
¹⁴The heart of one who has understanding seeks knowledge, but the mouths of fools feed on folly.
¹⁵All the days of the afflicted are wretched,
 but one who has a cheerful heart enjoys a continual feast.
¹⁶Better is little, with the fear of the LORD,
 than great treasure with trouble.
¹⁷Better is a dinner of herbs, where love is,

than a fattened calf with hatred.
¹⁸A wrathful man stirs up contention,
 but one who is slow to anger appeases strife.
¹⁹The way of the sluggard is like a thorn patch,
 but the path of the upright is a highway.
²⁰A wise son makes a father glad,
 but a foolish man despises his mother.
²¹Folly is joy to one who is void of wisdom,
 but a man of understanding keeps his way straight.
²²Where there is no counsel, plans fail;
 but in a multitude of counselors they are established.
²³Joy comes to a man with the reply of his mouth.
 How good is a word at the right time.
²⁴The path of life leads upward for the wise,
 to keep him from going downward to Sheol.
²⁵The LORD will uproot the house of the proud,
 but he will keep the widow's borders intact.
²⁶The LORD detests the thoughts of the wicked,
 but the thoughts of the pure are pleasing.
²⁷He who is greedy for gain troubles his own house,
 but he who hates bribes will live.
²⁸The heart of the righteous weighs answers,
 but the mouth of the wicked gushes out evil.
²⁹The LORD is far from the wicked,
 but he hears the prayer of the righteous.
³⁰The light of the eyes rejoices the heart.
 Good news gives health to the bones.
³¹The ear that listens to reproof lives,
 and will be at home among the wise.
³²He who refuses correction despises his own soul,
 but he who listens to reproof gets understanding.
³³The fear of the LORD teaches wisdom.
 Before honor is humility.

16 The plans of the heart belong to man,
 but the answer of the tongue is from the LORD.
²All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes;
 but the LORD weighs the motives.

³Entrust your works to the LORD, and your plans will be established.
⁴The LORD has made everything for its own end—
 yes, even the wicked for the day of evil.
⁵Everyone who is proud in heart is an abomination to the LORD:
 they shall certainly not be unpunished.
⁶By mercy and truth iniquity is atoned for.
 By the fear of the LORD men depart from evil.
⁷When a man's ways please the LORD,
 he makes even his enemies to be at peace with him.
⁸Better is a little with righteousness, than great revenues with injustice.
⁹A man's heart plans his course,
 but the LORD directs his steps.
¹⁰Inspired judgments are on the lips of the king.
 He shall not betray his mouth.
¹¹Honest balances and scales are the LORD's;
 all the weights in the bag are his work.
¹²It is an abomination to kings to do wickedness,
 for the throne is established by righteousness.
¹³Righteous lips are the delight of kings.
 They value one who speaks the truth.
¹⁴The king's wrath is a messenger of death,
 but a wise man will pacify it.
¹⁵In the light of the king's face is life.
 His favor is like a cloud of the spring rain.
¹⁶How much better it is to get wisdom than gold.

Yes, to get understanding is to be chosen rather than silver.
¹⁷The highway of the upright is to depart from evil.
 He who keeps his way preserves his soul.
¹⁸Pride goes before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall.
¹⁹It is better to be of a lowly spirit with the poor, than to divide the plunder with the proud.
²⁰He who heeds the word finds prosperity, and blessed is he who trusts in the LORD.
²¹The wise in heart shall be called prudent.
 Pleasantness of the lips promotes instruction.
²²Understanding is a fountain of life to one who has it,
 but the punishment of fools is their folly.
²³The heart of the wise instructs his mouth, and adds learning to his lips.
²⁴Pleasant words are a honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.
²⁵There is a way which seems right to a man,
 but in the end it leads to death.
²⁶The appetite of the laboring man labors for him;
 for his mouth urges him on.
²⁷A worthless man devises mischief.
 His speech is like a scorching fire.
²⁸A perverse man stirs up strife,
 and a gossip separates close friends.
²⁹A man of violence entices his neighbor,
 and leads him in a way that is not good.
³⁰One who winks his eyes to plot perversities,
 one who compresses his lips, is bent on evil.
³¹Gray hair is a crown of glory.
 It is found in the path of righteousness.
³²One who is slow to anger is better than the mighty;
 one who rules his spirit, than he who takes a city.
³³The lot is cast into the lap,
 but its every decision is from the LORD.

17 Better is a dry morsel with quietness, than a house full of feasting with strife.
²A servant who deals wisely will rule over a son who causes shame,
 and shall have a part in the inheritance among the brothers.
³The refining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold,
 but the LORD tests the hearts.
⁴An evildoer heeds wicked lips.
 A liar gives ear to a mischievous tongue.
⁵Whoever mocks the poor reproaches his Maker.
 He who is glad at calamity shall not be unpunished.
⁶Children's children are the crown of old men;
 the glory of children are their parents.
⁷Arrogant speech isn't fitting for a fool, much less do lying lips fit a prince.
⁸A bribe is a precious stone in the eyes of him who gives it;
 wherever he turns, he prospers.
⁹He who covers an offense promotes love;
 but he who repeats a matter separates best friends.
¹⁰A rebuke enters deeper into one who has understanding than a hundred lashes into a fool.
¹¹An evil man seeks only rebellion;
 therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.
¹²Let a bear robbed of her cubs meet a man,
 rather than a fool in his folly.
¹³Whoever rewards evil for good,
 evil shall not depart from his house.
¹⁴The beginning of strife is like breaching a dam, therefore stop contention before quarreling breaks out.

¹⁵He who justifies the wicked, and he who condemns the righteous,
 both of them alike are an abomination to the LORD.
¹⁶Why is there money in the hand of a fool to buy wisdom, seeing he has no understanding?
¹⁷A friend loves at all times;
 and a brother is born for adversity.
¹⁸A man void of understanding strikes hands,
 and becomes collateral in the presence of his neighbor.
¹⁹He who loves disobedience loves strife.
 One who builds a high gate seeks destruction.
²⁰One who has a perverse heart doesn't find prosperity,
 and one who has a deceitful tongue falls into trouble.
²¹He who becomes the father of a fool grieves.
 The father of a fool has no joy.
²²A cheerful heart makes good medicine,
 but a crushed spirit dries up the bones.
²³A wicked man receives a bribe in secret, to pervert the ways of justice.
²⁴Wisdom is before the face of one who has understanding, but the eyes of a fool wander everywhere.
²⁵A foolish son brings grief to his father,
 and bitterness to her who bore him.
²⁶Also to punish the righteous is not good,
 nor to flog officials for their integrity.
²⁷He who spares his words has knowledge.
 He who is even tempered is a man of understanding.
²⁸Even a fool, when he keeps silent, is counted wise.
 When he shuts his lips, he is thought to be discerning.

18 An unfriendly man pursues selfishness, and defies all sound judgment.
²A fool has no delight in understanding, but only in revealing his own opinion.
³When wickedness comes, contempt also comes,
 and with shame comes disgrace.
⁴The words of a man's mouth are like deep waters.
 The fountain of wisdom is like a flowing brook.
⁵To be partial to the faces of the wicked is not good,
 nor to deprive the innocent of justice.
⁶A fool's lips come into strife,
 and his mouth invites beatings.
⁷A fool's mouth is his destruction, and his lips are a snare to his soul.
⁸The words of a gossip are like tasty morsels, and they go down into a person's innermost parts.
⁹One who is slack in his work is brother to him who is a master of destruction.
¹⁰The name of the LORD is a strong tower;
 the righteous run into it and are safe.
¹¹The rich man's wealth is his strong city,
 like an unscalable wall in his own imagination.
¹²Before destruction the heart of man is proud,
 but before honor is humility.
¹³He who gives answer before he hears,
 that is folly and shame to him.
¹⁴A man's spirit will sustain him in sickness,
 but a crushed spirit, who can bear?
¹⁵The heart of the discerning gets knowledge.
 The ear of the wise seeks knowledge.
¹⁶A man's gift makes room for him,
 and brings him before great men.
¹⁷He who pleads his cause first seems right;
 until another comes and questions him.
¹⁸The lot settles disputes, and keeps strong ones apart.

- ¹⁹A brother offended is more difficult than a fortified city;
and disputes are like the bars of a fortress.
²⁰A man's stomach is filled with the fruit of his mouth.
With the harvest of his lips he is satisfied.
²¹Death and life are in the power of the tongue;
those who love it will eat its fruit.
²²Whoever finds a wife finds a good thing,
and obtains favor of the LORD.
²³The poor plead for mercy,
but the rich answer harshly.
²⁴A man of many companions may be ruined,
but there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother.

- 19 Better is the poor who walks in his integrity than he who is perverse in his lips and is a fool.
²It isn't good to have zeal without knowledge;
nor being hasty with one's feet and missing the way.
³The foolishness of man subverts his way;
his heart rages against the LORD.
⁴Wealth adds many friends,
but the poor is separated from his friend.
⁵A false witness shall not be unpunished.
He who pours out lies shall not go free.
⁶Many will seek the favor of a ruler, and everyone is a friend to a man who gives gifts.
⁷All the relatives of the poor shun him:
how much more do his friends avoid him.
He pursues them with pleas, but they are gone.
⁸He who gets wisdom loves his own soul.
He who keeps understanding shall find good.
⁹A false witness shall not be unpunished.
He who utters lies shall perish.
¹⁰Delicate living is not appropriate for a fool, much less for a servant to have rule over princes.
¹¹The discretion of a man makes him slow to anger.
It is his glory to overlook an offense.
¹²The king's wrath is like the roaring of a lion,
but his favor is like dew on the grass.
¹³A foolish son is the calamity of his father.
A wife's quarrels are a continual dripping.
¹⁴House and riches are an inheritance from fathers,
but a prudent wife is from the LORD.
¹⁵Slothfulness casts into a deep sleep.
The idle soul shall suffer hunger.
¹⁶He who keeps the commandment keeps his soul,
but he who is contemptuous in his ways shall die.
¹⁷He who has pity on the poor lends to the LORD;
he will reward him.
¹⁸Discipline your son, for there is hope;
do not be a willing party to his death.
¹⁹A hot-tempered man must pay the penalty, for if you rescue him, you must do it again.
²⁰Listen to counsel and receive instruction,
that you may be wise in your latter end.
²¹There are many plans in a man's heart,
but the LORD's counsel will prevail.
²²That which makes a man to be desired is his kindness.
A poor man is better than a liar.
²³The fear of the LORD leads to life, then contentment;
he rests and will not be touched by trouble.
²⁴The sluggard buries his hand in the dish;
he will not so much as bring it to his mouth again.
²⁵Flog a scoffer, and the simple will learn prudence;
rebuke one who has understanding, and he will gain knowledge.

- ²⁶He who robs his father and drives away his mother,
is a son who causes shame and brings reproach.
²⁷If you stop listening to instruction, my son,
you will stray from the words of knowledge.
²⁸A corrupt witness mocks justice,
and the mouth of the wicked gulps down iniquity.
²⁹Penalties are prepared for scoffers, and beatings for the backs of fools.

20 Wine is a mocker, and beer is a brawler.
Whoever is led astray by them is not wise.
²The terror of a king is like the roaring of a lion.
He who provokes him to anger forfeits his own life.

- ³It is an honor for a person to keep away from strife,
but every fool quarrels.
⁴The sluggard will not plow by reason of the winter;
therefore he shall beg in harvest, and have nothing.
⁵Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water;
but a man of understanding will draw it out.
⁶Many men claim to be men of unflinching love,
but who can find a faithful man?
⁷A righteous man walks in integrity;
blessed are his children after him.
⁸A king who sits on the throne of judgment scatters away all evil with his eyes.
⁹Who can say, "I have made my heart pure.
I am clean and without sin?"
¹⁰Differing weights and differing measures,
both of them alike are an abomination to the LORD.
¹¹Even a child makes himself known by his doings, whether his work is pure, and whether it is right.
¹²The hearing ear, and the seeing eye,
The LORD has made even both of them.
¹³Do not love sleep, lest you come to poverty.
Open your eyes, and you shall be satisfied with bread.
¹⁴"It's no good, it's no good," says the buyer;
but when he is gone his way, then he boasts.
¹⁵There is gold and abundance of rubies;
but the lips of knowledge are a rare jewel.
¹⁶Take the garment of one who puts up collateral for a stranger;
and hold him in pledge for a wayward woman.
¹⁷Fraudulent food is sweet to a man,
but afterwards his mouth is filled with gravel.
¹⁸Plans are established by advice;
by wise guidance you wage war.
¹⁹He who goes about as a tale-bearer reveals secrets; therefore do not keep company with him who opens wide his lips.
²⁰Whoever curses his father or his mother,
his lamp shall be put out in blackness of darkness.
²¹An inheritance quickly gained at the beginning, won't be blessed in the end.
²²Do not say, "I will pay back evil."
Wait for the LORD, and he will save you.
²³The LORD detests differing weights, and dishonest scales are no good.
²⁴A man's steps are from the LORD;
how then can man understand his way?
²⁵It is a snare to a man to make a rash dedication, then later to consider his vows.
²⁶A wise king winnows out the wicked,
and drives the threshing wheel over them.
²⁷The spirit of man is the LORD's lamp, searching all his innermost parts.
²⁸Love and faithfulness keep the king safe.

His throne is sustained by love.

- ²⁹The glory of young men is their strength.
The splendor of old men is their gray hair.
³⁰Wounding blows cleanse away evil,
and beatings purge the innermost parts.

21 The king's heart is in the LORD's hand like the watercourses.

He turns it wherever he desires.

- ²Every way of a man is right in his own eyes,
but the LORD weighs the hearts.
³To do righteousness and justice is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.
⁴A high look, and a proud heart,
the lamp of the wicked, is sin.
⁵The plans of the diligent surely lead to profit;
and everyone who is hasty surely rushes to poverty.
⁶Getting treasures by a lying tongue is a fleeting vapor for those who seek death.
⁷The violence of the wicked will drive them away,
because they refuse to do what is right.
⁸The way of the guilty is devious,
but the conduct of the innocent is upright.
⁹It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop,
than to share a house with a contentious woman.
¹⁰The soul of the wicked desires evil;
his neighbor finds no mercy in his eyes.
¹¹When the mocker is punished, the simple gains wisdom.
When the wise is instructed, he receives knowledge.
¹²The Righteous One considers the house of the wicked, and brings the wicked to ruin.
¹³Whoever stops his ears at the cry of the poor,
he will also cry out, but shall not be heard.
¹⁴A gift in secret pacifies anger;
and a bribe in the cloak, strong wrath.
¹⁵It is joy to the righteous to do justice;
but it is a destruction to evildoers.
¹⁶The man who wanders out of the way of understanding shall rest in the assembly of the dead.
¹⁷He who loves pleasure shall be a poor man.
He who loves wine and oil shall not be rich.
¹⁸The wicked is a ransom for the righteous;
the treacherous for the upright.
¹⁹It is better to dwell in a desert land,
than with a contentious and fretful woman.
²⁰There is precious treasure and oil in the dwelling of the wise;
but a foolish man swallows it up.
²¹He who follows after righteousness and kindness finds life, righteousness, and honor.
²²A wise man scales the city of the mighty,
and brings down the strength of its confidence.
²³Whoever guards his mouth and his tongue keeps his soul from troubles.
²⁴The proud and haughty man, "scoffer" is his name;
he works in the arrogance of pride.
²⁵The desire of the sluggard kills him,
for his hands refuse to labor.
²⁶There are those who covet greedily all day long;
but the righteous give and do not withhold.
²⁷The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination:
how much more, when he brings it with a wicked mind.
²⁸A false witness will perish,

and a man who listens speaks to eternity.

- ²⁹A wicked man hardens his face;
but as for the upright, he establishes his ways.
³⁰There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the LORD.
³¹The horse is prepared for the day of battle;
but victory is with the LORD.

22 A good name is more desirable than great riches,
and loving favor is better than silver and gold.

²The rich and the poor have this in common:

The LORD is the maker of them all.

- ³A prudent man sees danger, and hides himself;
but the simple pass on, and suffer for it.
⁴The result of humility and the fear of the LORD is wealth, honor, and life.
⁵Thorns and snares are in the path of the wicked:
whoever guards his soul stays from them.
⁶Train a child in the way he should go,
and when he is old he will not depart from it.
⁷The rich rule over the poor.
The borrower is servant to the lender.
⁸He who sows wickedness reaps trouble,
and the rod of his fury will fail.
God blesses a cheerful and generous person,
but the vanity of his deeds he will bring to an end.^a ⁹He who has a generous eye will be blessed;
for he shares his food with the poor.
¹⁰Drive out the mocker, and strife will go out;
yes, quarrels and insults will stop.
¹¹He who loves purity of heart and speaks gracefully is the king's friend.
¹²The eyes of the LORD watch over knowledge;
but he frustrates the words of the unfaithful.
¹³The sluggard says, "There is a lion outside.
I will be killed in the streets."
¹⁴The mouth of an adulteress is a deep pit:
he who is under the LORD's wrath will fall into it.
¹⁵Folly is bound up in the heart of a child:
the rod of discipline drives it far from him.
¹⁶Whoever oppresses the poor for his own increase and whoever gives to the rich,
both come to poverty.
¹⁷The words of the wise: Incline your ear and hear my words,^b and apply your heart to my instruction.
¹⁸For it is a pleasant thing if you keep them within you,
if all of them are ready on your lips.
¹⁹That your trust may be in the LORD,
I teach you today, even you.
²⁰Haven't I written to you thirty excellent things of counsel and knowledge, ²¹To teach you truth, reliable words,
to give sound answers to the ones who sent you?
²²Do not exploit the poor, because he is poor;
and do not crush the needy in court;
²³for the LORD will plead their case,
and plunder the life of those who plunder them.
²⁴Do not befriend a hot-tempered man,
and do not associate with one who harbors anger:
²⁵lest you learn his ways,

^a22:8 LXX. MT lacks "God blesses...end" from a two-word homoioteleuton ^b22:17 LXX. MT has a different word order, and lacks "my words" and ensnare your soul.

²⁶Do not be one of those who strike hands,
of those who are collateral for debts.

²⁷If you do not have means to pay,
why should he take away your bed from under you?

²⁸Do not move the ancient boundary stone, which your fathers have set up.

²⁹Do you see a man skilled in his work?
He will serve kings.
He won't serve obscure men.

23 When you sit to eat with a ruler,
consider diligently what is before you;
²put a knife to your throat,
if you are a man given to appetite.

³Do not be desirous of his dainties, seeing they are deceitful food.

⁴Do not weary yourself to be rich.
In your wisdom, show restraint.

⁵Why do you set your eyes on that which is not?
For it certainly sprouts wings like an eagle and flies in the sky.

⁶Do not eat the food of him who has a stingy eye, and do not crave his delicacies:
⁷for as he thinks about the cost, so he is.
“Eat and drink.” he says to you,
but his heart is not with you.

⁸The morsel which you have eaten you shall vomit up,
and lose your good words.

⁹Do not speak in the ears of a fool,
for he will despise the wisdom of your words.

¹⁰Do not move the ancient boundary stone.
Do not encroach on the fields of the fatherless:
¹¹for their Defender is strong.
He will plead their case against you.

¹²Apply your heart to instruction, and your ears to the words of knowledge.

¹³Do not withhold correction from a child.
If you punish him with the rod, he will not die.

¹⁴Punish him with the rod, and save his soul from Sheol.

¹⁵My son, if your heart is wise,
then my heart will be glad, even mine:

¹⁶yes, my heart will rejoice,
when your lips speak what is right.

¹⁷Do not let your heart envy sinners;
but rather fear the LORD all the day long.

¹⁸For surely there is a future,
and your hope will not be cut off.

¹⁹Listen, my son, and be wise,
and keep your heart on the right path.

²⁰Do not be among ones drinking too much wine, or those who gorge themselves on meat:

²¹for the drunkard and the glutton shall become poor;
and drowsiness clothes them in rags.

²²Listen to your father who gave you life,

and do not despise your mother when she is old.

²³Buy the truth, and do not sell it.
Get wisdom, discipline, and understanding.

²⁴The father of the righteous has great joy.
Whoever fathers a wise child delights in him.

²⁵Let your father and your mother be glad.
Let her who bore you rejoice.

²⁶My son, give me your heart;
and let your eyes keep in my ways.

²⁷For a prostitute is a deep pit;
and a wayward wife is a narrow well.

²⁸Yes, she lies in wait like a robber, and increases the unfaithful among men.

²⁹Who has woe?
Who has sorrow?

Who has strife?
Who has complaints?

Who has needless bruises?
Who has bloodshot eyes?

³⁰Those who stay long at the wine;
those who go to seek out mixed wine.

³¹Do not look at the wine when it is red,
when it sparkles in the cup,

when it goes down smoothly.
³²In the end, it bites like a serpent, and poisons like a viper.

³³Your eyes will see strange things, and your mind will imagine confusing things.

³⁴Yes, you will be as he who lies down in the midst of the sea,
or as he who lies on top of the rigging:

³⁵“They hit me, and I was not hurt.
They beat me, and I do not feel it.

When will I wake up? I can do it again.
I can find another.”

24 Do not be envious of evil men;
neither desire to be with them:
²for their hearts plot violence,
and their lips talk about mischief.

³Through wisdom a house is built;
by understanding it is established;

⁴by knowledge the rooms are filled with all rare and beautiful treasure.

⁵A wise man has great power;
and a knowledgeable man increases strength;

⁶for by wise guidance you wage your war;
and victory is in many advisors.

⁷Wisdom is too high for a fool:
he doesn't open his mouth in the gate.

⁸One who plots to do evil will be called a schemer.

⁹The schemes of folly are sin.
The mocker is detested by men.

¹⁰If you falter in the time of trouble, your strength is small.

¹¹Rescue those who are being led away to death.
Indeed, hold back those who are staggering to the slaughter.

¹²If you say, “Look, we did not know this;”
doesn't he who weighs the hearts consider it?

He who keeps your soul, doesn't he know it?

Shall he not render to every man according to his work?^a

^a24:12 Romans 2:6

¹³My son, eat honey, for it is good;
the droppings of the honeycomb, which are sweet to your taste.

¹⁴Likewise, know that wisdom is such to your soul;
if you have found it, then there will be a reward,
and your hope will not be cut off.

¹⁵Do not lie in wait, wicked man, against the habitation of the righteous.

Do not destroy his resting place.

¹⁶For the righteous may fall seven times, but gets up again, but the wicked will stumble in adversity.

¹⁷Do not rejoice when your enemy falls.
Do not let your heart be glad when he is overthrown;

¹⁸lest the LORD see it, and it displease him,
and he turn away his wrath from him.

¹⁹Do not fret yourself because of evildoers;
neither be envious of the wicked:

²⁰for there will be no reward to the evil man;
and the lamp of the wicked shall be snuffed out.

²¹My son, fear the LORD and the king.
Do not join those who are rebellious:

²²for their calamity will rise suddenly;
the destruction from them both—who knows?

²³These also are sayings of the wise.

To show partiality in judgment is not good.

²⁴He who says to the wicked, “You are righteous;”
peoples shall curse him, and nations shall abhor him—

²⁵but it will go well with those who convict the guilty, and a rich blessing will come on them.

²⁶An honest answer is like a kiss on the lips.

²⁷Prepare your work outside,
and get your fields ready.
Afterwards, build your house.

²⁸Do not be a witness against your neighbor without cause.
Do not deceive with your lips.

²⁹Do not say, “I will do to him as he has done to me;
I will render to the man according to his work.”

³⁰I went by the field of the sluggard, by the vineyard of the man void of understanding;

³¹Look, it was all grown over with thorns.
Its surface was covered with nettles,
and its stone wall was broken down.

³²Then I saw, and considered well.
I saw, and received instruction:

³³a little sleep, a little slumber,
a little folding of the hands to sleep;

³⁴so your poverty will come as a robber,
and your want as an armed man.

25 These also are proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out.

²It is the glory of God to conceal a thing, but the glory of kings is to search out a matter.

³As the heavens for height, and the earth for depth,
so the hearts of kings are unsearchable.

⁴Take away the dross from the silver, and material comes out for the refiner;

⁵Take away the wicked from the king’s presence, and his throne will be established in righteousness.

⁶Do not exalt yourself in the presence of the king,
or claim a place among great men;

⁷for it is better that it be said to you, “Come up here,” than that you should be put lower in the presence of the prince,
whom your eyes have seen.

⁸Do not be hasty in bringing charges to court.
What will you do in the end when your neighbor shames you?

⁹Debate your case with your neighbor,
and do not betray the confidence of another;

¹⁰lest one who hears it put you to shame,
and your bad reputation never depart.

¹¹A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in settings of silver.

¹²As an earring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold,
so is a wise reprover to an obedient ear.

¹³As the cold of snow in the time of harvest,
so is a faithful messenger to those who send him;
for he refreshes the soul of his masters.

¹⁴As clouds and wind without rain,
so is he who boasts of gifts deceptively.

¹⁵By patience a ruler is persuaded.
A soft tongue breaks the bone.

¹⁶Have you found honey?
Eat as much as is sufficient for you,
lest you eat too much, and vomit it.

¹⁷Let your foot be seldom in your neighbor’s house,
lest he be weary of you, and hate you.

¹⁸A man who gives false testimony against his neighbor is like a club, a sword, or a sharp arrow.

¹⁹Confidence in someone unfaithful in time of trouble is like a bad tooth, or a lame foot.

²⁰As one who takes away a garment in cold weather,
or vinegar on soda,
so is one who sings songs to a heavy heart.

²¹If your enemy is hungry, give him something^a to eat.^b
If he is thirsty, give him something^c to drink,

²²for by doing this^d you will heap coals of fire on his head,^e and the LORD will reward you.

²³The north wind brings forth rain:
so a backbiting tongue brings an angry face.

²⁴It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop,
than to share a house with a contentious woman.

²⁵Like cold water to a thirsty soul,
so is good news from a far country.

²⁶Like a muddied spring, and a polluted well, so is a righteous man who gives way before the wicked.

²⁷It is not good to eat much honey;
nor is it honorable to seek one’s own honor.

²⁸Like a city that is broken down and without walls is a man whose spirit is without restraint.

26 Like snow in summer, and as rain in harvest,
so honor is not fitting for a fool.

²Like a fluttering sparrow,
like a darting swallow,
so the undeserved curse doesn’t come to rest.

^a25:21 LXX Syr Vg. MT adds “bread”

^b25:21 Or, “hungry, feed him.” Lit. “give him to eat”

^e25:22 To “heap coals of fire on his head” is a metaphor for an action by someone that will produce remorse in the other person. Romans 12:20

- ³A whip is for the horse,
a bridle for the donkey,
and a rod for the back of fools.
- ⁴Do not answer a fool according to his folly,
lest you also be like him.
- ⁵Answer a fool according to his folly,
lest he be wise in his own eyes.
- ⁶One who sends a message by the hand of a fool is cutting off feet and drinking violence.
- ⁷Like the legs of the lame that hang loose:
so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
- ⁸As one who binds a stone in a sling,
so is he who gives honor to a fool.
- ⁹Like a thornbush that goes into the hand of a drunkard,
so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
- ¹⁰As an archer who wounds all,
so is he who hires a fool or he who hires those who pass by.
- ¹¹As a dog that returns to his vomit,^a so is a fool who repeats his folly.
- ¹²Do you see a man wise in his own eyes?
There is more hope for a fool than for him.
- ¹³The sluggard says, "There is a lion in the road.
A fierce lion roams the streets."
- ¹⁴As the door turns on its hinges,
so does the sluggard on his bed.
- ¹⁵The sluggard buries his hand in the dish.
He is too lazy to bring it back to his mouth.
- ¹⁶The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes than seven men who answer with discretion.
- ¹⁷Like one who grabs a dog's ears is one who passes by and meddles in a quarrel not his own.
- ¹⁸Like a madman who shoots firebrands, arrows, and death, ¹⁹is the man who deceives his neighbor and says, "Am I not joking?"
- ²⁰Without wood a fire goes out.
Without gossip, contention ceases.
- ²¹As coals are to hot embers,
and wood to fire,
so is a contentious man to kindling strife.
- ²²The words of a gossip are as tasty morsels,
they go down into the innermost parts.
- ²³Like silver dross on an earthen vessel are the lips of a fervent one with an evil heart.
- ²⁴A malicious man disguises himself with his lips,
but he harbors evil in his heart.
- ²⁵When his speech is charming, do not believe him;
for there are seven abominations in his heart.
- ²⁶His malice may be concealed by deception,
but his wickedness will be exposed in the assembly.
- ²⁷Whoever digs a pit shall fall into it.
Whoever rolls a stone, it will come back on him.
- ²⁸A lying tongue hates those it hurts;
and a flattering mouth works ruin.

27 Do not boast about tomorrow;
for you do not know what a day may bring forth.
²Let another man praise you,
and not your own mouth;
a stranger, and not your own lips.

- ³A stone is heavy,
and sand is a burden;

- but a fool's provocation is heavier than both.
- ⁴Wrath is cruel,
and anger is overwhelming;
but who is able to stand before jealousy?
- ⁵Better is open rebuke
than hidden love.
- ⁶Faithful are the wounds of a friend;
although the kisses of an enemy are profuse.
- ⁷A full soul loathes a honeycomb;
but to a hungry soul, every bitter thing is sweet.
- ⁸As a bird that wanders from her nest,
so is a man who wanders from his home.
- ⁹Perfume and incense bring joy to the heart;
so does earnest counsel from a man's friend.
- ¹⁰Do not forsake your friend and your father's friend.
Do not go to your brother's house in the day of your disaster:
better is a neighbor who is near than a distant brother.
- ¹¹Be wise, my son,
and bring joy to my heart,
then I can answer my tormentor.
- ¹²A prudent man sees danger and takes refuge;
but the simple pass on, and suffer for it.
- ¹³Take his garment when he puts up collateral for a stranger.
Hold it for a wayward woman.
- ¹⁴He who blesses his neighbor with a loud voice early in the morning,
it will be taken as a curse by him.
- ¹⁵A continual dropping on a rainy day
and a contentious wife are alike:
- ¹⁶restraining her is like restraining the wind,
or like grasping oil in his right hand.
- ¹⁷Iron sharpens iron;
so a man sharpens his friend's countenance.
- ¹⁸Whoever tends the fig tree shall eat its fruit.
He who looks after his master shall be honored.
- ¹⁹As water reflects a face,
so a man's heart reflects the man.
- ²⁰Sheol and Abaddon are never satisfied;
and a man's eyes are never satisfied.
- ²¹The crucible is for silver,
and the furnace for gold;
but man is refined by his praise.
- ²²Though you grind a fool in a mortar with a pestle along with grain, yet his foolishness will not be removed from him.
- ²³Know well the state of your flocks,
and pay attention to your herds:
- ²⁴for riches are not forever,
nor does even the crown endure to all generations.
- ²⁵The hay is removed, and the new growth appears,
the grasses of the hills are gathered in.
- ²⁶The lambs are for your clothing,
and the goats are the price of a field.
- ²⁷There will be plenty of goats' milk for your food,
for your family's food,
and for the nourishment of your servant girls.

28 The wicked flee when no one pursues;
but the righteous are as bold as a lion.
²In rebellion, a land has many rulers,

^a26:11 2Peter 2:22

- but order is maintained by a man of understanding and knowledge.
- ³A needy man who oppresses the poor is like a driving rain which leaves no crops.
- ⁴Those who forsake the Law praise the wicked; but those who keep the Law contend with them.
- ⁵Evil men do not understand justice; but those who seek the LORD understand it fully.
- ⁶Better is the poor who walks in his integrity, than he who is perverse in his ways, and he is rich.
- ⁷Whoever keeps the Law is a wise son; but he who is a companion of gluttons shames his father.
- ⁸He who increases his wealth by excessive interest gathers it for one who has pity on the poor.
- ⁹He who turns away his ear from hearing the Law, even his prayer is an abomination.
- ¹⁰Whoever causes the upright to go astray in an evil way, he will fall into his own trap; but the blameless will inherit good.
- ¹¹The rich man is wise in his own eyes; but the poor who has understanding sees through him.
- ¹²When the righteous triumph, there is great glory; but when the wicked rise, men hide themselves.
- ¹³He who conceals his sins doesn't prosper, but whoever confesses and renounces them finds mercy.
- ¹⁴Blessed is the man who is always reverent; but the one who hardens his heart will fall into evil.
- ¹⁵As a roaring lion or a charging bear, so is a wicked ruler over helpless people.
- ¹⁶A prince who lacks understanding is a cruel oppressor, but one who hates ill-gotten gain will prolong his days.
- ¹⁷A man who is tormented by life blood will be a fugitive until death; no one will support him.
- ¹⁸Whoever walks blamelessly is kept safe; but one with perverse ways will fall suddenly.
- ¹⁹One who works his land will have an abundance of food; but one who chases fantasies will have his fill of poverty.
- ²⁰A faithful man is rich with blessings; but one who is eager to be rich will not go unpunished.
- ²¹To show partiality is not good; yet a man will do wrong for a piece of bread.
- ²²A stingy man hurries after riches, and doesn't know that poverty waits for him.
- ²³One who rebukes a man will afterward find more favor than one who flatters with the tongue.
- ²⁴Whoever robs his father or his mother, and says, "It's not wrong." He is a partner with a destroyer.
- ²⁵One who is greedy stirs up strife; but one who trusts in the LORD will prosper.
- ²⁶One who trusts in himself is a fool; but one who walks in wisdom is kept safe.
- ²⁷One who gives to the poor has no lack; but one who closes his eyes will have many curses.
- ²⁸When the wicked rise, men hide themselves; but when they perish, the righteous thrive.
- 29 He who is often rebuked and stiffens his neck will be destroyed suddenly, with no remedy.
²When the righteous thrive, the people rejoice; but when the wicked rule, the people groan.
- ³Whoever loves wisdom brings joy to his father; but a companion of prostitutes squanders his wealth.
- ⁴The king by justice makes the land stable, but he who takes bribes tears it down.
- ⁵A man who flatters his neighbor spreads a net for his feet.
- ⁶An evil man is snared by his sin, but the righteous can sing and be glad.
- ⁷The righteous is concerned about justice for the poor. The wicked does not understand the concern.
- ⁸Mockers stir up a city, but wise men turn away anger.
- ⁹If a wise man goes to court with a foolish man, the fool rages or scoffs, and there is no peace.
- ¹⁰The bloodthirsty hate a man of integrity; and they seek the life of the upright.
- ¹¹A fool vents all of his anger, but a wise man brings himself under control.
- ¹²If a ruler listens to lies, all of his officials are wicked.
- ¹³The poor man and the oppressor have this in common: The LORD gives sight to the eyes of both.
- ¹⁴The king who fairly judges the poor, his throne shall be established forever.
- ¹⁵The rod of correction gives wisdom, but a child left to himself causes shame to his mother.
- ¹⁶When the wicked increase, sin increases; but the righteous will see their downfall.
- ¹⁷Correct your son, and he will give you peace; yes, he will bring delight to your soul.
- ¹⁸Where there is no revelation, the people cast off restraint; but he who keeps the law is blessed.
- ¹⁹A servant can't be corrected by words. Though he understands, yet he will not respond.
- ²⁰Do you see a man who is hasty in his words? There is more hope for a fool than for him.
- ²¹He who pampers his servant from youth will have him become a son in the end.
- ²²An angry man stirs up strife, and a wrathful man abounds in sin.
- ²³A man's pride brings him low, but one of lowly spirit gains honor.
- ²⁴Whoever is an accomplice of a thief is an enemy of his own soul. He takes an oath, but dares not testify.
- ²⁵The fear of man proves to be a snare, but whoever puts his trust in the LORD will be set on high.
- ²⁶Many seek the ruler's favor, but a man's justice comes from the LORD.
- ²⁷A dishonest man detests the righteous, and the upright in their ways detest the wicked.
- 30 The words of Agur the son of Jakeh, the oracle: the man says to Ithiel, to Ithiel and Ucal:
- ²"Surely I am the most ignorant man, and do not have a man's understanding.
- ³I have not learned wisdom, neither do I have the knowledge of the Holy One.
- ⁴Who has ascended up into heaven, and descended? Who has gathered the wind in his fists? Who has bound the waters in his garment? Who has established every part of the earth? What is his name, and what is his son's name, if you know?
- ⁵"Every word of God is flawless. He is a shield to those who take refuge in him.
- ⁶Do not add to his words, lest he reprove you, and you be found a liar.

⁷“Two things I have asked of you;
do not deny me before I die:
⁸Remove far from me falsehood and lies.
Give me neither poverty nor riches.
Feed me with the food that is needful for me;
⁹lest I be full, deny you, and say, ‘Who is the LORD?’
or lest I be poor, and steal,
and so dishonor the name of my God.

¹⁰“Do not slander a servant to his master,
lest he curse you, and you be held guilty.
¹¹There is a generation that curses their father,
and doesn’t bless their mother.
¹²There is a generation that is pure in their own eyes,
yet are not washed from their filthiness.
¹³There is a generation, oh how lofty are their eyes.
Their eyelids are lifted up.
¹⁴There is a generation whose teeth are like swords,
and their jaws like knives, to devour the poor from the earth, and the needy from among men.

¹⁵“The leach has two daughters:
‘Give, give.’

“There are three things that are never satisfied;
four that do not say, ‘Enough.’
¹⁶Sheol, the barren womb;
the earth that is not satisfied with water;
and the fire that doesn’t say, ‘Enough.’

¹⁷“The eye that mocks at his father, and scorns obedience to his mother:
the ravens of the valley shall pick it out,
the young eagles shall eat it.

¹⁸“There are three things which are too amazing for me,
four which I do not understand:
¹⁹The way of an eagle in the air;
the way of a serpent on a rock;
the way of a ship in the midst of the sea;
and the way of a man with a maiden.

²⁰“So is the way of an adulterous woman:
she eats and wipes her mouth,
and says, ‘I have done nothing wrong.’

²¹“For three things the earth tremble, and under four, it can’t bear up:
²²For a servant when he is king;
a fool when he is filled with food; ²³for an unloved woman when she is married;
and a handmaid who is heir to her mistress.

²⁴“There are four things which are little on the earth,
but they are exceedingly wise:
²⁵the ants are not a strong people,
yet they provide their food in the summer.
²⁶The conies are but a feeble folk,
yet make they their houses in the rocks.
²⁷The locusts have no king,
yet they advance in ranks.
²⁸You can catch a lizard with your hands,
yet it is in kings’ palaces.

²⁹“There are three things which are stately in their march,

four which are stately in going:
³⁰The lion, which is mightiest among animals, and doesn’t turn away for any;
³¹the greyhound,
the male goat also;
and the king against whom there is no rising up.

³²“If you have done foolishly in lifting up yourself, or if you have thought evil,
put your hand over your mouth.
³³For as the churning of milk brings forth butter,
and the wringing of the nose brings forth blood;
so the forcing of wrath brings forth strife.”

31 The words of king Lemuel; the oracle which his mother taught him.

²“Oh, my son.

Oh, son of my womb.

Oh, son of my vows.

³Do not give your strength to women,
nor your ways to that which destroys kings.

⁴It is not for kings, O Lemuel;
it is not for kings to drink wine,
or for princes to take strong drink,

⁵lest they drink, and forget the decree,
and pervert the justice due to anyone who is afflicted.

⁶Give strong drink to him who is ready to perish;
and wine to the bitter in soul:

⁷Let him drink, and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more.

⁸Open your mouth for the mute,
in the cause of all who are left desolate.

⁹Open your mouth, judge righteously, and serve justice to the poor and needy.”

Ecclesiastes

1 The words of the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem:

¹²I, the Preacher, was king over Israel in Jerusalem. ¹³I applied my heart to seek and to search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under the sky. It is a heavy burden that God has given to the sons of men to be afflicted with. ¹⁴I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and look, all is vanity and a chasing after wind. ¹⁵That which is crooked can't be made straight; and that which is lacking can't be counted. ¹⁶I said to myself, “Look, I have obtained for myself great wisdom above all who were before me in Jerusalem. Yes, my heart has had great experience of wisdom and knowledge.” ¹⁷I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly. I perceived that this also was a chasing after wind. ¹⁸For in much wisdom is much grief; and he who increases knowledge increases sorrow.

2 I said in my heart, “Come now, I will test you with mirth: therefore enjoy pleasure;” and look, this also was vanity. ²I said of laughter, “It is foolishness;” and of mirth, “What does it accomplish?”

³I searched in my heart how to cheer my flesh with wine, my heart yet guiding me with wisdom, and how to lay hold of folly, until I might see what it was good for the sons of men that they should do

under heaven all the days of their lives. ⁴I made myself great works. I built myself houses. I planted myself vineyards. ⁵I made myself gardens and parks, and I planted trees in them of all kinds of fruit. ⁶I made myself pools of water, to water from it the forest where trees were reared. ⁷I bought male servants and female servants, and had servants born in my house. I also had great possessions of herds and flocks, above all who were before me in Jerusalem; ⁸I also gathered silver and gold for myself, and the treasure of kings and of the provinces. I got myself male and female singers, and the delights of the sons of men—musical instruments, and that of all sorts. ⁹So I was great, and increased more than all who were before me in Jerusalem. My wisdom also remained with me. ¹⁰Whatever my eyes desired, I did not keep from them. I did not withhold my heart from any joy, for my heart rejoiced because of all my labor, and this was my portion from all my labor. ¹¹Then I looked at all the works that my hands had worked, and at the labor that I had labored to do; and look, all was vanity and a chasing after wind, and there was no profit under the sun.

¹²I turned myself to consider wisdom, madness, and folly. For what can the man who comes after the king do? Just that which he^a has already done. ¹³Then I saw that wisdom excels folly, as far as light excels darkness. ¹⁴The wise man's eyes are in his head, and the fool walks in darkness—and yet I perceived that one event happens to them all. ¹⁵Then said I in my heart, “As it happens to the fool, so will it happen even to me; and why was I then more wise?” Then said I in my heart that this also is vanity. ¹⁶For of the wise man, even as of the fool, there is no memory for ever, seeing that in the days to come all will have been long forgotten. Indeed, the wise man must die just like the fool.

¹⁷So I hated life, because the work that is worked under the sun was grievous to me; for all is vanity and a chasing after wind. ¹⁸I hated all my labor in which I labored under the sun, seeing that I must leave it to the man who comes after me. ¹⁹Who knows whether he will be a wise man or a fool? Yet he will have rule over all of my labor in which I have labored, and in which I have shown myself wise under the sun. This also is vanity.

²⁰Therefore I began to cause my heart to despair concerning all the labor in which I had labored under the sun. ²¹For there is a man whose labor is with wisdom, with knowledge, and with skillfulness; yet he shall leave it for his portion to a man who has not labored for it. This also is vanity and a great evil. ²²For what has a man of all his labor, and of the striving of his heart, in which he labors under the sun? ²³For all his days are sorrows, and his travail is grief; yes, even in the night his heart takes no rest. This also is vanity. ²⁴There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink, and make his soul enjoy good in his labor. This also I saw, that it is from the hand of God. ²⁵For who can eat and who can have enjoyment apart from him?^b ²⁶For to the man who pleases him, God gives wisdom, knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner he gives travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him who pleases God. This also is vanity and a chasing after wind.

3 For everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under heaven:
²a time to be born,
 and a time to die;
 a time to plant,
 and a time to pluck up that which is planted; ³a time to kill,
 and a time to heal;

a time to break down,
 and a time to build up;
⁴a time to weep,
 and a time to laugh;
 a time to mourn,
 and a time to dance;
⁵a time to cast away stones,
 and a time to gather stones together;
 a time to embrace,
 and a time to refrain from embracing;
⁶a time to seek,
 and a time to lose;
 a time to keep,
 and a time to cast away;
⁷a time to tear,
 and a time to sew;
 a time to keep silence,
 and a time to speak;
⁸a time to love,
 and a time to hate;
 a time for war,
 and a time for peace.

⁹What profit has he who works in that in which he labors? ¹⁰I have seen the burden which God has given to the sons of men to be afflicted with. ¹¹He has made everything beautiful in its time. He has also set eternity in their hearts, yet so that man can't find out the work that God has done from the beginning even to the end. ¹²I know that there is nothing better for them than to rejoice, and to do good as long as they live. ¹³Also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy good in all his labor, is the gift of God. ¹⁴I know that whatever God does, it shall be forever. Nothing can be added to it, nor anything taken from it; and God has done it, that men should fear before him. ¹⁵That which is has been long ago, and that which is to be has been long ago: and God seeks again that which is passed away.

¹⁶Moreover I saw under the sun, in the place of justice, that wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was there. ¹⁷I said in my heart, “God will judge the righteous and the wicked; for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work.” ¹⁸I said in my heart, “As for the sons of men, God tests them, so that they may see that they themselves are like animals. ¹⁹For that which happens to the sons of men happens to animals. Even one thing happens to them. As the one dies, so the other dies. Yes, they have all one breath; and man has no advantage over the animals: for all is vanity. ²⁰All go to one place. All are from the dust, and all turn to dust again. ²¹Who knows the spirit of man, whether it goes upward, and the spirit of the animal, whether it goes downward to the earth?”

²²Therefore I saw that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his works; for that is his portion: for who can bring him to see what will be after him?

4 Then I returned and saw all the oppressions that are done under the sun: and look, the tears of those who were oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors there was power; but they had no comforter. ²Therefore I praised the dead who have been long dead more than the living who are yet alive. ³Yes, better than them both is him who has not yet been, who has not seen the evil work that is done under the sun. ⁴Then I saw all the labor and achievement that is the envy of a man's neighbor. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

⁵The fool folds his hands together and ruins himself. ⁶Better is a handful, with quietness, than two handfuls with labor and chasing after wind.

⁷Then I returned and saw vanity under the sun. ⁸There is one who is alone, and he has neither son nor brother. There is no end to all of his labor, neither are his eyes satisfied with wealth. For whom then, do I labor, and deprive my soul of enjoyment? This also is vanity, yes, it is a miserable business.

¹³Better is a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king who doesn't know how to receive admonition any more. ¹⁴For out of prison he came forth to be king; yes, even in his kingdom he was born poor. ¹⁵I saw all the living who walk under the sun, that they were with the youth, the other, who succeeded him. ¹⁶There was no end of all the people, even of all them over whom he was—yet those who come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a chasing after wind.

5 Guard your step^a when you go to the house of God. To draw near to listen is better than to give the sacrifice of fools, for they do not know that they do evil. ²Do not be rash with your mouth, and do not let your heart be hasty to utter anything before God; for God is in heaven, and you on earth. Therefore let your words be few. ³For as a dream comes with a multitude of cares, so a fool's speech with a multitude of words. ⁴When you vow a vow to God, do not defer to pay it; for he has no pleasure in fools. Pay that which you vow. ⁵It is better that you should not vow, than that you should vow and not pay. ⁶Do not allow your mouth to lead you into sin. Do not protest before the messenger that this was a mistake. Why should God be angry at your voice, and destroy the work of your hands? ⁷For in the multitude of dreams there are vanities, as well as in many words: but you must fear God.

⁸If you see the oppression of the poor, and the violent taking away of justice and righteousness in a district, do not marvel at the matter: for one official is eyed by a higher one; and there are officials over them. ⁹Moreover the profit of the earth is for all. The king profits from the field.

¹⁰He who loves silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he who loves abundance, with increase: this also is vanity. ¹¹When goods increase, those who eat them are increased; and what advantage is there to its owner, except to feast on them with his eyes?

¹²The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eats little or much; but the abundance of the rich will not allow him to sleep.

¹³There is a grievous evil which I have seen under the sun: wealth kept by its owner to his harm. ¹⁴Those riches perish by misfortune, and if he has fathered a son, there is nothing in his hand. ¹⁵As he came forth from his mother's womb, naked shall he go again as he came, and shall take nothing for his labor, which he may carry away in his hand. ¹⁶This also is a grievous evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go. And what profit does he have who labors for the wind? ¹⁷All his days are in darkness and mourning,^b he is frustrated, and has sickness and wrath.

¹⁸Look, that which I have seen to be good and proper is for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy good in all his labor, in which he labors under the sun, all the days of his life which God has given him; for this is his portion. ¹⁹Every man also to whom God has given riches and wealth, and has given him power to eat of it, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labor—this is the gift of God. ²⁰For he shall not often reflect on the days of his life; because God occupies him with the joy of his heart.

6 There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is heavy on men: ²a man to whom God gives riches, wealth, and honor, so that he lacks nothing for his soul of all that he desires, yet God gives him no power to eat of it, but a foreigner eats it. This is vanity, and it is an evil disease.

³If a man fathers a hundred children, and lives many years, so that the days of his years are many, but his soul is not filled with good, and moreover he has no burial; I say, that a stillborn child is better than he: ⁴for it comes in vanity, and departs in darkness, and its name is covered with darkness. ⁵Moreover it has not seen the sun nor known it. This has rest rather than the other. ⁶Yes, though he live a thousand years twice told, and yet fails to enjoy good, do not all go to one place? ⁷All the labor of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not filled. ⁸For what advantage has the wise more than the fool? What has the poor man, that knows how to walk before the living? ⁹Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire. This also is vanity and a chasing after wind. ¹⁰Whatever has been, its name was given long ago; and it is known what man is; neither can he contend with him who is mightier than he. ¹¹For there are many words that create vanity. What does that profit man? ¹²For who knows what is good for man in life, all the days of his vain life which he spends like a shadow? For who can tell a man what will be after him under the sun?

7 A good name is better than fine perfume; and the day of death better than the day of one's birth. ²It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the house of feasting; for that is the end of all men, and the living should take this to heart. ³Sorrow is better than laughter; for by the sadness of the face the heart is made good. ⁴The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth. ⁵It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to hear the song of fools. ⁶For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool. This also is vanity. ⁷Surely extortion makes the wise man foolish; and a bribe destroys the understanding. ⁸Better is the end of a thing than its beginning.

The patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit. ⁹Do not be hasty in your spirit to be angry, for anger rests in the bosom of fools. ¹⁰Do not say, "Why were the former days better than these?" For you do not ask wisely about this.

¹¹Wisdom is as good as an inheritance. Yes, it is more excellent for those who see the sun. ¹²For wisdom is a defense, even as money is a defense; but the excellency of knowledge is that wisdom preserves the life of him who has it.

^a5:1 Hebrew Mss cf. LXX Tg Syr Vg. MT reads "steps"

^b5:17 LXX, reading "mourning." MT reads "eats"

¹³Consider the work of God, for who can make that straight, which he has made crooked? ¹⁴In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider; yes, God has made the one side by side with the other, to the end that man should not find out anything after him.

¹⁵All this have I seen in my days of vanity: there is a righteous man who perishes in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man who lives long in his evildoing. ¹⁶Do not be overly righteous, neither make yourself overly wise. Why should you destroy yourself? ¹⁷Do not be too wicked, neither be foolish. Why should you die before your time? ¹⁸It is good that you should take hold of this. Yes, also from that do not withdraw your hand; for he who fears God will come forth from them all. ¹⁹Wisdom is a strength to the wise man more than ten rulers who are in a city. ²⁰Surely there is not a righteous man on earth, who does good and doesn't sin. ²¹Also do not take heed to all words that^a are spoken, lest you hear your servant curse you; ²²for often your own heart knows that you yourself have likewise cursed others. ²³All this have I proved in wisdom. I said, "I will be wise;" but it was far from me. ²⁴That which is, is far off and exceedingly deep. Who can find it out? ²⁵I turned around, and my heart sought to know and to search out, and to seek wisdom and the scheme of things, and to know that wickedness is stupidity, and that foolishness is madness.

²⁶I find more bitter than death the woman whose heart is snares and traps, whose hands are chains. Whoever pleases God shall escape from her; but the sinner will be ensnared by her.

²⁷Look, this have I found, says the Preacher, one to another, to find out the scheme; ²⁸which my soul still seeks; but I have not found: one man among a thousand have I found; but a woman among all those have I not found. ²⁹Look, this only have I found, that God made humankind upright, but they search for many schemes.

8 Who is like the wise man? And who knows the interpretation of a thing? A man's wisdom makes his face shine, and the hardness of his face is changed. ²Keep^b the king's command, because of the oath to God. ³Do not be hasty to go out of his presence. Do not persist in an evil thing, for he does whatever pleases him, ⁴for the king's word is supreme. Who can say to him, "What are you doing?" ⁵Whoever keeps the commandment shall not come to harm, and his wise heart will know the time and procedure. ⁶For there is a time and procedure for every purpose, although the misery of man is heavy on him. ⁷For he doesn't know that which will be; for who can tell him how it will be? ⁸There is no man who has power over the spirit to contain the spirit; neither does he have power over the day of death. There is no discharge in war; neither shall wickedness deliver those who practice it.

⁹All this have I seen, and applied my mind to every work that is done under the sun. There is a time in which one man has power over another to his hurt. ¹⁰So I saw the wicked buried. Indeed they came also from holy place. They went and were praised^c in the city where they did this. This also is vanity. ¹¹Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil. ¹²Though a sinner commits crimes

a hundred times, and lives long, yet surely I know that it will be better with those who fear God, who are reverent before him. ¹³But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he lengthen days like a shadow; because he doesn't fear God.

¹⁴There is a vanity which is done on the earth, that there are righteous men to whom it happens according to the work of the wicked. Again, there are wicked men to whom it happens according to the work of the righteous. I said that this also is vanity. ¹⁵Then I commended mirth, because a man has no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be joyful: for that will accompany him in his labor all the days of his life which God has given him under the sun.

¹⁶When I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done on the earth (for also there is that neither day nor night sees sleep with his eyes), ¹⁷then I saw all the work of God, that man can't find out the work that is done under the sun, because however much a man labors to seek it out, yet he won't find it. Yes even though a wise man thinks he can comprehend it, he won't be able to find it.

9 For all this I laid to my heart, even to explore all this: that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God; whether it is love or hatred, man doesn't know it; all is before them. ²It is the same for all: one event to the righteous and to the wicked, to the good and to the evil,^d and to the clean and to the unclean, to him who sacrifices, and to him who doesn't sacrifice. As is the good, so is the sinner; he who swears is as he who fears an oath. ³This is an evil in all that is done under the sun, that there is one event to all: yes also, the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead. ⁴For to him who is joined with all the living there is hope; for a living dog is better than a dead lion. ⁵For the living know that they will die, but the dead do not know anything, neither do they have any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten. ⁶Also their love, their hatred, and their envy has perished long ago; neither have they any more a portion forever in anything that is done under the sun.

⁷Go your way—eat your bread with joy, and drink your wine with a merry heart; for God has already accepted your works. ⁸Let your garments be always white, and do not let your head lack oil. ⁹Live joyfully with the wife whom you love all the days of your life of vanity, which he has given you under the sun, all your days of vanity: for that is your portion in life, and in your labor in which you labor under the sun. ¹⁰Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with your might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in Sheol, where you are going.

¹¹I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favor to men of skill; but time and chance happen to them all. ¹²For man also doesn't know his time. As the fish that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare, even so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falls suddenly on them.

¹³I have also seen wisdom under the sun in this way, and it seemed great to me. ¹⁴There was a little city, and few men within it; and a great king came against it, besieged it, and built great siege works against it. ¹⁵Now a poor wise man was found in it, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that same poor man. ¹⁶Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength. Nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard. ¹⁷The words of the wise heard in quiet are better than the cry of him who rules among fools. ¹⁸Wisdom is better than weapons of war; but one sinner destroys much good.

10 Dead flies cause the oil of the perfumer to send forth an evil odor; so does a little folly outweigh wisdom and honor. ²A wise man's heart is at his right hand, but a fool's heart at his left. ³Yes also, when the fool walks by the way, his understanding fails him, and he says to everyone that he is a fool. ⁴If the spirit of the ruler rises up against you, do not leave your place; for gentleness lays great offenses to rest.

⁵There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, the sort of error which proceeds from the ruler. ⁶Folly is set in great dignity, and the rich sit in a low place. ⁷I have seen servants on horses, and princes walking like servants on the earth. ⁸He who digs a pit may fall into it; and whoever breaks through a wall may be bitten by a serpent. ⁹Whoever carves out stones may be injured by them. Whoever splits wood may be endangered thereby. ¹⁰If the axe is blunt, and one doesn't sharpen the edge, then he must use more strength; but skill brings success.

¹¹If the serpent bites before it is charmed, then is there no profit for the charmer's tongue. ¹²The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious; but a fool is swallowed by his own lips. ¹³The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness; and the end of his talk is mischievous madness. ¹⁴A fool also multiplies words.

Man doesn't know what will be; and that which will be after him, who can tell him? ¹⁵The labor of fools wearies every one of them; for he doesn't know how to go to the city.

¹⁶Woe to you, land, when your king is a child, and your princes eat in the morning. ¹⁷Blessed are you, land,
when your king is the son of nobles,
and your princes eat in due season,
for strength, and not for drunkenness.

¹⁸By slothfulness the roof sinks in;
and through idleness of the hands the house leaks.

¹⁹A feast is made for laughter, and wine makes the life glad;
and money is the answer for all things.

²⁰Do not curse the king, no, not in your thoughts;
and do not curse the rich in your bedchamber:
for a bird of the sky may carry your voice,
and that which has wings may tell the matter.

11 Cast your bread on the waters;
for you shall find it after many days.
²Give a portion to seven, yes, even to eight;
for you do not know what evil will be on the earth.

³If the clouds are full of rain, they empty themselves on the earth;
and if a tree falls toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falls, there shall it be.

⁴He who observes the wind won't sow;

and he who regards the clouds won't reap.

⁵As you do not know what is the way of the wind, nor how the bones grow in the womb of her who is with child;
even so you do not know the work of God who does all.

⁶In the morning sow your seed,
and in the evening do not withhold your hand;
for you do not know which will prosper, whether this or that,
or whether they will both be equally good.

⁷Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to see the sun.

⁸Yes, if a man lives many years, let him rejoice in them all;
but let him remember the days of darkness, for they shall be many.

All that comes is vanity.

⁹Rejoice, young man, in your youth, and let your heart cheer you in the days of your youth,
and walk in the ways of your heart,
and in the sight of your eyes;
but know that for all these things God will bring you into judgment.

¹⁰Therefore remove sorrow from your heart, and put away evil from your flesh;
for youth and the dawn of life are vanity.

12 Remember also your Creator^a in the days of your youth, before the evil days come, and the years draw near,
when you will say, "I have no pleasure in them;"

²Before the sun, the light, the moon, and the stars are darkened, and the clouds return after the rain;

³in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble,
and the strong men shall bow themselves,
and the grinders cease because they are few,
and those who look out of the windows are darkened, ⁴and the doors shall be shut in the street;
when the sound of the grinding is low,
and one shall rise up at the voice of a bird,
and all the daughters of music shall be brought low.

⁵Also, they are afraid of heights,
and of terrors in the way;
and the almond tree blossoms,
and the grasshopper is burdened,
and the caper bush fails;

because man goes to his everlasting home,
and the mourners go about the streets:

⁶before the silver cord is severed, or the golden bowl is broken,
or the pitcher is broken at the spring,
or the wheel broken at the cistern, ⁷and the dust returns to the earth as it was,
and the spirit returns to God who gave it.

⁸Vanity of vanities, says the Preacher.
All is vanity.

⁹Further, because the Preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge. Yes, he pondered, sought out, and set in order many proverbs. ¹⁰The Preacher sought to find out acceptable words, and that which was written blamelessly, words of truth. ¹¹The words of the wise are like goads; and like nails well fastened are words from the masters of collections, which are given from one shepherd.

¹²Furthermore, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

¹³This is the end of the matter. All has been heard. Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. ¹⁴For God will bring every work into judgment, with every hidden thing, whether it is good, or whether it is evil.

Song of Solomon

1 The Song of songs, which is Solomon's.

Beloved

²Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth;
for your love is better than wine.

³Your oils have a pleasing fragrance.
Your name is oil poured forth,
therefore the virgins love you.

⁴Take me away with you.
Let us hurry.
The king has brought me into his chambers.

Friends

We will be glad and rejoice in you.
We will praise your love more than wine.

Beloved

They are right to love you.

⁵I am dark, but lovely,
you daughters of Jerusalem,
like Kedar's tents,
like Solomon's curtains.

⁶Do not stare at me because I am dark,
because the sun has scorched me.
My mother's sons were angry with me.
They made me keeper of the vineyards.
I haven't kept my own vineyard.

⁷Tell me, you whom my soul loves,
where you graze your flock,
where you rest them at noon;
For why should I be as one who is veiled^a beside the flocks of your companions?

Lover

⁸If you do not know, most beautiful among women, follow the tracks of the sheep.
Graze your young goats beside the shepherds' tents.

⁹I have compared you, my love,
to a steed in Pharaoh's chariots.
¹⁰Your cheeks are beautiful with earrings,
your neck with strings of jewels.
¹¹We will make you earrings of gold,
with studs of silver.

Beloved

¹²While the king sat at his table, my perfume spread its fragrance.

¹³My beloved is to me a sachet of myrrh, that lies between my breasts.

¹⁴My beloved is to me a cluster of henna blossoms from the vineyards of En Gedi.

Lover

¹⁵Look, you are beautiful, my love.
Look, you are beautiful.
Your eyes are doves.

Beloved

¹⁶Look, you are beautiful, my beloved, yes, pleasant;
and our couch is verdant.

Lover

¹⁷The beams of our house are cedars.
Our rafters are firs.

Beloved

2 I am a crocus of Sharon, a lily of the valleys.

Lover

²As a lily among thorns,
so is my love among the daughters.

Beloved

³As the apple tree among the trees of the wood,
so is my beloved among the sons.

I sat down under his shadow with great delight,
his fruit was sweet to my taste.

⁴He brought me to the banquet hall,
and his banner over me was love.^b

⁵Strengthen me with raisins, refresh me with apples;
For I am faint with love.

⁶His left hand is under my head.
His right hand embraces me.

⁷I adjure you, daughters of Jerusalem,
by the roes, or by the hinds of the field,
that you not stir up, nor awaken love,
until it so desires.

⁸The voice of my beloved.
Look, he comes,
leaping on the mountains,
skipping on the hills.

⁹My beloved is like a gazelle or a young stag.
Look, he stands behind our wall.
He looks in at the windows.
He glances through the lattice.

¹⁰My beloved spoke, and said to me,
"Rise up, my love, my beautiful one, and come away.

¹¹For, look, the winter is past.
The rain is over and gone.

¹²The flowers appear on the earth.
The time of the singing has come,
and the voice of the turtledove is heard in our land.

¹³The fig tree ripens her green figs.
The vines are in blossom.

^a1:7 Tg Syr Vg Symmachus read "who wanders." An ayin-tet metathesis

^b2:4 LXX Syr vocalize as "and feed me with love"

They give forth their fragrance.
Arise, my love, my beautiful one,
and come away.”

Lover

¹⁴My dove in the clefts of the rock,
In the hiding places of the mountainside,
Let me see your face.
Let me hear your voice;
for your voice is sweet, and your face is lovely.

¹⁵Catch for us the foxes,
the little foxes that spoil the vineyards;
for our vineyards are in blossom.

Beloved

¹⁶My beloved is mine, and I am his.
He browses among the lilies.
¹⁷Until the day is cool, and the shadows flee away, turn, my beloved,
and be like a gazelle or a young stag on the mountains of Bethel.

3 By night on my bed,
I sought him whom my soul loves.
I sought him, but I did not find him.^a ²I will get up now, and go about the city;

in the streets and in the squares I will seek him whom my soul loves.

I sought him, but I did not find him.

³The watchmen who go about the city found me;
“Have you seen him whom my soul loves?”

⁴I had scarcely passed from them,
when I found him whom my soul loves.

I held him, and would not let him go,
until I had brought him into my mother’s house,
into the chamber of her who conceived me.

⁵I adjure you, daughters of Jerusalem,
by the roes, or by the hinds of the field,
that you not stir up, nor awaken love,
until it so desires.

⁶Who is this who comes up from the wilderness like pillars of smoke,
perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,
with all spices of the merchant?

⁷Look, it is Solomon’s carriage.
Sixty mighty men are around it,
of the mighty men of Israel.

⁸They all handle the sword, and are expert in war.
Every man has his sword on his thigh,
because of fear in the night.

⁹King Solomon made himself a carriage of the wood of Lebanon.

¹⁰He made its pillars of silver,
its bottom of gold, its seat of purple,
its midst being paved with love,
from the daughters of Jerusalem.

¹¹Go forth, you daughters of Zion, and see king Solomon, with the crown with which his mother has crowned him,
in the day of his weddings,

in the day of the gladness of his heart.

Lover

4 Look, you are beautiful, my love.
Look, you are beautiful.
Your eyes are doves behind your veil.

Your hair is as a flock of goats,
that descend from Mount Gilead.

²Your teeth are like a newly shorn flock,
which have come up from the washing,
where every one of them has twins.
None is bereaved among them.

³Your lips are like scarlet thread.
Your mouth is lovely.

Your temples are like a piece of a pomegranate behind your veil.

⁴Your neck is like David’s tower built for an armory, whereon a thousand shields hang,
all the shields of the mighty men.

⁵Your two breasts are like two fawns that are twins of a gazelle,
which feed among the lilies.

⁶Until the day is cool, and the shadows flee away,
I will go to the mountain of myrrh,
to the hill of frankincense.

⁷You are all beautiful, my love.
There is no spot in you.

⁸Come with me from Lebanon, my bride, with me from Lebanon.

Look from the top of Amana, from the top of Senir and Hermon,
from the lions’ dens,
from the mountains of the leopards.

⁹You have ravished my heart, my sister, my bride.
You have ravished my heart with one of your eyes,
with one chain of your neck.

¹⁰How beautiful is your love, my sister, my bride.
How much better is your love than wine.
The fragrance of your perfumes than all manner of spices.

¹¹Your lips, my bride, drip like the honeycomb.
Honey and milk are under your tongue.

The smell of your garments is like the smell of Lebanon.

¹²A locked up garden is my sister, my bride;
a locked up spring,
a sealed fountain.

¹³Your shoots are an orchard of pomegranates, with precious fruits:
henna with spikenard plants, ¹⁴spikenard and saffron,
calamus and cinnamon, with every kind of incense tree;
myrrh and aloes, with all the best spices, ¹⁵a fountain of gardens,
a well of living waters,
flowing streams from Lebanon.

Beloved

¹⁶Awake, north wind; and come, you south.
Blow on my garden, that its spices may flow out.
Let my beloved come into his garden,
and taste his precious fruits.

^a3:1 LXX adds “I called him, but he gave no answer”

Lover

5 I have come into my garden, my sister, my bride.
I have gathered my myrrh with my spice;
I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey;
I have drunk my wine with my milk.

Friends

Eat, friends.

Drink, yes, drink abundantly, beloved.

Beloved

²I was asleep, but my heart was awake.
It is the voice of my beloved who knocks:
“Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled;
for my head is filled with dew,
and my hair with the dampness of the night.”
³I have taken off my robe. Indeed, must I put it on?
I have washed my feet. Indeed, must I soil them?
⁴My beloved thrust his hand in through the latch opening.
My heart pounded for him.
⁵I rose up to open for my beloved.
My hands dripped with myrrh,
my fingers with liquid myrrh,
on the handles of the lock.
⁶I opened to my beloved;
but my beloved left; and had gone away.
My heart went out when he spoke.
I looked for him, but I did not find him.
I called him, but he did not answer.
⁷The watchmen who go about the city found me.
They beat me.
They bruised me.
The keepers of the walls took my cloak away from me.
⁸I adjure you, daughters of Jerusalem,
If you find my beloved,
that you tell him that I am faint with love.

Friends

⁹How is your beloved better than another beloved,
you fairest among women?

How is your beloved better than another beloved,
that you do so adjure us?

Beloved

¹⁰My beloved is radiant and tan.
The best among ten thousand.
¹¹His head is like the purest gold.
His hair is bushy, black as a raven.
¹²His eyes are like doves beside the water brooks, washed with milk, mounted like jewels.
¹³His cheeks are like a bed of spices with towers of perfumes.
His lips are like lilies, dropping liquid myrrh.
¹⁴His hands are like rings of gold set with beryl.
His body is like ivory work overlaid with sapphires.
¹⁵His legs are like pillars of marble set on sockets of fine gold.
His appearance is like Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.
¹⁶His mouth is sweetness;
yes, he is altogether lovely.
This is my beloved, and this is my friend,
daughters of Jerusalem.

Friends

Where has your beloved gone, you fairest among women?
Where has your beloved turned, that we may seek him with you?

6

Beloved

²My beloved has gone down to his garden,
to the beds of spices,
to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.
³I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine.
He browses among the lilies,
⁴You are beautiful, my love, as Tirzah,
lovely as Jerusalem,
awesome as an army with banners.
⁵Turn away your eyes from me,
for they have overcome me.
Your hair is like a flock of goats,
that lie along the side of Gilead.
⁶Your teeth are like a flock of ewes,
which have come up from the washing;
of which every one has twins;
none is bereaved among them.
⁷Your temples are like a piece of a pomegranate behind your veil.
⁸There are sixty queens, eighty secondary wives, and virgins without number.
⁹My dove, my perfect one, is unique.
She is her mother's only daughter.
She is the favorite one of her who bore her.
The daughters saw her, and called her blessed;
the queens and the secondary wives, and they praised her.
¹⁰Who is she who looks forth as the morning, beautiful as the moon,
clear as the sun,
and awesome as an army with banners?
¹¹I went down into the nut tree grove,
to see the green plants of the valley,
to see whether the vine budded,
and the pomegranates were in flower.
¹²Without realizing it,
my desire set me with my royal people's chariots.

Friends

¹³Return, return, Shulammitte.
Return, return, that we may gaze at you.

Lover

Why do you desire to gaze at the Shulammitte, as at the dance of Mahanaim?

7

How beautiful are your feet in sandals, prince's daughter.
Your rounded thighs are like jewels,
the work of the hands of a skillful workman.

²Your body is like a round goblet,
no mixed wine is wanting.
Your waist is like a heap of wheat,
set about with lilies.
³Your two breasts are like two fawns,
that are twins of a gazelle.
⁴Your neck is like an ivory tower.
Your eyes are like the pools in Heshbon by the gate of Bathrabbim.
Your nose is like the tower of Lebanon which looks toward Damascus.
⁵Your head on you is like Carmel.

The hair of your head like purple.
 The king is held captive in its tresses.
⁶How beautiful and how pleasant you are,
 love, for delights.^a ⁷This, your stature, is like a palm tree, your breasts like its fruit.
⁸I said, "I will climb up into the palm tree.
 I will take hold of its fruit."
 Let your breasts be like clusters of the vine,
 the smell of your breath like apples,

Beloved

⁹Your mouth like the best wine, that goes down smoothly for my beloved,
 gliding over my lips and my teeth.^b ¹⁰I am my beloved's.
 His desire is toward me.
¹¹Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field.
 Let us lodge in the villages.
¹²Let's go early up to the vineyards.
 Let's see whether the vine has budded,
 its blossom is open,
 and the pomegranates are in flower.
 There I will give you my love.
¹³The mandrakes give forth fragrance.
 At our doors are all kinds of precious fruits, new and old,
 which I have stored up for you, my beloved.

8 Oh that you were like my brother, who sucked the breasts of my mother.
 If I found you outside, I would kiss you;
 yes, and no one would despise me.

²I would lead you, bringing you into my mother's house,
 who would instruct me.
 I would have you drink spiced wine,
 of the juice of my pomegranate.
³His left hand would be under my head.
 His right hand would embrace me.

⁴I adjure you, daughters of Jerusalem,
 that you not stir up, nor awaken love,
 until it so desires.

Friends

⁵Who is this who comes up from the wilderness, leaning on her beloved?

Under the apple tree I aroused you.
 There your mother conceived you.
 There she was in labor and bore you.

⁶Set me as a seal on your heart,
 as a seal on your arm;
 for love is strong as death.
 Jealousy is as cruel as Sheol.
 Its flashes are flashes of fire,
 a very flame of the LORD.

⁷Many waters can't quench love, neither can floods drown it.
 If a man would give all the wealth of his house for love,
 he would be utterly scorned.

Friends

⁸We have a little sister.
 She has no breasts.
 What shall we do for our sister in the day when she is to be spoken for?

⁹If she is a wall,
 we will build on her a turret of silver.
 If she is a door,
 we will enclose her with boards of cedar.

Beloved

¹⁰I am a wall, and my breasts like towers, then I was in his eyes like one who found peace.
¹¹Solomon had a vineyard at Baal Hamon.
 He leased out the vineyard to keepers.
 Each was to bring a thousand shekels of silver for its fruit.
¹²My own vineyard is before me.
 The thousand are for you, Solomon;
 two hundred for those who tend its fruit.

Lover

¹³You who dwell in the gardens, with friends in attendance, let me hear your voice.

Beloved

¹⁴Come away, my beloved.
 Be like a gazelle or a young stag on the mountains of spices.

Isaiah

1 The vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

²Hear, heavens,
 and listen, earth; for the LORD has spoken:
 I have nourished and brought up children,
 and they have rebelled against me.

³The ox knows his owner,
 and the donkey his master's crib;
 but Israel doesn't know,
 my people do not understand.

⁴Ah sinful nation,
 a people loaded with iniquity,
 offspring of evildoers,
 children who deal corruptly.

They have forsaken the LORD.
 They have despised the Holy One of Israel.
 They are estranged and backward.

⁵Why should you be beaten more,
 that you revolt more and more?

The whole head is sick,
 and the whole heart faint.

⁶From the sole of the foot even to the head there is no soundness in it:
 wounds, welts, and open sores.

^a7:6 Syr Aquila read "delightful daughter"

^b7:9 LXX Aquila Symmachus Syr Vg. MT reads "of sleepers"

They haven't been closed, neither bandaged, neither soothed

⁷Your country is desolate.
Your cities are burned with fire.
Strangers devour your land in your presence,
and it is desolate,
as overthrown by strangers.

⁸The daughter of Zion is left like a shelter in a vineyard, like a hut in a field of melons,
like a besieged city.

⁹Unless the LORD of hosts had left us a few survivors,
we would have been as Sodom,
and^a we would have been like Gomorrah.^b

¹⁰Hear the word of the LORD, you rulers of Sodom.
Listen to the law of our God, you people of Gomorrah.

¹¹"What are the multitude of your sacrifices to me?," says the LORD.
"I have had enough of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed animals.
I do not delight in the blood of bulls,
or of lambs,
or of male goats.

¹²When you come to appear before me, who has required this at your hand, to trample my courts?

¹³Bring no more vain offerings.
Incense is an abomination to me;
new moons, Sabbaths, and convocations:
I can't bear with evil assemblies.

¹⁴My soul hates your New Moons and your appointed feasts.
They are a burden to me.
I am weary of bearing them.

¹⁵When you spread forth your hands, I will hide my eyes from you.
Yes, when you make many prayers, I will not hear.
Your hands are full of blood.

¹⁶Wash yourselves, make yourself clean.
Put away the evil of your doings from before my eyes.
Cease to do evil.

¹⁷Learn to do well.
Seek justice.
Relieve the oppressed.
Judge the fatherless.
Plead for the widow."

¹⁸"Come now, and let us reason together," says the LORD:
"Though your sins are like scarlet, they shall be as white as snow.
Though they are red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

¹⁹If you are willing and obedient,
you shall eat the good of the land;
²⁰but if you refuse and rebel, the sword shall devour you;
for the mouth of the LORD has spoken it."

²¹How the faithful city has become a prostitute.
She was full of justice; righteousness lodged in her,
but now murderers.

²²Your silver has become dross,
your wine mixed with water.

²³Your rulers are rebellious, companions^c of thieves.
Everyone loves a bribe, chasing^d after payoffs.
They do not judge the fatherless,
neither does the cause of the widow come to them.

²⁴Therefore the Lord, the LORD of hosts,

the Mighty One of Israel, says:
"Ah, I will get relief from my adversaries, and avenge myself of my enemies; ²⁵and I will turn my hand against you,
and I will purge away your dross,
and I will take away all your slag.
²⁶I will restore your judges as at the first,
and your counselors as at the beginning.
Afterward you shall be called 'The city of righteousness, a faithful town.'
²⁷Zion shall be redeemed with justice, and her converts with righteousness.
²⁸But the destruction of transgressors and sinners shall be together, and those who forsake the LORD shall be consumed.
²⁹For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which you have desired, and you shall be confounded for the gardens that you have chosen.
³⁰For you shall be as an oak whose leaf fades,
and as a garden that has no water.
³¹The strong will be like tinder,
and his work like a spark.
They will both burn together,
and no one will quench them."

2 This is what Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

²It shall happen in the latter days, that the mountain of the LORD's house shall be established on the top of the mountains,
and shall be raised above the hills;
and all nations shall flow to it.

³And many peoples shall come and say,
"Come, let's go up to the mountain of the LORD,
and^e to the house of the God of Jacob;
and he will teach us of his ways,
and we will walk in his paths."
For out of Zion the law shall go forth,
and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

⁴He will judge between the nations,
and will decide concerning many peoples;
and they shall beat their swords into plowshares,
and their spears into pruning hooks.^f Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

⁵House of Jacob, come, and let us walk in the light of the LORD.
⁶For you have forsaken your people, the house of Jacob,
because they are filled from the east,
with those who practice divination like the Philistines,
and they clasp hands with the children of foreigners.

⁷Their land is full of silver and gold,
neither is there any end of their treasures.
Their land also is full of horses,
neither is there any end of their chariots.

⁸Their land also is full of idols.
They worship the work of their own hands,
that which their own fingers have made.

⁹So people bow down,
people are low,
therefore do not lift them up.

and hide in the dust,
 from before the terror of the LORD,
 and from the glory of his majesty.
¹¹The proud looks of humankind will be brought low,
 and the arrogance of people will be brought down;
 and the LORD alone will be exalted in that day.
¹²For there will be a day of the LORD of hosts for all that is proud and haughty,
 and for all that is lifted up and high;^a
 and it shall be brought low:
¹³For all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up,
 for all the oaks of Bashan, ¹⁴For all the high mountains,
 for all the hills that are lifted up, ¹⁵For every lofty tower,
 for every fortified wall, ¹⁶For all the ships of Tarshish, and for all pleasant imagery.
¹⁷The loftiness of man shall be bowed down,
 and the haughtiness of men shall be brought low;
 and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.
¹⁸The idols shall utterly pass away.^b
¹⁹Men shall go into the caves of the rocks, and into the holes of the earth,
 from before the terror of the LORD,
 and from the glory of his majesty,
 when he arises to shake the earth mightily.
²⁰In that day, people will cast away their idols of silver and their idols of gold to the rodents^c and to the bats, which have been made for themselves to worship;
²¹to go into the caverns of the rocks,
 and into the clefts of the ragged rocks,
 from before the terror of the LORD,
 and from the glory of his majesty,
 when he arises to shake the earth mightily.
²²Stop trusting in man, whose breath is in his nostrils;
 for of what account is he?

3 For look, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, takes away from Jerusalem and from Judah supply and support,
 the whole supply of bread,
 and the whole supply of water; ²the mighty man,
 the man of war,
 the judge,
 the prophet,
 the diviner,
 the elder,
³the captain of fifty,
 the honorable man,
 the counselor,
 the skilled craftsman,
 and the clever enchanter.

⁴And I will make youths to be their leaders, and capricious children shall rule over them.
⁵The people will be oppressed, everyone by another,
 and everyone by his neighbor.
 The child will behave himself proudly against the old man, and the base against the honorable.

⁶Indeed a man shall take hold of his brother in the house of his father, saying,
 “You have clothing, you be our ruler,
 and let this ruin be under your control.”
⁷In that day he will cry out, saying, I will not be a healer;
 for in my house is neither bread nor clothing.
 You shall not make me ruler of the people.
⁸For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen;
 because their tongue and their doings are against the LORD,
 to provoke the eyes of his glory.
⁹The look of their faces testify against them.
 They parade their sin like Sodom.
 They do not hide it.
 Woe to their soul.
 For they have brought disaster upon themselves.
¹⁰Tell the righteous “Good.”
 For they shall eat the fruit of their deeds.
¹¹Woe to the wicked.
 Disaster is upon them;
 for the work of his hands will be done to him.
¹²As for my people, children are their oppressors,
 and women rule over them.
 My people, those who lead you cause you to err,
 and destroy the way of your paths.
¹³The LORD stands up to contend, and stands to judge his people.^d ¹⁴The LORD will enter into judgment with the elders of his people, and their leaders:
 “It is you who have eaten up the vineyard.
 The spoil of the poor is in your houses.
¹⁵What do you mean that you crush my people, and grind the face of the poor?” says the Lord,^e the LORD of hosts.
¹⁶Moreover the LORD said, “Because the daughters of Zion are haughty,
 and walk with outstretched necks and flirting eyes,
 walking to trip as they go,
 jingling ornaments on their feet;
¹⁷therefore the Lord brings sores on the crown of the head of the women of Zion,
 and the LORD will make their scalps bald.”

¹⁸In that day the LORD^f will take away the beauty of their anklets, the headbands, the crescent necklaces, ¹⁹the earrings, the bracelets, the veils, ²⁰the headdresses, the ankle chains, the sashes, the perfume bottles, the charms, ²¹the signet rings, the nose rings, ²²the fine robes, the capes, the cloaks, the purses, ²³the hand mirrors, the fine linen garments, the tiaras, and the shawls.

²⁴It shall happen that instead of sweet spices, there shall be rotteness;
 instead of a belt, a rope;
 instead of well set hair, baldness;
 instead of a robe, a girding of sackcloth;
 and branding instead of beauty.

²⁵Your men shall fall by the sword, and your mighty in the war.
²⁶Her gates shall lament and mourn;
 and she shall be desolate and sit on the ground.

²In that day, the LORD’s branch will be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the land will be the beauty and glory of the survivors of Israel. ³It will happen, that he who is left in Zion, and he who remains in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even everyone who is written among the living in Jerusalem; ⁴when the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from its midst, by the spirit of justice, and by the spirit of burning. ⁵The LORD will create over the whole habitation of Mount Zion, and over her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night; for over all the glory will be a canopy. ⁶There will be a pavilion for a shade in the daytime from the heat, and for a refuge and for a shelter from storm and from rain.

5 Let me sing for my well beloved a song of my beloved about his vineyard.
My beloved had a vineyard on a very fruitful hill.

²He dug it up,
gathered out its stones,
planted it with the choicest vine,
built a tower in its midst,
and also cut out a winepress in it.
He looked for it to yield grapes,
but it yielded wild grapes.
³“Now, inhabitants^a of Jerusalem and men of Judah, please judge between me and my vineyard.
⁴What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it?
Why, when I looked for it to yield grapes, did it yield wild grapes?
⁵Now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard.
I will take away its hedge, and it will be eaten up.
I will break down its wall of it, and it will be trampled down.
⁶I will lay it a wasteland.
It won’t be pruned nor hoed,
but it will grow briars and thorns.
I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain on it.”
⁷For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah his pleasant plant:
and he looked for justice, but, look, oppression;
for righteousness, but, look, a cry of distress.
⁸Woe to those who join house to house,
who lay field to field, until there is no room,
and you are made to dwell alone in the midst of the land.
⁹In my ears, the LORD of hosts says: “Surely many houses will be desolate, even great and beautiful, unoccupied.
¹⁰For ten acres^b of vineyard shall yield one bath,^c and a homer^d of seed shall yield an ephah.” ¹¹Woe to those who rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink;
who stay late into the night, until wine inflames them.
¹²The harp, lyre, tambourine, and flute, with wine, are at their feasts;
but they do not regard the work of the LORD,

neither have they considered the operation of his hands.
¹³Therefore my people go into captivity for lack of knowledge.
Their honorable men are famished,
and their multitudes are parched with thirst.
¹⁴Therefore Sheol^f has enlarged its desire,
and opened its mouth without measure;
and their glory, their multitude, their pomp, and he who rejoices among them, descend into it.
¹⁵So man is brought low,
humankind is humbled,
and the eyes of the arrogant ones are humbled;
¹⁶but the LORD of hosts is exalted in justice,
and God the Holy One is sanctified in righteousness.
¹⁷Then the lambs will graze as in their pasture, and kids^g will eat the ruins of the rich.
¹⁸Woe to those who draw iniquity with cords of falsehood, and wickedness as with cart rope; ¹⁹Who say, “Let him make speed, let him hasten his work, that we may see it;
and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw near and come,
that we may know it.”
²⁰Woe to those who call evil good, and good evil;
who put darkness for light,
and light for darkness;
who put bitter for sweet,
and sweet for bitter.
²¹Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes,
and prudent in their own sight.
²²Woe to those who are mighty to drink wine,
and champions at mixing strong drink;
²³who acquit the guilty for a bribe,
but deny justice for the innocent.
²⁴Therefore as the tongue of fire devours the stubble, and as the dry grass sinks down in the flame,
so their root shall be as rottenness,
and their blossom shall go up as dust;
because they have rejected the law of the LORD of hosts,
and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.
²⁵Therefore the LORD’s anger burns against his people, and he has stretched out his hand against them, and has struck them.
The mountains tremble,
and their dead bodies are as refuse in the midst of the streets.
For all this, his anger is not turned away,
but his hand is still stretched out.
²⁶He will lift up a banner to the nations from far,
and he will whistle for them from the far regions of the earth.
Look, they will come speedily and swiftly.
²⁷None shall be weary nor stumble among them;
none shall slumber nor sleep;
neither shall the belt of their waist be untied,
nor the latchet of their shoes be broken: ²⁸whose arrows are sharp,
and all their bows bent.
Their horses’ hoofs will be like flint,
and their wheels like a whirlwind.
²⁹Their roaring will be like a lioness.

6 In the year that king Uzziah died, I also saw the LORD^a sitting on a throne, high and lifted up; and his train filled the temple. ²Above him stood the seraphim. Each one had six wings. With two he covered his face. With two he covered his feet. With two he flew. ³One called to another, and said, “Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of hosts. The whole earth is full of his glory.”

⁴The foundations of the thresholds shook at the voice of him who called, and the house was filled with smoke. ⁵Then I said, “Woe is me. For I am undone, because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts.”

⁶Then one of the seraphim flew to me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar. ⁷He touched my mouth with it, and said, “Look, this has touched your lips; and your iniquity is taken away, and your sins^b forgiven.”

⁸I heard the Lord’s voice, saying, “Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?” Then I said, “Here I am. Send me.” ⁹And he said, “Go, and tell this people, ‘In hearing you hear, but do not understand; and seeing you see, but do not perceive.’” ¹⁰The^d heart of this people has grown dull,^e and their ears^f sluggish, and they have closed^g their eyes,^h otherwise they might seeⁱ with their eyes,^j and hear^k with their ears,^l and understand with their heart, and turn back, and I would heal them.^m”

¹¹Then I said, “LORD,^o how long?”

He answered,
 “Until cities are waste without inhabitant,
 and houses without man,
 and the land becomes utterly waste, ¹²and the LORD has removed men far away,
 and the forsaken places are many in the midst of the land.
¹³If there is a tenth left in it,
 that also will in turn be consumed:

7 It happened in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, that Rezin the king of Aram, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to war against it, but they^q could not prevail against it. ²It was told the house of David, saying, “Aram is allied with Ephraim.” His heart trembled, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest tremble with the wind. ³Then the LORD said to Isaiah, “Go out now to meet Ahaz, you, and Shearjashub your son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, on the highway of the Launderers’ Field. ⁴Tell him, ‘Be careful, and keep calm. Do not be afraid, neither let your heart be faint because of these two tails of smoking firebrands, for^r the fierce anger of Rezin and Aram, and of the son of Remaliah. ⁵Because Aram, Ephraim, and the son of Remaliah, have plotted evil against you, saying, ⁶“Let’s go up against Judah, and tear it apart, and let’s divide it among ourselves, and set up a king in its midst, even the son of Tabeel.” ⁷This is what the Lord GOD says: “It shall not stand, neither shall it happen.” ⁸For the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin; and within sixty-five years Ephraim shall be broken in pieces, so that it shall not be a people; ⁹and the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah’s son. If you will not believe, surely you shall not be established.”

¹²But Ahaz said, “I will not ask, neither will I tempt the LORD.”

¹³He said, “Listen now, house of David: Is it not enough for you to try the patience of men, that you will try the patience of my God also? ¹⁴Therefore the LORD^s himself will give you a sign. Look, the virgin will conceive, and bear a son, and they will call^t his name Immanuel.^u ¹⁵He shall eat curds and honey when he knows to refuse the evil, and choose the good. ¹⁶For before the child knows to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land whose two kings you abhor shall be forsaken. ¹⁷The LORD will bring on you, on your people, and on your father’s house, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah; even the king of Assyria. ¹⁸It will happen in that day that the LORD will whistle for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria. ¹⁹They shall come, and shall all rest in the desolate valleys, in the clefts of the rocks, on all thorn hedges, and on all pastures. ²⁰In that day the Lord will shave with a razor that is hired in the parts beyond the River, even with the king of Assyria, the head and the hair of the feet; and it shall also consume the beard. ²¹It shall happen in that day that a man shall keep alive a young cow, and two sheep; ²²and it shall happen, that because of the abundance of milk which they shall give he shall eat butter: for everyone will eat butter and honey that is left in the midst of the land. ²³It will happen in that day that every place where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silver shekels, shall be for briers and thorns. ²⁴People will go there with arrows and with bow, because all the land will be briers and thorns. ²⁵All the hills that were cultivated with the hoe, you shall not come there for fear of briers and thorns; but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of sheep.”

8 The LORD said to me, “Take a large tablet, and write on it with a man’s pen, ‘For Maher Shalal Hash Baz;’^a ²and I will take for myself faithful witnesses to testify: Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Berechiah.^b”

³I went to the prophetess, and she conceived, and bore a son. Then said the LORD to me, “Call his name ‘Maher Shalal Hash Baz.’ ⁴For before the child knows how to say, ‘My father,’ and, ‘My mother,’ the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria will be carried away by the king of Assyria.”

⁵The LORD spoke to me yet again, saying, ⁶“Because this people have refused the waters of Shiloah that go softly, and rejoice in Rezin and Remaliah’s son; ⁷now therefore, look, the LORD^c brings upon them the mighty flood waters of the River: the king of Assyria and all his glory. It will come up over all its channels, and go over all its banks. ⁸It will sweep onward into Judah. It will overflow and pass through; it will reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of its wings will fill the breadth of your land, Immanuel. ⁹Make an uproar, you peoples, and be broken in pieces. Listen, all you from far countries. Prepare for battle, and be shattered.^d ¹⁰Take counsel together, and it will be brought to nothing; speak the word, and it will not stand: for God is with us.” ¹¹For the LORD spoke thus to me with a strong hand,^e and instructed me not to walk in the way of this people, saying, ¹²“Do not say, ‘A conspiracy.’ concerning all about which this people say, ‘A conspiracy.’ And do not fear what they fear, nor be in dread.^f ¹³The LORD of hosts is who you must regard as holy. He is the one you must fear. He is the one you must dread. ¹⁴And he will be a sanctuary; but a stone to stumble over, and a rock to trip over^g to both the houses of Israel, for a trap and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ¹⁵Many will stumble over it, fall, be broken, be snared, and be captured.” ¹⁶Wrap up the testimony. Seal the law among my disciples. ¹⁷I will wait for the LORD, who hides his face from the house of Jacob, and I will trust^h in him. ¹⁸Look, I and the children whom Godⁱ has given me^j are for signs and wonders in Israel from the LORD of hosts, who dwells on Mount Zion.

¹⁹When they tell you, “Consult with the spirits of the dead and familiar spirits who chirp and who mutter. Shouldn’t a people consult with their gods, by consulting the dead on behalf of the living?” ²⁰Turn to the law and to the testimony. If they do not speak according to this word, surely there is no morning^k for them. ²¹They will pass through it, greatly distressed and hungry; and it will happen that when they are hungry, they will worry, and curse by their king and by their God. They will turn their faces upward, ²²and look to the earth, and see distress, darkness, and the gloom of anguish. They will be driven into thick darkness.

9 But there shall be no more gloom for her who was in anguish. In the former time, he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali; but in the latter time he has made it glorious, by the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

²The people sitting^l in darkness have seen a great light. Those living in the land^m andⁿ shadow of death, on them a light has shined.^o

³You have multiplied the nation. You have increased his^p joy.

They rejoice before you according to the joy in harvest, as men rejoice when they divide the spoil. ⁴For the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, you have broken as in the day of Midian. ⁵For all the armor of the armed man in the noisy battle, and the garments rolled in blood, will be for burning, fuel for the fire. ⁶For to us a child is born. To us a son is given; and the government will be on his shoulders, and his name is^q called Wonderful, Counselor, Mighty God,^r Everlasting Father,^s Prince of Peace. ⁷His dominion will be great,^t and of peace there shall be no end, on the throne of David and over his kingdom, to establish it and to uphold it with justice and with righteousness, from this time onward and forevermore. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this.

⁸The LORD^u sent a word into Jacob, and it falls on Israel.

⁹All the people will know, including Ephraim and the inhabitants of Samaria, who say in pride and in arrogance of heart,

⁵Alas Assyrian, the rod of my anger, the staff in whose hand is my indignation. ⁶I will send him against a profane nation, and against the people who anger me will I give him a command to take the spoil and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets. ⁷However he doesn't mean so, neither does his heart think so;
but it is in his heart to destroy, and to cut off not a few nations. ⁸For he says, "Aren't all of my officials kings? ⁹Isn't Calno like Carchemish? Isn't Hamath like Arpad? Isn't Samaria like Damascus?" ¹⁰As my hand has found the kingdoms of the idols, whose engraved images exceeded those of Jerusalem and of Samaria; ¹¹shall I not, as I have done to Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?" ¹²Therefore it will happen that, when the Lord has performed his whole work on Mount Zion and on Jerusalem, he^c will punish the insolence of his haughty looks. ¹³For he has said, "By the strength of and I have removed the boundaries of the peoples, and have robbed their treasures. Like a valiant man I have brought down their rulers.

¹⁴My hand has found the riches of the peoples like a nest, and like one ¹⁵Should an axe brag against him who chops with it? Should a leanness; and under his glory a burning will be kindled like the ²⁰It will come to pass in that day that the remnant of Israel, and

They break out song. ⁸Yes, the fir trees rejoice with you, with the cedars of Lebanon, saying, "Since you are humbled, no lumberjack has come up against us." ⁹Sheol from beneath has moved for you to meet you at your coming. I will make myself like the Most High." ¹⁵Yet you shall be brought down to Sheol, to the depths of the Pit.^b ¹⁶Those who see you will stare at you. They will ponder you, saying, "Is this the man who made the earth to tremble, who shook kingdoms; ¹⁷who made the world like a wilderness, and overthrew its cities; who did not release his prisoners to their home?"

¹⁸All the kings of the nations^c lie in splendor, everyone in his own house. ¹⁹But you are cast away from your tomb like an abominable branch, clothed with the slain, who are thrust through with the sword, who go down to the stones of the pit; like a dead body trodden under foot. ²⁰You will not join them in burial, because you have destroyed your land. ²⁸This burden was in the year that king Ahaz died. ²⁹Do not rejoice, O Philistia, all of you, because the rod that struck you is broken; for out of the serpent's root an adder will emerge, and his fruit will be a fiery flying serpent. ³⁰The firstborn of the poor will eat, and the needy will lie down in safety; and I will kill your root with famine, and your remnant will be killed.

³¹Howl, gate. Cry, city. You are melted away, Philistia, all of you; for smoke comes out of the north, and there is no straggler in his ranks. ³²And what is one^d to answer the messengers of this nation? That the LORD has founded Zion, and in her the afflicted of his people will take refuge.

15 The burden of Moab: for in a night, Ar of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nothing; for in a night Kir of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nothing. ²They have gone up to the temple, and to Dibon, to the high places to weep. Moab wails over Nebo and over Medeba. On every head is baldness. Every beard is cut off. ³In their streets, they dress themselves in sackcloth; on their roofs and in their squares, everyone wails, weeping abundantly. ⁴Heshbon cries out with Elealeh. Their voice is heard even to Jahaz. Therefore the armed men of Moab cry aloud. Their souls tremble within them. ⁵My heart cries out for Moab. Her Nazirites flee to Zoar, to Eglath Shelishiyah; for they go up by the ascent of Luhith with weeping; for in the way of Horonaim, they raise up a cry of destruction. ⁶For the waters of Nimrim will be desolate; for the grass has withered away, the tender grass fails, there is no green thing. ⁷Therefore they will carry away the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have stored up, over the Brook of the Willows. ⁸For the cry has gone around the borders of Moab; its wailing as far as Eglaim, and its wailing as far as^e Beer Elim. ⁹For the waters of Dibon^g are full of blood; for I will bring yet more on Dibon, a lion on those of Moab who escape, and on the remnant of the land.

16 Send the lambs for the ruler of the land from Sela to the wilderness, to the mountain of the daughter of Zion. ²For it will be that as wandering birds, as a scattered nest, so will the daughters of Moab be at the fords of the Arnon. ³Give counsel. Execute justice. Make your shade like the night in the midst of the noonday. Hide the outcasts. Do not betray the fugitive. ⁴Let the outcasts of Moab dwell with you; be a hiding place to them from the face of the destroyer. For the extortioner is at an end, destruction has ceased, oppressors have finished^a from the land. ⁵A throne will be established in loving kindness. One will sit on it in truth, in the tent of David, judging, seeking justice, and swift to do righteousness.

⁶We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; even of his arrogance, his pride, and his wrath. His boastings are nothing. ⁷Ah, let not^b Moab wail; let everyone wail for Moab. You will mourn for the raisin cakes of Kir Hareseth, utterly stricken. ⁸For the fields of Heshbon languish with the vine of Sibmah. The lords of the nations have broken down its choice branches, which reached even to Jazer, which wandered into the wilderness. Its shoots were spread abroad. They passed over the sea. ⁹Therefore I will weep with the weeping of Jazer for the vine of Sibmah. I will saturate^c you with my tears, Heshbon, and Elealeh: for on your summer fruits and on your harvest the battle shout has fallen. ¹⁰Gladness is taken away, and joy out of the fruitful field; and in the vineyards there will be no singing and^d there will be no jubilant shouting. Nobody will tread out wine in the presses. I have made the shouting stop. ¹¹Therefore my heart sounds like a harp for Moab, and my inward parts for Kir Heres. ¹²It will happen that when Moab presents himself, when he wearies himself on the high place, and comes to his sanctuary to pray, that he will not prevail. ¹³This is the word that the LORD spoke concerning Moab in time past. ¹⁴But now the LORD has spoken, saying, “Within three years, as a worker bound by contract would count them, the glory of Moab shall be brought into contempt, with all his great multitude; and the remnant will be very small and feeble.”

17 The burden of Damascus: “Look, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it will be a ruinous heap. ²Her cities^e will be abandoned forever.^f They will be for flocks, which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid. ³The fortress shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram. They will be as the glory of the children of Israel,” says the LORD of hosts. ⁴“It will happen in that day that the glory of Jacob will be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh will become lean. ⁵It will be like when the harvester gathers the wheat, and his arm reaps the grain. Yes, it will be like when one gleanes grain in the Valley of Rephaim. ⁶Yet gleanings will be left there, like the shaking of an olive tree, two or three olives in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five on the branches of a fruitful tree,” says the LORD, the God of Israel. ⁷In that day, people will look to their Maker, and their eyes will have respect for the Holy One of Israel. ⁸They will not look to the altars, the work of their hands; neither shall they respect that which their fingers have made, either the Asherim, or the incense altars. ⁹In that day, their strong cities will be like the forsaken places^g of the Hivites and the Amorites,^h which were forsaken from before the children of Israel; and it will be a desolation. ¹⁰For you have forgotten the God of your salvation, and have not remembered the rock of your strength. Therefore you plant pleasant plants, and set out foreign seedlings. ¹¹In the day of your planting, you hedge it in. In the morning, you make your seed blossom, but the harvest flees away in the day of grief and of desperate sorrow. ¹²Ah, the uproar of many peoples, who roar like the roaring of the seas; and the rushing of nations, that rush like the rushing of mighty waters. ¹³The nations will rush like the rushing of many waters: but he will rebuke them, and they will flee far off, and will be chased like the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like the whirling dust before the storm. ¹⁴At evening, look, terror. Before the morning, they are no more. This is the portion of those who plunder us, and the lot of those who rob us.

18 Ah, the land of the rustling of wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia; ²that sends ambassadors by the sea, even in vessels of papyrus on the waters, saying, “Go, you swift messengers, to a nation tall and smooth, to a people feared near and far, a nation strong and conquering, whose land the rivers divide.” ³All you inhabitants of the world, and you dwellers on the earth, when a banner is lifted up on the mountains, look. When the trumpet is blown, listen. ⁴For the LORD said to me, “I will be still, and I will see from my dwelling place, like the clear heat in sunshine, like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.” ⁵For before the harvest, when the blossom is over, and the flower becomes a ripening grape, he will cut off the sprigs with pruning hooks, and he will cut down and take away the spreading branches. ⁶They will be left together for the ravenous birds of the mountains, and for the animals of the earth. The ravenous birds will summer on them, and all the animals of the earth will winter on them. ⁷In that time, a present will be brought to the LORD of hosts from a people tall and smooth, even from a people awesome from their beginning onward, a nation that measures out and treads down, whose land the rivers divide, to the place of the name of the LORD of hosts, Mount Zion.

19 The burden of Egypt: “Look, the LORD rides on a swift cloud, and comes to Egypt. The idols of Egypt will tremble at his presence; and the heart of Egypt will melt in its midst. ²I will stir up the Egyptians against the Egyptians, and they will fight everyone against his brother, and everyone against his neighbor; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom. ³The spirit of Egypt will fail in its midst. I will destroy its counsel. They will seek the idols, spirits of the dead, mediums, and spiritists. ⁴I will give over the Egyptians into the hand of a cruel lord. A fierce king will rule over them,” says theⁱ LORD of hosts.

⁵The waters will fail from the sea, and the river will be wasted and become dry. ⁶The rivers will become foul. The streams of Egypt will be diminished and dried up. The reeds and flags will wither away. ⁷The meadows by the Nile, by the brink of the Nile, and all the sown fields of the Nile, will become dry, be driven away, and be no more. ⁸The fishermen will lament, and all those who fish in the Nile will mourn, and those who spread nets on the waters will languish. ⁹Moreover those who work in combed flax, and those who weave white cloth, will be confounded.

¹⁰The pillars will be broken in pieces. All those who work for hire will be grieved in soul. ¹¹The princes of Zoan are utterly foolish. The counsel of the wisest counselors of Pharaoh has become stupid.

How do you say to Pharaoh, “I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings?”¹² Where then are your sages? And let them tell you now; and let them know what the LORD of hosts has purposed concerning Egypt.¹³ The princes of Zoan have become fools. The princes of Memphis are deceived. They have caused Egypt to go astray, who are the cornerstone of her tribes.

¹⁴The LORD has mixed a spirit of perverseness in the midst of her; and they have caused Egypt to go astray in all of its works, like a drunken man staggers in his vomit.¹⁵ Neither shall there be for Egypt any work, which head or tail, palm branch or rush, may do.¹⁶ In that day the Egyptians will be like women. They will tremble and fear because of the shaking of the hand of the LORD of hosts, which he shakes over them.¹⁷ The land of Judah will become a terror to Egypt. Everyone to whom mention is made of it will be afraid, because of the plans of the LORD of hosts, which he determines against it.¹⁸ In that day, there will be five cities in the land of Egypt that speak the language of Canaan, and swear loyalty to the LORD of hosts. One will be called the City of the Sun.^a ¹⁹In that day, there will be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar to the LORD at its border.²⁰ It will be for a sign and for a witness to the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt; for they will cry to the LORD because of oppressors, and he will send them a savior and a defender, and he will deliver them.²¹ The LORD will be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians will know the LORD in that day. Yes, they will worship with sacrifice and offering, and will make vows to the LORD, and will perform them.

²²The LORD will strike Egypt, striking and healing. They will return to the LORD, and he will listen to their pleas, and will heal them.²³ In that day there will be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria; and the Egyptians will worship with the Assyrians.²⁴ In that day, Israel will be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, a blessing in the midst of the earth;²⁵ because the LORD of hosts has blessed them, saying, “Blessed be Egypt my people, Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel my inheritance.”

20 In the year that Tartan came to Ashdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him, and he fought against Ashdod and took it;² at that time the LORD spoke by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, “Go, and loosen the sackcloth from off your waist, and take your sandals^b off your feet.” He did so, walking naked and barefoot.³ The LORD said, “As my servant Isaiah has walked naked and barefoot three years for a sign and a wonder concerning Egypt and concerning Ethiopia,⁴ so the king of Assyria will lead away the captives of Egypt and the exiles of Ethiopia, young and old, naked and barefoot, and with buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt.

⁵They will be dismayed and confounded, because of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory.⁶ The inhabitants of this coast land will say in that day, “Look, this is our expectation, where we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria. And we, how will we escape?”

^d21:7 Ibid

21 The oracle of the wilderness of the sea. As whirlwinds in the Negev sweep through, it comes from the wilderness, from an awesome land.² A grievous vision is declared to me. The treacherous man deals treacherously, and the destroyer destroys. Go up, Elam; attack. I have stopped all of Media’s sighing.³ Therefore my thighs are filled with anguish. Pains have taken hold on me, like the pains of a woman in labor. I am in so much pain that I can’t hear. I so am dismayed that I can’t see.⁴ My heart flutters. Horror has frightened me. The twilight that I desired has been turned into trembling for me.

⁵They prepare the table. They set the watch. They eat. They drink. Rise up, you princes, oil the shield.⁶ For the Lord said to me, “Go, set a watchman. Let him declare what he sees.⁷ When he sees chariots, horsemen in pairs, riders^c on donkeys, riders^d on camels, let him listen diligently, very diligently.”⁸ Then the lookout^e shouted: “Lord, I stand continually on the watchtower in the daytime, and every night I stay at my post.⁹ Look, here comes a troop of men, horsemen in pairs.” He answered, “Fallen, fallen is Babylon; and all the engraved images of her gods are broken to the ground.¹⁰ You are my threshing, and the grain of my floor.” That which I have heard from the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, I have declared to you.

¹¹The burden of Dumah. One calls to me out of Seir, “Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night?”¹² The watchman said, “The morning comes, and also the night. If you will inquire, inquire. Come back again.”

¹³The burden on Arabia. In the forest in Arabia you will lodge, you caravans of Dedanites.¹⁴ They brought water to him who was thirsty. The inhabitants of the land of Tema met the fugitives with their bread.¹⁵ For they fled away from the swords, from the drawn sword, from the bent bow, and from the heat of battle.¹⁶ For the LORD^f said to me, “Within a year, as a worker bound by contract would count it,^g the glory of Kedar will fail,¹⁷ and the residue of the number of the archers, the warriors of the people of Kedar, will be few; for the LORD, the God of Israel, has spoken it.”

22 The burden of the Valley of Vision. What ails you now, that you have all gone up to the housetops?² You that are full of shouting, a tumultuous city, a joyous town; your slain are not slain with the sword, neither are they dead in battle.³ All your rulers fled away together. They were bound by the archers. All who were found by you were bound together. They fled far away.⁴ Therefore I said, “Look away from me. I will weep bitterly. Do not labor to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.⁵ For it is a day of confusion, and of treading down, and of perplexity, from^h the LORD of hosts, in the Valley of Vision; a breaking down of the walls, and a crying to the mountains.”

a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool. But you did not look to him who had done this, neither did you have respect for him who purposed it long ago. ¹²In that day^a the LORD of hosts called for weeping and for mourning, for shaved heads, and for the wearing of sackcloth. ¹³But look, joy and gladness, killing cattle and killing sheep, eating flesh and drinking wine: “Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we will die.”^b ¹⁴The LORD of hosts revealed himself in my ears, “Surely this iniquity will not be forgiven you until you die,” says the Lord, the LORD of hosts.

¹⁵Thus says^c the LORD of hosts, “Come, go to this steward, to Shebna, who is in charge of the house, and say, ¹⁶‘What are you doing here, and whom have you here, that you have dug out a tomb here?’ Cutting himself out a tomb on high, chiseling a habitation for himself in the rock.” ¹⁷Look, the LORD will overcome you and hurl you away violently. Yes, he will grasp you firmly. ¹⁸He will surely wind you around and around, and throw you like a ball into a large country. There you will die, and there the chariots of your glory will be, you shame of your lord’s house. ¹⁹I will thrust you from your office. You will be pulled down from your station.

²⁰It will happen in that day that I will call my servant Eliakim^d the son of Hilkiah, ²¹and I will clothe him with your robe, and strengthen him with your belt. I will commit your government into his hand; and he will be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah. ²²I will lay the key of the house of David on his shoulder. He will open, and no one will shut. He will shut, and no one will open. ²³I will fasten him like a nail in a sure place. He will be for a throne of glory to his father’s house. ²⁴They will hang on him all the glory of his father’s house, the offspring and the issue, every small vessel, from the cups even to all the pitchers. ²⁵“In that day,” says the LORD of hosts, “the nail that was fastened in a sure place will give way. It will be cut down, and fall. The burden that was on it will be cut off, for the LORD has spoken it.”

23 The burden of Tyre. Howl, you ships of Tarshish. For it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in. From the land of Kittim it is revealed to them. ²Be still, you inhabitants of the coast, you whom the merchants of Sidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished. ³On great waters, the seed of the Shihor, the harvest of the Nile, was her revenue. She was the market of nations. ⁴Be ashamed, Sidon; for the sea has spoken, the stronghold of the sea, saying, “I have not travailed, nor brought forth, neither have I nourished young men, nor brought up virgins.”

¹³Look, the land of the Chaldeans, these people who have become nothing. The Assyrians have made it a home for wild animals. They set up their siege towers, they tore down her palaces, they made her a ruin. ¹⁴Howl, you ships of Tarshish, for your stronghold is laid waste. ¹⁵It will come to pass in that day that Tyre will be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king. After the end of seventy years it will be to Tyre like in the song of the prostitute. ¹⁶Take a harp; go about the city, you prostitute that has been forgotten. Make sweet melody. Sing many songs, that you may be remembered. ¹⁷It will happen after the end of seventy years that the LORD will visit Tyre, and she shall return to her wages, and will play the prostitute with all the kingdoms of the world on the surface of the earth. ¹⁸Her merchandise and her wages will be holiness to the LORD. It will not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise will be for those who dwell before the LORD, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing.

24 Look, the LORD makes the earth empty, makes it waste, turns it upside down, and scatters its inhabitants. ²It will be as with the people, so with the priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the creditor, so with the debtor; as with the taker of interest, so with the giver of interest. ³The earth will be utterly emptied and utterly laid waste; for the LORD has spoken this word. ⁴The earth mourns and fades away. The world languishes and fades away. The lofty people of the earth languish. ⁵The earth also is polluted under its inhabitants, because they have transgressed the law,^g violated the statute,^h and broken the everlasting covenant.

¹⁷Fear, the pit, and the snare, are on you who inhabitant the earth. ¹⁸It will happen that he who flees from the noise of the fear will fall into the pit; and he who comes up out of the midst of the pit will be taken in the snare; for the windows of heavenⁱ are opened, and the foundations of the earth tremble. ¹⁹The earth is utterly broken. stagger like a drunken man, and will sway back and forth like a hammock. Its disobedience will be heavy on it, and it will fall and not rise again. ²¹It shall happen in that day that the LORD will punish the army of the high ones on high, and the kings of the earth on the earth. ²²And they will be gathered, a gathering^a in a dungeon, and shall be shut up in the prison; and after many days shall they be visited. ²³Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed, for the LORD of hosts will reign on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem, and before his elders will be glory.

25 The LORD, you are my God. I will exalt you. I will praise your name, for you have done wonderful things, things planned long ago, in complete faithfulness and truth. ²For you have made a city into a heap, a fortified city into a ruin, a palace of the insolent^b is a city no more; it will never be rebuilt. ³Therefore a strong people will glorify you. A city of awesome nations will fear you. ⁴For you have been a stronghold to the poor, a stronghold to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shade from the heat, when the blast of the dreaded ones is like a storm against the wall. ⁵As the heat in a dry place will you bring down the noise of strangers; as the heat by the shade of a cloud, the song of the dreaded ones will be brought low. ⁶In this mountain, the LORD of hosts will make all peoples a feast of fat things, a feast of choice wines, of fat things full of marrow, of well refined choice wines. ⁷He will destroy in this mountain the surface of the covering that covers all peoples, and the veil that is spread over all nations. ⁸He has swallowed up death in victory.^c God^d will wipe away tears from off all faces. He will take the reproach of his people away from off all the earth, for the LORD has spoken it. ⁹It shall be said in that day, "Look, this is our God. We have waited for him, and he will save us. This is the LORD. We have waited for him. We will be glad and rejoice in his salvation."¹⁰For in this mountain the hand of the LORD will rest.

Moab will be trodden down in his place, even like straw is trodden down in a dunghill. ¹¹He will spread out his hands in its midst, like one who swims spreads out hands to swim, but his pride will be humbled together with the craft of his hands. ¹²He has brought the high fortress of your walls down, laid low, and brought to the ground, even to the dust.

26 In that day, this song will be sung in the land of Judah:
 "We have a strong city.
 He appoints salvation for walls and ramparts.
²Open the gates, that the righteous nation may enter:
 the one which keeps faith.
³You will keep him in peace, in peace whose thoughts are fixed on
 you,
 because he trusts in you.
⁴Trust in the LORD forever;
 for in the LORD,^e the LORD, is an everlasting Rock.
⁵For he has brought down those who dwell on high, the lofty city.
 He lays it low^f to the ground.
 He casts it to the dust.
 He brings it even to the dust.

⁶The^g feet of the poor tramples it down,
 the footsteps of the needy."

⁷The way of the righteous is level.

O Just One, you make the path of the righteous smooth.

⁸Yes, in the path of your judgments, O LORD, have we waited for you. Your name and your renown are the desire of our soul. ⁹With my soul have I desired you in the night. Yes, my spirit within me will seek you early,^h for when your judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world learn righteousness. ¹⁰Let favor be shown to the wicked, yet he will not learn righteousness. In the land of uprightness he will deal wrongfully, and will not see the LORD's majesty. ¹¹LORD, your hand is lifted up, yet they do not see; they see the zeal of the people, and are ashamed. Yes, fire will consume your adversaries. ¹²LORD, you will ordain peace for us, for you have also worked all our works for us. ¹³LORD our God, other lords besides you have had dominion over us, but by you only will we make mention of your name. ¹⁴The dead shall not live, andⁱ the departed spirits shall not rise. Therefore have you visited and destroyed them, and caused all memory of them to perish. ¹⁵You have increased the nation, O LORD. You have increased the nation. You are glorified. You have enlarged all the borders of the land. ¹⁶LORD, in trouble they sought you. They poured out a prayer when your chastening was on them. ¹⁷Like as a woman with child, who draws near the time of her delivery, is in pain and cries out in her pangs; so we have been before you, LORD. ¹⁸We have been with child. We have been in pain. We gave birth, it seems, only to wind. We have not worked any deliverance in the earth; neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen. ¹⁹Your dead shall live; my^j dead bodies shall rise. Awake and shout for joy,^k you who dwell in the dust; for your dew is like the dew of the dawn,^l and the earth shall bring forth the departed spirits.

27 In that day, the LORD with his fierce and great and mighty sword will punish leviathan, the fleeing serpent, and leviathan the twisted serpent; and he will kill the serpent that is in the sea. ²In that day, sing to her, "A pleasant vineyard. ³I, the LORD, am its keeper. I will water it every moment. Lest anyone damage it, I will keep it night and day. ⁴Wrath is not in me, but if I should find briars and thorns, I would do battle. I would march on them and I would burn them together. ⁵Or else let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me. Let him make peace with me."

⁶In days to come, Jacob will take root. Israel will blossom and bud. They will fill the surface of the world with fruit. ⁷Has he struck them as he struck those who struck them? Or have they been killed as their killers^m were killed? ⁸In measure, when you send them away, you contend with them. He has removed them with his rough blast in the day of the east wind. ⁹Therefore, by this the iniquity of Jacob will be forgiven, and this is all the fruit of taking away his sin: that he makes all the stones of the altar as chalk stones that are beaten in

The calf will feed there, and there he will lie down, and consume its branches.¹¹When its boughs are withered, they will be broken off. The women will come and set them on fire, for they are a people of no understanding. Therefore he who made them will not have compassion on them, and he who formed them will show them no favor.

¹²It will happen in that day, that the LORD will thresh from the flowing stream of the Perath to the Wadi of Egypt; and you will be gathered one by one, children of Israel.¹³It will happen in that day that a great trumpet will be blown; and those who were ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and those who were outcasts in the land of Egypt, shall come; and they will worship the LORD in the holy mountain at Jerusalem.

28 Woe to the crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim, and to the fading flower of his glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fertile valley of those who are overcome with wine.²Look, the LORD^a has a mighty and strong one. Like a storm of hail, a destroying storm, and like a storm of mighty waters overflowing, he will cast them down to the earth with his hand.³The crown of pride of the drunkards of Ephraim will be trodden under foot.⁴The fading flower of his glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fertile valley, shall be like the first-ripe fig before the summer; which someone picks and eats as soon as he sees it.⁵In that day, the LORD of hosts will become a crown of glory, and a diadem of beauty, to the residue of his people; ⁶and a spirit of justice to him who sits in judgment, and strength to those who turn back the battle at the gate.

⁷They^b also reel with wine, and stagger with strong drink. The priest and the prophet reel with strong drink. They are swallowed up by wine. They stagger with strong drink. They err in vision. They stumble in judgment.⁸For all tables are completely full of filthy vomit and filthiness.⁹Whom will he teach knowledge? To whom will he explain the message? Those who are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts? ¹⁰For it is precept on precept, precept on precept; line on line, line on line; here a little, there a little.¹¹But he will speak to this nation with stammering lips and a strange language;^c ¹²to whom he said, “This is the resting place. Give rest to weary;” and “This is the refreshing;” but they would not listen.

¹⁷I will make justice the measuring line, and righteousness the plumb line. The hail will sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters will overflow the hiding place.¹⁸Your covenant with death shall be annulled, and your agreement with Sheol shall not stand. When the overflowing scourge passes through, then you will be trampled down by it.¹⁹As often as it passes through, it will seize you; for morning by morning it will pass through, by day and by night; and it will be nothing but terror to understand the message.” ²⁰For the bed is too short to stretch out on, and the blanket is too narrow to wrap oneself in.²¹For the LORD will rise up as on Mount Perazim. He will be angry as in the Valley of Gibeon; that he may do his work, his unusual work, and bring to pass his act, his extraordinary act.²²And as for you,ⁱ do not be scoffers, lest your bonds be made strong; for I have heard a decree of destruction from the LORD^j of hosts, on the whole earth.

²³Give ear, and hear my voice. Listen, and hear my speech.²⁴Does he who plows to sow plow continually? Does he keep turning the soil and breaking the clods? ²⁵When he has leveled its surface, doesn’t he plant the dill, and scatter the cumin seed, and put in the wheat in rows, the barley in the appointed place, and emmer as its borders?^k ²⁶For his God instructs him in right judgment, and teaches him.²⁷For the dill are not threshed with a sharp instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned over the cumin; but the dill is beaten out with a stick, and the cumin with a rod.²⁸Bread flour must be ground; so he will not always be threshing it. Although he drives the wheel of his threshing cart over it, his horses do not grind it.²⁹This also comes forth from the LORD of hosts, who is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in wisdom.

29 Woe to Ariel.¹ Ariel, the city where David camped. Add year to year; let the feasts come around; ²then I will distress Ariel, and there will be mourning and lamentation. She shall be to me as an altar hearth.³And I will camp in a circle around you, and will lay siege against you with posted troops. I will raise siege works against you.⁴You will be brought down, and will speak out of the ground. Your speech will mumble out of the dust. Your voice will be as of one who has a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and your speech will whisper out of the dust.⁵But the multitude of your arrogant^m will be like fine dust, and the multitude of the ruthless ones like chaff that blows away. Yes, it will be in an instant, suddenly.⁶She will be visited by the LORD of hosts with thunder, with earthquake, with great noise, with whirlwind and storm, and with the flame of a devouring fire.⁷The multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all who fight against her and her stronghold, and who distress her, will be like a dream, a vision of the night.⁸It will be like when a hungry man dreams, and look, he eats; but he awakes, and his hunger isn’t satisfied; or like when a thirsty man dreams, and look, he drinks; but he awakes, and look, he is faint, and he is still thirsty. The multitude of all the nations that fight against Mount Zion will be like that.⁹Pause and wonder. Blind

They are drunk, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink. ¹⁰For the LORD has poured out on you a spirit of deep sleep, and has closed your eyes (the prophets), and he has covered your heads (the seers). ¹¹All vision has become to you like the words of a scroll that is sealed, which men deliver to one who is educated, saying, “Read this, please;” and he says, “I can’t, for it is sealed.” ¹²and the scroll is delivered to^a one who is not educated, saying, “Read this, please;” and he says, “I can’t read.” ¹³And the Lord said, “Because these people draw near with their mouth and honor me with their lips, but they have removed their heart far from me. ¹⁷Isn’t it yet a very little while, and Lebanon will be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field will be regarded as a forest? ¹⁸In that day, the deaf will hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind will see out of obscurity and out of darkness. ¹⁹The humble also will increase their joy in the LORD, and the poor among humankind will rejoice in the Holy One of Israel. ²⁰For the ruthless is brought to nothing, and the scoffer ceases, and all those who are alert to do evil are cut off—²¹who cause a person to be indicted by a word, and lay a snare for the arbiter in the gate, and who deprive the innocent of justice with false testimony. ²²Therefore thus says the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob: “Jacob shall no longer be ashamed, neither shall his face grow pale. ²³But when he sees his children, the work of my hands, in the midst of him, they will sanctify my name. Yes, they will sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and will stand in awe of the God of Israel. ²⁴They also who err in spirit will come to understanding, and those who grumble will receive instruction.”

30 “Woe to the rebellious children,” says the LORD, “who take counsel, but not from me; and who make an alliance, but not with my Spirit, that they may add sin to sin, ²who set out to go down into Egypt, and have not asked my advice; to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to take refuge in the shadow of Egypt. ³Therefore the strength of Pharaoh will be your shame, and the refuge in the shadow of Egypt your confusion. ⁴For their princes are at Zoan, and their ambassadors

¹⁵For thus said the LORD,^q the Holy One of Israel, “You will be saved in returning and rest. Your strength will be in quietness and in confidence.” You refused, ¹⁶but you said, “No, for we will flee on horses;” therefore you will flee; and, “We will ride on the swift;” therefore those who pursue you will be swift. ¹⁷One thousand will flee at the threat of one. At the threat of five, you will flee until you are left like a beacon on the top of a mountain, and like a banner on a hill. ¹⁸Therefore the LORD will wait, that he may be gracious to you; and therefore he will be exalted, that he may have mercy on you, for the LORD is a God of justice. Blessed are all those who wait for him.

¹⁹For the people will dwell in Zion at Jerusalem. You will weep no more. He will surely be gracious to you at the voice of your cry. When he hears you, he will answer you. ²⁰Though the Lord may give you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, yet your teachers won’t be hidden anymore, but your eyes will see your teachers; ²¹and when you turn to the right hand, and when you turn to the left, your ears will hear a voice behind you, saying, “This is the way. ²⁷Look, the name of the LORD comes from far away, burning with his anger, and in thick rising smoke. His lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a devouring fire. ²⁸His breath is as an overflowing stream that reaches even to the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of destruction; and a bridle that leads to ruin will be in the jaws of the peoples. ²⁹You will have a song, as in the night when a holy feast is kept; and gladness of heart, as when one goes with a flute to come to the LORD's mountain, to Israel's Rock.

³⁰The LORD will cause his glorious voice to be heard, and will show the descent of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and the flame of a devouring fire, with a blast, storm, and hailstones. ³¹For through the voice of the LORD the Assyrian will be dismayed. He will fight with them in battles, brandishing weapons. ³³For his burning place has long been ready. Yes, for the king it is made ready. He has made its pyre deep and large with fire and much wood. The LORD's breath, like a stream of sulfur, kindles it.

31 Woe to those who go down to Egypt for help,
and rely on horses,
and trust in chariots because they are many,
and in horsemen because they are very strong,
but they do not look to the Holy One of Israel,
and they do not seek the LORD.

²Yet he also is wise, and will bring disaster, and will not call back^b his words, but will arise against the house of the evildoers, and against those who help evildoers.

³Now the Egyptians are men, and not God;
and their horses flesh, and not spirit.
When the LORD stretches out his hand, both he who helps shall stumble,
and he who is helped shall fall,
and they all shall be consumed together.

⁴For thus says the LORD to me,
“As the lion and the young lion growling over his prey,
if a multitude of shepherds is called together against him,
will not be dismayed at their voice,
nor abase himself for the noise of them, so the LORD of hosts will come down to fight on Mount Zion and on its heights.

⁵As birds hovering, so the LORD of hosts will protect Jerusalem.

He will protect and deliver it.

He will pass over and preserve it.”

and his officers will be afraid of the banner,”

and his furnace in Jerusalem.

32 Look, a king shall reign in righteousness,

²A man shall be as a hiding place from the wind,

⁵And they will no longer call a fool^c noble,

⁶For the fool will speak folly,
and his heart plans^d iniquity,

and to utter error against the LORD,
To make empty the soul of the hungry,
and to cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.

⁷The ways of the scoundrel are evil.

words,

and who betray, but nobody betrayed you.

²LORD, be gracious to us. We have waited for you.
Be our strength every morning,
our salvation also in the time of trouble.
³At the noise of the thunder, the peoples have fled.
When you lift yourself up, the nations are scattered.
⁴Your spoil will be gathered as the caterpillar gathers.
Men will leap on it as locusts leap.
⁵The LORD is exalted, for he dwells on high.
He has filled Zion with justice and righteousness.
⁶There will be stability in your times, abundance of salvation, wisdom, and knowledge.

he has no regard for man.
⁹The land mourns and languishes.
Lebanon is confounded and withers away.

"Now I will lift myself up.
Now I will be exalted.
¹¹You will conceive chaff.

Your breath is a fire that will devour you.
¹²The peoples will be like the burning of lime, like thorns that are cut down and burned in the fire.
¹³Hear, you who are far off, what I have done;
and, you who are near, acknowledge my might."
¹⁴The sinners in Zion are afraid.
Trembling has seized the godless ones.
Who among us can live with the devouring fire?
Who among us can live with everlasting burning?

¹⁵He who walks righteously, and speaks blamelessly;
He who despises the gain of oppressions,
who gestures with his hands, refusing to take a bribe,
who stops his ears^c from hearing of blood,
and shuts his eyes from looking at evil—¹⁶he will dwell on high.
His place of defense will be the fortress of rocks.
His bread will be supplied.
His waters will be sure.
¹⁷Your eyes will see the king in his beauty.
They will see a distant land.
¹⁸Your heart will meditate on the terror.
Where is he who counted?
Where is he who weighed?
Where is he who counted the towers?
¹⁹You will no longer see the fierce people,
a people of a deep speech that you can't comprehend,
with a strange language that you can't understand.
²⁰Look at Zion, the city of our appointed festivals.
Your eyes will see Jerusalem, a quiet habitation,
a tent that won't be removed.
Its stakes will never be plucked up,
nor will any of its cords be broken.
²¹But there the LORD will be with us in majesty,
a place of broad rivers and streams,
in which no galley with oars will go,
neither will any gallant ship pass by there.
²²For the LORD is our judge.
The LORD is our lawgiver.
The LORD is our king.
He will save us.
²³Your rigging is untied.
They couldn't strengthen the foot of their mast.
They couldn't spread the sail.
Then the prey of a great spoil was divided.
The lame took the prey.
²⁴The inhabitant won't say, "I am sick."
The people who dwell in it will be forgiven their iniquity.

34 Come near, you nations, to hear.
Listen, you peoples.
Let the earth and all it contains hear;
the world, and everything that comes from it.
²For the LORD is enraged against all the nations,
and angry with all their armies.
He has utterly destroyed them.
He has given them over for slaughter.
³Their slain will also be cast out,
and the stench of their dead bodies will come up;
and the mountains will melt in their blood.
⁴And all the host of heaven will rot away,^d and the heavens will be rolled up like a scroll.
And all their host will wither, as a leaf withering from the vine, and as leaves withering from

and on the people of my curse, for judgment.
⁶The LORD's sword is filled with blood.
It is covered with fat, with the blood of lambs and goats,
with the fat of the kidneys of rams;
for the LORD has a sacrifice in Bozrah,
And a great slaughter in the land of Edom.
⁷The wild oxen will come down with them,
and the young bulls with the mighty bulls;
and their land will be soaked with blood,
and their dust made greasy with fat.
⁸For the LORD has a day of vengeance,
a year of recompense for the cause of Zion.
⁹Its streams will be turned into pitch,
its dust into sulfur,
And its land will become burning pitch.
¹⁰It won't be quenched night nor day.
Its smoke will go up forever.
From generation to generation, it will lie waste.
No one will pass through it forever and ever.

none will lack her mate.

He will come and save you.

⁵Then the eyes of the blind will be opened,
and the ears of the deaf will be unstopped.

⁶Then the lame man will leap like a deer,
and the tongue of the mute will sing;
for waters will break out in the wilderness,
and streams in the desert.

⁷The burning sand will become a pool,
and the thirsty ground springs of water.
Grass with reeds and rushes will be in the habitation of jackals, where they lay.

⁸And a highway will be there,^c and it will be called the Way of Holiness.^d

The unclean shall not pass over it, but it will be for those who walk in the Way.
Wicked fools will not go there.

⁹No lion will be there,
nor will any ravenous animal go up on it.
They will not be found there;
but the redeemed will walk there.

¹⁰The LORD's ransomed ones will return, and come with singing to Zion;
and everlasting joy will be on their heads.

They will obtain gladness and joy,
and sorrow and sighing will flee away."

36 Now it happened in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Assyria attacked all of the fortified cities of Judah, and captured them.

²The king of Assyria sent Rabshakeh from Lachish to Jerusalem^e to king Hezekiah with a large army. He stood by the aqueduct from the trust in the staff of this bruised reed, even in Egypt, which if a man leans on it, it will go into his hand and pierce it. So is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who trust in him. ⁷But if you^g tell me, 'We trust in the LORD our God,' isn't that he whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah has taken away, and has said to Judah and to Jerusalem,

'You shall worship before this altar?'" ⁸Now therefore, please make a pledge to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give you two thousand horses, if you are able on your part to set riders on them.
⁹How then can you turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put your trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen? ¹⁰Have I come up now without the LORD against this land to destroy it? The LORD said to me, "Go up against this land, and destroy it."

¹¹Then Eliakim, Shebna and Joah said to Rabshakeh, "Please speak to us in the Judean language in the hearing of the people who are on the wall."

¹²But Rabshakeh said, “Has my master sent me only to your master and to you, to speak these words, and not to the men who sit on the wall, who will eat their own dung and drink their own urine with you?” ¹³Then Rabshakeh stood, and called out with a loud voice in the Judean language, and said, “Hear the words of the great king, the king of Assyria. ¹⁴Thus says the king, ‘Do not let Hezekiah deceive you; for he will not be able to deliver you. ¹⁵Do not let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, “The LORD will surely deliver us. This city won’t be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.”’ ¹⁶Do not listen to Hezekiah, for thus says the king of Assyria, ‘Make your peace with me, and come out to me; and each of you eat from his vine, and each one from his fig tree, and each one of you drink the waters of his own cistern; ¹⁷until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards. ¹⁸Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, “The LORD will deliver us.” Have any of the gods of the nations delivered their lands from the hand of the king of Assyria? ¹⁹Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Iwah?^a Have they^b delivered Samaria from my hand? ²⁰Who are they among all the gods of these countries that have delivered their country out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?’”

²¹But they remained silent, and said nothing in reply, for the king’s commandment was, “Do not answer him.”

²²Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, the son of Asaph, the recorder, came to Hezekiah with their clothes torn, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

37 It happened, when king Hezekiah heard it, that he tore his clothes, covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the LORD’s house. ²He sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, to Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz. ³They said to him, “Thus says Hezekiah, ‘This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of rejection; for the children have come to the birth, and there is no strength to bring forth. ⁴It may be the LORD your God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master has sent to defy the living God, and will rebuke the words which the LORD your God has heard. Therefore lift up your prayer for the remnant that is left.’” ⁵So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

⁶Isaiah said to them, “Tell your master, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Do not be afraid of the words that you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me. ⁷Look, I will put a spirit in him and he will hear news, and will return to his own land. I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.’””

⁸So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah, for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish. ⁹He heard news concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, “He has come out to fight against you.” When he heard it, he returned^c and sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying, ¹⁰“Thus you shall speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, ‘Do not let your God in whom you trust deceive you, saying, “Jerusalem won’t be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.”’ ¹¹Look, you have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by destroying them utterly. Shall you be delivered? ¹²Have the gods of the nations delivered them, which my fathers have destroyed, Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the people of Eden who were in Telassar? ¹³Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and Ivvah?’”

¹⁴Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers and read it. Then Hezekiah went up to the LORD’s house, and spread it before the LORD. ¹⁵Hezekiah prayed to the LORD, saying, ¹⁶“LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, who is enthroned among the cherubim, you are the God, even you alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth. You have made heaven and earth. ¹⁷Turn your ear, LORD, and hear. Open your eyes, LORD, and look. Hear all of the words of Sennacherib, who has sent to defy the living God. ¹⁸Truly, LORD, the kings of Assyria have destroyed all the countries and their land, ¹⁹and have cast their gods into the fire; for they were no gods, but the work of men’s hands, wood and stone; therefore they have destroyed them. ²⁰Now therefore, LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that you are the LORD, even you only.”

²¹Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘Because you have prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria, ²²this is the word which the LORD has spoken concerning him. The virgin daughter of Zion has despised you and ridiculed you. The daughter of Jerusalem has shaken her head at you. ²³Whom have you defied and blasphemed? Against whom have you exalted your voice and lifted up your eyes on high? Against the Holy One of Israel.

²⁴By your servants, have you defied the Lord, and have said, “With the multitude of my chariots I have come up to the height of the mountains, to the innermost parts of Lebanon. I will cut down its tall cedars and its choice fir trees. I will enter into its farthest height, the forest of its fruitful field. ²⁵I have dug and drunk water, and with the sole of my feet I will dry up all the rivers of Egypt.” ²⁶Have you not heard how I have done it long ago, and formed it in ancient times? Now I have brought it to pass, that it should be yours to destroy fortified cities, turning them into ruinous heaps. ²⁷Therefore their inhabitants had little power. They were dismayed and confounded. They were like the grass of the field, and like the green herb, like the grass on the rooftops when it is scorched^d by the east wind.^e ²⁸But I know your sitting down, your going out, your coming in, and your raging against me. ²⁹Because of your raging against me, and because your arrogance has come up into my ears, therefore I will put my hook in your nose and my bridle in your lips, and I will turn you back by the way by which you came. ³⁰This shall be the sign to you. You will eat this year that which grows of itself, and in the second year that which springs from the same; and in the third year sow and reap and plant vineyards, and eat their fruit.

³¹The remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah ³¹will again take root downward, and bear fruit upward. ³²For out of Jerusalem a remnant will go forth, and survivors will escape from Mount Zion. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this.’ ³³Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the king of Assyria, ‘He will not come to this city, nor shoot an arrow there, neither will he come before it with shield, nor cast up a mound against it. ³⁴By the way that he came, by ³⁶The angel of the LORD went out and struck one hundred and eighty-five thousand men in the camp of the Assyrians. When men arose early in the morning, look, these were all dead bodies. ³⁷So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, went away, returned to Nineveh, and stayed there. ³⁸It happened, as he was worshipping in^a the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons struck him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Ararat. Esarhaddon his son reigned in his place.

38 In those days was Hezekiah sick and near death. Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, came to him, and said to him, "Thus says the LORD, 'Set your house in order, for you will die, and not live.'"

²Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed to the LORD, ³and said, "Remember now, the LORD, I beg you, how I have walked before you in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in your sight." Hezekiah wept bitterly.

⁴Then the word of the LORD came to Isaiah, saying, ⁵"Go, and tell Hezekiah, 'Thus says the LORD, the God of David your father, 'I have heard your prayer. I have seen your tears. Look, I will add fifteen years to your life. ⁶I will deliver you and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and I will defend this city. ⁷This shall be the sign to you from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that he has spoken. ⁸"Look, I will cause the shadow on the steps, which has gone down with the sun on the upper^b steps of Ahaz, to go backward ten steps." So the sun returned ten steps on the sundial on which it had gone down.

¹⁰I said, "In the middle of my life I go into the gates of Sheol. I am deprived of the residue of my years."

¹³I waited patiently until morning. He breaks all my bones like a lion.

From day even to night you will make an end of me.

¹⁴I chip like a swallow or a thrush. I moan like a dove.

¹⁵What will I say?

He has both spoken to me, and himself has done it.

I will walk carefully all my years because of the anguish of my soul.

¹⁶Lord, men live by these things; and my spirit finds life in all of them: you restore me, and cause me to live.

¹⁷Look, for peace I had great anguish, but you have in love for my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption; for you have cast all my sins behind your back.

¹⁸For Sheol can't praise you. And death can't celebrate you.

And^g those who go down into the pit can't hope for your truth.

²⁰The LORD will save me.

Therefore we will sing my songs with stringed instruments all the days of our life in the house of the LORD.

²¹Now Isaiah had said, "Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a poultice on the boil, and he shall recover." ²²Hezekiah also had said, "What is the sign that I will go up to the house of the LORD?"

39 At that time, Marduk-Baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah, for he heard that he had been sick, and had recovered.

²Hezekiah was pleased with them, and showed them the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, the spices, and the precious oil, and all the house of his armor, and all that was found in his treasures. There was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah did not show them. ³Then Isaiah the prophet came to king Hezekiah, and asked him, "What did these men say? Where did they come from to you?"

Hezekiah said, "They have come from a country far from me, even from Babylon."

⁴Then he asked, "What have they seen in your house?"

Hezekiah answered, "They have seen all that is in my house. There is nothing among my treasures that I have not shown them."

⁵Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, "Hear the word of the LORD of hosts: ⁶'Look, the days are coming when all that is in your house, and that which your fathers have stored up until this day, will be carried^h to Babylon. ⁷Nothing will be left,' says the LORD. ⁸'They will take away your descendants who will issue from you, whom you shall father, and they will be eunuchs in the king of Babylon's palace.'"

⁸Then Hezekiah said to Isaiah, "The LORD's word which you have spoken is good." He said moreover, "For there will be peace and truth in my days."

Who is as blind as he who is at peace,
and as blind as the LORD’s servant?

²⁰You see many things, but do not observe.
His ears are open, but he doesn’t listen.

²¹It pleased the LORD, for his righteousness’ sake, to magnify the law,
and make it honorable.

²²But this is a robbed and plundered people.
All of them are snared in holes,
and they are hidden in prisons.

They have become a prey, and no one delivers;
and a spoil, and no one says, ‘Restore them.’

²³Who is there among you who will give ear to this?
Who will listen and hear for the time to come?

²⁴Who gave Jacob as plunder, and Israel to the robbers?

^a42:1 OL Mss and Matthew 12:18. MT reads “servant I uphold, my chosen one,” where בְּחִירִי “my chosen one” is the result of a conflation of בְּחַרְתִּי “I have chosen” and יְרִירִי “my beloved” when a copyist lost his place in his exemplar after writing בַּח, going from בַּי to the next בַּי, and then writing יְרִי with sight confusion from the last three letters of יְרִירִי. The loss of the latter word was later adjusted with the addition of אֲחַזְקֶנּוּ “I uphold” in reminiscence of 41:10 or 33:15

^b42:1 DSS OL Ms Bo and Matthew 12:18. MT lacks “and” from haplography

^d42:4 LXX, reading kai epi tw onomati = וְלִשְׁמוֹ “and in his name,” cf.

Psalm 135:3, Isaiah 40:15. MT reads וְלִתְרַתּוֹ “and in his law,” a misreading involving a mem-taw confusion in a square script in a damaged scroll, possibly in reminiscence of 30:9 (law)

^e42:4 MT, reading ‘iyyim “coastlands/islands.” LXX reads ethnos, translated in Isaiah for Hebrew goiim “nations” twenty-five times, for ammim “peoples” ten times, and once in 41:5 for “coastlands/islands.” It is possible that MT has misread goiim as ‘iyyim in a damaged scroll. The LXX usually translates the Hebrew word for the latter as nesos (ten times in Isaiah)

^f42:4 Heb. yachal (piel) “hope.” Cf. BDB 3901: “2. wait for = hope for.”; HALOT: Psalm 119:49

^g42:1-4 Matthew 12:21

Did not the LORD, he against whom we have sinned?
For they would not walk in his ways,
and they disobeyed his law.

²⁵Therefore he poured the fierceness of his anger on him,
and the strength of battle;
and it set him on fire all around, but he did not know;
and it burned him, but he did not take it to heart.”

43 But now thus says the LORD who created you, Jacob, and he who formed you, Israel:

“Do not be afraid, for I have redeemed you.

I have called you by your name.
You are mine.

²When you pass through the waters, I will be with you;
and through the rivers, they will not overflow you.
When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned,
and the flame will not scorch you.

³For I am the LORD your God,
the Holy One of Israel,
your Savior.

I have given Egypt as your ransom,
Ethiopia and Seba in your place.

⁴Since you have been precious and honored in my sight,
and I have loved you;
therefore I will give people in your place,
and nations instead of your life.

⁵Do not be afraid; for I am with you.
I will bring your descendants from the east,
and gather you from the west.

⁶I will tell the north, ‘Give them up.’
and tell the south, ‘Do not hold them back.
Bring my sons from far,
and my daughters from the farthest parts of the earth—

⁷everyone who is called by my name, and whom I have created for my glory, whom I have formed,
yes, whom I have made.’”

⁸Bring out the blind people who have eyes, and the deaf who have ears.

⁹Let all the nations be gathered together,
and let the peoples be assembled.

Who among them can declare this,
and show us former things?

Let them bring their witnesses, that they may be justified;
or let them hear, and say, “That is true.”

¹⁰“You are my witnesses,” says the LORD,
“With my servant whom I have chosen;
that you may know and believe me,
and understand that I am he.

Before me there was no God formed, neither will there be after me.

¹¹I, I am the LORD;
and besides me there is no savior.

¹²I have declared, I have saved, and I have shown;
and there was no strange god among you.

Therefore you are my witnesses,” says the LORD, “and I am God.

¹³Yes, since the day was I am he;
and there is no one who can deliver out of my hand.
I will work, and who can hinder it?”

¹⁴Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel:
“For your sake, I have sent to Babylon, and I will bring all of them down as fugitives, even the Chaldeans, in the ships of their rejoicing.

¹⁵I am the LORD, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King.”

¹⁶Thus says the LORD, who makes a way in the sea,
and a path in the mighty waters;

¹⁷who brings forth the chariot and horse,
the army and the mighty man (they lie down together, they shall not rise;
they are extinct, they are quenched like a wick):

¹⁸“Do not remember the former things,
and do not consider the things of old.

¹⁹Look, I will do a new thing.
It springs forth now.

Do you not know it?

I will even make a way in the wilderness,
and rivers in the desert.

²⁰The animals of the field shall honor me,
the jackals and the ostriches;

because I give water in the wilderness and rivers in the desert,
to give drink to my people, my chosen,

²¹the people which I formed for myself,
that they might set forth my praise.

²²Yet you have not called on me, Jacob;
but you have been weary of me, Israel.

²³You have not brought me of your sheep for burnt offerings;
neither have you honored me with your sacrifices.

I have not burdened you with offerings,
nor wearied you with frankincense.

²⁴You have bought me no sweet cane with money, nor have you filled me with the fat of your sacrifices;

but you have burdened me with your sins.
You have wearied me with your iniquities.

²⁵I, even I, am he who blots out your transgressions for my own sake;

and I will not remember your sins.

²⁶Put me in remembrance.

Let us plead together.

Set forth your case,
that you may be justified.

²⁷Your first father sinned,
and your teachers have transgressed against me.

²⁸Therefore I will profane the princes of the sanctuary;
and I will make Jacob a curse,
and Israel a reviling.”

44 Yet listen now, Jacob my servant, and Israel, whom I have chosen.

²This is what the LORD who made you, and formed you from the womb,

who will help you says:

“Do not be afraid, Jacob my servant;
and you, Jeshurun, whom I have chosen.

³For I will pour water upon the thirsty, and streams on the dry ground.

I will pour my Spirit on your offspring,
and my blessing on your descendants:

⁴and they will spring up among the grass, as willows by the watercourses.

⁵One will say, ‘I am the LORD’s;’
and another will be called by the name of Jacob;
and another will write with his hand ‘to the LORD,’
and honor the name of Israel.”

⁶This is what the LORD, the King of Israel, and his Redeemer, the LORD of hosts, says:

“I am the first, and I am the last;
and besides me there is no God.
7Who is like me?
Who will call,
and will declare it,
and set it in order for me,
since I established the ancient people?
Let them declare the things that are coming,
and that will happen.
8Do not fear,
neither be afraid.
Haven’t I declared it to you long ago,
and shown it?
You are my witnesses.
Is there a God besides me?
Indeed, there is not.
I do not know any other Rock.”

9Everyone who makes an engraved image is vain.
The things that they delight in will not profit.
Their own witnesses do not see, nor know, that they may be disappointed.

10Who has fashioned a god,
or molds an image that is profitable for nothing?
11Look, all his fellows will be disappointed;
and the workmen are mere men.
Let them all be gathered together.
Let them stand up.
They will fear.
They will be put to shame together.

12The blacksmith takes an axe, works in the coals,
fashions it with hammers,
and works it with his strong arm.
He is hungry,
and his strength fails;
he drinks no water,
and is faint.

13The carpenter stretches out a line.
He marks it out with a pencil.
He shapes it with planes.
He marks it out with compasses, and shapes it like the figure of a man,
with the beauty of a man,
to reside in a house.

14He cuts down cedars for himself, and takes the cypress and the oak,
and strengthens for himself one among the trees of the forest.
He plants a fir tree,
and the rain nourishes it.

15Then it will be for a man to burn;
and he takes some of it, and warms himself.
Yes, he burns it, and bakes bread.
Yes, he makes a god, and worships it;
he makes it an engraved image, and falls down to it.

16He burns part of it in the fire.
With part of it, he eats meat.
He roasts a roast, and is satisfied.
Yes, he warms himself, and says, “Aha. I am warm. I have seen the fire.”

17The rest of it he makes into a god,

even his engraved image.
And he bows down to it and worships it,
and prays to it, and says, “Deliver me; for you are my god.”

18They do not know, neither do they consider:
for he has shut their eyes, that they can’t see;
and their hearts, that they can’t understand.

19No one thinks,
neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say,
“I have burned part of it in the fire.
Yes, I have also baked bread on its coals.
I have roasted meat and eaten it.
Shall I make the rest of it into an abomination?
Shall I bow down to a tree trunk?”

20He feeds on ashes.
A deceived heart has turned him aside;
and he can’t deliver his soul,
nor say, “Isn’t there a lie in my right hand?”

21Remember these things, Jacob and Israel;
for you are my servant.
I have formed you.
You are my servant.
Israel, you will not be forgotten by me.

22I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, your transgressions, and, as a cloud, your sins.
Return to me, for I have redeemed you.

23Sing, you heavens, for the LORD has done it.
Shout, you lower parts of the earth.
Break out into singing, you mountains, O forest, all of your trees,
for the LORD has redeemed Jacob,
and will glorify himself in Israel.

24Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer, and he who formed you from the womb:
“I am the LORD, who makes all things;
who alone stretches out the heavens;
who spreads out the earth by myself;
25who foils the omens of the empty talkers, and makes fools of diviners;
who turns sages back,
and makes their knowledge foolish;^a 26who confirms the word of his servant, and performs the counsel of his messengers;
who says of Jerusalem, ‘She will be inhabited;’
and of the cities of Judah, ‘They will be built,’
and ‘I will raise up its waste places;’
27who says to the deep, ‘Be dry,’
and ‘I will dry up your rivers;’
28Who says of Koresh,^b ‘He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure,’
even saying of Jerusalem, ‘She will be built;’
and of the temple, ‘Your foundation will be laid.’”

45 Thus says the LORD to his anointed, to Koresh, whose right hand I have held, to subdue nations before him, and strip kings of their armor; to open the doors before him, and the gates shall not be shut:

24“I will go before you,
and make the mountains^c level.

I will break the doors of bronze in pieces,
and cut apart the bars of iron.

^a44:25 DSS LXX. MT reads “wise”

^b44:28 Vocalized in Old Persian as Kurush. Latinized as Cyrus. He reigned places”

³I will give you the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that you may know that it is I, the LORD, who call you by your name,
even the God of Israel.
⁴For Jacob my servant's sake,
and Israel my chosen,
I have called you by your name.
I have surnamed you,
though you have not known me.
⁵I am the LORD, and there is no other.
Besides me, there is no God.
I will strengthen you,
though you have not known me;
⁶that they may know from the rising of the sun,
and from the west,
that there is none besides me.
I am the LORD, and there is no one else.
⁷I form the light,
and create darkness.
I make peace,
and create calamity.
I am the LORD,
who does all these things.
⁸Distil, you heavens, from above,
and let the skies pour down righteousness.
Let the earth open, that it may bring forth salvation,
and let it cause righteousness to spring up with it.
I, the LORD, have created it.
⁹Woe to him who strives with his Maker,^a a clay pot among the clay pots of the earth.
Shall the clay ask him who fashions it, "What are you making?"^b or your work, "He has no hands?" ¹⁰Woe to him who says to a father, "What have you become the father of?"
or to a mother, "To what have you given birth?"
¹¹Thus says the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker:
"You ask me about the things that are to come, concerning my sons,
and you command me concerning the work of my hands.
¹²I have made the earth, and created man on it.
I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens;
and I have commanded all their host.
¹³I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will make straight all his ways.
He shall build my city,
and he shall let my exiles go free,
not for price nor reward," says the LORD of hosts.
¹⁴Thus says the LORD: "The labor of Egypt, and the merchandise of Ethiopia,
and the Sabians, men of stature, shall come over to you,
and they shall be yours.
They will go after you.
They shall come over in chains;
and they will bow down to you.
They will make petition to you:
'Surely God is in you; and there is no other.
There is no other god.
¹⁵Most certainly you are a God who hid yourself,
God of Israel, the Savior."
¹⁶They will be disappointed,
yes, confounded, all of them.

Those who are makers of idols will go into confusion together.

¹⁷Israel will be saved by the LORD with an everlasting salvation.
You will not be disappointed nor confounded to ages everlasting.

¹⁸For thus says the LORD who created the heavens,
the God who formed the earth and made it,
who established it and did not create it a waste,
who formed it to be inhabited:

"I am the LORD,
and there is no other.

¹⁹I have not spoken in secret,
in a place of the land of darkness.

I did not say to the descendants of Jacob, "Seek me in vain."
I, the LORD, speak righteousness.
I declare things that are right.

²⁰Assemble yourselves and come.

Draw near together, you who have escaped from the nations.
Those have no knowledge who carry the wood of their engraved image,
and pray to a god that can't save.

²¹Declare and bring it forth.

Yes, let them take counsel together. Who announced this from long ago, has told it from then? Was it not I, the LORD? And there is no other God besides me, a just God and a Savior; there is no one besides me. ²²Look to me, and be saved, every part of the earth; for I am God, and there is no other. ²³By myself have I sworn, the word is gone forth from my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, that to me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear to God.^c ²⁴Only in the LORD, it is said of me, is righteousness and strength; even to him shall men come; and all those who were incensed against him shall be disappointed. ²⁵In the LORD shall all the descendants of Israel be justified, and shall glory.

46 Bel bows down, Nebo stoops; their idols are on the animals, and on the livestock: the things that you carried about are made a load, a burden to the weary.

²They stoop, they bow down together; they could not deliver the burden, but they have gone into captivity.

³"Listen to me, house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, that have been borne from their birth, that have been carried from the womb; ⁴and even to old age I am he, and even to gray hairs will I carry you. I have made, and I will bear; yes, I will carry, and will deliver.

⁵"To whom will you liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like? ⁶Some pour out gold from the bag, and weigh silver in the balance. They hire a goldsmith, and he makes it a god.
They fall down—yes, they worship. ⁷They bear it on the shoulder, they carry it, and set it in its place, and it stands, from its place it shall not move: yes, one may cry to it, yet it can not answer, nor save him out of his trouble.

⁸"Remember this, and show yourselves men; bring it again to mind, you transgressors. ⁹Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is no other; I am God, and there is none like me; ¹⁰declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times things that are not yet done; saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure; ¹¹calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man of my counsel from a far country; yes, I have spoken, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed, I will also do it. ¹²Listen to me, you stubborn of heart, who are far from righteousness: ¹³I bring near my righteousness, it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not wait; and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory.

“Come down, and sit in the dust, virgin daughter of Babylon; sit on the ground without a throne, daughter of the Chaldeans: for you shall no more be called tender and delicate. ²Take the millstones, and grind meal; remove your veil, strip off the train, uncover the leg, pass through the rivers. ³Your nakedness shall be uncovered, yes, your shame shall be seen: I will take vengeance, and will spare no man,” ⁴says^a our Redeemer; the LORD of hosts is his name, the Holy One of Israel.

⁵“Sit in silence, and go into darkness, daughter of the Chaldeans; for you shall no more be called the mistress of kingdoms. ⁶I was angry with my people, I profaned my inheritance, and gave them into your hand: you showed them no mercy; on the aged you have very heavily laid your yoke. ⁷You said, ‘I shall be a mistress forever;’ so that you did not lay these things to your heart, nor did you remember the latter end of it.

⁸“Now therefore hear this, you who are given to pleasures, who sit securely, who say in your heart, ‘I am, and there is no other besides me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children:’ ⁹but these two things shall come to you in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood; in their full measure shall they come on you, in spite of your many sorceries and the potency of your spells. ¹⁰For you have trusted in your wickedness; you have said, No one sees me; your wisdom and your knowledge, it has perverted you, and you have said in your heart, ‘I am, and there is no other besides me.’ ¹¹Therefore disaster will come on you; you won’t know when it dawns: and calamity will fall on you; you will not be able to put it away: and desolation shall come on you suddenly and unexpectedly.

¹²“Stand now with your enchantments, and with the multitude of your sorceries, in which you have labored from your youth; if so be you shall be able to profit, if so be you may prevail. ¹³You are wearied in the multitude of your counsels; those who conjure^b the heavens, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save you from the things that shall come on you. ¹⁴Look, they shall be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: it shall not be a coal to warm at, nor a fire to sit before. ¹⁵Thus shall the things be to you in which you have labored: those who have trafficked with you from your youth shall wander everyone to his quarter; there shall be none to save you.

“Hear this, house of Jacob, you who are called by the name of Israel, and have come forth out of the waters of Judah; who swear by the name of the LORD, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness ²(for they call themselves of the holy city, and stay themselves on the God of Israel; the LORD of hosts is his name): ³I have declared the former things from of old; yes, they went forth out of my mouth, and I caused them to hear it. Suddenly I did them, and they happened. ⁴Because I knew that you are obstinate, and your neck is an iron sinew, and your brow bronze; ⁵therefore I have declared it to you from of old; before it came to pass I showed it to you; lest you should say, ‘My idol has done them, and my engraved image, and my molten image, has commanded them.’ ⁶You have heard it; see all this; and you, will you not declare it?

“I have shown you new things from this time, even hidden things, which you have not known. ⁷They are created now, and not from of old; and before this day you did not hear them; lest you should say, ‘Look, I knew them.’

⁸Yes, you did not hear; yes, you did not know; yes, from of old your ear was not opened: for I knew that you dealt very treacherously, and was called a transgressor from the womb. ⁹For my name’s sake will I defer my anger, and for my praise will I refrain for you, that I not cut you off. ¹⁰Look, I have refined you, but not as silver; I have chosen you in the furnace of affliction. ¹¹For my own sake, for my own sake, will I do it; for how should my name^c be profaned? I will not give my glory to another.

¹²“Listen to me, O Jacob, and Israel my called: I am he; I am the first, I also am the last. ¹³Yes, my hand has laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand has spread out the heavens: when I call to them, they stand up together.

¹⁴“Let all of them assemble^d and hear; who among them has declared these things? He whom the LORD loves shall perform his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm shall be on^e the Chaldeans. ¹⁵I, even I, have spoken; yes, I have called him; I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous.

¹⁶“Come near to me and hear this:

“From the beginning I have not spoken in secret; from the time that it was, there am I.” Now the LORD^f has sent me, with his Spirit.

¹⁷Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: I am the LORD your God, who teaches you to profit, who leads you by the way that you should go. ¹⁸But^g would that you had listened to my commandments. Then your peace would have been like a river, and your righteousness like the waves of the sea. ¹⁹Your descendants would have been as the sand, and the offspring of your body like its grains; his name would not be cut off nor destroyed from before me. ²⁰Go forth from Babylon, flee from the Chaldeans; with a voice of singing declare, tell this, send it out throughout the earth. Say, ‘The LORD has redeemed his servant Jacob.’ ²¹They did not thirst when he led them through the deserts; he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them; he split the rock also, and the waters gushed out. ²²“There is no peace,” says the LORD, “for the wicked.”

Listen, islands, to me; and listen, you peoples, from far: the LORD has called me from the womb; from the body of my mother has he made mention of my name: ²and he has made my mouth like a sharp sword; in the shadow of his hand, he has hidden me; and he has made me a polished arrow, in his quiver has he kept me close: ³and he said to me, “You are my servant; Israel, in whom I will be glorified.” ⁴But I said, “I have labored in vain, I have spent my strength for nothing and vanity; yet surely the justice due to me is with the LORD, and my reward with my God.”

⁵Now says the LORD who formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, and that Israel be gathered to him; for I am honorable in the eyes of the LORD, and my God has become my strength. ⁶And he says, “Is it too insignificant a thing that you should be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the remnant of Israel? I will also give you as a light to the nations, that you may bring salvation^a to the farthest part of the earth.”^b

⁷Thus says the LORD, the Redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One, to the one who is despised,^c to the abhorred of the nation, the servant of rulers: “Kings shall see and arise; princes, and they shall worship; because of the LORD who is faithful, even the Holy One of Israel, who has chosen you.”

⁸Thus says the LORD, “In an acceptable time I have answered you, and in a day of salvation I have helped you;^d and I will preserve you, and give you as a covenant to the people, to raise up the land, to make them inherit the desolate heritage: ⁹saying to those who are bound, ‘Come out.’; to those who are in darkness, ‘Show yourselves.’

“They shall feed in the ways, and on all bare heights shall be their pasture. ¹⁰They shall not hunger nor thirst; neither shall the heat nor sun strike them: for he who has mercy on them will lead them, even by springs of water he will guide them. ¹¹I will make all my mountains a way, and my highways shall be exalted. ¹²Look, these shall come from far; and look, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of Syene.”^e

¹³Sing, heavens; and be joyful, earth; and break forth into singing, mountains: for the LORD has comforted his people, and will have compassion on his afflicted. ¹⁴But Zion said, “The LORD has forsaken me, and my Lord^f has forgotten me.”

¹⁵“Can a woman forget her nursing child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? Yes, these may forget, yet I will not forget you. ¹⁶Look, I have inscribed you on the palms of my hands; your walls are continually before me. ¹⁷Your builders^g hurry; your destroyers and those who devastated you shall depart from you. ¹⁸Lift up your eyes all around, and see: all these gather themselves together, and come to you. As I live,” says the LORD, “you shall surely clothe yourself with them all as with an ornament, and dress yourself with them, like a bride.

¹⁹“For, as for your waste and your desolate places, and your land that has been destroyed, surely now you shall be too small for the inhabitants, and those who swallowed you up shall be far away. ²⁰The children of your bereavement shall yet say in your ears, The place is too small for me; give place to me that I may dwell. ²¹Then you will say in your heart, ‘Who has conceived these for me, since I have been bereaved of my children, and am solitary, an exile, and wandering back and forth? Who has brought up these? Look, I was left alone; these, where were they?’”

²²Thus says the LORD^h, “Look, I will lift up my hand to the nations, and set up my banner to the peoples; and they shall bring your sons in their bosom, and your daughters shall be carried on their shoulders. ²³Kings shall be your nursing fathers, and their queens your nursing mothers: they shall bow down to you with their faces to the earth, and lick the dust of your feet; and you shall know that I am the LORD; and those who wait for me shall not be disappointed.”

²⁴Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the captives of a tyrantⁱ be delivered?

50 Thus says the LORD, “Where is the bill of your mother’s divorce, with which I have put her away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Look, for your iniquities were you sold, and for your transgressions was your mother put away. ²Why, when I came, was there no man? When I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it can’t redeem? or have I no power to deliver? Look, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stink, because there is no water, and die for thirst. ³I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering.”

⁴The LORD^j has given me the tongue of those who are taught, that I may know how to sustain with a word him who is weary: he wakens morning by morning,^k he wakens my ear to hear as those who are taught. ⁵The LORD^l has opened my ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away backward. ⁶I gave my back to those who strike, and my cheeks to those who tore out my beard; I did not cover my face from insults and spitting. ⁷But the LORD^m will help me; therefore I have not been confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be disappointed. ⁸He is near who justifies me; who will bring charges against me? Let us stand up together: who is my adversary? Let him come near to me. ⁹Look, the LORDⁿ will help me; who is he who shall condemn me? Look, all they shall wax old as a garment, the moth shall eat them up. ¹⁰Who is among you who fears the LORD, who listens to the voice of his servant? He who walks in darkness, and has no light, let him trust in the name of the LORD, and rely on his God. ¹¹Look, all you who kindle a fire, who adorn yourselves with torches around yourselves; walk in the light of your fire, and among the torches that you have kindled.^o You shall have this of my hand; you shall lie down in sorrow.

51 “Listen to me, you who follow after righteousness, you who seek the LORD: look to the rock you were cut from, and to the hold of the pit you were dug from.

³For the LORD has comforted Zion; he has comforted all her waste places, and has made her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the LORD; joy and gladness shall be found in it, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.

⁴“Attend to me, my people; and give ear to me, my nation: for a law shall go forth from me, and I will establish my justice for a light of the peoples. ⁵My righteousness is near, my salvation is gone forth, and my arms shall judge the peoples; the islands shall wait for me, and on my arm shall they trust. ⁶Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look on the earth beneath; for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment; and those who dwell in it shall die in the same way: but my salvation shall be forever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

¹²“I, even I, am he who comforts you: who are you, that you are afraid of man who shall die, and of the son of man who shall be made as grass; ¹³and have forgotten the LORD your Maker, who stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth; and fear continually all the day because of the fury of the oppressor, when he makes ready to destroy? and where is the fury of the oppressor? ¹⁴The captive exile shall speedily be freed; and he shall not die and go down into the pit, neither shall his bread fail. ¹⁵For I am the LORD your God, who stirs up the sea, so that its waves roar: the LORD of hosts is his name. ¹⁶I have put my words in your mouth, and have covered you in the shadow of my hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and tell Zion, ‘You are my people.’”

¹⁷Awake, awake, stand up, Jerusalem, that have drunk at the hand of the LORD the cup of his wrath; you have drunk from the bowl, of the cup of staggering, and drained it. ¹⁸There is none to guide her among all the sons whom she has brought forth; neither is there any who takes her by the hand among all the sons who she has brought up. ¹⁹These two things have happened to you. Who will grieve for you? Desolation and destruction, and the famine and the sword. Who will console you?^a ²⁰Your sons have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets, as an antelope in a net; they are full of the wrath of the LORD, the rebuke of your God. ²¹Therefore hear now this, you afflicted, and drunk, but not with wine: ²²Thus says your Lord, the LORD,^b and your God who pleads the cause of his people, “Look, I have taken out of your hand the cup of staggering, even the bowl of the cup of my wrath; you shall no more drink it again: ²³and I will put it into the hand of those who afflict you, who have said to your soul, ‘Bow down, that we may walk over you;’ and you have laid your back as the ground, and as the street, to those who walk over.”

52 Awake, awake, put on your strength, Zion; put on your beautiful garments, Jerusalem, the holy city, for there shall no more enter into you the uncircumcised and the unclean. ²Shake yourself from the dust. Arise, sit up, Jerusalem. Release yourself from the bonds of your neck, captive daughter of Zion. ³For thus says the LORD, “You were sold for nothing; and you shall be redeemed without money.”

⁴For thus says the^c LORD, “My people went down at the first into Egypt to live there, and the Assyrian oppressed them without cause.

⁵“Now therefore, what do I do here,”^d says the LORD, “seeing that my people are taken away for nothing? Those who rule^e over them mock,^f” says the LORD. “Because of you,^g my name is continually all the day blasphemed among the nations. ⁶Therefore my people shall know my name;ⁱ in that day they will know that I am he who speaks; look, it is I.”

They lift up the voice, together do they sing; for they shall see eye to eye, when the LORD returns to Zion with compassion.^k ⁹Break forth into joy, sing together, you waste places of Jerusalem; for the LORD has comforted his people, he has redeemed Jerusalem. ¹⁰The LORD has revealed his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and every part of the earth has seen the salvation of our God.

¹⁴Just as many were astonished at you (his appearance was marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men),

¹⁵so shall he sprinkle many nations; kings shall shut their mouths at him. For that which was not told about him,^q they will see, and what they have not heard, they will understand.^r

53 LORD,^a who has believed our message?^b And to whom has the arm of the LORD been revealed?
²For he grew up before him as a tender plant,
 and as a root out of dry ground.
 He had no beauty or majesty to attract us to him, nor special appearance that we should desire him.
³He was despised,
 and rejected by people;
 a man of sorrows,
 and familiar^c with illness;
 and as one from whom people hide their face. He was despised and we did not value him.
⁴Surely he bore our diseases, and took our pains;^d
 yet we considered him stricken,
 and^e struck down by God, and afflicted.
⁵But he was pierced for our transgressions,^f and^g he was crushed for our iniquities.
 The punishment that brought our peace was on him;
 and by his wounds we are healed.^h
⁶We all like sheep have gone astray.ⁱ
 Everyone has turned to his own way;
 and the LORD has laid on him the iniquity of us all.
⁷He was oppressed,
 yet when he was afflicted he did not open his mouth.
 He was led like a sheep to the slaughter,
 and like a lamb^j before its shearer is silent,
 so he does not open his mouth.
⁸In his oppression his justice^k was taken away.^l
 Who will consider his generation?
 For his life^m was cut off from the earth.ⁿ
 For the transgression of my people he was led^o to death.^p ⁹And they^q assigned his grave with the wicked, yet with the rich at his death,^r though he had committed no sin,^s

nor was deceit found^t in his mouth.^u ¹⁰Yet the LORD was pleased to crush him and make him ill.
 Although his soul is made^v a reparation offering,
 he will see his offspring,
 he will prolong his days,
 and the desire of the LORD will succeed by his hand.
¹¹After the suffering of his soul
 he will see light^w and be satisfied by his knowledge.
 The righteous one, my servant, will make many righteous, and he will bear their iniquities.
¹²Therefore I will divide him a portion with the great,
 and he will divide the spoil with the strong;
 because he poured out his soul to death,
 and he was numbered with transgressors;^x
 yet he bore the sins^y of many,^z and made intercession for their transgressions.^{aa}

54 “Sing, barren, you who did not bear; break forth into singing, and cry aloud, you who did not travail with child: for more are the children of the desolate than of her that has a husband,”^{bb} says the LORD.
²“Enlarge the place of your tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of your habitations; do not spare: lengthen your cords, and strengthen your stakes. ³For you shall spread out on the right hand and on the left; and your descendants shall possess the nations, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited.

⁴“Do not be afraid, for you will not be put to shame, nor will you be humiliated, for you will not be disgraced. For you will forget the shame of your youth, and the disgrace of your widowhood you will remember no more. ⁵For your husband is your Creator; the LORD of hosts is his name: and the Holy One of Israel is your Redeemer; the God of the whole earth shall he be called. ⁶For the LORD has called you as a wife forsaken and grieved in spirit, even a wife of youth, when she is cast off,” says your God.

Yes, come,^b buy wine and milk without money and without price. ²Why do you spend money for that which is not bread? and your labor for that which doesn’t satisfy? ⁸“For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways,” says the LORD.

⁹“For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.

¹⁰For as the rain comes down and the snow from the sky, and doesn’t return there, but waters the earth, and makes it bring forth and bud, and gives seed to the sower and bread to the eater;

¹¹so shall my word be that goes forth out of my mouth: it shall not return to me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing I sent it to do.

¹²For you shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing; and all the trees of the fields shall clap their hands. ¹³Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree; and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree: and it shall be to the LORD for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off.”

³Neither let the foreigner, who has joined himself to the LORD, speak, saying, “The LORD will surely separate me from his people”; neither let the eunuch say, “Look, I am a dry tree.”

⁸The LORD,^f who gathers the outcasts of Israel, says, “Yet will I gather others to him, besides his own who are gathered.”

⁹All you animals of the field, come to devour, all you animals in the forest. ¹⁰His watchmen are blind, they are all without knowledge; they are all mute dogs, they can’t bark; dreaming, lying down, loving to slumber. ¹¹Yes, the dogs are greedy, they can never have enough; and these are shepherds who can’t understand: they have all turned to their own way, each one to his gain, from every quarter. ¹²“Come,” say they, “I will get wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and tomorrow shall be as this day, great beyond measure.”

for you have uncovered to someone besides me,
and have gone up;
you have enlarged your bed,

you loved their bed where you saw it.

⁹You went to the king with oil, and increased your perfumes, and sent your ambassadors far off, and debased yourself even to Sheol^a. ¹⁰You were wearied with the length of your way; yet you did not say, 'It is in vain.' You found a reviving of your strength; therefore you weren't faint.

"I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also who is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite.

¹⁶For I will not contend forever, neither will I be always angry; for the spirit would faint before me, and the souls who I have made. ¹⁷For the iniquity of his covetousness was I angry, and struck him; I hid myself and was angry; and he went on backsliding in the way of his heart. ¹⁸I have seen his ways, and will heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comforts to him and to his mourners. ¹⁹I create the fruit of the lips.^b Peace, peace, to him who is far off and to him who is near," says the LORD; "and I will heal him." ²⁰But the wicked are like the troubled sea; for it can't rest, and its waters cast up mire and dirt. ²¹"There is no peace," says my God, "for the wicked."

58 "Cry aloud, do not spare, lift up your voice like a trumpet, and declare to my people their disobedience, and to the house of Jacob their sins. ²Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways: as a nation that did righteousness, and did not forsake the ordinance of their God, they ask of me righteous judgments; they delight to draw near to God. ³'Why have we fasted,' say they, 'and you do not see? Why have we afflicted our soul, and you take no knowledge?"

"Look, in the day of your fast you find pleasure, and exact all your labors. ⁴Look, you fast for strife and contention, and to strike with the fist of wickedness: you do not fast this day so as to make your voice to be heard on high. ⁵Is such the fast that I have chosen? the day for a man to afflict his soul? Is it to bow down his head as a rush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? Will you call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the LORD?"

⁶"Isn't this the fast that I have chosen: to release the bonds of wickedness, to undo the bands of the yoke, and to let the oppressed go free, and that you break every yoke? ⁷Isn't it to distribute your bread to the hungry, and that you bring the poor who are cast out to your house? When you see the naked, that you cover him; and that you not hide yourself from your own flesh? ⁸Then your light shall break forth as the morning, and your healing shall spring forth speedily; and your righteousness shall go before you; the glory of the LORD shall be your rear guard. ⁹Then you shall call, and the LORD will answer; you shall cry, and he will say, 'Here I am.' "If you take away from the midst of you the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and speaking wickedly; ¹⁰and if you draw out your soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul: then your light shall rise in darkness, and your obscurity be as the noonday; ¹¹and the LORD will guide you continually, and satisfy your soul in dry places, and make strong your bones; and you shall be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters do not fail. ¹²Those who shall be of you shall build the old waste places; you shall raise up the foundations of many generations; and you shall be called The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in.

¹³"If you turn away your foot from the Sabbath, from doing your pleasure on my holy day; and call the Sabbath a delight, and the holy of the LORD honorable; and shall honor it, not doing your own ways, nor finding your own pleasure, nor speaking your own words: ¹⁴then you shall delight yourself in the LORD; and I will make you to ride on the high places of the earth; and I will feed you with the heritage of Jacob your father:" for the mouth of the LORD has spoken it.

59 Look, the LORD's hand is not shortened, that it can't save; neither his ear heavy, that it can't hear: ²but your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hidden his face from you, so that he will not hear. ³For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity; your lips have spoken lies, your tongue mutters wickedness. ⁴None sues in righteousness, and none pleads in truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity. ⁵They hatch adders' eggs, and weave the spider's web: he who eats of their eggs dies; and that which is crushed breaks out into a viper. ⁶Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands. ⁷Their feet run to evil, and they are swift to shed innocent blood. Their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; destruction and calamity are in their paths.^c ⁸The way of peace they do not know; and there is no justice in their goings: they have made them crooked paths; whoever goes in it does not know peace. ⁹Therefore is justice far from us, neither does righteousness overtake us: we look for light, but, look, darkness; for brightness, but we walk in obscurity. ¹⁰We grope for the wall like the blind; yes, we grope as those who have no eyes: we stumble at noonday as in the twilight; among those who are lusty we are as dead men. ¹¹We roar all like bears, and moan bitterly like doves: we look for justice, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far off from us.

¹²For our transgressions are multiplied before you, and our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us, and as for our iniquities, we know them: ¹³transgressing and denying the LORD, and turning away from following our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood. ¹⁴Justice is turned away backward, and righteousness stands afar off; for truth is fallen in the street, and uprightness can't enter. ¹⁵Yes, truth is lacking; and he who departs from evil makes himself a prey. The LORD saw it, and it displeased him that there was no justice. ¹⁶He saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor:

therefore his own arm brought salvation to him; and his righteousness, it upheld him. ¹⁷He put on righteousness as a breastplate, and a helmet of salvation on his head; and he put on garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a mantle. ¹⁸According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay, wrath to his adversaries, recompense to his enemies; to the islands he will repay recompense. ¹⁹So shall they fear the name of the LORD from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun; for he will come as a rushing stream, which the breath of the LORD drives.

²⁰“A Redeemer will come from^a Zion, and he will^b turn away transgression from^c Jacob,”^d says the LORD.^e

²¹“As for me, this is my covenant with them,” says the LORD. “My Spirit who is on you, and my words which I have put in your mouth, shall not depart out of your mouth, nor out of the mouth of your children, nor out of the mouth of your children’s children,” says the LORD, “from now on and forever.”

60 “Arise, shine; for your light has come, and the glory of the LORD has risen upon you. ²For, look, darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the peoples; but the LORD will arise on you, and his glory shall be seen on you. ³Nations shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising.

⁴“Lift up your eyes all around, and see: they all gather themselves together, they come to you; your sons shall come from far, and your daughters shall be carried in the arms. ⁵Then you shall see and be radiant, and your heart shall thrill and be enlarged; because the abundance of the sea shall be turned to you, the wealth of the nations shall come to you. ⁶The multitude of camels shall cover you, the dromedaries of Midian and Ephah; all they from Sheba shall come; they shall bring gold and frankincense, and shall proclaim the praises of the LORD. ⁷All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together to you, the rams of Nebaioth shall minister to you; they shall come up with acceptance on my altar; and I will glorify the house of my glory.

⁸“Who are these who fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows? ⁹Surely the islands shall wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish first, to bring your sons from far, their silver and their gold with them, for the name of the LORD your God, and for the Holy One of Israel, because he has glorified you.

¹⁰“Foreigners shall build up your walls, and their kings shall minister to you: for in my wrath I struck you, but in my favor have I had mercy on you.

¹¹Your gates also shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night; that men may bring to you the wealth of the nations, and their kings led captive.

¹²For that nation and kingdom that will not serve you shall perish; yes, those nations shall be utterly wasted.

¹³“The glory of Lebanon shall come to you, the fir tree, the pine, and the box tree together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious.

¹⁵“Whereas you have been forsaken and hated, so that no man passed through you, I will make you an everlasting excellency, a joy of many generations. ¹⁶You shall also drink the milk of the nations, and shall nurse from royal breasts; and you shall know that I, the LORD, am your Savior, and your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob. ¹⁷For bronze I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood bronze, and for stones iron. I will also make your officers peace, and righteousness your ruler. ¹⁸Violence shall no more be heard in your land, destruction nor calamity within your borders; but you shall call your walls Salvation, and your gates Praise. ¹⁹The sun will no longer be your light by day, nor will the moon shine for illumination at night^f; but the LORD will be your everlasting light, and your God will be your glory. ²⁰Your sun shall no more go down, neither shall your moon withdraw itself; for the LORD will be your everlasting light, and the days of your mourning shall be ended. ²¹Your people also shall be all righteous; they shall inherit the land forever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified. ²²The little one shall become a thousand, and the small one a strong nation; I, the LORD, will hasten it in its time.”

61 The Spirit of the LORD^g is upon me, because he^h has anointed me to preach good news to the poor. He has sent me to bind upⁱ the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and an opening of the eyes^j to the blind;^k ²to proclaim the year of the LORD’s favor,¹ and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all who mourn; ³to appoint to those who mourn in Zion, to give to them a garland for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they may be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he may be glorified.

⁴They shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations. ⁵Strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and foreigners shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers. ⁶But you shall be named the priests of the LORD; men will call you the ministers of our God: you will eat the wealth of the nations, and you will boast in their glory.

⁷Instead of your shame you shall have double; and instead of dishonor they shall rejoice in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess double; everlasting joy shall be to them.

¹⁰I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he has clothed me with the garments of salvation, he has covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decks himself with a garland, and as a bride adorns herself with her jewels. ¹¹For as the earth brings forth its bud, and as the garden causes the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the LORD^b will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

62 For Zion’s sake I will not keep silent, and for Jerusalem’s sake I will not rest, until her righteousness go forth as brightness, and her salvation as a lamp that burns. ²The nations shall see your righteousness, and all kings your glory, and you shall be called by a new name, which the mouth of the LORD shall name. ³You shall also be a crown of beauty in the hand of the LORD, and a royal diadem in the hand of your God. ⁴And^c you shall no more be termed Forsaken; neither shall your land any more be termed Desolate: but you shall be called Hephzibah, and your land Beulah; for the LORD delights in you, and your land shall be married. ⁵For just as^d a young man marries a virgin, so your sons shall marry you; and as the bridegroom rejoices over the bride, so your God will rejoice over you. ⁶I have set watchmen on your walls, Jerusalem; they shall never be silent, day or night. You who call on the LORD, take no rest, ⁷and give him no rest until he establishes and until he makes Jerusalem a praise in the earth.

⁸The LORD has sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, “Surely I will no more give your grain to be food for your enemies; and foreigners shall not drink your new wine, for which you have labored: ⁹but those who have garnered it shall eat it, and praise the LORD; and those who have gathered it shall drink it in the courts of my sanctuary.”

¹⁰Go through^e the gates, prepare the way of the people. Build up, build up the highway. Gather out the stones. Lift up a banner for the peoples. ¹¹Look, the LORD has proclaimed to the remotest part of earth, “Say to the daughter of Zion, ‘Look, your salvation comes. Look, his reward is with him, and his recompense before him.’”

¹²They shall call them The holy people, The redeemed of the LORD: and you shall be called Sought out, A city not forsaken.

63 Who is this who comes from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? this who is glorious in his clothing, marching in the greatness of his strength? “It is I who speak in righteousness, mighty to save.” ²Why are you red in your clothing, and your garments like him who treads in the wine vat?

³“I have trodden the winepress alone; and of the peoples there was no man with me: yes, I trod them in my anger, and trampled them in my wrath; and their lifeblood is sprinkled on my garments, and I have stained all my clothing. ⁴For the day of vengeance was in my heart, and the year of my redeemed has come. ⁵I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore my own arm brought salvation to me; and my wrath, it upheld me. ⁶I trod down the peoples in my anger, and made them drunk in my wrath, and I poured out their lifeblood on the earth.”

⁷I will make mention of the loving kindnesses of the LORD and the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD has bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he has bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his loving kindnesses. ⁸For he said, “Surely, they are my people, children who will not deal falsely:” so he was their Savior. ⁹In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bore them, and carried them all the days of old. ¹⁰But they rebelled, and grieved his holy Spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he himself fought against them.

64 Oh that you would tear the heavens, that you would come down, that the mountains might quake at your presence, ²as when fire kindles the brushwood, and the fire causes the waters to boil; to make your name known to your adversaries, that the nations may tremble at your presence. ³When you did awesome things which we did not look for, you came down, the mountains quaked at your presence. ⁴Since^f ancient times no one has heard, and^g no ear has perceived, and^h no eye has seen a God besides you, who works for him who waitsⁱ for him.^j ⁵You meet him who rejoices and works righteousness, those who remember you in your ways. Look, you were angry, and we sinned. We have been in sin for a long time; and shall we be saved? ⁶For we have all become as one who is unclean, and all our righteousness is as a polluted garment: and we all fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away. ⁷There is none who calls on your name, who stirs up himself to take hold of you; for you have hidden your face from us, and have consumed us by means of our iniquities.

⁸But now, LORD, you are our Father, and we are clay,^a and you our potter; and we all are the work of your hands.^b ⁹Do not be furious, LORD, neither remember iniquity forever: see, look, we beg you, we are all your people. ¹⁰Your holy cities have become a wilderness, Zion has become like^c a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation. ¹¹Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised you, is burned with fire; and all our pleasant places are laid waste. ¹²Will you refrain yourself for these things, LORD? Will you hold your peace, and afflict us very severely?

65 “I have shown myself to those who did not ask for me.^d I was found by those who did not seek me.^e I said, ‘Here I am. Here I am.’ to a nation that did not call on my name. ²All day long I have stretched out my hands to a disobedient and obstinate^f people, who walk in a way that is not good, following their own thoughts; ³a people who provoke me to my face continually as they^g sacrifice in gardens and burn incense on bricks; ⁴who sit among the graves, and lodge in the secret places; who eat pig’s flesh, and the broth of abominable things is in their vessels; ⁵who say, ‘Keep your distance, do not come near to me, for I am holier than you.’ These are a smoke in my nose, a fire that burns all the day.

⁶“Look, it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will recompense, yes, I will recompense into their bosom, ⁷your own iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together,” says the LORD, “who have burned incense on the mountains, and blasphemed me on the hills; therefore I will first measure their work into their bosom.”

⁸Thus says the LORD, “As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one says, ‘Do not destroy it, for a blessing is in it:’ so will I do for my servants’ sake, that I may not destroy them all. ⁹And I will bring forth offspring from Jacob, and from Judah they shall inherit^h my mountains; and my chosen shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there. ¹⁰Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the Valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down in, for my people who have sought me.

¹¹“But you who forsake the LORD, who forget my holy mountain, who prepare a table for Fortune, and who fill up mixed wine to Destiny; ¹²I will destine you to the sword, and you shall all bow down to the slaughter; because when I called, you did not answer; when I spoke, you did not listen; but you did that which was evil in my eyes, and chose that in which I did not delight.”

¹³Therefore thus says the LORD,ⁱ “Look, my servants shall eat, but you shall be hungry; look, my servants shall drink, but you shall be thirsty; look, my servants shall rejoice, but you shall be disappointed; ¹⁴behold, my servants shall sing in^l gladness of heart, but you shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall wail for anguish of spirit.

¹⁵You shall leave your name for a curse to my chosen; and the Lord GOD will kill you; and he will call his servants by another name: ¹⁶so that he who blesses himself in the earth shall bless himself in the God of truth; and he who swears in the earth shall swear by the God of truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hidden from my eyes.

⁷But the LORD said to me, “Do not say, ‘I am a child;’ for to whoever I shall send you, you shall go, and whatever I shall command you, you shall speak. ⁸Do not be afraid because of them; for I am with you to deliver you,” says the LORD. ⁹Then the LORD put forth his hand, and touched my mouth; and the LORD said to me, “Look, I have put my words in your mouth. ¹⁰Look, I have this day set you over the nations and over the kingdoms, to pluck up and to break down and to destroy and to overthrow, to build and to plant.” ¹¹Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying, “Jeremiah, what do you see?”

I said, “I see a branch of an almond tree.”

¹²Then the LORD said to me, “You have seen well; for I watch over my word to perform it.”

¹³The word of the LORD came to me the second time, saying, “What do you see?”

I said, “I see a boiling caldron; and it is tipping away from the north.”

¹⁴Then the LORD said to me, “Out of the north evil will break out on all the inhabitants of the land. ¹⁵For, look, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north,” says the LORD; “and they shall come, and they shall each set his throne at the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all its walls all around, and against all the cities of Judah. ¹⁶I will utter my judgments against them touching all their wickedness, in that they have forsaken me, and have burned incense to other gods, and worshiped the works of their own hands.

¹⁷“You therefore put your belt on your waist, arise, and speak to them all that I command you. Do not be dismayed at them, lest I dismay you before them. ¹⁸For, look, I have made you this day a fortified city, and an iron pillar, and bronze walls, against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against its princes, against its priests, and against the people of the land. ¹⁹They will fight against you; but they will not prevail against you; for I am with you,” says the LORD, “to deliver you.”

¹⁷"Haven't you brought this on yourself, in that you have forsaken the LORD your God, when he led you by the way? ¹⁸Now what have you to do in the way to Egypt, to drink the waters of the Shihor? Or what have you to do in the way to Assyria, to drink the waters of the River?

¹⁹"Your own wickedness shall correct you, and your backsliding shall reprove you. Know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter that you have forsaken the LORD your God, and that my fear is not in you," says the Lord, GOD of hosts. ²⁰"For of old time I have broken your yoke, and burst your bonds; and you said, 'I will not serve;' for on every high hill and under every green tree you bowed yourself, playing the prostitute. ²¹Yet I had planted you a noble vine, wholly a right seed. How then have you turned into the degenerate branches of a foreign vine to me? ²²For though you wash yourself with lye, and use much soap, yet your iniquity is marked before me," says the Lord GOD.

²⁵"Withhold your foot from being unshod, and your throat from thirst. But you said, 'It is in vain. No, for I have loved strangers, and I will go after them.' ²⁶As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed; they, their kings, their officials, and their priests, and their prophets; ²⁷who tell wood, 'You are my father;' and a stone, 'You have brought me out:' for they have turned their back to me, and not their face; but in the time of their trouble they will say, 'Arise, and save us.'

²⁸"But where are your gods that you have made for yourselves? Let them arise, if they can save you in the time of your trouble. For according to the number of your cities are your gods, Judah. And according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem they were sacrificing to Baal.^b

³⁰"I have struck your children in vain. They received no correction. Your own sword has devoured your prophets, like a destroying lion. ³¹Generation, consider the word of the LORD. Have I been a wilderness to Israel? Or a land of thick darkness? Why do my people say, 'We have broken loose. We will come to you no more?'

³²"Can a virgin forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? Yet my people have forgotten me for days without number. ³³How well you prepare your way to seek love. Therefore you have taught even the wicked women your ways. ³⁴Also the blood of the souls of the innocent poor is found in your skirts. You did not find them breaking in; but it is because of all these things.

³⁵"Yet you said, 'I am innocent. Surely his anger has turned away from me.'

"Look, I will judge you, because you say, 'I have not sinned.' ³⁶Why do you go about so much to change your way? You will be ashamed of Egypt also, as you were ashamed of Assyria. ³⁷From there also you shall go forth, with your hands on your head; for the LORD has rejected those in whom you trust, and you shall not prosper with them.

3 "If^c a man puts away his wife, and she goes from him, and become another man's, will he return to her again? Wouldn't that land be greatly polluted? But you have played the prostitute with many lovers; yet return again to me," says the LORD.

²⁴"Lift up your eyes to the bare heights, and see. Where have you not been lain with? You have sat for them by the ways, as an Arabian in the wilderness. You have polluted the land with your prostitution and with your wickedness. ³Therefore the showers have been withheld, and there has been no latter rain; yet you have a prostitute's forehead, you refused to be ashamed. ⁴Will you not from this time cry to me, 'My Father, you are the guide of my youth?'

⁵"Will he retain his anger forever? Will he keep it to the end? Look, you have spoken and have done evil things, and have had your way."

⁶Moreover, the LORD said to me in the days of Josiah the king, "Have you seen that which backsliding Israel has done? She has gone up on every high mountain and under every green tree, and there has played the prostitute. ⁷I said after she had done all these things, 'She will return to me;' but she did not return; and her treacherous sister Judah saw it. ⁸She^d saw that for all the causes for which faithless Israel had committed adultery, I had put her away and given her a bill of divorce, yet treacherous Judah, her sister, did not fear; but she also went and played the prostitute. ⁹And it came to pass, through her casual prostitution, that the land was polluted, and she committed adultery with stone and wood. ¹⁰Yet for all this her treacherous sister, Judah, has not returned to me with her whole heart, but only in pretense,” says the LORD.

¹¹The LORD said to me, “Backsliding Israel has shown herself more righteous than treacherous Judah. ¹²Go, and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, ‘Return, you backsliding Israel,’ says the LORD; ‘I will not look in anger on you; for I am merciful,’ says the LORD. ‘I will not keep anger forever. ¹³Only acknowledge your iniquity, that you have transgressed against the LORD your God, and have scattered your ways to the strangers under every green tree, and you have not obeyed my voice,’” says the LORD. ¹⁴“Return, backsliding children,” says the LORD; “for I am a husband to you. I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion. ¹⁵I will give you shepherds according to my heart, who shall feed you with knowledge and understanding. ¹⁶It shall come to pass, when you are multiplied and increased in the land, in those days,” says the LORD, “they shall say no more, ‘The ark of the covenant of the LORD.’ neither shall it come to mind; neither shall they remember it; neither shall they miss it; neither shall it be made any more. ¹⁷At that time they shall call Jerusalem ‘The throne of the LORD;’ and all the nations shall be gathered to it, to the name of the LORD, to Jerusalem. Neither shall they walk any more after the stubbornness of their evil heart. ¹⁸In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I gave for an inheritance to your fathers.

¹⁹“But I said, ‘How I would put you among the children, and give you a pleasant land, the most beautiful inheritance of all the nations.’ and I said, ‘You shall call me “My Father,” and shall not turn away from following me.’

“Look, we have come to you; for you are the LORD our God. ²³Truly^a the hills are a delusion, the tumult on the mountains. Truly the salvation of Israel is in the LORD our God. ²⁴But the shameful thing has devoured the labor of our fathers from our youth, their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters. ²⁵Let us lie down in our shame, and let our confusion cover us; for we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even to this day. We have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.”

4 “If you will return, Israel,” says the LORD, “if you will return to me, and if you will put away your abominations out of my sight; then you shall not be removed; ²and you shall swear, ‘As the LORD lives,’ in truth, in justice, and in righteousness. The nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory.”

³For thus says the LORD to the men of Judah and to Jerusalem, “Break up your fallow ground, and do not sow among thorns. ⁴Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, and take away the foreskins of your heart, you men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest my wrath go forth like fire, and burn so that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. ⁵Declare in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem; and say, ‘Blow the trumpet in the land.’ Cry aloud and say, ‘Assemble yourselves. Let us go into the fortified cities.’ ⁶Set up a standard toward Zion. Flee for safety. Do not wait; for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction.”

⁷A lion is gone up from his thicket, and a destroyer of nations; he is on his way, he is gone forth from his place, to make your land desolate, that your cities be laid waste, without inhabitant. ⁸For this clothe yourself with sackcloth, lament and wail; for the fierce anger of the LORD hasn’t turned back from us. ⁹“It shall happen at that day,” says the LORD, “that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the officials; and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder.”

¹⁰Then I said, “Ah, Lord GOD. Surely you have greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, ‘You shall have peace;’ whereas the sword reaches to the heart.”

¹¹At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, “A hot wind from the bare heights in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to winnow, nor to cleanse; ¹²a full wind from these shall come for me. Now I will also utter judgments against them.”

¹⁹My anguish, my anguish. I am pained at my very heart; my heart is disquieted in me; I can’t hold my peace; because you have heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war. ²⁰Destruction on destruction is proclaimed; for the whole land is laid waste: suddenly are my tents destroyed, and my curtains in a moment. ²¹How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

²²“For my people are foolish, they do not know me. They are foolish children, and they have no understanding. They are skillful in doing evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.” ²³I saw the earth, and, look, it was waste and void; and the heavens, and they had no light. ²⁴I saw the mountains, and look, they trembled, and all the hills moved back and forth. ²⁵I saw, and look, there was no man, and all the birds of the sky had fled. ²⁶I saw, and look, the fruitful field was a wilderness, and all its cities were broken down at the presence of the LORD; before his fierce anger they were destroyed. ²⁷For thus says the LORD, “The whole land shall be a desolation; yet I will not make a full end. ²⁸For this the earth will mourn, and the heavens above be black; because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and I have not relented, neither will I turn back from it.”

²⁹Every city flees for the noise of the horsemen and archers; they go into caves, and they hide themselves^a in the thickets, and climb up on the rocks; every city is forsaken, and not a man dwells in it. ³⁰You, when you are made desolate, what will you do? Though you clothe yourself with scarlet, though you dress yourselves with ornaments of gold, though you enlarge your eyes with paint, in vain do you make yourself beautiful; your lovers despise you, they seek your life. ³¹For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, the anguish as of her who brings forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion, who gasps for breath, who spreads her hands, saying, “Woe is me now. For my soul faints before the murderers.”

5 “Run back and forth through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places of it, if you can find a man, if there are any who does justly, who seeks truth; and I will pardon her. ²Though they say, ‘As the LORD lives;’ surely they swear falsely.”

³O LORD, do your eyes not look on truth? You have stricken them, but they were not grieved. You have consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction. They have made their faces harder than a rock. They have refused to return.

⁴Then I said, “Surely these are poor. They are foolish; for they do not know the way of the LORD, nor the law of their God. ⁵I will go to the great men, and will speak to them; for they know the way of the LORD, and the law of their God.” But these with one accord have broken the yoke, and burst the bonds. ⁶Therefore a lion out of the forest shall kill them, a wolf of the evenings shall destroy them, a leopard shall watch against their cities; everyone who goes out there shall be torn in pieces; because their transgressions are many, and their backsliding is increased.

⁷“How can I pardon you? Your children have forsaken me, and sworn by what are no gods. When I had fed them to the full, they committed adultery, and assembled themselves in troops^b at the prostitutes’ houses. ⁸They were as fed horses roaming at large; everyone neighed after his neighbor’s wife. ⁹Shouldn’t I punish them for these things?” says the LORD; “and shouldn’t my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?”

¹⁰“Go up on her walls, and destroy; but do not make a full end. Take away her branches; for they are not the LORD’s. ¹¹For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me,” says the LORD.

¹²They have denied the LORD, and said, “It is not he; neither shall evil come on us; neither shall we see sword nor famine. ¹³The prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them. Thus shall it be done to them.”

¹⁴Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, “Because you speak this word, look, I will make my words in your mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them. ¹⁵Look, I will bring a nation on you from far, house of Israel,” says the LORD. “It is a mighty nation. It is an ancient nation, a nation whose language you do not know, neither understand what they say. ¹⁶Their quiver is an open tomb, they are all mighty men. ¹⁷They shall eat up your harvest, and your bread, which your sons and your daughters should eat. They shall eat up your flocks and your herds. They shall eat up your vines and your fig trees. They shall beat down your fortified cities, in which you trust, with the sword.

¹⁸“But even in those days,” says the LORD, “I will not make a full end with you. ¹⁹It will happen, when you say, ‘Why has the LORD our God done all these things to us?’ Then you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD,^c Just like you have forsaken me, and served foreign gods in your land, so you shall serve strangers in a land that is not yours.’

²⁰“Declare this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying, ²¹‘Hear now this, foolish people, and without understanding; who have eyes, and do not see; who have ears, and do not hear: ²²‘Do you not fear me?’ says the LORD ‘Won’t you tremble at my presence, who have placed the sand for the bound of the sea, by a perpetual decree, that it can’t pass it? And though its waves toss themselves, yet they can’t prevail; though they roar, yet they can’t pass over it.’

²³“But this people has a revolting and a rebellious heart; they have revolted and gone. ²⁴Neither do they say in their heart, ‘Let us now fear the LORD our God, who gives rain, both the former and the latter, in its season; who preserves to us the appointed weeks of the harvest.’

²⁵“Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withheld good from you. ²⁶For among my people are found wicked men. They watch, as fowlers lie in wait. They set a trap. They catch men. ²⁷As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit. Therefore they have become great, and grew rich. ²⁸They have grown fat. They shine; yes, they excel in deeds of wickedness. They do not plead the cause, the cause of the fatherless, that they may prosper; and they do not judge the right of the needy.

²⁹“Shall I not punish for these things?” says the LORD. “Shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?”

³⁰“An astonishing and horrible thing has happened in the land. ³¹The prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests rule by their own authority; and my people love to have it so. What will you do in the end of it?”

6 “Flee for safety, you people of Benjamin, out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa, and raise up a signal on Beth Haccherem; for evil looks forth from the north, and a great destruction. ²The comely and delicate one, the daughter of Zion, will I cut off. ³Shepherds with their flocks shall come to her; they shall pitch their tents against her all around; they shall feed everyone in his place.”

⁴“Prepare war against her; arise, and let us go up at noon. Woe to us. For the day declines, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out. ⁵Arise, and let us go up by night, and let us destroy her palaces.” ⁶For the LORD of hosts said, “Cut down trees, and cast up a mound against Jerusalem. She is the city to be punished; she is full of oppression in the midst of her. ⁷As a well casts forth its waters, so she casts forth her wickedness: violence and destruction is heard in her; before me continually is sickness and wounds. ⁸Be instructed,

Jerusalem, lest my soul be alienated from you; lest I make you a desolation, a land not inhabited.”

⁹Thus says the LORD of hosts, “They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Israel like a vine. Pass your hand again as a grape gatherer into the baskets.”

¹⁰To whom shall I speak and testify, that they may hear? Look, their ear is uncircumcised, and they can’t listen. Look, the word of the LORD has become a reproach to them. They have no delight in it. ¹¹Therefore I am full of the wrath of the LORD. I am weary with holding in.

“Pour it out on the children in the street, and on the assembly of young men together;
for even the husband with the wife shall be taken,
the aged with him who is full of days.

¹²Their houses shall be turned to others, their fields and their wives together;
for I will stretch out my hand on the inhabitants of the land,” says
the LORD.

¹³“For from their least even to their greatest, everyone is given to covetousness;
and from the prophet even to the priest, everyone deals falsely.

¹⁴They have healed also the hurt of my people superficially, saying, ‘Peace, peace.’ when there is no peace.

¹⁵Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination?
No, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush.
Therefore they shall fall among those who fall;
at the time that I visit them, they shall be cast down,” says the

¹⁶Thus says the LORD, “Stand in the ways and see, and ask for the old paths, ‘Where is the good way?’ and walk in it, and you will find rest for your souls.” But they said, “We will not walk in it.” ¹⁷I set watchmen over you, saying, ‘Listen to the sound of the trumpet.’” But they said, “We will not listen.” ¹⁸Therefore hear, you nations, and know, congregation, what will happen to them. ¹⁹Hear, earth. ‘Look, I will bring disaster on this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not listened to my words; and as for my law, they have rejected it. ²⁰To what purpose comes there to me frankincense from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? Your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices pleasing to me.’

²⁴“We have heard its report; our hands become feeble: anguish has taken hold of us, and pains as of a woman in labor. ²⁵Do not go forth into the field, nor walk by the way; for the sword of the enemy and terror, are on every side.” ²⁶“Daughter of my people, clothe yourself with sackcloth, and wallow in ashes. Mourn, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation; for the destroyer shall suddenly come on us.”

²⁷“I have made you a tester of metals and a fortress among my people; that you may know and try their way.” ²⁸They are all grievous rebels, going about with slanders; they are bronze and iron: they all of them deal corruptly. ²⁹The bellows blow fiercely; the lead is consumed of the fire: in vain do they go on refining; for the wicked are not plucked away. ³⁰Men will call them ‘rejected silver,’ because the LORD has rejected them.”

7 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ²“Stand in the gate of the LORD’s house, and proclaim there this word, and say, ‘Hear the word of the LORD, all you of Judah, who enter in at these gates to worship the LORD. ³Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place. ⁴Do not trust in lying words, saying, “The LORD’s temple, The LORD’s temple, The LORD’s temple, are these.” ⁵For if you thoroughly amend your ways and your doings; if you thoroughly execute justice between a man and his neighbor; ⁶if you do not oppress the foreigner, the fatherless, and the widow, and do not shed innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your own hurt: ⁷then will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, from of old even forevermore. ⁸Look, you trust in lying words, that can’t profit. ⁹Will you steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense to Baal, and walk after other gods that you have not known, ¹⁰and come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, “We are delivered”; that you may do all these abominations? ¹¹Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Look, I, even I, have seen it, says the LORD. ¹²But go now to my place which was in Shiloh, where I caused my name to dwell at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Israel. ¹³Now, because you have done all these works, says the LORD, and I spoke to you, rising up early and speaking, but you did not hear; and I called you, but you did not answer: ¹⁴therefore I will do to the house which is called by my name, in which you trust, and to the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I did to Shiloh. ¹⁵I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brothers, even the whole seed of Ephraim. ¹⁶Therefore do not pray for this people, neither lift up a cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to me; for I will not hear you. ¹⁷Do you not see what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? ¹⁸The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven,^a and to pour out drink offerings to other gods, that they may provoke me to anger. ¹⁹Do they provoke me to anger?” says the LORD. “Do they not provoke themselves, to the confusion of their own faces?” ²⁰Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “Look, my anger and my wrath shall be poured out on this place, on man, and on animal, and on the trees of the field, and on the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.” ²¹Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices, and eat meat. ²²For I did not speak to your fathers, nor command them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices: ²³but this thing I commanded them, saying, ‘Listen to my voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be my people; and walk in all the way that I command you, that it may be well with you.’ ²⁴But they did not listen nor turn their ear, but walked in their own counsels and in the stubbornness of their evil heart, and went backward, and not forward. ²⁵Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt to this day, I have sent to you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them: ²⁶yet they did not listen to me, nor inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff: they did worse than their fathers.” ²⁷You shall speak all these words to them; but they will not listen to you: you shall also call to them; but they will not answer you. ²⁸You shall tell them, ‘This is the nation that has not listened to the voice of the LORD their God, nor received instruction: truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth. ²⁹Cut off your hair, and throw it away, and take up a lamentation on the bare heights; for the LORD has rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.’” ³⁰For the people of Judah have done that which is evil in my sight,” says the LORD: “they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. ³¹They have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the Valley of Ben Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I did not command, nor did it come into my mind. ³²Therefore look, the days come,” says the LORD, “that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor The Valley of Ben Hinnom, but The Valley of Slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth, until there is no place to bury. ³³The dead bodies of this people shall be food for the birds of the sky, and for the animals of the earth; and none shall frighten them away. ³⁴Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride; for the land shall become a waste.”

8 “At that time,” says the LORD, “they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his officials, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves; ²and they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, which they have loved, and which they have served, and after which they have walked, and which they have sought, and which they have worshiped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried, they shall be for dung on the surface of the earth. ³Death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue that remain of this evil family, that remain in all the places where I have driven them,” says the LORD of hosts. ⁴Moreover you shall tell them, ‘Thus says the LORD: Shall men fall, and not rise up again? Shall one turn away, and not return? ⁵Why then do these people of Jerusalem turn away in perpetual backsliding? They hold fast deceit; they refuse to return. ⁶I listened and heard, but they did not speak what is right: no man repents him of his wickedness, saying, ‘What have I done?’ Everyone turns to his course, as a horse that rushes headlong in the battle. ⁷Yes, the stork in the sky knows her appointed times; and the turtledove and the swallow and the crane observe the time of their coming; but my people do not know the LORD’s law. ⁸How can you say, ‘We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us?’ But, look, the lying pen of the scribes has worked falsehood.’” ⁹The wise men are disappointed, they are dismayed and taken: look, they have rejected the word of the LORD; and what kind of wisdom is in them? ¹⁰Therefore I will give their wives to others, and their fields to those who shall possess them: for everyone from the least even to the greatest is given to covetousness; from the prophet even to the priest every one deals falsely. ¹¹They have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people superficially, saying, ‘Peace, peace;’ when there is no peace. ¹²Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? No. They were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore shall they fall among those who fall; in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, says the LORD. ¹³I will utterly consume them, says the LORD: no grapes shall be on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the leaf shall fade; and the things that I have given them shall pass away from them.” ¹⁴Why do we sit still? Assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the fortified cities, and let us be silent there; for the LORD our God has put us to silence, and given us water of gall to drink, because we have sinned against the LORD. ¹⁵We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of healing, and look, dismay. ¹⁶The snorting of his horses is heard from Dan: at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones the whole land trembles; for they have come, and have devoured the land and all that is in it; the city and those who dwell in it. ¹⁷For, look, I will send serpents, adders, among you, which will not be charmed; and they shall bite you,” says the LORD. ¹⁸My joy for me is sorrow. My heart is faint within me. ¹⁹Look, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people from a land that is very far off: ‘Isn’t the LORD in Zion? Isn’t her King in her?’” “Why have they provoked me to anger with their engraved images, and with foreign vanities?” ²⁰“The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved.” ²¹For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt: I mourn; dismay has taken hold on me. ²²Is there no balm in Gilead? Is there no physician there? Why then isn’t the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

9 Oh that my head were waters, and my eyes a spring of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people. ²Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men; that I might leave my people, and go from them. For they are all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.” ³They bend their tongue as a bow. Falsehood and not^b truth has grown strong in the land; for they proceed from evil to evil, and they do not know me,” says the LORD. ⁴Everyone be on guard against his neighbor, and do not trust any brother; for every brother is a deceiver, and every neighbor will go about with slanders. ⁵Everyone deceives his neighbor, and does not speak the truth. They have taught their tongue to speak lies; they do evil, they do not cease so as to return. ⁶Oppression upon oppression, and deceit upon deceit.^c They refuse to know me,” says the LORD. ⁷Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, “Look, I will melt them, and try them; for how should I deal with the wickedness^d of the daughter of my people? ⁸Their tongue is a deadly arrow; it speaks deceit: one speaks peaceably to his neighbor with his mouth, but in his heart he lies in wait for him. ⁹Shall I not visit them for these things?” says the LORD; “shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?” ¹⁰For the mountains I will take up weeping and wailing, and for the pastures of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are laid waste so that no one passes through; nor can men hear the voice of the cattle. Both the birds of the sky and the animals have fled, they are gone.” ¹¹I will make Jerusalem heaps, a dwelling place of jackals; and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.” ¹²Who is the wise man, that may understand this? Who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD has spoken, that he may declare it? Why is the land perished and burned up like a wilderness, so that none passes through?” ¹³The LORD says, “Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked in it, ¹⁴but have walked after the stubbornness of their own heart, and after the Baals, which their fathers taught them; ¹⁵therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Look, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall

^a8:8 The scribe was not only a copyist but a teacher as well, and the claim of “Peace, peace” (v.11) was being taught though there was no peace. They rejected the word of the LORD for their own wisdom. Further evidence that this is not talking about a copying problem of the law but rather a wrong teaching is found in 26:4-5 where God admonishes people to follow his law which he has set before them. to drink. ¹⁶I will scatter them also among the nations, whom neither they nor their fathers have known; and I will send the sword after them, until I have consumed them.” ¹⁷Thus says the LORD of hosts, “Consider, and call for the mourning women, that they may come; and send for the skillful women, that they may come.” ¹⁸and let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids gush out with waters. ¹⁹For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, ‘How are we ruined. We are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because they have cast down our dwellings.’” ²⁰Yet hear the word of the LORD, you women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth; and teach your daughters wailing, and everyone her neighbor lamentation. ²¹For death has come up into our windows, it is entered into our palaces; to cut off the children from outside, and the young men from the streets.’ ²²Speak, ‘Thus says the LORD, “The dead bodies of men shall fall as dung on the open field, and as the handful after the harvester; and none shall gather them.”’” ²³Thus says the LORD, “Do not let the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, do not let the rich man glory in his riches; ²⁴but let him who boasts boast in this, that he has understanding, and knows me, that I am the LORD who exercises loving kindness, justice, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight,” says the LORD. ²⁵“Look, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will punish all those who are circumcised in uncircumcision: ²⁶Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the people of Ammon, and Moab, and all that have the corners of their hair cut off, who dwell in the wilderness; for all the nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in heart.”

10 Hear the word which the LORD speaks to you, house of Israel. ²Thus says the LORD, “Do not learn the way of the nations, and do not be dismayed at the signs of the sky; for the nations are dismayed at them. ³For the customs of the peoples are vanity; for one cuts a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman with the axe. ⁴They deck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it not move. ⁵They are like a palm tree, of turned work, and do not speak: they must be carried, because they can’t go. Do not be afraid of them; for they can’t do evil, neither is it in them to do good.” ⁶There is none like you, LORD; you are great, and your name is great in might. ⁷Who should not fear you, King of the nations? For it appertains to you; because among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their royal estate, there is none like you. ⁸But they are together brutish and foolish, the instruction of idols. It is but wood. ⁹There is silver beaten into plates, which is brought from Tarshish, and gold from Uphaz, the work of the artificer and of the hands of the goldsmith; blue and purple for their clothing; they are all the work of skillful men. ¹⁰But the LORD is the true God; he is the living God, and an everlasting King: at his wrath the earth trembles, and the nations are not able to withstand his indignation. ¹¹You shall say this to them: ‘The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, these shall perish from the earth, and from under the heavens.’ ¹²He has made the earth by his power, he has established the world by his wisdom, and by his understanding has he stretched out the heavens: ¹³when he utters his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causes the vapors to ascend from the farthest parts of the earth; he makes lightnings for the rain, and brings forth the wind out of his treasuries. ¹⁴Every man has become brutish and without knowledge; every goldsmith is disappointed by his engraved image; for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. ¹⁵They are vanity, a work of delusion: in the time of their visitation they shall perish. ¹⁶The portion of Jacob is not like these; for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance; the LORD of hosts is his name.” ¹⁷ ‘Gather up your wares out of the land, you who live under siege. ¹⁸For thus says the LORD, ‘Look, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this time, and will distress them, that they may feel it.’ ¹⁹Woe is me because of my hurt. My wound is grievous: but I said, ‘Truly this is my grief, and I must bear it.’ ²⁰My tent is destroyed, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth from me, and they are no more: there is none to spread my tent any more, and to set up my curtains. ²¹For the shepherds are become brutish, and have not inquired of the LORD: therefore they have not prospered, and all their flocks are scattered. ²²The voice of news, look, it comes, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Judah a desolation, a dwelling place of jackals. ²³LORD, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man who walks to direct his steps. ²⁴LORD, correct me, but in measure: not in your anger, lest you bring me to nothing. ²⁵Pour out your wrath on the nations that do not know you, and on the families that do not call on your name: for they have devoured Jacob, yes, they have devoured him and consumed him, and have laid waste his habitation.”

11 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ²‘Hear the words of this covenant, and speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem; ³and say to them, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: “Cursed is the man who doesn’t hear the words of this covenant, ⁴which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the iron furnace, saying, “Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: so you shall be my people, and I will be your God; ⁵that I may establish the oath which I swore to your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey,” as at this day.”’” Then I answered, and said, “Amen, LORD.”’ ⁶The LORD said to me, “Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, ‘Hear the words of this covenant, and do them. ⁷For I earnestly protested to your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even to this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice. ⁸Yet they did not obey, nor turn their ear, but walked everyone in the stubbornness of their evil heart: therefore I brought on them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did not do them.”’ ⁹The LORD said to me, “A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ¹⁰They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, who refused to hear my words; and they are gone after other gods to serve them: the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers. ¹¹Therefore thus says the LORD, ‘Look, I will bring disaster on them, which they shall not be able to escape; and they shall cry to me, but I will not listen to them. ¹²Then shall the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem go and cry to the gods to which they offer incense: but they will not save them at all in the time of their trouble. ¹³For according to the number of your cities are your gods, Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem have you set up altars to the shameful thing, even altars to burn incense to Baal.’ ¹⁴Therefore do not pray for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them; for I will not hear them in the time that they cry to me at the time^a of their trouble.”’ ¹⁵“What has my beloved to do in my house, since she has done many vile deeds? Can holy meat avert your disaster so that you can rejoice?”’ ¹⁶The LORD called your name, “A green olive tree, beautiful with goodly fruit.” With the noise of a great tumult he has kindled fire on it, and its branches are broken. ¹⁷For the LORD of hosts, who planted you, has pronounced evil against you, because of the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have worked for themselves in provoking me to anger by offering incense to Baal.”¹⁸The LORD gave me knowledge of it, and I knew it: then you showed me their doings.¹⁹But I was like a gentle lamb that is led to the slaughter; and I did not know that they had devised devices against me, saying, “Let us destroy the tree with its fruit, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.”²⁰But, the LORD of hosts, who judges righteously, who tests the heart and the mind, I shall see your vengeance on them; for to you have I revealed my cause.”²¹Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the men of Anathoth, who seek my^a life, saying, “You shall not prophesy in the name of the LORD, that you not die by our hand;”²²therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, “Look, I will punish them: the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine;²³and there shall be no remnant to them: for I will bring disaster on the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.”

12 You are righteous, LORD, when I contend with you; yet I would reason the cause with you: why does the way of the wicked prosper? Why are they all at ease who deal very treacherously?²You have planted them, yes, they have taken root; they grow, yes, they bring forth fruit: you are near in their mouth, and far from their heart.³But you, LORD, know me; you see me, and try my heart toward you: pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.⁴How long shall the land be parched, and the grass of every field wither? For the wickedness of those who dwell in it, the animals are consumed, and the birds; because they said, “He shall not see our latter end.”⁵If you have run with the footmen, and they have wearied you, then how can you contend with horses? And though in a land of peace you are secure, yet how will you do in the pride of the Jordan?⁶For even your brothers, and the house of your father, even they have dealt treacherously with you; even they have cried aloud after you: do not believe them, though they speak beautiful words to you.⁷I have forsaken my house, I have cast off my heritage; I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies.⁸My heritage has become to me as a lion in the forest: she has uttered her voice against me; therefore I have hated her.⁹Is my heritage to me as a speckled bird of prey? Are the birds of prey against her all around? Go, assemble all the animals of the field, bring them to devour.¹⁰Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.¹¹They have made it a desolation; it mourns to me, being desolate; the whole land is made desolate, because no man lays it to heart.¹²Destroyers have come on all the bare heights in the wilderness; for the sword of the LORD devours from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land: no flesh has peace.¹³They have sown wheat, and have reaped thorns; they have put themselves to pain, and profit nothing: and you shall be ashamed of your fruits, because of the fierce anger of the LORD.¹⁴Thus says the LORD against all my evil neighbors, who touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit: ‘look, I will pluck them up from off their land, and will pluck up the house of Judah from among them.¹⁵It shall happen, after that I have plucked them up, I will return and have compassion on them; and I will bring them again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land.¹⁶It shall happen, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, “As the LORD lives;” even as they taught my people to swear by Baal; then shall they be built up in the midst of my people.¹⁷But if they will not hear, then will I pluck up that nation, plucking up and destroying it,”’ says the LORD.

13 Thus says the LORD to me, “Go, and buy yourself a linen belt, and put it on your waist, and do not put it in water.”²So I bought a belt according to the word of the LORD, and put it on my waist.³The word of the LORD came to me the second time, saying,⁴“Take the belt that you have bought, which is on your waist, and arise, go to the Perath, and hide it there in a cleft of the rock.”⁵So I went, and hid it by the Perath, as the LORD commanded me.⁶It happened after many days, that the LORD said to me, “Arise, go to the Perath, and take the belt from there, which I commanded you to hide there.”⁷Then I went to the Perath, and dug, and took the belt from the place where I had hidden it; and look, the belt was marred, it was profitable for nothing.⁸Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,⁹“Thus says the LORD, ‘In this way I will mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem.¹⁰This evil people, who refuse to hear my words, who walk in the stubbornness of their heart, and are gone after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this belt, which is profitable for nothing.¹¹For as the belt clings to the waist of a man, so have I caused to cling to me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah,’ says the LORD; ‘that they might be my people, for a name, for praise, and for glory. But they would not listen.¹²Therefore you shall speak to them this word: ‘Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, “Every jar shall be filled with wine.”’ And if^b they shall say to you, ‘Do we not certainly know that every jar shall be filled with wine?’¹³Then you shall tell them, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Look, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings who sit on David’s throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, with drunkenness.¹⁴I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, says the LORD. I will not pity, nor spare, nor have compassion, that I should not destroy them.”’”¹⁵Hear, and give ear; do not be proud; for the LORD has spoken.¹⁶Give glory to the LORD your God, before he causes darkness, and before your feet stumble on the dark mountains, and, while you look for light, he turns it into the shadow of death, and makes it gross darkness.¹⁷But if you will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret for your pride; and my eye shall weep bitterly, and run down with tears, because the LORD’s flock is taken captive.”¹⁸Say to the king and to the queen mother, ‘Take a lowly seat, for your glorious crowns have come down from your heads.’¹⁹The cities toward the Negev are shut, and there is no one to open them: Judah is carried away into exile, all of it; it is wholly carried away into exile.”²⁰Lift up your eyes, and see those who come from the north: where is the flock that was given you, your beautiful flock?²¹What will you say, when he shall set over you as head those whom you have yourself taught to be friends to you? Shall not sorrows take hold of you, as of a woman in travail?²²If you say in your heart, ‘Why are these things come on me?’ for the greatness of your iniquity are your skirts uncovered, and your heels suffer violence.²³Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? Then may you also do good, who are accustomed to do evil.²⁴Therefore I will scatter them, as the stubble that passes away, by the wind of the wilderness.²⁵This is your lot, the portion measured to you from me,’ says the LORD; ‘because you have forgotten me, and trusted in falsehood.²⁶Therefore I will also uncover your skirts on your face, and your shame shall appear.²⁷I have seen your abominations, even your adulteries, and your neighing, the lewdness of your prostitution, on the hills in the field. Woe to you, Jerusalem. You will not be made clean; how long shall it yet be?’”

14 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah concerning the drought. ²Judah mourns, and its gates languish, they sit in black on the ground; and the cry of Jerusalem is gone up. ³Their nobles send their little ones to the waters: they come to the cisterns, and find no water; they return with their vessels empty; they are disappointed and confounded, and cover their heads. ⁴Because of the ground which is cracked, because no rain has been in the land, the plowmen are disappointed, they cover their heads. ⁵Yes, the hind also in the field calves, and forsakes her young, because there is no grass. ⁶The wild donkeys stand on the bare heights, they pant for air like jackals; their eyes fail, because there is no herbage. ⁷Though our iniquities testify against us, work for your name's sake, LORD; for our backslidings are many; we have sinned against you. ⁸Hope of Israel, its Savior in the time of trouble, why should you be as a foreigner in the land, and as a wayfaring man who turns aside to stay for a night? ⁹Why should you be like a scared man, as a mighty man who can't save? Yet you, LORD, are in the midst of us, and we are called by your name; do not leave us. ¹⁰Thus says the LORD to this people, "Even so have they loved to wander; they have not refrained their feet: therefore the LORD does not accept them; now he will remember their iniquity, and visit their sins." ¹¹The LORD said to me, "Do not pray for this people for their good. ¹²When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and meal offering, I will not accept them; but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence." ¹³Then I said, "Ah, Lord GOD. Look, the prophets tell them, 'You shall not see the sword, neither shall you have famine; but I will give you assured peace in this place.'" ¹⁴Then the LORD said to me, "The prophets prophesy lies in my name; I did not send them, neither have I commanded them, neither spoke I to them: they prophesy to you a lying vision, and divination, and a thing of nothing, and the deceit of their own heart. ¹⁵Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the prophets who prophesy in my name, and I did not send them, yet they say, 'Sword and famine shall not be in this land:' 'By sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.' ¹⁶The people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword; and they shall have none to bury them—they, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness on them." ¹⁷You shall say this word to them, 'Let my eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease; for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous wound. ¹⁸If I go forth into the field, then, look, the slain with the sword. And if I enter into the city, then, look, those who are sick with famine. For both the prophet and the priest go about in the land, and have no knowledge.'" ¹⁹'Have you utterly rejected Judah? Has your soul loathed Zion? Why have you struck us, and there is no healing for us? We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of healing, and look, dismay. ²⁰We acknowledge, LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers; for we have sinned against you. ²¹Do not abhor us, for your name's sake; do not disgrace the throne of your glory: remember, do not break your covenant with us. ²²Are there any among the vanities of the nations that can cause rain? Or can the sky give showers? Aren't you he, LORD our God? Therefore we will wait for you; for you have made all these things."

15 Then the LORD said to me, "Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind would not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth. ²It shall happen, when they tell you, 'Where shall we go forth?' Then you shall tell them, 'Thus says the LORD: "Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for captivity, to captivity. ³I will appoint over them four kinds, says the LORD: the sword to kill, and the dogs to tear, and the birds of the sky, and the animals of the earth, to devour and to destroy. ⁴I will cause them to be tossed back and forth among all the kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh, the son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, for that which he did in Jerusalem. ⁵For who will have pity on you, Jerusalem? Or who will bemoan you? Or who will turn aside to ask of your welfare? ⁶You have rejected me,' says the LORD, 'you have gone backward:' therefore have I stretched out my hand against you, and destroyed you; I am weary with repenting. ⁷I have winnowed them with a fan in the gates of the land; I have bereaved them of children, I have destroyed my people; they did not return from their ways. ⁸Their widows are increased to me above the sand of the seas; I have brought on them against the mother of the young men a destroyer at noonday; I have made anguish and terror to fall on them^a suddenly. ⁹She who has borne seven languishes; she has given up the spirit; her sun is gone down while it was yet day; she has been disappointed and confounded: and their residue will I deliver to the sword before their enemies," says the LORD. ¹⁰Woe is me, my mother, that you have borne me a man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth. I have not lent, neither have men lent to me; yet everyone of them curses me." ¹¹The LORD said, "Most certainly I will strengthen you for good; most certainly I will cause the enemy to make petition to you in the time of evil and in the time of distress. ¹²Can one break iron, even iron from the north, and bronze? ¹³Your substance and your treasures will I give for a spoil without price, and that for all your sins, even in all your borders. ¹⁴I will make you serve^b your enemies in a land which you do not know; for a fire is kindled in my anger, which shall burn on you." ¹⁵LORD, you know; remember me, and visit me, and avenge me of my persecutors; do not take me away in your longsuffering: know that for your sake I have suffered reproach. ¹⁶Your words were found, and I ate them; and your words were to me a joy and the rejoicing of my heart: for I am called by your name, LORD, God of hosts. ¹⁷I did not sit in the assembly of those who make merry, nor rejoiced; I sat alone because of your hand; for you have filled me with indignation. ¹⁸Why is my pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuses to be healed? Will you indeed be to me as a deceitful brook, as waters that fail?" ¹⁹Therefore thus says the LORD, "If you return, then will I bring you again, that you may stand before me; and if you take forth the precious from the vile, you shall be as my mouth: they shall return to you, but you shall not return to them. ²⁰I will make you to this people a fortified bronze wall; and they shall fight against you, but they shall not prevail against you; for I am with you to save you and to deliver you," says the LORD. ²¹I will deliver you out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem you out of the hand of the terrible."

16 The word of the LORD came also to me, saying, ²You shall not take a wife, neither shall you have sons or daughters, in this place. ³For thus says the LORD concerning the sons and concerning the daughters who are born in this place, and concerning their mothers who bore them, and concerning their fathers who became their father in this land: ⁴They shall die grievous deaths: they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried; they shall be as dung on the surface of the ground; and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine; and their dead bodies shall be food for the birds of the sky, and for the animals of the earth. ⁵For thus says the LORD, "Do not enter into the house of mourning, neither go to lament, neither bemoan them; for I have taken away my peace from this people, says the LORD, even loving kindness and tender mercies. ⁶Both great and small shall die in this land; they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them; ⁷neither shall men break bread^a for them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead; neither shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother. ⁸You shall not go into the house of feasting to sit with them, to eat and to drink. ⁹For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Look, I will cause to cease out of this place, before your eyes and in your days, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride. ¹⁰It shall happen, when you shall show this people all these words, and they shall tell you, ‘Why has the LORD pronounced all this great evil against us? Or what is our iniquity? Or what is our sin that we have committed against the LORD our God?’ ¹¹Then you shall tell them, ‘Because your fathers have forsaken me, says the LORD, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshiped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law; ¹²and you have done evil more than your fathers; for, look, you walk every one after the stubbornness of his evil heart, so that you do not listen to me: ¹³therefore I will cast you forth out of this land into the land that you have not known, neither you nor your fathers; and there you shall serve other gods day and night; for I will show you no favor.’ ¹⁴Therefore look, the days come,” says the LORD, “that it shall no more be said, ‘As the LORD lives, who brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;’ ¹⁵but, ‘As the LORD lives, who brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the countries where he had driven them.’ I will bring them again into their land that I gave to their fathers. ¹⁶Look, I will send for many fishermen,” says the LORD, “and they shall fish them up; and afterward I will send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the clefts of the rocks. ¹⁷For my eyes are on all their ways; they are not hidden from my face, neither is their iniquity concealed from my eyes. ¹⁸First I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double, because they have polluted my land with the carcasses of their detestable things, and have filled my inheritance with their abominations.” ¹⁹LORD, my strength, and my stronghold, and my refuge in the day of affliction, to you shall the nations come from the farthest parts of the earth, and shall say, ‘Our fathers have inherited nothing but lies, vanity and things in which there is no profit. ²⁰Shall a man make to himself gods, which yet are no gods?’” ²¹Therefore look, I will cause them to know, this once will I cause them to know my hand and my might; and they shall know that my name is the LORD.

17 “The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond: it is engraved on the tablet of their heart, and on the horns of your altars; ²while their children remember their altars and their Asherim by the green trees on the high hills. ³My mountain in the field, I will give your substance and all your treasures for a spoil, and your high places, because of sin, throughout all your borders. ⁴You, even of yourself, shall discontinue from your heritage that I gave you; and I will cause you to serve your enemies in the land which you do not know: for you have kindled a fire in my anger which shall burn forever.” ⁵Thus says the LORD: “Cursed is the man who trusts in man, and makes flesh his arm, and whose heart departs from the LORD. ⁶For he shall be like the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good comes, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, a salt land and not inhabited. ⁷Blessed is the man who trusts in the LORD, and whose confidence is in the LORD. ⁸For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, who spreads out its roots by the river, and shall not fear when heat comes, but its leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit. ⁹The heart is deceitful above all things, and it is exceedingly corrupt: who can know it? ¹⁰I, the LORD, search the mind, I try the heart, even to give every man according to his ways, according to the fruit of his doings. ¹¹As the partridge that sits on eggs which she has not laid, so is he who gets riches, and not by right; in the midst of his days they shall leave him, and at his end he shall be a fool.” ¹²A glorious throne, set on high from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary. ¹³LORD, the hope of Israel, all who forsake you shall be disappointed. Those who depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the LORD, the spring of living waters. ¹⁴Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for you are my praise. ¹⁵Look, they tell me, ‘Where is the word of the LORD? Let it come now.’ ¹⁶As for me, I have not hurried from being a shepherd after you; neither have I desired the woeful day; you know: that which came out of my lips was before your face. ¹⁷Do not be a terror to me: you are my refuge in the day of evil. ¹⁸Let them be disappointed who persecute me, but let not me be disappointed; let them be dismayed, but do not let me be dismayed; bring on them the day of disaster, and destroy them with double destruction.” ¹⁹Thus said the LORD to me: “Go, and stand in the gate of the children of the people, through which the kings of Judah come in, and by which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem; ²⁰and tell them, ‘Hear the word of the LORD, you kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates: ²¹Thus says the LORD, “Be careful, and bear no burden on the Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem; ²²neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the Sabbath day holy, neither do any work: but make the Sabbath day, as I commanded your fathers. ²³But they did not listen, neither turn their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, and might not receive instruction. ²⁴It shall happen, if you diligently listen to me,” says the LORD, “to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the Sabbath day, but to make the Sabbath day holy, to do no work in it; ²⁵then shall there enter in by the gates of this city kings and princes sitting on the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their officials, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and this city shall remain forever. ²⁶They shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places around Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the lowland, and from the hill country, and from the Negev, bringing burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meal offerings, and frankincense, and bringing sacrifices of thanksgiving, to the house of the LORD. ²⁷But if you will not listen to me to make the Sabbath day holy, and not to bear a burden and enter in at the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath day; then will I kindle a fire in its gates, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.””

18 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ²‘Arise, and go down to the potter’s house, and there I will cause you to hear my words.’ ³Then I went down to the potter’s house, and look, he was making a work on the wheels. ⁴When the vessel that he made of the clay was marred in the hand of the potter, he made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it. ⁵Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ⁶‘House of Israel, can’t I do with you as this potter?’ says the LORD. ‘Look, as the clay in the potter’s hand, so are you in my hand, house of Israel.’ ⁷At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up and to break down and to destroy it; ⁸if that nation, concerning which I have spoken, turn from their evil, I will change my mind about the disaster that I thought to do to them. ⁹At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it; ¹⁰if they do that which is evil in my sight, that they not obey my voice, then I will repent of the good, with which I said I would benefit them. ¹¹Now therefore, speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD: Look, I frame evil against you, and devise a device against you: return now everyone from his evil way, and amend your ways and your doings.’ ¹²But they say, ‘It is in vain; for we will walk after our own devices, and we will do everyone after the stubbornness of his evil heart.’” ¹³Therefore thus says the LORD: “Ask now among the nations, who has heard such things; the virgin of Israel has done a very horrible thing. ¹⁴Shall the snow of Lebanon fail from the rock of the field? Shall the cold waters that flow down from afar be dried up? ¹⁵For my people have forgotten me, they have burned incense to false gods; and they have been made to stumble in their ways, in the ancient paths, to walk in byways, in a way not built up; ¹⁶to make their land an astonishment, and a perpetual hissing; everyone who passes thereby shall be astonished, and shake his head. ¹⁷I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy; I will show them the back, and not the face, in the day of their calamity.” ¹⁸Then they said, “Come, and let us make plans against Jeremiah; for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us strike him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.” ¹⁹Give heed to me, LORD, and listen to the voice of those who contend with me. ²⁰Shall evil be recompensed for good? For they have dug a pit for my soul. Remember how I stood before you to speak good for them, to turn away your wrath from them. ²¹Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and give them over to the power of the sword; and let their wives become childless, and widows; and let their men be slain of death, and their young men struck of the sword in battle. ²²Let a cry be heard from their houses, when you shall bring a troop suddenly on them; for they have dug a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet. ²³Yet, LORD, you know all their counsel against me to kill me; do not forgive their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from your sight; but let them be overthrown before you; deal you with them in the time of your anger.”

19 Thus said the LORD, “Go, and buy a potter’s earthen bottle, and take with you^a some of the elders of the people, and of the elders of the priests; ²and go forth to the Valley of Ben Hinnom, which is by the entry of the Potsherd Gate, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell you; ³and say, ‘Hear the word of the LORD, kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem: thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Look, I will bring evil on this place, which whoever hears, his ears shall tingle. ⁴Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it to other gods, that they did not know, they and their fathers and the kings of Judah; and have filled this place with the blood of innocents, ⁵and have built the high places of Baal, to burn their sons in the fire for burnt offerings to Baal; which I did not command, nor spoke it, neither came it into my mind: ⁶therefore, look, the days come,” says the LORD, “that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor The Valley of Ben Hinnom, but The Valley of Slaughter. ⁷I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place; and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of those who seek their life: and their dead bodies will I give to be food for the birds of the sky, and for the animals of the earth. ⁸I will make this city an astonishment, and a hissing; everyone who passes thereby shall be astonished and hiss because of all its plagues. ⁹I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters; and they shall eat everyone the flesh of his friend, in the siege and in the distress, with which their enemies, and those who seek their life, shall distress them.”’” ¹⁰Then

you shall break the bottle in the sight of the men who go with you, ¹¹and shall tell them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts: “Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaks a potter’s vessel, that can’t be made whole again; and they shall bury in Topheth, until there is no place to bury. ¹²Thus will I do to this place,” says the LORD, “and to its inhabitants, even making this city as Topheth: ¹³and the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, which are defiled, shall be as the place of Topheth, even all the houses on whose roofs they have burned incense to all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings to other gods.”’” ¹⁴Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, where the LORD had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in the court of the LORD’s house, and said to all the people: ¹⁵”Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Look, I will bring on this city and on all its towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it; because they have made their neck stiff, that they may not hear my words.’”

20 Now Pashhur, the son of Immer the priest, who was chief officer in the house of the LORD, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things. ²Then Pashhur struck Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the Upper Gate of Benjamin, which was in the house of the LORD. ³It happened on the next day, that Pashhur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then Jeremiah said to him, “The LORD has not called your name ‘Pashhur,’ but ‘Magor-Missabib.’” ⁴For thus says the LORD, ‘Look, I will make you a terror to yourself, and to all your friends; and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and your eyes shall see it; and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive to Babylon, and shall kill them with the sword. ⁵Moreover I will give all the riches of this city, and all its gains, and all the precious things of it, yes, all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies; and they shall make them a prey, and take them, and carry them to Babylon. ⁶You, Pashhur, and all who dwell in your house shall go into captivity; and you shall come to Babylon, and there you shall die, and there you shall be buried, you, and all your friends, to whom you have prophesied falsely.’” ⁷LORD, you have persuaded^c me, and I was persuaded. You are stronger than I am, and have prevailed. I have become a laughing-stock all day long; everyone mocks me. ⁸For as often as I speak, I cry out; I cry, “Violence and destruction.” because the word of the LORD is made a reproach to me, and a derision, all the day. ⁹If I say, “I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name,” then there is in my heart as it were a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I am weary with forbearing, and I can’t contain it. ¹⁰For I have heard the defaming of many, terror on every side. “Denounce, and we will denounce him,” say all my familiar friends, those who watch for my fall; “perhaps he will be persuaded, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him.” ¹¹But the LORD is with me as an awesome mighty one: therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not prevail; they shall be utterly disappointed, because they have not dealt wisely, even with an everlasting dishonor which shall never be forgotten. ¹²But, the LORD of hosts, who tests the righteous, who sees the heart and the mind, let me see your vengeance on them; for to you have I revealed my cause. ¹³Sing to the LORD, praise the LORD; for he has delivered the soul of the needy from the hand of evildoers. ¹⁴Cursed is the day in which I was born: do not let the day in which my mother bore me be blessed. ¹⁵Cursed is the man who brought news to my father, saying, A boy is born to you; making him very glad. ¹⁶Let that man be as the cities which the LORD overthrew, and did not repent: and let him hear a cry in the morning, and shouting at noontime; ¹⁷because he did not kill me from the womb; and so my mother would have been my grave, and her womb always great.¹⁸ Why came I forth out of the womb to see labor and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame?

21 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, when king Zedekiah sent to him Pashhur the son of Malchijah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, saying, ²“Please inquire of the LORD for us; for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon makes war against us: perhaps the LORD will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may go up from us.” ³Then Jeremiah said to them, “You shall tell Zedekiah: ⁴Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, “Look, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, with which you fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans who besiege you, without the walls; and I will gather them into the midst of this city. ⁵I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in wrath, and in great indignation. ⁶I will strike the inhabitants of this city, both man and animal: they shall die of a great pestilence. ⁷Afterward,” says the LORD, “I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, even such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those who seek their life: and he shall strike them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.”” ⁸To this people you shall say, “Thus says the LORD: ‘Look, I set before you the way of life and the way of death. ⁹He who remains in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence; but he who goes out, and passes over to the Chaldeans who besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be to him for a prey. ¹⁰For I have set my face on this city for evil, and not for good,’ says the LORD: ‘it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.’” ¹¹Touching the house of the king of Judah, hear the word of the LORD: ¹²House of David, thus says the LORD, “Execute justice in the morning, and deliver him who is robbed out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my wrath go forth like fire, and burn so that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. ¹³Look, I am against you, O inhabitant of the valley, and of the rock of the plain,” says the LORD; “you that say, ‘Who shall come down against us? Or who shall enter into our habitations?’” ¹⁴I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings,” says the LORD; “and I will kindle a fire in her forest, and it shall devour all that is around her.””

22 Thus said the LORD: “Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word, ²Say, ‘Hear the word of the LORD, king of Judah, who sits on the throne of David, you, and your servants, and your people who enter in by these gates. ³Thus says the LORD: “Execute justice and righteousness, and deliver him who is robbed out of the hand of the oppressor: and do no wrong, do no violence, to the foreigner, the fatherless, nor the widow; neither shed innocent blood in this place. ⁴For if you do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting on the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people. ⁵But if you will not hear these words, I swear by myself, says the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation.”” ⁶For thus says the LORD concerning the house of the king of Judah: “You are Gilead to me, the head of Lebanon. Yet surely I will make you a wilderness, cities which are not inhabited. ⁷I will prepare destroyers against you, everyone with his weapons; and they shall cut down your choice cedars, and cast them into the fire. ⁸Many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbor, ‘Why has the LORD done thus to this great city?’” ⁹Then they shall answer, ‘Because they forsook the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshiped other gods, and served them.’” ¹⁰Do not weep for the dead, neither bemoan him; but weep bitterly for him who goes away; for he shall return no more, nor see his native country.”” ¹¹For thus says the LORD touching Shallum the son of Josiah, king of Judah, who reigned instead of Josiah his father, and who went forth out of this place: “He shall not return there any more. ¹²But in the place where they have led him captive, there shall he die, and he shall see this land no more.”” ¹³Woe to him who builds his house by unrighteousness, and his rooms by injustice; who uses his neighbor’s service without wages, and doesn’t give him his hire; ¹⁴who says, “I will build me a wide house and spacious rooms,” and cuts him out windows; and it is ceiling with cedar, and painted with vermilion. ¹⁵Shall you reign, because you strive to excel in cedar? Did not your father eat and drink, and do justice and righteousness? Then it was well with him. ¹⁶He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Wasn’t this to know me?” says the LORD. ¹⁷But your eyes and your heart are not but for your covetousness, and for shedding innocent blood, and for oppression, and for violence, to do it. ¹⁸Therefore thus says the LORD concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah: “They will not mourn for him: ‘Alas, my brother. Alas, my sister.’ They will not mourn for him: ‘Alas, my master. Alas, his majesty.’” ¹⁹He shall be buried with the burial of a donkey, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem. ²⁰Go up to Lebanon, and cry; and lift up your voice in Bashan, and cry from Abarim; for all your lovers are destroyed. ²¹I spoke to you in your prosperity; but you said, ‘I will not hear.’ This has been your way from your youth, that you did not obey my voice. ²²The wind shall feed all your shepherds, and your lovers shall go into captivity: surely then you will be ashamed and confounded for all your wickedness. ²³Inhabitant of Lebanon, who makes your nest in the cedars, how greatly you will groan when pangs come on you, the pain as of a woman in travail. ²⁴As I live,” says the LORD, “though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet on my right hand, yet would I pluck you there;” ²⁵and I will give you into the hand of those who seek your life, and into the hand of them of whom you are afraid, even into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans. ²⁶I will cast you out, and your mother who bore you, into another country, where you were not born; and there you will die. ²⁷But to the land whereunto their soul longs to return, there shall they not return.”” ²⁸Is this man Coniah a despised broken vessel? Is he a vessel in which none delights? Why are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into the land which they do not know? ²⁹O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the LORD. ³⁰Thus says the LORD, “Write this man childless, a man who shall not prosper in his days; for no more shall a man of his seed prosper, sitting on the throne of David, and ruling in Judah.

23 “Woe to the shepherds who destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture.” says the LORD. ²Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, against the shepherds who feed my people: “You have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them; look, I will visit on you the evil of your doings,” says the LORD. ³I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all the countries where I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds; and they shall be fruitful and multiply. ⁴I will set up shepherds over them, who shall feed them; and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall any be lacking,” says the LORD. ⁵Look, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will raise to David a righteous Branch, and he shall reign as king and deal wisely, and shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. ⁶In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely; and this is his name by which he shall be called: 'The LORD our righteousness.'^a ⁷Therefore look, the days come," says the LORD, "that they shall no more say, 'As the LORD lives, who brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt'; ⁸but, 'As the LORD lives, who brought up and who led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all the countries where he^b had driven them.' They shall dwell in their own land."^c ⁹Concerning the prophets: My heart within me is broken, all my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine has overcome, because of the LORD, and because of his holy words. ¹⁰For the land is full of adulterers; for because of swearing the land mourns; the pastures of the wilderness are dried up. "Their course is evil, and their might is not right; ¹¹for both prophet and priest are profane; yes, in my house have I found their wickedness," says the LORD. ¹²Therefore their way shall be to them as slippery places in the darkness: they shall be driven on, and fall in it; for I will bring evil on them, even the year of their visitation," says the LORD. ¹³I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria; they prophesied by Baal, and caused my people Israel to err. ¹⁴In the prophets of Jerusalem also I have seen a horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in lies; and they strengthen the hands of evildoers, so that none does return from his wickedness: they are all of them become to me as Sodom, and its inhabitants as Gomorrah. ¹⁵Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts concerning the prophets: 'Look, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall; for from the prophets of Jerusalem is ungodliness gone forth into all the land.' ¹⁶Thus says the LORD of hosts, 'Do not listen to the words of the prophets who prophesy to you: they teach you vanity; they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the LORD. ¹⁷They say continually to those who despise me, "The LORD has said, 'You shall have peace'"'; and to everyone who walks in the stubbornness of his own heart they say, "No evil shall come on you." ¹⁸For who has stood in the council of the LORD, that he should perceive and hear his word? Who has marked my word, and heard it? ¹⁹Look, the storm of the LORD, his wrath, has gone forth. Yes, a whirling storm. It shall burst on the head of the wicked. ²⁰The anger of the LORD shall not return, until he has executed, and until he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days you shall understand it perfectly. ²¹I sent not these prophets, yet they ran: I did not speak to them, yet they prophesied. ²²But if they had stood in my council, then had they caused my people to hear my words, and had turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings. ²³Am I a God at hand,' says the LORD, 'and not a God afar off? ²⁴Can any hide himself in secret places so that I shall not see him?' says the LORD. 'Do I not fill heaven and earth?' says the LORD. ²⁵I have heard what the prophets have said, who prophesy lies in my name, saying, "I have dreamed, I have dreamed." ²⁶How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets who prophesy lies, even the prophets of the deceit of their own heart, ²⁷who think to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbor, as their fathers forgot my name for Baal. ²⁸The prophet who has a dream, let him tell a dream; and he who has my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the straw to the wheat?" says the LORD. ²⁹Isn't my word like fire?" says the LORD; 'and like a hammer that breaks the rock in pieces?' ³⁰Therefore look, I am against the prophets,' says the LORD, 'who steal my words everyone from his neighbor. ³¹Look, I am against the prophets,' says the LORD, 'who use their tongues, and say, "He says." ³²Look, I am against the prophets^c who prophesy lying dreams,' says the LORD, 'and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their vain boasting: yet I did not send them, nor commanded them; neither do they profit this people at all,' says the LORD. ³³When this people, or the prophet, or a priest, shall ask you, saying, "What is the burden of the LORD?" Then you shall tell them, "You are the burden,^d and I will cast you off," says the LORD. ³⁴As for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, who shall say, "The burden of the LORD," I will even punish that man and his house. ³⁵You shall say everyone to his neighbor, and everyone to his brother, "What has the LORD answered?" and, "What has the LORD spoken?" ³⁶You shall mention the burden of the LORD no more: for every man's own word shall be his burden; for you have perverted the words of the living God, of the LORD of hosts our God. ³⁷You shall say to the prophet, "What has the LORD answered you?" and, "What has the LORD spoken?" ³⁸But if you say, "The burden of the LORD"; therefore thus says the LORD: Because you say this word, "The burden of the LORD," and I have sent to you, saying, "You shall not say, 'The burden of the LORD'"'; ³⁹therefore, look, I will surely lift you up^e and I will cast you off, and the city that I gave to you and to your fathers, away from my presence: ⁴⁰and I will bring an everlasting reproach on you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten."

24 The LORD showed me, and look, two baskets of figs set before the LORD's temple, after that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and the officials of Judah, with the craftsmen and smiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon. ²One basket had very good figs, like the figs that are first-ripe; and the other basket had very bad figs, which could not be eaten, they were so bad. ³Then the LORD said to me, "What do you see, Jeremiah?" I said, "Figs; the good figs, very good; and the bad, very bad, that can't be eaten, they are so bad." ⁴The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ⁵Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'Like these good figs, so will I regard the captives of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans, for good. ⁶For I will set my eyes on them for good, and I will bring them again to this land: and I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up. ⁷I will give them a heart to know me, that I am the LORD: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God; for they shall return to me with their whole heart.' ⁸As the bad figs, which can't be eaten, they are so bad, surely thus says the LORD, 'So will I give up Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his officials, and the remnant of Jerusalem, who remain in this land, and those who dwell in the land of Egypt, ⁹I will make them a horror, an evil thing, to all the kingdoms of the earth, as a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places where I shall drive them. ¹⁰I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, among them, until they be consumed from off the land that I gave to them and to their fathers.'"

25 The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah (the same was the first year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon), ²which Jeremiah the prophet spoke to all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying: ³From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, even to this day, these twenty-three years, the word of the LORD has come to me, and I have spoken to you, rising up early and speaking; but you have not listened. ⁴The LORD has sent to you all his servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them (but you have not listened, nor inclined your ear to hear) ⁵saying, 'Return now everyone from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the LORD has given to you and to your fathers, from of old and even forevermore; ⁶and do not go after other gods to serve them or worship them, and do not provoke me to anger with the work of your hands; and I will do you no harm. ⁷Yet you have not listened to me,' says the LORD; 'that you may provoke me to anger with the work of your hands to your own hurt.' ⁸Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts: 'Because you have not heard my words, ⁹behold, I will send and take all the families of the north,' says the LORD, 'and I will send to Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against its inhabitants, and against all these nations around; and I will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and a hissing, and perpetual desolations. ¹⁰Moreover I will take from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones, and the light of the lamp. ¹¹This whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years. ¹²It shall happen, when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, says the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans; and I will make it desolate forever. ¹³I will bring on that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah has prophesied against all the nations. ¹⁴For many nations and great kings shall make bondservants of them, even of them; and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the work of their hands.'"

¹⁵For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to me: "Take this cup of the wine of wrath at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send you, to drink it. ¹⁶They shall drink, and reel back and forth, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them."

¹⁷Then took I the cup at the LORD's hand, and made all the nations to drink, to whom the LORD had sent me: ¹⁸Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and its kings, and its officials, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, a hissing, and a curse, as it is this day; ¹⁹Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his officials, and all his people; ²⁰and all the mixed people, and all the kings of the land of the Uz, and all the kings of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Gaza, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod; ²¹Edom, and Moab, and the people of Ammon; ²²and all the kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Sidon, and the kings of the isle which is beyond the sea; ²³Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all who have the corners of their beard cut off; ²⁴and all the kings of Arabia, [and all the kings of the mixed people]^a who dwell in the wilderness; ²⁵and all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes; ²⁶and all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another; and all the kingdoms of the world, which are on the surface of the earth: and the king of Sheshach shall drink after them.

²⁷"You shall tell them, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: "Drink, and be drunk, vomit, fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you.'" ²⁸It shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at your hand to drink, then you shall tell them, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts: "You shall surely drink. ²⁹For, look, I begin to work evil at the city which is called by my name; and should you be utterly unpunished? You shall not be unpunished; for I will call for a sword on all the inhabitants of the earth,'" says the LORD of hosts. ³⁰Therefore prophesy you against them all these words, and tell them, 'The LORD will roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation; he will mightily roar against his fold; he will give a shout, as those who tread grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth. ³¹A noise shall come even to the remotest parts of the earth; for the LORD brings charges against the nations; he will enter into judgment with all flesh: as for the wicked, he will give them to the sword,' says the LORD. ³²Thus says the LORD of hosts, 'Look, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great storm shall be raised up from the uttermost parts of the earth.' ³³The slain of the LORD shall be on that day from all areas of the earth.^b They shall not be lamented, neither gathered, nor buried; they shall be dung on the surface of the ground. ³⁴Wail, you shepherds, and cry; and wallow in dust, you principal of the flock; for the days of your slaughter and of your dispersions are fully come, and you shall fall like a goodly vessel. ³⁵The shepherds shall have no way to flee, nor the principal of the flock to escape. ³⁶A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and the wailing of the principal of the flock. For the LORD lays waste their pasture. ³⁷The peaceable folds are brought to silence because of the fierce anger of the LORD. ³⁸He has left his covert, as the lion; for their land has become an astonishment, because of the sword of the oppressor, and because of his fierce anger."

26 In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word from the LORD, saying, ²"Thus says the LORD: Stand in the court of the LORD's house, and speak to all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the LORD's house, all the words that I command you to speak to them; do not diminish a word. ³It may be they will listen, and turn every man from his evil way; that I may relent of the evil which I purpose to do to them because of the evil of their doings. ⁴You shall tell them, 'Thus says the LORD: If you will not listen to me, to walk in my law, which I have set before you, ⁵to listen to the words of my servants the prophets, whom I send to you, even rising up early and sending them, but you have not listened; ⁶then will I make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.'" ⁷The priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD. ⁸It happened, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak to all the people, that the priests and the prophets and all the people laid hold on him, saying, "You shall surely die. ⁹Why have you prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying, 'This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, without inhabitant?'" All the people were gathered to Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.

¹⁰When the officials of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king's house to the house of the LORD; and they sat in the entry of the New Gate of the LORD's house. ¹¹Then spoke the priests and the prophets to the officials and to all the people, saying, "This man is worthy of death; for he has prophesied against this city, as you have heard with your ears."

¹²Then Jeremiah spoke to all the officials and to all the people, saying, "The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that you have heard. ¹³Now therefore amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God; and the LORD will relent of the disaster that he has pronounced against you. ¹⁴But as for me, look, I am in your hands; do with me as is good and right in your eyes. ¹⁵Only know for certain that, if you put me to death, you will bring innocent blood on yourselves, and on this city, and on its inhabitants; for of a truth the LORD has sent me to you to speak all these words in your ears."

¹⁶Then the officials and all the people said to the priests and to the prophets: "This man is not worthy of death; for he has spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God." ¹⁷Then rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spoke to all the assembly of the people, saying, ¹⁸"Micah the Morastite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah; and he spoke to all the people of Judah, saying, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts: "Zion shall be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest."' ¹⁹Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him to death? Did he not fear the LORD, and seek the favor of the LORD, and the LORD relented of the disaster which he had pronounced against them? Thus should we commit great evil against our own souls.

²⁰There was also a man who prophesied in the name of the LORD, Uriah the son of Shemaiah of Kiriath Jearim; and he prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah. ²¹And when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men, and all the officials, heard his words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Uriah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt. ²²And Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, Elnathan the son of Achbor, and certain men with him, into Egypt; ²³and they fetched forth Uriah out of Egypt, and brought him to Jehoiakim the king, who killed him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the common people." ²⁴But the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

27 In the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah^b the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ²"Thus says the LORD to me: Make bonds and bars, and put them on your neck; ³and send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the people of Ammon, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Sidon, by the hand of the messengers who come to Jerusalem to Zedekiah king of Judah; ⁴and give them a command to their masters, saying, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, You shall tell your masters: ⁵'I have made the earth, the men and the animals that are on the surface of the earth, by my great power and by my outstretched arm; and I give it to whom it seems right to me. ⁶Now have I given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant; and the animals of the field also have I given him to serve him. ⁷All the nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son's son, until the time of his own land come: and then many nations and great kings shall make him their bondservant. ⁸It shall happen, that the nation and the kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, says the LORD, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand. ⁹But as for you, do not listen to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreams, nor to your soothsayers, nor to your sorcerers, who speak to you, saying, 'You shall not serve the king of Babylon': ¹⁰for they prophesy a lie to you, to remove you far from your land, and that I should drive you out, and you should perish. ¹¹But the nation that shall bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him, that nation will I let remain in their own land, says the LORD; and they shall till it, and dwell in it.'"

¹²I spoke to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, "Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live. ¹³Why will you die, you and your people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the LORD has spoken concerning the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon? ¹⁴Do not listen to the words of the prophets who speak to you, saying, 'You shall not serve the king of Babylon'; for they prophesy a lie to you. ¹⁵For I have not sent them,' says the LORD, 'but they prophesy falsely in my name; that I may drive you out, and that you may perish, you, and the prophets who prophesy to you.'"

¹⁶Also I spoke to the priests and to all this people, saying, "Thus says the LORD: 'Do not listen to the words of your prophets who prophesy to you, saying, Look, the vessels of the LORD's house shall now shortly be brought again from Babylon; for they prophesy a lie to you. ¹⁷Do not listen to them; serve the king of Babylon, and live: why should this city become a desolation?' ¹⁸But if they be prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them now make intercession to the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, do not go to Babylon. ¹⁹For thus says the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that are left in this city, ²⁰which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon did not take, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem; ²¹yes, thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem: ²²'They shall be carried to Babylon, and there shall they be, until the day that I visit them,' says the LORD; 'then will I bring them up, and restore them to this place.'"

28 It happened the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, in the fifth month, that Hananiah the son of Azzur, the prophet, who was of Gibeon, spoke to me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying, ²"Thus speaks the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, 'I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon. ³Within two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the LORD's house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place, and carried to Babylon: ⁴and I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah, who went to Babylon,' says the LORD; 'for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.'"

⁵Then the prophet Jeremiah said to the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people who stood in the house of the LORD, ⁶even the prophet Jeremiah said, "Amen: LORD do so; the LORD perform your words which you have prophesied, to bring back the vessels of the LORD's house, and all them of the captivity, from Babylon to this place. ⁷Nevertheless hear you now this word that I speak in your ears, and in the ears of all the people: ⁸The prophets who have been before me and before you of old prophesied against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence. ⁹The prophet who prophesies of peace, when the word of the prophet shall happen, then shall the prophet be known, that the LORD has truly sent him."

¹²Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the bar from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying, ¹³“Go, and tell Hananiah, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD: You have broken the bars of wood; but you have made in their place bars of iron. ¹⁴For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “I have put a yoke of iron on the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they shall serve him: and I have given him the animals of the field also.”” ¹⁵Then the prophet Jeremiah said to Hananiah the prophet, “Hear now, Hananiah: the LORD has not sent you; but you make this people to trust in a lie. ¹⁶Therefore thus says the LORD, ‘Look, I will send you away from off the surface of the earth: this year you shall die, because you have spoken rebellion against the LORD.’” ¹⁷So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.

29 Now these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem to the residue of the elders of the captivity, and to the priests, to the prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon, ²(after that Jeconiah the king, the queen mother, the eunuchs, the officials of Judah and Jerusalem, the craftsmen, and the metal workers, had departed from Jerusalem), ³by the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiyah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent to Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon), saying, ⁴“Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, to all the captivity, whom I have caused to be carried away captive from Jerusalem to Babylon: ⁵Build houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat their fruit. ⁶Take wives, and father sons and daughters; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; and multiply there, and do not be diminished. ⁷Seek the peace of the city where I have caused you to be carried away captive, and pray to the LORD for it; for in its peace you shall have peace.’ ⁸For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Do not let your prophets who are in the midst of you, and your diviners, deceive you; neither listen to your dreams which you cause to be dreamed. ⁹For they prophesy falsely to you in my name: I have not sent them,’ says the LORD.

¹⁰“For thus says the LORD, ‘After seventy years are accomplished for Babylon, I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place. ¹¹For I know the plans that I have for you,’ says the LORD, ‘plans for your welfare, and not for calamity, to give you hope and a future. ¹²You shall call on me, and you shall go and pray to me, and I will listen to you. ¹³You shall seek me, and find me, when you shall search for me with all your heart. ¹⁴I will be found by you,’ says the LORD, ‘and I will turn again your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places where I have driven you,’ says the LORD; ‘and I will bring you again to the place from where I caused you to be carried away captive.’

¹⁵“Because you have said, ‘The LORD has raised us up prophets in Babylon’; ¹⁶thus says the LORD concerning the king who sits on the throne of David, and concerning all the people who dwell in this city, your brothers who haven’t gone forth with you into captivity; ¹⁷thus says the LORD of hosts; ‘Look, I will send on them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs, that can’t be eaten, they are so bad. ¹⁸I will pursue after them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will deliver them to be tossed back and forth among all the kingdoms of the earth, to be an object of horror, and an astonishment, and a hissing, and a reproach, among all the nations where I have driven them; ¹⁹because

they have not listened to my words,’ says the LORD, ‘with which I sent to them my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but you would not hear,’ says the LORD. ²⁰Hear therefore the word of the LORD, all you of the captivity, whom I have sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon.’

²¹“Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahiab^a the son of Kolaiah, and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, who prophesy a lie to you in my name: ‘Look, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and he shall kill them before your eyes; ²²and of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captives of Judah who are in Babylon, saying, “The LORD make you like Zedekiah and like Ahiab,^b whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire”; ²³because they have worked folly in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbors’ wives, and have spoken words in my name falsely, which I did not command them; and I am he who knows, and am witness,’ says the LORD.”

²⁴“Concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite you shall speak, saying, ²⁵Thus speaks the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, “Because you have sent letters in your own name to all the people who are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, and to all the priests, saying, ²⁶The LORD has made you priest in the place of Jehoiada the priest, that there may be officers in the house of the LORD, for every man who is mad, and makes himself a prophet, that you should put him in the stocks and in shackles. ²⁷Now therefore, why have you not rebuked Jeremiah of Anathoth, who makes himself a prophet to you, ²⁸because he has sent to us in Babylon, saying, “The captivity is long: build houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat their fruit?””

²⁹Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the prophet. ³⁰Then came the word of the LORD to Jeremiah, saying, ³¹“Send to all them of the captivity, saying, “Thus says the LORD concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite: “Because Shemaiah has prophesied to you, and I did not send him, and he has caused you to trust in a lie; ³²therefore,” thus says the LORD, “Look, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed; he shall not have a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he see the good that I will do to my people, says the LORD, because he has spoken rebellion against the LORD.””

30 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ²“Thus speaks the LORD, the God of Israel, saying, ‘Write all the words that I have spoken to you in a scroll. ³For, look, the days come, says the LORD, that I will turn again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah,’ says the LORD; ‘and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.’”

⁴These are the words that the LORD spoke concerning Israel and concerning Judah. ⁵For thus says the LORD: “We have heard a voice of trembling, of fear, and not of peace. ⁶Ask now, and see whether a man does travail with child: why do I see every man with his hands on his waist, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into paleness? ⁷Alas, for that day is great, so that none is like it. It is even the time of Jacob’s trouble; but he shall be saved out of it. ⁸It shall come to pass in that day,” says the LORD of hosts, “that I will break his yoke from off your neck, and will burst your bonds; and strangers shall no more make him their bondservant; ⁹but they shall serve the LORD their God, and David their king, whom I will raise up to them. ¹⁰Therefore do not be afraid, O Jacob my servant, says the LORD;

neither be dismayed, Israel: for, look, I will save you from afar, and your seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet and at ease, and none shall make him afraid. ¹¹For I am with you, says the LORD, to save you: for I will make a full end of all the nations where I have scattered you, but I will not make a full end of you; but I will correct you in measure, and will in no way leave you unpunished.” ¹²For thus says the LORD, “Your hurt is incurable, and your wound grievous. ¹³There is none to plead your cause, that you may be bound up: you have no healing medicines. ¹⁴All your lovers have forgotten you; they do not seek you: for I have wounded you with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one, for the greatness of your iniquity, because your sins were increased. ¹⁵Why do you cry for your hurt? Your pain is incurable: for the greatness of your iniquity, because your sins were increased, I have done these things to you. ¹⁶Therefore all those who devour you shall be devoured; and all your adversaries, everyone of them, shall go into captivity; and those who plunder you shall be plundered, and all who prey on you I will make a prey. ¹⁷For I will restore health to you, and I will heal you of your wounds,” says the LORD; “because they have called you an outcast, saying, ‘It is Zion, whom no man seeks after.’” ¹⁸Thus says the LORD: “Look, I will turn again the captivity of Jacob’s tents, and have compassion on his dwelling places; and the city shall be built on its own hill, and the palace shall be inhabited in its own way. ¹⁹Out of them shall proceed thanksgiving and the voice of those who make merry: and I will multiply them, and they shall not be few; I will also glorify them, and they shall not be small. ²⁰Their children also shall be as before, and their congregation shall be established before me; and I will punish all who oppress them. ²¹Their prince shall be of themselves, and their ruler shall proceed from their midst; and I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach to me: for who is he who has had boldness to approach to me? says the LORD. ²²You shall be my people, and I will be your God. ²³Look, the storm of the LORD, his wrath, has gone forth, a sweeping storm: it shall burst on the head of the wicked. ²⁴The fierce anger of the LORD will not return, until he has executed, and until he has performed the intentions of his heart. In the latter days you will understand it.

31 “At that time,” says the LORD, “will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.” ²Thus says the LORD, “The people who were left of the sword found favor in the wilderness; even Israel, when I went to cause him to rest. ³The LORD appeared to him^a from afar.^b I have loved you with an everlasting love; therefore with loving kindness have I drawn you. ⁴Again will I build you, and you shall be built, O virgin of Israel: again you shall be adorned with your tambourines, and shall go forth in the dances of those who make merry. ⁵Again you shall plant vineyards on the mountains of Samaria; the planters shall plant, and shall enjoy its fruit. ⁶For there shall be a day, that the watchmen on the hills of Ephraim shall cry, ‘Arise, and let us go up to Zion to the LORD our God.’” ⁷For thus says the LORD, “Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout for the chief of the nations: publish, praise, and say, ‘For the LORD has saved^c your people, the remnant of Israel.’ ⁸Look, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the uttermost parts of the earth, along with the blind and the lame, the woman with child and her who travails with child together: a great company shall they return here. ⁹They shall come with weeping; and with petitions will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by rivers of waters, in a straight way in which they shall not stumble; for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my firstborn.” ¹⁰Hear the word of the LORD, you nations, and declare it in the islands afar off; and say, “He who scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as shepherd does his flock.” ¹¹For the LORD has ransomed Jacob, and redeemed him from the hand of him who was stronger than he. ¹²They shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and they shall be radiant over the goodness of the LORD, to the grain, and to the new wine, and to the oil, and to the young of the flock and of the herd: and their soul shall be as a watered garden; and they shall not sorrow any more at all. ¹³Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, and the young men and the old together; for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow. ¹⁴I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness,” says the LORD. ¹⁵Thus says the LORD: “A voice is heard in Ramah, lamentation and weeping and great^d bitterness, Rachel weeping for her children; she refuses to be comforted for her children, because they are no more.” ¹⁶Thus says the LORD: “Refrain your voice from weeping, and your eyes from tears; for your work shall be rewarded,” says the LORD; “and they shall come again from the land of the enemy. ¹⁷There is hope for your latter end,” says the LORD; “and your children shall come again to their own border. ¹⁸I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus, ‘You have chastised me, and I was chastised, as an untrained calf: turn me, and I shall be turned; for you are the LORD my God. ¹⁹Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was instructed, I struck on my thigh: I was ashamed, yes, even confounded, because I bore the reproach of my youth.’ ²⁰Is Ephraim my dear son? Is he a darling child? For as often as I speak against him, I do earnestly remember him still: therefore my heart yearns for him; I will surely have mercy on him,” says the LORD. ²¹“Set up road signs, make guideposts; set your heart toward the highway, even the way by which you went: turn again, virgin of Israel, turn again to these your cities. ²²How long will you go here and there, you backsliding daughter? For the LORD has created a new thing in the earth: a woman shall encompass a man.” ²³Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Yet again shall they use this speech in the land of Judah and in its cities, when I shall bring again their captivity: ‘The LORD bless you, habitation of righteousness, mountain of holiness.’ ²⁴Judah and all its cities shall dwell in it together, the farmers, and those who go about with flocks. ²⁵For I have satisfied the weary soul, and I have filled every sorrowful soul.”

²⁶On this I awakened, and saw; and my sleep was sweet to me. ²⁷“Look, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with the seed of animal. ²⁸It shall happen that, like as I have watched over them to pluck up and to break down and to overthrow and to destroy and to afflict, so will I watch over them to build and to plant,” says the LORD. ²⁹“In those days they shall say no more, ‘The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children’s teeth are set on edge.’ ³⁰But everyone shall die for his own iniquity: every man who eats the sour grapes, his teeth shall be set on edge. ³¹Look, the days come,” says the LORD, “when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah: ³²not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they broke, and I disregarded^f them,” says the LORD.^g ³³“But this is the covenant

³⁵Thus says the LORD, who gives the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, who stirs up the sea, so that its waves roar; the LORD of hosts is his name: ³⁶“If this fixed order departs from before me,” says the LORD, “then the descendants of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before me forever.” ³⁷Thus says the LORD: “If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, then will I also cast off all the descendants of Israel for all that they have done,” says the LORD.

32 The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar. ²Now at that time the king of Babylon’s army was besieging Jerusalem; and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the guard, which was in the king of Judah’s house. ³For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, “Why do you prophesy, and say, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Look, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it; ⁴and Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall see his eyes; ⁵and he shall bring Zedekiah to Babylon, and he shall be there until I visit him,” says the LORD: “though you fight with the Chaldeans, you shall not prosper?””

⁶Jeremiah said, “The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ⁷Look, Hanamel the son of Shallum your uncle shall come to you, saying, “Buy my field that is in Anathoth; for the right of redemption is yours to buy it.”” ⁸So Hanamel my uncle’s son came to me in the court of the guard according to the word of the LORD, and said to me, “Please buy my field that is in Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin; for the right of inheritance is yours, and the redemption is yours; buy it for yourself.” Then I knew that this was the word of the LORD. ⁹I bought the field that was in Anathoth of Hanamel my uncle’s son, and weighed him the money, even seventeen shekels of silver. ¹⁰I subscribed the deed, and sealed it, and called witnesses, and weighed him the money in the balances. ¹¹So I took the deed of the purchase, both that which was sealed, containing the terms and conditions, and that which was open; ¹²and I delivered the deed of the purchase to Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the presence of Hanamel my cousin, and in the presence of the witnesses who subscribed the deed of the purchase, before all the Jews who sat in the court of the guard. ¹³I commanded Baruch before them, saying, ¹⁴Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Take these deeds, this deed of the purchase which is sealed, and this deed which is open, and put them in an earthen vessel; that they may continue many days.”” ¹⁵For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Houses and fields and vineyards shall yet again be bought in this land.’ ¹⁶Now after I had delivered the deed of the purchase to Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed to the LORD, saying, ¹⁷‘Ah, Lord GOD. Look, you have made the heavens and the earth by your great power and by your outstretched arm; there is nothing too hard for you, ¹⁸who show loving kindness to thousands, and recompense the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them; the Great, the Mighty God,^c the LORD of hosts is his name; ¹⁹great in counsel, and mighty in work; whose eyes are open on all the ways of human beings, to give to each person according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings. ²⁰You performed signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, and to this day in Israel and among all humankind, and have made a name for yourself to this day. ²¹You brought forth your people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with great terror; ²²and gave them this land, which you swore to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey; ²³and they came in, and possessed it, but they did not obey your voice, neither walked in your law; they have done nothing of all that you commanded them to do: therefore you have caused all this evil to come on them. ²⁴Look, the mounds, they have come to the city to take it; and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans who fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence; and what you have spoken has happened; and look, you see it. ²⁵You have said to me, Lord GOD, “Buy the field for money, and call witnesses”; whereas the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.””

²⁶Then came the word of the LORD to Jeremiah, saying, ²⁷“Look, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh: is there anything too difficult for me? ²⁸Therefore thus says the LORD: ‘Look, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it: ²⁹and the Chaldeans, who fight against this city, shall come and set this city on fire, and burn it, with the houses, on whose roofs they have offered incense to Baal, and poured out drink offerings to other gods, to provoke me to anger. ³⁰For the children of Israel and the people of Judah have done only that which was evil in my sight from their youth; for the children of Israel have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, says the LORD. ³¹For this city has been to me a provocation of my anger and of my wrath from the day that they built it even to this day; that I should remove it from before my face, ³²because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the people of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their officials, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ³³They have turned to me the back, and not the face: and though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not listened to receive instruction. ³⁴But they set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. ³⁵They built the high places of Baal, which are in the Valley of Ben Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through fire to Moloch; which I did not command them, neither did it come into my mind, that they should do this abomination, to cause Judah to sin.’

³⁶“Now therefore thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city, about which you say, ‘It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence’: ³⁷Look, I will gather them out of all the countries, where I have driven them in my anger, and in my wrath, and in great indignation; and I will bring them again to this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely: ³⁸and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: ³⁹and I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me forever, for their good, and of their children after them: ⁴⁰and I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from following them, to do them good; and I will put my fear in their hearts, that they may not depart from me. ⁴¹Yes, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul.'

⁴²'For thus says the LORD: 'Just as I have brought all this great disaster on this people, so will I bring on them all the good that I have promised them. ⁴³Fields shall be bought in this land, about which you say, "It is desolate, without man or animal; it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans." ⁴⁴Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe the deeds, and seal them, and call witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the hill country, and in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the Negev: for I will cause their captivity to return,' says the LORD."

33 Moreover the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the second time, while he was yet shut up in the court of the guard, saying, ²'Thus says the LORD who made the earth, and^a who formed it to establish it; the LORD is his name: ³'Call to me, and I will answer you, and will show you great and hidden things, which you do not know.' ⁴'For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are broken down to make a defense against the mounds and against the sword; ⁵while men come to fight with the Chaldeans, and to fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have killed in my anger and in my wrath, and for all whose wickedness I have hidden my face from this city: ⁶'Look, I will bring it health and healing, and I will heal them; and I will reveal to them abundance of peace and truth. ⁷I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them, as at the first. ⁸I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, by which they have sinned against me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, by which they have sinned against me, and by which they have transgressed against me. ⁹This city shall be to me for a name of joy, for a praise and for a glory, before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do to them, and shall fear and tremble for all the good and for all the peace that I procure to it.'

¹⁰'Thus says the LORD: 'Yet again there shall be heard in this place, about which you say, "It is waste, without man and without animal," even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate, without man and without inhabitant and without animal, ¹¹the voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voice of those who say, "Give thanks to the LORD of hosts, for the LORD is good, for his loving kindness endures forever; who bring thanksgiving into the house of the LORD." For I will cause the captivity of the land to return as at the first,' says the LORD. ¹²Thus says the LORD of hosts: 'Yet again shall there be in this place, which is waste, without man and without animal, and in all its cities, a habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down. ¹³In the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the Negev, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks again pass under the hands of him who numbers them,' says the LORD. ¹⁴'Look, the days come,' says the LORD, 'that I will perform that good word which I have spoken concerning the house of Israel and concerning the house of Judah. ¹⁵In those days, and at that time, will I cause a Branch of righteousness to grow up to David; and he shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. ¹⁶In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely; and this is the name by which she shall be called: "The LORD our righteousness." ¹⁷For thus says the LORD: "David shall never want a man to sit on the throne of the house of Israel; ¹⁸neither shall the priests the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to burn meal offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.'""

¹⁹The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying, ²⁰'Thus says the LORD: 'If you can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, so that there shall not be day and night in their season; ²¹then may also my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he shall not have a son to reign on his throne; and with the Levites the priests, my ministers. ²²As the host of heaven can't be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured; so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites who minister to me.'"

²³The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying, ²⁴'Do not consider what this people has spoken, saying, "The two families which the LORD chose, he has cast them off?" Thus do they despise my people, that they should be no more a nation before them. ²⁵Thus says the LORD: 'If my covenant of day and night fails, if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth; ²⁶then will I also cast away the seed of Jacob, and of David my servant, so that I will not take of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: for I will cause their captivity to return, and will have mercy on them.'"

34 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the earth that were under his dominion, and all the peoples, were fighting against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of it, saying: ²'Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, 'Go, and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, "Thus says the LORD, 'Look, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire: ³and you shall not escape out of his hand, but shall surely be taken, and delivered into his hand; and your eyes shall see the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with you mouth to mouth, and you shall go to Babylon.' ⁴Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah: thus says the LORD concerning you, 'You shall not die by the sword; ⁵you shall die in peace; and with the burnings of your fathers, the former kings who were before you, so shall they make a burning for you; and they shall lament you, saying, "Ah Lord." for I have spoken the word,' says the LORD.'"

⁸The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people who were at Jerusalem, to proclaim liberty to them; ⁹that every man should let his male servant, and every man his female servant, who is a Hebrew man or a Hebrew woman, go free; that none should keep a fellow Judean in bondage. ¹⁰And all the officials and all the people obeyed, who had entered into the covenant, that everyone should let his male servant, and everyone his female servant, go free, that none should make bondservants of them any more; they obeyed, and let them go: ¹¹but afterwards they turned, and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids. ¹²Therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ¹³“Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: ‘I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying, ¹⁴“At the end of seven years you shall let go every man his brother who is a Hebrew, who has been sold to you, and has served you six years, you shall let him go free from you”’: but your fathers did not listen to me, neither inclined their ear. ¹⁵You had now turned, and had done that which is right in my eyes, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbor; and you had made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name: ¹⁶but you turned and profaned my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom you had let go free at their pleasure, to return; and you brought them into subjection, to be to you for servants and for handmaids. ¹⁷Therefore thus says the LORD: “You have not listened to me, to proclaim liberty, every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbor: look, I proclaim to you a liberty, says the LORD, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will make you to be tossed back and forth among all the kingdoms of the earth. ¹⁸I will give the men who have transgressed my covenant, who have not performed the words of the covenant which they made before me, when they cut the calf in two and passed between its parts; ¹⁹the officials of Judah, and the officials of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, who passed between the parts of the calf; ²⁰I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those who seek their life; and their dead bodies shall be for food to the birds of the sky, and to the animals of the earth. ²¹And Zedekiah king of Judah and his officials will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those who seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon’s army, who have gone away from you. ²²Look, I will command, says the LORD, and cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire: and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.””

35 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying, ²“Go to the house of the Rechabites, and speak to them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of the rooms, and give them wine to drink.” ³Then I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, and his brothers, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites. ⁴And I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the room of the sons of Hananiah son of Gedaliah,^a the man of God, which was by the room of the officials, which was above the room of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the threshold. ⁵I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites bowls full of wine, and cups; and I said to them, “Drink wine.” ⁶But they said, “We will drink no wine; for Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, commanded us, saying, ‘You shall drink no wine, neither you, nor your sons, forever: ⁷neither shall you build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any; but all your days you shall dwell in tents; that you may live many days in the land in which you live.’ ⁸We have obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, in all that he commanded us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, or our daughters; ⁹nor to build houses for us to dwell in; neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed: ¹⁰but we have lived in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us. ¹¹But it happened, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, ‘Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Arameans’; so we dwell at Jerusalem.”

¹²Then came the word of the LORD to Jeremiah, saying, ¹³“Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Go, and tell the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, “Will you not receive instruction to listen to my words?”’ says the LORD. ¹⁴“The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, that he commanded his sons, not to drink wine, are performed; and to this day they drink none, for they obey their father’s commandment: but I have spoken to you, rising up early and speaking; and you have not listened to me. ¹⁵I have sent also to you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, ‘Return now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and do not go after other gods to serve them, and you shall dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers’: but you have not inclined your ear, nor listened to me. ¹⁶Because the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed the commandment of their father which he commanded them, but this people has not listened to me; ¹⁷therefore thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Look, I will bring on Judah and on all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the disaster that I have pronounced against them; because I have spoken to them, but they have not listened; and I have called to them, but they have not answered.’””

¹⁸Jeremiah said to the house of the Rechabites, “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Because you have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according to all that he commanded you’; ¹⁹therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me forever.’”

36 It happened in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, that this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ²“Take a scroll, and write on it all the words that I have spoken to you against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day I spoke to you, from the days of Josiah, even to this day. ³It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do to them; that they may return every man from his evil way; that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin.”

⁴Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah; and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which he had spoken to him, on a scroll. ⁵Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, “I am shut up; I can’t go into the house of the LORD: ⁶therefore you go, and read from the scroll, which you have written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the ears of the people in the LORD’s house on the fast day; and also you shall read them in the ears of all Judah who come out of their cities. ⁷It may be they will present their petition before the LORD, and will return everyone from his evil way; for great is the anger and the wrath that the LORD has pronounced against this people.”

⁸Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading from the scroll the words of the LORD in the LORD’s house. ⁹Now it happened in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month, that all the people in Jerusalem, and all the people who came from the cities of Judah to Jerusalem, proclaimed a fast before the LORD. ¹⁰Then Baruch read from the scroll the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the room of Gemariah the son of Shaphan, the scribe, in the upper court, at the entry of the New Gate of the LORD's house, in the ears of all the people.

¹¹When Micaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had heard from the scroll all the words of the LORD, ¹²he went down into the king's house, into the scribe's room: and look, all the officials were sitting there, Elishama the scribe, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the officials. ¹³Then Micaiah declared to them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the scroll in the hearing of the people. ¹⁴Therefore all the officials sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, to Baruch, saying, "Take in your hand the scroll in which you have read in the ears of the people, and come." So Baruch the son of Neriah took the scroll in his hand, and came to them. ¹⁵They said to him, "Sit down now, and read it in our ears." So Baruch read it in their ears. ¹⁶Now it happened, when they had heard all the words, they turned in fear one toward another, and said to Baruch, "We will surely tell the king of all these words." ¹⁷They asked Baruch, saying, "Tell us now, How did you write all these words at his mouth?" ¹⁸Then Baruch answered them, "He pronounced all these words to me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink on the scroll." ¹⁹Then the officials said to Baruch, "Go, hide, you and Jeremiah; and let no man know where you are."

²⁷Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, after that the king had burned the scroll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, saying, ²⁸"Take again another scroll, and write on it all the former words that were in the first scroll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah has burned. ²⁹Concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah you shall say, 'Thus says the LORD: "You have burned this scroll, saying, 'Why have you written in it, saying, "The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from there man and animal?"'" ³⁰Therefore thus says the LORD concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: "He shall have none to sit on the throne of David; and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost. ³¹I will punish him and his seed and his servants for their iniquity; and I will bring on them, and on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and on the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they did not listen."'"

³²Then Jeremiah took another scroll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah, who wrote on it at the instruction of Jeremiah all the words of the scroll which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire; and there were added besides to them many like words.

Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned as king, instead of Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah. ²But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, listened to the words of the LORD, which he spoke by the prophet Jeremiah.

⁴Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people; for they had not put him into prison. ⁵Pharaoh's army had come forth out of Egypt; and when the Chaldeans who were besieging Jerusalem heard news of them, they broke up from Jerusalem. ⁶Then came the word of the LORD to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, ⁷"Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, 'You shall tell the king of Judah, who sent you to me to inquire of me: "Look, Pharaoh's army, which has come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land. ⁸The Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city; and they shall take it, and burn it with fire." ⁹Thus says the LORD, "Do not deceive yourselves, saying, 'The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us'; for they shall not depart. ¹⁰For though you had struck the whole army of the Chaldeans who fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yes would they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.'"

¹¹It happened that, when the army of the Chaldeans was broken up from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh's army, ¹²then Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to receive his portion there, in the midst of the people. ¹³When he was in the Benjamin Gate, a captain of the guard was there, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah; and he laid hold on Jeremiah the prophet, saying, "You are falling away to the Chaldeans." ¹⁴Then Jeremiah said, "It is false; I am not falling away to the Chaldeans." But he did not listen to him; so Irijah laid hold on Jeremiah, and brought him to the officials. ¹⁵And the officials were angry with Jeremiah, and struck him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe; for they had made that the prison.

¹⁶When Jeremiah had come into the dungeon house, and into the cells, and Jeremiah had remained there many days; ¹⁷then Zedekiah the king sent, and fetched him: and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, "Is there any word from the LORD?" Jeremiah said, "There is." He said also, "You shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon." ¹⁸Moreover Jeremiah said to king Zedekiah, "Wherein have I sinned against you, or against your servants, or against this people, that you have put me in prison? ¹⁹Where now are your prophets who prophesied to you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land? ²⁰Now please hear, my lord the king: please let my petition be presented before you, that you not cause me to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there." ²¹Then Zedekiah the king commanded, and they committed Jeremiah into the court of the guard; and they gave him daily a loaf of bread out of the bakers' street, until all the bread in the city was spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

³⁸ Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of Malchijah, heard the words that Jeremiah spoke to all the people, saying, ²"Thus says the LORD, 'He who remains in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; but he who goes forth to the Chaldeans shall live, and his life shall be to him for a prey, and he shall live.' ³Thus says the LORD,

‘This city shall surely be given into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it.’”⁴ Then the officials said to the king, “Please let this man be put to death; because he weakens the hands of the men of war who remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words to them: for this man doesn’t seek the welfare of this people, but the hurt.”⁵ Zedekiah the king said, “Look, he is in your hand; for the king is not he who can do anything against you.”⁶ Then they took Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malkiah the king’s son, that was in the court of the guard: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. In the dungeon there was no water, but mire; and Jeremiah sank in the mire.⁷ Now when Ebedmelech the Ethiopian, a eunuch, who was in the king’s house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon (the king then sitting in the Benjamin Gate),⁸ Ebedmelech went forth out of the king’s house, and spoke to the king, saying, “My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and he is likely to die in the place where he is, because of the famine; for there is no more bread in the city.”¹⁰ Then the king commanded Ebedmelech the Ethiopian, saying, “Take from here thirty men with you, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he dies.”¹¹ So Ebedmelech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took there rags and worn-out garments, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.¹² Ebedmelech the Ethiopian said to Jeremiah, “Put now these rags and worn-out garments under your armpits under the cords.” Jeremiah did so.¹³ So they drew up Jeremiah with the cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

¹⁴Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took Jeremiah the prophet to him into the third entry that is in the house of the LORD: and the king said to Jeremiah, “I will ask you something. Hide nothing from me.”¹⁵ Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “If I declare it to you, will you not surely put me to death? And if I give you counsel, will you not listen to me?”¹⁶ So Zedekiah the king swore secretly to Jeremiah, saying, “As the LORD lives, who made us this soul, I will not put you to death, neither will I give you into the hand of these men who seek your life.”

¹⁷Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “Thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘If you will go forth to the king of Babylon’s officers, then your soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire; and you shall live, and your house.’¹⁸ But if you will not go forth to the king of Babylon’s officers, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and you shall not escape out of their hand.’”¹⁹ Zedekiah the king said to Jeremiah, “I am afraid of the Jews who are fallen away to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me.”²⁰ But Jeremiah said, “They shall not deliver you. Obey, I beg you, the voice of the LORD, in that which I speak to you: so it shall be well with you, and your soul shall live.²¹ But if you refuse to go forth, this is the word that the LORD has shown me: ²²behold, all the women who are left in the king of Judah’s house shall be brought forth to the king of Babylon’s officers, and those women shall say, ‘Your familiar friends have set you on, and have prevailed over you. Your feet are sunk in the mire, they have turned away back.’²³ They shall bring out all your wives and your children to the Chaldeans; and you shall not escape out of their hand, but shall be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and you shall cause this city to be burned with fire.”

²⁴Then Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, “Let no man know of these words, and you shall not die.²⁵ But if the officials hear that I have talked with you, and they come to you, and tell you, ‘Declare to us now what you have said to the king; do not hide it from us, and we will not put you to death; also what the king said to you’:²⁶ then you shall tell them, ‘I presented my petition before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan’s house, to die there.’”

²⁷Then all the officials came to Jeremiah, and asked him; and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they left off speaking with him; for the matter was not perceived.²⁸ So Jeremiah stayed in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken.

39 It happened when Jerusalem was taken, (in the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army against Jerusalem, and besieged it; ²in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, a breach was made in the city).³ Then all the officials of the king of Babylon came in, and sat in the Middle Gate, Nergal-sar-ezer of Samgar, Nebu-sar-sekim the Rab-saris, Nergal-sar-ezer the Rab-mag, with all the rest of the officers of the king of Babylon.⁴ It happened that, when Zedekiah the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king’s garden, through the gate between the two walls; and he went out toward the Arabah.⁵ But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath; and he gave judgment on him.⁶ Then the king of Babylon killed the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babylon killed all the nobles of Judah.⁷ Moreover he put out Zedekiah’s eyes, and bound him in fetters, to carry him to Babylon.⁸ The Chaldeans burned the king’s house, and the houses of the people, with fire, and broke down the walls of Jerusalem.⁹ Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the residue of the people who remained in the city, the deserters also who fell away to him, and the residue of the people who remained.¹⁰ But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people, who had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

¹¹Now Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon commanded Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard concerning Jeremiah, saying,¹² “Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm; but do to him even as he shall tell you.”¹³ So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard sent, and Nebushazban the Rab-saris, Nergal-sar-ezer the Rab-mag, and all the chief officers of the king of Babylon; ¹⁴they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the guard, and committed him to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so he lived among the people.

¹⁵Now the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the guard, saying,¹⁶ “Go, and speak to Ebedmelech the Ethiopian, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Look, I will bring my words on this city for disaster, and not for prosperity; and they shall be fulfilled before you in that day.¹⁷ But I will deliver you in that day, says the LORD; and you shall not be given into the hand of the men of whom you are afraid.¹⁸ For I will surely save you, and you shall not fall by the sword, but your life will be given to you as a reward; because you have put your trust in me,’” says the LORD.”

40 The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all the captives of Jerusalem and Judah, who were carried away captive to Babylon.² The captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said to him, “The LORD your God pronounced this evil on this place;³ and the LORD has brought it, and done according as he spoke: because you have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing has come on you. ⁴Now, look, I release you this day from the chains which are on your hand. If it seems good to you to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will take care of you; but if it seems bad to you to come with me into Babylon, do not: look, all the land is before you; where it seems good and right to you to go, there go.” ⁵Now while he had not yet gone back, “Go back then,” he said, “to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon has made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people; or go wherever it seems right to you to go.” So the captain of the guard gave him food and a present, and let him go. ⁶Then went Jeremiah to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and lived with him among the people who were left in the land.

⁷Now when all the captains of the forces who were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed to him men, and women, and children, and of the poorest of the land, of those who were not carried away captive to Babylon; ⁸then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of the Maacathite, they and their men. ⁹Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan swore to them and to their men, saying, “Do not be afraid to serve the Chaldeans: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you. ¹⁰As for me, look, I will dwell at Mizpah, to stand before the Chaldeans who shall come to us: but you, gather wine and summer fruits and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that you have taken.”

¹¹Likewise when all the Jews who were in Moab, and among the people of Ammon, and in Edom, and who were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan; ¹²then all the Jews returned out of all places where they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah, to Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits very much.

¹³Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces who were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, ¹⁴and said to him, “Do you know that Baalis^a the king of the people of Ammon has sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to take your life?” But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam did not believe them. ¹⁵Then Johanan the son of Kareah spoke to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, “Please let me go, and I will kill Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it: why should he take your life, that all the Jews who are gathered to you should be scattered, and the remnant of Judah perish?” ¹⁶But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said to Johanan the son of Kareah, “You shall not do this thing; for you speak falsely of Ishmael.”

41 Now it happened in the seventh month, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the royal family and one of the chief officers of the king, and ten men with him, came to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah; and there they ate bread together in Mizpah. ²Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men who were with him, and struck Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and killed him, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land. ³Ishmael also killed all the Jews who were with him, with Gedaliah, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans who were found there, the men of war. ⁴It happened the second day after he had killed Gedaliah, and no man knew it, ⁵that there came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even eighty men, having their beards shaved and their clothes torn, and having cut themselves, with meal offerings and frankincense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the LORD. ⁶Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went: and it happened, as he met them, he said to them, “Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam.” ⁷It was so, when they came into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah killed them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he, and the men who were with him. ⁸But ten men were found among those who said to Ishmael, “Do not kill us; for we have stores hidden in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he stopped, and did not kill them among their brothers. ⁹Now the pit in which Ishmael cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had killed was a large one^b that King Asa had constructed in the encounter with Baasha king of Israel. Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with those who were killed. ¹⁰Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people who were in Mizpah, even the king’s daughters, and all the people who remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam; Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the people of Ammon.

¹¹But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces who were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done, ¹²then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon. ¹³Now it happened that, when all the people who were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces who were with him, then they were glad. ¹⁴So all the people who Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah turned about and came back, and went to Johanan the son of Kareah. ¹⁵But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the people of Ammon.

¹⁶Then took Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces who were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after that he had killed Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought back from Gibeon: ¹⁷and they departed, and lived in Geruth Kimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go to enter into Egypt, ¹⁸because of the Chaldeans; for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had killed Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor over the land.

42 Then all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jezaniah the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, came near, ²and said to Jeremiah the prophet, “Please let our petition be presented before you, and pray for us to the LORD your God, even for all this remnant; for we are left but a few of many, as your eyes do see us: ³that the LORD your God may show us the way in which we should walk, and the thing that we should do.” ⁴Then Jeremiah the prophet said to them, “I have heard you; look, I will pray to the LORD your God according to your words; and it shall happen that whatever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare it to you; I will keep nothing back from you.” ⁵Then they said to Jeremiah, “The LORD be a true and faithful witness among us, if we do not do according to all the word with which the LORD your God shall send you to us. ⁶Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we send you; that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the LORD our God.”

⁷It happened after ten days, that the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah. ⁸Then called he Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces who were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, ⁹and said to them, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to whom you sent me to present your petition before him: ¹⁰If you will still live in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up; for I grieve over the distress that I have brought on you. ¹¹Do not be afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom you are afraid; do not be afraid of him, says the LORD: for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand. ¹²I will grant you mercy, that he may have mercy on you, and cause you to return to your own land.’ ¹³But if you say, ‘We will not dwell in this land’; so that you do not obey the voice of the LORD your God, ¹⁴saying, ‘No; but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread; and there will we dwell’: ¹⁵now therefore hear the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah: Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘If you indeed set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to live there; ¹⁶then it shall happen, that the sword, which you fear, shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt; and the famine, about which you are afraid, shall follow close behind you there in Egypt; and there you shall die. ¹⁷So shall it be with all the men who set their faces to go into Egypt to live there: they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring on them.’ ¹⁸For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘As my anger and my wrath has been poured forth on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall my wrath be poured forth on you, when you shall enter into Egypt; and you shall be an object of horror, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach; and you shall see this place no more.’ ¹⁹The LORD has spoken concerning you, remnant of Judah, ‘Do not go into Egypt’: know certainly that I have testified to you this day. ²⁰For you have dealt deceitfully against your own souls; for you sent me to the LORD your God, saying, ‘Pray for us to the LORD our God; and according to all that the LORD our God shall say, so declare to us, and we will do it’: ²¹and I have this day declared it to you; but you have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God in anything for which he has sent me to you. ²²Now therefore know certainly that you shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place where you desire to go to live there.”

43 It happened that, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking to all the people all the words of the LORD their God, with which the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these words, ²then spoke Azariah the son of Hoshaiiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying to Jeremiah, “You speak falsely. The LORD our God has not sent you to say, ‘You shall not go into Egypt to live there’; ³but Baruch the son of Neriah sets you on against us, to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death, and carry us away captive to Babylon.” ⁴So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, did not obey the voice of the LORD, to dwell in the land of Judah. ⁵But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, who were returned from all the nations where they had been driven, to live in the land of Judah; ⁶the men, and the women, and the children, and the king’s daughters, and every person who Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan; and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah; ⁷and they came into the land of Egypt; for they did not obey the voice of the LORD: and they came to Tahpanhes.

⁸Then came the word of the LORD to Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying, ⁹“Take great stones in your hand, and hide them in mortar in the brick work, which is at the entry of Pharaoh’s house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah; ¹⁰and tell them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “Look, I will send and take Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will set his throne on these stones that I have hidden; and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them. ¹¹He shall come, and shall strike the land of Egypt; such as are for death shall be put to death, and such as are for captivity to captivity, and such as are for the sword to the sword. ¹²I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt; and he shall burn them, and carry them away captive: and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd puts on his garment; and he shall go forth from there in peace. ¹³He shall also break the pillars of Beth Shemesh,^a that is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the gods of Egypt shall he burn with fire.””

44 The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews who lived in the land of Egypt, who lived at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Memphis, and in the country of Pathros, saying, ²“Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘You have seen all the evil that I have brought on Jerusalem, and on all the cities of Judah; and look, this day they are a desolation, and no man dwells in them, ³because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incense, to serve other gods, that they did not know, neither they, nor you, nor your fathers. ⁴However I sent to you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, ‘Oh, do not do this abominable thing that I hate.’ ⁵But they did not listen, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense to other gods. ⁶Therefore my wrath and my anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are wasted and desolate, as it is this day.’ ⁷Therefore now thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Why do you commit great evil against your own souls, to cut off from yourselves man and woman, infant and nursing child out of the midst of Judah, to leave yourselves none remaining; ⁸in that you provoke me to anger with the works of your hands, burning incense to other gods in the land of Egypt, where you have gone to live; that you may be cut off, and that you may be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth? ⁹Have you forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives which they committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem? ¹⁰They are not humbled even to this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.’ ¹¹Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‘Look, I will set my face against you for evil, even to cut off all Judah. ¹²I will take the remnant of Judah, that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to live there, and they shall all be consumed; in the land of Egypt shall they fall; they shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine; they shall die, from the least even to the greatest, by the sword and by the famine; and they shall be an object of horror, an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach. ¹³For I will punish those who dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; ¹⁴so that none of the remnant of Judah, who have gone into the land of

Egypt to live there, shall escape or be left, to return into the land of Judah, to which they have a desire to return to dwell there: for none shall return save such as shall escape.”

¹⁵Then all the men who knew that their wives burned incense to other gods, and all the women who stood by, a great assembly, even all the people who lived in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying, ¹⁶“As for the word that you have spoken to us in the name of the LORD, we will not listen to you. ¹⁷But we will certainly perform every word that is gone forth out of our mouth, to burn incense to the queen of heaven,^a and to pour out drink offerings to her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our leaders, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem; for then had we plenty of food, and were well, and saw no evil. ¹⁸But since we left off burning incense to the queen of heaven, and pouring out drink offerings to her, we have wanted all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine.” ¹⁹And the woman said,^b “When we burned incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink offerings to her, did we make her cakes to worship her, and pour out drink offerings to her, without our husbands?”

²⁴Moreover Jeremiah said to all the people, and to all the women, “Hear the word of the LORD, all Judah who are in the land of Egypt: ²⁵Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, ‘You and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and with your hands have fulfilled it, saying, “We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings to her”: establish then your vows, and perform your vows.’ ²⁶Therefore hear the word of the LORD, all Judah who dwell in the land of Egypt: ‘Look, I have sworn by my great name,’ says the Lord, ‘that my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, “As the Lord GOD lives.”’ ²⁷Look, I watch over them for disaster, and not for good; and all the men of Judah who are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until they are all gone. ²⁸Those who escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah, few in number; and all the remnant of Judah, who have gone into the land of Egypt to live there, shall know whose word shall stand, mine, or theirs. ²⁹This shall be the sign to you,’ says the LORD, ‘that I will punish you in this place, that you may know that my words shall surely stand against you for evil’: ³⁰Thus says the LORD, ‘Look, I will give Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of those who seek his life; as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, who was his enemy, and sought his life.’”

The message that Jeremiah the prophet spoke to Baruch the son of Neriah, when he wrote these words in a scroll at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying, ²”Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to you, Baruch: ³”You said, “Woe is me now. For the LORD has added sorrow to my pain; I am weary with my groaning, and I find no rest.””

⁴”You shall tell him, ‘Thus says the LORD: “Look, that which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up; and this in the whole land. ⁵Do you seek great things for yourself? Do not seek them; for, look, I will bring disaster on all flesh, says the LORD; but your life will I give to you for a reward in all places where you go.””

46 The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the nations. ²Of Egypt: concerning the army of Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Perath in Carchemish, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon struck in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah. ³”Prepare the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle. ⁴Harness the horses, and get up, you horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets; furbish the spears, put on the coats of mail. ⁵Why have I seen it? They are dismayed and are turned backward; and their mighty ones are beaten down, and have fled in haste, and do not look back: terror is on every side,” says the LORD. ⁶”Do not let the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape; in the north by the river Perath have they stumbled and fallen. ⁷Who is this who rises up like the Nile, whose waters toss themselves like the rivers? ⁸Egypt rises up like the Nile, and his waters toss themselves like the rivers: and he says, ‘I will rise up, I will cover the earth; I will destroy cities and its inhabitants.’ ⁹Go up, you horses; and rage, you chariots; and let the mighty men go forth: Cush and Put, who handle the shield; and the Ludim, who handle and bend the bow. ¹⁰For that day is of the Lord, the LORD of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and the sword shall devour and be satiate, and shall drink its fill of their blood; for the Lord, the LORD of hosts, has a sacrifice in the north country by the river Perath. ¹¹Go up into Gilead, and take balm, virgin daughter of Egypt: in vain do you use many medicines; there is no healing for you. ¹²The nations have heard of your shame, and the earth is full of your cry; for the mighty man has stumbled against the mighty, they are fallen both of them together.”

¹³The word that the LORD spoke to Jeremiah the prophet, how that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon should come and strike the land of Egypt. ¹⁴”Declare in Egypt, and publish in Migdol, and publish in Memphis and in Tahpanhes: say, ‘Stand forth, and prepare; for the sword has devoured around you.’ ¹⁵Why are your strong ones swept away? They did not stand, because the LORD pushed them. ¹⁶He made many to stumble, yes, they fell one on another: and they said, ‘Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our birth, from the oppressing sword.’ ¹⁷They cried there, ‘Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise; he has let the appointed time pass by.’”

¹⁸”As I live,” says the King, “whose name is the LORD of hosts, surely like Tabor among the mountains, and like Carmel by the sea, so shall he come. ¹⁹You daughter who dwells in Egypt, furnish yourself to go into captivity; for Memphis shall become a desolation, and shall be burnt up, without inhabitant. ²⁰Egypt is a very beautiful heifer; but a horsefly from the north is coming against her. ²¹Also her hired men in the midst of her are like calves of the stall; for they also are turned back, they are fled away together, they did not stand: for the day of their calamity has come on them, the time of their visitation. ²²The sound of it shall go like the serpent; for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as wood cutters. ²³They shall cut down her forest, says the LORD, though it can't be searched; because they are more than the locusts, and are innumerable. ²⁴The daughter of Egypt shall be disappointed; she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north."

²⁵The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, says: 'Look, I will punish Amon of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with her gods, and her kings; even Pharaoh, and those who trust in him: ²⁶and I will deliver them into the hand of those who seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants; and afterwards it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old,' says the LORD. ²⁷'But do not be afraid, Jacob my servant, neither be dismayed, Israel: for, look, I will save you from afar, and your seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet and at ease, and none shall make him afraid. ²⁸Do not be afraid, O Jacob my servant,' says the LORD; 'for I am with you: for I will make a full end of all the nations where I have driven you; but I will not make a full end of you, but I will correct you in measure, and will in no way leave you unpunished.'"

47 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines, before that Pharaoh struck Gaza. ²Thus says the LORD: 'Look, waters rise up out of the north, and shall become an overflowing stream, and shall overflow the land and all that is in it, the city and those who dwell in it; and the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall wail. ³At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong ones, at the rushing of his chariots, at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers do not look back to their children for feebleness of hands; ⁴because of the day that comes to destroy all the Philistines, to cut off from Tyre and Sidon every helper who remains: for the LORD will destroy the Philistines, the remnant of the isle of Caphtor. ⁵Baldness has come on Gaza; Ashkelon is brought to nothing, the remnant of their valley: how long will you cut yourself? ⁶You sword of the LORD, "how long will it be before you be quiet? Put yourself into your sheath; rest, and be still." ⁷How can it^a be quiet, since the LORD has given you a command? Against Ashkelon, and against the seashore, there has he appointed it.'"

48 Of Moab. "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: 'Woe to Woe to Nebo, because it is about to be destroyed; Kiriathaim will be put to shame, it will be taken captive. The fortress is put to shame and broken down. ²The praise of Moab is no more; in Heshbon they have devised evil against her: "Come, and let us cut her off from being a nation." You also, Madmen, shall be brought to silence: the sword shall pursue you. ³The sound of a cry from Horonaim, "destruction and great calamity." ⁴Moab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard. ⁵For by the ascent of Luhith with continual weeping shall they go up; for at the descent of Horonaim they have heard the distress of the cry of destruction. ⁶"Flee, save your lives, and be like a shrub in the wilderness." ⁷For, because you have trusted in your works and in your treasures, you also shall be taken: and Chemosh shall go forth into captivity, his priests and his officials together. ⁸The destroyer shall come on every city, and no city shall escape; the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed; as the LORD has spoken. ⁹Give wings to Moab, that she may fly and get her away; and her cities shall become a desolation, without any to dwell in them.' ¹⁰Cursed is he who does the work of the LORD negligently; and cursed is he who keeps back his sword from blood. ¹¹Moab has been at ease from his youth, and he has settled on his lees, and has not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither has he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remains in him, and his scent is not changed. ¹²Therefore look, the days come,' says the LORD, 'that I will send to him those who pour off, and they shall pour him off; and they shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles in pieces. ¹³Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel their confidence. ¹⁴How can you say, "We are mighty men, and valiant men for the war?" ¹⁵Moab is laid waste, and they are gone up into his cities, and his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter,' says the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts. ¹⁶The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction hurries fast. ¹⁷All you who are around him, bemoan him, and all you who know his name; say, "How is the strong staff broken, the beautiful rod." ¹⁸You daughter who dwells in Dibon, come down from your glory, and sit in thirst; for the destroyer of Moab has come up against you, he has destroyed your strongholds. ¹⁹Inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way, and watch: ask him who flees, and her who escapes; say, "What has been done?" ²⁰"Moab is disappointed; for it is broken down: wail and cry; tell it by the Arnon, that Moab is laid waste." ²¹Judgment has come on the plain country, on Holon, and on Jahzah, and on Mephaath, ²²and on Dibon, and on Nebo, and on Beth Diblathaim, ²³and on Kiriathaim, and on Beth Gamul, and on Beth Meon, ²⁴and on Kerioth, and on Bozrah, and on all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near. ²⁵The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken,' says the LORD. ²⁶'Make him drunk; for he magnified himself against the LORD: and Moab shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision. ²⁷For wasn't Israel a derision to you? Was he found among thieves? For as often as you speak of him, you shake your head. ²⁸You inhabitants of Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rock; and be like the dove that makes her nest over the mouth of the abyss. ²⁹We have heard of the pride of Moab--he is very proud--of his pride, and his vanity,^b and his arrogance, and the haughtiness of his heart. ³⁰I know his wrath,' says the LORD, 'that it is nothing; his boastings have worked nothing. ³¹Therefore I will wail for Moab; yes, I will cry out for all Moab; I will mourn for the men of Kir Heres. ³²With more than the weeping of Jazer will I weep for you, vine of Sibmah: your branches passed over the sea, they reached even to^c Jazer; on your summer fruits and on your vintage the destroyer is fallen. ³³Gladness and joy is taken away from the fruitful field and from the land of Moab; and I have caused wine to cease from the wine presses: none shall tread with shouting; the shouting shall be no shouting. ³⁴From the cry of Heshbon even to Elealeh, even to Jahaz have they uttered their voice, from Zoar even to Horonaim, to Eglath Shelishiyah: for the waters of Nimrim also shall become desolate. ³⁵And I will cause to cease in Moab,' says the LORD, 'the one who offers sacrifice^d upon the^e high place, and the one who burns incense to his gods. ³⁶Therefore my heart sounds for Moab like pipes, and my heart sounds like pipes for the men of Kir Heres: therefore the abundance that he has gotten is perished. ³⁷For every head is bald, and every beard clipped: on all the hands are cuttings, and on the waist sackcloth. ³⁸On all the housetops of Moab and in its streets there is lamentation every where; for I have broken Moab like a vessel in which none delights,' says the LORD. ³⁹How it is broken down. How they wail. How Moab has turned the back with shame. So shall Moab

The people of Chemosh is undone; for your sons are taken away captive, and your daughters into captivity.⁴⁷Yet will I bring back the captivity of Moab in the latter days,’ says the LORD. Thus far is the judgment of Moab.”

49 Of the people of Ammon. “Thus says the LORD: ‘Has Israel no sons? Has he no heir? Why then does Milcom possess Gad, and his people dwell in its cities?²Therefore look, the days come,’ says the LORD, ‘that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard against Rabbah of the people of Ammon; and it shall become a desolate heap, and her daughters shall be burned with fire: then shall Israel possess those who possessed him,’ says the LORD.³Wail, Heshbon, for Ai is laid waste; cry, you daughters of Rabbah, clothe yourself in sackcloth: lament, and run back and forth among the fences; for Milcom shall go into captivity, his priests and his officials together.⁴Why do you glory in the valleys, your flowing valley, backsliding daughter? You who trusted in her treasures, saying,^b “Who shall come to me?”⁵Look, I will bring a fear on you,’ says the Lord, the LORD of hosts, ‘from all who are around you; and you shall be driven out every man right forth, and there shall be none to gather together the fugitives.⁶But afterward I will bring back the captivity of the people of Ammon,’ says the LORD.”

⁷Of Edom. “Thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘Is wisdom no more in Teman? Is counsel perished from the prudent? Is their wisdom vanished?⁸Flee, turn back, dwell in the depths, inhabitants of Dedan; for I will bring the calamity of Esau on him, the time that I shall visit him.⁹If grape gatherers came to you, would they not leave some gleanings? If thieves by night, wouldn’t they destroy until they had enough?¹⁰But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is destroyed, and his brothers, and his neighbors; and he is no more.¹¹Leave your fatherless children, I will preserve them alive; and let your widows trust in me.’¹²For thus says the LORD: ‘Look, they to whom it did not pertain to drink of the cup shall certainly drink; and are you he who shall altogether go unpunished? You shall not go unpunished, but you shall surely drink.¹³For I have sworn by myself,’ says the LORD, ‘that Bozrah shall become an astonishment, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all its cities shall be perpetual wastes.’”

¹⁴I have heard news from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, “Gather yourselves together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle.”

height of the hill: though you should make your nest as high as the eagle, I will bring you down from there,” says the LORD.¹⁷“Edom shall become an astonishment: everyone who passes by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all its plagues.¹⁸As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbor cities of it,” says the LORD, “no man shall dwell there, neither shall any son of man live in it.¹⁹Look, he shall come up like a lion from the pride of the Jordan against the strong habitation: for I will suddenly make them run away from it; and whoever is chosen, him will I appoint over it: for who is like me? And who will appoint me a time? And who is the shepherd who will stand before me?²⁰Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD, that he has taken against Edom; and his purposes, that he has purposed against the inhabitants of Teman: Surely they shall drag them away, the little ones of the flock; surely he shall make their habitation desolate over them.²¹The earth trembles at the noise of their fall; there is a cry, the noise which is heard in the Sea at the End.^c²²Look, he shall come up and fly as the eagle, and spread out his wings against Bozrah: and the heart of the mighty men of Edom at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.”

²³Of Damascus. “Hamath is confounded, and Arpad; for they have heard evil news, they are melted away: there is sorrow on the sea; it can’t be quiet.²⁴Damascus has grown feeble, she turns herself to flee, and trembling has seized on her: anguish and sorrows have taken hold of her, as of a woman in travail.²⁵How is the city of praise not forsaken, the city of my joy?²⁶Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be brought to silence in that day,” says the LORD of hosts.²⁷“I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall devour the palaces of Ben Hadad.”

²⁸Of Kedar, and of the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon struck. “Thus says the LORD: ‘Arise, go up to Kedar, and destroy the people of the east.’²⁹Their tents and their flocks shall they take; they shall carry away for themselves their curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels; and they shall cry to them, ‘Terror on every side.’³⁰Flee, wander far off, dwell in the depths, you inhabitants of Hazor,” says the LORD; “for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has taken counsel against you, and has conceived a purpose against you.”³¹“Arise, go up to a nation that is at ease, that dwells without care, says the LORD; that have neither gates nor bars, that dwell alone.³²Their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their livestock a spoil: and I will scatter to all winds those who have the corners of their beards cut off; and I will bring their calamity from every side of them,” says the LORD.³³“Hazor shall be a dwelling place of jackals, a desolation forever: no man shall dwell there, neither shall any son of man live in it.”

³⁴The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying,³⁵“Thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘Look, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their might.³⁶On Elam will I bring the four winds from the four quarters of the sky, and will scatter them toward all those winds; and there shall be no nation where the outcasts of Elam shall not come.³⁷I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, and before those who seek their life; and I will bring evil on them, even my fierce anger,’ says the LORD; ‘and I will send the sword after them, until I have consumed them;³⁸and I will set my throne in Elam, and will destroy from there king and officials,’ says the LORD.³⁹But it shall happen in the latter days, that I will bring back the captivity of Elam,’ says the LORD.”

50 The word that the LORD spoke concerning Babylon, concerning the land of the Chaldeans, by Jeremiah the prophet. ²Declare among the nations and publish, and set up a standard; publish, and do not conceal: say, 'Babylon is taken, Bel is disappointed, Marduk is dismayed; her images are disappointed, her idols are dismayed. ³For out of the north there comes up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell in it: they are fled, they are gone, both man and animal. ⁴In those days, and in that time,' says the LORD, 'the children of Israel shall come, they and the people of Judah together; they shall go on their way weeping, and shall seek the LORD their God. ⁵They shall inquire concerning Zion with their faces turned toward it. They will come and join themselves to the LORD in an everlasting covenant that shall not be forgotten. ⁶My people have been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray; they have turned them away on the mountains; they have gone from mountain to hill; they have forgotten their resting place. ⁷All who found them have devoured them; and their adversaries said, "We are not guilty, because they have sinned against the LORD, the habitation of righteousness, even the LORD, the hope of their fathers." ⁸Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the male goats before the flocks. ⁹For, look, I will stir up and cause to come up against Babylon a company of great nations from the north country; and they shall set themselves in array against her; from there she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of an expert mighty man; none shall return in vain. ¹⁰Chaldea shall be a prey: all who prey on her shall be satisfied,' says the LORD. ¹¹Because you are glad, because you rejoice, O you who plunder my heritage, because you are wanton as a heifer that treads out the grain, and neigh as strong horses; ¹²your mother shall be utterly disappointed; she who bore you shall be confounded: look, she shall be the least of the nations, a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert. ¹³Because of the wrath of the LORD she shall not be inhabited, but she shall be wholly desolate: everyone who goes by Babylon shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues. ¹⁴"Set yourselves in array against Babylon all around, all you who bend the bow; shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she has sinned against the LORD. ¹⁵Shout against her all around: she has submitted herself; her towers are fallen, her walls are thrown down; for it is the vengeance of the LORD: take vengeance on her; as she has done, do to her. ¹⁶Cut off the sower from Babylon, and him who handles the sickle in the time of harvest: for fear of the oppressing sword they shall turn everyone to his people, and they shall flee everyone to his own land."

¹⁷Israel is a hunted sheep; the lions have driven him away: first, the king of Assyria devoured him; and now at last Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has broken his bones. ¹⁸Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: "Look, I will punish the king of Babylon and his land, as I have punished the king of Assyria. ¹⁹I will bring Israel again to his pasture, and he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied on the hills of Ephraim and in Gilead. ²⁰In those days, and in that time, says the LORD, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I leave as a remnant."

²¹"Go up against the land of Merathaim, even against it, and against the inhabitants of Pekod: kill and utterly destroy after them," says the LORD, "and do according to all that I have commanded you. ²²A sound of battle is in the land, and of great destruction. ²³How is the hammer of the whole earth cut apart and broken. How is Babylon become a desolation among the nations. ²⁴I have laid a snare for you, and you are also taken, Babylon, and you weren't aware: you are found, and also caught, because you have striven against the LORD. ²⁵The LORD has opened his armory, and has brought forth the weapons of his indignation; for the Lord, the LORD of hosts, has a work to do in the land of the Chaldeans. ²⁶Come against her from the utmost border; open her storehouses; cast her up as heaps, and destroy her utterly; let nothing of her be left. ²⁷Kill all her bulls; let them go down to the slaughter. Woe to them, for their day has come, the time of their visitation."

²⁸The voice of those who flee and escape out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance of his temple. ²⁹"Call together the archers against Babylon, all those who bend the bow; camp against her all around; let none of it escape: recompense her according to her work; according to all that she has done, do to her; for she has been proud against the LORD, against the Holy One of Israel. ³⁰Therefore her young men will fall in her streets, and all her men of war will be brought to silence in that day," says the LORD. ³¹"Look, I am against you, you proud one," says the Lord, the LORD of hosts; for your day has come, the time that I will visit you. ³²The proud one shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up; and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all who are around him."

³³Thus says the LORD of hosts: "The children of Israel and the people of Judah are oppressed together; and all who took them captive hold them fast; they refuse to let them go. ³⁴Their Redeemer is strong; the LORD of hosts is his name: he will thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the earth, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon. ³⁵A sword is on the Chaldeans," says the LORD, "and on the inhabitants of Babylon, and on her officials, and on her wise men. ³⁶A sword is on the boasters, and they shall become fools; a sword is on her mighty men, and they shall be dismayed. ³⁷A sword is on their horses, and on their chariots, and on all the mixed people who are in the midst of her; and they shall become as women: a sword is on her treasures, and they shall be robbed. ³⁸A drought is on her waters, and they shall be dried up; for it is a land of engraved images, and they glory over idols. ³⁹Therefore the wild animals of the desert with the wolves shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell in it: and it shall be no more inhabited forever; neither shall it be lived in from generation to generation. ⁴⁰As when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbor cities of it," says the LORD, "so shall no man dwell there, neither shall any son of man live in it."

⁴⁵Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD, that he has taken against Babylon; and his purposes, that he has purposed against the land of the Chaldeans: "Surely they shall drag them away, even the little ones of the flock; surely he shall make their habitation desolate over them. ⁴⁶At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth trembles, and the cry is heard among the nations."

51 Thus says the LORD: "Look, I will raise up against Babylon, and against those who dwell in Lebkamai, a destroying wind. ²I will send to Babylon foreigners who shall winnow her; and they shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her around. ³Do not let him who bends the bow bend it; nor not let him rise up in his armor. And do not spare her young men; utterly destroy her entire army. ⁴They shall fall down slain in the land of the Chaldeans, and thrust through in her streets.

¹¹Make sharp the arrows; hold firm the shields: the LORD has stirred up the spirit of the kings of the Medes; because his purpose is against Babylon, to destroy it: for it is the vengeance of the LORD, the vengeance of his temple. ¹²Set up a standard against the walls of Babylon, make the watch strong, set the watchmen, prepare the ambushes; for the LORD has both purposed and done that which he spoke concerning the inhabitants of Babylon. ¹³You who dwell on many waters, abundant in treasures, your end has come, the measure of your covetousness. ¹⁴The LORD of hosts has sworn by himself, saying, “Surely I will fill you with men, as with the canker worm; and they shall lift up a shout against you.” ¹⁵He has made the earth by his power, he has established the world by his wisdom, and by his understanding has he stretched out the heavens. ¹⁶When he utters his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causes the vapors to ascend from the farthest parts of the earth; he makes lightning for the rain, and brings forth the wind out of his treasures. ¹⁷Every man has become brutish without knowledge. Every goldsmith is disappointed by his image; for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. ¹⁸They are vanity, a work of delusion: in the time of their visitation they shall perish. ¹⁹The portion of Jacob is not like these, for he is the maker of all things; and Israel^a is the tribe of his inheritance; the LORD of hosts is his name. ²⁰“You are my battle axe and weapons of war: and with you will I break in pieces the nations; and with you will I destroy kingdoms; ²¹and with you will I break in pieces the horse and his rider; and with you will I break in pieces the chariot and its rider. ²²And with you will I break in pieces man and woman; and with you will I break in pieces the old man and the youth; and with you will I break in pieces the young man and the virgin; ²³and with you will I break in pieces the shepherd and his flock; and with you will I break in pieces the farmer and his yoke; and with you will I break in pieces governors and deputies. ²⁴I will render to Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea all their evil that they have done in Zion in your sight,” says the LORD. ²⁵“Look, I am against you, destroying mountain,” says the LORD, “which destroys all the earth; and I will stretch out my hand on you, and roll you down from the rocks, and will make you a burnt mountain. ²⁶They shall not take of you a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations; but you shall be desolate for ever,” says the LORD.

²⁷Set up a standard in the land, blow the trumpet among the nations, prepare the nations against her, call together against her the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz: appoint a marshal against her; cause the horses to come up as the rough canker worm. ²⁸Prepare against her the nations, the kings of the Medes, its governors, and all its deputies, and all the land of their dominion. ²⁹The land trembles and is in pain; for the purposes of the LORD against Babylon do stand, to make the land of Babylon a desolation, without inhabitant. ³⁰The mighty men of Babylon have forborne to fight, they remain in their strongholds; their might has failed; they are become as women: her dwelling places are set on fire; her bars are broken. ³¹One runner will run to meet another, and one messenger to meet another, to show the king of Babylon that his city is taken on every quarter: ³²and the passages are seized, and the reeds they have burned with fire, and the men of war are frightened.

³³For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: “The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing floor at the time when it is trodden; yet a little while, and the time of harvest shall come for her. ³⁴“Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon has devoured me, he has crushed me, he has made me an empty vessel, he has, like a monster, swallowed me up, he has filled his maw with my delicacies; he has cast me out. ³⁵The violence done to me and to my flesh be on Babylon,” shall the inhabitant of Zion say; and, ‘My blood be on the inhabitants of Chaldea,’ shall Jerusalem say.

⁴⁵“My people, go away from the midst of her, and save yourselves every man from the fierce anger of the LORD. ⁴⁶Do not let your heart faint, neither fear for the news that shall be heard in the land; for news shall come one year, and after that in another year shall come news, and violence in the land, ruler against ruler. ⁴⁷Therefore look, the days come, that I will execute judgment on the engraved images of Babylon; and her whole land shall be confounded; and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her. ⁴⁸Then the heavens and the earth, and all that is in them, shall sing for joy over Babylon; for the destroyers shall come to her from the north,” says the LORD.

⁴⁹As Babylon has caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the land. ⁵⁰You who have escaped the sword, go, do not stand still; remember the LORD from afar, and let Jerusalem come into your mind. ⁵¹“We are confounded, because we have heard reproach; confusion has covered our faces: for strangers have come into the sanctuaries of the LORD’s house.”

⁵²“Therefore look, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will execute judgment on her engraved images; and through all her land the wounded shall groan. ⁵³Though Babylon should mount up to the sky, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall destroyers come to her," says the LORD. ⁵⁴"The sound of a cry from Babylon, and of great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans." ⁵⁵For the LORD lays Babylon waste, and destroys out of her the great voice; and their waves roar like many waters; the noise of their voice is uttered: ⁵⁶for the destroyer has come on her, even on Babylon, and her mighty men are taken, their bows are broken in pieces; for the LORD is a God of recompenses,^a he will surely requite. ⁵⁷"I will make drunk her officials and her wise men, her governors and her deputies, and her mighty men; and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake up," says the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

⁵⁸Thus says the LORD of hosts: "The broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly overthrown, and her high gates shall be burned with fire; and the peoples shall labor for vanity, and the nations for the fire; and they shall be weary."

⁵⁹The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. Now Seraiah was chief quartermaster. ⁶⁰Jeremiah wrote in a scroll all the evil that should come on Babylon, even all these words that are written concerning Babylon. ⁶¹Jeremiah said to Seraiah, "When you come to Babylon, then see that you read all these words, ⁶²and say, 'LORD, you have spoken concerning this place, to cut it off, that none shall dwell in it, neither man nor animal, but that it shall be desolate forever.' ⁶³It shall be, when you have made an end of reading this scroll, that you shall bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of the Perath: ⁶⁴and you shall say, 'Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise again because of the evil that I will bring on her; and they shall be weary.'" Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

52 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. ²He did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done. ³For through the anger of the LORD it happened in Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out from his presence. Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon. ⁴It happened in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem, and camped against it; and they built forts against it round about. ⁵So the city was besieged to the eleventh year of king Zedekiah. ⁶In the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was severe in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land. ⁷Then a breach was made in the city, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden; (now the Chaldeans were against the city all around;) and they went toward the Arabah. ⁸But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him. ⁹Then they took the king, and carried him up to the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath; and he gave judgment on him. ¹⁰The king of Babylon killed the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he killed also all the officials of Judah in Riblah. ¹¹He put out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him in fetters, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison until the day of his death. ¹²Now in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, who stood before the king of Babylon, into Jerusalem: ¹³and he burned the house of the LORD, and the king's house; and all the houses of Jerusalem, even every great house, burned he with fire. ¹⁴All the army of the Chaldeans, who were with the captain of the guard, broke down all the walls of Jerusalem all around. ¹⁵Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the poorest of the people, and the residue of the people who were left in the city, and those who fell away, who fell to the king of Babylon, and the residue of the multitude. ¹⁶But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poorest of the land to be vineyard keepers and farmers. ¹⁷The Chaldeans broke the pillars of bronze that were in the house of the LORD, and the bases and the bronze sea that were in the house of the LORD in pieces, and carried all their bronze to Babylon. ¹⁸They also took away the pots, the shovels, the snuffers, the basins, the spoons, and all the vessels of bronze with which they ministered. ¹⁹The captain of the guard took away the cups, the fire pans, the basins, the pots, the lampstands, the spoons, and the bowls; that which was of gold, in gold, and that which was of silver, in silver. ²⁰They took the two pillars, the one sea, and the twelve bronze bulls that were under the sea,^b and the stands which king Solomon had made for the house of the LORD. The bronze of all these vessels was without weight. ²¹As for the pillars, the height of the one pillar was eight feet seven inches^c; and a line of twenty feet eight inches^d encircled it; and its thickness was almost three inches^e. It was hollow. ²²A capital of bronze was on it; and the height of the one capital was eight feet seven inches,^f with network and pomegranates on the capital all around, all of bronze: and the second pillar also had like these, and pomegranates. ²³There were ninety-six pomegranates on the sides; all the pomegranates were one hundred on the network all around. ²⁴The captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the threshold: ²⁵and out of the city he took an officer who was set over the men of war; and seven men of those who saw the king's face, who were found in the city; and the scribe of the captain of the army, who mustered the people of the land; and sixty men of the people of the land, who were found in the midst of the city. ²⁶Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah. ²⁷The king of Babylon struck them, and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried away captive out of his land. ²⁸This is the people whom Nebuchadnezzar carried away captive: in the seventh year three thousand twenty-three Jews; ²⁹in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred thirty-two persons; ³⁰in the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadnezzar Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty-five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

³¹It happened in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the five and twentieth day of the month, that Awil-Marduk^g king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him forth out of prison; ³²and he spoke kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings who were with him in Babylon, ³³and changed his prison garments. Jehoiachin ate bread before him continually all the days of his life: ³⁴and for his allowance, there was a continual allowance given him by the king of

Lamentations

1 ALEPH

How the city sits solitary, that was full of people.
She has become as a widow, who was great among the nations.
She who was a princess among the provinces has become a forced laborer.

BET

²She weeps bitterly in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks;
among all her lovers she has none to comfort her.
All her friends have dealt treacherously with her; they have become her enemies.

GIMEL

³Judah has gone into exile because of affliction and harsh servitude;
she dwells among the nations, she finds no rest:
all her persecutors overtook her in the midst of her distress.

DALET

⁴The roads to Zion mourn, because no one comes to the solemn assembly;
all her gates are desolate, her priests groan:
her virgins are afflicted, and she herself is in bitterness.

HEY

⁵Her adversaries have become the head, her enemies prosper;
for the LORD has afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions:
her young children have gone into captivity before the adversary.

WAW

⁶All majesty has departed from the daughter of Zion:
her leaders have become like deer that find no pasture,
they fled exhausted before the pursuer.

ZAYIN

⁷Jerusalem remembers in the days of her affliction and wandering all her precious things that were from the days of old:
when her people fell into the hand of the adversary, and no one helped her.
The adversaries saw her, they mocked at her desolations.

HET

⁸Jerusalem has grievously sinned; therefore she has become as an unclean thing;

TET

⁹Her filthiness was in her skirts; she did not remember her latter end;
therefore her fall was astonishing; she has no comforter.
“Look, LORD, on my affliction, for the enemy has magnified himself.”

YOD

¹⁰The adversary has spread out his hand on all her precious things:
for she has seen that the nations have entered into her sanctuary, concerning whom you commanded that they should not enter into your assembly.

KAPH

¹¹All her people sigh, they seek bread;
they have given their precious things for food to refresh the soul.
“Look, LORD, and see, for I am despised.”

LAMED

¹²Is it nothing to you, all you who pass by?
Look, and see if there is any sorrow like my sorrow, which is brought on me, with which the LORD has afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.

MEM

¹³From on high he has sent fire into my bones, and it overcame them.
He has spread a net for my feet, he has turned me back.
He has made me desolate and faint all the day.

NUN

¹⁴My transgressions are bound into a yoke; by his hand they are fastened together, they are set upon my neck; he has made my strength to fail.
The LORD^a has delivered me into their hands, against whom I am not able to stand.

SAMEKH

¹⁵The LORD^b has rejected all my mighty men in my midst;
he has called a solemn assembly against me to crush my young men.
The LORD^c has trodden as in a winepress the virgin daughter of Judah.

AYIN

¹⁶For these things I weep; my eyes^d flow with tears;
because the comforter who should refresh my soul is far from me.

My children are desolate, because the enemy has prevailed.

PEY

¹⁷Zion spreads forth her hands; there is none to comfort her.
The LORD has commanded concerning Jacob, that those who are around him should be his adversaries.
Jerusalem is among them as an unclean thing.

TZADE

¹⁸The LORD is righteous, for I have rebelled against his commandment.
Please listen all you people, and see my suffering.
My virgins and my young men have gone into captivity.

QOPH

¹⁹I called for my lovers, but they deceived me.
My priests and my elders perished in the city, while they searched for food to refresh their souls.

RESH

²⁰See, LORD, for I am in distress; my stomach churns;
my heart is turned within me; for I have grievously rebelled.
Outside the sword bereaves, in the house it is like death.

SHIN

²¹They have heard that I groan; there is none to comfort me.
All my enemies have heard of my trouble; they are glad that you have done it.
Bring the day that you have proclaimed, so that they shall end up like me.

TAW

²²Let all their wickedness come before you.
Do to them, as you have done to me for all my transgressions.
For my groans are many, and my heart is faint.

2 ALEPH

How the LORD^a covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger.
He has cast down from heaven to the earth the splendor of Israel, and hasn't remembered his footstool in the day of his anger.

BET

²The LORD^b has swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and has not pitied.
He has thrown down in his wrath the strongholds of the daughter of Judah.
He has brought them down to the ground; he has humiliated the

GIMEL

³He has cut off in fierce anger all the strength of Israel.
He has drawn back his right hand before the enemy.
He has blazed in Jacob like a flaming fire, which devours all around.

DALET

⁴He has bent his bow like an enemy; his right hand he has positioned like an adversary.
He killed all that were pleasant to the eye.
In the tent of the daughter of Zion he has poured out his wrath like fire.

HEY

⁵The LORD^e has become as an enemy; he has swallowed up Israel;
he has swallowed up all her palaces and has destroyed its strongholds.
He has multiplied in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.

WAW

⁶He has done violence to his temple, as if it were a vineyard;^d he has destroyed his place of assembly.
The LORD has caused solemn assembly and Sabbath to be forgotten in Zion, and he has spurned in his fierce anger king and priest and prince.^e

ZAYIN

⁷The LORD^f has rejected his altar, he has disowned his sanctuary, and has given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces.
They have made a shout in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn assembly.

HET

⁸The LORD has determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion.
He has stretched out the line, he has not withdrawn his hand from destroying.
He has made the rampart and wall to lament; they languish together.

Lamentations 3

The virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.

KAPH

¹¹My eyes are worn out from weeping, my stomach is churning.
My heart is poured on the earth, because of the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the young children and the infants faint in the streets of the city.

LAMED

¹²They tell their mothers, “Where is grain and wine?”
When they faint as the wounded in the streets of the city, as their lives fade away in their mothers’ bosom.

MEM

¹³What shall I testify of you? What shall I liken to you, daughter of Jerusalem?
What shall I compare to you, that I may comfort you, virgin daughter of Zion?
For your ruin is great like the sea. Who can heal you?
NUN

¹⁴Your prophets have seen for you false and deceptive visions.
They have not uncovered your iniquity, to bring back your captivity, but have seen for you false and misleading oracles.

SAMEKH

¹⁵All that pass by clap their hands at you, they hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying, “Is this the city that men called ‘The perfection of beauty,’ ‘The joy of the whole earth’?”

AYIN

¹⁶All your enemies have opened wide their mouth against you.
They hiss and gnash the teeth; they say, “We have swallowed her up.
Certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found, we have seen it.”

PEY

¹⁷The LORD has done that which he purposed, he has fulfilled his word that he commanded in the days of old.
He has thrown down, and has not pitied.
He has caused the enemy to gloat over you and exalted the horn of your adversaries.

TZADE

¹⁸Their heart cried to the LORD.^a O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a river day and night.
Give yourself no respite; do not let your tears cease.

QOPH

¹⁹Arise, cry out in the night, at the beginning of the watches.

Pour out your heart like water before the face of the LORD.^b Lift up your hands toward him for the life of your young children, that faint for hunger at the head of every street.

RESH

²⁰Look, LORD, and see to whom you have done like this.
Shall the women eat their fruit, the children that are dandled in the hands?
Shall the priest and the prophet be killed in the sanctuary of the LORD?^c

SHIN

²¹The youth and the old man lie on the ground in the streets;
my virgins and my young men have fallen by the sword.
You have killed them in the day of your anger; you have slaughtered, without pity.

TAW

GIMEL

⁷He has walled me in, so I can’t escape; he has made my chains heavy.
⁸Yes, when I cry, and call for help, he shuts out my prayer.
⁹He has walled up my ways with cut stone; he has made my paths crooked.

DALET

¹⁰He is to me as a bear lying in wait, as a lion in hiding.

desolate.
¹²He has bent his bow, and set me as a mark for the arrow.

¹⁴I have become a laughingstock to all peoples,^a and their song all the day.

¹⁷You have removed my soul far away from peace; I have forgotten what prosperity is.
¹⁸And I said, "My strength and my hope has perished from the LORD."

ZAYIN

¹⁹Remember my affliction and my misery, the wormwood and the gall.

KAPH

³¹For the LORD^c will not reject forever.

its four^a faces. ¹⁶And^b the appearance of the wheels and their work was like a beryl: and the four of them had the same likeness; and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel within a wheel. ¹⁷When they went, they went in their four directions: they didn't turn when they went. ¹⁸As for their rims, they were high and awesome; and the four of them had their rims full of eyes all around. ¹⁹When the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them; and when the living creatures rose from the ground, the wheels also rose. ²⁰They went in whichever direction^c the spirit would go, and the wheels rose alongside them because the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels. ²¹When those [the living creatures] moved, these [the wheels] moved; and when those [the living creatures] stood still, these [the wheels] stood still; and when those [the living creatures] rose from the ground, the wheels rose alongside them because the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels. ²²And over the heads of the living creatures^d there was the likeness of an expanse, like glittering ice, it was awesome to look upon, stretched out over their heads above. ²³Under the expanse their wings were straight, the one toward the other: each one had two which covered on this side, and every one had two which covered on that side, their bodies. ²⁴When they went, I heard the noise of their wings like the noise of great waters, like the voice of Shaddai, a noise of tumult like the noise of an army: when they stood, they let down their wings. ²⁵There was a voice above the expanse that was over their heads: when they stood, they let down their wings. ²⁶Above the expanse that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire^e stone; and on the likeness of the throne was a likeness as the appearance of a man on it above. ²⁷I saw as it were glowing metal, as the appearance of fire within it all around, from the appearance of his waist and upward; and from the appearance of his waist and downward I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and there was brightness around him. ²⁸As the appearance of the rainbow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness all around. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. When I saw it, I fell on my face, and I heard a voice speaking.

2 He said to me, "Son of man, stand on your feet, and I will speak with you." ²The Spirit entered into me when he spoke to me, and set me on my feet; and I heard him who spoke to me. ³He said to me, "Son of man, I send you to the house^f of Israel, to a nation of rebels who have rebelled against me. They and their fathers have transgressed against me even to this very day. ⁴The children are obstinate and hardhearted. I am sending you to them, and you shall tell them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD.' ⁵They, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, (for they are a rebellious house), yet shall know that there has been a prophet among them. ⁶You, son of man, do not be afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though briars and thorns are with you, and you do dwell among scorpions: do not be afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they are a rebellious house. ⁷You shall speak my words to them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear; for they are most rebellious. ⁸But you, son of man, hear what I tell you; do not be rebellious like that rebellious house: open your mouth, and eat that which I give you."

⁹And I looked and saw a hand was extended to me; and, look,^g a written scroll was in it. ¹⁰And he spread it before me, and it was written on the front and on the back. And written on it were lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

3 He said to me, "Son of man, eat that which you find. Eat this scroll, and go, speak to the house of Israel." ²So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat the scroll. ³He said to me, "Son of man, cause your belly to eat, and fill your belly with this scroll that I give you." So I ate it,^h and it was as sweet as honey in my mouth. ⁴He said to me, "Son of man, go to the house of Israel, and speak my words to them. ⁵For you are not sent to a people of a strange speech and of a hard language, but to the house of Israel; ⁶not to many peoples of a strange speech and of a hard language, whose words you can not understand. Surely, if I sent you to them, they would listen to you. ⁷But the house of Israel will not listen to you; for they will not listen to me: for all the house of Israel are obstinateⁱ and hard-hearted. ⁸Look, I have made your face hard against their faces, and your forehead hard against their foreheads. ⁹As an adamant harder than flint have I made your forehead. Do not be afraid of them, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they are a rebellious house."

¹⁰Moreover he said to me, "Son of man, all my words that I shall speak to you receive in your heart, and hear with your ears. ¹¹And go to the exiles, to the children of your people, and speak to them, and tell them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD'; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear. ¹²Then the Spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me the voice of a great rushing, saying, "Blessed be the glory of the LORD from his place." ¹³I heard the noise of the wings of the living creatures as they touched one another, and the noise of the wheels beside them, even the noise of a great rushing. ¹⁴So the Spirit lifted me up, and took me away; and I went in bitterness, in the anger of my spirit; and the hand of the LORD was strong on me. ¹⁵Then I came to them of the exiles at Tel Aviv, that lived by the river Chebar, and to where they lived; and I sat there overwhelmed among them seven days. ¹⁶It happened at the end of seven days, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ¹⁷"Son of man, I have made you a watchman to the house of Israel: therefore hear the word from my mouth, and give them warning from me. ¹⁸When I tell the wicked, 'You shall surely die'; and you give him no warning, nor speak to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; that wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at your hand. ¹⁹Yet if you warn the wicked, and he doesn't turn from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but you have delivered your soul.

²²The hand of the LORD was there on me; and he said to me, "Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with you." ²³Then I arose, and went forth into the plain: and look, the glory of the LORD

stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river Chebar; and I fell on my face. ²⁴Then the Spirit entered into me, and set me on my feet; and he spoke with me, and said to me, “Go, shut yourself inside your house. ²⁵But you, son of man, look, they shall lay bands on you, and shall bind you with them, and you shall not go out among them: ²⁶and I will make your tongue stick to the roof of your mouth, that you shall be mute, and shall not be to them a reprover; for they are a rebellious house. ²⁷But when I speak with you, I will open your mouth, and you shall tell them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD’: He who hears, let him hear; and he who forbears, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious house.

4 “You also, son of man, take a tile, and lay it before yourself, and portray on it a city, even Jerusalem: ²and lay siege against it, and build forts against it, and cast up a mound against it; set camps also against it, and plant battering rams against it all around. ³Take for yourself an iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between you and the city: and set your face toward it, and it shall be besieged, and you shall lay siege against it. This shall be a sign to the house of Israel.

⁴Moreover lie on your left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel on it; according to the number of the days that you shall lie on it, you shall bear their iniquity. ⁵For I have appointed the years of their iniquity to be to you a number of days, even three hundred ninety days: so you shall bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

⁶Again, when you have accomplished these, you shall lie on your right side, and shall bear the iniquity of the house of Judah: forty days, each day for a year, have I appointed it to you. ⁷You shall set your face toward the siege of Jerusalem, with your arm uncovered; and you shall prophesy against it. ⁸Look, I lay bands on you, and you shall not turn you from one side to the other, until you have accomplished the days of your siege.

⁹“Take for yourself also wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and spelt, and put them in one vessel, and make bread of it; according to the number of the days that you shall lie on your side, even three hundred ninety days, you shall eat of it. ¹⁰Your food which you shall eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day: from time to time you shall eat it. ¹¹You shall drink water by measure, the sixth part of a hin: from time to time you shall drink. ¹²You shall eat it as barley cakes, and you shall bake it in their sight with dung that comes out of man.” ¹³The LORD said, “Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their bread unclean, among the nations where I will drive them.”

¹⁴Then I said, “Ah Lord GOD. Look, my soul has not been polluted; for from my youth up even until now have I not eaten of that which dies of itself, or is torn of animals; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth.”

¹⁵Then he said to me, “Look, I have given you cow’s dung for man’s dung, and you shall prepare your bread thereon.”

¹⁶Moreover he said to me, “Son of man, look, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem: and they shall eat bread by weight, and with fearfulness; and they shall drink water by measure, and in dismay: ¹⁷that they may want bread and water, and be dismayed one with another, and pine away in their iniquity.

5 “You, son of man, take a sharp sword; You shall take it as a barber’s razor to you, and shall cause it to pass on your head and on your beard: then take balances to weigh, and divide the hair. ²A third part you shall burn in the fire in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled; and you shall take a third part, and strike with the sword around it; and a third part you shall scatter to the wind, and I will draw out a sword after them. ³You shall take of it a few in number, and bind them in your skirts. ⁴Of these again you shall take, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire; from it shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.”

⁷“Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because you are turbulent more than the nations that are around you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my ordinances, neither have done after the ordinances of the nations that are around you’; ⁸therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Look, I, even I, am against you; and I will execute judgments in the midst of you in the sight of the nations. ⁹I will do in you that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, because of all your abominations. ¹⁰Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in the midst of you, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments on you; and the whole remnant of you will I scatter to all the winds.’

¹¹“‘Therefore as I live,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘surely, because you have defiled my sanctuary with all your detestable things, and with all your abominations, therefore I will also diminish you; neither shall my eye spare, and I also will have no pity. ¹²A third part of you shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of you; and a third part shall fall by the sword around you; and a third part I will scatter to all the winds, and will draw out a sword after them. ¹³Thus shall my anger be accomplished, and I will cause my wrath toward them to rest, and I shall be comforted; and they shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken in my zeal, when I have accomplished my wrath on them. ¹⁴Moreover I will make you a desolation and a reproach among the nations that are around you, in the sight of all that pass by. ¹⁵And you^a shall be a reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment, to the nations that are around you, when I shall execute judgments on you in anger and in wrath, and in wrathful rebukes; I, the LORD, have spoken; ¹⁶when I shall send on them the evil arrows of famine, that are for destruction, which I will send to destroy you: and I will increase the famine on you, and will break your staff of bread; ¹⁷and I will send on you famine and evil animals, and they shall bereave you; and pestilence and blood shall pass through you; and I will bring the sword on you: I, the LORD, have spoken it.’”

6 The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²“Son of man, set your face toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy to them, ³and say, ‘You mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD: Thus says the Lord GOD to the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys: “Look, I, even I, will bring a sword on you, and I will destroy your high places. ⁴Your altars shall become desolate, and your incense altars shall be broken; and I will cast down your slain men before your idols. ⁵I will lay the dead bodies of the children of Israel before their idols; and I will scatter your bones around your altars. ⁶In all your dwelling places the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate; that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your incense altars may be cut down, and your works may be abolished. ⁷The slain shall fall in the midst of you, and you shall know that I am the LORD.

⁸”Yet will I leave a remnant, in that you shall have some that escape the sword among the nations, when you shall be scattered through the countries. ⁹Those of you that escape shall remember me among the nations where they shall be carried captive, how that I have been broken with their lewd heart, which has departed from me, and with their eyes, which play the prostitute after their idols: and they shall loathe themselves in their own sight for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations. ¹⁰They shall know that I am the LORD: I have not said in vain that I would bring this disaster on them.”

7 Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²”You, son of man, say,^b ‘Thus says the Lord GOD to the land of Israel, An end has come.^c The end has come on the four quarters of the land. ³Now is the end on you, and I will send my anger on you, and will judge you according to your ways; and I will bring on you all your abominations. ⁴My eye shall not spare you, neither will I have pity; but I will bring your ways on you, and your abominations shall be in the midst of you: and you shall know that I am the LORD.”

⁵”Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘A disaster, a unique disaster; look, it comes. ⁶An end has come, the end has come; it awakes against you; look, it comes. ⁷Your doom has come to you, inhabitant of the land: the time has come, the day is near, a day of tumult, and not of joyful shouting, on the mountains. ⁸Now will I shortly pour out my wrath on you, and accomplish my anger against you, and will judge you according to your ways; and I will bring on you all your abominations. ⁹My eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will bring on you according to your ways; and your abominations shall be in the midst of you; and you shall know that I, the LORD, do strike.^d ¹⁰Look, the day, look, it comes: your doom is gone forth; the rod has blossomed, pride has budded.’

¹¹”Violence has risen up into a rod of wickedness. None of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of their wealth. There shall be nothing of value among them. ¹²The time has come, the day draws near: do not let the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn; for wrath is on all its multitude. ¹³For the buyer^e shall not return to the seller while they live. For the vision is touching the whole multitude of it, none shall return; neither shall any strengthen himself in the iniquity of his life. ¹⁴They have blown the trumpet, and have made all ready; but none goes to the battle; for my wrath is on all its multitude. ¹⁵The sword is outside, and the pestilence and the famine within: he who is in the field shall die with the sword: and he who is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him. ¹⁶But those of those who escape shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them moaning, every one in his iniquity. ¹⁷All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water. ¹⁸They shall also clothe themselves with sackcloth, and horror shall cover them; and shame shall be on all faces, and baldness on all their heads. ¹⁹They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be as an unclean thing; their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the LORD: they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels; because it has been the stumbling block of their iniquity. ²⁰As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty; but they made the images of their abominations and their detestable things. Therefore I will render it an unclean thing to them. ²¹I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and they shall profane it. ²²My face will I turn also from them, and they shall profane my secret place; and robbers shall enter into it, and profane it.

²³”Make the chain; for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence. ²⁴Therefore I will bring the worst of the nations, and they shall possess their houses: I will also make the pride of the strong to cease; and their holy places shall be profaned. ²⁵Destruction comes; and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none. ²⁶Disaster shall come upon disaster, and rumor shall follow rumor; and they shall seek a vision from a prophet; but the law shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the elders. ²⁷The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled: I will do to them after their way, and according to their own judgments will I judge them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.”

8 It happened in the sixth year, in the sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in my house, and the elders of Judah sat before me, that the hand of the Lord GOD fell there on me. ²Then I saw, and look, a likeness as the appearance of a man;^f from the appearance of his waist and downward, fire; and from his waist and upward, as the appearance of brightness, as it were glowing metal. ³He put forth the form of a hand, and took me by a lock of my head; and the Spirit lifted me up between earth and the sky, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the gate of the inner court that looks toward the north; where there was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provokes to jealousy. ⁴Look, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the appearance that I saw in the plain. ⁵Then he said to me, “Son of man, lift up your eyes now the way toward the north.” So I lifted up my eyes the way toward the north, and see, northward of the gate of the altar this image of jealousy in the entry. ⁶He said to me, “Son of man, do you see what they do? Even the great abominations that the house of Israel do commit here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? But you shall again see yet other great abominations.”

⁷He brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, look, a hole in the wall. ⁸Then he said to me, “Son of man, dig now in the wall”: and when I had dug in the wall, look, a door. ⁹He said to me, “Go in, and see the wicked abominations that they do here.” ¹⁰So I went in and saw; and see, every form of crawling creatures, and abominable animals, and all the idols of the house of Israel, portrayed around on the wall. ¹¹There stood before them seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel; and in their midst stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, every man with his censer in his hand; and the odor of the cloud of incense went up.

¹²Then he said to me, “Son of man, have you seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in his rooms of imagery? For they say, ‘The LORD doesn’t see us. The LORD has forsaken the land.’”

¹³He said also to me, “You shall again see yet other great abominations which they do.”

¹⁴Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the LORD’s house which was toward the north; and see, there sat the women weeping for Tammuz. ¹⁵Then he said to me, “Have you seen this, son of man? You shall again see yet greater abominations than these.”

¹⁶He brought me into the inner court of the LORD’s house; and see, at the door of the LORD’s temple, between the porch and the altar, were about twenty-five men, with their backs toward the LORD’s temple, and their faces toward the east; and they were worshipping the sun toward the east. ¹⁷Then he said to me, “Have you seen this, son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah that they commit the abominations which they commit here? For they have filled the land with violence, and have turned again to provoke me to anger: and look, they put the branch to their nose. ¹⁸Therefore I will also deal in wrath; my eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity; and though they cry in my ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.”

9 Then he cried in my ears with a loud voice, saying, “Cause those who are in charge of the city to draw near, every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.” ²Look, six men came from the way of the Upper Gate, which lies toward the north, every man with his slaughter weapon in his hand; and one man in their midst clothed in linen, with a writer’s inkhorn by his side. They went in, and stood beside the bronze altar. ³The glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the cherub, whereupon it was, to the threshold of the house: and he called to the man clothed in linen, who had the writer’s inkhorn by his side. ⁴The LORD said to him, “Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark on the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry over all the abominations that are done in its midst.” ⁵To the others he said in my hearing, “Go through the city after him, and strike: do not let your eye spare, neither have pity; ⁶kill utterly the old man, the young man and the virgin, and little children and women; but do not come near any man on whom is the mark: and begin at my sanctuary.” Then they began at the old men that were before the house.

⁷He said to them, “Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain. Go forth.” They went forth, and struck in the city. ⁸It happened, while they were smiting, and I was left, that I fell on my face, and cried, and said, “Ah Lord GOD. Will you destroy all the residue of Israel in your pouring out of your wrath on Jerusalem?” ⁹Then he said to me, “The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceedingly great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of perversion: for they say, ‘The LORD has forsaken the land, and the LORD doesn’t see.’ ¹⁰As for me also, my eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will bring their way on their head.”

¹¹Look, the man clothed in linen, who had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, “I have done as you have commanded me.”

10 Then I looked, and saw, in the expanse that was over the head of the cherubim there appeared above them as it were a sapphire^a stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne. ²He spoke to the man clothed in linen, and said, “Go in between the whirling wheels, even under the cherubim,^b and fill both your hands with coals of fire from between the cherubim, and scatter them over the city.” He went in as I watched.

¹⁵The cherubim mounted up: this is the living creature that I saw by the river Chebar. ¹⁶When the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them; and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels also didn’t turn from beside them. ¹⁷When they stood, these stood; and when they mounted up, these mounted up with them: for the spirit of the living creature was in them.

¹⁸The glory of the LORD went forth from over the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubim. ¹⁹The cherubim lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight when they went forth, and the wheels beside them: and they stood at the door of the east gate of the LORD’s house; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

^a10:1 Or, lapis lazuli

^b10:2 LXX Tg Syr Vg Mss. MT reads “cherub”

²⁰These were the living creatures that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar; and I knew that they were cherubim. ²¹Every one had four faces, and every one four wings; and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings. ²²As for the likeness of their faces, they were the faces which I saw by the river Chebar, their appearances and themselves; they went every one straight forward.

11 Moreover the Spirit lifted me up, and brought me to the east gate of the LORD's house, which looks eastward: and see, at the door of the gate twenty-five men; and I saw in their midst Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, officials of the people. ²He said to me, "Son of man, these are the men who devise iniquity, and who give wicked counsel in this city; ³who say, 'The time is not near to build houses: this is the caldron, and we are the meat.' ⁴Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, son of man."

⁵The Spirit of the LORD fell on me, and he said to me, "Speak, Thus says the LORD: 'Thus you have said, house of Israel; for I know the things that come into your mind. ⁶You have multiplied your slain in this city, and you have filled its streets with the slain.' ⁷Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: 'Your slain whom you have laid in its midst, they are the meat, and this is the caldron; but I^a will bring you out of it. ⁸You have feared the sword; and I will bring the sword on you,' says the Lord GOD. ⁹I will bring you forth out of its midst, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you. ¹⁰You shall fall by the sword; I will judge you in the border of Israel; and you shall know that I am the LORD. ¹¹This shall not be your caldron, neither shall you be the meat in its midst; I will judge you in the border of Israel; ¹²and you shall know that I am the LORD: for you have not walked in my statutes, neither have you executed my ordinances, but have done after the ordinances of the nations that are around you.'"

¹³It happened, when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then I fell down on my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, "Ah Lord GOD. Will you make a full end of the remnant of Israel?"

¹⁴The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ¹⁵"Son of man, your brothers,^b the men of your relatives, and all the house of Israel, all of them, to whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, 'Go far away from the LORD. This land has been given to us for a possession.' ¹⁶Therefore say, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "Whereas I have removed them far off among the nations, and whereas I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them a sanctuary for a little while in the countries where they have come.'"

¹⁷Therefore say, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "I will gather you from the peoples, and assemble you out of the countries where you have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel." ¹⁸They shall come there, and they shall take away all the detestable things of it and all its abominations from there. ¹⁹I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them a heart of flesh; ²⁰that they may walk in my statutes, and keep my ordinances, and do them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God. ²¹But as for them whose heart walks after the heart of their detestable things and their abominations, I will bring their way on their own heads,' says the Lord GOD."

²²Then the cherubim lifted up their wings, and the wheels were beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above. ²³The glory of the LORD went up from the midst of the city, and stood on the mountain which is on the east side of the city. ²⁴The Spirit lifted me up, and brought me in the vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity. So the vision that I had seen went up from me. ²⁵Then I spoke to them of the captivity all the things that the LORD had shown me.

12 The word of the LORD also came to me, saying, ²"Son of man, you dwell in the midst of the rebellious house, who have eyes to see, and do not see, who have ears to hear, and do not hear; for they are a rebellious house. ³Therefore, you son of man, prepare your stuff for moving, and move by day in their sight; and you shall move from your place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they are a rebellious house. ⁴You shall bring forth your baggage by day in their sight, as baggage for exile; and you shall go forth yourself at even in their sight, as when men go forth into exile. ⁵Dig through the wall in their sight, and carry your stuff out that way. ⁶In their sight you shall bear it on your shoulder, and carry it forth in the dark; you shall cover your face, so that you do not see the land: for I have set you for a sign to the house of Israel."

⁷I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for removing, and in the even I dug through the wall with my hand; I brought it forth in the dark, and bore it on my shoulder in their sight. ⁸In the morning came the word of the LORD to me, saying, ⁹"Son of man, has not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said to you, 'What are you doing?' ¹⁰Say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: This burden concerns the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel among whom they are.' ¹¹Say, 'I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done to them; they shall go into exile, into captivity.'

²¹The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²²“Son of man, what is this proverb that you have in the land of Israel, saying, ‘The days are prolonged, and every vision fails?’ ²³Tell them therefore, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel’; but tell them, ‘The days are at hand, and the fulfillment of every vision. ²⁴For there shall be no more any false vision nor flattering divination within the house of Israel. ²⁵For I am the LORD; I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall be performed; it shall be no more deferred: for in your days, rebellious house, will I speak the word, and will perform it,’ says the Lord GOD.”

²⁶Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²⁷“Son of man, look, they of the house of Israel say, ‘The vision that he sees is for many day to come, and he prophesies of times that are far off.’ ²⁸Therefore tell them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: None of my words shall be deferred any more, but the word which I shall speak shall be performed, says the Lord GOD.’”

13 The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²“Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel who prophesy, and say to those who prophesy out of their own heart, ‘Hear the word of the LORD: ³Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Woe to the foolish prophets, who follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing. ⁴Israel, your prophets have been like foxes in the waste places. ⁵You have not gone up into the breach,^a neither built up the wall for the house of Israel, to stand in the battle in the day of the LORD.’ ⁶They have seen falsehood and lying divination, who say, ‘The LORD says’; but the LORD has not sent them: and they have made men to hope that the word would be confirmed. ⁷‘Haven’t you seen a false vision, and haven’t you spoken a lying divination, in that you say, ‘The LORD says’; but I have not spoken? ⁸Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: Because you have spoken falsehood, and seen lies, therefore, look, I am against you, says the Lord GOD. ⁹My hand shall be against the prophets who see false visions, and who divine lies: they shall not be in the council of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel; and you shall know that I am the Lord GOD. ¹⁰Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, ‘Peace’; and there is no peace; and when one builds up a wall, look, they plaster it with whitewash: ¹¹tell those who plaster it with whitewash, that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing shower; and you, great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind break out. ¹²Look, when the wall has fallen, shall it not be said to you, ‘Where is the plaster with which you have plastered it?’

¹³”Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: I will even tear it with a stormy wind in my wrath; and there shall be an overflowing shower in my anger, and great hailstones in wrath to consume it. ¹⁴So will I break down the wall that you have plastered with whitewash, and bring it down to the ground, so that its foundation shall be uncovered; and it shall fall, and you shall be consumed in its midst: and you shall know that I am the LORD. ¹⁵Thus will I accomplish my wrath on the wall, and on those who have plastered it with whitewash; and I will tell you, ‘The wall is no more, neither those who plastered it; ¹⁶to wit, the prophets of Israel who prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and who see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace,’” says the Lord GOD.”

sew pillows on all elbows, and make kerchiefs for the head of persons of every stature to hunt souls. Will you hunt the souls of my people, and save souls alive for yourselves? ¹⁹You have profaned me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to kill the souls who should not die, and to save the souls alive who should not live, by your lying to my people who listen to lies.”

²⁰”Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “Look, I am against your pillows, with which you there hunt the souls to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms; and I will let the souls go, even the souls whom you hunt to make them fly. ²¹Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; and you shall know that I am the LORD. ²²Because with lies you have grieved the heart of the righteous, whom I have not made sad; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, and be saved alive: ²³Therefore you shall no more see false visions, nor practice divination. I will deliver my people out of your hand; and you shall know that I am the LORD.””

14 Then came certain of the elders of Israel to me, and sat before me. ²The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ³“Son of man, these men have taken their idols into their heart, and put the stumbling block of their iniquity before their face: should I be inquired of at all by them? ⁴Therefore speak to them, and tell them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Every man of the house of Israel who takes his idols into his heart, and puts the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and comes to the prophet; I the LORD will answer him in it according to the multitude of his idols; ⁵that I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols.””

⁶”Therefore tell the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Return, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations. ⁷For everyone of the house of Israel, or of the strangers who live in Israel, who separates himself from me, and takes his idols into his heart, and puts the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and comes to the prophet to inquire for himself of me; I the LORD will answer him by myself: ⁸and I will set my face against that man, and will make him an astonishment, for a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; and you shall know that I am the LORD.

⁹””If the prophet is deceived and speaks a word, I, the LORD, have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand on him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel. ¹⁰They shall bear their iniquity: the iniquity of the prophet shall be even as the iniquity of him who seeks him; ¹¹that the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither defile themselves any more with all their transgressions; but that they may be my people, and I may be their God,” says the Lord GOD.”

¹²The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ¹³“Son of man, when a land sins against me by committing a trespass, and I stretch out my hand on it, and break the staff of its bread, and send famine on it, and cut off from it man and animal; ¹⁴though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they should deliver but their own souls by their righteousness, says the Lord GOD.”

¹⁵“If I cause evil animals to pass through the land, and they ravage it, and it be made desolate, so that no man may pass through because of the animals; ¹⁶though these three men were in it, as I live,”

^a13:5 LXX Tg Syr Mss Vg sg. MT pl says the Lord GOD, “they should deliver neither sons nor daughters; they only should be delivered, but the land should be desolate.

¹⁷”Or if I bring a sword on that land, and say, ‘Sword, go through the land’; so that I cut off from it man and animal; ¹⁸though these three men were in it, as I live, says the Lord GOD, they should deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only should be delivered themselves.

¹⁹”Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my wrath on it in blood, to cut off from it man and animal; ²⁰though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live, says the Lord GOD, they could not save either son nor daughter; they would save only their own souls by their righteousness.

15 The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²”Son of man, what is the vine tree more than any tree, the vine-branch which is among the trees of the forest? ³Shall wood be taken of it to make any work? Or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon? ⁴Look, it is cast into the fire for fuel; the fire has devoured both its ends, and its midst is burned: is it profitable for any work? ⁵Look, when it was whole, it was meet for no work: how much less, when the fire has devoured it, and it is burned, shall it yet be meet for any work.

⁶”Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘As the vine tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ⁷I will set my face against them; they shall go forth from the fire, but the fire shall devour them; and you shall know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them. ⁸I will make the land desolate, because they have committed a trespass,’ says the Lord GOD.”

16 Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²”Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations; ³and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD to Jerusalem: Your birth and your birth is of the land of the Canaanite; the Amorite was your father, and your mother was a Hethite. ⁴As for your birth, in the day you were born your navel was not cut, neither were you washed in water to cleanse you; you weren’t salted at all, nor swaddled at all. ⁵No eye pitied you, to do any of these things to you, to have compassion on you; but you were cast out in the open field, for that your person was abhorred, in the day that you were born.

⁶”And I passed by you and saw you wallowing in your blood, and I said to you in your blood: ‘Live.’^a ⁷I caused you to multiply as that which grows in the field, and you increased and grew great, and you attained to excellent ornament; your breasts were fashioned, and your hair was grown; yet you were naked and bare.

⁹”Then I washed you with water; yes, I thoroughly washed away your blood from you, and I anointed you with oil. ¹⁰I clothed you also with embroidered work, and shod you with sealskin, and I dressed you about with fine linen, and covered you with silk. ¹¹I decked you with ornaments, and I put bracelets on your hands, and a chain on your neck. ¹²I put a ring on your nose, and earrings in your ears, and a beautiful crown on your head. ¹³Thus you were decked with gold and silver; and your clothing was of fine linen, and silk, and embroidered work; you ate fine flour, and honey, and oil; and you were exceeding beautiful, and you prospered to royal estate. ¹⁴Your renown went forth among the nations for your beauty; for it was perfect, through my majesty which I had put on you,’ says the Lord GOD.

²⁰”Moreover you have taken your sons and your daughters, whom you have borne to me, and you have sacrificed these to them to be devoured. Was your prostitution a small matter, ²¹that you have slain my children, and delivered them up, in causing them to pass through the fire to them? ²²In all your abominations and your prostitution you have not remembered the days of your youth, when you were naked and bare, and were wallowing in your blood.

²³”It has happened after all your wickedness, (“Woe, woe to you.” says the Lord GOD), ²⁴that you have built for yourselves a vaulted place, and have made yourselves a lofty place in every street. ²⁵You have built your lofty place at the head of every way, and have made your beauty an abomination, and have opened your feet to everyone who passed by, and multiplied your prostitution. ²⁶You have also committed sexual immorality with the Egyptians, your neighbors, great of flesh; and have multiplied your prostitution, to provoke me to anger. ²⁷See therefore, I have stretched out my hand over you, and have diminished your ordinary food, and delivered you to the will of those who hate you, the daughters of the Philistines, who are ashamed of your lewd way. ²⁸You have played the prostitute also with the Assyrians, because you were insatiable; yes, you have played the prostitute with them, and yet you weren’t satisfied. ²⁹You have moreover multiplied your prostitution to the land of merchants, to Chaldea; and yet you weren’t satisfied with this.

³⁰”How weak is your heart, says the Lord GOD, since you do all these things, the work of an impudent prostitute; ³¹in that you build your vaulted place at the head of every way, and make your lofty

^a16:6 Hebrew Mss LXX Syr. MT adds “I said to you, in your blood: Live,” by an accidental repetition place in every street, and have not been as a prostitute, in that you scorn pay.

³²”A wife who commits adultery, who takes strangers instead of her husband. ³³They give gifts to all prostitutes; but you give your gifts to all your lovers, and bribe them, that they may come to you on every side for your prostitution. ³⁴You are different from other women in your prostitution, in that no one follows you to play the prostitute; and whereas you give hire, and no hire is given to you, therefore you are different.’

³⁵”Therefore, prostitute, hear the word of the LORD: ³⁶Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Because your filthiness was poured out, and your nakedness uncovered through your prostitution with your lovers; and because of all the idols of your abominations, and for the blood of your children, that you gave to them; ³⁷therefore see, I will gather all your lovers, with whom you have taken pleasure, and all those who you have loved, with all those who you have hated; I will even gather them against you on every side, and will uncover your nakedness to them, that they may see all your nakedness. ³⁸I will judge you, as women who break wedlock and shed blood are judged; and I will bring on you the blood of wrath and jealousy. ³⁹I will also give you into their hand, and they shall throw down your vaulted place, and break down your lofty places; and they shall strip you of your clothes, and take your beautiful jewels; and they shall leave you naked and bare. ⁴⁰They shall also bring up a company against you, and they shall stone you with stones, and thrust you through with their swords. ⁴¹They shall burn your houses with fire, and execute judgments on you in the sight of many women; and I will cause you to cease from playing the prostitute, and you shall also give no hire any more. ⁴²So will I cause my wrath toward you to rest, and my jealousy shall depart from you, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

⁴³”Because you have not remembered the days of your youth, but have raged against me in all these things; therefore, look, I also will bring your way on your head,’ says the Lord GOD: ‘and you shall not commit this lewdness with all your abominations.

⁴⁹”Look, this was the iniquity of your sister Sodom: pride, fullness of bread, and prosperous ease was in her and in her daughters; neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy. ⁵⁰They were haughty, and committed abomination before me. So I took them away, as you^a have seen. ⁵¹Neither has Samaria committed half of your sins; but you have multiplied your abominations more than they, and have justified your sisters by all your abominations which you have done. ⁵²You also, bear you your own shame, in that you have given judgment for your sisters; through your sins that you have committed more abominable than they, they are more righteous than you: yes, be also confounded, and bear your shame, in that you have justified your sisters.

⁵³”I will turn again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, and the captivity of your captives in their midst; ⁵⁴that you may bear your own shame, and may be ashamed because of all that you have done, in that you are a comfort to them. ⁵⁵Your sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate; and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate; and you and your daughters shall return to your former estate. ⁵⁶For your sister Sodom was not mentioned by your mouth in the day of your pride, ⁵⁷before your wickedness was uncovered, as at the time of the reproach of the daughters of Aram,^b and of all who are around her, the daughters of the Philistines, who do despite to you all around. ⁵⁸You have borne your lewdness and your abominations, says the LORD.’

⁵⁹”For thus says the Lord GOD: ‘I will also deal with you as you have done, who have despised the oath in breaking the covenant. ⁶⁰Nevertheless I will remember my covenant with you in the days of your youth, and I will establish to you an everlasting covenant. ⁶¹Then you shall remember your ways, and be ashamed, when you receive your older and your younger sisters; and I will give them to you as daughters, but not by your covenant. ⁶²I will establish my covenant with you; and you shall know that I am the LORD; ⁶³that you may remember, and be confounded, and never open your mouth any more, because of your shame, when I have forgiven you all that you have done, says the Lord GOD.’”

17 The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²”Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable to the house of Israel; ³and say, “Thus says the Lord GOD: “A great eagle with great wings and long feathers, full of feathers, which had various colors, came to Lebanon, and took the top of the cedar: ⁴he cropped off the topmost of the young twigs of it, and carried it to a land of traffic; he set it in a city of merchants. ⁵He took also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful soil; he placed it beside many waters; he set it as a willow tree. ⁶It grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and its roots were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.

⁷”There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers: and look, this vine bent its roots toward him, and shot forth its branches toward him, from the beds of its plantation, that he might water it. ⁸It was planted in a good soil by many waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.”

⁹”Say, “Thus says the Lord GOD: “Shall it prosper? Shall he not pull up its roots, and cut off its fruit, that it may wither; that all its fresh springing leaves may wither? And not by a strong arm or many people can it be raised from its roots. ¹⁰Yes, look, being planted, shall it prosper? Shall it not utterly wither, when the east wind touches it? It shall wither in the beds where it grew.””

¹¹Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ¹²”Say now to the rebellious house, ‘Do you not know what these things mean?’ Tell them, ‘Look, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and

^a16:50 2 Hebrew Mss LXX Mss Vg. MT reads “as I”

^b16:57 MT LXX Vg. Hebrew Mss Syr read “Edom,” a dalet-resch (ד-ד) confusion took its king, and its princes, and brought them to him to Babylon: ¹³and he took of the royal family, and made a covenant with him; he also brought him under an oath, and took away the mighty of the land; ¹⁴that the kingdom might be base, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping his covenant it might stand. ¹⁵But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and many people. Shall he prosper? Shall he escape who does such things? Shall he break the covenant, and yet escape?

¹⁶”As I live,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘surely in the place where the king dwells who made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he broke, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die. ¹⁷Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company help him in the war, when they cast up mounds and build forts, to cut off many persons. ¹⁸For he has despised the oath by breaking the covenant; and look, he had given his hand, and yet has done all these things; he shall not escape.’

¹⁹”Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘As I live, surely my oath that he has despised, and my covenant that he has broken, I will even bring it on his own head. ²⁰I will spread my net on him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will enter into judgment with him there for his trespass that he has trespassed against me. ²¹All the choice men^a among all his troupes will fall by the sword, and those who remain shall be scattered toward every wind: and you shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken it.’

²²”Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘I will also take of the lofty top of the cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the topmost of its young twigs a tender one, and I will plant it on a high and lofty mountain: ²³in the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it; and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: and under it shall dwell all birds of every wing; in the shade of its branches shall they dwell. ²⁴All the trees of the field shall know that I, the LORD, have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish; I, the LORD, have spoken and have done it.’”

18 The word of the LORD came to me again, saying, ²”What do you mean, that you use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, ‘The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children’s teeth are set on edge?’ ³As I live, says the Lord GOD, you shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel. ⁴Look, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul who sins, he shall die.

⁵”But if a man is just, and does that which is lawful and right, ⁶and has not eaten on the mountains, neither has lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither has defiled his neighbor’s wife, neither has come near to a woman in her impurity, ⁷and has not wronged any, but has restored to the debtor his pledge, has taken nothing by robbery, has given his bread to the hungry, and has covered the naked with a garment; ⁸he who has not given forth on interest, neither has taken any increase, who has withdrawn his hand from iniquity, has executed true justice between man and man, ⁹has walked in my statutes, and has kept my ordinances, to deal truly; he is just, he shall surely live,” says the Lord GOD.

duties, but even has eaten on the mountains, and defiled his neighbor’s wife, ¹²has wronged the poor and needy, has taken by robbery, has not restored the pledge, and has lifted up his eyes to the idols, has committed abomination, ¹³has given forth on interest, and has taken increase; shall he then live? He shall not live: he has done all these abominations; he shall surely die; his blood shall be on him.

¹⁴”Now, look, if he fathers a son, who sees all his father’s sins, which he has done, and fears, and does not such like; ¹⁵who has not eaten on the mountains, neither has lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, has not defiled his neighbor’s wife, ¹⁶neither has wronged any, has not taken anything to pledge, neither has taken by robbery, but has given his bread to the hungry, and has covered the naked with a garment; ¹⁷who has withdrawn his hand from iniquity,^b who takes no interest nor profit, He practices My ordinances and follows My statutes; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live. ¹⁸As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, robbed his brother, and did that which is not good among his people, look, he shall die in his iniquity.

²¹”But if the wicked turn from all his sins that he has committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die. ²²None of his transgressions that he has committed shall be remembered against him: in his righteousness that he has done he shall live. ²³Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked?” says the Lord GOD; “and not rather that he should return from his way, and live? ²⁴But when the righteous turns away from his righteousness, and commits iniquity, and does according to all the abominations that the wicked man does, shall he live? None of his righteous deeds that he has done shall be remembered: in his trespass that he has trespassed, and in his sin that he has sinned, in them shall he die.

²⁵”Yet you say, “The way of the LORD^c is not just.” Hear now, house of Israel: “Is my way not just? Aren’t your ways unjust?” ²⁶When the righteous man turns away from his righteousness, and commits iniquity, and dies in it; in his iniquity that he has done shall he die. ²⁷Again, when the wicked man turns away from his wickedness that he has committed, and does that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive. ²⁸Because he considers, and turns away from all his transgressions that he has committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die. ²⁹Yet the house of Israel says, “The way of the LORD^d is not just.” “House of Israel, aren’t my ways just? Aren’t your ways unjust?”

⁵"Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took another of her cubs, and made him a young lion. ⁶He went up and down among the lions; he became a young lion, and he learned to catch the prey; he devoured men. ⁷He devastated^a their strongholds,^b and destroyed their cities; and the land was desolate, and its fullness, because of the noise of his roaring. ⁸Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces; and they spread their net over him; he was taken in their pit. ⁹They put him in a cage with hooks, and brought him to the king of Babylon; they brought him into strongholds, that his voice should no more be heard on the mountains of Israel.

20 It happened in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the LORD, and sat before me. ²The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ³"Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel, and tell them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "Is it to inquire of me that you have come? As I live, says the Lord GOD, I will not be inquired of by you.'" ⁴Will you judge them, son of man, will you judge them? Cause them to know the abominations of their fathers; ⁵and tell them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "In the day when I chose Israel, and swore to the offspring of the house of Jacob, and made myself known to them in the land of Egypt, when I swore to them, saying, 'I am the LORD your God'; ⁶in that day I swore to them, to bring them forth out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had searched out for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands. ⁷I said to them, 'Cast away every man the abominations of his eyes, and do not defile yourselves with the idols of Egypt; I am the LORD your God.' ⁸But they rebelled against me, and would not listen to me; they each didn't throw away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt. Then I said I would pour out my wrath on them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt. ⁹But I worked for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, among which they were, in whose sight I made myself known to them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt.

¹⁰"So I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness. ¹¹I gave them my statutes, and showed them my ordinances, which if a man does, he shall live in them. ¹²Moreover also I gave them my Sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD who sanctifies them. ¹³But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they didn't walk in my statutes, and they rejected my ordinances, which if a man keep, he shall live in them; and my Sabbaths they greatly profaned. Then I said I would pour out my wrath on them in the wilderness, to consume them. ¹⁴But I worked for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I brought them out.

¹⁸"I said to their children in the wilderness, 'Do not walk in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their ordinances, nor defile yourselves with their idols. ¹⁹I am the LORD your God: walk in my statutes, and keep my ordinances, and do them; ²⁰and make my Sabbaths holy; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that you may know that I am the LORD your God.' ²¹But the children rebelled against me; they didn't walk in my statutes, neither kept my ordinances to do them, which if a man do, he shall live in them; and^e they profaned my Sabbaths. Then I said I would pour out my wrath on them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness. ²²Nevertheless I withdrew my hand, and worked for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I brought them forth. ²³Moreover I swore to them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; ²⁴because they had not executed my ordinances, but had rejected my statutes, and had profaned my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers' idols. ²⁵Moreover also I gave them statutes that were not good, and ordinances in which they should not live; ²⁶and I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused to pass through the fire all that opens the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know that I am the LORD."

²⁷"Therefore, son of man, speak to the house of Israel, and tell them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "In this moreover have your fathers blasphemed me, in that they have committed a trespass against me. ²⁸For when I had brought them into the land, which I swore to give to them, then they saw every high hill, and every thick tree, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering; there also they made their pleasant aroma, and they poured out there their drink offerings. ²⁹Then I said to them, 'What does the high place where you go mean?' So its name is called Bamah to this day.'"

³⁹"As for you, house of Israel, thus says the Lord GOD: "Go, serve everyone his idols, and hereafter also, if you will not listen to me; but my holy name you shall no more profane with your gifts, and with your idols. ⁴⁰For in my holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel," says the Lord GOD, "there shall all the house of Israel, all of them, serve me in the land: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the first fruits of your offerings, with all your holy things. ⁴¹As a pleasant aroma will I accept you, when I bring you out from the peoples, and gather you out of the countries in which you have been scattered; and I will be sanctified in you in the sight of the nations. ⁴²You shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the country which I swore to give to your fathers. ⁴³There you shall remember your ways, and all your doings, in which you have polluted yourselves; and you shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that you have committed. ⁴⁴You shall know that I am the LORD, when I have dealt with you for my name's sake, not according to your evil ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, you house of Israel," says the Lord GOD."

⁴⁵The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ⁴⁶"Son of man, set your face toward the south, and drop your word toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the field in the South; ⁴⁷and tell the forest of the South, 'Hear the word of the LORD: Thus says the Lord GOD, "Look, I will kindle a fire in you, and it shall devour every green tree in you, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be burnt thereby. ⁴⁸All flesh shall see that I, the LORD, have kindled it; it shall not be quenched.'"

⁴⁹Then I said, "Ah Lord GOD. They say of me, 'Isn't he a speaker of parables?'"

21 The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²"Son of man, set your face toward Jerusalem, and speak against the^b sanctuaries, and prophesy against the land of Israel; ³and tell the land of Israel, "Thus says the LORD: "Look, I am against you, and will draw forth my sword out of its sheath, and will cut off from you the righteous and the wicked. ⁴Seeing then that I will cut off from you the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of its sheath against all flesh from the Negev to the north: ⁵and all flesh shall know that I, the LORD, have drawn forth my sword out of its sheath; it shall not return any more."

⁶"Sigh therefore, you son of man; with the breaking of your thighs and with bitterness you will sigh before their eyes. ⁷It shall be, when they tell you, 'Why do you sigh?' that you shall say, 'Because of the news, for it comes; and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees shall be weak as water: look, it comes, and it shall be done, says the Lord GOD.'"

⁸The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ⁹"Son of man, prophesy, and say, 'Thus says the LORD:^c Say, "A sword, a sword, it is sharpened, and also furbished; ¹⁰it is sharpened that it may make a slaughter; it is furbished that it may be as lightning: shall we then make mirth? The rod of my son, it condemns every tree. ¹¹It is given to be furbished, that it may be handled: the sword, it is sharpened, yes, it is furbished, to give it into the hand of the killer.'" ¹²Cry and wail, son of man; for it is on my people, it is on all the princes of Israel: they are delivered over to the sword with my people; strike therefore on your thigh. ¹³For there is a trial; and what if even the rod that condemns shall be no more?" says the Lord GOD.

¹⁴"You therefore, son of man, prophesy, and strike your hands together; and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the deadly wounded: it is the sword of the great one who is deadly wounded, which enters into their rooms. ¹⁵I have set the threatening sword against all their gates, that their heart may melt, and their stumblings be multiplied: Ah. It is made as lightning, it is pointed for slaughter. ¹⁶Gather yourselves together, go to the right, set yourselves in array, go to the left, wherever your face is set.' ¹⁷I will also strike my hands together, and I will cause my wrath to rest: I, the LORD, have spoken it."

¹⁸The word of the LORD came to me again, saying, ¹⁹"Also, you son of man, appoint two ways that the sword of the king of Babylon may come; they both shall come forth out of one land: and mark out a place, mark it out at the head of the way to the city. ²⁰You shall appoint a way for the sword to come to Rabbah of the people of Ammon, and to Judah in Jerusalem, the fortified. ²¹For the king of Babylon stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination: he shook the arrows back and forth, he consulted the teraphim, he looked in the liver. ²²In his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem, to set battering rams, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to set battering rams against the gates, to cast up mounds, to build forts. ²³It shall be to them as a false divination in their sight, who have sworn oaths to them; but he brings iniquity to memory, that they may be taken.

²⁴"Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: 'Because you have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are uncovered, so that in all your doings your sins appear; because you have come to memory, you shall be taken with the hand.'

²⁵"You, deadly wounded wicked one, the prince of Israel, whose day has come, in the time of the iniquity of the end, ²⁶thus says the Lord GOD: "Remove the turban, and take off the crown; this shall be no more the same; exalt that which is low, and abase that which is high." ²⁷I will overturn, overturn, overturn it: this also shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him.'

²⁸“You, son of man, prophesy, and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD concerning the people of Ammon, and concerning their reproach; and say, “A sword, a sword is drawn, for the slaughter it is refurbished, to cause it to devour, that it may be as lightning; ²⁹while they see for you false visions, while they divine lies to you, to lay you on the necks of the wicked who are deadly wounded, whose day has come in the time of the iniquity of the end. ³⁰Cause it to return into its sheath. In the place where you were created, in the land of your birth, will I judge you. ³¹I will pour out my indignation on you; I will blow on you with the fire of my wrath; and I will deliver you into the hand of brutish men, skillful to destroy. ³²You shall be for fuel to the fire; your blood shall be in the midst of the land; you shall be remembered no more: for I, the LORD, have spoken it.””

22 Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²“You, son of man, will you judge, will you judge the bloody city? Then cause her to know all her abominations. ³You shall say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Woe^a to the city that sheds blood in the midst of her, so that her time may come, and that makes idols against herself to defile her. ⁴You have become guilty in your blood that you have shed, and are defiled in your idols which you have made; and you have caused your days to draw near, and have come even to your years: therefore have I made you a reproach to the nations, and a mocking to all the countries. ⁵Those who are near, and those who are far from you, shall mock you, you infamous one and full of tumult.

⁶”“Look, the princes of Israel, everyone according to his power, have been in you to shed blood. ⁷In you have they set light by father and mother; in the midst of you have they dealt by oppression with the foreigner; in you have they wronged the fatherless and the widow. ⁸You have despised my holy things, and have profaned my Sabbaths. ⁹Slandorous men have been in you to shed blood; and in you they have eaten on the mountains: in the midst of you they have committed lewdness. ¹⁰In you have they uncovered their fathers’ nakedness; in you have they humbled her who was unclean in her impurity. ¹¹One has committed abomination with his neighbor’s wife; and another has lewdly defiled his daughter-in-law; and another in you has humbled his sister, his father’s daughter. ¹²In you have they taken bribes to shed blood; you have taken interest and increase, and you have greedily gained of your neighbors by oppression, and have forgotten me,’ says the Lord GOD.

¹³”“Look, therefore, I have struck my hand at your dishonest gain which you have made, and at your blood which has been in the midst of you. ¹⁴Can your heart endure, or can your hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with you? I, the LORD, have spoken it, and will do it. ¹⁵I will scatter you among the nations, and disperse you through the countries; and I will consume your filthiness out of you. ¹⁶You shall be profaned in yourself, in the sight of the nations; and you shall know that I am the LORD.””

¹⁷The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ¹⁸“Son of man, the house of Israel has become dross to me: all of them are bronze and tin and iron and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they are the dross of silver. ¹⁹Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because you have all become dross, therefore, look, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem. ²⁰As they gather silver and bronze and iron and lead and tin into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire on it, to melt it; so will I gather you in my anger and in my wrath, and I will lay you there, and melt you. ²¹Yes, I will gather you, and blow on you with the fire of my wrath, and you shall be melted in its midst. ²²As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so you will be melted in its midst; and you will know that I, the LORD, have poured out my wrath on you.”

²³The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²⁴“Son of man, tell her, ‘You are a land that is not cleansed, nor rained on in the day of indignation.’ ²⁵There is a conspiracy of her princes^b in its midst, like a roaring lion ravening the prey: they have devoured souls; they take treasure and precious things; they have made her widows many in its midst. ²⁶Her priests have done violence to my law, and have profaned my holy things: they have made no distinction between the holy and the common, neither have they caused men to discern between the unclean and the clean, and have hidden their eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am profaned among them. ²⁷Her officials in its midst are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood, and to destroy souls, that they may get dishonest gain. ²⁸Her prophets have plastered for them with whitewash, seeing false visions, and divining lies to them, saying, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD,’ when the LORD has not spoken. ²⁹The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery; yes, they have troubled the poor and needy, and have oppressed the foreigner wrongfully.

23 The word of the LORD came again to me, saying, ²“Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother: ³and they played the prostitute in Egypt; they played the prostitute in their youth; there were their breasts pressed, and there was handled the bosom of their virginity. ⁴Their names were Oholah the elder, and Oholibah her sister: and they became mine, and they bore sons and daughters. As for their names, Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem Oholibah.

¹¹“Her sister Oholibah saw this, yet was she more corrupt in her doting than she, and in her prostitution which were more than the prostitution of her sister. ¹²She doted on the Assyrians, governors and rulers, her neighbors, clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding on horses, all of them desirable young men. ¹³I saw that she was defiled; they both took one way. ¹⁴She increased her prostitution; for she saw men portrayed on the wall, the images of the Chaldeans portrayed with vermilion, ¹⁵wearing belts on their waists, with flowing turbans on their heads, all of them looking like officers, after the likeness of the Babylonians in Chaldea, the land of their birth. ¹⁶As soon as she saw them she doted on them, and sent messengers to them into Chaldea. ¹⁷The Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their prostitution, and she was polluted with them, and her soul was alienated from them. ¹⁸So she uncovered her prostitution, and uncovered her nakedness: then my soul was alienated from her, like as my soul was alienated from her sister. ¹⁹Yet she multiplied her prostitution, remembering the days of her youth, in which she had played the prostitute in the land of Egypt. ²⁰She doted on their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of donkeys, and whose issue is like the issue of horses. ²¹Thus you called to memory the lewdness of your youth, in the handling of your bosom by the Egyptians for the breasts of your youth.

²²Therefore, Oholibah, thus says the Lord GOD: 'Look, I will raise up your lovers against you, from whom your soul is alienated, and I will bring them against you on every side: ²³the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shoa and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them; desirable young men, all of them governors and officials, officers and men of renown, all of them riding on horses. ²⁴They shall come against you from the north^a with chariots, and wagons, and with a company of peoples; they shall set themselves against you with buckler and shield and helmet all around; and I will commit the judgment to them, and they shall judge you according to their judgments. ²⁵I will set my jealousy against you, and they shall deal with you in fury; they shall take away your nose and your ears; and your residue shall fall by the sword: they shall take your sons and your daughters; and your residue shall be devoured by the fire. ²⁶They shall also strip you of your clothes, and take away your beautiful jewels. ²⁷Thus will I make your lewdness to cease from you, and your prostitution brought from the land of Egypt; so that you shall not lift up your eyes to them, nor remember Egypt any more.

²⁸For thus says the Lord GOD: Look, I will deliver you into the hand of them whom you hate, into the hand of them from whom your soul is alienated; ²⁹and they shall deal with you in hatred, and shall take away all your labor, and shall leave you naked and bare; and the nakedness of your prostitution shall be uncovered, both your lewdness and your prostitution. ³⁰These things shall be done to you, because you have played the prostitute after the nations, and because you are polluted with their idols. ³¹You have walked in the way of your sister; therefore I will give her cup into your hand.'

³²Thus says the Lord GOD: 'You will drink of your sister's cup, which is deep and large; you will be ridiculed and held in derision; it contains much. ³³You shall be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of your sister Samaria. ³⁴You shall even drink it and drain it out, and you shall gnaw the broken pieces of it, and shall tear your breasts; for I have spoken it,' says the Lord GOD.

³⁵Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: 'Because you have forgotten me, and cast me behind your back, therefore you also bear your lewdness and your prostitution.'

³⁶The LORD said moreover to me: "Son of man, will you judge Oholah and Oholibah? Then declare to them their abominations. ³⁷For they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands; and with their idols have they committed adultery; and they have also caused their sons, whom they bore to me, to pass through the fire to them to be devoured. ³⁸Moreover this they have done to me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my Sabbaths. ³⁹For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and look, thus have they done in the midst of my house.

⁴⁰Furthermore you have sent for men who come from far, to whom a messenger was sent, and look, they came; for whom you did wash yourself, paint your eyes, and decorate yourself with ornaments, ⁴¹and sit on a stately bed, with a table prepared before it, whereupon you set my incense and my oil.' ⁴²The voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with men of the common sort were brought drunkards from the wilderness; and they put bracelets on their hands twain, and beautiful crowns on their heads. ⁴³Then I said of her who was old in adulteries, 'Now will they play the prostitute with her, and she with them.' ⁴⁴They went in to her, as they go in to a prostitute: so went they in to Oholah and to Oholibah, the lewd women. ⁴⁵Righteous men, they shall judge them with the judgment of adulteresses, and with the judgment of women who shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands.

24 Again, in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²Son of man, write the name of the day, even of this same day: the king of Babylon drew close to Jerusalem this same day. ³Utter a parable to the rebellious house, and tell them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD, "Set on the caldron, set it on, and also pour water into it: ⁴gather its pieces into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder; fill it with the choice bones. ⁵Take the choice of the flock, and also a pile of wood for the bones under the caldron; make it boil well; yes, let its bones be boiled in its midst.'"

⁹Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: 'Woe to the bloody city. I also will make the pile great. ¹⁰Heap on the wood, make the fire hot, boil the meat well, and empty out^b the broth, and let the bones be burned. ¹¹Then set it empty on its coals, that it may be hot, and its bronze may burn, and that its filthiness may be molten in it, that its rust may be consumed. ¹²She has wearied herself with toil; yet her great rust doesn't go forth out of her; her rust doesn't go forth by fire. ¹³In your filthiness is lewdness: because I have cleansed you and you weren't cleansed, you shall not be cleansed from your filthiness any more, until I have caused my wrath toward you to rest. ¹⁴I, the LORD, have spoken it: it shall happen, and I will do it: I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to your ways and according to your deeds I^c will judge you,' says the Lord GOD.'

¹⁸So I spoke to the people in the morning; and at even my wife died; and I did in the morning as I was commanded. ¹⁹The people said to me, “Won’t you tell us what these things are to us, that you do so?”

²⁰Then I said to them, “The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²¹Speak to the house of Israel, “Thus says the Lord GOD: Look, I will profane my sanctuary, the pride of your power, the desire of your eyes, and that which your soul pities; and your sons and your daughters whom you have left behind shall fall by the sword. ²²You shall do as I have done: you shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men. ²³Your turbans shall be on your heads, and your shoes on your feet: you shall not mourn nor weep; but you shall pine away in your iniquities, and moan one toward another. ²⁴Thus Ezekiel shall be a sign to you; according to all that he has done, you will do. When this comes, then you will know that I am the Lord GOD.””

²⁵“You, son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and that whereupon they set their heart, their sons and their daughters, ²⁶that in that day he who escapes shall come to you, to cause you to hear it with your ears? ²⁷In that day your mouth will be opened to him who has escaped, and you shall speak, and be no more mute: so you will be a sign to them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.”

25 The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²“Son of man, set your face toward the people of Ammon, and prophesy against them: ³and tell the people of Ammon, ‘Hear the word of the Lord GOD: Thus says the Lord GOD, “Because you said, ‘Aha,’ against my sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Israel, when it was made desolate; and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity: ⁴therefore, look, I will deliver you to the people of the east for a possession, and they shall set their encampments in you, and make their dwellings in you; they shall eat your fruit, and they shall drink your milk. ⁵I will make Rabbah a stable for camels, and the people of Ammon a resting place for flocks: and you shall know that I am the LORD.”’ ⁶For thus says the Lord GOD: “Because you have clapped your hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced with all the despite of your soul against the land of Israel; ⁷therefore, look, I have stretched out my hand on you, and will deliver you for a spoil to the nations; and I will cut you off from the peoples, and I will cause you to perish out of the countries: I will destroy you; and you shall know that I am the LORD.””

and revenged himself on them’; ¹³therefore thus says the Lord GOD, ‘I will stretch out my hand on Edom, and will cut off man and animal from it; and I will make it desolate from Teman; even to Dedan shall they fall by the sword. ¹⁴I will lay my vengeance on Edom by the hand of my people Israel; and they shall do in Edom according to my anger and according to my wrath; and they shall know my vengeance, says the Lord GOD.”’

¹⁵“Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Because the Philistines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with despite of soul to destroy with perpetual enmity; ¹⁶therefore thus says the Lord GOD, Look, I will stretch out my hand on the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethites, and destroy the remnant of the sea coast. ¹⁷I will execute great vengeance on them with wrathful rebukes; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall lay my vengeance on them.”’

26 It happened in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²“Son of man, because Tyre has said against Jerusalem, ‘Aha, she is broken: the gate of the peoples; she is turned to me; I shall be replenished, now that she is laid waste’: ³therefore thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Look, I am against you, Tyre, and will cause many nations to come up against you, as the sea causes its waves to come up.’ ⁴They shall destroy the walls of Tyre, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her a bare rock. ⁵She shall be a place for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea; for I have spoken it,” says the Lord GOD; “and she shall become a spoil to the nations. ⁶Her daughters who are in the field shall be slain with the sword: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

⁷For thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Look, I will bring on Tyre Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and a company, and many people. ⁸He shall kill your daughters in the field with the sword; and he shall make forts against you, and cast up a mound against you, and raise up the buckler against you. ⁹He shall set his battering engines against your walls, and with his axes he shall break down your towers. ¹⁰By reason of the abundance of his horses their dust shall cover you: your walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wagons, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into your gates, as men enter into a city in which is made a breach. ¹¹With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all your streets; he shall kill your people with the sword; and the pillars of your strength shall go down to the ground. ¹²They shall make a spoil of your riches, and make a prey of your merchandise; and they shall break down your walls, and destroy your pleasant houses; and they shall lay your stones and your timber and your dust in the midst of the waters. ¹³I will cause the noise of your songs to cease; and the sound of your harps shall be no more heard. ¹⁴I will make you a bare rock; you shall be a place for the spreading of nets; you shall be built no more: for I the LORD have spoken it,’ says the Lord GOD.

¹⁵“Thus says the Lord GOD to Tyre: ‘Shall not the islands shake at the sound of your fall, when the wounded groan, when the slaughter is made in the midst of you? ¹⁶Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay aside their robes, and strip off their embroidered garments: they shall clothe themselves with trembling; they shall sit on the ground, and shall tremble every moment, and be astonished at you. ¹⁷They shall take up a lamentation over you, and tell you, “How you are destroyed, you have vanished^d from the seas, the renowned city, who was strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, who caused their terror to be on all who lived there.

¹⁹For thus says the Lord GOD: ‘When I shall make you a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep on you, and the great waters shall cover you; ²⁰then will I bring you down with those who descend into the pit, to the people of old time, and will make you to dwell in the lower parts of the earth, in the places that are desolate of old, with those who go down to the pit, that you be not inhabited; and I will set glory in the land of the living: ²¹I will make you a terror, and you shall no more have any being; though you are sought for, yet you will never be found again,’ says the Lord GOD.”

27 The word of the LORD came again to me, saying, ²‘You, son of man, take up a lamentation over Tyre; ³and tell Tyre, ‘You who dwell at the entry of the sea, who are the merchant of the peoples to many islands, thus says the Lord GOD: “You, Tyre, have said, ‘I am perfect in beauty.’ ⁴Your borders are in the heart of the seas; your builders have perfected your beauty. ⁵They have made all your planks of fir trees from Senir; they have taken a cedar from Lebanon to make a mast for you. ⁶Of the oaks of Bashan have they made your oars; they have made your deck with cypress wood^a inlaid with ivory, from the islands of Kittim. ⁷Of fine linen with embroidered work from Egypt was your sail, that it might be to you for a banner; blue and purple from the islands of Elishah was your awning. ⁸The inhabitants of Sidon and Arvad were your rowers: your wise men, Tyre, were in you, they were your pilots. ⁹The old men of Gebal and the wise men of it were in you your repairers of ship seams: all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in you to deal in your merchandise. ¹⁰Persia and Lud and Put were in your army, your men of war: they hanged the shield and helmet in you; they set forth your comeliness. ¹¹The men of Arvad with your army were on your walls all around, and valorous men were in your towers; they hanged their shields on your walls all around; they have perfected your beauty. ¹²Tarshish was your merchant by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded for your wares. ¹³Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were your traffickers; they traded the persons of men and vessels of bronze for your merchandise. ¹⁴They of the house of Togarmah traded for your wares with horses and war horses and mules. ¹⁵The men of Dedan were your traffickers; many islands were the market of your hand: they brought you in exchange horns of ivory and ebony. ¹⁶Syria was your merchant by reason of the multitude of your handiworks: they traded for your wares with emeralds, purple, and embroidered work, and fine linen, and coral, and rubies. ¹⁷Judah, and the land of Israel, they were your traffickers: they traded for your merchandise wheat of Minnith, and confections, and honey, and oil, and balm. ¹⁸Damascus was your merchant for the multitude of your handiworks, by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches, with the wine of Helbon, and white wool. ¹⁹Vedan and Javan traded with yarn for your wares: bright iron, cassia, and calamus, were among your merchandise. ²⁰Dedan was your trafficker in precious cloths for riding. ²¹Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, they were the merchants of your hand; in lambs, and rams, and goats, in these were they your traffickers; they traded for your wares with the chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold. ²³Haran and Canneh and Eden, the traffickers of Sheba, Asshur and Chilmad, were your traffickers. ²⁴These were your traffickers in choice wares, in wrappings of blue and embroidered work, and in chests of rich clothing, bound with cords and made of cedar, among your merchandise. ²⁵The ships of Tarshish were your caravans for your merchandise: and you were replenished, and made very glorious in the heart of the seas.

²⁶””Your rowers have brought you into great waters: the east wind has broken you in the heart of the seas. ²⁷Your riches, and your wares, your merchandise, your mariners, and your pilots, your repairers of ship seams, and the dealers in your merchandise, and all your men of war, who are in you, with all your company which is in the midst of you, shall fall into the heart of the seas in the day of your ruin. ²⁸At the sound of the cry of your pilots the suburbs shall shake. ²⁹All who handled the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships; they shall stand on the land, ³⁰and shall cause their voice to be heard over you, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast up dust on their heads, they shall wallow themselves in the ashes: ³¹and they shall make themselves bald for you, and clothe them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for you in bitterness of soul with bitter mourning. ³²In their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for you, and lament over you, saying, ‘Who is there like Tyre, like her who is brought to silence in the midst of the sea?’ ³³When your wares went forth out of the seas, you filled many peoples; you enriched the kings of the earth with the multitude of your riches and of your merchandise. ³⁴In the time that you were broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, your merchandise and all your company fell in your midst. ³⁵All the inhabitants of the islands are astonished at you, and their kings are horribly afraid; they are troubled in their face. ³⁶The merchants among the peoples hiss at you; you are become a terror, and you shall nevermore have any being.””

28 The word of the LORD came again to me, saying, ²‘Son of man, tell the prince of Tyre, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because your heart is lifted up, and you have said, ‘I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas’; yet you are man, and not God, though you set your heart as the heart of God—³behold, you are wiser than Daniel; there is no secret that is hidden from you; ⁴by your wisdom and by your understanding you have gotten yourself riches, and have gotten gold and silver into your treasures; ⁵by your great wisdom and by your traffic you have increased your riches, and your heart is lifted up because of your riches”—⁶therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “Because you have set your heart as the heart of God, ⁷therefore, look, I will bring strangers on you, the terrible of the nations; and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of your wisdom, and they shall defile your brightness. ⁸They shall bring you down to the pit; and you shall die the death of those who are slain, in the heart of the seas. ⁹Will you still say before him who kills you, ‘I am a god’? But you are a man, and not a god, in the hand of him who wounds you. ¹⁰You shall die the death of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it,” says the Lord GOD.”

¹¹Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ¹²‘Son of man, take up a lamentation over the king of Tyre, and tell him, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “You seal up the sum, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty. ¹³You were in Eden, the garden of God; every precious stone adorned you: ruby, topaz, emerald, chrysolite, onyx, jasper,^b sapphire^c, turquoise, and beryl. Gold work of tambourines and of pipes was in you. In the day that you were created they were prepared. ¹⁴You were the anointed cherub who covers: and I set you, so that you were on the holy mountain of God; you have walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire. ¹⁵You were perfect in your ways from the day that you were created, until unrighteousness was found in you. ¹⁶By the abundance of your traffic they filled the midst of you with violence, and you have sinned: therefore I have cast you as profane out of the mountain of God; and I have destroyed you, covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire. ¹⁷Your heart was lifted up because of your beauty; you have corrupted your wisdom by reason of your brightness: I have cast you to the ground; I have laid you before kings, that they may see you. ¹⁸By the multitude of your iniquities, in the unrighteousness of your traffic, you have profaned your sanctuaries; therefore have I brought forth a fire from the midst of you; it has devoured you, and I have turned you to ashes on the earth in the sight of all those who see you. ¹⁹All those who know you among the peoples shall be astonished at you: you have become a terror, and you shall nevermore have any being.”

²⁰The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²¹“Son of man, set your face toward Sidon, and prophesy against it, ²²and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Look, I am against you, Sidon; and I will be glorified in the midst of you;” and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her. ²³For I will send pestilence into her, and blood into her streets; and the wounded shall fall in the midst of her, with the sword on her on every side; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

²⁴”There shall be no more a pricking brier to the house of Israel, nor a hurting thorn of any that are around them, that scorned them; and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.’

²⁵”Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the nations, then shall they dwell in their own land which I gave to my servant Jacob. ²⁶They shall dwell securely in it; yes, they shall build houses, and plant vineyards, and shall dwell securely, when I have executed judgments on all those who do them despite all around them; and they shall know that I am the LORD their God.’”

29 In the tenth year, in the tenth month, on the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²“Son of man, set your face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him and against all Egypt. ³Speak and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Look, I am against you, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great monster^a that lies in the midst of his rivers, that has said, ‘My river is my own, and I have made it for myself.’ ⁴I will put hooks in your jaws, and I will make the fish of your rivers stick to your scales; and I will bring you up out of the midst of your rivers, with all the fish of your rivers which stick to your scales. ⁵I’ll cast you forth into the wilderness, you and all the fish of your rivers. You’ll fall on the open field. You won’t be brought together, nor gathered. I have given you for food to the animals of the earth and to the birds of the sky. ⁶All the inhabitants of Egypt will know that I am the LORD, because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel. ⁷When they took hold of you by your hand, you broke, and tore all their shoulders; and when they leaned on you, you broke, and caused all their hips to shake.”

⁸”Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “Look, I will bring a sword on you, and will cut off man and animal from you. ⁹The land of Egypt shall be a desolation and a waste; and they shall know that I am the LORD. Because he has said, ‘The river is mine, and I have made it;’ ¹⁰therefore, look, I am against you, and against your rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt an utter waste and desolation, from the tower of Syene even to the border of Ethiopia. ¹¹No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of animal shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years. ¹²I will make the land of Egypt a desolation in the midst of the countries that are desolate; and her cities among the cities that are laid waste shall be a desolation forty years; and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.”

¹³”For thus says the Lord GOD: “At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the peoples where they were scattered; ¹⁴and I will bring back the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their birth; and they shall be there a base kingdom. ¹⁵It shall be the base of the kingdoms; neither shall it any more lift itself up above the nations: and I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations. ¹⁶It shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, bringing iniquity to memory, when they turn to look after them: and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.”

¹⁷It came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ¹⁸“Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyre: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was worn; yet had he no wages, nor his army, from Tyre, for the service that he had served against it. ¹⁹Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Look, I will give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and he shall carry off her multitude, and take her spoil, and take her prey; and it shall be the wages for his army. ²⁰I have given him the land of Egypt as his recompense for which he served, because they worked for me,’ says the Lord GOD. ²¹In that day will I cause a horn to bud forth to the house of Israel, and I will give you the opening of the mouth in their midst; and they shall know that I am the LORD.”

30 The word of the LORD came again to me, saying, ²“Son of man, prophesy, and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Wail, ‘Alas for the day.’ ³For the day is near, even the day of the LORD is near; it shall be a day of clouds, a time of the nations. ⁴A sword shall come on Egypt, and anguish shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt; and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down. ⁵Ethiopia, and Put, and Lud, and all the mixed people, and Cub, and the children of the land that is allied with them, shall fall with them by the sword.”

⁶”Thus says the LORD: ‘They also who uphold Egypt shall fall; and the pride of her power shall come down: from the tower of Syene shall they fall in it by the sword,’ says the Lord GOD. ⁷They shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate; and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted. ⁸They shall know that I am the LORD, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and all her helpers are destroyed. ⁹In that day shall messengers go forth from before me in ships to make the careless Ethiopians afraid; and there shall be anguish on them, as in the day of Egypt; for, look, it comes.’

¹⁰”Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease, by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. ¹¹He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought in to destroy the land; and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain. ¹²I will make the rivers dry, and will sell the land into the hand of evil men; and I will make the land desolate, and all that is in it, by the hand of strangers: I, the LORD, have spoken it.⁷

¹³”Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause the images to cease from Memphis; and there shall be no more a prince from the land of Egypt: and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt. ¹⁴I will make Pathros desolate, and will set a fire in Zoan, and will execute judgments on No. ¹⁵I will pour my wrath on Sin, the stronghold of Egypt; and I will cut off the multitude of No. ¹⁶I will set a fire in Egypt: Sin shall be in great anguish, and No shall be broken up; and Memphis shall have adversaries in the daytime. ¹⁷The young men of On^a and of Pi-beseth shall fall by the sword; and these cities shall go into captivity. ¹⁸At Tehaphnehes also the day shall withdraw itself, when I shall break there the yokes of Egypt, and the pride of her power shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity. ¹⁹Thus will I execute judgments on Egypt; and they shall know that I am the LORD.’”

²⁰It happened in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²¹”Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and look, it has not been bound up, to apply healing medicines, to put a bandage to bind it, that it be strong to hold the sword. ²²Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Look, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong arm, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand. ²³I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. ²⁴I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand: but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he shall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly wounded man. ²⁵I will hold up the arms of the king of Babylon; and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out on the land of Egypt. ²⁶I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; and they shall know that I am the LORD.’”

31 It happened in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²”Son of man, tell Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude: ‘Whom are you like in your greatness? ³Look, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with beautiful branches, and with a forest-like shade, and of high stature; and its top was among the thick boughs. ⁴The waters nourished it, the deep made it to grow: its rivers ran all around its plantation; and it sent out its channels to all the trees of the field. ⁵Therefore its stature was exalted above all the trees of the field; and its boughs were multiplied, and its branches became long by reason of many waters, when it shot them forth. ⁶All the birds of the sky made their nests in its boughs; and under its branches all the animals of the field brought forth their young; and all great nations lived under its shadow. ⁷Thus was it beautiful in its greatness, in the length of its branches; for its root was by many waters. ⁸The cedars in the garden of God could not hide it; the fir trees were not like its boughs, and the plane trees were not as its branches; nor was any tree in the garden of God like it in its beauty. ⁹I made it beautiful by the multitude of its branches, so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied it.’

¹⁰”Therefore thus said the Lord GOD: ‘Because you are exalted in stature, and he has set his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height; ¹¹I will even deliver him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with him; I have driven him out for his wickedness. ¹²Strangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: on the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the watercourses of the land; and all the peoples of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him. ¹³On his ruin all the birds of the sky shall dwell, and all the animals of the field shall be on his branches; ¹⁴to the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves in their stature, neither set their top among the thick boughs, nor that their mighty ones stand up on their height, even all who drink water: for they are all delivered to death, to the lower parts of the earth, among human beings who go down to the pit.’

¹⁵”Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘In the day when he went down to Sheol^b I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained its rivers; and the great waters were stayed; and I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him. ¹⁶I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to Sheol with those who descend into the pit; and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, were comforted in the lower parts of the earth. ¹⁷They also went down into Sheol with him to those who are slain by the sword; yes, those who were his arm, that lived under his shadow in the midst of the nations. ¹⁸To whom are you thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? Yet you will be brought down with the trees of Eden to the lower parts of the earth: you shall lie in the midst of the uncircumcised, with those who are slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude,’ says the Lord GOD.”

32 It happened in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²”Son of man, take up a lamentation over Pharaoh king of Egypt, and tell him, ‘You were likened to a young lion of the nations: yet you are as a monster in the seas; and you broke out with your rivers, and troubled the waters with your feet, and fouled their rivers.’

³”Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘I will spread out my net on you with a company of many peoples; and they shall bring you up in my net. ⁴I will leave you on the land, I will cast you forth on the open field, and will cause all the birds of the sky to settle on you, and I will satisfy the animals of the whole earth with you. ⁵I will lay your flesh on the mountains, and fill the valleys with your height. ⁶I will also water with your blood the land in which you swim, even to the mountains; and the watercourses shall be full of you. ⁷When I shall extinguish you, I will cover the heavens, and make its stars dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give its light. ⁸All the bright lights of the sky will I make dark over you, and set darkness on your land, says the Lord GOD. ⁹I will also trouble the hearts of many peoples, when I shall bring your destruction among the nations, into the countries which you have not known. ¹⁰Yes, I will make many peoples amazed at you, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for you, when I shall brandish my sword before them; and they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of your fall.’

¹¹”For thus says the Lord GOD: ‘The sword of the king of Babylon shall come on you. ¹²By the swords of the mighty will I cause your multitude to fall; the terrible of the nations are they all:

^b31:15 Sheol is the place of the dead and they shall bring to nothing the pride of Egypt, and all its multitude shall be destroyed. ¹³I will destroy also all its animals from beside many waters; neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of animals trouble them. ¹⁴Then will I make their waters clear, and cause their rivers to run like oil,' says the Lord GOD. ¹⁵'When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate and waste, a land destitute of that of which it was full, when I shall strike all those who dwell in it, then shall they know that I am the LORD. ¹⁶This is the lamentation with which they shall lament; the daughters of the nations shall lament therewith; over Egypt, and over all her multitude, shall they lament therewith,' says the Lord GOD."

¹⁷It happened also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ¹⁸"Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, to the lower parts of the earth, with those who go down into the pit. ¹⁹'Whom do you pass in beauty? Go down, and be laid with the uncircumcised.' ²⁰They shall fall in the midst of those who are slain by the sword: she is delivered to the sword; draw her away and all her multitudes. ²¹The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of Sheol^a with those who help him: 'They are gone down, they lie still, even the uncircumcised, slain by the sword.'

²⁸"But you shall be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shall lie with those who are slain by the sword.

²⁹"There is Edom, her kings and all her princes, who in their might are laid with those who are slain by the sword: they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with those who go down to the pit.

³⁰"There are the princes of the north, all of them, and all the Sidonians, who are gone down with the slain; in the terror which they caused by their might they are put to shame; and they lie uncircumcised with those who are slain by the sword, and bear their shame with those who go down to the pit.

33 The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²"Son of man, speak to the children of your people, and tell them, 'When I bring the sword on a land, and the people of the land take a man from among them, and set him for their watchman; ³if, when he sees the sword come on the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people; ⁴then whoever hears the sound of the trumpet, and doesn't take warning, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be on his own head. ⁵He heard the sound of the trumpet, and didn't take warning; his blood shall be on him; whereas if he had taken warning, he would have delivered his soul. ⁶But if the watchman sees the sword come, and doesn't blow the trumpet, and the people aren't warned, and the sword comes, and take any person from among them; he is taken away in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.'

⁷"So you, son of man, I have set you a watchman to the house of Israel; therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me. ⁸When I tell the wicked, 'O wicked man, you shall surely die,' and you do not speak to warn the wicked from his way; that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at your hand. ⁹Nevertheless, if you warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, and he doesn't turn from his way; he shall die in his iniquity, but you have delivered your soul.

¹⁰"You, son of man, tell the house of Israel: 'Thus you speak, saying, "Our transgressions and our sins are on us, and we pine away in them; how then can we live?"' ¹¹Tell them, 'As I live,' says the Lord GOD, 'I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn, turn from your evil ways; for why will you die, house of Israel?'

¹²"You, son of man, tell the children of your people, 'The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his disobedience; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turns from his wickedness; neither shall he who is righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he sins.' ¹³When I say to the righteous "He shall surely live," but he trusts in his righteousness and commits iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but he shall die because of the iniquity he has committed. ¹⁴Again, when I say to the wicked, 'You shall surely die'; if he turn from his sin, and do that which is lawful and right; ¹⁵if the wicked restore the pledge, give again that which he had taken by robbery, walk in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die. ¹⁶None of his sins that he has committed shall be remembered against him: he has done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live.

¹⁷"Yet the children of your people say, 'The way of the LORD^e is not just': but as for them, their way is not just. ¹⁸When the righteous turns from his righteousness, and commits iniquity, he shall even die in it. ¹⁹When the wicked turns from his wickedness, and does that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby. ²⁰Yet you say, 'The way of the LORD^a is not just.' House of Israel, I will judge every one of you after his ways."

²¹It happened in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one who had escaped out of Jerusalem came to me, saying, "The city has been struck." ²²Now the hand of the LORD had been on me in the evening, before he who was escaped came; and he had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no more mute. ²³The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²⁴"Son of man, they who inhabit those waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying, 'Abraham was one, and he inherited the land; but we are many; the land is given us for inheritance.' ²⁵Therefore tell them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "You eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes to your idols, and shed blood: and shall you possess the land? ²⁶You stand on your sword, you work abomination, and every one of you defiles his neighbor's wife: and shall you possess the land?"

²⁷"You shall tell them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "As I live, surely those who are in the waste places shall fall by the sword; and him who is in the open field will I give to the animals to be devoured; and those who are in the strongholds and in the caves shall die of the pestilence. ²⁸I will make the land a desolation and an astonishment; and the pride of her power shall cease; and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, so that none shall pass through. ²⁹Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment, because of all their abominations which they have committed."

³⁰"As for you, son of man, the children of your people talk of you by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, everyone to his brother, saying, 'Please come and hear what is the word that comes forth from the LORD.' ³¹They come to you as the people come, and they sit before you as my people, and they hear your words, but do not do them; for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goes after their gain. ³²Look, you are to them as a very lovely song of one who has a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument; for they hear your words, but they do not do them. ³³When this comes to pass, (look, it comes), then shall they know that a prophet has been among them."

34 The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²"Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and tell them, even to the shepherds, "Thus says the Lord GOD: "Woe to the shepherds of Israel who feed themselves. Shouldn't the shepherds feed the sheep? ³You eat the fat, and you clothe yourself with the wool, you kill the fatlings; but you do not feed the sheep. ⁴You haven't strengthened the diseased, neither have you healed that which was sick, neither have you bound up that which was broken, neither have you brought back that which was driven away, neither have you sought that which was lost; but with force and with rigor you have ruled over them. ⁵They were scattered, because there was no shepherd; and they became food to all the animals of the field, and were scattered. ⁶My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and on every high hill: yes, my sheep were scattered on all the surface of the earth; and there was none who searched or sought."

⁷"Therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: ⁸'As I live,' says the Lord GOD, 'surely because my sheep became a prey, and my sheep became food to all the animals of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my sheep, but the shepherds fed themselves, and didn't feed my sheep'; ⁹therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: ¹⁰Thus says the Lord GOD: 'Look, I am against the shepherds; and I will require my sheep at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheep; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; and I will deliver my sheep from their mouth, that they may not be food for them.'"

¹¹"For thus says the Lord GOD: "Look, I myself, even I, will search for my sheep, and will seek them out. ¹²As a shepherd seeks out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered abroad, so will I seek out my sheep; and I will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. ¹³I will bring them out from the peoples, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them on the mountains of Israel, by the watercourses, and in all the inhabited places of the country. ¹⁴I will feed them with good pasture; and on the mountains of the height of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie down in a good fold; and on fat pasture shall they feed on the mountains of Israel. ¹⁵I myself will be the shepherd of my sheep, and I will cause them to lie down," says the Lord GOD. ¹⁶"I will seek that which was lost, and will bring back that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but the fat and the strong I will destroy; I will feed them in justice."

¹⁷"As for you, O my flock, thus says the Lord GOD: "Look, I judge between sheep and sheep, the rams and the male goats. ¹⁸Does it seem a small thing to you to have fed on the good pasture, but you must tread down with your feet the residue of your pasture? And to have drunk of the clear waters, but you must foul the residue with your feet? ¹⁹As for my sheep, they eat that which you have trodden with your feet, and they drink that which you have fouled with your feet."

²⁵"I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause evil animals to cease out of the land; and they shall dwell securely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods. ²⁶I will make them and the places around my hill a blessing; and I will cause the shower to come down in its season; there shall be showers of blessing. ²⁷The tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield its increase, and they shall be secure in their land; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bars of their yoke, and have delivered them out of the hand of those who made slaves of them. ²⁸They shall no more be a prey to the nations, neither shall the animals of the earth devour them; but they shall dwell securely, and none shall make them afraid. ²⁹I will raise up to them a plantation for renown, and they shall be no more consumed with famine in the land, neither bear the shame

of the nations any more. ³⁰They shall know that I, the LORD, their God am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are my people,” says the Lord GOD. ³¹“You my sheep, the sheep of my pasture, are men, and I am your God,” says the Lord GOD.”

35 Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²“Son of man, set your face against Mount Seir, and prophesy against it, ³and tell it, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Look, I am against you, Mount Seir, and I will stretch out my hand against you, and I will make you a desolation and an astonishment. ⁴I will lay your cities waste, and you shall be desolate; and you shall know that I am the LORD.

⁵”“Because you have had a perpetual enmity, and have given over the children of Israel to the power of the sword in the time of their calamity, in the time of the iniquity of the end; ⁶therefore, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will prepare you for blood, and blood shall pursue you: since you have not hated blood, therefore blood shall pursue you. ⁷Thus will I make Mount Seir an astonishment and a desolation; and I will cut off from it him who passes through and him who returns. ⁸I will fill its mountains with its slain: in your hills and in your valleys and in all your watercourses shall they fall who are slain with the sword. ⁹I will make you a perpetual desolation, and your cities shall not be inhabited; and you shall know that I am the LORD.

¹⁰”“Because you have said, ‘These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will possess it’; whereas the LORD was there: ¹¹therefore, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will do according to your anger, and according to your envy which you have shown out of your hatred against them; and I will make myself known among them, when I shall judge you. ¹²You shall know that I, the LORD, have heard all your insults which you have spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, They are laid desolate, they have been given us to devour. ¹³You have magnified yourselves against me with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard it.” ¹⁴Thus says the Lord GOD: “When the whole earth rejoices, I will make you desolate. ¹⁵As you rejoiced over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do to you: you shall be desolate, Mount Seir, and all Edom, even all of it; and they shall know that I am the LORD.”

36 “You, son of man, prophesy to the mountains of Israel, and say, ‘You mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD. ²Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because the enemy has said against you, ‘Aha.’ and, ‘The ancient high places are ours in possession’; ³therefore prophesy, and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because, even because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that you might be a possession to the residue of the nations, and you are taken up in the lips of talkers, and the evil report of the people’; ⁴therefore, you mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD: “Thus says the Lord GOD to the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes and to the cities that are forsaken, which are become a prey and derision to the residue of the nations that are all around; ⁵therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the nations, and against all Edom, that have appointed my land to themselves for a possession with the joy of all their heart, with despite of soul, to cast it out for a prey.’”

⁶”Therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and tell the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Look, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my wrath, because you have borne the shame of the nations: ⁷therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘I have sworn, saying, “Surely the nations that are around you, they shall bear their shame.”’

⁸”“But you, mountains of Israel, you shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people Israel; for they are at hand to come. ⁹For, look, I am for you, and I will turn into you, and you shall be tilled and sown; ¹⁰and I will multiply men on you, all the house of Israel, even all of it; and the cities shall be inhabited, and the waste places shall be built; ¹¹and I will multiply on you man and animal; and they shall increase and be fruitful; and I will cause you to be inhabited after your former estate, and will do better to you than at your beginnings: and you shall know that I am the LORD. ¹²Yes, I will cause men to walk on you, even my people Israel; and they shall possess you, and you shall be their inheritance, and you shall no more henceforth bereave them of children.”

¹³”Thus says the Lord GOD: “Because they say to you, ‘You are a devourer of men, and have been a bereaver of your nation’; ¹⁴therefore you shall devour men no more, neither bereave your nation any more,” says the Lord GOD; ¹⁵“neither will I let you hear any more the shame of the nations, neither shall you bear the reproach of the peoples any more, neither shall you cause your nation to stumble any more,” says the Lord GOD.”

²²”Therefore tell the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “I do not do this for your sake, house of Israel, but for my holy name, which you have profaned among the nations, where you went. ²³I will sanctify my great name, which has been profaned among the nations, which you have profaned in their midst; and the nations shall know that I am the LORD,” says the Lord GOD, “when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes. ²⁴For I will take you from among the nations, and gather you out of all the countries, and will bring you into your own land. ²⁵I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. ²⁶And I will also give you a new heart, and I will put a new spirit within you. And I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh. ²⁷I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and you shall keep my ordinances, and do them. ²⁸You shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and you shall be my people, and I will be your God. ²⁹I will save you from all your uncleanness: and I will call for the grain, and will multiply it, and lay no famine on you. ³⁰I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, that you may receive no more the reproach of famine among the nations. ³¹Then you shall remember your evil ways, and your doings that were not good; and you shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. ³²Nor for your sake do I this,” says the Lord GOD, “be it known to you: be ashamed and confounded for your ways, house of Israel.”

³³Thus says the Lord GOD: 'In the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be built. ³⁴The land that was desolate shall be tilled, whereas it was a desolation in the sight of all who passed by. ³⁵They shall say, "This land that was desolate has become like the garden of Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are fortified and inhabited." ³⁶Then the nations that are left around you shall know that I, the LORD, have built the ruined places, and planted that which was desolate: I, the LORD, have spoken it, and I will do it.'

³⁷Thus says the Lord GOD: 'For this, moreover, will I be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them: I will increase them with men like a flock. ³⁸As the flock for sacrifice, as the flock of Jerusalem in her appointed feasts, so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men; and they shall know that I am the LORD.'

37 The hand of the LORD was on me, and he brought me out in the Spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of the valley; and it was full of bones. ²He caused me to pass by them all around: and look, there were very many in the open valley; and look, they were very dry. ³He said to me, "Son of man, can these bones live?" I answered, "Lord GOD, you know."

⁴Again he said to me, "Prophecy over these bones, and tell them, 'You dry bones, hear the word of the LORD.' ⁵Thus says the Lord GOD to these bones: 'Look, I will cause breath to enter into you, and you shall live. ⁶I will lay sinews on you, and will bring up flesh on you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and you shall live; and you shall know that I am the LORD.'

⁷So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and look, an earthquake; and the bones came together, bone to its bone. ⁸I saw, and, look, there were sinews on them, and flesh came up, and skin covered them above; but there was no breath in them.

⁹Then he said to me, "Prophecy to the wind, prophecy, son of man, and tell the wind, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: Come from the four winds, breath, and breathe on these slain, that they may live.'" ¹⁰So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up on their feet, an exceedingly great army.

¹¹Then he said to me, "Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: look, they say, 'Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost; we are completely cut off.' ¹²Therefore prophecy, and tell them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: Look, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, my people; and I will bring you into the land of Israel. ¹³You shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, and caused you to come up out of your graves, my people. ¹⁴I will put my Spirit in you, and you shall live, and I will place you in your own land: and you shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken it and performed it,' says the LORD."

¹⁵The word of the LORD came again to me, saying, ¹⁶"You, son of man, take one stick, and write on it, 'For Judah, and for the children of Israel his companions': then take another stick, and write on it, 'For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions': ¹⁷and join them for you one to another into one stick, that they may become one in your hand. ¹⁸When the children of your people shall speak to you, saying, 'Will you not show us what you mean by these?' ¹⁹tell them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "Look, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his companions; and I will put them with it, even with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in my hand.'" ²⁰The sticks whereon you write shall be in your hand before their eyes.

²¹Say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "Look, I will take the children of Israel from among the nations, where they are gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land: ²²and I will make them one nation in the land, on the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king to them all; and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all; ²³neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions. But I will save them out of all their apostasies^a by which they have sinned, and will cleanse them. Then they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

²⁴"My servant David shall be king over them; and they all shall have one shepherd: they shall also walk in my ordinances, and observe my statutes, and do them. ²⁵They shall dwell in the land that I have given to Jacob my servant, in which your fathers lived; and they shall dwell in it, they, and their children, and their children's children, forever: and David my servant shall be their prince for ever. ²⁶Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them; it shall be an everlasting covenant with them; and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in their midst forevermore. ²⁷My tent also shall be with them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. ²⁸The nations shall know that I am the LORD who sanctifies Israel, when my sanctuary shall be in their midst forevermore.'"

38 The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²"Son of man, set your face toward Gog, of the land of Magog, the prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal, and prophecy against him, ³and say, 'Thus says the Lord GOD: "Look, I am against you, Gog, prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal: ⁴and I will turn you around, and put hooks into your jaws, and I will bring you forth, with all your army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed in full armor, a great company with buckler and shield, all of them handling swords; ⁵Persia, Cush, and Put with them, all of them with shield and helmet; ⁶Gomer, and all his hordes; the house of Togarmah in the uttermost parts of the north, and all his hordes; even many peoples with you.

¹⁰Thus says the Lord GOD: "It shall happen in that day, that things shall come into your mind, and you shall devise an evil device: ¹¹and you shall say, 'I will go up to the land of unwalled villages; I will go to those who are at rest, who dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates; ¹²to take the spoil and to take the prey; to turn your hand against the waste places that are now inhabited, and against the people who are gathered out of the nations, who have gotten livestock and goods, who dwell at the navel of the earth.’¹³ Sheba, and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all the young lions of it, shall tell you, ‘Have you come to take the spoil? Have you assembled your company to take the prey, to carry away silver and gold, to take away livestock and goods, to take great spoil?’”

¹⁴”Therefore, son of man, prophesy, and tell Gog, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “In that day when my people Israel dwells securely, shall you not know it? ¹⁵You shall come from your place out of the uttermost parts of the north, you, and many peoples with you, all of them riding on horses, a great company and a mighty army; ¹⁶and you shall come up against my people Israel, as a cloud to cover the land: it shall happen in the latter days, that I will bring you against my land, that the nations may know me, when I shall be sanctified in you, Gog, before their eyes.”’

¹⁷”Thus says the Lord GOD: “Are you he of whom I spoke in old time by my servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those days for many years that I would bring you against them?” ¹⁸It shall happen in that day, when Gog shall come against the land of Israel,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘that my wrath shall come up into my nostrils. ¹⁹For in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel; ²⁰so that the fish of the sea, and the birds of the sky, and the animals of the field, and all creatures who crawl on the earth, and all the men who are on the surface of the earth, shall shake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground. ²¹I will call for a sword against him to all my mountains,’ says the Lord GOD: ‘every man’s sword shall be against his brother. ²²With pestilence and with blood will I enter into judgment with him; and I will rain on him, and on his hordes, and on the many peoples who are with him, an overflowing shower, and great hailstones, fire, and sulfur. ²³I will magnify myself, and sanctify myself, and I will make myself known in the eyes of many nations; and they shall know that I am the LORD.’

39 “You, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: “Look, I am against you, Gog, prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal: ²and I will turn you around, and will lead you on, and will cause you to come up from the uttermost parts of the north; and I will bring you on the mountains of Israel; ³and I will strike your bow out of your left hand, and will cause your arrows to fall out of your right hand. ⁴You shall fall on the mountains of Israel, you, and all your hordes, and the peoples who are with you: I will give you to the ravenous birds of every sort, and to the animals of the field to be devoured. ⁵You shall fall on the open field; for I have spoken it,” says the Lord GOD. ⁶I will send a fire on Magog, and on those who dwell securely in the islands; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

⁷”My holy name will I make known in the midst of my people Israel; neither will I allow my holy name to be profaned any more: and the nations shall know that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Israel. ⁸Look, it comes, and it shall be done, says the Lord GOD; this is the day about which I have spoken.

⁹”Those who dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall make fires of the weapons and burn them, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the war clubs, and the spears, and they shall make fires of them seven years; ¹⁰so that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests; for they shall make fires of the weapons; and they shall plunder those who plundered them, and rob those who robbed them, says the Lord GOD.

¹¹”It shall happen in that day, that I will give to Gog a place for burial in Israel, the valley of those who pass through on the east of the sea; and it shall stop those who pass through: and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude; and they shall call it The Valley of Hamon Gog. ¹²Seven months shall the house of Israel be burying them, that they may cleanse the land. ¹³Yes, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them a renown in the day that I shall be glorified, says the Lord GOD. ¹⁴They shall set apart men of continual employment, who shall pass through the land, and, with those who pass through, those who bury those who remain on the surface of the land, to cleanse it: after the end of seven months shall they search. ¹⁵Those who pass through the land shall pass through; and when any sees a man’s bone, then shall he set up a sign by it, until the undertakers have buried it in the Valley of Hamon Gog. ¹⁶Hamonah shall also be the name of a city. Thus shall they cleanse the land.’

¹⁷”You, son of man, thus says the Lord GOD: Speak to the birds of every sort, and to every animal of the field, ‘Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to my sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice on the mountains of Israel, that you may eat flesh and drink blood. ¹⁸You shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bulls, all of them fatlings of Bashan. ¹⁹You shall eat fat until you be full, and drink blood until you are drunk, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you. ²⁰You shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war,’ says the Lord GOD.

²¹”I will set my glory among the nations; and all the nations shall see my judgment that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid on them. ²²So the house of Israel shall know that I am the LORD their God, from that day and forward. ²³The nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity; because they trespassed against me, and I hid my face from them: so I gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they fell all of them by the sword. ²⁴According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions did I to them; and I hid my face from them.’

²⁵”Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: ‘Now will I bring back the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy on the whole house of Israel; and I will be jealous for my holy name. ²⁶They shall bear their shame, and all their trespasses by which they have trespassed against me, when they shall dwell securely in their land, and none shall make them afraid; ²⁷when I have brought them back from the peoples, and gathered them out of their enemies’ lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations. ²⁸They shall know that I am the LORD their God, in that I caused them to go into captivity among the nations, and have gathered them to their own land; and I will leave none of them any more there; ²⁹neither will I hide my face any more from them; for I have poured out my Spirit on the house of Israel,’ says the Lord GOD.”

40 In the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was struck, in the same day, the hand of the LORD was on me, and he brought me there. ²In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me down on a very high mountain, whereon was as it were the frame of a city on the south. ³He brought me there; and, look, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of bronze, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate. ⁴The man said to me, “Son of man, see with your eyes, and hear with your ears, and set your heart on all that I shall show you; for, to the intent that I may show them to you, you are brought here: declare all that you see to the house of Israel.”

⁵Look, a wall on the outside of the house all around, and in the man’s hand a measuring reed ten feet four inches^a (based on a standard eighteen inches^b plus three inches^c). So he measured the thickness of the building ten feet four inches, and the height ten feet four inches. ⁶Then came he to the gate which looks toward the east, and went up its steps: and he measured the threshold of the gate, ten feet four inches broad; and the other threshold, ten feet four inches broad.^d ⁷Every side-room was ten feet four inches long, and one reed broad; and the space between the side-rooms was eight feet seven inches;^e and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate at the inner end was ten feet four inches. ⁸He measured also the porch of the gate toward the house, ten feet four inches long. ⁹Then measured he the porch of the gate, thirteen feet nine inches;^f and its jambs, three feet five inches;^g and the porch of the gate was toward the inner end. ¹⁰The side-rooms of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; they three were of one measure: and the jambs had the same measurement. ¹¹He measured the breadth of the opening of the gate, seventeen feet three inches;^h and the length of the gate, twenty-two feet five inches;ⁱ ¹²and a barrier in front of the side-rooms, twenty-one inches, and a barrier on the other side, twenty-one inches; and the side-rooms were ten feet four inches^j square. ¹³He measured the gate from the ceiling of the one side-room to the ceiling of the other, a breadth of forty-three feet one inch;^k the openings being opposite each other. ¹⁴He also measured^l the porch, one hundred three feet four inches;^m and to the jamb of the courtyard was the gateway all around. ¹⁵From the forefront of the gate at the entrance to the forefront of the inner porch of the gate were eighty-six feet one inch.ⁿ ¹⁶There were closed windows to the side-rooms, and toward their jambs within the gate all around, and likewise to the porches; and windows were around the inside; and on each jamb were palm trees.

¹⁷Then he brought me into the outer court; and look, there were rooms and a pavement, made for the court all around: thirty rooms faced the pavement. ¹⁸The pavement was by the side of the gates, corresponding to the length of the gates; this was the lower pavement. ¹⁹Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate to the forefront of the inner court outside, one hundred seventy-two feet three inches,^o both on the east and on the north. ²⁰And the gate of the outer court which faced toward the north, he measured its length and its breadth. ²¹And its side-rooms were three on either side, and its jambs and its porches had the same measurement as the first gate; its length was eighty-six feet one inch,^p and the breadth forty-three feet one inch.^q ²²And its windows, and its porches, and the palm trees of it had the same measurement as the gate that faced toward the east. And they went up to it by seven steps; and its porch was in front of them. ²³And there was a gate to the inner court across the gate to the north and the east; and he measured from gate to gate one hundred seventy-two feet three inches.^r

²⁴He led me toward the south; and look, a gate toward the south. And he measured its jambs and its porches; they were the same size as the others. ²⁵There were windows in it and in its porches all around, like those windows; the length was eighty-six feet one inch,^s and the breadth forty-three feet one inch.^t ²⁶There were seven steps to go up to it, and its porches were in front of them; and it had palm trees on its jambs, one on either side. ²⁷There was a gate to the inner court toward the south. And he measured from gate to gate toward the south one hundred seventy-two feet three inches.^u

²⁸Then he brought me to the inner court by the south gate, and it had the same dimensions as the others. ²⁹And its side-rooms, and its jambs, and its porches were of the same size as the others. And there were windows in it and in its porches all around; it was eighty-six feet one inch^v long, and forty-three feet one inch^w broad. ³⁰And there were porches all around, forty-three feet one inch^x long, and eight feet seven inches^y broad. ³¹And the porches of it faced the outer court, and palm trees were on its jambs, and its stairway had eight steps.

³²And he brought me to the inner court toward the east, and he measured the gate as being the same size; ³³and its side-rooms, and its jambs, and its porches were the same size as the others, and there were windows in it and in its porches all around. It was eighty-six feet one inch^z long, and forty-three feet one inch^{aa} broad. ³⁴The porches of it faced the outer court; and palm trees were on its jambs, on either side, and its stairway had eight steps.

³⁵He brought me to the north gate, and he measured it; and it had the same dimensions as the others; ³⁶its side-rooms, its jambs, and its porches. And there were windows in it all around; the length was eighty-six feet one inch,^{bb} and the breadth forty-three feet one inch.^{cc} ³⁷And its porch^{dd} faced the outer court; and palm trees were on its jambs, on either side, and its stairway had eight steps.

³⁸And a chamber with its door was by the porch of the gate;^{ee} there they washed the burnt offering. ³⁹And in the porch of the gate were two tables on either side, and two tables on that side, on which to slaughter the burnt offering and the sin offering and guilt offering. ⁴⁰On the one side outside, as one goes up to the entrance of the north gate, were two tables; and on the other side of the porch of the gate were two tables. ⁴¹Four tables were on either side of the gate, eight tables on which they slaughtered the sacrifices. ⁴²There were four tables of carved stone for the burnt offering, two feet seven inches^{ff} long, and two feet seven inches broad, and twenty-one inches^a high; on which they laid the instruments with which they slaughtered the burnt offering and the sacrifice.⁴³The hooks, three inches^b long, were fastened all around within, and on the tables was the flesh of the offering.

⁴⁴And from the outside of the inner gate were two chambers^c in the inner court, one^d which was at the side of the north gate facing toward the south; and one at the side of the south^e gate facing toward the north.⁴⁵He said to me, “This room that faces toward the south, is for the priests, the keepers of the duty of the house;⁴⁶and the room that faces toward the north is for the priests, the keepers of the duty of the altar: these are the sons of Zadok, who from among the sons of Levi come near to the LORD to minister to him.”⁴⁷He measured the court, one hundred seventy-two feet three inches^f long, and one hundred seventy-two feet three inches broad, a square; and the altar was in front of the house.

⁴⁸Then he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured the jambs of the porch, eight feet seven inches^g on each side. And the breadth of the gate was twenty-four feet one inch,^h and the sides of the gateⁱ were five feet two inches^j on each side.⁴⁹The length of the porch was thirty-four feet five inches,^k and the breadth twenty feet eight inches.^l And they went up to it by ten^m steps; and there were pillars by the jambs on either side.

41 And he brought me to the sanctuary, and measured the jambs, ten feet four inchesⁿ broad on the one side, and ten feet four inches broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the jambs.^o ²The breadth of the entrance was seventeen feet three inches;^p and the sides of the entrance were eight feet seven inches^q on the one side, and eight feet seven inches on the other side. And he measured its length, sixty-eight feet eleven inches,^r and the breadth, thirty-four feet five inches.^s

³Then he went into the inner room, and measured each jamb of the entrance, three feet five inches;^t and the entrance, ten feet four inches;^u and the breadth of the entrance twelve feet one inch.^v ⁴He measured its length, thirty-four feet five inches,^w and the breadth, thirty-four feet five inches, before the sanctuary. And he said to me, “This is the most holy place.”

⁵Then he measured the wall of the house, ten feet four inches;^x and the breadth of every side-room, six feet eleven inches,^y all around the house on every side. ⁶The side-rooms were in three stories, one over another, thirty in each story. And there were offsets all around the wall to serve as supports for the side-rooms, so that the supports were not supported by the wall of the house. ⁷And the side-rooms were broader as they encompassed the house at each successive story, for the structure encompassing the house went upward all around the house. Therefore the breadth of the house increased as it went up, and so one went up from the lowest story to the highest by the way of the middle room.

⁸I saw also that the house had a raised platform all around; the foundations of the side-rooms were a full measuring stick of ten feet four inches.^z ⁹The thickness of the wall, which was for the side-rooms, on the outside, was eight feet seven inches:^{aa} and that which was left was the place of the side-rooms that belonged to the house. ¹⁰Between the rooms was a breadth of thirty-four feet five inches^{bb} around the house on every side. ¹¹The doors of the side-rooms were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of the place that was left was eight feet seven inches^{cc} all around.

¹²The building that was before the separate place at the side toward the west was one hundred twenty feet seven inches^{dd} broad; and the wall of the building was eight feet seven inches^{ee} thick all around, and its length one hundred fifty-five feet.^{ff}

¹⁵He measured the length of the building before the separate place which was at its back, and its galleries on the one side and on the other side, one hundred seventy-two feet three inches; and the inner temple, and the porches of the court; ¹⁶the thresholds, and the closed windows, and the galleries around on their three stories, over against the threshold, with wood ceilings all around, and from the ground up to the windows, (now the windows were covered), ¹⁷to the space above the door, even to the inner house, and outside, and by all the wall all around inside and outside, by measure. ¹⁸It was made with cherubim and palm trees; and a palm tree was between cherub and cherub, and every cherub had two faces; ¹⁹so that there was the face of a man toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side. Thus was it made through all the house all around: ²⁰from the ground to above the door were cherubim and palm trees made: thus was the wall of the temple. ²¹As for the temple, the door posts were squared; and as for the face of the sanctuary, the appearance of it was as the appearance of the temple. ²²The altar was of wood, five feet two inches^{hh} high,ⁱⁱ and three feet five inches^a long, and three feet five inches^b wide;^c and its corners, and its base,^d and its walls were of wood. And he said to me, “This is the table that is before the LORD.”²³The temple and the sanctuary had two doors.²⁴The doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves: two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other.²⁵There were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubim and palm trees, like as were made on the walls; and there was a threshold of wood on the face of the porch outside.²⁶There were closed windows and palm trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch: thus were the side-rooms of the house, and the thresholds.

42 Then he brought me forth into the outer court, the way toward the north: and he brought me into the room that was over against the separate place, and which was over against the building toward the north.²The length of the front at the north entrance was one hundred seventy-two feet three inches,^e and the breadth was eighty-six feet two inches.^f³Facing the inner court of thirty-four feet five inches, and facing the pavement which belonged to the outer court, was gallery facing gallery in three stories.⁴Before the rooms was a walk of seventeen feet three inches^g breadth inward, a way of one hundred seventy-two feet three inches^h; and their doors were toward the north.⁵Now the upper rooms were shorter; for the galleries took away from these, more than from the lower and the middle, in the building.⁶For they were in three stories, and they didn’t have pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the uppermost was straitened more than the lowest and the middle from the ground.⁷The wall that was outside by the side of the rooms, toward the outer court before the rooms, its length was eighty-six feet two inches.ⁱ⁸For the length of the rooms that were in the outer court was eighty-six feet two inches: and look, before the temple were one hundred seventy-two feet three inches.^j⁹From under these rooms was the entry on the east side, as one goes into them from the outer court.

¹³Then he said to me, “The north rooms and the south rooms, which are before the separate place, they are the holy rooms, where the priests who are near to the LORD shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering; for the place is holy.¹⁴When the priests enter in, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments in which they minister; for they are holy: and they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to that which pertains to the people.”

43 Afterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looks toward the east.²Look, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and his voice was like the sound of many waters; and the earth shined with his glory.³It was according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw when I came to destroy the city; and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar; and I fell on my face.⁴The glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east.⁵The Spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and look, the glory of the LORD filled the house.

⁶I heard one speaking to me out of the house; and a man stood by me.⁷He said to me, “Son of man, this is the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel forever. The house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their prostitution, and by the dead bodies of their kings in their high places;⁸in their setting of their threshold by my threshold, and their doorpost beside my doorpost, and there was but the wall between me and them; and they have defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed: therefore I have consumed them in my anger.⁹Now let them put away their prostitution, and the dead bodies of their kings, far from me; and I will dwell in their midst forever.

¹⁰”You, son of man, show the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities; and let them measure the pattern.¹¹If they be ashamed of all that they have done, make known to them the form of the house, and its fashion, and its exits, and its entrances, and all its forms, and all its ordinances, and all its forms, and all its laws; and write it in their sight; that they may keep the whole form of it, and all its ordinances, and do them.

¹⁸He said to me, “Son of man, thus says the Lord GOD: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon. ¹⁹You shall give to the priests the Levites who are of the offspring of Zadok, who are near to me, to minister to me, says the Lord GOD, a young bull for a sin offering. ²⁰You shall take of its blood, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the ledge, and on the border all around: thus you shall cleanse it and make atonement for it. ²¹You shall also take the bull of the sin offering, and it shall be burnt in the appointed placeⁱ of the house, outside of the sanctuary.

²⁵“Seven days you shall prepare every day a goat for a sin offering; they shall also prepare a young bull, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish. ²⁶Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify it; so shall they consecrate it. ²⁷When they have accomplished the days, it shall be that on the eighth day, and forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings on the altar, and your peace offerings; and I will accept you, says the Lord GOD.”

44 Then he brought me back by the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, which looks toward the east; and it was shut. ²The LORD said to me, “This gate shall be shut; it shall not be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it; for the LORD, the God of Israel, has entered in by it; therefore it shall be shut. ³As for the prince, he shall sit in it as prince to eat bread before the LORD; he shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.”

⁴Then he brought me by the way of the north gate before the house; and I looked, and look, the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD: and I fell on my face. ⁵The LORD said to me, “Son of man, mark well, and see with your eyes, and hear with your ears all that I tell you concerning all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all its laws; and mark well the entrance of the house, with every exit of the sanctuary. ⁶You shall tell the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD: you house of Israel, let it suffice you of all your abominations, ⁷in that you have brought in foreigners, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to profane it, even my house, when you offer my bread, the fat and the blood, and you^j have broken my covenant, to add to all your abominations. ⁸You have not performed the duty of my holy things; but you have set performers of my duty in my sanctuary for yourselves.’

⁹“Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘No foreigner, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any foreigners who are among the children of Israel. ¹⁰But the Levites who went far from me, when Israel went astray, who went astray from me after their idols, they shall bear their iniquity. ¹¹Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house: they shall kill the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister to them. ¹²Because they ministered to them before their idols, and became a stumbling block of iniquity to the house of Israel; therefore have I lifted up my hand against them, says the Lord GOD, and they shall bear their iniquity. ¹³They shall not come near to me, to execute the office of priest to me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, to the things that are most holy; but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed. ¹⁴Yet will I make them performers of the duty of the house, for all its service, and for all that shall be done in it.

¹⁵“But the Levitical priests, the sons of Zadok, who performed the duty of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister to me; and they shall stand before me to offer to me the fat and the blood, says the Lord GOD: ¹⁶they shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to my table, to minister to me, and they shall keep my instruction.

²⁴”In a controversy they shall stand to judge; according to my ordinances shall they judge it: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts; and they shall make my Sabbaths holy.

²⁸”They shall have an inheritance: I am their inheritance; and you shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession. ²⁹They shall eat the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering; and every devoted thing in Israel shall be theirs. ³⁰The first of all the first fruits of every thing, and every offering of everything, of all your offerings, shall be for the priest: you shall also give to the priests the first of your dough, to cause a blessing to rest on your house. ³¹The priests shall not eat of anything that dies of itself, or is torn, whether it be bird or animal.

45 “Moreover, when you shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, you shall offer an offering to the LORD, a holy portion of the land; the length shall be the length of eight and one eighth miles,^a and the breadth shall be six and a half miles.^b It shall be holy in all its border all around. ²Of this there shall be for the holy place eight hundred sixty-one feet three inches^c in length by eight hundred sixty-one feet three inches in breadth, square all around; and eighty-six feet two inches^d for its suburbs all around. ³Of this measure you shall measure a length of eight and one eighth miles,^e and a breadth of three and one quarter miles:^f and in it shall be the sanctuary, which is most holy. ⁴It is a holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, who come near to minister to the LORD; and it shall be a place for their houses, and a holy place for the sanctuary. ⁵Eight and one eighth miles^g in length, and three and one quarter miles^h in breadth, shall be to the Levites, the ministers of the house. It will be their possession for cities to live in.ⁱ

⁶”You shall appoint the possession of the city one and two-thirds miles^j broad, and eight and one eighth miles,^k long, side by side with the offering of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

⁷”Whatever is for the prince shall be on the one side and on the other side of the holy offering and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy offering and in front of the possession of the city, on the west side westward, and on the east side eastward; and in length answerable to one of the portions, from the west border to the east border. ⁸In the land it shall be to him for a possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppress my people; but they shall give the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.⁷

dispossessing my people, says the Lord GOD. ¹⁰You shall have just balances, and a just ephah,¹ and a just bath. ¹¹The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of a homer^m, and the ephah the tenth part of a homer: its measure shall be after the homer. ¹²The shekel shall be twenty gerahs. Twenty shekels plus twenty-five shekels plus fifteen shekels shall be your mina.

²¹”In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, you shall have the Passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten. ²²On that day shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bull for a sin offering. ²³The seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the LORD, seven bulls and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days; and a male goat daily for a sin offering. ²⁴He shall prepare a meal offering, an ephah for a bull, and an ephah for a ram, and a hin of oil to an ephah. ²⁵In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, shall he do the like the seven days; according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meal offering, and according to the oil.⁷

²¹Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and look, in every corner of the court there was a court. ²²In the four corners of the court there were courts enclosed, sixty-eight feet eleven inches^b long and fifty-one feet eight inches^c broad: these four in the corners were of one measure. ²³There was a wall around in them, around the four, and boiling places were made under the walls all around. ²⁴Then he said to me, “These are the boiling houses, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.”

47 He brought me back to the door of the house; and look, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward; (for the forefront of the house was toward the east;) and the waters came down from under, from the right side of the house, on the south of the altar. ²Then he brought me out by the way of the gate northward, and led me round by the way outside to the outer gate, by the way of the gate that looks toward the east; and look, there ran out waters on the right side.

³When the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand, he measured one thousand seven hundred twenty-two feet six inches,^d and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. ⁴Again he measured one thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured one thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the waist. ⁵Afterward he measured one thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through; for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through. ⁶He said to me, “Son of man, have you seen this?”

Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the bank of the river. ⁷Now when I had returned, look, on the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other. ⁸Then he said to me, “These waters issue forth toward the eastern region, and shall go down into the Arabah; and they shall go toward the sea; into the sea shall the waters go which were made to issue forth; and the waters shall be healed. ⁹It shall happen, that every living creature which swarms, in every place where the river goes, shall live; and there shall be a very great multitude of fish; for these waters have come there, and the waters of the sea shall be healed, and everything shall live wherever the river comes. ¹⁰It shall happen, that fishermen shall stand by it: from En Gedi even to En Eglaim shall be a place for the spreading of nets; their fish shall be after their kinds, as the fish of the Great Sea, exceeding many. ¹¹But the miry places of it, and its marshes, shall not be healed; they shall be given up to salt. ¹²By the river on its bank, on this side and on that side, shall grow every tree for food, whose leaf shall not wither, neither shall its fruit fail: it shall bring forth new fruit every month, because its waters issue out of the sanctuary; and its fruit shall be for food, and its leaf for healing.”

¹³“Thus says the Lord GOD: ‘This shall be the border, by which you shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have two portions. ¹⁴You shall inherit it, one as well as another; for I swore to give it to your fathers: and this land shall fall to you for inheritance.

¹⁵“This shall be the border of the land: On the north side, from the Great Sea, by the way of Hethlon, to the entrance of Zedad; ¹⁶Hamath, Berothah, Sibram, which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath; Hazer Hatticon, which is by the border of Hauran. ¹⁷The border from the sea, shall be Hazer Enon at the border of Damascus; and on the north northward is the border of Hamath. This is the north side. ¹⁸The east side, between Hauran and Damascus and Gilead, and the land of Israel, shall be the Jordan; from the north border to the eastern sea [as far as] Tamar.^e This is the east side. ¹⁹The south side southward shall be from Tamar as far as the waters of Meriboth Kadesh, to the Wadi, to the Great Sea. ²¹”So you shall divide this land to you according to the tribes of Israel. ²²It shall happen, that you shall divide it by lot for an inheritance to you and to the aliens who live among you, who shall father children among you; and they shall be to you as the native-born among the children of Israel; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. ²³It shall happen, that in what tribe the stranger lives, there you shall give him his inheritance,” says the Lord GOD.”

48 “Now these are the names of the tribes: From the north end, beside the way of Hethlon to Lebo Hamath, Hazar Enan at the border of Damascus, northward beside Hamath (and they shall have their sides east and west), Dan, one portion. ²By the border of Dan, from the east side to the west side, Asher, one portion. ³By the border of Asher, from the east side even to the west side, Naphtali, one portion. ⁴By the border of Naphtali, from the east side to the west side, Manasseh, one portion. ⁵By the border of Manasseh, from the east side to the west side, Ephraim, one portion. ⁶By the border of Ephraim, from the east side even to the west side, Reuben, one portion. ⁷By the border of Reuben, from the east side to the west side, Judah, one portion.

¹⁵”The five thousand that are left in the breadth, in front of the twenty-five thousand, shall be for common use, for the city, for dwelling and for suburbs; and the city shall be in its midst. ¹⁶These shall be its measures: the north side four thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five^a hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred. ¹⁷The city shall have suburbs: toward the north two hundred fifty, and toward the south two hundred fifty, and toward the east two hundred fifty, and toward the west two hundred fifty. ¹⁸The remainder in the length, answerable to the holy offering, shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward; and it shall be answerable to the holy offering; and its increase shall be for food to those who labor in the city. ¹⁹Those who labor in the city, out of all the tribes of Israel, shall cultivate it. ²⁰All the offering shall be twenty-five thousand by twenty-five thousand: you shall offer the holy offering foursquare, with the possession of the city.

³⁰”These are the exits of the city: On the north side four thousand and five hundred reeds by measure; ³¹and the gates of the city shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel, three gates northward: the gate of Reuben, one; the gate of Judah, one; the gate of Levi, one. ³²At the east side four thousand and five hundred reeds, and three gates: even the gate of Joseph, one; the gate of Benjamin, one; the gate of Dan, one. ³³At the south side four thousand and five hundred reeds by measure, and three gates: the gate of Simeon, one; the gate of Issachar, one; the gate of Zebulun, one. ³⁴At the west side four thousand and five hundred reeds, with their three gates: the gate of Gad, one; the gate of Asher, one; the gate of Naphtali, one. ³⁵It shall be eighteen thousand reeds around: and the name of the city from that day shall be, ‘The LORD is there.’”^b

Daniel

1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to Jerusalem, and besieged it. ²The Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God; and he carried them into the land of Shinar to the house of his god: and he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god. ³The king spoke to Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring in some of the people of Israel, even of the royal family and of the nobles; ⁴youths in whom was no blemish, but well-favored, and skillful in all wisdom, and endowed with knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability to stand in the king’s palace; and that he should teach them the learning and the language of the Chaldeans. ⁵The king appointed for them a daily portion of the king’s royal food, and of the wine which he drank, and that they should be nourished three years; that at its end they should stand before the king. ⁶Now among these were, of the people of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. ⁷The prince of the eunuchs gave names to them: to Daniel he gave the name of Belteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Mishael, of Meshach; and to Azariah, of Abednego. ⁸But Daniel determined in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's royal food, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself. ⁹Now God gave Daniel favor and compassion in the sight of the prince of the eunuchs. ¹⁰The prince of the eunuchs said to Daniel, "I fear my lord the king, who has appointed your food and your drink: for why should he see your faces worse looking than the youths who are of your own age? So would you endanger my head with the king?" ¹¹Then said Daniel to the steward whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: ¹²"Test your servants for ten days; and let them give us vegetables to eat, and water to drink. ¹³Then let our faces be looked on before you, and the face of the youths who eat of the king's royal food; and as you see, deal with your servants." ¹⁴So he listened to them in this matter, and tested them ten days. ¹⁵At the end of ten days their faces appeared better and fatter than all the youths who ate of the king's royal food. ¹⁶So the steward took away their royal food, and the wine that they should drink, and gave them vegetables. ¹⁷Now as for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom: and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams. ¹⁸At the end of the days which the king had appointed for bringing them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. ¹⁹The king talked with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore they entered the king's service. ²⁰In every matter of wisdom and understanding, concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters who were in all his realm. ²¹Daniel continued even to the first year of king Koresh.

2 In the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar had dreams; and his spirit was troubled, and his sleep went from him. ²Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the enchanters, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and stood before the king. ³The king said to them, "I have had a dream, and my spirit is anxious to understand the dream." ⁴Then spoke the Chaldeans to the king in the Aramaic language, "O king, live forever: tell your servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation." ⁵The king answered the Chaldeans, "The thing is gone from me: if you do not make known to me the dream and its interpretation, you shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a rubbish heap. ⁶But if you show the dream and its interpretation, you shall receive from me gifts and rewards and great honor: therefore show me the dream and its interpretation." ⁷They answered the second time and said, "Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation." ⁸The king answered, "I know of a certainty that you would gain time, because you see the thing is gone from me. ⁹But if you do not make known to me the dream, there is but one law for you; for you have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, until such time that things might change. Therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that you can show me its interpretation." ¹⁰The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, "There is not a man on the earth who can show the king's matter, because no king, lord, or ruler, has asked such a thing of any magician, or enchanter, or Chaldean. ¹¹It is a rare thing that the king requires, and there is no other who can show it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh." ¹²For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon. ¹³So the decree went forth, and the wise men were to be killed; and they sought Daniel and his companions to be killed. ¹⁴Then Daniel returned an answer with counsel and prudence to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, who was gone forth to kill the wise men of Babylon; ¹⁵he answered Arioch the king's captain, "Why is the decree so urgent from the king?" Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. ¹⁶Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would appoint him a time, and he would show the king the interpretation. ¹⁷Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions: ¹⁸that they would seek mercy from the God of heaven concerning this secret; that Daniel and his companions should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. ¹⁹Then was the secret revealed to Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven. ²⁰Daniel answered, "Blessed be the name of God forever and ever; for wisdom and might are his. ²¹He changes the times and the seasons; he removes kings, and sets up kings; he gives wisdom to the wise, and knowledge to those who have understanding; ²²he reveals the deep and secret things; he knows what is in the darkness, and the light dwells with him. ²³I thank you, and praise you, God of my fathers, who has given me wisdom and might, and has now made known to me what we desired of you; for you have made known to us the king's matter." ²⁴Therefore Daniel went in to Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon; he went and said this to him: "Do not destroy the wise men of Babylon; bring me in before the king, and I will show to the king the interpretation." ²⁵Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said this to him, "I have found a man of the children of the captivity of Judah, who will make known to the king the interpretation." ²⁶The king answered Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, "Are you able to make known to me the dream which I have seen, and its interpretation?" ²⁷Daniel answered before the king, and said, "The secret which the king has demanded is such that no wise men, enchanters, magicians, nor soothsayers, can show to the king; ²⁸but there is a God in heaven who reveals secrets, and he has made known to king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Your dream, and the visions of your head on your bed, are these: ²⁹as for you, O king, your thoughts came into your mind on your bed, what should happen hereafter; and he who reveals secrets has made known to you what shall happen. ³⁰But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than all the living, but in order that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that you may know the thoughts of your heart. ³¹You, O king, saw, and look, a great image. This image, which was mighty, and whose brightness was extraordinary, stood before you; and its appearance was awesome. ³²As for this image, its head was of fine gold, its breast and its arms of silver, its belly and its thighs of bronze, ³³its legs of iron, its feet part of iron, and part of clay. ³⁴You saw until a stone was cut out without hands, which struck the image on its feet that were of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces. ³⁵Then was the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold, broken in pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing floors; and the wind carried them away, so that no place was found for them: and the stone that struck the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth. ³⁶This is the dream; and we will tell its interpretation before the king. ³⁷You, O king, are king of kings, to whom the God of heaven has given the kingdom, the power, and the strength, and the glory; ³⁸and wherever human beings dwell, the animals of the field and the birds of the sky has he given into your hand, and has made you to rule over them all: you are the head of gold. ³⁹After you shall arise another kingdom inferior to yours; and another third kingdom of bronze, which shall bear rule over all the earth. ⁴⁰The fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron, because iron breaks in pieces and subdues all things; and as iron that crushes all these, shall it break in pieces and crush. ⁴¹Whereas you saw the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, because you saw the iron mixed with miry clay. ⁴²As the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly broken. ⁴³And^a whereas you saw the iron mixed with miry clay, they shall mix with one another but they shall not hold together, even as iron does not mix with clay. ⁴⁴In the days of those kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed, nor shall its sovereignty be left to another people; but it shall break in pieces and consume all those kingdoms, and it shall stand forever. ⁴⁵Because you saw that a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God has made known to the king what shall happen hereafter: and the dream is certain, and its interpretation sure.“ ⁴⁶Then king Nebuchadnezzar fell on his face, and worshiped Daniel, and commanded that they should present an offering and incense to him. ⁴⁷The king answered Daniel and said, “Surely your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing you have been able to reveal this secret.” ⁴⁸Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him to rule over the whole province of Babylon, and to be chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. ⁴⁹Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel was in the gate of the king.

3 Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was eighty-eight feet seven inches,^b and its breadth eight feet ten inches:^c he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon. ²Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counselors, the magistrates, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. ³Then the satraps, the prefects, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counselors, the magistrates, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together to the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up. ⁴Then the herald cried aloud, “To you it is commanded, peoples, nations, and languages, ⁵that whenever you hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, trigon, harp, pipe, and all kinds of music, you fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king has set up; ⁶and whoever doesn’t fall down and worship shall the same hour be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.” ⁷Therefore at that time, when all the peoples heard the sound of the horn, flute, zither, trigon, harp, pipe,^d and all kinds of music, all the peoples, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshiped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. ⁸Therefore at that time certain Chaldeans came near, and brought accusation against the Jews. ⁹They answered Nebuchadnezzar the king, “O king, live for ever. ¹⁰You, O king, have made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, trigon, harp, pipe, and all kinds of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image; ¹¹and whoever doesn’t fall down and worship shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. ¹²There are certain Jews whom you have appointed over the affairs of the province of Babylon: Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. These men, O king, have not regarded you: they do not serve your gods, nor worship the golden image which you have set up.” ¹³Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. Then they brought these men before the king. ¹⁴Nebuchadnezzar answered them, “Is it on purpose, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, that you do not serve my god, nor worship the golden image which I have set up? ¹⁵Now if you are ready whenever you hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, trigon, harp, pipe, and all kinds of music to fall down and worship the image which I have made, well: but if you do not worship, you shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and who is that god that shall deliver you out of my hands?” ¹⁶Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered the king, “Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer you in this matter. ¹⁷If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of your hand, O king. ¹⁸But if not, be it known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods, nor worship the golden image which you have set up.” ¹⁹Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of fury, and the expression of his face was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. Therefore he spoke, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was usually heated. ²⁰He commanded certain mighty men who were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. ²¹Then these men were bound in their cloaks, trousers, their turbans, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. ²²Therefore because the king’s commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire killed those men who took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. ²³These three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. ²⁴Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up quickly. He spoke and said to his ministers, “Did we not cast three men bound into the midst of the fire?” They answered the king, “True, O king.” ²⁵He answered, “Look, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they are unharmed; and the aspect of the fourth is like a son of the gods.” ²⁶Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace. He spoke and said, “Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, you servants of the Most High God, come forth, and come here.” Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came forth out of the midst of the fire. ²⁷The satraps, the prefects, and the governors, and the king’s ministers, being gathered together, saw these men, that the fire had no power on their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their trousers changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them. ²⁸Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said, “Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who has sent his angel, and delivered his servants who trusted in him, and have changed the king’s word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God. ²⁹Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, and language, which speak anything evil against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be reduced to rubble; because there is no other god who is able to deliver in this way.” ³⁰Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in the province of Babylon.

4 “Nebuchadnezzar the king, to all the peoples, nations, and languages, who dwell in all the earth: Peace be multiplied to you. ²It has seemed good to me to show the signs and wonders that the Most High God has worked toward me. ³How great are his signs and how mighty are his wonders. His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation. ⁴I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace. ⁵I saw a dream which made me afraid; and the thoughts on my bed and the visions of my head troubled me. ⁶Therefore I made a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known to me the interpretation of the dream. ⁷Then came in the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the diviners; and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known to me its interpretation. ⁸But finally Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods: and I told the dream before him, saying, ⁹“Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in you, and no secret troubles you, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and its interpretation. ¹⁰Thus were the visions of my head on my bed: I saw, and look, a tree in the midst of the earth; and its height was great. ¹¹The tree grew, and was strong, and its height reached to the sky, and it could be seen anywhere on earth. ¹²The leaves of it were beautiful, and its fruit much, and in it was food for all. The animals of the field had shadow under it, and the birds of the sky lived in its branches, and all flesh was fed from it. ¹³I saw in the visions of my head on my bed, and look, a watcher and a holy one came down from the sky. ¹⁴He cried aloud, and said this, “Cut down the tree, and cut off its branches, shake off its leaves, and scatter its fruit. Let the animals get away from under it, and the fowls from its branches. ¹⁵Nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and bronze, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of the sky: and let his portion be with the animals in the grass of the earth. ¹⁶Let his mind be changed from man’s, and let an animal’s mind be given to him; and let seven times pass over him. ¹⁷The sentence is by the decree of the watchers, and the decision is a command of the holy ones; so that^a the living may know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to anyone he wants, and sets up over it the lowliest of men. ¹⁸This dream I, king Nebuchadnezzar, have seen; and you, Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, because all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known to me the interpretation. But you are able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in you.” ¹⁹Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was stricken mute for a while, and his thoughts troubled him. The king answered, Belteshazzar, “Do not let the dream, or the interpretation, trouble you.” Belteshazzar answered, “My lord, the dream concerns those who hate you, and its interpretation to your adversaries. ²⁰The tree that you saw, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached to the sky, and its sight to all the earth; ²¹whose leaves were beautiful, and its fruit much, and in it was food for all; under which the animals of the field lived, and on whose branches the birds of the sky had their habitation. ²²It is you, O king, that are grown and become strong; for your greatness is grown, and reaches to the sky, and your dominion to the most distant part of the earth. ²³Whereas the king saw a watcher and a holy one coming down from the sky, and saying, ‘Cut down the tree, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and bronze, in the tender grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of the sky: and let his portion be with the animals of the field, until seven times pass over him. ²⁴This is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which is come on my lord the king: ²⁵that you shall be driven from men, and your dwelling shall be with the animals of the field, and you shall be made to eat grass as oxen, and shall be wet with the dew of the sky, and seven times shall pass over you; until you know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomever he will. ²⁶Whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the roots of the tree; your kingdom shall be restored to you. After that you shall have known that the heavens do rule. ²⁷Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to you, and break off your sins by righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the poor; if there may be a lengthening of your prosperity.” ²⁸All this came on the king Nebuchadnezzar. ²⁹At the end of twelve months he was walking in the royal palace of Babylon. ³⁰The king spoke and said, “Is not this great Babylon, which I have built for the royal dwelling place, by the might of my power and for the glory of my majesty?” ³¹While the word was in the king’s mouth, there fell a voice from the sky, saying, “O king Nebuchadnezzar, to you it is spoken. The kingdom has departed from you, ³²and you shall be driven from men; and your dwelling shall be with the animals of the field; you shall be made to eat grass as oxen; and seven times shall pass over you; until you know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomever he wants.” ³³The same hour was the thing fulfilled on Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and ate grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of the sky, until his hair was grown like eagles’ feathers, and his nails like birds’ claws. ³⁴“At the end of the days I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted up my eyes to heaven, and my understanding returned to me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honored him who lives forever. For his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom from generation to generation. ³⁵All the inhabitants of the earth are regarded as nothing; and he does according to his will in the host of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth; and none can stay his hand, or tell him, “What have you done?” ³⁶At the same time my understanding returned to me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and splendor returned to me; and my counselors and my lords sought me out; and I was reinstated^b over my kingdom, and even more greatness was added to me. ³⁷Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and extol and honor the King of heaven; for all his works are truth, and his ways justice; and those who walk in pride he is able to humble.”

5 Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand. ²Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem; that the king and his lords, his wives and his secondary wives, might drink from them. ³Then they brought the gold and silver^c vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God^d which was at Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives and his secondary wives, drank from them. ⁴They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of bronze, of iron, of wood, and of stone. ⁵In the same hour came forth the fingers of a man’s hand, and wrote over against the lampstand on the plaster of the wall of the king’s palace: and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote. ⁶Then the king’s face was turned pale, and his thoughts troubled him; and the joints of his thighs gave way, and his knees began knocking together. ⁷The king cried aloud to bring in the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the diviners. The king spoke and said to the wise men of Babylon, “Whoever shall read this writing, and show me its interpretation, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.” ⁸Then came in all the king’s wise men; but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation. ⁹Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his face turned pale, and his lords were perplexed. ¹⁰Now the queen by reason of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house. The queen spoke and said, “O king, live forever; do not let your thoughts trouble you, nor let your face be changed. ¹¹There is a man in your kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of your father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, were found in him; and king Nebuchadnezzar your father, your father the king, made him chief of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and diviners; ¹²because an extraordinary spirit, and knowledge, and understanding to interpret^e dreams, explain riddles, and solve knotty problems^f were found in this Daniel, whom the king named

Belshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will show the interpretation.”¹³Then was Daniel brought in before the king. The king spoke and said to Daniel, “Are you that Daniel, who are of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah?”¹⁴I have heard of you, that the spirit of the gods is in you, and that light and understanding and extraordinary wisdom are found in you.¹⁵Now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known to me its interpretation; but they could not show the interpretation of the thing.¹⁶But I have heard of you, that you can give interpretations, and solve problems. Now if you can read the writing, and make known to me its interpretation, you shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about your neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.”¹⁷Then Daniel answered before the king, “Keep your gifts for yourself, and give your rewards to another; Nevertheless I will read the writing to the king, and make known to him the interpretation.¹⁸You king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar your father the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty.¹⁹And because of the greatness that he gave him, all the peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him. Whom he would he killed, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down.²⁰But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened so that he dealt proudly, he was removed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him.²¹And he was driven from the sons of men, and his mind was made like the animals’, and his dwelling was with the wild donkeys. He was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of the sky; until he knew that the Most High God rules in the kingdom of men, and that he sets up over it whomever he wants.²²You his son, Belshazzar, have not humbled your heart, though you knew all this,²³but have lifted up yourself against the Lord of heaven. And they have brought the vessels of his house before you, and you and your lords, your wives and your secondary wives, have drunk wine from them. And you have praised the gods of silver and gold, of bronze, iron, wood, and stone, which do not see, nor hear, nor know. And the God in whose hand your breath is, and whose are all your ways, you have not glorified.²⁴Then was the part of the hand sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed.²⁵This is the writing that was inscribed: MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN.²⁶This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God has numbered your kingdom, and brought it to an end;²⁷TEKEL; you are weighed in the balances, and are found wanting.²⁸PERES; your kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.”²⁹Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.³⁰In that night Belshazzar the Chaldean King was slain.³¹Daravush^a the Mede received the kingdom, being about sixty-two years old.

6 It pleased Daravush to set over the kingdom one hundred twenty satraps, who should be throughout the whole kingdom;²and over them three administrators, of whom Daniel was one; that these satraps might give account to them, and that the king might not suffer loss.³Then this Daniel was distinguished above the administrators and the satraps, because an extraordinary spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.⁴Then the administrators and the satraps sought to find a charge against Daniel regarding the kingdom; but they could find no charge or fault, because he was faithful. Neither was there any error or fault found in him.⁵Then these men said, “We will not find any charge against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God.”⁶Then these administrators and satraps assembled together to the king, and said this to him, “King Daravush, live forever.⁷All the administrators of the kingdom, the deputies and the satraps, the counselors and the governors, have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a strong decree, that whoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, except of you, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.⁸Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing, that it not be changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be changed.”⁹Therefore king Daravush signed the writing and the decree.¹⁰When Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house (now his windows were open in his chamber toward Jerusalem) and he kneeled on his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did before.¹¹Then these men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and petition before his God.¹²Then they came near, and spoke before the king concerning the king’s decree. “Haven’t you signed a decree, that every man who shall make petition to any god or man within thirty days, except to you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions?” The king answered, “The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be changed.”¹³Then they answered and said before the king, “That Daniel, who is of the children of the captivity of Judah, doesn’t regard you, O king, nor the decree that you have signed, but makes his petition three times a day.”¹⁴Then the king, when he heard these words, was very displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him. And he labored until the going down of the sun to rescue him.¹⁵Then these men assembled together to the king, and said to the king, “Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians, that no decree nor statute which the king establishes may be changed.”¹⁶Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spoke and said to Daniel, “Your God whom you serve continually, he will deliver you.”¹⁷A stone was brought, and placed on the opening of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel.¹⁸Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting; neither were instruments of music brought before him. And his sleep fled from him.¹⁹Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste to the den of lions.²⁰When he came near to the den to Daniel, he cried with a lamentable voice. The king spoke and said to Daniel, “Daniel, servant of the living God. Is your God, whom you serve continually, able to deliver you from the lions?”²¹Then said Daniel to the king, “O king, live forever.²²My God has sent his angel, and has shut the lions’ mouths, and they have not hurt me; because before him innocence was found in me; and also before you, O king, have I done no wrong.”²³Then was the king exceedingly glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found on him, because he had trusted in his God.²⁴The king commanded, and they brought those men who had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions overpowered them, and broke all their bones in pieces, before they came to the bottom of the den.²⁵Then king Daravush wrote to all the peoples, nations, and languages, who dwell in all the earth: “Peace be multiplied to you.²⁶I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel; for he is the living God, and steadfast forever. His kingdom shall not be destroyed; and his dominion shall be to the end.²⁷He delivers and rescues, and he works signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who has delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.”²⁸So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Daravush, and in the reign of Koresh the Persian.

7 In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel had a dream and visions in his mind on his bed. Then he wrote the dream and told the summary of it. ²Daniel spoke and said, "I saw in my vision by night, and, look, the four winds of the sky broke forth on the great sea. ³Four great animals came up from the sea, different from one another. ⁴The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings. I saw until its wings were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand on two feet as a man; and a man's mind was given to it. ⁵And look, another animal, a second one, like a bear; and it was raised up on one side, and three ribs were in its mouth between its teeth. And they said this to it, 'Arise, devour much flesh.' ⁶After this I saw, and look, another one, like a leopard, which had on its back four wings of a bird. The animal also had four heads; and dominion was given to it. ⁷After this I saw in the night visions, and look, a fourth animal, awesome and powerful, and extremely strong. And it had great iron teeth. It devoured and broke in pieces, and stamped what was left with its feet. And it was diverse from all the animals that were before it; and it had ten horns. ⁸I considered the horns, and look, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots. And look, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking arrogant things. ⁹I saw until thrones were placed, and the Ancient of Days took his seat. His clothing was white as snow, and the hair of his head like pure wool. His throne was fiery flames, and its wheels burning fire. ¹⁰A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him. Thousands of thousands ministered to him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him. The court sat in judgment, and the books were opened. ¹¹I saw at that time because of the voice of the arrogant words which the horn spoke. I was watching until the animal was killed and its body destroyed and was given to be burned with fire. ¹²As for the rest of the animals, their dominion was taken away, yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time. ¹³I saw in the night visions, and look, there came with the clouds of the sky one like a son of man,^a and he came even to the Ancient of Days, and they brought him near before him. ¹⁴There was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all the peoples, nations, and languages should serve him. His dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed. ¹⁵As for me, Daniel, my spirit was grieved in the midst of my body, and the visions of my mind troubled me. ¹⁶I came near to one of those who stood by, and asked him the true meaning concerning all this. So he told me, and revealed to me the interpretation of these things. ¹⁷These great animals, which are four, are four kings, who shall arise out of the earth. ¹⁸But the holy ones of the Most High shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom forever, forever and ever. ¹⁹Then I desired to know the true meaning concerning the fourth animal, which was different from all of them, exceedingly terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and its claws of bronze; which devoured, broke in pieces, and stamped what was left with its feet. ²⁰And concerning the ten horns that were on its head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three fell, even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spoke arrogant things, whose look was larger than the others. ²¹I saw, and the same horn made war with the holy ones, and prevailed against them, ²²until the Ancient of Days came, and judgment was given to the holy ones of the Most High, and the time came that the holy ones possessed the kingdom. ²³This he said, 'The fourth animal shall be a fourth kingdom on earth, which shall be different from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces. ²⁴As for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise, and another shall arise after them; and he shall be diverse from the former, and he shall put down three kings. ²⁵He shall speak words against the Most High, and shall oppress the holy ones of the Most High; and he shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given over to him until a time and times and half a time. ²⁶And the court shall sit in judgment, and they shall take away his dominion, consumed and completely destroyed forever. ²⁷The kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the holy ones of the Most High. His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him.' ²⁸Here is the end of the matter. As for me, Daniel, my thoughts troubled me greatly, and my face turned pale. I kept the matter to myself."

8 In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar a vision appeared to me, Daniel, after that which appeared to me previously. ²And I saw in the vision, and when I looked, I was in the citadel of Shushan, which is in the province of Elam. And I saw in the vision, and I was by the river Ulai. ³Then I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and look, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns. And the two horns were long, but one was longer than the other, and the longer one came up last. ⁴I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; and no animals could stand before him, neither was there any who could deliver out of his hand. But he did according to his will, and became great. ⁵As I was considering, look, a male goat came from the west over the surface of the whole earth, and did not touch the ground. And the goat had a prominent horn between his eyes. ⁶He came to the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, and rushed at him in the fury of his power. ⁷I saw him come close to the ram, and he was moved with anger against him, and struck the ram, and broke his two horns. And there was no power in the ram to stand before him, but he threw him down to the ground and trampled on him, and there was no one who could deliver the ram from his power. ⁸The male goat became very strong. But when he was strong, the large horn was broken; and instead of it there came up four prominent horns toward the four winds of heaven. ⁹Out of one of them came forth a little horn, which grew exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the beautiful land. ¹⁰It grew so great that it reached to the host of heaven, and some of the host and of the stars it cast down to the ground, and trampled on them. ¹¹And it magnified itself, even against the Prince of the host; and it took away from him the daily sacrifice, and the place of his sanctuary was thrown down. ¹²The host was given over to it together with the daily sacrifice because of transgression. And it cast down truth to the ground, and kept prospering. ¹³Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said to that certain one who spoke, "How long shall be the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, and the transgression that makes desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trampled?" ¹⁴He said to me, "To two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings; then shall the sanctuary be restored to its rightful state." ¹⁵It came about when I, Daniel, had seen the vision, that I sought to understand it. And look, there stood before me someone who appeared to be a man. ¹⁶I heard a man's voice between the banks of the Ulai, and called out and said, "Gabriel, make this man understand the vision." ¹⁷So he came near where I stood, and when he came I was frightened, and fell prostrate. But he said to me, "Understand, son of man, that the vision belongs to the time of the end." ¹⁸Now as he was speaking with me, I fell into a deep sleep with my face toward the ground; but he touched me, and stood me upright. ¹⁹He said, "Look, I will make you know what shall be in the latter time of wrath, for it belongs to the appointed time of the end. ²⁰The ram which you saw, that had the two horns, they are the kings of Media and Persia. ²¹The male goat is the king of Greece, and the large horn that is between his eyes is the first king. . ²²As for that which was broken, in the place where four stood up, four kingdoms shall arise out of his^a nation, but not with his power. ²³In the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressions^b have reached their full measure,^c a rash and deceitful king shall arise. ²⁴His power shall be great, but not by his own strength; and he shall cause terrible destruction, and shall succeed in whatever he does. And he shall destroy the mighty and the holy people. ²⁵Through his cunning he shall cause deceit to prosper by his influence, and he shall be great in his own mind, and without warning he shall destroy many. He shall also stand up against the Prince of princes; but he shall be shattered, but not by human hands. ²⁶The vision of the evenings and mornings which has been told is true; but seal up the vision because it refers to many days from now.” ²⁷I, Daniel, was overcome, and was ill for days. Then I rose up, and carried out the king’s business. And I was astonished by the vision, but there was no one to explain it.

9 In the first year of Darayavush the son of Achashyerosh, of Median descent, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans-- ²in the first year of his reign I, Daniel, understood from the books the number of the years about which the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet, for the completion of the desolation of Jerusalem, seventy years. ³And I turned to the Lord God, to seek by prayer and petitions, with fasting and sackcloth and ashes. ⁴I prayed to the LORD my God, and made this confession, “O Lord, the great and awesome God, who keeps his covenant and loving kindness with those who love him and keep his commandments. ⁵We have sinned, and have done what is wrong and wicked, and have rebelled, even turning aside from your commandments and from your ordinances. ⁶Neither have we listened to your servants the prophets, who spoke in your name to our kings, our leaders, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land. ⁷Lord, righteousness belongs to you, but to us open shame, as at this day, to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel, who are near, and who are far off, through all the countries where you have driven them, because of their unfaithful deeds that they have committed against you. ⁸ LORD, to us belongs open shame, to our kings, to our leaders, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against you. ⁹To the Lord our God belong compassion and forgiveness, for we have rebelled against him. ¹⁰And have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets. ¹¹Yes, all Israel has transgressed your law, and turned away, refusing to obey your voice. Therefore has the curse been poured out on us, and the oath that is written in the Law of Moses the servant of God, for we have sinned against you. ¹²He has confirmed his words, which he spoke against us, and against our rulers who ruled us, by bringing on us a great calamity; for under the whole heaven such has not been done as has been done on Jerusalem. ¹³As it is written in the Law of Moses, all this calamity has come on us. Yet have we not tried to gain the favor of the LORD our God, that we should turn from our iniquities, and have discernment in your truth. ¹⁴Therefore has the LORD watched over the calamity, and brought it on us, for the LORD our God is just in all he has done, and we have not obeyed his voice. ¹⁵”And now, Lord our God, who has brought your people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and have made a name for yourself, even to this day; we have sinned, we have done wickedly. ¹⁶Lord, according to all your righteousness, let your anger and please let your wrath be turned away from your city Jerusalem, your holy mountain; because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and your people have become a reproach to all who are around us. ¹⁷Now therefore, our God, listen to the prayer of your servant, and to his petitions, and cause your face to shine on your sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord’s sake. ¹⁸My God, turn your ear, and hear; open your eyes, and see our desolation, and the city which is called by your name. For we do not present our petitions before you for our righteousness, but for your great mercy. ¹⁹Lord, hear. Lord, forgive. Lord, listen and take action. Do not delay, for your own sake, my God, because your city and your people are called by your name.” ²⁰While I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my petition before the LORD my God for the holy mountain of my God, ²¹while I was speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, came to me in my weariness about the time of the evening sacrifice. ²²He instructed me, and talked with me, and said, “Daniel, I have now come forth to give you wisdom and understanding. ²³At the beginning of your petitions the commandment went forth, and I have come to tell you, for you are greatly loved. Therefore consider the matter, and understand the vision. ²⁴Seventy weeks are decreed on your people and on your holy city, to put an end to the transgression, and to make an end to sin, and to atone for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most holy place. ²⁵Know therefore and understand that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem until the time of the Messiah, the Prince, there shall be seven weeks, and sixty-two weeks. It shall be built again, with open spaces and a moat, but in times of distress. ²⁶After the sixty-two weeks the Messiah shall be cut off, and shall have nothing. And the people of a ruler who shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and his end shall come with a flood, and until the end there shall be war; desolations are decreed. ²⁷He shall make a firm covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the offering to cease. And on the wing of abominations shall come one who destroys, and even until a complete destruction, until the decreed end is poured out on the one who destroys.”

10 In the third year of Koresh king of Persia a word was revealed to Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar; and the word was true: a great war. And he understood the word, and had understanding of the vision. ²In those days I, Daniel, was mourning for three whole weeks. ³I had no pleasing food, neither meat nor wine came into my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, until three whole weeks were fulfilled. ⁴In the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is the Tigris,^d ⁵I lifted up my eyes and looked, and look, a man clothed in linen, around his waist a belt made of pure gold from Uphaz. ⁶His body was like beryl, and his face like the appearance of lightning, and his eyes like flaming torches, and his arms and his feet like burnished bronze, and the sound of his words like the sound of a multitude. ⁷I, Daniel, alone saw the vision; for the men who were with me did not see the vision; but a great trembling fell on them, and they fled to hide themselves. ⁸So I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me; for my natural appearance grew deathly pale, and I retained no strength. ⁹Yet I heard the sound of his words, and when I heard the sound of his words, then I fell into a deep sleep on my face, with my face toward the ground. ¹⁰Look, a hand touched me, which set me on my knees and on the palms of my hands. ¹¹He said to me, “Daniel, man greatly loved, understand the words that I speak to you, and stand upright; for I have now been sent to you.” And when he had spoken this word to me, I stood trembling. ¹²Then he said to me, “Do not be afraid, Daniel; for from the first day that you did set your heart to understand, and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard. And I have come because of your words. ¹³But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me twenty-one days; but, look, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me, because I was left there with the kings of Persia. ¹⁴Now I have come to make you understand what shall happen to your people in the latter days; for the vision refers to future days.” ¹⁵And when he had spoken to me according to these words, I turned my face toward the ground, and could not speak. ¹⁶And look, something like a man’s hand^a touched my lips. Then I opened my mouth and spoke and said to him who stood before me, “My lord, it is because of the vision anguish has come upon me, and I have no strength. ¹⁷For how can this servant of my lord talk with my lord? As for me, no strength remains, and I am breathless.” ¹⁸Then one like the appearance of a man touched me again and strengthened me. ¹⁹And he said, “Greatly loved man, do not be afraid, peace be to you; be strong, be strong.”

When he spoke to me, I was strengthened, and said, “Let my lord speak, for you have strengthened me.”

²⁰Then he said, “Do you know why I have come to you? Now I will return to fight with the prince of Persia. When I go forth, look, the prince of Greece shall come. ²¹But I will tell you that which is inscribed in the Book of Truth. And there is no one who contends with me against them except Michael, your prince.”

11 “And as for me, in the first year of Darayavush the Mede, I stood up to support and strengthen him. ²And now what I show you is true. Look, there shall arise three more kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be far richer than all of them; and when he has grown strong through his riches, he shall stir up all the kingdom of Greece. ³And a powerful king shall arise, who shall rule an extensive empire, and do as he pleases. ⁴When he shall arise, his kingdom shall be broken up, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven, but not to his posterity, nor according to his authority with which he ruled; for his kingdom shall be uprooted, and will go to others besides these. ⁵The king of the south shall grow strong, and one of his officers shall grow more powerful, and shall have a greater kingdom than his. ⁶At the end of years they shall join themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make an agreement: but she shall not retain her power; neither shall his strength endure; but she shall be surrendered, and her attendants, and he who became the father of her, and he who supported her in those times. ⁷But out of a shoot from her roots shall arise in his place, who shall come against the army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail. ⁸Also their gods, with their molten images, and with their precious vessels of silver and of gold, shall he carry captive into Egypt; and he shall withdraw for some years from the king of the north. ⁹And he shall come into the realm of the king of the south, but he shall return into his own land. ¹⁰And his sons shall wage war, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces, which shall advance and overflow and pass through, and they shall return and wage war, as far as his fortress. ¹¹The king of the south shall be moved with rage and shall come forth and fight against him, even with the king of the north; and he shall raise a great multitude, and the multitude shall be given into his hand. ¹²The multitude shall be taken away, and his heart shall be exalted; and he shall cast down tens of thousands, but he shall not prevail. ¹³The king of the north shall return, and shall raise a multitude greater than the former; and he shall advance after some years with a great army and with abundant supplies. ¹⁴And in those times many shall rise up against the king of the south: also the violent ones among your people shall rise up in confirmation of the vision; but they shall fail. ¹⁵So the king of the north shall come, and build up a siege mound and take a well-fortified city. And the forces of the south shall not prevail, neither his best troops, neither shall there be any strength to resist. ¹⁶But he who comes against him shall do as he pleases, and no one shall be able to withstand him. And he shall stand in the beautiful land, and destruction will be within his power. ¹⁷He shall set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, and will reach an agreement with him which he shall put into effect. And he shall give him a daughter of women to send destruction on him; but it will not last or be to his advantage. ¹⁸After this shall he turn his face to the coastal regions, and shall capture many. But a commander shall bring his insolence to an end. In addition, he shall repay him for his insolence. ¹⁹Then he shall turn his attention toward the fortresses of his own land, but he shall stumble and fall, and shall not be found again. ²⁰Then shall arise in his place one who shall send an exactor of tribute to pass through the kingdom to maintain its glory; but within few days he shall be destroyed, though not in anger nor in battle. ²¹In his place shall arise a despicable person, to whom the honor of kingship had not been given, but he shall come in a time of prosperity, and shall obtain the kingdom through deceit. ²²And large armies shall be swept away and shattered before him, as well as the prince of the covenant. ²³And after an alliance is made with him he shall work deceitfully; for he shall become strong with a small force. ²⁴In a time of prosperity he shall come even on the richest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor their fathers; he shall distribute among them plunder, and spoil, and property. He shall devise plans against their strongholds, but only for a time. ²⁵And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall wage war in battle with an extremely large and powerful army; but he shall not stand; for they shall devise plans against him. ²⁶Yes, those who eat of his royal food shall seek to destroy him, and his army shall be swept away; and many shall fall slain. ²⁷As for both these kings, their minds shall be fixed on evil, and they shall speak lies at the table; but it shall not succeed; for still the end shall be at the appointed time. ²⁸Then shall he return into his land with great property; and his mind shall be against the holy covenant. And he shall take action, and then return to his own land. ²⁹At the appointed time he shall return, and come into the south; but this time the outcome shall not be as it was before. ³⁰For ships from Kittim shall come against him; therefore he shall be intimidated, and shall turn back, and be enraged against the holy covenant, and shall take action. He shall turn back, and show regard to those who forsake the holy covenant. ³¹Forces shall come at his order, and they shall profane the sanctuary and the fortress, and shall take away the daily burnt offering, and they shall set up the abomination that causes desolation.^b ³²And those who act wickedly toward the covenant he shall corrupt by smooth words; but the people who know their God shall be strong, and take action. ³³And those who are wise among the people shall instruct many; yet they shall fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by plunder for some time. ³⁴Now when they shall fall, they shall receive a little help. And many shall join with them insincerely. ³⁵Some of those who are wise shall fall, to be refined, purified and cleansed until the time of the end; for the appointed time is still to come. ³⁶And the king shall do as he pleases. And he shall exalt and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak outrageous things against the God of gods. And he shall prosper until the indignation is accomplished; for that which is decreed shall be done. ³⁷Neither shall he regard the gods of his fathers, nor the one desired by women, nor show regard to any other god, because he shall magnify himself above all. ³⁸But instead he shall honor the god of fortresses; a god whom his fathers did not know shall he honor with gold and silver, and with valuable stones, and costly gifts.³⁹ And he shall deal with the strongest fortresses with the help of a foreign god. Whoever acknowledges him he shall grant considerable honor; and he shall make them rulers over many, and shall divide the land for a price.⁴⁰ And at the time of the end shall the king of the south attack him. And the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall invade countries, and pass through like a flood.⁴¹ He shall enter also into the beautiful land, and many countries shall be overthrown; but these shall be delivered out of his hand: Edom, and Moab, and the foremost of the sons of Ammon.⁴² He shall reach out his hand also on other countries, and the land of Egypt shall not escape.⁴³ But he shall have control over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the riches of Egypt; and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his feet.⁴⁴ But news out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him; and he shall go out with tremendous rage to destroy and utterly sweep away many.⁴⁵ And he shall pitch his royal tents between the sea and the beautiful holy mountain. Yet he shall come to his end, with no one to help him.

12 “At that time shall Michael arise, the great prince who watches over the children of your people. And there shall be a time of distress unparalleled since the beginning of the nation until that time. But at that time your people shall be delivered, everyone who shall be found written in the book.² Many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt.³ And those who are wise shall shine like the brightness of the heavens, and those who turn many to righteousness like the stars forever and ever.⁴ But you, Daniel, close up these words, and seal the book, until the time of the end. Many shall roam here and there, and knowledge^a shall increase.”

⁵Then I, Daniel, looked, and look, two others stood, one on this bank of the river, and one on the other bank of the river.⁶ And one said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, “How long shall it be till these wonders take place?”⁷ I heard the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand to heaven, and swore by him who lives forever that it shall be for a time, times, and a half; and when they have made an end of breaking in pieces the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.⁸ And I heard, but I did not understand. Then I said, “My lord, what shall be the outcome of these things?”⁹ And he said, “Go your way, Daniel, for the words are shut up and sealed until the time of the end.¹⁰ Many shall be purified, cleansed and refined; but the wicked shall act wickedly. And none of the wicked shall understand, but those who are wise shall understand.¹¹ From the time that the daily sacrifice is taken away, and the abomination that causes desolation^b is set up, there shall be one thousand two hundred ninety days.¹² Blessed is he who waits, and comes to the one thousand three hundred thirty-five days.¹³ But go your way until the end. For you shall rest, and shall rise to receive your reward at the end of the days.

Hosea

1 The word of the LORD that came to Hosea the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.² When the LORD spoke at the first by Hosea, the LORD said to Hosea, “Go, take for yourself a wife of prostitution and children of unfaithfulness; for the land commits great adultery, forsaking the LORD.”

³So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; and she conceived, and bore him a son.

⁴The LORD said to him, “Call his name ‘Jezreel,’^c for yet a little while and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel on the house of Jehu, and will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease.⁵ It will happen in that day that I will break the bow of Israel in the Valley of Jezreel.”

⁶She conceived again, and bore a daughter. Then he said to him, “Call her name ‘No Compassion,’^d for I will no longer have compassion on the house of Israel, that I should in any way pardon them.⁷ But I will have compassion on the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and will not save them by bow, or by sword, or by battle, or by chariots,^e or^f by horses, or by horsemen.”

⁸Now when she had weaned No Compassion, she conceived, and bore a son.

⁹He said, “Call his name ‘Not My People,’^g for you are ‘Not my People’ and I am ‘Not your I AM.’^h ¹⁰Yet the number of the children of Israel will be as the sand of the sea, which can’t be measured nor numbered; and it will come to pass that, in the place where it was said to them, “You are ‘Not My People,’” they will be called “Children of the Living God.”ⁱ ¹¹The people of Judah and the children of Israel will be gathered together, and they will appoint themselves one head, and will go up from the land; for great will be the day of Jezreel.

2 “Say to your brothers, ‘My People.’^j and to your sisters, ‘Compassion.’^k ²Contend with your mother.
 Contend, for she is not my wife,
 neither am I her husband;
 and let her put away her prostitution from her face,
 and her adulteries from between her breasts;
³Lest I strip her naked,
 and make her bare as in the day that she was born,
 and make her like a wilderness,
 and set her like a dry land,
 and kill her with thirst.
⁴Indeed, on her children I will have no mercy;
 for they are children of unfaithfulness;
⁵For their mother has played the prostitute.

She who conceived them has done shamefully;
 for she said, 'I will go after my lovers,
 who give me my bread and my water,
 my wool and my flax,
 my oil and my drink.'⁶Therefore, look, I will hedge up her^a way with thorns, and I will build a wall against her,
 that she can't find her way.
⁷She will follow after her lovers,
 but she won't overtake them;
 and she will seek them,
 but won't find them.
 Then she will say, 'I will go and return to my first husband;
 for then was it better with me than now.'⁸For she did not know that I gave her the grain, the new wine, and the oil,
 and multiplied to her silver and gold, which they used for Baal.
⁹Therefore I will take back my grain in its time,
 and my new wine in its season, and will pluck away my wool and my flax which should have covered her nakedness.
¹⁰Now I will uncover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers,
 and no one will deliver her out of my hand.
¹¹I will also cause all her celebrations to cease:
 her feasts, her new moons, her Sabbaths, and all her solemn assemblies.
¹²I will lay waste her vines and her fig trees, about which she has said, 'These are my wages that my lovers have given me;
 and I will make them a forest,'
 and the animals of the field shall eat them.
¹³I will visit on her the days of the Baals, to which she burned incense,
 when she decked herself with her earrings and her jewels,
 and went after her lovers,
 and forgot me," says the LORD.
¹⁴"Therefore, look, I will allure her,
 and bring her into the wilderness,
 and speak tenderly to her.
¹⁵I will give her vineyards from there,
 and the Valley of Achor for a door of hope;
 and she will respond there,
 as in the days of her youth,
 and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.
¹⁶It will be in that day," says the LORD,
 "that you will call me 'my husband,'
 and no longer call me 'my master.'
¹⁷For I will take away the names of the Baals out of her mouth, and they will no longer be mentioned by name.
¹⁸In that day I will make a covenant for them with the animals of the field,
 and with the birds of the sky,
 and with the crawling creatures of the ground.
 I will break the bow, the sword, and the battle out of the land,
 and will make them lie down safely.
¹⁹I will betroth you to me forever.
 Yes, I will betroth you to me in righteousness, in justice, in loving kindness, and in compassion.
²⁰I will even betroth you to me in faithfulness;

and you shall know the LORD.^b ²¹It will happen in that day, I will respond," says the LORD,
 "I will respond to the heavens,
 and they will respond to the earth;
²²and the earth will respond to the grain, and the new wine, and the oil;
 and they will respond to Jezreel.
²³And I will sow her for myself in the land;
 and I will have compassion on No Compassion;
 and I will say to Not My People, 'You are my people';
 and they will say, 'My God.'"^c

3 The LORD said to me, "Go again, love a woman who loves^d another, and is an adulteress, even as the LORD loves the children of Israel, though they turn to other gods, and love cakes of raisins."

²So I bought her for myself for fifteen pieces of silver and a homer and a half of barley. ³I said to her, "You shall stay with me many days. You shall not play the prostitute, and you shall not be with any other man. I will also be so toward you."

⁴For the children of Israel shall abide many days without king, and without prince, and without sacrifice, and without sacred stone, and without ephod or idols. ⁵Afterward the children of Israel shall return, and seek the LORD their God, and David their king, and shall come with trembling to the LORD and to his blessings in the last days.

4 Hear the word of the LORD, you children of Israel; for the LORD has a charge against the inhabitants of the land:
 "Indeed there is no truth,
 nor goodness,
 nor knowledge of God in the land.
²There is cursing, lying, murder, stealing, and committing adultery;
 they break boundaries, and bloodshed causes bloodshed.
³Therefore the land mourns, and all those who dwell^e in it will waste away,
 along with the animals of the field and the crawling creatures of the earth^f
 and the birds of the sky, and even the fish of the sea will be taken away.
⁴"Yet let no man bring a charge, neither let any man accuse; for your people are like those who bring charges against a priest.
⁵You will stumble in the day,
 and the prophet will also stumble with you in the night;
 and I will destroy your mother.
⁶My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge.
 Because you have rejected knowledge, I will also reject you,
 that you may be no priest to me.
 Because you have forgotten your God's law,
 I will also forget your children.
⁷As they were multiplied, so they sinned against me.
 They have exchanged^g their glory into shame.
⁸They feed on the sin of my people,
 and set their heart on their iniquity.

and will repay them for their deeds.
¹⁰They will eat, and not have enough.
 They will play the prostitute, and will not increase;
 because they have abandoned giving to the LORD.
¹¹Prostitution, wine, and new wine take away understanding.
¹²My people consult with their wooden idol,
 and answer to a stick of wood.
 Indeed the spirit of prostitution has led them astray,
 and they have been unfaithful to their God.
¹³They sacrifice on the tops of the mountains, and burn incense on the hills, under oaks and poplars and shady^a terebinths,
 because its shade is good.
 Therefore your daughters play the prostitute,
 and your brides commit adultery.
¹⁴I will not punish your daughters when they play the prostitute, nor your brides when they commit adultery;
 because the men consort with prostitutes,
 and they sacrifice with the shrine prostitutes;
 so the people without understanding will come to ruin.
¹⁵“Though you, Israel, play the prostitute, yet do not let Judah offend;
 and do not come to Gilgal,
 neither go up to Beth Aven,
 nor swear, ‘As the LORD lives.’
¹⁶For Israel has behaved extremely stubbornly, like a stubborn heifer.
 Then how will the LORD feed them like a lamb in a meadow.
¹⁷Ephraim, joined to idols,
 has placed^b stumbling blocks^c against himself.
¹⁸Their drink has become sour.
 They play the prostitute continually.
 Her rulers dearly love their shameful way.
¹⁹The wind has wrapped her up in its wings;
 and they shall be disappointed because of their sacrifices.

5 “Listen to this, you priests.
 Listen, house of Israel,
 and give ear, house of the king.
 For the judgment is against you;
 for you have been a snare at Mizpah,
 and a net spread on Tabor.
²The rebels are deep in slaughter;
 but I discipline all of them.
³I know Ephraim,
 and Israel is not hidden from me;
 for now, Ephraim, you have played the prostitute.
 Israel is defiled.
⁴Their deeds won’t allow them to turn to their God;
 for the spirit of prostitution is within them,
 and they do not know the LORD.
⁵The pride of Israel testifies to his face.
 Therefore Israel and Ephraim will stumble in their iniquity.
 Judah also will stumble with them.
⁶They will go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD;
 but they won’t find him.

He has withdrawn himself from them.
⁷They are unfaithful to the LORD;
 for they have borne illegitimate children.
 Now the new moon will devour them with their fields.
⁸“Blow the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah.
 Sound a battle cry at Beth Aven, behind you, Benjamin.
⁹Ephraim will become a desolation in the day of rebuke.
 Among the tribes of Israel, I have made known that which will surely be.
¹⁰The princes of Judah are like those who remove a landmark.
 I will pour out my wrath on them like water.
¹¹Ephraim is oppressed,
 he is crushed in judgment;
 Because he is intent in his pursuit of idols.
¹²Therefore I am to Ephraim like a moth,
 and to the house of Judah like rotteness.
¹³“When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah his wound,
 Then Ephraim went to Assyria,
 and sent to king Jareb:
 but he is not able to heal you,
 neither will he cure you of your wound.
¹⁴For I will be to Ephraim like a lion, and like a young lion to the house of Judah.
 I myself will tear in pieces and go away.
 I will carry off, and there will be no one to deliver.
¹⁵I will go and return to my place, until they acknowledge their offense,
 and seek my face.
 In their affliction they will seek me earnestly.”

6 “Come, and let us return to the LORD;
 for he has torn us to pieces,
 and he will heal us;
 he has injured us,
 and he will bind up our wounds.
²After two days he will revive us.
 On the third day he will raise us up,
 and we will live before him.
³Let us acknowledge the LORD.
 Let us press on to know the LORD.
 As surely as the sun rises,
 The LORD will appear.
 He will come to us like the rain,
 like the spring rain that waters the earth.”
⁴“Ephraim, what shall I do to you?
 Judah, what shall I do to you?
 For your love is like a morning cloud,
 and like the dew that disappears early.
⁵Therefore I have cut them to pieces with the prophets;
 I killed them with the words of my mouth,
 and my judgment goes forth as the light.^d ⁶For I desire mercy, and not sacrifice;
 and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

⁸Gilead is a city of evildoers;
it is stained with blood.

⁹As gangs of robbers wait to ambush a man,
so the company of priests murder in the way toward Shechem, committing shameful crimes.

¹⁰In the house of Israel I have seen a horrible thing.
There is prostitution in Ephraim.
Israel is defiled.

¹¹“For you also, Judah, there is a harvest appointed for you, when I restore the fortunes of my people.

7 When I would heal Israel,
then the iniquity of Ephraim is uncovered,
also the wickedness of Samaria;
for they commit falsehood,
and the thief enters in,
and the gang of robbers ravages outside.

²They do not consider in their hearts that I remember all their wickedness.

Now their own deeds have engulfed them.
They are before my face.

³They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies.

⁴They are all adulterers.
They are burning like an oven that the baker stops stirring,
from the kneading of the dough, until it is leavened.

⁵On the day of our king, the princes made themselves sick with the heat of wine.

He joined his hand with mockers.

⁶For they have made ready their heart like an oven,
while they lie in wait.
Their baker sleeps all the night.
In the morning it burns as a flaming fire.

⁷They are all hot as an oven, and devour their judges.

All their kings have fallen.

There is no one among them who calls to me.

⁸Ephraim, he mixes himself among the nations.
Ephraim is a pancake not turned over.

⁹Strangers have devoured his strength,
and he doesn't realize it.

Indeed, gray hairs are here and there on him,
and he doesn't realize it.

¹⁰The pride of Israel testifies to his face;
yet they haven't returned to the LORD their God,
nor sought him, for all this.

¹¹“Ephraim is like an easily deceived dove, without understanding.
They call to Egypt.
They go to Assyria.

¹²When they go, I will spread my net on them.
I will bring them down like the birds of the sky.
I will chastise them, as their congregation has heard.

¹³Woe to them.
For they have wandered from me.

Destruction to them.

For they have trespassed against me.

Though I would redeem them,
yet they have spoken lies against me.

¹⁴They haven't cried to me with their heart,

but they wail on their beds.

They cut^a themselves for grain and new wine.

They turn away from me.

¹⁵Though I have taught and strengthened their arms,
yet they plot evil against me.

¹⁶They return, but not to the Most High.

They are like a faulty bow.

Their leaders will fall by the sword for the rage of their tongue.

This will be their derision in the land of Egypt.

8 “Put the trumpet to your lips.
Something like an eagle is over the LORD's house, because they have broken my covenant,
and rebelled against my law.

²They cry to me, ‘My God, we Israel acknowledge you.’

³Israel has cast off that which is good.

The enemy will pursue him.

⁴They have set up kings, but not by me.

They have made princes, and I did not approve.

Of their silver and their gold they have made themselves idols,
that they may be cut off.

⁵Let Samaria throw out his calf idol.

My anger burns against them.

How long will it be until they are capable of purity?

⁶For this is even from Israel.

The workman made it, and it is no God;
indeed, the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

⁷For they sow the wind,
and they will reap the whirlwind.

He has no standing grain.

The stalk will yield no head.

If it does yield, strangers will swallow it up.

⁸Israel is swallowed up.

Now they are among the nations like a worthless thing.

⁹For they have gone up to Assyria, like a wild donkey wandering alone.

Ephraim has hired lovers for himself.

¹⁰But although they sold themselves among the nations,

I will now gather them;

and they begin to waste away because of the oppression of the king of mighty ones.

¹¹Because Ephraim has multiplied altars for sinning,
they became for him altars for sinning.

¹²I wrote for him the many things of my law;
but they were regarded as a strange thing.

¹³As for the sacrifices of my offerings,
they sacrifice flesh and eat it;
But the LORD doesn't accept them.

Now he will remember their iniquity, and punish their sins.

They will return to Egypt, and will eat unclean things in Assyria.^b

¹⁴For Israel has forgotten his Maker and built palaces;
and Judah has multiplied fortified cities;
but I will send a fire on his cities,
and it will devour its fortresses.”

but Ephraim will return to Egypt, and they will eat unclean food in Assyria.

⁴They won't pour out wine offerings to the LORD,
neither will they be pleasing to him.
Their sacrifices will be to them like the bread of mourners;
all who eat of it will be polluted;
for their bread will be for their appetite.
It will not come into the house of the LORD.

⁵What will you do in the day of solemn assembly, and in the day of the feast of the LORD?

⁶For, look, they have gone away from destruction.
Egypt will gather them up.
Memphis will bury them.
Nettles will possess their pleasant things of silver.
Thorns will be in their tents.

⁷The days of visitation have come.
The days of reckoning have come.
Let Israel know.^a The prophet is a fool,
and the man of the spirit is mad,
because of the abundance of your sins,
and because your hostility is great.

⁸A prophet watches over Ephraim with my God.
A fowler's snare is on all of his paths,
and hostility in the house of his God.

⁹They have deeply corrupted themselves,
as in the days of Gibeah.
He will remember their iniquity.
He will punish them for their sins.

¹⁰I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness.
I saw your fathers as the first ripe in the fig tree at its first season;
but they came to Baal Peor, and consecrated themselves to the shameful thing,
and became abominable like that which they loved.

¹¹As for Ephraim, their glory will fly away like a bird.
There will be no birth, none with child, and no conception.

¹²Though they bring up their children,
yet I will bereave them, so that not a man shall be left.
Indeed, woe also to them when I depart from them.

¹³I have seen Ephraim, like Tyre, planted in a pleasant place;
but Ephraim will bring out his children to the murderer.

¹⁴Give them—LORD what will you give?
Give them a miscarrying womb and dry breasts.

¹⁵“All their wickedness is in Gilgal;
for there I hated them.
Because of the wickedness of their deeds I will drive them out of my house.
I will love them no more.

All their rulers are rebels.
¹⁶Ephraim is struck.
Their root has dried up.
They will bear no fruit.
Even though they bring forth, yet I will kill the beloved ones of their womb.”

¹⁷My God will cast them away, because they did not listen to him;
and they will be wanderers among the nations.

10 Israel is a luxuriant vine that puts forth his fruit.

He will demolish their altars.
He will destroy their sacred stones.

³Surely now they will say, “We have no king; for we do not fear the LORD;
and the king, what can he do for us?”

⁴They make promises, swearing falsely in making covenants.
Therefore judgment springs up like poisonous weeds in the furrows of the field.

⁵The inhabitants of Samaria will be in terror for the calves of Beth Aven;
for its people will mourn over it,
Along with its priests who rejoiced over it,
for its glory, because it has departed from it.

⁶It also will be carried bound^b to Assyria as tribute for a great king.
Ephraim will receive shame,
and Israel will be ashamed of his own counsel.

⁷Samaria and her king float away,
like a twig on the water.

⁸The high places also of Beth^c Aven,^d the sin of Israel, will be destroyed.

¹¹They will come trembling like a bird out of Egypt,

They make a covenant with Assyria,

Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble,
for the day of the LORD is coming,
for it is near.

²A day of darkness and gloominess,
a day of clouds and thick darkness.
As blackness^d spreading on the mountains

a great and powerful people;
there has never been the like,
neither will there be any more after them,
even after the years of many generations.

³A fire devours before them,
and behind them, a flame burns.
The land is as the garden of Eden before them,
and behind them, a desolate wilderness.
Yes, and no one has escaped them.

⁴The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses, and as horsemen, so do they run.

⁵Like the noise of chariots on the tops of the mountains do they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devours the stubble,
as a mighty people drawn up for^e battle.

⁶At their presence the peoples are in anguish.
All faces have grown pale.

⁷They run like mighty men.
They climb the wall like warriors.
They each march in his line, and they do not swerve off course.

⁸Neither does one jostle another;
they march everyone in his path,
and they burst through the defenses,
and do not break ranks.

⁹They rush on the city.
They run on the wall.
They climb up into the houses.
They enter in at the windows like thieves.

¹⁰The earth quakes before them.
The heavens tremble.
The sun and the moon are darkened,
and the stars withdraw their shining.

¹¹The LORD thunders his voice before his army;
for his forces are very great;
for he is strong who obeys his command;
for the day of the LORD is great and very awesome,
and who can endure it?

¹²"Yet even now," says the LORD, "turn to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning."

¹³Tear your heart, and not your garments, and turn to the LORD, your God;
for he is gracious and merciful,
slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness,
and relents from sending calamity.

¹⁴Who knows? He may turn and relent, and leave a blessing behind him, even a meal offering and a drink offering to the LORD, your God.

¹⁵Blow the trumpet in Zion.
Sanctify a fast.
Call a solemn assembly.

¹⁶Gather the people.
Sanctify the assembly.
Assemble the elders.
Gather the children, and those who suck the breasts.
Let the bridegroom go forth from his room,
and the bride out of her chamber.

^a1:17 MT, reading perudot פִּרְדוֹת "seeds." DSS cf. LXX Syr Vg read parot פָּרוֹת "heifers" The reading of "seeds" is more likely since the subject in next two lines is grain, followed by animals

^b1:17 MT, reading עֲשִׂוּ "shrivel." DSS reads עֲפִשׂוּ "decay," a misreading possibly involving a beth-pey confusion

^c1:17 MT, reading מִגְרַפְתֵיהֶם "their shovels." LXX Syr read מִרְפְתֵיהֶם "their stalls." MT is the more difficult reading and therefore more likely the original ¹⁷Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, "Spare your people, LORD,

and do not give your heritage to mockery,
a byword^a among the nations.

Why should they say among the peoples,
'Where is their God?'"

¹⁸Then the LORD was jealous for his land,
And had pity on his people.

¹⁹The LORD answered his people,
"Look, I will send you grain, new wine, and oil, and you will eat^b and you will be satisfied with them;
and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations.

²⁰But I will remove the northern army far away from you,
and will drive it into a barren and desolate land,
its front into the eastern sea,
and its back into the western sea;
and its stench will come up,
and its bad smell will rise."

Surely he has done great things.

²¹Land, do not be afraid.
Be glad and rejoice, for the LORD has done great things.

²²Do not be afraid, you animals of the field;
for the pastures of the wilderness spring up,
for the tree bears its fruit.
The fig tree and the vine yield their strength.

²³"Be glad then, you people of Zion, and rejoice in the LORD, your God;
for he gives you the former rain in just measure,
and he causes the rain to come down for you,
the former rain and the latter rain,
as before.^c

²⁴The threshing floors will be full of wheat, and the vats will overflow with new wine and oil.
²⁵I will restore to you the years that the swarming locust has eaten, the great locust, the grasshopper, and the caterpillar,
my great army, which I sent among you.

²⁶You will have plenty to eat, and be satisfied, and will praise the name of the LORD, your God,
who has dealt wondrously with you;
and my people will never be put to shame.

²⁷You will know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the LORD, your God, and there is no one else;
and my people will never^d be put to shame.

²⁸"And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit on all flesh;
and your sons and your daughters will prophesy,
and^e your old men will dream dreams,
and^f your young men will see visions.

²⁹And also on my^g servants, both men and women, I will pour out my Spirit in those days.

³⁰And I will show wonders in the heavens and in the earth:
blood, fire, and pillars of smoke.

³¹The sun will be turned into darkness,
and the moon into blood,
before the great and awesome day of the LORD comes.

³²And it will happen that whoever will call on the name of the LORD shall be saved;^h for in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there will be those who escape,
as the LORD has said,
and among the remnant, those whom the LORD calls.

3 "For, look, in those days,
and in that time,
when I restore the fortunes of Judah and Jerusalem,

²I will gather all nations,
and will bring them down into the Valley of Jehoshaphat;
and I will execute judgment on them there for my people, and for my heritage, Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations.

They have divided my land,
³and have cast lots for my people,
and have given a boy for a prostitute,
and sold a girl for wine, that they may drink.

⁴"Yes, and what are you to me, Tyre, and Sidon, and all the regions of Philistia?
Will you repay me?
And if you repay me,
I will swiftly and speedily return your repayment on your own head.

⁵Because you have taken my silver and my gold,
and have carried my finest treasures into your temples, ⁶and have sold the people of Judah and the people of Jerusalem to the people of the Greeks, that you may remove them far from their border.

⁷Look, I will stir them up out of the place where you have sold them,

and will return your repayment on your own head; ⁸and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hands of the people of Judah,
and they will sell them to the men of Sheba,
to a faraway nation,
for the LORD has spoken it."

⁹Proclaim this among the nations:
"Prepare for war.
Stir up the mighty men.
Let all the warriors draw near.

Let them come up. ¹⁰Beat your plowshares into swords,
and your pruning hooks into spears.
Let the weak say, 'I am strong.'

¹¹Hurry and come, all you surrounding nations, and gather yourselves together."
Cause your mighty ones to come down there, LORD.

¹²"Let the nations arouse themselves, and come up to the Valley of Jehoshaphat;
for there will I sit to judge all the surrounding nations.

¹³Put in the sickle;
for the harvest is ripe.
Come, tread, for the winepress is full,
the vats overflow, for their wickedness is great."

¹⁴Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision.
For the day of the LORD is near, in the valley of decision.

and the heavens and the earth will shake;
but the LORD will be a refuge to his people,

Then Jerusalem will be holy,
and no strangers will pass through her any more.
¹⁸It will happen in that day,
that the mountains will drop down sweet wine,
the hills will flow with milk,
all the brooks of Judah will flow with waters,
and a fountain will come forth from the house of the LORD,
and will water the Valley of Shittim.
¹⁹Egypt will be a desolation,

Amos

1 The words of Amos, who was among the herdsmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake. ²He said: “The LORD will roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem;
and the pastures of the shepherds will mourn,
and the top of Carmel will wither.”

³Thus says the LORD:
“For three transgressions of Damascus, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because they have threshed the pregnant women of^b Gilead with threshing instruments of iron; ⁴but I will send a fire into the house of Hazeal, and it will devour the palaces of Ben Hadad.
⁵I will break the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the Valley of Wickedness,
and him who holds the scepter from Beth Eden;
and the people of Aram shall go into captivity to Kir,”
says the LORD.

⁶Thus says the LORD:
“For three transgressions of Gaza, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because they carried away captive the whole community,
to deliver them up to Edom; ⁷but I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza,

and it will devour its palaces.
⁸I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him who holds the scepter from Ashkelon;
and I will turn my hand against Ekron;
and the remnant of the Philistines will perish,” says the LORD.^c

⁹Thus says the LORD:
“For three transgressions of Tyre, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because they delivered up the whole community to Edom,
and did not remember the brotherly covenant;
¹⁰but I will send a fire on the wall of Tyre,
and it will devour its palaces.”

¹¹Thus says the LORD:
“For three transgressions of Edom, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because he pursued his brother with the sword,
and cast off all pity,
and his anger raged continually,
and he kept his wrath forever;
¹²but I will send a fire on Teman, and it will devour the palaces of Bozrah.”

¹³Thus says the LORD:
“For three transgressions of the people of Ammon, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because they have ripped open the pregnant women of Gilead,
that they may enlarge their border.
¹⁴But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah,
and it will devour its palaces,
with shouting in the day of battle,
with a storm in the day of the whirlwind; ¹⁵and their king will go into captivity, he and his officials together,”
says the LORD.

2 Thus says the LORD:
“For three transgressions of Moab, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime;
²but I will send a fire on Moab, and it will devour the palaces of Kerioth;
and Moab will die with tumult, with shouting, and^d with the sound of the trumpet;
³and I will cut off the judge from their midst, and will kill all its officials with him,”
says the LORD.

⁴Thus says the LORD:
“For three transgressions of Judah, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because they have rejected the LORD’s law,
and have not kept his statutes.
Their false idols^e which they made,^f after which their fathers walked, have led them astray.

and it will devour the palaces of Jerusalem.”

⁶Thus says the LORD:

“For three transgressions of Israel, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because they have sold the righteous for silver,
and the needy for a pair of shoes;

⁷They trample on the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and deny justice to the oppressed;
and a man and his father use the same maiden, to profane my holy name;

⁸and they lay themselves down beside every altar on clothes taken in pledge;
and in the house of their God they drink the wine of those who have been fined.

⁹Yet I destroyed the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars,
and he was strong as the oaks;
yet I destroyed his fruit from above,
and his roots from beneath.

¹⁰Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and led you forty years in the wilderness,
to possess the land of the Amorite.

¹¹I raised up some of your sons for prophets, and some of your young men for Nazirites.
Isn’t this true,

you children of Israel?” says the LORD.

¹²“But you gave the Nazirites wine to drink, and commanded the prophets, saying, ‘Do not prophesy.’”

¹³Look, I will crush you in your place,
as a cart crushes that is full of grain.

¹⁴Flight will perish from the swift;
and the strong won’t strengthen his force;
neither shall the mighty deliver himself; ¹⁵neither shall he stand who handles the bow;
and he who is swift of foot won’t escape;
neither shall he who rides the horse deliver himself;

¹⁶and he who is courageous among the mighty will flee away naked on that day,”
says the LORD.

3 Hear this word that the LORD has spoken against you, children of Israel, against the whole family which I

²“You only have I chosen of all the families of the earth.
Therefore I will punish you for all of your sins.”

³Do two walk together,

⁴Will a lion roar in the thicket,
when he has no prey?

Does a young lion cry out of his den,
if he has caught nothing?

⁵Can a bird fall in a trap on the earth,
where no snare is set for him?

Does a snare spring up from the ground,
when there is nothing to catch?

⁶Does the trumpet alarm sound in a city, without the people being afraid?

Does disaster happen to a city,
unless the LORD has done it?

⁷Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing, unless he reveals his secret to his servants the prophets.

⁸The lion has roared.
Who will not fear?

The Lord GOD has spoken.
Who can but prophesy?

⁹Proclaim in the palaces at Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt,
and say, “Assemble yourselves on the mountain^a of Samaria, and see what unrest is in her,
and what oppression is among them.”

¹⁰“Indeed they do not know to do right,” says the LORD,
“Who hoard plunder and loot in their palaces.”

¹¹Therefore thus says the LORD:^b

“An adversary will surround^c the land;
and he will pull down your strongholds,
and your fortresses will be plundered.”

¹²Thus says the LORD:

“As the shepherd rescues out of the mouth of the lion two legs,
or a piece of an ear,
so shall the children of Israel be rescued who sit in Samaria on the corner of a couch, and on the silken cushions of a bed.”

¹³“Listen, and testify against the house of Jacob,” says the Lord GOD, the God of hosts.

¹⁴“For in the day that I visit the transgressions of Israel on him,
I will also visit the altars of Bethel;
and the horns of the altar will be cut off,
and fall to the ground.

¹⁵I will strike the winter house with the summer house;
and the houses of ivory will perish,
and the great houses will have an end,”
says the LORD.

4 Listen to this word, you cows of Bashan, who are on the mountain of Samaria, who oppress the poor, who crush the needy, who tell their husbands, “Bring^d us something ²The LORD^e has sworn by his holiness: “Look, the days shall come on you that they will take you away with hooks,

and the last of you with fish hooks.

³You will go out at the breaks in the wall, everyone straight before her;
and you will cast yourselves into Harmon,” says the LORD.

⁴“Go to Bethel, and sin;
to Gilgal, and sin more.

Bring your sacrifices every morning,
your tithes every three days,

and proclaim free will offerings and brag about them:

when there were yet three months to the harvest;
and I caused it to rain on one city,
and caused it not to rain on another city.

One place was rained on,

and the piece where it did not rain withered.

⁸So two or three cities staggered to one city to drink water,
and were not satisfied:

yet you haven't returned to me," says the LORD.

⁹"I struck you with blight and mildew many times in your gardens and your vineyards;

and your fig trees and your olive trees have the swarming locust devoured:

yet you haven't returned to me," says the LORD.

¹⁰"I sent plagues among you like I did Egypt.

I have slain your young men with the sword,

and have carried away your horses;

and I filled your nostrils with the stench of your camp,

yet you haven't returned to me," says the LORD.

¹¹"I have overthrown some of you,

as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and you were like a burning stick plucked out of the fire;

yet you haven't returned to me," says the LORD.

¹²"Therefore thus will I do to you, Israel;

because I will do this to you, prepare to meet your God, Israel.

¹³For, look, he who forms the mountains, and creates the wind,

and declares to man what is his thought;

who makes the morning and^d darkness,

and treads on the high places of the earth:

the LORD, the God of hosts, is his name."

5 Listen to this word which I take up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel.

²"The virgin of Israel has fallen;

She shall rise no more.

She is cast down on her land;

there is no one to raise her up."

³For thus says the LORD^b:

"The city that went forth a thousand shall have a hundred left, and that which went forth one hundred shall have ten left to the house of Israel."

⁴For thus says the LORD to the house of Israel:

"Seek me, and you will live;

⁵but do not seek Bethel,

nor enter into Gilgal,

and do not pass to Beersheba:

for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity,

and Bethel shall come to nothing.

⁶Seek the LORD, and you will live;

lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph,

and it devour, and there be no one to quench it in Bethel.

⁷You who turn justice to wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the earth:

⁸seek him who made Kimah and Kesil,^c and turns the shadow of death into the morning, and makes the day dark with night;

who calls for the waters of the sea, and pours them out on the surface of the earth, the LORD is his

name,

⁹who brings sudden destruction on the strong,

so that destruction comes on the fortress.^d

¹⁰They hate him who reproves in the gate, and they abhor him who speaks blamelessly.

¹¹Forasmuch therefore as you trample on the poor, and take taxes from him of wheat:

You have built houses of cut stone,

but you will not dwell in them.

You have planted pleasant vineyards,

but you shall not drink their wine.

¹²For I know how many your offenses, and how great are your sins—

you who afflict the just,

who take a bribe,

and who turn aside the needy in the courts.

¹³Therefore a prudent person keeps silent in such a time,

for it is an evil time.

¹⁴Seek good, and not evil,

that you may live;

and so the LORD, the God of hosts, will be with you, as you say.

¹⁵Hate evil, love good,

and establish justice in the courts.

It may be that the LORD, the God of hosts, will be gracious to the remnant of Joseph."

¹⁶Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of hosts:^e

"Wailing will be in all the broad ways;

and they will say in all the streets, 'Alas. Alas.'

and they will call the farmer to mourning, and those who are skillful in lamentation to wailing.

¹⁷In all vineyards there will be wailing;

for I will pass through the midst of you," says the LORD.

¹⁸"Woe to you who desire the day of the LORD.

Why do you long for the day of the LORD?

It is darkness,

and not light.

¹⁹As if a man fled from a lion,

and a bear met him;

Or he went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall,

and a serpent bit him.

²⁰Won't the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light?

Even very dark, and no brightness in it?

²¹I hate, I despise your feasts, and I can't stand your solemn assemblies.

²²Yes, though you offer me your burnt offerings and meal offerings,

I will not accept them;

neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat animals.

²³Take away from me the noise of your songs.

I will not listen to the music of your harps.

the LORD: ‘Your wife shall be a prostitute in the city, and your sons and your daughters shall fall by the sword, and your land shall be divided by line; and you yourself shall die in a land that is unclean, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.’”

8 This^a is what the LORD showed me: And look, a basket of summer fruit.

²He said, “Amos, what do you see?”

I said, “A basket of summer fruit.”

Then the LORD said to me,

“The end has come on my people Israel.

I will not again pass by them any more.

³The songs of the temple will be wailings in that day,” says the LORD.^b

“The dead bodies will be many. In every place they will throw them out with silence.

⁴Hear this, you who trample the needy, and destroy the poor of the land, ⁵saying, ‘When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell grain?

And the Sabbath, that we may market wheat, making the ephah small, and the shekel large, and dealing falsely with balances of deceit;

⁶that we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes, and sell the sweepings with the wheat?’”

⁷The LORD has sworn by the pride of Jacob,

“Surely I will never forget any of their works.

⁸Won’t the land tremble for this, and everyone mourn who dwells in it?

Yes, it will rise up wholly like the River; and it will be stirred up and sink again, like the River of Egypt.

⁹It will happen in that day,” says the LORD,^c “that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day.

¹⁰I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will make you wear sackcloth on all your bodies, and baldness on every head.

I will make it like the mourning for an only son, and its end like a bitter day.

¹¹Look, the days come,” says the LORD,^d “that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the word^e of the LORD.

¹²They will wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they will run back and forth to seek the word of the LORD, and will not find it.

¹³In that day the beautiful virgins and the young men will faint for thirst.

¹⁴Those who swear by the sin of Samaria, and say, ‘As your god, Dan, lives;’ and, ‘As the way of Beersheba lives;’ they will fall, and never rise up again.”

9 I saw the Lord standing beside the altar, and he said, “Strike the tops of the pillars, that the thresholds may shake; and break them in pieces on the head of all of them; and I will kill the last of them with the sword: there shall not one of them flee away, and there shall not one of them escape. ²Though they dig into Sheol, there my hand will take them; and though they climb up to heaven, there I will bring them down. ³Though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out there; and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, there I will command the serpent, and it will bite them. ⁴Though they go into captivity before their enemies, there I will command the sword, and it will kill them. I will set my eyes on them for disaster, and not for good. ⁵For the Lord, the LORD of hosts, is he who touches the land and it melts, and all who dwell in it will mourn; and it will rise up wholly like the River, and will sink again, like the River of Egypt. ⁶It is he who builds his upper chamber^f in the heavens, and has founded his vault on the earth; he who calls for the waters of the sea, and pours them out on the surface of the earth; the LORD is his name. ⁷Are you not like the people of Ethiopia to me, children of Israel?” says the LORD. “Haven’t I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Arameans from Kir? ⁸Look, the eyes of the Lord GOD are on the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the surface of the earth; except that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob,” says the LORD. ⁹“For, look, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all the nations, as one sifts with a sieve, but not even a pebble will fall to the ground. ¹⁰All the sinners of my people will die by the sword, who say, ‘Evil won’t overtake nor meet us.’ ¹¹On that day I will rebuild the tabernacle of David that has fallen, and repair its broken places, and I will rebuild its ruins, and I will restore it as in the days of old; ¹²that the rest of humanity^g may seek^h after the LORD,ⁱ and all the nations who are called by my name,” says the LORD who does this.^j

¹³“Look, the days come,” says the LORD, “that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the one treading grapes him who sows seed; and sweet wine will drip from the mountains, and flow from the hills.

¹⁴I will bring my people Israel back from captivity, and they will rebuild the ruined cities, and inhabit them; and they will plant vineyards, and drink wine from them. They shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

¹⁵I will plant them on their land, and they will no more be plucked up out of their land which I have given them.” says the LORD your God.

Obadiah

1 The vision of Obadiah. This is what the Lord GOD says about Edom. We have heard news from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, “Arise, and let’s rise up against her in battle. ²Look, I have made you small among the nations. You are greatly despised. ³The pride of your heart has deceived you, you who dwell in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high, who says in his heart, ‘Who will bring me down to the ground?’ ⁴Though you mount on high as the eagle, and though you make^a your nest among the stars, I will bring you down from there,” says the LORD. ⁵“If thieves came to you, if robbers by night—oh, what disaster awaits you—wouldn’t they only steal until they had enough? If grape pickers came to you, wouldn’t they leave some gleaning grapes? ⁶How Esau will be ransacked. How his hidden treasures are sought out. ⁷All the men of your alliance have brought you on your way, even to the border. The men who were at peace with you have deceived you, and prevailed against you. Those who eat bread with you^b lay a snare under you. There is no understanding in him.”

⁸“Won’t I in that day,” says the LORD, “destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mountain of Esau? ⁹Your mighty men, Teman, will be dismayed, to the end that everyone may be cut off from the mountain of Esau by slaughter. ¹⁰For the violence done to your brother Jacob, shame will cover you, and you will be cut off forever. ¹¹In the day that you stood on the other side, in the day that strangers carried away his substance, and foreigners entered into his gates,^c and cast lots for Jerusalem, even you were like one of them. ¹²But do not look down on your brother in the day of his disaster, and do not rejoice over the people of Judah in the day of their destruction. Do not speak proudly in the day of distress. ¹³Do not enter into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity. Do not look down on their affliction in the day of their calamity, neither seize their wealth on the day of their calamity. ¹⁴Do not stand in the crossroads to cut off those of his who escape. Do not deliver up those of his who remain in the day of distress. ¹⁵For the day of the LORD is near all the nations. As you have done, it will be done to you. Your deeds will return upon your own head. ¹⁶For as you have drunk on my holy mountain, so will all the nations drink continually. Yes, they will drink, swallow down, and will be as though they had not been. ¹⁷But in Mount Zion, there will be those who escape, and it will be holy. The house of Jacob will possess those who dispossessed^d them. ¹⁸The house of Jacob will be a fire, the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble. They will burn among them, and devour them. There will not be any remaining to the house of Esau.” Indeed, the LORD has spoken.

¹⁹Those of the Negev will possess the mountain of Esau, and those of the lowland, the Philistines. They will possess the field of Ephraim, and the field of Samaria. Benjamin will possess Gilead. ²⁰The captives of this army of the children of Israel, who are among the Canaanites, will possess even to Zarephath; and the captives of Jerusalem, who are in Sepharad, will possess the cities of the Negev. ²¹Those who have been saved^e will go up on Mount Zion to judge the mountains of Esau, and the kingdom will be the LORD’s.

Jonah

1 Now the word of the LORD came to Jonah the son of Amittai, saying, ²“Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and proclaim against it, for their wickedness has come up before me.”

³But Jonah rose up to flee to Tarshish from the presence of the LORD. He went down to Joppa, and found a ship going to Tarshish; so he paid its fare, and went down into it, to go with them to Tarshish from the presence of the LORD. ⁴But the LORD sent out a great wind on the sea, and there was a mighty storm on the sea, so that the ship was likely to break up. ⁵Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man to his god. They threw the cargo that was in the ship into the sea, to lighten it. But Jonah had gone down into the innermost parts of the ship, and he was laying down, and was fast asleep. ⁶So the shipmaster came to him, and said to him, “What do you mean, sleeper? Arise, call on your God^f. Maybe your God^g will notice us, so that we won’t perish.”

⁷They all said to each other, “Come, let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is on us.” So they cast lots, and the lot fell on Jonah. ⁸Then they asked him, “Tell us, please, for whose cause this evil is on us. What is your occupation? Where do you come from? What is your country? Of what people are you?”

⁹He said to them, “I am a Hebrew, and I fear the LORD, the God of heaven, who has made the sea and the dry land.”

¹⁰Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said to him, “What is this that you have done?” For the men knew that he was fleeing from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them. ¹¹Then said they to him, “What shall we do to you, that the sea may be calm to us?” For the sea grew more and more stormy. ¹²He said to them, “Take me up, and throw me into the sea. Then the sea will be calm for you; for I know that because of me this great storm is on you.”

¹³Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not, for the sea grew more and more stormy against them. ¹⁴Therefore they cried to the LORD, and said, “We beg you, LORD, we beg you, let us not perish for this man’s life, and do not lay on us innocent blood; for you, LORD, have done as it pleased you.” ¹⁵So they took up Jonah, and threw him into the sea; and the sea ceased its raging. ¹⁶Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly; and they offered a sacrifice to the LORD, and made vows.

¹⁷The LORD prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah, and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

2 Then Jonah prayed to the LORD, his God, out of the fish’s belly. ²He said, “I called because of my affliction to the LORD. He answered me.

^d1:17 LXX Syr Vg. MT reads “possess their possessions”

^e1:21 LXX Aquila Theodotion Syr. MT reads “Saviors”

^f1:6 Or, gods

^g1:6 Or, gods

Out of the belly of Sheol I cried.

You heard my voice.

³For you threw me into the depths,
in the heart of the seas.

The flood was all around me.

All your breakers and waves passed over me.

⁴I said, 'I have been banished from your sight;
yet I will look again toward your holy temple.'

⁵The waters surrounded me, threatening my life.

The deep was around me.

The end is upon my head.

⁶I went down to the bottoms of the mountains.

The earth barred me in forever:

yet have you brought up my life from the pit, LORD my God.

⁷"When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD.

My prayer came in to you, into your holy temple.

⁸Those who regard worthless things forsake their faithfulness.

⁹But I will sacrifice to you with the voice of thanksgiving.

I will pay that which I have vowed.

Salvation belongs to the LORD."

¹⁰The LORD spoke to the fish, and it vomited out Jonah on the dry land.

3 The word of the LORD came to Jonah the second time, saying, ²"Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and proclaim to it the message that I give you."

³So Jonah arose, and went to Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nineveh was an exceedingly great city, three days' journey across. ⁴Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried out, and said, "Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown."

⁵The people of Nineveh believed God; and they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them. ⁶The news reached the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and took off his royal robe, covered himself with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. ⁷He made a proclamation and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, "Let neither man nor animal, herd nor flock, taste anything; let them not feed, nor drink water; ⁸but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and animal, and let them cry mightily to God. Yes, let them turn everyone from his evil way, and from the violence that is in his hands. ⁹Who knows whether God will not turn and relent, and turn away from his fierce anger, so that we might not perish?"

¹⁰God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way. God relented of the disaster which he said he would do to them, and he did not do it.

4 But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry. ²He prayed to the LORD, and said, "Please, LORD, wasn't this what I said when I was still in my own country? Therefore I hurried to flee to Tarshish, for I knew that you are a gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness, and you relent of doing harm. ³Therefore now, LORD, take, I beg you, my life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live."

⁴The LORD said, "Is it right for you to be angry?"

⁵Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made himself a booth, and sat under it in the shade, until he might see what would become of the city. ⁶The LORD God prepared a vine, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shade over his head, to deliver him from his discomfort. So Jonah was exceedingly glad because of the vine. ⁷But God prepared a worm at dawn the next day, and it chewed on the vine, so that it withered. ⁸It happened, when the sun arose, that God prepared a sultry east wind; and the sun beat on Jonah's head, so that he fainted, and requested for himself that he might die, and said, "It is better for me to die than to live."

⁹God said to Jonah, "Is it right for you to be angry about the vine?"

He said, "I am right to be angry, even to death."

¹⁰The LORD said, "You have been concerned for the vine, for which you have not labored, neither made it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night. ¹¹Shouldn't I be concerned for Nineveh, that great city, in which are more than one hundred twenty thousand persons who can't discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much livestock?"

Micah

1 The word of the LORD that came to Micah the Morashtite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah^a, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

²Hear, you peoples, all of you.

Listen, O earth, and all that is in it:

and let the Lord GOD be witness against you,
the Lord from his holy temple.

³For, look, the LORD comes forth out of his place, and will come down and tread on the high places of the earth.

⁴The mountains melt under him,
and the valleys split apart,
like wax before the fire,
like waters that are poured down a steep place.

⁵"All this is for the disobedience of Jacob,
and for the sins of the house of Israel.

What is the disobedience of Jacob?

Isn't it Samaria?

And what are the high places of Judah?

Aren't they Jerusalem?

⁶Therefore I will make Samaria like a rubble heap of the field, like places for planting vineyards;
and I will pour down its stones into the valley,
and I will uncover its foundations.

⁷All her idols will be beaten to pieces, and all her temple gifts will be burned with fire,
and all her images I will destroy;

^a1:1 LXX. MT reads "Jehezekiah" for of the hire of a prostitute has she gathered them,

and to the hire of a prostitute shall they return.”

⁸For this I will lament and wail;
I will go stripped and naked;
I will howl like the jackals,
and moan like the daughters of owls.

⁹For her wounds are incurable;
for it has come even to Judah.

It reaches to the gate of my people,
even to Jerusalem.

¹⁰Do not tell it in Gath.
Do not weep at all.

At Beth Leaphrah I have rolled myself in the dust.

¹¹Pass on, inhabitant of Shaphir, in nakedness and shame.
The inhabitant of Zaanan won't come out.

The wailing of Beth Ezel will take from you his protection.

¹²For the inhabitant of Maroth waits anxiously for good, because evil has come down from the LORD to the gate of Jerusalem.

¹³Harness the chariot to the swift steed, inhabitant of Lachish.
She was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion;
For the transgressions of Israel were found in you.

¹⁴Therefore you will give a parting gift to Moresheth Gath.
The houses of Achzib will be a deceitful thing to the kings of Israel.

¹⁵I will yet bring to you, inhabitant of Mareshah.
He who is the glory of Israel will come to Adullam.

¹⁶Shave your heads,
and cut off your hair for the children of your delight.
Enlarge your baldness like the vulture;
for they have gone into captivity from you.

2 Woe to those who devise iniquity and work evil on their beds.
When the morning is light, they practice it,
because it is in the power of their hand.

²They covet fields, and seize them;
and houses, and take them away:
and they oppress a man and his house,
even a man and his heritage.

³Therefore thus says the LORD:
“Look, I am planning against these people a disaster,
from which you will not remove your necks, neither will you walk haughtily;
for it is an evil time.

⁴In that day they will take up a parable against you,
and lament with a doleful lamentation, saying,
‘We are utterly ruined.
My people’s possession is divided up.
Indeed he takes it from me and assigns our fields to traitors.’”

⁵Therefore you will have no one who divides the land by lot in the assembly of the LORD.

⁶“Do not prophesy.”
They prophesy.

“Do not prophesy about these things.
Disgrace won't overtake us.”

⁷Shall it be said, O house of Jacob:
“Is the Spirit of the LORD angry?
Are these his doings?
Do not my words do good to him who walks blamelessly?”

⁸But lately my people have risen up as an enemy.
You strip the robe and clothing from those who pass by without a care, returning from battle.

⁹You drive the women of my people out from their pleasant houses;

from their young children you take away my blessing forever.

¹⁰Arise, and depart.
For this is not your resting place,
because of uncleanness that destroys,
even with a grievous destruction.

¹¹If a man walking in a spirit of falsehood lies:
“I will prophesy to you of wine and of strong drink;”
he would be the prophet of this people.

¹²I will surely assemble, Jacob, all of you;
I will surely gather the remnant of Israel;
I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah,
as a flock in the midst of their pasture;
they will swarm with people.

¹³The breaker goes up before them.
They break through the gate, and go out.
And their king passes on before them,
with the LORD at their head.

3 I said,
“Please listen, you heads of Jacob,
and rulers of the house of Israel:
Isn't it for you to know justice?

²You who hate the good,
and love the evil;
who tear off their skin,
and their flesh from off their bones;
³who also eat the flesh of my people,
and flay their skin from off them,
and break their bones,
and chop them in pieces, as for the pot,
and as flesh within the caldron.

⁴Then they will cry to the LORD,
but he will not answer them.
Yes, he will hide his face from them at that time,
because they made their deeds evil.”

⁵Thus says the LORD concerning the prophets who lead my people astray; for those who feed their teeth, they proclaim, “Peace.”
and whoever doesn't provide for their mouths, they prepare war against him:

⁶“Therefore night is over you, with no vision, and it is dark to you, that you may not divine;
and the sun will go down on the prophets,
and the day will be black over them.

⁷The seers shall be disappointed,
and the diviners confounded.
Yes, they shall all cover their lips;
for there is no answer from God.”

⁸But as for me, I am full of power by the Spirit of the LORD, and of judgment, and of might,
to declare to Jacob his disobedience,
and to Israel his sin.

⁹Please listen to this, you heads of the house of Jacob,
and rulers of the house of Israel,
who abhor justice,
and pervert all equity.

¹⁰They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.

¹¹Her leaders judge for bribes, and her priests teach for a price,
and her prophets of it tell fortunes for money:
yet they lean on the LORD, and say, “Isn't the LORD in the midst of us?
No disaster will come on us.”

¹²Therefore Zion for your sake will be plowed like a field, and Jerusalem will become heaps of rubble,

and the mountain of the temple like the high places of a forest.

4 But in the latter days,
it will happen that the mountain of the LORD's temple will be established on the top of the mountains, and it will be exalted above the hills;
and peoples will stream to it.

²Many nations will go and say,
"Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD,
and to the house of the God of Jacob;
and he will teach us of his ways,
and we will walk in his paths."

For out of Zion will go forth the law,
and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem;

³and he will judge between many peoples,
and will decide concerning strong nations afar off.
They will beat their swords into plowshares,
and their spears into pruning hooks.

Nation will not lift up sword against nation,
neither will they learn war any more.

⁴But they will sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree;
and no one will make them afraid:
For the mouth of the LORD of hosts has spoken. ⁵Indeed all the nations may walk in the name of their gods;
but we will walk in the name of the LORD our God forever and ever.

⁶"In that day," says the LORD,
"I will assemble that which is lame,
and I will gather that which is driven away,
and that which I have afflicted;
⁷and I will make that which was lame a remnant,
and that which was cast far off a strong nation:
and the LORD will reign over them on Mount Zion from then on, even forever."

⁸And you, tower of the flock,^a hill^b of the daughter of Zion, to you it will come,
the former dominion will come,
the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem.

⁹Now why do you cry out aloud?
Is there no king in you?
Has your counselor perished,
that pain has gripped you like a woman in labor?

¹⁰Be in pain, and labor to bring forth, daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail;
for now you will go forth out of the city,
and will dwell in the field,
and will come even to Babylon.

There you will be rescued.
There the LORD will redeem you from the hand of your enemies.

¹¹Now many nations have assembled against you, that say,
"Let her be defiled,
and let our eye gloat over Zion."

¹²But they do not know the thoughts of the LORD, neither do they understand his counsel;
for he has gathered them like the sheaves to the threshing floor.

¹³Arise and thresh, daughter of Zion;
for I will make your horn iron,
and I will make your hoofs bronze;

and you will beat in pieces many peoples:
and I will devote their gain to the LORD,
and their substance to the Lord of the whole earth.

5 Now you shall gather yourself in troops, daughter of troops.
He has laid siege against us.

They will strike the judge of Israel with a rod on the cheek.

²But you, Bethlehem Ephrathah, being small among the clans of Judah, out of you one will come forth to me that is to be ruler in Israel;
whose goings forth are from of old, from everlasting.^c

³Therefore he will abandon them until the time that she who is in labor gives birth.
Then the rest of his brothers will return to the children of Israel.

⁴He shall stand, and shall shepherd in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God:
and they will live, for then he will be great to the farthest parts of the earth.

⁵He will be our peace when Assyria invades our land,
and when he marches through our fortresses,
then we will raise against him seven shepherds,
and eight leaders of men.

⁶They will rule the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod with the drawn sword.^d
He will deliver us from the Assyrian, when he invades our land,
and when he marches within our border.

⁷The remnant of Jacob will be among the nations,
like dew from the LORD,
like showers on the grass,
that do not wait for man,
nor wait for the sons of men.

⁸The remnant of Jacob will be among the nations,
in the midst of many peoples,
like a lion among the animals of the forest,
like a young lion among the flocks of sheep;
who, if he goes through, treads down and tears in pieces,
and there is no one to deliver.

⁹Let your hand be lifted up above your adversaries, and let all of your enemies be cut off.

¹⁰"It will happen in that day," says the LORD,
"That I will cut off your horses out of the midst of you,
and will destroy your chariots.

¹¹I will cut off the cities of your land,
and will tear down all your strongholds.

¹²I will destroy witchcraft from your hand;
and you shall have no soothsayers.

¹³I will cut off your engraved images and your pillars out of your midst;
and you shall no more worship the work of your hands.

¹⁴I will uproot your Asherim out of your midst;
and I will destroy your cities.

¹⁵I will execute vengeance in anger, and wrath on the nations that did not listen."

6 Listen now to what the LORD says:
"Arise, plead your case before the mountains,

^a4:8 Or, Migdal Eder

^b4:8 Or, Ophel

^c5:2 Matthew 2:6

^d5:6 Vg Aquila. MT reads "in its gates," an apparent metathesis of chet and yod and let the hills hear what you have to say.

²Hear, you mountains, the LORD's controversy, and you enduring foundations of the earth;
 for the LORD has a controversy with his people,
 and he will contend with Israel.
³My people, what have I done to you?
 How have I burdened you?
 Answer me.
⁴For I brought you up out of the land of Egypt,
 and redeemed you out of the house of bondage.
 I sent before you Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.
⁵My people, remember now what Balak king of Moab devised, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him from Shittim to Gilgal,
 that you may know the righteous acts of the LORD."
⁶How shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before the exalted God?
 Shall I come before him with burnt offerings,
 with calves a year old?
⁷Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams?
 With tens of thousands of rivers of oil?
 Shall I give my firstborn for my disobedience?
 The fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?
⁸He has shown you, O man, what is good.
 What does the LORD require of you, but to act justly,
 to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God?
⁹The LORD's voice calls to the city,
 and wisdom sees your name:
 "Listen to the rod,
 and he who appointed it.
¹⁰Are there yet treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and a short ephah^b that is accursed?
¹¹Shall I be pure with dishonest scales,
 and with a bag of deceitful weights?
¹²Her rich men are full of violence,
 her inhabitants speak lies,
 and their tongue is deceitful in their speech.
¹³Therefore I also have struck you with a grievous wound.
 I have made you desolate because of your sins.
¹⁴You shall eat, but not be satisfied.
 Your humiliation will be in your midst.
 You will store up, but not save;
 and that which you save I will give up to the sword.
¹⁵You will sow, but won't reap.
 You will tread the olives, but won't anoint yourself with oil;
 and crush grapes, but won't drink the wine.
¹⁶For the statutes of Omri are kept,
 and all the works of the house of Ahab;
 and you walk in their counsels.
 Therefore I will make you a desolation,
 and her inhabitants an object of contempt;
 and you will bear the scorn of the nations."

7 Misery is mine.
 Indeed, I am like one who gathers the summer fruits, as gleanings of the vineyard:
 There is no cluster of grapes to eat.
 My soul desires to eat the early fig.

²The faithful have vanished from the earth, and there is no one upright among men.
 They all lie in wait for blood;
 every man hunts his brother with a net.
³Their hands are on that which is evil to do it diligently.
 The ruler and judge ask for a bribe;
 and the powerful man dictates the evil desire of his soul.
 Thus they conspire together.
⁴The best of them is like a brier.
 The most upright is worse than a thorn hedge.
 The day of your watchmen,
 even your visitation, has come;
 now is the time of their confusion.
⁵Do not trust in a neighbor.
 Do not put confidence in a friend.
 With the woman lying in your embrace,
 be careful of the words of your mouth.
⁶For the son dishonors the father,
 the daughter rises up against her mother,
 the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law;
 a man's enemies are the men of his own house.
⁷But as for me, I will look to the LORD.
 I will wait for the God of my salvation.
 My God will hear me.
⁸Do not rejoice against me, my enemy.
 When I fall, I will arise.
 When I sit in darkness, the LORD will be a light to me.
⁹I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him,
 until he pleads my case, and executes judgment for me.
 He will bring me forth to the light.
 I will see his righteousness.
¹⁰Then my enemy will see it,
 and shame will cover her who said to me,
 where is the LORD your God?
 Then my enemy will see me and will cover her shame.
 Now she will be trodden down like the mire of the streets.
¹¹A day to build your walls—
 In that day, he will extend your boundary.
¹²In that day they will come to you from Assyria and the cities of Egypt,
 and from Egypt even to the River,
 and from sea to sea,
 and mountain to mountain.
¹³Yet the land will be desolate because of those who dwell in it,
 for the fruit of their doings.
¹⁴Shepherd your people with your staff,
 the flock of your heritage,
 who dwell by themselves in a forest,
 in the midst of fertile pasture land, let them feed;
 in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old.
¹⁵"As in the days of your coming forth out of the land of Egypt,
 I will show them marvelous things."
¹⁶The nations will see and be ashamed of all their might.
 They will lay their hand on their mouth.
 Their ears will be deaf.
¹⁷They will lick the dust like a serpent.
 Like crawling creatures of the earth they shall come trembling out of their dens.
 They will come with fear to the LORD our God,
 and will be afraid because of you.

^c6:16 LXX. MT reads "of my people"

¹⁸Who is a God like you, who pardons iniquity, and passes over the disobedience of the remnant of his heritage?
He doesn't retain his anger forever,
because he delights in loving kindness.
¹⁹He will again have compassion on us.
He will tread our iniquities under foot;
and you will cast all their sins into the depths of the sea.
²⁰You will give truth to Jacob,
and mercy to Abraham,
as you have sworn to our fathers from the days of old.

Nahum

1 An oracle about Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite. ²The LORD is a jealous God and avenges. The LORD avenges and is full of wrath. The LORD takes vengeance on his adversaries, and he maintains wrath against his enemies. ³The LORD is slow to anger, and great in power, and will by no means leave the guilty unpunished. The LORD has his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet. ⁴He rebukes the sea, and makes it dry, and dries up all the rivers. Bashan languishes, and Carmel; and the flower of Lebanon languishes. ⁵The mountains quake before him, and the hills melt away. The earth trembles at his presence, yes, the world, and all who dwell in it. ⁶Who can stand before his indignation? Who can endure the fierceness of his anger? His wrath is poured out like fire, and the rocks are broken apart by him. ⁷The LORD is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; and he knows those who take refuge in him. ⁸But with an overflowing flood, he will make a full end of her place, and will pursue his enemies into darkness. ⁹What do you plot against the LORD? He will make a full end. Affliction won't rise up the second time. ¹⁰For entangled like thorns, and drunk as with their drink, they are consumed utterly like dry stubble. ¹¹There is one gone forth out of you, who devises evil against the LORD, who counsels wickedness. ¹²Thus says the LORD: "Though they be in full strength, and likewise many, even so they will be cut down, and he shall pass away. Though I have afflicted you, I will afflict you no more. ¹³Now will I break his yoke from off you, and will burst your bonds apart." ¹⁴The LORD has commanded concerning you: "No more descendants will bear your name. Out of the house of your gods, will I cut off the engraved image and the molten image. I will make your grave, for you are vile."

¹⁵Look, on the mountains the feet of him who brings good news, who publishes peace. Keep your feasts, Judah. Perform your vows, for the wicked one will no more pass through you. He is utterly cut off.

2 He who dashes in pieces has come up against you. Keep the fortress. Watch the way. Strengthen your waist. Fortify your power mightily. ²For the LORD restores the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel; for the destroyers have destroyed them, and ruined their vine branches. ³The shield of his mighty men is made red. The valiant men are in scarlet. The chariots flash with steel in the day of his preparation, and the pine spears are brandished. ⁴The chariots rage in the streets. They rush back and forth in the broad ways. Their appearance is like torches.

They run like the lightnings. ⁵He summons his picked troops. They stumble on their way. They dash to its wall, and the protective shield is put in place. ⁶The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace is dissolved. ⁷It is decreed: she is uncovered, she is carried away; and her handmaids moan as with the voice of doves, beating on their breasts. ⁸But Nineveh has been from of old like a pool of water, yet they flee away. "Stop. Stop." they cry, but no one looks back. ⁹Take the spoil of silver. Take the spoil of gold, for there is no end of the store, the glory of all goodly furniture. ¹⁰She is empty, void, and waste. The heart melts, the knees knock together, their bodies and faces have grown pale. ¹¹Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion and the lioness walked, the lion's cubs, and no one made them afraid? ¹²The lion tore in pieces enough for his cubs, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his caves with the kill, and his dens with prey. ¹³"Look, I am against you," says the LORD of hosts, "and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword will devour your young lions; and I will cut off your prey from the earth, and the voice of your messengers will no longer be heard."

3 Woe to the bloody city. It is all full of lies and robbery. The prey doesn't depart. ²The noise of the whip, the noise of the rattling of wheels, prancing horses, and bounding chariots, ³the horseman mounting, and the flashing sword, the glittering spear, and a multitude of slain, and a great heap of corpses, and there is no end of the bodies. They stumble on their bodies, ⁴because of the multitude of the prostitution of the alluring prostitute, the mistress of witchcraft, who sells nations through her prostitution, and families through her witchcraft. ⁵"Look, I am against you," says the LORD of hosts, "and I will lift your skirts over your face. I will show the nations your nakedness, and the kingdoms your shame. ⁶I will throw abominable filth on you, and make you vile, and will set you a spectacle. ⁷It will happen that all those who look at you will flee from you, and say, 'Nineveh is laid waste. Who will mourn for her?' Where will I seek comforters for you?"

⁸Are you better than No-Amon,^a who was situated among the rivers, who had the waters around her; whose rampart was the sea, and her wall was of the sea? ⁹Cush and Egypt were her boundless strength. Put and Libya were her helpers. ¹⁰Yet was she carried away. She went into captivity. Her young children also were dashed in pieces at the head of all the streets, and they cast lots for all^b her honored men, and all her great men were bound in chains. ¹¹You also will be drunk. You will be hidden. You also will seek a stronghold because of the enemy. ¹²All your fortresses will be like fig trees with the first-ripe figs: if they are shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater. ¹³Look, your troops in your midst are women. The gates of your land are set wide open to your enemies. The fire has devoured your bars. ¹⁴Draw water for the siege. Strengthen your fortresses. Go into the clay, and tread the mortar. Make the brick kiln strong. ¹⁵There the fire will devour you. The sword will cut you off. It will devour you like the grasshopper. Multiply like grasshoppers. Multiply like the locust. ¹⁶You have increased your merchants more than the stars of the skies. The grasshopper strips, and flees away. ¹⁷Your guards are like the locusts, and your officials like the swarms of locusts, which settle on the walls on a cold day, but when the sun appears, they flee away, and their place is not known where they are. ¹⁸Your shepherds slumber, king of Assyria. Your nobles lie down. Your people are scattered on the mountains, and there is no one to gather them. ¹⁹There is no healing your wound, for your injury is fatal. All who hear the report of you clap their hands over you; for who hasn't felt your endless cruelty?

Habakkuk

1 The oracle which Habakkuk the prophet saw. ²LORD, how long will I cry, and you will not hear? I cry out to you “Violence.” and will you not save? ³Why do you show me iniquity, and look at perversity? For destruction and violence are before me. There is strife, and contention rises up. ⁴Therefore the law is paralyzed, and justice never goes forth; for the wicked surround the righteous; therefore justice goes forth perverted.

⁵“Look, you scoffers,^a and watch, and be utterly amazed, and perish;^b for I am^c working a work in your days which you will not believe, though it is told you.^d ⁶For, look, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, that march through the breadth of the earth, to possess dwelling places not his own. ⁷He is feared and dreaded. His judgment will be from himself, and his authority will come from himself.^e ⁸His horses are also swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves. And their horsemen press proudly on, and their horsemen come from afar. They fly as an eagle that hurries to devour. ⁹All of them come for violence. Their hordes face the desert. He gathers prisoners like sand. ¹⁰And he will scoff at kings and deride rulers. He laughs at every stronghold, for he builds up an earthen ramp, and takes it. ¹¹Then he sweeps by like the wind, and goes on. He is indeed guilty, whose strength is his god.”

¹²Aren’t you from everlasting, LORD my God, my Holy One? We will not die. LORD, you have appointed him for judgment. You, Rock, have established him to punish. ¹³You who have purer eyes than to see evil, and who cannot look on perversity, why do you tolerate those who deal treacherously, and keep silent when the wicked swallows up the man who is more righteous than he, ¹⁴and make men like the fish of the sea, like the crawling creatures, that have no ruler over them? ¹⁵He takes up all of them with the hook, and^f he catches them in his net and gathers them in his dragnet. Therefore he rejoices and is glad. ¹⁶Therefore he sacrifices to his net, and burns incense to his dragnet, because by them his life is luxurious, and his food is good. ¹⁷Will he therefore continually empty his net,^g killing the nations without mercy?

2 I will stand at my watch, and set myself on the ramparts, and will look out to see what he will say to me, and what I will answer concerning my complaint.

²The LORD answered me, “Write the vision, and make it plain on tablets, that he who runs may read it. ³For the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it hurries toward the end, and won’t prove false. Though it takes time, wait for it; because it will surely come, and^h it won’t delay. ⁴Look, if he holds back,ⁱ my soul^j has no pleasure^k in him, but the righteous will live by^l faith.^m ⁵And moreover, wealth is treacherousⁿ; a proud man will not endure. He enlarges his desire as Sheol, and he is like death, and can’t be satisfied. He gathers all nations to himself, and collects to himself all peoples. ⁶Won’t all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, ‘Woe to him who increases that which is not his, and who enriches himself by extortion. How long?’ ⁷Won’t your debtors rise up suddenly, and wake up those who make you tremble, and you will be their victim? ⁸Because you have plundered many nations, all the remnant of the peoples will plunder you, because of men’s blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all who dwell in it. ⁹Woe to him who gets an evil gain for his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the hand of evil. ¹⁰You have devised shame to your house, by cutting off many peoples, and have sinned against your soul. ¹¹For the stone will cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the woodwork will answer it. ¹²Woe to him who builds a town with blood, and establishes a city by iniquity. ¹³Look, isn’t it of the LORD of hosts that the peoples labor for the fire, and the nations weary themselves for vanity? ¹⁴For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.

¹⁵“Woe to him who gives his neighbor drink, pouring your inflaming wine until they are drunk, so that you may gaze at their naked bodies. ¹⁶You are filled with shame, and not glory. You will also drink, and be exposed. The cup of the LORD’s right hand will come around to you, and disgrace will cover your glory. ¹⁷For the violence done to Lebanon will overwhelm you, and the destruction of the animals, which made them afraid; because of men’s blood, and for the violence done to the land, to every city and to those who dwell in them.

¹⁸“What value does the engraved image have, that its maker has engraved it; the molten image, even the teacher of lies, that he who fashions its form trusts in it, to make mute idols? ¹⁹Woe to him who says to the wood, ‘Awake.’ or to the mute stone, ‘Arise.’ Shall this teach? Look, it is overlaid with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in its midst. ²⁰But the LORD is in his holy temple. Let all the earth be silent before him.”

3 A prayer of Habakkuk, the prophet, set to victorious music.

²LORD, I have heard of your fame.

I stand in awe of your deeds, LORD.

Renew your work in the midst of the years.

In the midst of the years make it known.

In wrath, you remember mercy.

³God came from Teman,
the Holy One from Mount Paran.

Selah.

His glory covered the heavens,
and his praise filled the earth.
⁴His splendor is like the sunrise.
Rays shine from his hand, where his power is hidden.
⁵Plague went before him,
and pestilence followed his feet.
⁶He stood, and shook the earth.
He looked, and made the nations tremble.
The ancient mountains were crumbled.
The age-old hills collapsed.
His ways are eternal.
⁷I saw the tents of Cushan in affliction.
The dwellings of the land of Midian trembled.
⁸Was the LORD displeased with the rivers?
Was your anger against the rivers,
or your wrath against the sea,
that you rode on your horses,
on your chariots of salvation?
⁹You uncovered your bow.
You called for your sworn arrows.

Selah.

You split the earth with rivers.
¹⁰The mountains saw you, and were afraid.
The storm of waters passed by.
The deep roared and lifted up its hands on high.
¹¹The sun and moon stood still in the sky,
at the light of your arrows as they went,
at the shining of your glittering spear.
¹²You marched through the land in wrath.

I will be joyful in the God of my salvation.
¹⁹The LORD, the Lord, is my strength.

Zephaniah

1 The word of the LORD which came to Zephaniah, the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah, the son of Amon, king of Judah. ²I will utterly sweep away everything off of the surface of the earth, says the LORD. ³I will sweep away man and animal. I will sweep away the birds of the sky, the fish of the sea, and the heaps of rubble with the wicked. I will cut off man from the surface of the earth, says the LORD. ⁴I will stretch out my hand against Judah, and against all the inhabitants of Jerusalem. I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place: the name of the idolatrous and pagan priests, ⁵those who worship the host of heaven on the housetops, those who worship and swear by the LORD and also swear by Milcom, ⁶those who have turned back from following the LORD, and those who haven't sought the LORD nor inquired after him. ⁷Be silent at the presence of the Lord GOD, for the day of the LORD is at hand. For the LORD has prepared a sacrifice. He has consecrated his guests. ⁸It will happen in the day of the LORD's sacrifice, that I will punish the princes, the king's sons, and all those who are clothed with foreign clothing. ⁹In that day, I will punish all those who leap over the threshold, who fill their master's house with violence and deceit. ¹⁰In that day, says the LORD, there will be the noise of a cry from the Fish Gate, a wailing from the second quarter, and a great crashing from the hills. ¹¹Wail, you inhabitants of Maktesh, for all the people of Canaan are undone. All those who were loaded with silver are cut off. ¹²It will happen at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with lamps, and I will punish the men who are settled on their dregs, who say in their heart, "The LORD will not do good, neither will he do evil." ¹³Their wealth will become a spoil, and their houses a desolation. Yes, they will build houses, but won't inhabit them. They will plant vineyards, but won't drink their wine. ¹⁴The great day of the LORD is near. It is near, and hurries greatly, the voice of the day of the LORD. The mighty man cries there bitterly. ¹⁵That day is a day of wrath, a day of distress and anguish, a day of trouble and ruin, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and blackness, ^{16a}a day of the trumpet and alarm, against the fortified cities, and against the high battlements. ¹⁷I will bring distress on men, that they will walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD, and their blood will be poured out like dust, and their flesh like dung. ¹⁸Neither their silver nor their gold will be able to deliver them in the day of the LORD's wrath, but the whole land will be devoured by the fire of his jealousy; for he will make an end, yes, a terrible end, of all those who dwell in the land.

2 Gather yourselves together, yes, gather together, you nation that has no shame, ²before the appointed time when the day passes as the chaff, before the fierce anger of the LORD comes on you, before the day of the LORD's anger comes on you. ³Seek the LORD, all you humble of the land, who have kept his ordinances. Seek righteousness. Seek humility. It may be that you will be hidden in the day of the LORD's anger. ⁴For Gaza will be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation. They will drive out Ashdod at noonday, and Ekron will be rooted up. ⁵Woe to the inhabitants of the sea coast, the nation of the Cherethites. The word of the LORD is against you, Canaan, the land of the Philistines. I will destroy you, that there will be no inhabitant. ⁶The sea coast will be pastures, with cottages for shepherds and folds for flocks. ⁷The coast will be for the remnant of the house of Judah. They will find pasture. In the houses of Ashkelon, they will lie down in the evening, for the LORD, their God, will visit them, and restore them. ⁸I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the insults of the people of Ammon, with which they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their border. ⁹Therefore as I live, says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, surely Moab will be as Sodom, and the people of Ammon as Gomorrah, a possession of nettles, and salt pits, and a perpetual desolation. The remnant of my people will plunder them, and the survivors of my nation will inherit them. ¹⁰This they will have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the LORD of hosts. ¹¹The LORD will be awesome to them, for he will famish all the gods of the land. Men will worship him, everyone from his place, even all the shores of the nations. ¹²You Cushites also, you will be killed by my sword. ¹³He will stretch out his hand against the north, destroy Assyria, and will make Nineveh a desolation, as dry as the wilderness. ¹⁴Herds will lie down in the midst of her, all the animals of the nations. Both the pelican and the porcupine will lodge in its capitals. Their calls will echo through the windows. Desolation will be in the thresholds, for he has laid bare the cedar beams. ¹⁵This is the joyous city that lived carelessly, that said in her heart, "I am, and there is none besides me." How she has become a desolation, a place for animals to lie down in. Everyone who passes by her will hiss, and shake their fists.

3 Woe to her who is rebellious and polluted, the oppressing city. ²She did not obey the voice. She did not receive correction. She did not trust in the LORD. She did not draw near to her God. ³Her princes in the midst of her are roaring lions. Her judges are evening wolves. They leave nothing until the next day. ⁴Her prophets are arrogant and treacherous people. Her priests have profaned the sanctuary. They have done violence to the law. ⁵The LORD, in the midst of her, is righteous. He will do no wrong. Every morning he brings his justice to light. He doesn't fail, but the unjust know no shame. ⁶I have cut off nations. Their battlements are desolate. I have made their streets waste, so that no one passes by. Their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, so that there is no inhabitant. ⁷I said, "Just fear me. Receive correction, so that her dwelling won't be cut off, according to all that I have appointed concerning her." But they rose early and corrupted all their doings. ⁸"Therefore wait for me," says the LORD, "until the day that I rise up as a witness." ⁹For my determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour on them my indignation, even all my fierce anger. For all the earth will be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. ¹⁰For then I will purify the lips of the peoples, that they may all call on the name of the LORD, to serve him shoulder to shoulder. ¹¹From beyond the rivers of Cush, my worshipers, even the daughter of my dispersed people, will bring my offering. ¹²In that day you will not be disappointed for all your doings, in which you have transgressed against me; for then I will take away out of the midst of you your proudly exulting ones, and you will no more be haughty in my holy mountain. ¹³But I will leave in the midst of you an afflicted and poor people, and they will take refuge in the name of the LORD. ¹⁴The remnant of Israel will not do iniquity, nor speak lies, neither will a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth, for they will feed and lie down, and no one will make them afraid."

¹⁵Sing, daughter of Zion. Shout, Israel. Be glad and rejoice with all your heart, daughter of Jerusalem. ¹⁶The LORD has taken away your judgments. He has thrown out your enemy. The King of Israel, the LORD, is in the midst of you. You will not be afraid of evil any more. ¹⁷In that day, it will be said to Jerusalem, "Do not be afraid, Zion. Do not let your hands be weak." ¹⁸The LORD your God is in your midst, a mighty one who will save. He will rejoice over you with joy. He will calm you in his love. He will rejoice over you with singing. ¹⁹I will remove those who grieve about the appointed feasts from you. They are a burden and a reproach to you. ²⁰Look, at that time I will deal with all those who afflict you, and I will save those who are lame, and gather those who were driven away. I will give them praise and honor, whose shame has been in all the earth. ²¹At that time will I bring you in, and at that time will I gather you; for I will give you honor and praise among all the peoples of the earth, when I restore your fortunes before your eyes, says the LORD.

Haggai

1 In the second year of Darayavush^b the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came by Haggai, the prophet, to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying, ²"This is what the LORD of hosts says: These people say, "The time hasn't yet come, the time for the LORD's house to be built."

³Then the word of the LORD came by Haggai, the prophet, saying, ⁴"Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, while this house lies waste? ⁵Now therefore this is what the LORD of hosts says: Consider your ways. ⁶You have sown much, and bring in little. You eat, but you do not have enough. You drink, but you aren't filled with drink. You clothe yourselves, but no one is warm, and he who earns wages earns wages to put them into a bag with holes in it."

⁷This is what the LORD of hosts says: "Consider your ways. ⁸Go up to the mountain, bring wood, and build the house. I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified," says the LORD. ⁹"You looked for much, and, look, it came to little; and when you brought it home, I blew it away. Why?" says the LORD of hosts, "Because of my house that lies waste, while each of you is busy with his own house. ¹⁰Therefore for your sake the heavens withhold the dew, and the earth withholds its fruit. ¹¹I called for a drought on the land, and on the mountains, and on the grain, and on the new wine, on the oil, and on all^c what the ground produces, and on men, and on livestock, and on all the labor of the hands."

¹²Then Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD, their God, and the words of Haggai, the prophet, as the LORD, their God, had sent him; and the people feared the LORD.

¹³Then Haggai, the LORD's messenger, spoke the LORD's message to the people, saying, "I am with you," says the LORD.

¹⁴The LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and worked on the house of the LORD of hosts, their God, ¹⁵in the twenty-fourth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of Darayavush the king.

2 In the seventh month, in the twenty-first day of the month, the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, saying, ²“Speak now to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying, ³“Who is left among you who saw this house in its former glory? How do you see it now? Isn’t it in your eyes as nothing? ⁴Yet now be strong, Zerubbabel,” says the LORD. “Be strong, Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest. Be strong, all you people of the land,” says the LORD, “and work, for I am with you,” says the LORD of hosts. ⁵This is the word that I covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt, and my Spirit lived among you. “Do not be afraid.” ⁶For this is what the LORD of hosts says: “Yet once more, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens and the earth^a and the sea and the dry land; ⁷and I will shake all nations, and they will come with the treasures of all nations, and I will fill this house with glory, says the LORD of hosts. ⁸The silver is mine, and the gold is mine,” says the LORD of hosts. ⁹“The latter glory of this house will be greater than the former,” says the LORD of hosts; “and in this place will I give peace,” says the LORD of hosts.”

¹⁰In the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darayavush, the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, saying, ¹¹“Thus says the LORD of hosts: Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying, ¹²“If someone carries holy meat in the fold of his garment, and with his fold touches bread, stew, wine, oil, or any food, will it become holy?””

The priests answered, “No.”

¹³Then Haggai said, “If one who is unclean by reason of a dead body touch any of these, will it be unclean?”

The priests answered, “It will be unclean.”

¹⁴Then Haggai answered, ““So is this people, and so is this nation before me,” says the LORD; “and so is every work of their hands. That which they offer there is unclean. ¹⁵Now, please consider from this day and backward, before a stone was laid on a stone in the temple of the LORD. ¹⁶Through all that time, when one came to a heap of twenty measures, there were only ten. When one came to the wine vat to draw out fifty, there were only twenty. ¹⁷I struck you with blight, mildew, and hail in all the work of your hands; yet you did not turn to me,” says the LORD. ¹⁸“Consider, please, from this day and backward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, since the day that the foundation of the LORD’s temple was laid, consider it. ¹⁹Is the seed yet in the barn? Yes, the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree haven’t brought forth. From this day will I bless you.””

²⁰The word of the LORD came the second time to Haggai in the twenty-fourth day of the month, saying, ²¹“Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, ‘I will shake the heavens and the earth. ²²I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms. I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations. I will overthrow the chariots, and those who ride in them. The horses and their riders will come down, everyone by the sword of his brother. ²³In that day, says the LORD of hosts, will I take you, Zerubbabel, my servant, the son of Shealtiel,’ says the LORD, ‘and will make you as a signet, for I have chosen you,’ says the LORD of hosts.”

Zechariah

1 In the eighth month, in the second year of Darayavush^b the word of the LORD came to Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, ²“The LORD was very displeased with your fathers. ³Therefore tell them: Thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘Return to me,’ says the LORD of hosts, ‘and I will return to you,’ says the LORD of hosts. ⁴Do not be like your fathers, to whom the former prophets proclaimed, saying: Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘Return now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings;’ but they did not hear, nor listen to me, says the LORD. ⁵Your fathers, where are they? And the prophets, do they live forever? ⁶But my words and my statutes, which I commanded by my Spirit^c to my servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? Then they repented and said, ‘Just as the LORD of hosts determined to do to us, according to our ways, and according to our practices, so he has dealt with us.’” ⁷On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darayavush, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, ⁸“I had a vision in the night, and look, a man riding on a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in a ravine; and behind him there were red, brown, and white horses. ⁹Then I asked, ‘My lord, what are these?’”

The angel who talked with me said to me, “I will show you what these are.”

¹⁰The man who stood among the myrtle trees answered and said to me,^d “They are the ones the LORD has sent to go back and forth through the earth.”

¹¹They reported to the angel of the LORD who stood among the myrtle trees, and said, “We have walked back and forth through the earth, and look, all the earth is at rest and in peace.” ¹²Then the angel of the LORD replied, “O LORD of hosts, how long will you not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which you have had indignation these seventy years?”

¹³The LORD answered the angel who talked with me with kind and comforting words. ¹⁴So the angel who talked with me said to me, “Proclaim, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts: “I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy. ¹⁵I am very angry with the nations that are at ease; for I was but only a little angry, but they added to the calamity.” ¹⁶Therefore thus says the LORD: “I have returned to Jerusalem with mercy. My house will be built in it,” says the LORD of hosts, “and a line shall be stretched forth over Jerusalem.””

¹⁷“Proclaim further, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘My cities will again overflow with prosperity, and the LORD will again comfort Zion, and will again choose Jerusalem.’””

¹⁸I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and look, four horns. ¹⁹I asked the angel who talked with me, “What are these?”

He answered me, “These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.”

²⁰The LORD showed me four craftsmen. ²¹Then I asked, “What are these coming to do?”

He said, “These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man lifted up his head; but these have come to terrify^a them, to cast down the horns of the nations, which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.”

2 I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and look, a man with a measuring line in his hand. ²Then I asked, “Where are you going?”

He said to me, “To measure Jerusalem, to see what is its breadth and what is its length.”

³Look, the angel who talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him, ⁴and said to him, “Run, speak to this young man, saying, ‘Jerusalem will be inhabited as villages without walls, because of the multitude of men and livestock in it. ⁵For I,’ says the LORD, ‘will be to her a wall of fire around it, and I will be the glory in the midst of her. ⁶Come. Come. Flee from the land of the north,’ says the LORD; ‘for I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the sky,’ says the LORD. ⁷Come, Zion. Escape, you who dwell with the daughter of Babylon.’ ⁸For thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘For honor he has sent me to the nations which plundered you; for he who touches you touches the apple of my^b eye. ⁹For, look, I will shake my hand over them, and they will be a spoil to those who served them; and you will know that the LORD of hosts has sent me. ¹⁰Sing and rejoice, daughter of Zion; for, look, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of you,’ says the LORD. ¹¹Many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people; and I will dwell in the midst of you, and you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you. ¹²The LORD will inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land, and will again choose Jerusalem. ¹³Be silent, all flesh, before the LORD; for he has roused himself from his holy habitation.”

3 He showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and Satan standing at his right hand to be his adversary. ²The LORD said to Satan, “The LORD rebuke you, Satan. Yes, the LORD who has chosen Jerusalem rebuke you. Isn’t this a burning stick plucked out of the fire?”

³Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and was standing before the angel. ⁴He answered and spoke to those who stood before him, saying, “Take the filthy garments off of him.” To him he said, “Look, I have caused your iniquity to pass from you, and I will clothe you with rich clothing.”

⁵I said, “Let them set a clean turban on his head.”

So they set a clean turban on his head, and clothed him; and the angel of the LORD was standing by. ⁶The angel of the LORD protested to Joshua, saying, ⁷“Thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘If you will walk in my ways, and if you will follow my instructions, then you also shall judge my house, and shall also keep my courts, and I will give you a place of access among these who stand by. ⁸Hear now, Joshua the high priest, you and your fellows who sit before you; for they are men who are a sign: for, look, I will bring forth my servant, the Branch. ⁹For, look, the stone that I have set before Joshua; on one stone are seven eyes: look, I will engrave its engraving,’ says the LORD of hosts, ‘and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. ¹⁰In that day,’ says the LORD of hosts, ‘you will invite every man his neighbor under the vine and under the fig tree.’”

4 The angel who talked with me came again, and wakened me, as a man who is wakened out of his sleep. ²He said to me, “What do you see?”

I said, “I have seen, and look, a lampstand all of gold, with its bowl on the top of it, and its seven lamps thereon; there are seven pipes to each of the lamps, which are on the top of it; ³and two olive trees by it, one on the right side of the bowl, and the other on the left side of it.”

⁴I answered and spoke to the angel who talked with me, saying, “What are these, my lord?”

⁵Then the angel who talked with me answered me, “Do you not know what these are?”

I said, “No, my lord.”

⁶Then he answered and spoke to me, saying, “This is the word of the LORD to Zerubbabel, saying, ‘Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit,’ says the LORD of hosts. ⁷Who are you, great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you are a plain; and he will bring out the capstone with shouts of ‘Grace, grace, to it.’”

⁸Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ⁹“The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house. His hands shall also finish it; and you will know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you. ¹⁰Indeed, who despises the day of small things? For these seven shall rejoice, and shall see the plumb line in the hand of Zerubbabel. These are the eyes of the LORD, which run back and forth through the whole earth.”

¹¹Then I asked him, “What are these two olive trees on the right side of the lampstand and on the left side of it?”

¹²I asked him the second time, “What are these two olive branches, which are beside the two golden spouts, that pour the golden oil out of themselves?”

¹³He answered me, “Do you not know what these are?”

I said, “No, my lord.”

¹⁴Then he said, “These are the two anointed ones who stand by the Lord of the whole earth.”

5 Then again I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and look, a flying scroll. ²He said to me, “What do you see?” I answered, “I see a flying scroll; its length is twenty-nine feet six inches,^a and its breadth fourteen feet nine inches.^b”

³Then he said to me, “This is the curse that goes out over the surface of the whole land; for everyone who steals shall be cut off according to it on the one side; and everyone who swears falsely shall be cut off according to it on the other side. ⁴I will cause it to go out,” says the LORD of hosts, “and it will enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him who swears falsely by my name; and it will remain in the midst of his house, and will destroy it with its timber and its stones.”

⁵Then the angel who talked with me came forward, and said to me, “Lift up now your eyes, and see what is this that is appearing.”

⁶And I said, “What is it?” And he said, “This is the ephah^c basket that is appearing.” And he said moreover, “This is their iniquity^d throughout the land. ⁷And look, a lead cover was raised up, and there was a woman sitting in the basket. ⁸And he said, “This is Wickedness;” and he threw her down into the midst of the ephah basket; and he placed the lead cover over its mouth.

⁹Then I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and look, there were two women, and the wind was in their wings. Now they had wings like the wings of a stork, and they lifted up the ephah basket between earth and the sky. ¹⁰Then said I to the angel who talked with me, “Where are these carrying the ephah basket?”

¹¹He said to me, “To build her a house in the land of Shinar. When it is prepared, she will be set there in her own place.”

6 Again I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and look, four chariots came out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of bronze. ²In the first chariot were red horses; in the second chariot black horses; ³in the third chariot white horses; and in the fourth chariot dappled horses, all of them powerful. ⁴Then I asked the angel who talked with me, “What are these, my lord?”

⁵The angel answered me, “These are the four winds of the sky, which go forth from standing before the Lord of all the earth. ⁶The one with the black horses goes out toward the north country; and the white went out after them; and the dappled went forth toward the south country.” ⁷The strong went out, and sought to go that they might walk back and forth through the earth; and he said, “Go around and through the earth.” So they walked back and forth through the earth.

⁸Then he called to me, and spoke to me, saying, “Look, those who go toward the north country have quieted my spirit in the north country.”

⁹The word of the LORD came to me, saying, ¹⁰“Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah; and come the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, where they have come from Babylon. ¹¹Take silver and gold, and make a crown,^e and set it on the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest; ¹²and speak to him, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, “Look, the man whose name is the Branch: and he shall grow up out of his place; and he shall build the temple of the LORD; ¹³even he shall build the temple of the LORD; and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule on his throne; and he shall be a priest on his throne; and the counsel of peace shall be between them both. ¹⁴And the crown shall be to Heldai,^f and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Josiah^g the son of Zephaniah, as a memorial in the temple of the LORD. ¹⁵Those who are far off shall come and build in the temple of the LORD; and you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you. This will happen, if you will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.’”

7 It happened in the fourth year of king Darayavush that the word of the LORD came to Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, the month of Chislev. ²The people of Bethel sent Sharezer and Regem Melech, and their men, to entreat the LORD’s favor, ³and to speak to the priests of the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, “Should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years?”

⁴Then the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying, ⁵“Speak to all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, ‘When you fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh month for these seventy years, did you at all fast to me, really to me? ⁶When you eat, and when you drink, do you not eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves? ⁷Aren’t these the words which the LORD proclaimed by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and its cities around her, and the Negev and the lowland were inhabited?’”

⁸The word of the LORD came to Zechariah, saying, ⁹“Thus has the LORD of hosts spoken, saying, ‘Execute true judgment, and show kindness and compassion every man to his brother. ¹⁰Do not oppress the widow, nor the fatherless, the foreigner, nor the poor; and let none of you devise evil against his brother in your heart.’ ¹¹But they refused to listen, and turned their backs, and stopped their ears, that they might not hear. ¹²Yes, they made their hearts as hard as flint, lest they might hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts had sent by his Spirit by the former prophets. Therefore great wrath came from the LORD of hosts. ¹³It has come to pass that, as he called, and they refused to listen, so they will call, and I will not listen,” said the LORD of hosts; ¹⁴“but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all the nations which they have not known. Thus the land was desolate after them, so that no man passed through nor returned: for they made the pleasant land desolate.”

8 The word of the LORD of hosts came to me. ²Thus says the LORD of hosts: “I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great wrath.”

³Thus says the LORD: “I have returned to Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem. Jerusalem shall be called ‘The City of Truth;’ and the mountain of the LORD of hosts, ‘The Holy Mountain.’”

⁴Thus says the LORD of hosts: “Old men and old women will again dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, every man with his staff in his hand for very age. ⁵The streets of the city will be full of boys and girls playing in its streets.”

⁶Thus says the LORD of hosts: “If it is marvelous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be marvelous in my eyes?” says the LORD of hosts.

⁷Thus says the LORD of hosts: “Look, I will save my people from the east country, and from the west country; ⁸and I will bring them, and they will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they will be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.”

⁹Thus says the LORD of hosts: “Let your hands be strong, you who hear in these days these words from the mouth of the prophets who were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, even the temple, that it might be built. ¹⁰For before those days there was no wages for man, nor any wages for an animal; neither was there any peace to him who went out or came in, because of the adversary. For I set all men everyone against his neighbor. ¹¹But now I will not be to the remnant of this people as in the former days,” says the LORD of hosts. ¹²“For the seed of peace and the vine will yield its fruit, and the ground will give its increase, and the heavens will give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to inherit all these things. ¹³It shall come to pass that, as you were a curse among the nations, house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you, and you shall be a blessing. Do not be afraid. Let your hands be strong.”

¹⁴For thus says the LORD of hosts: “As I thought to do evil to you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath,” says the LORD of hosts, “and I did not repent; ¹⁵so again have I thought in these days to do good to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. Do not be afraid. ¹⁶These are the things that you shall do: speak every man the truth with his neighbor. Execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates, ¹⁷and let none of you devise evil in your hearts against his neighbor, and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate,” says the LORD.

¹⁸The word of the LORD of hosts came to me. ¹⁹Thus says the LORD of hosts: “The fasts of the fourth fifth, seventh, and tenth months shall be for the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts. Therefore love truth and peace.”

²⁰Thus says the LORD of hosts: “Many^a peoples and the inhabitants of many cities will yet come; ²¹and the inhabitants of one shall go to another, saying, ‘Let us go speedily to entreat the favor of the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts. I will go also.’ ²²Yes, many peoples and strong nations will come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and to entreat the favor of the LORD.” ²³Thus says the LORD of hosts: “In those days, ten men will take hold, out of all the languages of the nations, they will take hold of the skirt of him who is a Jew, saying, ‘We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.’”

9 An oracle.
The word of the LORD is against the land of Hadrach, and will rest upon Damascus;
for the eye of man
and of all the tribes of Israel is toward the LORD;

²and Hamath, also, which borders on it;
Tyre and Sidon, because they are very wise.

³Tyre built herself a stronghold, and heaped up silver like the dust,
and fine gold like the mire of the streets.

⁴Look, the LORD^b will dispossess her,
and he will strike her power in the sea;
and she will be devoured with fire.

⁵Ashkelon will see it, and fear;
Gaza also, and will writhe in agony;
as will Ekron, for her expectation will be disappointed;
and the king will perish from Gaza,
and Ashkelon will not be inhabited.

⁶Foreigners will dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

⁷I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth;
and he also will be a remnant for our God;
and he will be as a chieftain in Judah,
and Ekron as a Jebusite.

⁸I will camp around my house against the army,
that none pass through or return;
and no oppressor will pass through them any more:
for now I have seen with my eyes.

⁹Rejoice greatly, daughter of Zion.
Shout, daughter of Jerusalem.

Look, your king comes to you.
He is righteous, and having salvation;
lowly, and riding on a donkey,
even on a colt, the foal of a donkey.

¹⁰I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim,
and the horse from Jerusalem;
and the battle bow will be cut off;
and he will speak peace to the nations:
and his dominion will be from sea to sea,
and from the River to the farthest parts of the earth.

¹¹As for you also,
because of the blood of your covenant,
I have set free your prisoners from the pit in which is no water.

¹²Turn to the stronghold, you prisoners of hope.
Even today I declare that I will restore double to you.

¹³For indeed I bend Judah as a bow for me.
I have filled the bow with Ephraim;
and I will stir up your sons, Zion, against your sons, Greece,
and will make you like the sword of a mighty man.

¹⁴The LORD will be seen over them;
and his arrow will go forth like lightning;
and the Lord GOD will blow the trumpet,
and will go with whirlwinds of the south.

¹⁵The LORD of hosts will defend them;
and they will destroy and overcome with sling stones;
and they will drink, and roar as through wine;
and they will be filled like bowls,
like the corners of the altar.

¹⁶The LORD their God will save them in that day as the flock of his people;
for they are like the jewels of a crown,
lifted on high over his land.

¹⁷For how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty.

⁴From him will come forth the cornerstone,
from him the nail,

⁶"I will strengthen the house of Judah,

for I am the LORD their God, and I will hear them.

⁷Ephraim will be like a mighty man,
and their heart will rejoice as through wine;
yes, their children will see it, and rejoice.
Their heart will be glad in the LORD.

⁸I will signal for them, and gather them;
for I have redeemed them;
and they will increase as they have increased.

⁹I will sow them among the peoples;
and they will remember me in far countries;
and they will live with their children, and will return.

¹⁰I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria;
and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon;
and there won't be room enough for them.

¹¹He will pass through the sea of affliction, and will strike the waves in the sea,
and all the depths of the Nile will dry up;
and the pride of Assyria will be brought down,
and the scepter of Egypt will depart.

¹²I will strengthen them in the LORD;
and they will walk up and down in his name," says the LORD.

11 Open your doors, Lebanon,

²Wail, fir tree, for the cedar has fallen,
because the stately ones are destroyed.

Wail, you oaks of Bashan,
for the strong forest has come down.

³A voice of the wailing of the shepherds.

For their glory is destroyed: a voice of the roaring of young

For the pride of the Jordan is ruined.

⁴Thus says the LORD my God: "Feed the flock of slaughter.
⁵Their buyers slaughter them, and go unpunished. Those who sell them say, 'Blessed be the LORD, for I am rich;' and their own shepherds do not pity them. ⁶For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land," says the LORD; "but, look, I will deliver the men everyone into his neighbor's hand, and into the hand of his king. They will strike the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them."

⁷So I fed the flock of slaughter, especially the oppressed of the flock. I took for myself two staffs. The one I called "Favor," and the other I called "Union," and I fed the flock. ⁸I cut off the three shepherds in one month; for my soul was weary of them, and their soul also loathed me. ⁹Then I said, "I will not feed you. That which dies, let it die; and that which is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let those who are left eat each other's flesh." ¹⁰I took my staff Favor, and cut it apart, that I might break my covenant that I had made with all the peoples. ¹¹It was broken in that day; and thus the poor^b of the flock that listened to me knew that it was the word of the LORD. ¹²I said to them, "If you think it best, give me my wages; and if not, keep them."
So they weighed for my wages thirty pieces of silver. ¹³The LORD said to me, "Throw it to the potter, the handsome price that I was valued at by them." I took the thirty pieces of silver, and threw them to the potter, in the house of the LORD. ¹⁴Then I cut apart my other staff, even Union, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

¹⁵The LORD said to me, "Take for yourself yet again the equipment of a foolish shepherd. ¹⁶For, look, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, who will not visit those who are cut off, neither will seek those who are scattered, nor heal that which is broken, nor feed that which is sound; but he will eat the flesh of the fat sheep, and will tear their hoofs in pieces. ¹⁷Woe to the worthless shepherd who leaves the flock. The sword will be on his arm, and on his right eye.
His arm will be completely withered, and his right eye will be totally blinded."

12 An oracle. The word of the LORD concerning Israel.
The LORD, who stretches out the heavens, and lays the foundation of the earth, and forms the spirit of man within him says: ²"Look, I will make Jerusalem a cup of reeling to all the surrounding peoples, and on Judah also will it be in the siege against Jerusalem. ³It will happen in that day, that I will make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all the peoples. All who burden themselves with it will be severely wounded, and all the nations of the earth will be gathered together against it. ⁴In that day," says the LORD, "I will strike every horse with terror, and his rider with madness; and I will open my eyes on the house of Judah, and will strike every horse of the peoples with blindness. ⁵The chieftains of Judah will say in their heart, 'The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in the LORD of hosts their God.' ⁶In that day I will make the chieftains of Judah like a pan of fire among wood, and like a flaming torch among sheaves; and they will devour all the surrounding peoples, on the right hand and on the left; and Jerusalem will yet again dwell in their own place, even in Jerusalem. ⁷The LORD also will save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem not be magnified above Judah.
⁸In that day the LORD will defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem. He who is feeble among them at that day will be like David, and the house of David will be like God, like the angel of the LORD before them. ⁹It will happen in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem. ¹⁰I will pour on the house of David, and on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of petition; and they will look to me whom they have pierced; and they shall mourn for him, as one mourns for his only son, and will grieve bitterly for him, as one grieves for his firstborn. ¹¹In that day there will be a great mourning in Jerusalem, like the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon. ¹²The land will mourn, every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart; ¹³the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of the Shimeites apart, and their wives apart; ¹⁴all the families who remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

13 “In that day there will be a spring opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness. ²It will come to pass in that day, says the LORD of hosts, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they will be remembered no more. I will also cause the^a prophets and the spirit of impurity to pass out of the land. ³It will happen that, when anyone still prophesies, then his father and his mother who bore him will tell him, ‘You must die, because you speak lies in the name of the LORD;’ and his father and his mother who bore him will stab him when he prophesies. ⁴It will happen in that day, that the prophets will each be ashamed of his vision, when he prophesies; neither will they wear a hairy mantle to deceive: ⁵but he will say, ‘I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a bondservant from my youth.’ ⁶One will say to him, ‘What are these wounds between your hands?’ Then he will answer, ‘Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.’

⁷“Awake, sword, against my shepherd, and against the man who is close to me,” says the LORD of hosts.

“I will^b strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered; and I will turn my hand against the little ones.

⁸It shall happen that in all the land,” says the LORD, “two parts in it will be cut off and die; but the third will be left in it.

⁹I will bring the third part into the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will test them like gold is tested.

They will call on my name, and I will hear them. I will say, ‘It is my people;’ and they will say, ‘The LORD is my God.’”

14 Look, a day of the LORD comes, when your spoil will be divided in your midst. ²For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city will be taken, the houses rifled, and the women ravished. Half of the city will go out into captivity, and the rest of the people will not be cut off from the city. ³Then the LORD will go out and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle. ⁴His feet will stand in that day on the Mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east; and the Mount of Olives will be split in two, from east to west, making a very great valley. Half of the mountain will move toward the north, and half of it toward the south. ⁵Then you shall flee by the valley of my mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach to Azel; yes, you shall flee, just like you fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah. Then the LORD my God will come, and^c all the holy ones with him.^d ⁶It will happen in that day, that there will not be light, cold, or frost. ⁷It will be a unique day which is known to the LORD; not day, and not night; but it will come to pass, that at evening time there will be light.

⁸It will happen in that day, that living waters will go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the eastern sea, and half of them toward the western sea; in summer and in winter will it be.

⁹The LORD will be King over all the earth. In that day the LORD will be one, and his name one. ¹⁰All the land will be made like the Arabah, from Geba to Rimmon in the Negev. Jerusalem will be lifted up, and will dwell in her place, from Benjamin’s gate to the place of the first gate, to the Corner Gate, and from the Tower of Hananel to the king’s winepresses. ¹¹Men will dwell in it, and there will be no more curse; but Jerusalem will dwell safely. ¹²This will be the plague with which the LORD will strike all the peoples who have warred against Jerusalem: their flesh will consume away while they stand on their feet, and their eyes will consume away in their sockets, and their tongue will consume away in their mouth. ¹³It will happen in that day, that a great panic from the LORD will be among them; and they will lay hold everyone on the hand of his neighbor, and his hand will rise up against the hand of his neighbor. ¹⁴Judah also will fight at Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the surrounding nations will be gathered together: gold, and silver, and clothing, in great abundance.

¹⁵So will be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the donkey, and of all the animals that will be in those camps, as that plague. ¹⁶It will happen that everyone who is left of all the nations that came against Jerusalem will go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the feast of booths. ¹⁷It will be, that whoever of all the families of the earth doesn’t go up to Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, on them there will be no rain. ¹⁸If the family of Egypt doesn’t go up and enter in, on them will^e be the plague with which the LORD will strike the nations that do not go up to keep the feast of booths. ¹⁹This will be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that do not go up to keep the feast of booths. ²⁰In that day there will be on the bells of the horses, “HOLY TO THE LORD;” and the pots in the LORD’s house will be like the bowls before the altar. ²¹Yes, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah will be holy to the LORD of hosts; and all those who sacrifice will come and take of them, and cook in them. In that day there will no longer be a Canaanite in the house of the LORD of hosts.

“Wasn’t Esau Jacob’s brother?” says the LORD, “Yet I loved Jacob; ³but Esau I hated, and made his mountains a desolation, and gave his heritage to the jackals of the wilderness.” ⁴Whereas Edom says, “We are beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places;” thus says the LORD of hosts, “They shall build, but I will throw down; and men will call them ‘The Wicked Land,’ even the people against whom the LORD shows wrath forever.”

⁵Your eyes will see, and you will say, “The LORD is great—even beyond the border of Israel.”

⁶“A son honors his father, and a servant his master. If I am a father, then where is my honor? And if I am a master, where is the respect due me? says the LORD of hosts to you, priests, who despise my name. Yet you say, ‘How have we despised your name?’ ⁷By offering defiled food on my altar. But you say, ‘How have we defiled you?’ In that you say, ‘The LORD’s table is despised, and its fruit, its food, is despised.’^a ⁸When you offer the blind for sacrifice, isn’t that evil? And when you offer the lame and sick, isn’t that evil? Present it now to your governor. Will he be pleased with you? Or will he accept your person?” says the LORD of hosts.

⁹“Now, please entreat the favor of God, that he may be gracious to us. With this, will he accept any of you?” says the LORD of hosts.

¹⁰“Oh that there were one among you who would shut the doors, that you might not kindle fire on my altar in vain. I have no pleasure in you,” says the LORD of hosts, “neither will I accept an offering at your hand. ¹¹For from the rising of the sun even to the going down of the same, my name is great among the nations, and in every place incense will be offered to my name, and a pure offering: for my name is great among the nations,” says the LORD of hosts. ¹²“But you profane it, in that you say, ‘The LORD’s table is defiled, and its fruit, its food, is despised.’ ¹³You say also, ‘Look, what a weariness it is.’ and you sniff scornfully at it,” says the LORD of hosts; “and you have brought that which was taken by violence, the lame, and the sick; thus you bring the offering. Should I accept this at your hand?” says the LORD of hosts.^b

2 “Now, you priests, this commandment is for you. ²If you will not listen, and if you will not lay it to heart, to give glory to my name,” says the LORD of hosts, “then will I send the curse on you, and I will curse your blessings. Indeed, I have cursed them already, because you do not lay it to heart. ³Look, I will rebuke your seed, and will spread dung on your faces, even the dung of your feasts; and you will be taken away with it. ⁴You will know that I have sent this commandment to you, that my covenant may be with Levi,” says the LORD of hosts. ⁵“My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him that he might be reverent toward me; and he was reverent toward me, and stood in awe of my name. ⁶The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips. He walked with me in peace and uprightness, and turned many away from iniquity. ⁷For the priest’s lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth; for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts. ⁸But you have turned aside out of the way. You have caused many to stumble in the law. You have corrupted the covenant of Levi,” says the LORD of hosts. ⁹“Therefore I have also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according to the way you have not kept my ways, but have had respect for persons in the law. ¹⁰Do we not all have one father? Hasn’t one God created us? Why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, profaning the covenant of our fathers? ¹¹Judah has dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah has profaned the holiness of the LORD which he loves, and has married the daughter of a foreign god. ¹²The LORD will cut off, to the man who does this, him who wakes and him who answers, out of the tents of Jacob, and him who offers an offering to the LORD of hosts. ¹³This again you do: you cover the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, because he doesn’t regard the offering any more, neither receives it with good will at your hand. ¹⁴Yet you say, ‘Why?’ Because the LORD has been witness between you and the wife of your youth, against whom you have dealt treacherously, though she is your companion, and the wife of your covenant. ¹⁵Did he not make one, although he had the residue of the Spirit? Why one? He sought a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. ¹⁶For I hate divorce,” says the LORD, the God of Israel, “and him who covers his garment with violence.” says the LORD of hosts. “Therefore take heed to your spirit, that you do not deal treacherously. ¹⁷You have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet you say, ‘How have we wearied him?’ In that you say, ‘Everyone who does evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delights in them;’ or ‘Where is the God of justice?’

3 “Look, I send my messenger, and he will prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom you seek, will suddenly come to his temple; and the messenger of the covenant, whom you desire, look, he comes.” says the LORD of hosts. ²But who can endure the day of his coming? And who will stand when he appears? For he is coming^d like a refiner’s fire, and like launderer’s soap. ³And he will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he will purify the sons of Levi, and refine them as gold and silver; and they shall offer to the LORD offerings in righteousness. ⁴Then the offering of Judah and Jerusalem will be pleasant to the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in ancient years. ⁵I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against the perjurers, and against those who oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and who deprive the foreigner of justice, and do not fear me,” says the LORD of hosts. ⁶“For I, the LORD, do not change; therefore you, sons of Jacob, are not consumed. ⁷From the days of your fathers you have turned aside from my ordinances, and have not kept them. Return to me, and I will return to you,” says the LORD of hosts. “But you say, ‘How shall we return?’ ⁸Will a man rob God? Yet you rob me. But you say, ‘How have we robbed you?’ In tithes and offerings. ⁹You are cursed with the curse; for you rob me, even this whole nation. ¹⁰Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house, and test me now in this,” says the LORD of hosts, “if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough for. ¹¹I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast its fruit before its time in the field,” says the LORD of hosts. ¹²“All nations shall call you blessed, for you will be a delightful land,” says the LORD of hosts.

They even tempt God and escape.’ ¹⁶Then those who feared the LORD spoke one with another; and the LORD listened, and heard, and a book of remembrance was written before him, for those who feared the LORD, and who honored his name. ¹⁷They shall be mine,” says the LORD of hosts, “my own possession in the day that I make, and I will spare them, as a man spares his own son who serves him. ¹⁸Then you shall return and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him who serves God and him who doesn’t serve him.

4 “For, look, the day comes, it burns as a furnace; and all the proud, and all who work wickedness, will be stubble; and the day that comes will burn them up,” says the LORD of hosts, “that it shall leave them neither root nor branch. ²But to you who fear my name shall the sun of righteousness arise with healing in its wings. You will go out, and leap like calves of the stall. ³You shall tread down the wicked; for they will be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I make,” says the LORD of hosts.

⁴“Remember the Law of Moses my servant, which I commanded to him in Horeb for all Israel, even statutes and ordinances. ⁵Look, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and awesome day of the LORD comes. ⁶He will turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the hearts of the children to their fathers, lest I come and strike the earth with a curse.

The New Testament

THE GOOD NEWS ACCORDING TO

Matthew

A record of the genealogy of Jesus Christ,^a the son of David, the son of Abraham. ²Abraham was the father of Isaac, and Isaac the father of Jacob, and Jacob the father of Judah and his brothers, ³and Judah was the father of Perez and Zerah by Tamar, and Perez was the father of Hezron, and Hezron the father of Ram, ⁴and Ram the father of Amminadab, and Amminadab the father of Nahshon, and Nahshon the father of Salmon, ⁵and Salmon the father of Boaz by Rahab, and Boaz^b was the father of Obed by Ruth, and Obed^c was the father of Jesse, ⁶and Jesse the father of David the king. And David^d was the father of Solomon by her who had been the wife of Uriah; ⁷and Solomon was the father of Rehoboam, and Rehoboam the father of Abijah, and Abijah^e the father of Asa; ⁸and Asa^f the father of Jehoshaphat, and Jehoshaphat the father of Joram, and Joram the father of Uzziah, ⁹and Uzziah the father of Jotham, and Jotham the father of Ahaz, and Ahaz the father of Hezekiah; ¹⁰and Hezekiah the father of Manasseh, and Manasseh the father of Amon, and Amon^g the father of Josiah, ¹¹and Josiah the father of Jechoniah and his brothers, at the time of the exile to Babylon. ¹²And after the exile to Babylon, Jechoniah was the father of Shealtiel, and Shealtiel the father of Zerubbabel, ¹³and Zerubbabel the father of Abihud, and Abihud the father of Eliakim, and Eliakim the father of Azzur,^h ¹⁴and Azzur the father of Zadok, and Zadok the father of Ahiam,ⁱ and Ahiam the father of Elihud,^j ¹⁵and Elihud the father of Eleazar, and Eleazar the father of Matthan, and Matthan the father of Jacob, ¹⁶and Jacob the father of Joseph, the husband of Mary, from whom was born Jesus, who is called the Christ.^k ¹⁷So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David to the exile to Babylon fourteen generations; and from the exile to Babylon to the Christ, fourteen generations.

¹⁸Now the birth of Jesus Christ happened like this. His mother Mary had been engaged to Joseph, and before they came together, she was found to be with child from the Holy Spirit. ¹⁹And Joseph, her husband, being a righteous man, and not willing to make her a public example, intended to put her away secretly. ²⁰But when he thought about these things, look, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying, “Joseph, son of David, do not be afraid to take to yourself Mary, your wife, for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Spirit. ²¹And she will bring forth a son, and you are to name him Jesus^l, for he will save his people from their sins.”

²²Now all this has happened, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, ²³“Look, the virgin will conceive and bear a son, and they will call his name Immanuel;” which is translated, “God with us.”^m

²⁴And Joseph arose from his sleep, and did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took his wife to himself; ²⁵and had no marital relations with her until she had brought forth a sonⁿ; and he named him Jesus.

2 Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, look, Magi^o from the east came to Jerusalem, saying, ²“Where is he who is born King of the Jews? For we saw his star in the east, and have come to worship him.”³ And when King Herod heard it, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.⁴ And gathering together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he asked them where the Christ would be born.⁵ And they said to him, “In Bethlehem of Judea, for thus it is written through the prophet,

⁶ And you, Bethlehem, land of Judah, are in no way least among the rulers of Judah;
for out of you will come forth a ruler who will shepherd my people, Israel.”^a

⁷ Then Herod secretly called the Magi and learned from them exactly what time the star appeared.⁸ And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, “Go and search diligently for the young child, and when you have found him, bring me word, so that I also may come and worship him.”

¹³ Now when they had departed, look, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, saying, “Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and stay there until I tell you, for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him.”

¹⁴ And he arose and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt,¹⁵ and was there until the death of Herod; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, “Out of Egypt I called my son.”^b

¹⁶ Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked by the Magi, was exceedingly angry, and sent out, and killed all the male children who were in Bethlehem and in all the surrounding countryside, from two years old and under, according to the exact time which he had learned from the Magi.¹⁷ Then that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet was fulfilled, saying,

¹⁸ “A voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation and^c weeping and great mourning,
Rachel weeping for her children;
and she would not be comforted,
because they are no more.”^d

¹⁹ But when Herod was dead, look, an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, saying,²⁰ “Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel, for those who sought the young child’s life are dead.”

²¹ And he arose and took the young child and his mother, and went to the land of Israel.²² But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judea in the place of his father, Herod, he was afraid to go there. Being warned in a dream, he withdrew into the region of Galilee,²³ and came and lived in a city called Nazareth; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophets, that he will be called a Nazorean.^e

3 And in those days John the Baptist came, preaching in the wilderness of Judea² and saying, “Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is near.”³ For this is he who was spoken of by Isaiah the prophet, saying,
“The voice of one who calls out in the wilderness, ‘Prepare the way of the Lord.
Make his roads straight.’”^f

¹⁰ “Even now the axe lies at the root of the trees. Therefore, every tree that does not bring forth good fruit is cut down, and cast into the fire.¹¹ I indeed baptize you in water for repentance, but the one who comes after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to carry. He will baptize you in the Holy Spirit and with fire^h.¹² His winnowing fork is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing floor. He will gather his wheat into the barn, but the chaff he will burn up with unquenchable fire.”

¹³ Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan to John, to be baptized by him.¹⁴ But John would have hindered him, saying, “I need to be baptized by you, and you come to me?”

¹⁵ But Jesus, answering, said to him, “Allow it to happen now, for this is the proper way for us to fulfill all righteousness.” Then he allowed him.¹⁶ And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up directly from the water; and look, the heavens were opened to him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming on him.¹⁷ And look, a voice out of the heavens said, “This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased.”

4 Then Jesus was led up by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the devil.² And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was hungry afterward.³ And the tempter came and said to him, “If you are the Son of God, command that these stones become bread.”

⁴But he answered and said, “It is written, ‘Humankind cannot live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds out of the mouth of God.’”^a

⁵Then the devil took him into the holy city. He set him on the pinnacle of the temple, ⁶and said to him, “If you are the Son of God, throw yourself down, for it is written, ‘He will put his angels in charge of you.’ and, ‘In their hands they will lift you up, so that you will not strike your foot against a stone.’”^b

⁷Jesus said to him, “Again, it is written, ‘Do not test the Lord, your God.’”^c

⁸Again, the devil took him to a very high mountain, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world, and their glory. ⁹And he said to him, “I will give you all of these things, if you will fall down and worship me.”

¹⁰Then Jesus said to him, “Go away^d, Satan. For it is written, ‘You are to worship the Lord your God, and serve him only.’”^e

¹¹Then the devil left him, and look, angels came and served him. ¹²Now when he^f heard that John was delivered up, he withdrew into Galilee. ¹³And leaving Nazareth, he came and lived in Capernaum, which is by the sea, in the region of Zebulun and Naphtali, ¹⁴that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying,

¹⁶The people sitting in darkness have seen a great light, and those living in the land and shadow of death, on them a light has dawned.”^g

¹⁷From that time, Jesus began to proclaim, and to say, “Repent. For the kingdom of heaven is near.”

¹⁸And walking by the sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers: Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew, his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishermen. ¹⁹And he said to them, “Come, follow me, and I will make you fishers of people.”

²⁰And they immediately left their nets and followed him. ²¹Going on from there, he saw two other brothers, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets, and he called them. ²²And they immediately left the boat and their father, and followed him.

²³And Jesus^h went about in all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Good News of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every sickness among the people. ²⁴And the report about him went out into all Syria, and they brought to him all who were sick, afflicted with various diseases and torments, possessed with demons, and epileptics, and paralytics; and he healed them. ²⁵And large crowds from Galilee, and Decapolis, and Jerusalem, and Judea, and from beyond the Jordan followed him.

5 And seeing the multitudes, he went up onto the mountain, and when he had sat down, his disciples came to him. ²Then he opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

³“Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

⁴Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted.

⁵Blessed are the gentle, for they will inherit the earth.

⁶Blessed are those who hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they will be filled.

⁷Blessed are the merciful, for they will obtain mercy.

⁸Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God.

⁹Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called the children of God.

¹⁰Blessed are those who have been persecuted for righteousness’ sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

¹¹“Blessed are you when they insult you, persecute you, and say all kinds of evil against you falsely, for my sake. ¹²Rejoice, and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven. For that is how they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

¹³“You are the salt of the earth, but if the salt has lost its flavor, with what will it be salted? It is then good for nothing, but to be cast out and trampled under people’s feet. ¹⁴You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill cannot be hidden. ¹⁵Neither do you light a lamp, and put it under a measuring basket, but on a stand; and it shines to all who are in the house. ¹⁶In the same way, let your light shine before people, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven.

¹⁷“Do not think that I came to destroy the Law or the Prophets. I did not come to destroy, but to fulfill. ¹⁸For truly, I tell you, until heaven and earth pass away, not the smallest letterⁱ or part of a letter will disappear from the Law, until all things are accomplished. ¹⁹Therefore, whoever will break one of these least commandments, and teach others to do so, will be called least in the kingdom of heaven; but whoever will do and teach them will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. ²⁰For I tell you that unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, there is no way you will enter into the kingdom of heaven.

First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift. ²⁵Agree with your adversary quickly, while you are with him in the way; lest perhaps the prosecutor deliver you to the judge, and the judge^c to the officer, and you be cast into prison. ²⁶Truly I tell you, you will never get out of there until you have paid the last penny.

³³"Again you have heard that it was said to them of old time, 'Do not make false vows, but fulfill your vows to the Lord.'³⁴ But I tell you, do not swear at all: neither by heaven, for it is the throne of God; ³⁵nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his feet; nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. ³⁶Neither should you swear by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black. ³⁷But let your 'Yes' be 'Yes' and your 'No' be 'No.' Whatever is more than these is of the evil one.

³⁸"You have heard that it was said, 'An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.'³⁹ But I tell you, do not set yourself against the one who is evil. But whoever strikes you on yourⁿ right cheek, turn to him the other also. ⁴⁰And if anyone sues you to take away your shirt, let him have your coat also. ⁴¹And whoever compels you to go one mile, go with him two. ⁴²Give to him who asks you, and do not turn away from him who desires to borrow from you.

⁴³"You have heard that it was said, 'Love your neighbor,^p and hate your enemy.'⁴⁴ But I tell you, love your enemies,^q and pray for those who^r persecute you, ⁴⁵that you may be children of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the just and the unjust. ⁴⁶For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same?⁴⁷ And if you only greet your brothers^s, what more do you do than others? Do not even the non-Jews^t do the same?⁴⁸ You therefore are to be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect.

6 "Be careful that you do not do your righteousness^u before people, to be seen by them, or else you have no reward from your Father who is in heaven. ²Therefore when you practice charitable giving, do not sound a trumpet before yourself, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may get glory from people. Truly I tell you, they have received their reward. ³But when you practice charitable giving, do not let your left hand know what your right hand does, ⁴so that your charitable giving may be in secret, then your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

⁵"And when you pray, you are not to be as the hypocrites, for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen by others. Truly, I tell you, they have received their reward. ⁶But you, when you pray, enter into your inner chamber, and having shut your door, pray to your Father who is in secret, and your Father who sees in secret will reward you.^v ⁷And in praying, do not use vain repetitions, as the unbelievers do; for they think that they will be heard for their much speaking. ⁸Therefore do not be like them, for your Father knows what things you need, before you ask him. ⁹Therefore, you should pray this way:

¹⁹“Do not store up treasures for yourselves on the earth, where moth and decay destroy, and where thieves break through and steal;²⁰ but store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor decay destroy, and where thieves do not break through and steal;²¹ for where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

²²“The lamp of the body is the eye. If therefore your eye is sound, your whole body will be full of light.²³ But if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in you is darkness, how great is the darkness.

²⁴“No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other; or else he will be devoted to one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and Mammon.²⁵ Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink;^a or about your body, what you will wear. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing?²⁶ See the birds of the sky, that they do not sow, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns, and your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of much more value than they?

³¹“Therefore do not be anxious, saying, ‘What will we eat?’, ‘What will we drink?’ or, ‘With what will we be clothed?’³² For the unbelievers seek after all these things, for your heavenly Father knows that you need all these things.³³ But seek first the kingdom^b and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well.³⁴ Therefore do not be anxious for tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own.

7 “Do not judge, so that you won't be judged.² For with whatever judgment you judge, you will be judged; and with whatever measure you measure, it will be measured to you.³ And why do you see the speck that is in your brother's eye, but do not notice the log that is in your own eye?⁴ Or how will you tell your brother, ‘Let me remove the speck from your eye;’ and look, the log is in your own eye?⁵ You hypocrite. First remove the log out of your own eye, and then you can see clearly to remove the speck out of your brother's eye.

⁷“Ask, and it will be given to you. Seek, and you will find. Knock, and it will be opened for you.⁸ For everyone who asks receives. He who seeks finds. To him who knocks it will be opened.⁹ Or who is there among you, who, if his son will ask him for bread, will give him a stone?¹⁰ Or if he will ask for a fish, who will give him a serpent?¹¹ If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him.¹² Therefore whatever you desire for people to do to you, so also you should do to them; for this is the Law and the Prophets.

¹³“Enter in by the narrow gate; for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leads to destruction, and many are those who enter in by it.¹⁴ How narrow is the gate, and difficult is the way that leads to life. Few are those who find it.

¹⁵“Beware^d of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ravening wolves.¹⁶ By their fruits you will know them. Do you gather grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles?¹⁷ Even so, every good tree produces good fruit; but the corrupt tree produces evil fruit.¹⁸ A good tree cannot produce evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree produce good fruit.¹⁹ Every tree that does not grow good fruit is cut down, and thrown into the fire.²⁰ Therefore, by their fruits you will know them.²¹ Not everyone who says to me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ will enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven.²² Many will tell me in that day, ‘Lord, Lord, did not we prophesy in your name, in your name cast out demons, and in your name do many mighty works?’²³ And then I will tell them, ‘I never knew you. Depart from me, you who practice lawlessness.’^e

²⁴“Everyone therefore who hears these words of mine, and does them, will be compared to^f a wise man, who built his house on a rock.²⁵ And the rain came down, the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat on that house; and it did not fall, for it was founded on the rock.²⁶ And everyone who hears these words of mine, and does not do them will be like a foolish man, who built his house on the sand.²⁷ And the rain came down, the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat on that house; and it fell—and great was its fall.”

²⁸And it happened, when Jesus had finished saying these things, that the crowds were astonished at his teaching,²⁹ for he taught them with authority, and not like their^g scribes.

8 And when he came down from the mountain, large crowds followed him.² And look, a leper came to him and worshiped him, saying, “Lord, if you want to, you can make me clean.”

⁵And when he^a came into Capernaum, a centurion came to him, asking him, ⁶and saying, “Lord, my servant lies in the house paralyzed, grievously tormented.”

⁷And he^b said to him, “I will come and heal him.”

⁸And the centurion answered, “Lord, I’m not worthy for you to come under my roof. Just say the word, and my servant will be healed. ⁹For I am also a man under authority, having under myself soldiers. I tell this one, ‘Go,’ and he goes; and tell another, ‘Come,’ and he comes; and tell my servant, ‘Do this,’ and he does it.”

¹⁰And when Jesus heard it, he was amazed, and said to those who followed, “Truly I tell you, I have not found so great a faith with anyone in Israel. ¹¹And I tell you that many will come from the east and the west, and will sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven, ¹²but the children^c of the kingdom will be thrown out into the outer darkness. There will be weeping and grinding of teeth.” ¹³And Jesus said to the centurion, “Go your way. Let it be done for you as you have believed.” And the^d servant was healed in that hour.

¹⁴And when Jesus came into Peter’s house, he saw his mother-in-law lying sick with a fever. ¹⁵So he touched her hand, and the fever left her. She got up and served him^e. ¹⁶And when evening came, they brought to him many possessed with demons. He cast out the spirits with a word, and healed all who were sick; ¹⁷that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying, “He took our infirmities, and bore our diseases.”^f ¹⁸Now when Jesus saw large^g crowds around him, he gave the order to depart to the other side.

¹⁹Then a scribe came, and said to him, “Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go.”

²⁰And Jesus said to him, “The foxes have holes, and the birds of the sky have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head.”

²¹And another of the^h disciples said to him, “Lord, allow me first to go and bury my father.”

²²But Jesus said to him, “Follow me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead.”

²³And when he got into a boat, his disciples followed him. ²⁴And look, a violent storm came up on the sea, so much that the boat was covered with the waves, but he was asleep. ²⁵Theyⁱ came to him, and woke him up, saying, “Save us, Lord. We are dying.”

²⁶And he said to them, “Why are you fearful, O you of little faith?” Then he got up, rebuked the wind and the sea, and there was a great calm.^j

²⁷And the men were amazed, saying, “What kind of person is this^k, that even the wind and the sea obey him?”

²⁸And when he came to the other side, into the country of the Gadarenes,^l two^m people possessed by demons met him there, coming out of the tombs, exceedingly fierce, so that nobody could pass that way. ²⁹And look, they shouted, saying, “What do we have to do with you,ⁿ Son of God? Have you come here to torment us before the time?” ³⁰Now there was a herd of many pigs feeding far away from them. ³¹And the demons begged him, saying, “If you cast us out, permit us to go away into the herd of pigs.”

³²And he said to them, “Go.”

And they came out, and went into the pigs, and look, the whole herd^o rushed down the cliff into the sea, and died in the water. ³³And those who fed them fled, and went away into the city, and told everything, including what happened to those who were possessed with demons. ³⁴And look, all the city came out to meet Jesus. And when they saw him, they pleaded with him to leave their region.

9 And he entered into a boat, and crossed over, and came into his own city. ²And look, they brought to him a man who was paralyzed, lying on a bed. And Jesus, seeing their faith, said to the paralytic, “Son, cheer up. Your sins are forgiven.”^p

³And look, some of the scribes said to themselves, “This man blasphemes.”

⁴But Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said, “Why do you think evil in your hearts? ⁵For which is easier, to say, ‘Your sins are forgiven;’ or to say, ‘Get up, and walk?’ ⁶But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins...” (then he said to the paralytic), “Get up, and take up your mat, and go up to your house.”

⁷And he arose and departed to his house. ⁸Now when the crowds saw it, they were afraid^q and glorified God who had given such authority to men.

⁹And as Jesus passed by from there, he saw a man called Matthew sitting at the tax collection office. ¹⁹And Jesus got up and followed him, as did his disciples. ²⁰And look, a woman who had an issue of blood for twelve years came behind him, and touched the fringe of his garment; ²¹for she said within herself, “If I just touch his garment, I will be made well.”

²⁸And when he had come into the house, the blind men came to him, and Jesus said to them, “Do you believe that I am able to do this?”

They told him, “Yes, Lord.”

²⁹Then he touched their eyes, saying, “According to your faith be it done to you.” ³⁰And their eyes were opened. And Jesus strictly commanded them, saying, “See that no one knows about this.” ³¹But they went out and spread abroad his fame in all that land.

³²And as they went out, look, a mute man who was demon possessed was brought to him. ³³And when the demon was cast out, the mute man spoke. And the crowds were amazed, saying, “Nothing like this has ever been seen in Israel.”

³⁴But the Pharisees said, “By the prince of the demons, he casts out demons.”

³⁵And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Good News of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every sickness.^f ³⁶But when he saw the crowds, he was moved with compassion for them, because they were harassed and scattered, like sheep without a shepherd. ³⁷Then he said to his disciples, “The harvest indeed is plentiful, but the laborers are few. ³⁸Pray therefore that the Lord of the harvest will send out laborers into his harvest.”

10 And he called to himself his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal every disease and every sickness.

²Now the names of the twelve apostles are these. The first, Simon, who is called Peter; and Andrew his brother; and James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother; ³Philip and Bartholomew;^g Thomas and Matthew the tax collector; James the son of Alphaeus,^h and Thaddaeus; ⁴Simon the Zealot, and Judasⁱ Iscariot,^j who also betrayed him.

⁵Jesus sent these twelve out, and commanded them, saying, “Do not go among the non-Jews, and do not enter into any city of the Samaritans. ⁶Rather, go to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. ⁷And as you go, proclaim, saying, ‘The kingdom of heaven is near.’ ⁸Heal the sick, raise the dead,^k cleanse the lepers,^l cast out demons. Freely you received, freely give. ⁹Do not take any gold, nor silver, nor copper in your money belts. ¹⁰Take no bag for your journey, neither two tunics, nor shoes, nor staff: for the laborer is worthy of his food. ¹¹And into whatever city or village you enter, find out who in it is worthy; and stay there until you go on. ¹²And as you enter into the household, greet it. ¹³And if the household is worthy, let your peace come on it, but if it is not worthy, let your peace return to you. ¹⁴And whoever does not receive you, nor hear your words, as you leave that house or that city, shake off the dust from your feet. ¹⁵Truly I tell you, it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah^m in the day of judgment than for that city.

¹⁶“Look, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves, so be cunning as snakes and innocent as doves. ¹⁷But beware of people: for they will deliver you up to councils, and in their synagogues they will scourge you. ¹⁸Yes, and you will be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony to them and to the nations. ¹⁹But when they deliver you over, do not be anxious how or what you will say, for it will be given you in that hour what you will say.

²⁰For it is not you who speak, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you.

²¹“And brother will deliver up brother to death, and the father his child. Children will rise up against parents, and cause them to be put to death. ²²And you will be hated by all for my name’s sake, but he who endures to the end will be saved. ²³But when they persecute you in one city, flee to the other. And if they persecute you in the other, flee to the next.^a For truly I tell you, you will not have gone through the cities of Israel before the Son of Man comes.

²⁹“Are not two sparrows sold for an assarion coin? Not one of them falls on the ground apart from your Father’s will, ³⁰but the very hairs of your head are all numbered. ³¹Therefore do not be afraid. You are of more value than many sparrows. ³²Everyone therefore who confesses me before people, him I will also confess before my Father who is in heaven. ³³But whoever denies me before people, him I will also deny before my Father who is in heaven.

³⁴“Do not think that I came to send peace on the earth. The one who receives a righteous person in the name of a righteous person will receive a righteous person’s reward. ⁴²And whoever gives one of these little ones just a cup of cold water to drink because he is a disciple, truly I tell you he will in no way lose his reward.”

And it happened that when Jesus had finished directing his twelve disciples, he departed from there to teach and proclaim in their cities. ²Now when John heard in the prison the works of the Christ, he sent a message^e by^f his disciples³ and said to him, “Are you the one who is to come, or should we look for another?”

⁴And Jesus answered them, “Go and tell John the things which you hear and see: ⁵the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have good news preached to them.^g ⁶And blessed is he who is not offended by me.”

⁷And as these went their way, Jesus began to say to the crowds concerning John, “What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind? ⁸But what did you go out to see? A man clothed in soft garments?^h Look, those who wear soft things are in kingsⁱ houses. ⁹But what did you go out to see? A prophet? ²⁰Then he began to denounce the cities in which most of his mighty works had been done, because they did not repent. ²¹“Woe to you, Chorazin. Woe to you, Bethsaida. For if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. ²²But I tell you, it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon on the day of judgment than for you. ²³And you, Capernaum, who are exalted to heaven, you will be brought^o down to hell.^p For if the mighty works had been done in Sodom which were done in you, it would have remained until this day. ²⁴But I tell you that it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom, on the day of judgment, than for you.”

12 At that time, Jesus went on the Sabbath day through the grain fields. His disciples were hungry and began to pluck heads of grain and to eat. ²But the Pharisees, when they saw it, said to him, “Look, your disciples do what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath.”

³But he said to them, “Have you not read what David did, when he and his companions were hungry; ⁴how he entered into the house of God, and they^a ate the show bread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for those who were with him, but only for the priests?^b ⁵Or have you not read in the Law, that on the Sabbath day the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath and are blameless? ⁶But I tell you that something greater than the temple is here. ⁷But if you had known what this means, ‘I desire mercy, and not sacrifice,’^c you would not have condemned the innocent. ⁸For the Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath.”

⁹And he departed from there and went into their synagogue. ¹⁰And look, there was a man with a withered hand. They asked him, “Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath day?” that they might accuse him.

¹¹And he said to them, “Which one of you who has one sheep, if it falls into a pit on the Sabbath, will not take hold of it and lift it out? ¹²Of how much more value then is a person than a sheep. Therefore it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath.” ¹³Then he told the man, “Stretch out your hand.” And he stretched it out, and it was restored whole, just like the other. ¹⁴But the Pharisees went out, and conspired against him, how they might destroy him. ¹⁵But Jesus, perceiving that, withdrew from there. Large^d crowds followed him, and he healed them all, ¹⁶and commanded them that they should not make him known. ¹⁷This was to fulfill what had been spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying,

¹⁸“Look, my servant whom I have chosen;
my beloved in whom my soul delights.
I will put my Spirit on him;
and he will proclaim justice to the nations.
¹⁹He will not quarrel, nor shout;
nor will anyone hear his voice in the streets.

until he leads justice to victory.

²²Then one possessed by a demon, blind and mute, was brought to him and he healed him, so that the^g mute man spoke and saw. ²³And all the crowds were amazed, and said, “Can this be the son of David?” ²⁴But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, “This man does not cast out demons, except by Beelzebul, the prince of the demons.”

²⁵And knowing their thoughts, he^h said to them, “Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand. ²⁶And if Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then will his kingdom stand? ²⁷If I by Beelzebul cast out demons, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore they will be your judges. ²⁸But if I by the Spirit of God cast out demons, then the kingdom of God has come upon you. ²⁹Or how can one enter into the house of the strong man, and carry offⁱ his possessions, unless he first bind the strong man? ³³“Either make the tree good, and its fruit good, or make the tree corrupt, and its fruit corrupt; for the tree is known by its fruit. ³⁴You offspring of vipers, how can you, being evil, speak good things? ³⁸Then certain of the scribes and Pharisees said to him, “Teacher, we want to see a sign from you.”

³⁹But he answered and said to them, “An evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, but no sign will be given it but the sign of Jonah the prophet. ⁴⁰For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the great fish, so will the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. ⁴¹The people of Nineveh will stand up in the judgment with this generation, and will condemn it, for they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and look, something greater than Jonah is here. ⁴²The queen of the south will rise up in the judgment with this generation, and will condemn it, for she came from a distant land^k to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and look,

The last state of that person becomes worse than the first. Even so will it be also to this evil generation."

⁴⁶While^a he was yet speaking to the crowds, look, his mother and his brothers stood outside, seeking to speak to him. ⁴⁷Then one said to him, "Look, your mother and your brothers stand outside, seeking to speak to you."^b

⁴⁸But he answered him who spoke to him, "Who is my mother? Who are my brothers?" ⁴⁹And he stretched out his hand towards his disciples, and said, "Look, my mother and my brothers. ⁵⁰For whoever does the will of my Father who is in heaven, he is my brother, and sister, and mother."

13 On that day Jesus went out of the house, and sat by the seaside. ²And large crowds gathered to him, so that he entered into a boat, and sat, and all the crowd stood on the beach. ³And he spoke to them many things in parables, saying, "Look, a farmer went out to sow. ⁴And as he sowed, some seeds fell by the roadside, and the birds came and devoured them. ⁵And others fell on rocky ground, where they did not have much soil, and immediately they sprang up, because they had no depth of earth. ⁶But when the sun had risen, they were scorched. Because they had no root, they withered away. ⁷Others fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked them. ⁸Still others fell on good soil, and yielded fruit: some one hundred times as much, some sixty, and some thirty. ⁹He who has ears^c, let him hear."

¹⁰Then the disciples came, and said to him, "Why do you speak to them in parables?"

¹¹And answering, he said to them, "To you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but it is not given to them. ¹²For whoever has, to him will be given, and he will have abundance, but whoever does not have, from him will be taken away even that which he has. ¹³Therefore I speak to them in parables, because seeing they do not see, and hearing, they do not hear, neither do they understand. ¹⁴And in them the prophecy of Isaiah is fulfilled, which says,

'In hearing you will hear,
but will not understand,
and seeing you will see,
but not perceive.

¹⁵For the heart of this people has grown dull,
and their ears are sluggish in hearing,
and they have closed their eyes,
otherwise they might see with their eyes,
and hear with their ears,
and understand with their heart,
and turn back,
and I would heal them.'^d

¹⁶"But blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear. ¹⁷For truly I tell you that many prophets and righteous people desired to see the things which you see, and did not see them; and to hear the things which you hear, and did not hear them.

¹⁸"Hear, then, the parable of the farmer. ¹⁹When anyone hears the word of the kingdom, and does not understand it, the evil one comes, and snatches away that which has been sown in his heart. This is what was sown by the roadside. ²⁰And what was sown on the rocky places, this is he who hears the word, and immediately with joy receives it; ²¹yet he has no root in himself, but endures for a while. When oppression or persecution arises because of the word, immediately he stumbles. ²²And what was sown among the thorns, this is he who hears the word, but the cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and he becomes unfruitful. ²³And what was sown on the good ground, this is he who hears the word, and understands it, who truly bears fruit, and brings forth, some one hundred times as much, some sixty, and some thirty."

²⁴He set another parable before them, saying, "The kingdom of heaven is like a person who sowed good seed in his field, ²⁵but while everyone slept, his enemy came and sowed tares^e also among the wheat, and went away. ²⁶But when the blade sprang up and brought forth fruit, then the tares appeared also. ²⁷So the servants of the householder came and said to him, 'Sir, did you not sow good seed in your field? Where did these tares come from?'

²⁸"And he said to them, 'An enemy has done this.'

"And the servants asked him, 'Then do you want us to go and gather them up?'

²⁹"But he said, 'No, lest perhaps while you gather up the tares, you root up the wheat with them. ³⁰Let both grow together until the harvest, and in the harvest time I will tell the reapers, "First, gather up the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them; but gather the wheat into my barn."'''

³¹He set another parable before them, saying, "The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field; ³²which indeed is smaller than all seeds.^f But when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in its branches."

³³He spoke another parable to them. "The kingdom of heaven is like yeast, which a woman took, and hid in three measures^g of meal, until it was all leavened."

³⁴Jesus spoke all these things in parables to the crowds; and without a parable, he did not speak to them, ³⁵that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, saying, "I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things hidden since the beginning of the world."^h

³⁶Then Jesus sent the crowds away, and went into the house. His disciples came to him, saying, "Explain to us the parable of the tares in the field."

³⁷And he answered them, “The one who sows the good seed is the Son of Man, ³⁸and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are the children of the kingdom; and the tares are the children of the evil one, ³⁹and the enemy who sowed them is the devil, and the harvest is the end of the age, and the reapers are angels. ⁴⁰As therefore the tares are gathered up and burned with fire; so will it be at the end of the age. ⁴¹The Son of Man will send out his angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all things that cause stumbling, and those who do iniquity, ⁴²and will cast them into the furnace of fire. There will be weeping and the grinding of teeth. ⁴³Then the righteous will shine forth like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears,^a let him hear.

⁴⁷“Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a dragnet, that was cast into the sea, and gathered some fish of every kind, ⁴⁸which, when it was filled, they drew up on the beach. They sat down, and gathered the good into containers, but the bad they threw away. ⁴⁹So will it be in the end of the world. The angels will come forth, and separate the wicked from among the righteous, ⁵⁰and will cast them into the furnace of fire. There will be the weeping and the grinding of teeth.” ⁵¹“Have you understood all these things?” They answered him, “Yes.”

⁵²And he said to them, “Therefore, every scribe who has been made a disciple in the kingdom of heaven is like a man who is a householder, who brings out of his treasure new and old things.”

⁵³And it happened that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed from there. ⁵⁴And coming into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, so that they were astonished, and said, “Where did this man get this wisdom, and these mighty works? ⁵⁵Is not this the carpenter’s^d son? Is not his mother called Mary, and his brothers, James and Joseph^e and Simon and Judas? ⁵⁶And are not all of his sisters with us? Where then did this man get all of these things?” ⁵⁷And they were offended by him.

But Jesus said to them, “A prophet is not without honor, except in his own country, and in his own house.” ⁵⁸And he did not do many mighty works there because of their unbelief.

14 At that time, Herod the tetrarch heard the report concerning Jesus, ²and said to his servants, “This is John the Baptist. He is risen from the dead. That is why these powers work in him.” ³For Herod had arrested John, and bound him, and put him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip’s wife. ⁴For John said to him, “It is not lawful for you to have her.” ⁵And though he wanted to kill him, he feared the crowd because they regarded him as a prophet. ⁶But when Herod’s birthday came, the daughter of Herodias danced among them and pleased Herod. ⁷Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatever she should ask. ⁸And she, being prompted by her mother, said, “Give me here on a platter the head of John the Baptist.”

⁹And the king was grieved, but for the sake of his oaths, and of those who sat at the table with him, he commanded it to be given, ¹⁰and he sent and beheaded John in the prison. ¹¹And his head was brought on a platter, and given to the young lady; and she brought it to her mother. ¹²Then his disciples came, and took the dead body, and buried him; and they went and told Jesus. ¹³Now when Jesus heard this, he withdrew from there in a boat, to a secluded place to be alone. When the crowds heard it, they followed him on foot from the cities.

¹⁴And he^f went out, and he saw a large crowd, and he had compassion on them, and healed their sick. ¹⁵Now when evening had come, the^g disciples came to him, saying, “This place is desolate, and the hour is already late. Send the crowds away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves food.”

¹⁶But Jesus said to them, “They do not need to go away. You give them something to eat.”

¹⁷And they told him, “We only have here five loaves and two fish.”

¹⁸So he said, “Bring them here to me.” ¹⁹Then he commanded the crowds to sit down on the grass; and he took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, broke and gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples gave to the crowds. ²⁰And they all ate and were filled, and they took up twelve baskets full of that which remained left over from the broken pieces. ²¹Now those who ate were about five thousand men, besides women and children.

²²And immediately he^h made the disciples get into the boat and to go ahead of him to the other side, while he sent the crowds away. ²³And after he had sent the crowds away, he went up into the mountain by himself to pray. When evening had come, he was there alone. ²⁴But the boat was now in the middle of the sea,ⁱ battered by the waves, for the wind was against it. ²⁵And in the watch between three and six in the morning,^j he^k came to them, walking on the sea.^l ²⁶And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, “It’s a ghost.” and they screamed with fear. ²⁷But immediately Jesus^m spoke to them, saying “Cheer up. It is I.ⁿ Do not be afraid.”

²⁸Peter answered him and said, “Lord, if it is you, command me to come to you on the waters.”

ⁿ14:27 Or, “I AM.”

²⁹He said, “Come.” Peter stepped down from the boat, and walked on the water and went toward Jesus. ³⁰But when he saw the strong^a wind, he was afraid, and beginning to sink, he yelled, saying, “Lord, save me.”

³¹Immediately Jesus stretched out his hand, took hold of him, and said to him, “You of little faith, why did you doubt?” ³²When they got up into the boat, the wind ceased. ³³Those who were in the boat^b worshiped him, saying, “You are truly the Son of God.”^c

³⁴When they had crossed over, they came to the land of Gennesaret. ³⁵When the people of that place recognized him, they sent into all that surrounding region, and brought to him all who were sick, ³⁶and they begged him that they might just touch the fringe of his garment. And all who touched it were healed.

15 Then the Pharisees and scribes came to Jesus from Jerusalem, saying, ²“Why do your disciples disobey the Tradition of the Elders? For they do not wash their hands when they eat bread.”

³And he answered them, “Why do you also disobey the commandment of God because of your tradition? ⁴For God said,^d ‘Honor your father and your mother,’^e and, ‘He who speaks evil of father or mother, let him be put to death.’^f ⁵But you say, ‘Whoever may tell his father or his mother, “Whatever help you might otherwise have gotten from me is a gift devoted to God,”’^g he is not to honor his father or his mother.^g You have made the word^h of God void because of your tradition. ⁷You hypocrites. Well did Isaiah prophesy of you, saying,

⁸“These peopleⁱ honor me with their lips; but their heart is far from me.

⁹And in vain do they worship me, teaching instructions that are the commandments of humans.”^j

¹⁰He summoned the crowd, and said to them, “Hear, and understand. ¹¹That which enters into the mouth does not defile the person; but that which proceeds out of the mouth, this defiles the person.”

¹²Then the^k disciples came, and said to him, “Do you know that the Pharisees were offended, when they heard this saying?”

¹³But he answered, “Every plant which my heavenly Father did not plant will be uprooted. ¹⁴Leave them alone. They are blind guides of the blind.^l If the blind guide the blind, both will fall into a pit.”

¹⁵And answering, Peter said to him, “Explain this^m parable to us.”

¹⁶So heⁿ said, “Do you also still not understand? ¹⁷Do you not understand that whatever goes into the mouth passes into the belly, and then out of the body? ¹⁸But the things which proceed out of the mouth come out of the heart, and they defile the person. ¹⁹For out of the heart come forth evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, sexual sins, thefts, false testimony, and blasphemies. ²⁰These are the things which defile the person; but to eat with unwashed hands does not defile the person.”

²¹Jesus went out from there, and withdrew into the region of Tyre and Sidon. ²²And look, a Canaanite woman came out from those borders, and started shouting, saying, “Have mercy on me, Lord, Son of David. My daughter is severely demonized.”

²³But he did not answer her a word. His disciples came and pleaded with him, saying, “Send her away, for she keeps shouting at us.”

²⁴But he answered, “I was not sent to anyone but the lost sheep of the house of Israel.”

²⁵But she came and worshiped him, saying, “Lord, help me.”

²⁶But he answered, “It is not appropriate to take the children’s bread and throw it to the dogs.”

²⁷But she said, “Yes, Lord, but even the dogs eat the crumbs which fall from their masters’ table.”

²⁸Then Jesus answered her, “Woman, great is your faith. Be it done to you even as you desire.” And her daughter was healed from that hour.

²⁹Jesus departed there, and came near to the sea of Galilee; and he went up into the mountain, and sat there. ³⁰Large crowds came to him, having with them the lame, blind, mute, crippled, and many others, and they put them down at his^o feet; and he healed them. ³¹So the crowd was amazed when they saw the mute speaking, crippled healthy, lame walking, and blind seeing—and they glorified the God of Israel.

³²Jesus summoned the^p disciples and said, “I have compassion on the crowd, because they continue with me now three days and have nothing to eat. I do not want to send them away fasting, or they might faint on the way.”

³³Then the^a disciples said to him, “Where should we get so many loaves in a deserted place as to satisfy so great a crowd?”

³⁴Jesus said to them, “How many loaves do you have?”

They said, “Seven, and a few small fish.”

³⁵He commanded the crowd to sit down on the ground; ³⁶and he took the seven loaves and the fish. He gave thanks and broke them, and gave to the^b disciples, and the disciples to the crowds. ³⁷They all ate, and were filled. They took up seven baskets full of the broken pieces that were left over. ³⁸Those who ate were four thousand men, besides women and children. ³⁹Then he sent away the crowds, got into the boat, and came into the borders of Magadan^c.

16 The Pharisees and Sadducees came, and testing him, asked him to show them a sign from heaven. ²But he answered and said to them, “When it is evening, you say, ‘It will be fair weather, for the sky is red.’ ³In the morning, ‘It will be foul weather today, for the sky is red and threatening.’^d You know how to discern the appearance of the sky, but you cannot discern the signs of the times.^e ⁴An evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and there will be no sign given to it, except the sign of^f Jonah.”

He left them, and departed. ⁵The^g disciples came to the other side and had forgotten to take bread. ⁶Jesus said to them, “Watch out and guard yourselves against the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees.”

⁷And they discussed it among themselves, saying, “Because we took no bread.”

⁸But Jesus, becoming aware of this, said,^h “You of little faith, why are you discussing among yourselves about having no bread? ⁹Do you still not understand, or remember the five loaves for the five thousand, and how many baskets you took up? ¹⁰Nor the seven loaves for the four thousand, and how many baskets you took up? ¹¹Why is it that you do not understand that I did not speak to you concerning bread? But beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees.”

¹²Then they understood that he did not tell them to beware of the yeast of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees. ¹³Now when Jesus came into the parts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, “Who do people say thatⁱ the Son of Man is?”

¹⁴They said, “Some say John the Baptist, some, Elijah, and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets.”

¹⁵He said to them, “But who do you say that I am?”

¹⁶Simon Peter answered, “You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.”

¹⁷And Jesus answered him, “Blessed are you, Simon Bar Jonah,^j for flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my Father who is in heaven. ¹⁸I also tell you that you are Peter,^k and on this Rock^l I will build my church,^m and the gates of hellⁿ will not prevail against it. ¹⁹I will give to you the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be loosed in heaven.”^o ²⁰Then he commanded the^p disciples that they should tell no one that he is^q the Christ. ²¹From that time, Jesus began to show his disciples that he must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things from the elders, chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised up.

²²Peter took him aside, and began to rebuke him, saying, “Far be it from you, Lord. This will never be done to you.”

²³But he turned, and said to Peter, “Get behind me, Satan. You are a stumbling block to me, for you are not setting your mind on the things of God, but on the things of humans.” ²⁴Then Jesus said to his disciples, “If anyone desires to come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. ²⁵For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, and whoever will lose his life for my sake will find it. ²⁶For what will it profit a person, if he gains the whole world, and forfeits his life? Or what will a person give in exchange for his life? ²⁷For the Son of Man will come in the glory of his Father with his angels, and then he will render to everyone according to his deeds. ²⁸Truly I tell you, there are some standing here who will in no way taste of death, until they see the Son of Man coming in his kingdom.”

17 After six days, Jesus took with him Peter, James, and John his brother, and brought them up into a high mountain by themselves. ²He was transfigured before them. His face shone like the sun, and his garments became as white as the light. ³And look, Moses and Elijah appeared to them talking with him.

⁴Peter answered, and said to Jesus, “Lord, it is good for us to be here. If you want, let us make three tents here: one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.”

⁵While he was still speaking, look, a bright cloud overshadowed them. And look, a voice came out of the cloud, saying, “This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Listen to him.”

¹⁰The^b disciples asked him, saying, “Then why do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?”

¹¹And he answered and said^c, “Elijah indeed comes,^d and will restore all things, ¹²but I tell you that Elijah has come already, and they did not recognize him, but did to him whatever they wanted to. Even so the Son of Man will also suffer by them.” ¹³Then the disciples understood that he spoke to them of John the Baptist.

¹⁴And when they came to the crowd, a man came to him, knelt before him, ¹⁵and said, “Lord, have mercy on my son, for he is epileptic, and suffers severely; for he often falls into the fire, and often into the water. ¹⁶So I brought him to your disciples, and they could not cure him.”

¹⁷Jesus answered, “Faithless and perverse generation. How long will I be with you? How long will I bear with you? Bring him here to me.” ¹⁸Jesus rebuked him, the demon went out of him, and the boy was cured from that hour.

¹⁹Then the disciples came to Jesus privately, and said, “Why weren’t we able to cast it out?”

²⁰So he^e said to them, “Because of your little faith. For truly I tell you, if you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, you will tell this mountain, ‘Move from here to there,’ and it will move; and nothing will be impossible for you.” ^{21f}

²²While they were gathering together^g in Galilee, Jesus said to them, “The Son of Man is about to be delivered up into the hands of men, ²³and they will kill him, and the third day he will be raised up.”

They were exceedingly sorry. ²⁴When they had come to Capernaum, those who collected the didrachma coins came to Peter, and said, “Does not your teacher pay the didrachma?” ²⁵He said, “Yes.”

When he came into the house, Jesus anticipated him, saying, “What do you think, Simon? From whom do the kings of the earth receive toll or tribute? From their children, or from strangers?”

²⁶And when he said,^h “From strangers.” Jesus said to him, “Therefore the children are exempt. ²⁷But, lest we cause them to stumble, go to the sea, cast a hook, and take up the first fish that comes up. When you have opened its mouth, you will find a stater coin. Take that, and give it to them for me and you.”

18 In that hour the disciples came to Jesus, saying, “Who then is greatest in the kingdom of heaven?”

²Heⁱ called a little child to himself, and set him in the midst of them, ³and said, “Truly I tell you, unless you turn, and become as little children, you will in no way enter into the kingdom of heaven. ⁴Whoever therefore humbles himself as this little child, the same is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. ⁵Whoever receives one such little child in my name receives me, ⁶but whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to stumble, it would be better for him that a huge millstone should be hung around his neck, and that he should be sunk in the depths of the sea.

for them by my Father who is in heaven. ²⁰For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there I am in the midst of them.”

²¹Then Peter came to him and said, “Lord, how often can my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? Up to seven times?”

²²Jesus said to him, “I do not tell you up to seven times, but up to seventy times seven. ²³Therefore the kingdom of heaven is like a certain king, who wanted to reconcile accounts with his servants. ²⁴When he had begun to reconcile, one was brought to him who owed him ten thousand talents. ^a ²⁵But because he could not pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, with his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made. ²⁶The servant therefore fell down and kneeled before him, saying, ‘Lord, ^b have patience with me, and I will repay you all.’ ²⁷The lord of that servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and forgave him the debt.

²⁹“So his fellow servant fell down at his feet ^e and begged him, saying, ‘Have patience with me, and I will repay you all.’ ³⁰He would not, but went and cast him into prison, until he should pay back that which was due. ³¹So when his fellow servants saw what was done, they were exceedingly sorry, and came and told to their lord all that was done. ³²Then his lord called him in, and said to him, ‘You wicked servant. I forgave you all that debt, because you begged me. ³³Should you not also have had mercy on your fellow servant, even as I had mercy on you?’ ³⁴His lord was angry, and delivered him to the tormentors, until he should pay all that was due. ^f ³⁵So my heavenly Father will also do to you, if you do not each forgive your brother his trespasses ^g from your heart.”

19 It happened when Jesus had finished these words, he departed from Galilee, and came into the borders of Judea beyond the Jordan. ²Great crowds followed him, and he healed them there. ³And Pharisees came to him, testing him, and saying to him, “Is it lawful for a man to divorce a wife for any reason?”

⁴He answered, and said ^h, “Have you not read that he who created ⁱ them from the beginning made them male and female, ^j and said, ‘For this reason a man will leave his father and mother, and be joined to his wife; and the two will become one flesh?’ ^k ⁶So that they are no more two, but one flesh. What therefore God has joined together, let no one separate.”

⁷They asked him, “Why then did Moses command us to give her a certificate of divorce, and divorce her?”

⁸He said to them, “Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, allowed you to divorce your wives, but from the beginning it has not been so. ⁹I tell you that whoever divorces his wife, except for sexual immorality, and marries another, commits adultery. And he who marries her when she is divorced commits adultery. ¹⁰”

¹⁰The ^m disciples said to him, “If this is the case of a husband with a wife, it is not expedient to marry.”

¹¹But he said to them, “Not everyone can receive this saying, but those to whom it is given. ¹²For there are eunuchs who were born that way from their mother’s womb, and there are eunuchs who were made eunuchs by men; and there are eunuchs who made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven’s sake. He who is able to receive it, let him receive it.”

¹³Then little children were brought to him, that he should lay his hands on them and pray; and the disciples rebuked them. ¹⁴But Jesus said, “Allow the little children, and do not forbid them to come to me; for the kingdom of heaven belongs to ones like these.” ¹⁵He placed his hands on them, and departed from there.

¹⁶And look, someone came to him and said, “Teacher, what good thing must I do, that I may have everlasting life?”

¹⁷He said to him, “Why do you ask me about what is good? ^oNo one is good but one. ^p But if you want to enter into life, keep the commandments.”

¹⁸He said to him, “Which ones?” And Jesus said, “Do not murder.’ ‘Do not commit adultery.’ ‘Do not steal.’ ‘Do not offer false testimony.’ ¹⁹‘Honor your father and mother.’ ^q And, ‘Love your neighbor as yourself.’ ^r”

²⁰The young man said to him, “All these things I have kept. What do I still lack?”

²¹Jesus said to him, “If you want to be perfect, go, sell what you have and give to the^a poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me.” ²²But when the young man heard the saying, he went away sad, for he was one who had great possessions. ²³Jesus said to his disciples, “Truly I say to you, it is difficult for a rich person to enter the kingdom of heaven. ²⁴Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel^b to go through a needle’s eye, than for a rich person to enter into the kingdom of God.”

²⁵When the^c disciples heard it, they were exceedingly astonished, saying, “Who then can be saved?”

²⁶Looking at them, Jesus said, “With humans this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.”

²⁷Then Peter answered, “Look, we have left everything, and followed you. What then will we have?”

²⁸Jesus said to them, “Truly I tell you that you who have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of Man will sit on the throne of his glory, you also will sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. ²⁹Everyone who has left houses, or brothers, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife,^d or children, or lands, for my name’s sake, will receive one hundred times, and will inherit everlasting life. ³⁰But many will be last who are first; and first who are last.

⁷“They said to him, ‘Because no one has hired us.’ “He said to them, ‘You also go into the vineyard.’ ⁸When evening had come, the lord of the vineyard said to his manager, ‘Call the laborers and pay them their wages, beginning from the last to the first.’

⁹“When those who were hired at about five in the afternoon came, they each received a denarius. ¹⁰When the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they likewise each received a denarius. ¹¹When they received it, they murmured against the master of the household, ¹²saying, ‘These last have spent one hour, and you have made them equal to us, who have borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat.’

¹³“But he answered one of them, ‘Friend, I am doing you no wrong. Did you not agree with me for a denarius? ¹⁴Take that which is yours, and go your way. It is my desire to give to this last just as much as to you. ¹⁵Is it not lawful for me to do what I want to with what I own? Or is your eye evil, because I am good?’ ¹⁶So the last will be first, and the first last; for many are called, but few are chosen.”

¹⁷As Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the Twelve^k aside, and on the way he said to them, ¹⁸“Look, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be delivered to the chief priests and scribes, and they will condemn him to death, ¹⁹and will hand him over to the non-Jews to mock, to scourge, and to crucify; and the third day he will be raised up.”

²⁰Then the mother of the sons of Zebedee came to him with her sons, kneeling and asking a certain thing of him. ²¹He said to her, “What do you want?”

She said to him, “Command that these, my two sons, may sit, one on your right hand, and one on your left hand, in your kingdom.”

²²But Jesus answered and said, “You do not know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I am about to drink^l?”

They said to him, “We are able.”

²³He said to them, “You will indeed drink my cup,^m but to sit on my right hand and on my left hand is not mine to give; but it is for whom it has been prepared by my Father.”

²⁴When the ten heard it, they were indignant with the two brothers.

²⁵But Jesus summoned them, and said, “You know that the rulers of the nations lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. ²⁶It will not be so among you, but whoever desires to become great among you must be your servant. ²⁷And whoever desires to be first among you must be your slave, ²⁸even as the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.”

²⁹As they went out from Jericho, a large crowd followed him. ³⁰And look, two blind men sitting by the road, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, shouted, “Have mercy on us, Lord, son of David.” ³¹The crowd rebuked them, telling them that they should be quiet, but they shouted even more, “Have mercy on us, Lord, son of David.”

³²Jesus stood still, and called them, and asked, “What do you want me to do for you?”

³³They told him, “Lord, that our eyes may be opened.”

³⁴Jesus, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes; and immediately their eyes received their sight, and they followed him.

21 When they drew near to Jerusalem, and came to Bethphage,^a to the Mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two disciples,² saying to them, “Go into the village that is opposite you, and immediately you will find a donkey tied, and a colt with her. Untie them, and bring them to me.³ And if anyone says anything to you, you are to say, ‘Because the Lord needs them,’ and he will send them at once.”

⁴This^b took place that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, saying,
⁵Say to the daughter of Zion,^c
 “Look, your King comes to you, humble, and riding on a donkey,
 on a colt, the foal of a donkey.”^d

⁶The disciples went, and did just as Jesus directed them,⁷ and brought the donkey and the colt, and placed their clothes on them; and he sat on them.^e ⁸A very large crowd spread their clothes on the road. Others cut branches from the trees, and spread them on the road. ⁹The crowds who went before him, and who followed kept shouting, “Hosanna^f to the son of David. Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest.”^g

¹⁰When he had come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred up, saying, “Who is this?” ¹¹The crowds said, “This is the prophet Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee.”

¹²Jesus entered into the temple,^h and drove out all of those who sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the money changers’ tables and the seats of those who sold the doves. ¹³He said to them, “It is written, ‘My house will be called a house of prayer,’ⁱ but you have made it a den of robbers.”^j

¹⁴The blind and the lame came to him in the temple, and he healed them. ¹⁵But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying out in the temple and saying, “Hosanna to the son of David,” they were indignant, ¹⁶and said to him, “Do you hear what these are saying?”

Jesus said to them, “Yes. Did you never read, ‘Out of the mouth of children and infants you have prepared praise?’^k”

¹⁷He left them, and went out of the city to Bethany, and lodged there. ¹⁸Now in the morning, as he returned to the city, he was hungry. ¹⁹Seeing a fig tree by the road, he came to it, and found nothing on it but leaves. He said to it, “Let there be no fruit from you forever.”

Immediately the fig tree withered away. ²⁰When the disciples saw it, they were amazed, saying, “How did the fig tree immediately wither away?”

²¹Jesus answered them, “Truly I tell you, if you have faith, and do not doubt, you will not only do what was done to the fig tree, but even if you told this mountain, ‘Be taken up and cast into the sea,’ it would be done. ²²All things, whatever you ask in prayer, believing, you will receive.”

²³When he had come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came to him as he was teaching, and said, “By what authority do you do these things? Who gave you this authority?”

²⁴Jesus answered them, “I also will ask you one question, which if you tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things. ²⁵The baptism of John, where was it from? From heaven or from people?”

They reasoned with themselves, saying, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ he will ask us, ‘Why then did you not believe him?’ ²⁶But if we say, ‘From people,’ we fear the crowd, for all hold John as a prophet.” ²⁷They answered Jesus, and said, “We do not know.”

He also said to them, “Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things. ²⁸But what do you think? A man had two sons, and he came to the first, and said, ‘Son, go work today in the^l vineyard.’ ²⁹He answered, ‘I will not,’ but afterward he changed his mind, and went. ³⁰And he came to the other,^m and said the same thing. And he answered and said, ‘I go, sir,’ but he did not go. ³¹Which of the two did the will of his father?” They said,ⁿ “The first.”

Jesus said to them, “Truly I tell you that the tax collectors and the prostitutes are entering into the kingdom of God before you. ³²For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him. When you saw it, you did not even repent afterward, that you might believe him.

³³“Hear another parable. There was a landowner who planted a vineyard, set a hedge about it, dug a winepress in it, built a tower, leased it out to tenant farmers, and went on a journey. ³⁴When the season for the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the tenants, to receive his fruit. ³⁵The tenants took his servants, beat one, killed another, and stoned another. ³⁶Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they treated them the same way. ³⁷But afterward he sent to them his son, saying, ‘They will respect my son.’ ³⁸But the tenants, when they saw the son, said among themselves, ‘This is the heir. Come, let us kill him, and have^o his inheritance.’ ³⁹So they took him, and threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him. ⁴⁰When therefore the lord of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?"

⁴⁵When the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they perceived that he spoke about them. ⁴⁶When they sought to seize him, they feared the crowds, because they considered him to be a prophet.

22 Jesus answered and spoke again in parables to them, saying, ^{2a}"The kingdom of heaven is like a certain king, who made a marriage feast for his son, ³and sent out his servants to call those who were invited to the marriage feast, but they would not come. ⁴Again he sent out other servants, saying, 'Tell those who are invited, "Look, I have made ready my dinner. My cattle and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready. Come to the marriage feast."' ⁵But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his merchandise, ⁶and the rest grabbed his servants, and treated them shamefully, and killed them. ⁷The king^d was enraged, and sent his armies, destroyed those murderers, and burned their city.

⁸"Then he said to his servants, 'The wedding is ready, but those who were invited weren't worthy. ⁹Go therefore to the intersections of the highways, and as many as you may find, invite to the marriage feast.' ¹⁰And those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all they found, both bad and good, and the wedding was filled with those reclining.^e ¹¹But when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man who did not have on wedding clothing, ¹²and he said to him, 'Friend, how did you come in here not wearing wedding clothing?' He was speechless. ¹³Then the king said to the servants, 'Bind him hand and foot,^f and throw him into the outer darkness; there is where the weeping and grinding of teeth will be.' ¹⁴For many are called, but few chosen."

¹⁵Then the Pharisees went and took counsel how they might entrap him in his talk. ¹⁶They sent their disciples to him, along with the Herodians, saying, "Teacher, we know that you are honest, and teach the way of God in truth, no matter whom you teach, for you are not partial to anyone. ¹⁷Tell us therefore, what do you think? Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?"

¹⁸But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, "Why do you test me, you hypocrites? ¹⁹Show me the tax money."

They brought to him a denarius.

²⁰He asked them, "Whose is this image and inscription?"

²¹They said to him, "Caesar's." Then he said to them, "Give therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's."

²²When they heard it, they were astonished, and left him, and went away.

²³On that day Sadducees came to him, the ones saying that there is no resurrection. And they asked him, ²⁴saying, "Teacher, Moses said, 'If a man dies, having no children, his brother is to marry his wife, and raise up offspring for his brother.'^g ²⁵Now there were with us seven brothers. The first married and died, and having no offspring, left his wife to his brother. ²⁶In like manner the second also, and the third, to the seventh. ²⁷After them all, the woman died^h. ²⁸In the resurrection therefore, whose wife will she be of the seven? For they all had her."

²⁹But Jesus answered them, "You are mistaken, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God. ³⁰For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are like the angelsⁱ in heaven. ³¹But concerning the resurrection of the dead, Have you not read that which was spoken to you by God, saying, ³²'I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?'"^j God is not the God of the dead, but of the living."

³³When the crowds heard it, they were astonished at his teaching. ³⁴But the Pharisees, when they heard that he had silenced the Sadducees, gathered themselves together. ³⁵One of them, a Law scholar, asked him a question, testing him^k. ³⁶"Teacher, which is the greatest commandment in the law?"

³⁷He^l said to him, "'You are to love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.'^m ³⁸This is the great and first commandment. ³⁹A second likewise is this, 'You are to love your neighbor as yourself.'ⁿ ⁴⁰The whole Law and the Prophets depend on these two commandments."

⁴¹Now while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question, ⁴²saying, "What do you think of the Christ? Whose son is he?"

They said to him, "Of David."

I tell you, you will not see me from now on, until you say, 'Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.'"^a 24 Jesus went out from the temple, and was going on his way. His disciples came to him to show him the buildings of the temple. ²But answering, he^b said to them, "Do you not see all of these things? Truly I tell you, there will not be left here one stone on another, that will not be thrown down."

³As he sat on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to him privately, saying, "Tell us, when will these things be? And what will be the sign of your coming, and of the end of the age?"

⁴Jesus answered them, "Be careful that no one leads you astray. ⁵For many will come in my name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and will lead many astray. ⁶You will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not troubled, for^c this must happen, but the end is not yet. ⁷For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there will be famines and plagues^d and earthquakes in various places. ⁸But all these things are the beginning of birth pains. ⁹Then they will deliver you up to oppression, and will kill you. You will be hated by all of the nations for my name's sake. ¹⁰Then many will stumble, and will deliver up one another, and will hate one another. ¹¹Many false prophets will arise, and will lead many astray. ¹²And because lawlessness is multiplied, the love of many will grow cold. ¹³But he who endures to the end, the same will be saved. ¹⁴This Good News of the kingdom will be preached in the whole world for a testimony to all the nations, and then the end will come.

²³"Then if anyone tells you, 'Look, here is the Christ,' or, 'There,' do not believe it. ²⁴For there will arise false Christs, and false prophets, and they will show great signs and wonders, so as to lead astray, if possible, even the chosen ones.

³²"Now from the fig tree learn this parable. When its branch has now become tender, and puts forth its leaves, you know that the summer is near. ³³Even so you also, when you see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors. ³⁴Truly I tell you, this generation will not pass away, until all these things are accomplished. ³⁵Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. ³⁶But no one knows of that day and hour, not even the angels of heaven, nor the Son,ⁿ but my Father only.

³⁷"As the days of Noah were, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. ³⁸For as in those^o days before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the box-shaped vessel,^p ³⁹and they did not know until the flood came, and took them all away, so^q will be the coming of the Son of Man. ⁴⁰Then two will be in the field; one will be taken and the other left. ⁴¹Two will be grinding grain with a mill; one will be taken and the other left. ⁴²Watch therefore, for you do not know on what day^r your Lord comes. ⁴³But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what watch of the night the thief was coming, he would have watched, and would not have allowed his house to be broken into. ⁴⁴Therefore also be ready, for in an hour that you do not expect, the Son of Man will come.

⁴⁵"Who then is the faithful and wise servant, whom his lord has set over his household, to give them their food in due season? ⁴⁶Blessed is that servant whom his lord finds doing so when he comes. ⁴⁷Truly I tell you that he will set him over all that he has. ⁴⁸But if that evil servant should say in his heart, 'My lord is delayed,^s' ⁴⁹and begins to beat his fellow servants, and eat and drink with the drunkards,⁵⁰ the lord of that servant will come in a day when he does not expect it, and in an hour when he does not know it, ⁵¹and will cut him in pieces, and appoint his portion with the hypocrites. There is where the weeping and grinding of teeth will be.

The bridegroom.^a Come out to meet him.’ ⁷Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps. ⁸The foolish said to the wise, ‘Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.’ ⁹But the wise answered, saying, ‘No, there will not be enough for us and you. Go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves.’ ¹⁰While they went away to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast, and the door was shut. ¹¹Afterward the other virgins also came, saying, ‘Lord, Lord, open to us.’ ¹²But he answered, ‘Truly I tell you, I do not know you.’ ¹³Watch therefore, for you do not know the day nor the hour.^b

Then he went on his journey. ¹⁶Immediately^c the one who received the five talents went and traded with them, and made another five talents. ¹⁷In like manner he^d who got the two gained another two. ¹⁸But he who received the one went away and dug in the earth, and hid his lord’s money.

¹⁴Then one of the twelve, who was called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests, ¹⁵and said, “What are you willing to give me, that I should deliver him to you?” They weighed out for him thirty pieces of silver.^b ¹⁶From that time he sought opportunity to betray him.

¹⁷Now on the first day of unleavened bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying^c, “Where do you want us to prepare for you to eat the Passover?”

¹⁸He said, “Go into the city to a certain person, and tell him, ‘The Teacher says, “My time is near. I will keep the Passover at your house with my disciples.”’”

¹⁹The disciples did as Jesus commanded them, and they prepared the Passover. ²⁰Now when evening had come, he was reclining at the table with the twelve. ²¹As they were eating, he said, “Truly I tell you that one of you will betray me.”

²²And they were greatly distressed, and each one began to ask him, “It is not me, is it, Lord?”

²³He answered, “He who dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same will betray me. ²⁴The Son of Man goes, even as it is written of him, but woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is betrayed. It would be better for that man if he had not been born.”

²⁵Judas, who betrayed him, answered, “It is not me, is it, Rabbi?”

He said to him, “You said it.”

²⁶As they were eating, Jesus took bread, gave thanks for it, and broke it. He gave to the disciples, and said, “Take, eat; this is my body.” ²⁷He took a^d cup, gave thanks, and gave to them, saying, “All of you drink it, ²⁸for this is my blood of the new^e covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins. ²⁹But I tell you that I will not drink of this fruit of the vine from now on, until that day when I drink it anew with you in my Father’s kingdom.” ³⁰When they had sung the hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

³¹Then Jesus said to them, “All of you will be made to stumble because of me tonight, for it is written, ‘I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered.’^f ³²But after I am raised up, I will go before you into Galilee.”

³³But Peter answered him, “Even if all will be made to stumble because of you, I will never be made to stumble.”

³⁴Jesus said to him, “Truly I tell you that tonight, before the rooster crows, you will deny me three times.”

³⁵Peter said to him, “Even if I must die with you, I will not deny you.” All of the disciples also said likewise.

³⁶Then Jesus came with them to a place called Gethsemane, and said to his disciples, “Sit here, while I go there and pray.” ³⁷He took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and severely troubled. ³⁸Then he^g said to them, “My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death. Stay here, and watch with me.”

³⁹He went forward a little, fell on his face, and prayed, saying, “My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass away from me; nevertheless, not what I desire, but what you desire.”

⁴⁰He came to the disciples, and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, “What, could you not watch with me for one hour? ⁴¹Watch and pray, that you do not enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.”

⁴²Again, a second time he went away, and prayed, saying, “My Father, if this^h cannot pass awayⁱ unless I drink it, your desire be done.” ⁴³He came again and found them sleeping, for their eyes were heavy. ⁴⁴He left them again, went away, and prayed a third time, saying the same words. ⁴⁵Then he came to the^j disciples, and said to them, “Sleep on now, and take your rest. Look, the hour is near, and the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. ⁴⁶Arise, let us be going. Look, he who betrays me is near.”

⁴⁷While he was still speaking, look, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a large crowd with swords and clubs, from the chief priests and elders of the people. ⁴⁸Now he who betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, “Whoever I kiss, he is the one. Seize him.” ⁴⁹Immediately he came to Jesus, and said, “Greetings, Rabbi.” and kissed him.

⁵⁰Jesus said to him, “Friend, why are you here?” Then they came and laid hands on Jesus, and took him. ⁵¹And look, one of those who were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck the servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. ⁵²Then Jesus said to him, “Put your sword back into its place, for all those who take the sword will die by the sword. ⁵³Or do you think that I could not ask my Father, and he would even now send me more than twelve legions of angels? ⁵⁴How then would the Scriptures be fulfilled that it must be so?"

⁵⁵In that hour Jesus said to the crowds, "Have you come out as against a robber with swords and clubs to seize me? I sat daily in the temple teaching, and you did not arrest me. ⁵⁶But all this has happened, that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled."

Then all the disciples left him, and fled. ⁵⁷Those who had taken Jesus led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were gathered together. ⁵⁸But Peter followed him from a distance, to the court of the high priest, and entered in and sat with the officers, to see the end. ⁵⁹Now the chief priests^a and the whole council sought false testimony against Jesus so they could put him to death; ⁶⁰and they found none, even though many false witnesses came forward.^b But afterward two^c came forward, ⁶¹and said, "This man said, 'I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days.'"

⁶²The high priest stood up, and said to him, "Have you no answer? What is this that these testify against you?" ⁶³But Jesus held his peace. The high priest answered him, "I adjure you by the living God, that you tell us whether you are the Christ, the Son of God."

⁶⁴Jesus said to him, "You have said it. Nevertheless, I tell you, after this you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of Power, and coming on the clouds of the sky."^d

⁶⁵Then the high priest tore his clothing, saying, "He has spoken blasphemy. Why do we need any more witnesses? Look, now you have heard his blasphemy. ⁶⁶What do you think?"

They answered, "He is worthy of death." ⁶⁷Then they spit in his face^e and beat him with their fists, and some slapped him, ⁶⁸saying, "Prophesy to us, you Christ. Who hit you?"

⁶⁹Now Peter was sitting outside in the courtyard, and a servant girl came to him, saying, "You were also with Jesus, the Galilean."

⁷⁰But he denied it before them all, saying, "I do not know what you are talking about."

⁷¹And when he had gone out onto the porch, another girl saw him, and said to those who were there, "This man also was with Jesus the Nazorean."

⁷⁴Then he began to curse and to swear, "I do not know the man."

Immediately the rooster crowed. ⁷⁵Peter remembered the word which Jesus had said, ^f"Before the rooster crows, you will deny me three times." He went out and wept bitterly.

27 Now when morning had come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death; ²and they bound him, and led him away, and delivered him up to^g Pilate, the governor. ³Then Judas, who betrayed him, when he saw that Jesus was condemned, felt remorse, and returned the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, ⁴saying, "I have sinned in that I betrayed innocent blood."

But they said, "What is that to us? You see to it."

⁵He threw down the pieces of silver in the sanctuary, and departed. He went away and hanged himself. ⁶The chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said, "It's not lawful to put them into the treasury, since it is the price of blood." ⁷They took counsel, and bought the potter's field with them, to bury strangers in. ⁸Therefore that field was called "The Field of Blood" to this day. ⁹Then that which was spoken through Jeremiah the prophet was fulfilled, saying,

"They took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him upon whom a price had been set, whom some of the children of Israel priced, ¹⁰and they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord commanded me."^h

¹¹Now Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, "Are you the King of the Jews?"

Jesus said to him, "You say so."

¹²When he was accused by the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing. ¹³Then Pilate said to him, "Do you not hear how many things they testify against you?"

¹⁴He gave him no answer, not even one word, so that the governor was greatly amazed. ¹⁵Now at the feast the governor was accustomed to release to the crowd one prisoner, whom they desired. ¹⁶They had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. ¹⁷When therefore they were gathered together, Pilate said to them, "Whom do you want me to release to you? Barabbas, or Jesus, who is called Christ?" ¹⁸For he knew that because of envy they had delivered him up.

They said, “Barabbas.”

²³ But he^b said, “Why? What evil has he done?”

But they shouted all the louder, saying, “Let him be crucified.”

²⁴ So Pilate, seeing that nothing was being gained, but rather that a disturbance was starting, took water and he washed his hands before the crowd, saying, “I am innocent of the blood of this righteous^c man. You see to it.”

²⁵ All the people answered, “May his blood be on us, and on our children.”

²⁶ Then he released to them Barabbas, but Jesus he flogged^d and delivered to be crucified.^e ²⁷ Then the governor’s soldiers took Jesus into the Praetorium, and gathered the whole garrison together against him. ²⁸ They stripped him, and put a scarlet robe on him. ²⁹ They braided a crown of thorns and put it on his head, and a reed in his right hand; and they kneeled down before him, and mocked him, saying, “Greetings, King of the Jews.”^f ³⁰ They spat on him,^g and took the reed and struck him on the head. ³¹ When they had mocked him, they took the robe off of him, and put his clothes on him, and led him away to crucify him.

⁵⁵Many women were there watching from afar, who had followed Jesus from Galilee, serving him. ⁵⁶Among them were Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James and Joseph, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee. ⁵⁷When evening had come, a rich man from Arimathea^a, named Joseph, who himself was also Jesus’ disciple came. ⁵⁸This man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded that it^b be released. ⁵⁹Joseph took the body, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, ⁶⁰and placed it in his own new tomb,^c which he had cut out in the rock, and he rolled a great stone to the door of the tomb, and departed. ⁶¹Mary Magdalene was there, and the other Mary, sitting opposite the tomb. ⁶²Now on the next day, which was the day after the Preparation Day, the chief priests and the Pharisees were gathered together to Pilate, ⁶³saying, “Sir, we remember what that deceiver said while he was still alive: ‘After three days I will rise again.’ ⁶⁴Command therefore that the tomb be made secure until the third day, lest perhaps his disciples come^d and steal him away, and tell the people, ‘He is risen from the dead;’ and the last deception will be worse than the first.”

⁶⁵Pilate said to them, “You have a guard. Go, make it as secure as you can.” ⁶⁶So they went with the guard and made the tomb secure, sealing the stone.

28 Now after the Sabbath, as it began to dawn on the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary came to see the tomb. ²And look, there was a great earthquake, for an angel of the Lord descended from the sky, and came and rolled away the stone,^e and sat on it. ³His appearance was like lightning, and his clothing white as snow. ⁴For fear of him, the guards shook, and became like dead men. ⁵The angel answered the women, “Do not be afraid, for I know that you seek Jesus, who has been crucified. ⁶He is not here, for he has risen,^f just like he said. Come, see the place where he^g was lying. ⁷Go quickly and tell his disciples, ‘He has risen from the dead, and look, he goes before you into Galilee; there you will see him.’ See, I have told you.” ⁸They departed quickly from the tomb, frightened yet with great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word. ⁹And^h look, Jesus met them, saying, “Rejoice!”ⁱ And they came and took hold of his feet, and worshiped him.

¹²And immediately the Spirit drove him out into the wilderness. ¹³And he was in the wilderness forty days tempted by Satan. He was^b with the wild animals; and the angels were serving him.

¹⁴Now after John was taken into custody, Jesus came into Galilee, proclaiming the Good News^c of God, ¹⁵and saying, “The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is near. Repent, and believe in the Good News.”

¹⁶And passing along by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew the brother of Simon casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen. ¹⁷And Jesus said to them, “Come, follow me, and I will make you into fishers of people.”

¹⁸And immediately they left the nets, and followed him. ¹⁹And going on a little further,^d he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John, his brother, who were also in the boat mending the nets. ²⁰And immediately he called them, and they left their father, Zebedee, in the boat with the hired servants, and went after him. ²¹And they went into Capernaum, and immediately on the Sabbath day he entered into the synagogue and taught. ²²And they were astonished at his teaching, for he taught them as having authority, and not as the scribes. ²³And just then there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit, and he shouted, ²⁴saying, “What do we have to do with you, Jesus, Nazarene? Have you come to destroy us? I know you who you are: the Holy One of God.”

²⁵And Jesus rebuked him, saying, “Be quiet, and come out of him.”

²⁶And the unclean spirit, convulsing him and crying with a loud voice, came out of him. ²⁷And they were all amazed, so that they questioned among themselves, saying, “What is this? A new teaching? For with authority he commands even the unclean spirits, and they obey him.” ²⁸And at once the news of him went out everywhere^e into all the region of Galilee and its surrounding area.

³⁵And early in the morning, while it was still dark, he rose up and went out, and departed into a deserted place, and prayed there. ³⁶And Simon and those who were with him followed after him; ³⁷and they found him, and told him, “Everyone is looking for you.”

³⁸And he said to them, “Let us go somewhere else^g into the next towns, that I may preach there also, because I came out for this reason.” ³⁹And he went into their synagogues throughout all Galilee, preaching and casting out demons.

⁴⁰And a leper came to him, begging him, and knelt down^h and said to him, “Lord,ⁱ if want to, you can make me clean.”

⁴¹And being moved with compassion, he^j stretched out his hand, and touched him, and said to him, “I am willing. Be cleansed.” ^{42k}And immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean. ⁴³And he strictly warned him, and immediately sent him out, ⁴⁴and said to him, “See you say nothing to anyone, but go show yourself to the priest, and offer for your cleansing the things which Moses commanded, for a testimony to them.”

⁴⁵But he went out, and began to proclaim it freely, and to spread about the matter, so that Jesus could no more openly enter into a city, but was outside in desert places: and they came to him from everywhere.

2 And when he entered again into Capernaum after some days, it was heard that he was in the house. ²And many were gathered together, so that there was no more room, not even around the door; and he spoke the word to them. ³And four people came, carrying a paralytic to him. ⁴And when they could not bring^m him because of the crowd, they removed the roof above him. When they had broken it up, they let down the mat that the paralytic was lying on. ⁵And Jesus, seeing their faith, said to the paralytic, “Son, your sins are forgiven you.”

⁶But there were some of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts, ⁷“Why does this man speak like that? He is blaspheming; who can forgive sins but God alone?”

⁸And immediately Jesus, perceiving in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, said to them, “Why do you reason these things in your hearts? ⁹Which is easier, to tell the paralytic, ‘Your sins are forgiven;’ or to say, ‘Arise, and take up your bed, and walk?’ ¹⁰But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins”, he said to the paralytic, ¹¹“I tell you, arise, take up your mat, and go to your house.”

¹²And he arose immediately, and took up the mat, and went out in front of them all; so that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, “We never saw anything like this.”

¹³And he went up into the mountain, and called to himself those whom he wanted, and they went to him. ¹⁴And he appointed twelve,^l that they might be with him, and that he might send them out to preach,¹⁵ and to have authority to heal sicknesses and to^m cast out demons. ¹⁶And he appointed the twelve.ⁿ And to Simon he gave the name Peter; ¹⁷and James the son of Zebedee; and John the brother of James (and he gave them the names Boanerges, which is to say, Sons of Thunder); ¹⁸and Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus, and Simon the Zealot; ¹⁹and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

²⁰And he came into a house,^o and the crowd came together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread. ²¹And when his family heard it, they went out to take charge of him, for they said, "He is out of his mind."²²And the scribes who came down from Jerusalem said, "He has Beelzebul," and, "By the prince of the demons he casts out the demons."

²³And so he summoned them, and said to them in parables, "How can Satan cast out Satan? ²⁴And if a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. ²⁵And if a house is divided against itself, that house will not be able to stand. ²⁶And if Satan has risen up against himself, and is divided, he is not able to^p stand, but has an end. ²⁷But no one can enter into the house of the strong man to plunder, unless he first binds the strong man; and then he will plunder his house. ²⁸Truly I tell you, all human sins^a will be forgiven, including their blasphemies with which they may blaspheme; ²⁹but whoever may blaspheme against the Holy Spirit never has forgiveness, but is guilty of an everlasting sin³⁰—because they said, “He has an unclean spirit.”

³¹And his mother and his brothers came, and standing outside, they sent to him, calling him. ³²And a crowd was sitting around him, and they told him, “Look, your mother and your brothers^b are outside looking for you.”

³³And he answered them, saying, “Who are my mother and my brothers?” ³⁴And looking around at those who sat around him, he said, “Look, my mother and my brothers. ³⁵For whoever does the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.”

4 And again he began to teach by the seaside. And a large crowd was gathered to him, so that he entered into a boat in the sea, and sat down. And the whole crowd was on the land by the sea. ²And then he taught them many things in parables, and told them in his teaching, ³“Listen. Look, the sower who went out to sow. ⁴And it happened, as he sowed, some seed fell by the road, and the birds^c came and devoured it. ⁵And others fell on the rocky ground, where it had little soil, and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of soil. ⁶And when the sun came up, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away. ⁷And others fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit. ⁸And others fell into the good ground, and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing; and brought forth thirty times, and sixty times, and one hundred times.” ⁹And he said, “Whoever has ears to hear, let him hear.”

¹⁰And when he was alone, those who were around him with the twelve asked him about the parables. ¹¹And he said to them, “To you has been given^d the mystery of the kingdom of God, but to those who are outside, all things are done in parables, ¹²that ‘seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest perhaps they should turn and be forgiven.’”^e

¹³And he said to them, “Do you not understand this parable? And how will you understand all of the parables? ¹⁴The farmer sows the word. ¹⁵And these are the ones by the road where the word is sown; and when they have heard, immediately Satan comes, and takes away the word which has been sown in them.^g ¹⁶And these in a similar way^h are those who are sown on the rocky places, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with joy. ¹⁷And they have no root in themselves, but are short-lived. Then, when oppression or persecution arises because of the word, immediately they stumble. ¹⁸And othersⁱ are those who are sown among the thorns; these are the ones who have heard the word, ¹⁹and the cares of the^j age, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in choke the word, and it becomes unfruitful. ²⁰And those which were sown on the good ground are those who hear the word, and accept it, and bear fruit, some thirty times, some sixty times, and some one hundred times.”

²¹And he said to them, “Is the lamp brought to be put under a basket^k or under a bed? Is it not put on a stand? ²²For there is nothing hidden, except that it should be made known; neither was anything made secret, but that it should come to light. ²³If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear.”

²⁴And he said to them, “Consider carefully what you hear. With whatever measure you measure, it will be measured to you, and more will be given to you.^l ²⁵For whoever has, more will be given, and he who does not have, even that which he has will be taken away from him.”

²⁶And he said, “The kingdom of God is like someone who scatters seed on the earth, ²⁷and he sleeps and rises night and day, and the seed springs up and grows; he doesn’t know how. ²⁸The^m earth bears fruit, first the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear. ²⁹But when the fruit is ripe, immediately he puts forth the sickle, because the harvest has come.”

³⁰And he said, “To what will we liken the kingdom of God? Or with what parable will we use for it? ³¹It’s like a mustard seed, which, when it is sown upon the soil, though it is less than all the seedsⁿ that are upon the soil, ³²and when it is sown, grows up, and becomes greater than all the garden plants, and puts out large branches, so that the birds of the sky can lodge under its shadow.”

³³And with many^o such parables he spoke the word to them, as they were able to hear it. ³⁴And he did not speak to them without a parable; but privately to his own^p disciples he explained everything.

³⁵And on that day, when evening had come, he said to them, “Let us go over to the other side.” ³⁶And leaving the crowd, they took him with them, even as he was, in the boat. And other^q boats were^r with him. ³⁷And a big wind storm arose, and the waves beat into the boat, so much that the boat^s was already filled. ³⁸And he himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion, and they woke him up, and told him, “Teacher, do you not care that we are dying?”

³⁹And he awoke, and rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, “Peace. Be still.” And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.^t

⁴⁰And he said to them, “Why are you so afraid? Do^a you still have no faith?”

⁴¹And they were greatly afraid, and said to one another, “Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?”

5 And they came to the other side of the sea, into the territory of the Gerasenes^b. ²And when he had come out of the boat, immediately a man with an unclean spirit met him out of the tombs. ³He lived in the tombs, and no one could bind him any more, not even with a chain.^c ⁴For he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been torn apart by him, and the fetters broken in pieces. No one had the strength to tame him. ⁵And always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones. ⁶And when he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and bowed down to him, ⁷and crying out with a loud voice, he said, “What have I to do with you, Jesus, you Son of the Most High God? I adjure you by God, do not torment me.” ⁸For he had been saying to him, “Come out of the man, you unclean spirit.”

⁹And then he asked him, “What is your name?”

And he replied, “My name is Legion, for we are many.” ¹⁰And he pleaded with Jesus^d repeatedly not to send them away out of the region. ¹¹Now on the mountainside there was a great herd of pigs feeding. ¹²And they^e begged him, saying, “Send us into the pigs, that we may enter into them.”

¹³And he^f gave them permission. The unclean spirits came out and entered into the pigs; and the herd of about two thousand rushed down the steep bank into the sea, and they were drowned in the sea. ¹⁴And those who fed them^g fled, and told it in the city and in the country. And the people went^h to see what it was that had happened. ¹⁵And they came to Jesus, and saw him who had been possessed by demons sitting, clothed and in his right mind, even him who had the legion; and they were afraid. ¹⁶And those who saw it declared to them how it happened to him who was possessed by demons, and about the pigs. ¹⁷And then they began to plead with Jesusⁱ to leave their region.

¹⁸And as he was entering into the boat, he who had been possessed by demons pleaded with him that he might be with him. ¹⁹However, Jesus^j did not allow him, but said to him, “Go to your house, to your own, and tell them what great things the Lord has done for you, and how he had mercy on you.”

²⁰And so he went his way, and began to proclaim in Decapolis how Jesus had done great things for him, and everyone was amazed.

²¹And when Jesus had crossed back over in the boat to the other side, a large crowd was gathered to him; and he was by the sea. ²²And one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name, came; and seeing him, he fell at his feet, ²³and pleaded with him repeatedly, saying, “My little daughter is at the point of death. Please come and lay your hands on her, that she may be made healthy, and live.”

²⁴And he went with him, and a large crowd followed him, and they pressed upon him on all sides. ²⁵And a^l woman, who had an issue of blood for twelve years, ²⁶and had suffered many things by many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was no better, but rather grew worse, ²⁷having heard the things concerning Jesus, came up behind him in the crowd, and touched his clothes. ²⁸For she said, “If I just touch his clothes, I will be made well.” ²⁹And immediately the flow of her blood was dried up, and she felt in her body that she was healed of her affliction.

³⁰And immediately Jesus, perceiving in himself that the power had gone out from him, turned around in the crowd, and asked, “Who touched my clothes?”

³¹And his disciples said to him, “You see the crowd pressing against you, and you say, ‘Who touched me?’”

³²And he looked around to see her who had done this thing. ³³But the woman, fearing and trembling, knowing what had been done to her, came and fell down before him, and told him the whole truth.

³⁴And he said to her, “Daughter, your faith has made you well. Go in peace, and be cured of your disease.”

³⁵While he was still speaking, people came from the synagogue ruler’s house saying, “Your daughter is dead. Why bother the Teacher any more?”

³⁶But Jesus, overhearing the message spoken, ³⁷said to the ruler of the synagogue, “Do not be afraid, only believe.” ³⁷And he allowed no one to follow him, except Peter, James, and John the brother of James. ³⁸And theyⁿ came to the synagogue ruler’s house, and he saw an uproar, weeping, and great wailing. ³⁹And when he had entered in, he said to them, “Why do you make an uproar and weep? The child is not dead, but is asleep.”

⁴⁰And they ridiculed him. But he, having put them all out, took the father of the child, her mother, and those who were with him, and went in where the child was. ⁴¹And taking the child by the hand, he said to her, “Talitha koum,” which translated means, “Little girl, I tell you, get up.” ⁴²And immediately^p the girl rose up and walked, for she was twelve years old. And immediately they were overcome with amazement. ⁴³And he strictly ordered them that no one should know this, and commanded that something should be given to her to eat.

6 And he went out from there and came into his own country, and his disciples followed him. ²And when the Sabbath had come, he began to teach in the synagogue, and many hearing him were astonished, saying, “Where did this man get these things?” and, “What is the wisdom that is given to this man, that such mighty works come about by his hands? ³Is not this the carpenter,^a the son of Mary, and brother of James, Josi, Judas, and Simon? Are not his sisters here with us?" They were offended at him.

⁴Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor, except in his own country, and among his own relatives, and in his own house." ⁵And he could do no mighty work there, except that he laid his hands on a few sick people, and healed them. ⁶And he was amazed because of their unbelief.

And he went around the villages teaching. ⁷And he called to himself the twelve, and began to send them out two by two; and he gave them authority over the unclean spirits. ⁸And he commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, except a staff only: no bread, no pack, no money in their belts, ⁹but to wear sandals, and not to put on two tunics. ¹⁰And he said to them, "Wherever you enter into a house, stay there until you depart from there. ¹¹And if any place will not receive you or listen to you, as you depart from there, shake off the dust that is under your feet for a testimony against them."^b ¹²So they went out and proclaimed that all should repent. ¹³They cast out many demons, and anointed many with oil who were sick, and healed them. ¹⁴King Herod heard this, for his name had become known, and he said, "John the Baptist has risen from the dead, and therefore these powers are at work in him." ¹⁵But others said, "He is Elijah." Others said, "He is a prophet, like one of the prophets." ¹⁶But Herod, when he heard this, said, "This is John, whom I beheaded. He has risen."^c ¹⁷For Herod himself had sent out and arrested John, and bound him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife, for he had married her. ¹⁸For John said to Herod, "It is not lawful for you to have your brother's wife." ¹⁹So Herodias set herself against him, and desired to kill him, but she could not, ²⁰for Herod feared John, knowing that he was a righteous and holy man, and kept him safe. And when he heard him, he was very perplexed,^d but he heard him gladly.

²¹And then a convenient day came, that Herod on his birthday gave^e a supper for his nobles, the high officers, and the leaders of Galilee. ²²And when the daughter of Herodias herself^f came in and danced, she pleased Herod and those sitting with him. The king said to the young woman, "Ask me whatever you want, and I will give it to you." ²³And he swore to her, "Whatever you ask me, I will give you, up to half of my kingdom."

²⁴So she went out, and said to her mother, "What should I ask?"

And she said, "The head of John the baptizer."

²⁵And she came in immediately with haste to the king, and asked, "I want you to give me right now the head of John the Baptist on a platter."

²⁹And when his disciples heard this, they came and took up his corpse, and placed it in a tomb.

³⁰Then the apostles gathered themselves together to Jesus, and they told him all things, whatever they had done, and whatever they had taught. ³¹And he said to them, "Come away by yourselves to an isolated place, and rest awhile." For there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat. ³²So they went away in the boat to an isolated place by themselves. ³³But they^g saw them going, and many recognized him and ran there on foot from all the cities and they arrived before them.^h ³⁴And heⁱ came out, saw a large crowd, and he had compassion on them, because they were like sheep without a shepherd, and he began to teach them many things. ³⁵And when it was late in the day, his disciples came to him, and said, "This place is desolate, and it is late in the day. ³⁶Send them away, that they may go into the surrounding country and villages, and buy themselves something^j to eat."

³⁷But he answered them, "You give them something to eat."

And they said to him, "Are we to go and buy two hundred denarii^k worth of bread, and give them something to eat?"

³⁸He said to them, "How many loaves do you have? Go see."

When they knew, they said, "Five, and two fish."

³⁹He commanded them that everyone should sit down in groups on the green grass. ⁴⁰They sat down in ranks, by hundreds and by fifties. ⁴¹He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, he blessed and broke the loaves, and he gave to his disciples to set before them, and he divided the two fish among them all. ⁴²They all ate, and were filled. ⁴³They took up twelve baskets full of broken pieces and also of the fish. ⁴⁴Those who ate the loaves were^l five thousand men.

⁴⁵And immediately he made his disciples get into the boat, and to go ahead to the other side, to Bethsaida, while he himself was sending the crowd away. ⁴⁶After he had taken leave of them, he went up the mountain to pray.

⁴⁷When evening had come, the boat was in the midst of the sea, and he was alone on the land. ⁴⁸He saw them distressed in rowing, for the wind was against them. In the watch between three and six in the morning^a he came to them, walking on the sea,^b and he would have passed by them, ⁴⁹but they, when they saw him walking on the sea, supposed that it was a ghost, and began to scream; ⁵⁰for they all saw him, and were troubled. But he immediately spoke with them, and said to them, “Cheer up. It is I.^c Do not be afraid.” ⁵¹And he got into the boat with them, and the wind ceased.^d And they were completely profusely^e astonished among themselves;^f ⁵²for they had not understood about the loaves, but their hearts were hardened.

⁵³When they had crossed over, they came to land at Gennesaret, and moored to the shore. ⁵⁴When they had come out of the boat, immediately the people recognized him, ⁵⁵and ran around that whole^g region, and began to bring those who were sick, on their mats, to where they heard he was. ⁵⁶Wherever he entered, into villages, or into cities, or into the country, they placed the sick in the marketplaces, and begged him that they might touch just the fringe of his garment; and everyone who touched him were made well.

7 Then the Pharisees, and some of the scribes gathered together to him, having come from Jerusalem. ²Now when they saw that some of his disciples ate bread with defiled, that is, unwashed, hands, they found fault. ³(For the Pharisees, and all Jewish people, do not eat unless they wash their hands and forearms, holding to the Tradition of the Elders. ⁴They do not eat when they come from the marketplace unless they wash. And there are many other things which they have received and hold to, the washing of cups and pitchers and copper vessels and dining couches.^h) ⁵The Pharisees and the scribes asked him, “Why do your disciples not walk according to the Tradition of the Elders, but eat their bread with unwashed hands?”

⁶Heⁱ said to them, “Well did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written,
‘This people honors me with their lips,
but their heart is far from me.
⁷And in vain do they worship me,
teaching instructions that are the commandments of humans.’^j

⁸“For you set aside the commandment of God, and hold tightly to human tradition.”^k ⁹He said to them, “Full well do you reject the commandment of God, that you may establish your tradition. ¹⁰For Moses said, ‘Honor your father and your mother;’^l and, ‘Anyone who speaks evil of father or mother, let him be put to death.’^m ¹¹But you say, ‘If anyone tells his father or mother, “Whatever profit you might have received from me is Corbanⁿ, that is to say, given to God;”^o ¹²then you no longer allow him to do anything for his father or his mother, ¹³making void the word of God by your tradition, which you have handed down. You do many things like this.”

¹⁴And he called the crowd to himself again,^o and said to them, “Hear me, all of you, and understand. ¹⁵There is nothing from outside of the person, that going into him can defile him; but the things which proceed out of the person are^p what defile the person.”^{16 q}

¹⁷When he had entered into a house away from the crowd, his disciples asked him about the parable. ¹⁸He said to them, “Are you thus without understanding also? Do you not perceive that whatever goes into the person from outside cannot defile him, ¹⁹because it does not go into his heart, but into his stomach, then into the latrine, cleansing all the foods?” ²⁰He said, “That which proceeds out of the person, that defiles the person. ²¹For from within, out of a person’s heart, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, sexual sins, murders, thefts, ²²covetings, wickedness, deceit, lustful desires, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, and foolishness. ²³All these evil things come from within, and defile the person.”

²⁴From there he arose, and went away into the region^f of Tyre and Sidon. He entered into a house, and did not want anyone to know it, but he could not escape notice. ²⁵But immediately^s a woman whose young daughter had an unclean spirit heard of him came and fell at his feet. ²⁶Now the woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by race. She begged him that he would cast the demon out of her daughter. ²⁷But he^t said to her, “Let the children be filled first, for it is not appropriate to take the children’s bread and throw it to the dogs.”

²⁸But she answered him, “Yes,^u Lord, but even the dogs under the table eat the children’s crumbs.”

²⁹He said to her, “For this saying, go your way. The demon has gone out of your daughter.”

³⁰And when she went away to her house, she found the child lying on the bed, the demon having left^v.

³¹Again he departed from the borders of Tyre, and came through Sidon^w to the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the region of Decapolis. ³²They brought to him one who was deaf and had a speech difficulty, and they begged Jesus^x to lay his hand on him. ³³He took him aside from the crowd, privately, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spat, and touched his tongue. ³⁴Looking up to heaven, he sighed, and said to him, “Ephphatha.” that is, “Be opened.”³⁵ And^d his ears were opened, and the impediment of his tongue was released, and he spoke clearly.³⁶ He commanded them that they should tell no one, but the more he commanded them, so much the more widely they proclaimed it.³⁷ They were astonished beyond measure, saying, “He has done all things well. He makes even the deaf hear, and the mute speak.”

8 In those days, when there was a^b large crowd, and they had nothing to eat, he^c called the^d disciples to himself, and said to them,² “I have compassion on the crowd, because they have stayed with me now three days, and have nothing to eat.³ If I send them away fasting to their home, they will faint on the way, and^e some of them have come a long way.”

⁴His disciples answered him, “From where could one satisfy these people with bread here in a deserted place?”

⁵He asked them, “How many loaves do you have?”

They said, “Seven.”

⁶He commanded the crowd to sit down on the ground, and he took the seven loaves. Having given thanks, he broke them, and gave them to his disciples to serve, and they served the crowd.⁷ They had a few small fish. Having blessed them, he said to serve these also.⁸ They ate, and were filled. They took up seven baskets of broken pieces that were left over.⁹ Now they^f were about four thousand. Then he sent them away.

¹⁰Immediately he entered into the boat with his disciples, and came into the region of Dalmanutha.¹¹ The Pharisees came out and began to question him, seeking from him a sign from heaven, and testing him.¹² He sighed deeply in his spirit, and said, “Why does this generation seek a sign? Truly I tell you, no sign will be given to this generation.”

¹³And he left them, and got into the boat again^g, and went to the other side.¹⁴ Now they^h forgot to take bread; and they did not have more than one loaf in the boat with them.¹⁵ He warned them, saying, “Watch out; guard yourselves against the yeast of the Pharisees and the yeast of Herod.”

¹⁶And they began discussing among themselvesⁱ that they had no bread.^j

¹⁷He^k, perceiving it, said to them, “Why do you reason that it’s because you have no bread? Do you not perceive yet, neither understand? Are your hearts^l hardened?”¹⁸ Having eyes, do you not see? Having ears, do you not hear? Do you not remember?¹⁹ When I broke the five loaves among the five thousand, how many baskets full of broken pieces did you take up?” They told him, “Twelve.”

²⁰“When the seven loaves fed the four thousand, how many baskets full of broken pieces did you take up?” And they said,^m “Seven.”

²¹He asked them, “Do you not yetⁿ understand?”

²²He came to Bethsaida. They brought a blind man to him, and begged Jesus^o to touch him.²³ He took hold of the blind man by the hand, and brought him out of the village. When he had spit on his eyes, and laid his hands on him, he asked him if he saw anything.

²⁴He looked up, and said, “I see people; they look like trees walking.”

²⁵Then again he laid his hands on his eyes. He made him look up, and was restored, and saw everything clearly.²⁶ He sent him away to his house, saying, “Do not enter into the village.^p”

²⁷Jesus went out, with his disciples, into the villages of Caesarea Philippi. On the way he asked his disciples, “Who do people say that I am?”

²⁸And they said to him, saying,^q “John the Baptist, and others say Elijah, but others: one of the prophets.”

²⁹He said to them, “But who do you say that I am?”

Peter answered and said to him, “You are the Christ.”

³⁰He commanded them that they should tell no one about him.³¹ He began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again.³² He spoke to them openly. Peter took him, and began to rebuke him.³³ But he, turning around, and seeing his disciples, rebuked Peter, and said, “Get behind me, Satan. For you have in mind not the things of God, but the things of humans.”

³⁴He called the crowd to himself with his disciples, and said to them, “If anyone^r wants to come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.³⁵ For whoever wants to save his life will lose it; and whoever will lose his life for my sake and the sake of the Good News will save it.³⁶ For what does it profit a person to gain the whole world, and forfeit his soul?³⁷ For what will

9 He said to them, “Truly I tell you, there are some standing here who will in no way taste death until they see the kingdom of God come with power.”

²After six days Jesus took with him Peter, James, and John, and brought them up onto a high mountain privately by themselves, and he was changed into another form in front of them. ³His clothing became glistening, exceedingly white,^b such as no launderer on earth can whiten them. ⁴Elijah and Moses appeared to them, and they were talking with Jesus.

⁵Peter said to Jesus, “Rabbi, it is good for us to be here. Let us make three tents: one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.” ⁶For he did not know what to answer, for they became^c very afraid.

⁷A cloud came, overshadowing them, and a voice came out of the cloud, “This is my beloved Son. Listen to him.”

⁸Suddenly looking around, they saw no one with them anymore, except Jesus alone.

⁹As they were coming down from the mountain, he commanded them that they should tell no one what things they had seen, until after the Son of Man had risen from the dead. ¹⁰They kept this saying to themselves, questioning what the “rising from the dead” meant.

¹¹They asked him, saying, “Why do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?”

¹²And he^d said to them, “Elijah indeed comes first, and restores all things. And why is it written of the Son of Man that he should suffer many things and be rejected? ¹³But I tell you that Elijah has come, and they have also done to him whatever they wanted to, even as it is written about him.”

¹⁴And when they came to the disciples, they saw a large crowd around them, and scribes questioning them. ¹⁵Immediately all the crowd, when they saw him, were greatly amazed, and running to him greeted him. ¹⁶He asked them,^e “What are you arguing about with them?”

¹⁷And one out of the crowd answered him,^f “Teacher, I brought to you my son, who has a mute spirit; ¹⁸and wherever it seizes him, it throws him down, and he foams at the mouth, and grinds his teeth, and wastes away. I asked your disciples to cast it out, and they weren’t able.”

²⁰They brought him to him, and when he saw him, immediately the spirit convulsed him, and he fell on the ground, wallowing and foaming at the mouth.

²¹He asked his father, “How long has it been since this has come to him?”

He said, “From childhood. ²²And it has often cast him both into fire and into water, to destroy him. But if you can do anything, have compassion on us, and help us.”

²³Jesus said to him, “If you can?^g All things are possible to him who believes.”

²⁴Immediately the father of the child cried out and said,^h “I believe. Help my unbelief.”

²⁵When Jesus saw that a crowd came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to him, “You deaf and muteⁱ spirit, I command you, come out of him, and never enter him again.”

²⁶Having screamed, and convulsed greatly, it came out of him. The boy became like one dead; so much that most of them said, “He is dead.” ²⁷But Jesus took him by the hand, and raised him up; and he arose.

²⁸And when he had come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, “Why could we not cast it out?” ²⁹And he said to them, “This kind can come out by nothing, except by prayer and fasting. ^j”

³⁰They went out from there, and passed through Galilee. He did not want anyone to know it. ³¹For he was teaching his disciples, and said to them, “The Son of Man is being handed over to the hands of men, and they will kill him; and when he is killed, after three days^k he will rise again.”

³²But they did not understand the saying, and were afraid to ask him.

³³He came to Capernaum, and when he was in the house he asked them, “What were you arguing^l on the way?”

³⁴But they were silent, for they had disputed one with another on the way about who was the greatest.

³⁵And he sat down, and called the twelve; and he said to them, “If anyone wants to be first, he must be last of all, and servant of all.” ³⁶He took a little child, and set him in the midst of them. Taking him in his arms, he said to them, ³⁷“Whoever receives one such little

10 He arose from there and came into the borders of Judea and beyond^o the Jordan. Crowds came together to him again. As he usually did, he was again teaching them. ²Pharisees came to him testing him, and asked him, “Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife?”

³He answered, “What did Moses command you?”

⁴They said, “Moses allowed a certificate of divorce to be written, and to divorce her.”

⁵But Jesus said to them,^p “Because of your hardness of heart, he wrote you this commandment. ⁶But from the beginning of the creation, he^q made them male and female.^r ⁷For this cause a man will leave his father and mother, and will join to his wife,^s ⁸and the two will become one flesh,^t so that they are no longer two, but one flesh. ⁹What therefore God has joined together, let no one separate.”

¹⁰In the house, the^u disciples asked him again about the same matter. ¹¹He said to them, “Whoever divorces his wife, and marries another, commits adultery against her. ¹²If she^v herself divorces her husband, and marries another, she commits adultery.”

¹³They were bringing to him little children, that he should touch them, but the disciples rebuked^w them. ¹⁴But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said to them, “Allow the little children to come to me. Do not forbid them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these. ¹⁵Truly I tell you, whoever will not receive the kingdom of God like a little child, he will in no way enter into it.” ¹⁶And he took them in his arms, laying his hands on them, and blessed them.

¹⁷As he was going out into the way, one ran to him, knelt before him, and asked him, “Good Teacher, what must I do that I may inherit everlasting life?”

¹⁸Jesus said to him, “Why do you call me good? No one is good except one—God. ¹⁹You know the commandments: ‘Do not commit adultery,’ ‘Do not murder,’^x ‘Do not steal,’ ‘Do not give false testimony,’ ‘Do not defraud,’ ‘Honor your father and mother.’^y”

²⁰And he^z said to him, “Teacher, I have kept all these things from my youth.”

²¹Jesus looking at him loved him, and said to him, “One thing you lack. Go, sell whatever you have, and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me, taking up the cross.”

²²But his face fell at that saying, and he went away sorrowful, for he was one who had great possessions. ²³Jesus looked around, and said to his disciples, “How difficult it is for those who have riches to enter into the kingdom of God.”

²⁴The disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus answered again and said to them, “Children, how hard it is for those who trust

¹⁹When evening came, they^g went out of the city. ²⁰As they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig tree withered away from the roots. ²¹Peter, remembering, said to him, “Teacher, look. The fig tree which you cursed has withered away.”

²²Jesus answered them, “Have faith in God. ²³Truly^h I tell you, whoever may tell this mountain, ‘Be taken up and cast into the sea,’ and does not doubt in his heart, but believes that what he says will happen, it will be done for himⁱ. ²⁴Therefore I tell you, whatever you ask for in prayer, believe that you have received it, and it will be yours. ²⁵Whenever you stand praying, forgive, if you have anything against anyone; so that your Father, who is in heaven, may also forgive you your wrongdoing. ²⁶But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father in heaven forgive your wrongdoing.”^j

²⁷They came again to Jerusalem, and as he was walking in the temple, the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders came to him, ²⁸and they began saying to him, “By what authority do you do these things? And who gave you this authority to do these things?”

²⁹Jesus^k said to them, “I will also ask you one question. Answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. ³⁰The baptism of John—was it from heaven, or from people? Answer me.”

³¹They reasoned with themselves, saying, “If we should say, ‘From heaven;’ he will say, ‘Why then^l did you not believe him?’ ³²If we should say, ‘From people’”—they feared the crowd,^m for all held John to really be a prophet. ³³They answered and said to Jesus, “We do not know.”

Jesusⁿ said to them, “Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.”

12 He began to speak to them in parables. “A man planted a vineyard, put a hedge around it, dug a pit for the winepress, built a tower, rented it out to a farmer, and went on a journey. ²When it was time, he sent a servant to the farmer to get from the farmer his share of the fruit of the vineyard. ³They took him, beat him, and sent him away empty. ⁴Again, he sent another servant to them; and they^o wounded him in the head, and^p treated him shamefully. ⁵And^q he sent another; and they killed him; and many others, beating some, and killing some. ⁶He had one left^r a beloved son, he sent him last to them, saying, ‘They will respect my son.’ ⁷But those farmers said among themselves, ‘This is the heir. Come, let us kill him, and the inheritance will be ours.’ ⁸They took him, killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard. ⁹What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the farmers, and will give the vineyard to others. ¹⁰Haven’t you even read this Scripture:

“The stone which the builders rejected,
the same was made the head of the corner.

¹¹This was from the Lord.
It is marvelous in our eyes’?”^s

¹²They tried to seize him, but they feared the crowd; for they perceived that he spoke the parable against them. They left him, and went away. ¹³They sent some of the Pharisees and of the Herodians to him, that they might trap him with words. ¹⁴When they had come, they asked him, “Teacher, we know that you are honest, and do not defer to anyone; for you are not partial to anyone, but truly teach the way of God. Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not? ¹⁵Should we pay, or should we not pay?”

But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said to them, “Why do you test me? Bring me a denarius, that I may see it.”

¹⁶They brought it.

He said to them, “Whose is this image and inscription?”

They said to him, “Caesar’s.”

¹⁷And Jesus^t said to them, “Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and to God the things that are God’s.” And they were utterly amazed at him.

²⁴Jesus^d said to them, “Is not this because you are mistaken, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God? ²⁵For when they will rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven. ²⁶But about the dead, that they are raised; have you not read in the book of Moses, about the bush, how God spoke to him, saying, ‘I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob’^e? ²⁷He is not the God of the dead, but of the living. You are therefore badly mistaken.”

²⁸And one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together. Seeing^f that he had answered them well, asked him, “Which commandment is the greatest of all?”

²⁹Jesus answered,^g “The first^h is, ‘Hear, Israel, the Lord our God, the Lord is one. ³⁰And you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind, and with all your strength.’^{i,j} ³¹The second^k is this, ‘You are to love your neighbor as yourself.’^l There is no other commandment greater than these.”

³⁴When Jesus saw that he answered wisely, he said to him, “You are not far from the kingdom of God.”

No one dared ask him any question after that. ³⁵Jesus responded, as he taught in the temple, “How can the scribes say that the Christ is the son of David? ³⁶David^o himself said in the Holy Spirit, they will deliver you up to councils. You will be beaten in synagogues. You will stand before rulers and kings for my sake, as a testimony to them.¹⁰The Good News must first be preached to all the nations.¹¹When they lead you away and deliver you up, do not be anxious beforehand, or premeditate what you will say, but say whatever will be given you in that hour. For it is not you who speak, but the Holy Spirit.

¹²“Brother will deliver up brother to death, and the father his child. ²⁸“Now from the fig tree, learn this parable. When the branch has now become tender, and puts forth its leaves, you know that the summer is near;²⁹even so you also, when you see these things coming to pass, know that it is near, at the doors.³⁰Truly I say to you, this generation will not pass away until all these things happen.³¹Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away.³²But of that day or the^h hour no one knows, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father.³³Watch, keep alert, and pray;ⁱ for you do not know when the time is.

³⁴“It is like a man, traveling to another country, having left his house, and given authority to his servants, and to each one his work, and also commanded the doorkeeper to keep watch.³⁵Watch therefore, for you do not know when the lord of the house is coming -- at evening, or at midnight, or when the rooster crows, or in the

14 It was now two days before the feast of the Passover and the unleavened bread, and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might seize him by deception, and kill him.²For they said, “Not during the feast, because there might be a riot of the people.”

³While he was at Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, as he was reclining, a woman came having an alabaster jar of ointment of pure nard—very costly. She broke the jar, and poured it over his head.⁴But there were some who were indignant among themselves, and saying,^j “Why has this ointment been wasted? ⁵For this ointment^k might have been sold for more than three hundred denarii,^l and given to the poor.” They grumbled against her.

⁶But Jesus said, “Leave her alone. Why do you trouble her? She has done a good work for me.⁷For you always have the poor with you, and whenever you want to, you can do them good; but you will not always have me.⁸She has done what she could. She has anointed my body beforehand for the burying.⁹Truly I tell you, wherever this Good News may be preached throughout the whole world, that which this woman has done will also be spoken of for a memorial of her.”

¹⁰Judas Iscariot, who was one of the twelve, went away to the chief priests, that he might deliver him to them.¹¹They, when they heard it, were glad, and promised to give him money. He sought how he might conveniently deliver him.¹²On the first day of unleavened bread, when they sacrificed the Passover lamb, his disciples asked him, “Where do you want us to go and make ready that you may eat the Passover?”

¹³He sent two of his disciples, and said to them, “Go into the city, and there you will meet a man carrying a pitcher of water. Follow him,¹⁴and wherever he enters in, tell the master of the house, ‘The Teacher says, “Where is my^m guest room, where I may eat the Passover with my disciples?”’ ¹⁵He will himself show you a large upper room furnished and ready. Make ready for us there.”

¹⁶Theⁿ disciples went out, and came into the city, and found things as he had said to them, and they prepared the Passover.

¹⁷When it was evening he came with the twelve.¹⁸And as they were reclining and eating, Jesus said, “Truly I tell you, one of you will betray me—he who eats with me.”

¹⁹And they began to be sorrowful, and to say to him one by one, “Surely not I?” And another said, “Surely not I?”^o

²⁷Jesus said to them, “All of you will fall away,^f for it is written, ‘I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered.’^g ²⁸However, after I am raised up, I will go before you into Galilee.”

²⁹But Peter said to him, “Although all will be offended, yet I will not.”

³¹But he insisted,^h “If I must die with you, I will not deny you.” They all said the same thing.

³²They came to a place which was named Gethsemane. He said to his disciples, “Sit here, while I pray.” ³³He took with him Peter, James, and John, and began to be greatly troubled and distressed. ³⁴He said to them, “My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death. Stay here, and watch.”

³⁵He went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass away from him. ³⁶He said, “Abba, Father, all things are possible to you. Please remove this cup from me. However, not what I desire, but what you desire.”

³⁷He came and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, “Simon, are you sleeping? Could you not watch one hour? ³⁸Watch and pray, that you may not enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.”

³⁹Again he went away, and prayed, saying the same words. ⁴⁰Again he cameⁱ and found them sleeping again, for their eyes were very heavy, and they did not know what to answer him. ⁴¹He came the third time, and said to them, “Sleep on now, and take your rest. It is enough. The hour has come. Look, the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. ⁴²Arise, let us be going. Look, he who betrays me is near.”

⁴³Immediately, while he was still speaking, Judas, one of the twelve, came—and with him a^j crowd with swords and clubs, from the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders. ⁴⁴Now he who betrayed him had given them a sign, saying, “Whomever I will kiss, that is he. Seize him, and lead him away safely.” ⁴⁵When he had come, immediately he came to him, and said, “Rabbi.”^k and kissed him. ⁴⁶They laid^l hands on him, and seized him. ⁴⁷But a certain one of those who stood by drew his sword, and struck the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

⁴⁸Jesus answered them, “Have you come out, as against a robber, with swords and clubs to seize me? ⁴⁹I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and you did not arrest me. But this is so that the Scriptures might be fulfilled.”

⁵⁰They all left him, and fled. ⁵¹And a certain young man followed him, having a linen cloth thrown around himself, over his naked body. And they^m grabbed him, ⁵²but he left the linen cloth, and fledⁿ naked. ⁵³They led Jesus away to the high priest. All the chief priests, the elders, and the scribes came together.^o

⁵⁴Peter had followed him from a distance, until he came into the court of the high priest. He was sitting with the officers, and warming himself in the light of the fire. ⁵⁵Now the chief priests and the whole council sought witnesses against Jesus to put him to death, and found none. ⁵⁶For many gave false testimony against him, and their testimony did not agree with each other. ⁵⁷Some stood up, and gave false testimony against him, saying, ⁵⁸“We heard him say, ‘I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another made without hands.’” ⁵⁹Even so, their testimony did not agree.

⁶⁰The high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, “Have you no answer? What is it which these testify against you?” ⁶¹But he stayed quiet, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, “Are you the Christ, the Son of the Blessed One?”

⁶²And Jesus said, “I am, and you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of Power, and coming with the clouds of the sky.”

⁶³The high priest tore his clothes, and said, “What further need have we of witnesses? ⁶⁴You have heard the blasphemy. What do you think?” They all condemned him to be worthy of death. ⁶⁵Some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to beat him with fists, and to tell him, “Prophecy.” And the officers took^p him and beat him.

He answered, “You say so.”

³The chief priests accused him of many things. ⁴Pilate again asked him, “Have you no answer? See how many things they testify against you.”

⁵But Jesus made no further answer, and Pilate was amazed. ⁶Now at the feast he used to release to them one prisoner, whom they requested. ⁷There was one called Barabbas, bound with those who had made insurrection, who in the insurrection had committed murder. ⁸And the crowd went up^e and began to ask him to do for them according to his custom. ⁹Pilate answered them, saying, “Do you want me to release to you the King of the Jews?” ¹⁰For he perceived that for envy the chief priests had delivered him up. ¹¹But the chief priests stirred up the crowd, that he should release Barabbas to them instead. ¹²Pilate again asked them, “What then should I do to him whom you call the King of the Jews?”

¹³They shouted again, “Crucify him.”

¹⁴Pilate said to them, “Why, what evil has he done?”

But they shouted all the louder, “Crucify him.”

¹⁵Pilate, wishing to please the crowd, released Barabbas to them, and handed over Jesus, when he had flogged him, to be crucified. ¹⁶The soldiers led him away within the court, which is the Praetorium; and they called together the whole cohort. ¹⁷They clothed him with purple, and weaving a crown of thorns, they put it on him. ¹⁸They began to salute him, “Greetings, King of the Jews.” ¹⁹They struck his head with a reed, and spat on him, and bowing their knees, did homage to him. ²⁰When they had mocked him, they took the purple off of him, and put his own garments on him. They led him out to crucify him. ²¹And they forced one passing by, Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country,^f the father of Alexander and Rufus, to go with them, that he might carry his cross. ²²And they brought him to the place called Golgotha, which is translated, “The place of a skull.”^g ²³They offered him^h wine mixed with myrrh to drink, but he did not take it.

²⁴Crucifying him, they parted his garments among them, casting lots on them, what each should take. ²⁵It was nine in the morning,ⁱ and they crucified him. ²⁶The superscription of his accusation was written over him, “THE KING OF THE JEWS.” ²⁷With him they crucified two robbers; one on his right hand, and one on his left. ²⁸And the Scripture was fulfilled which says, “And he was numbered with transgressors.”^j ²⁹Those who passed by blasphemed him, wagging their heads, and saying, “Ha. You who destroy the temple, and build it in three days, ³⁰save yourself and^k come down from the cross.”

³¹Likewise, also the chief priests mocking among themselves with the scribes said, “He saved others. He cannot save himself. ³²Let the Christ, the King of Israel, now come down from the cross, that we may see and believe him.” Those who were crucified with him insulted him.

³³Now when it was noon,^l there was darkness over the whole land^m until three in the afternoon.ⁿ ³⁴Then at three in the afternoon Jesus called out with a loud voice, saying, “Elohi, Elohi,^o lema shabachthani^p?” which is translated, “My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?”^q

³⁵Some of those who stood by, when they heard it, said, “Look, he is calling for Elijah.”

³⁶One ran, and filling a sponge full of vinegar, put it on a reed, and gave it to him to drink, saying, “Let him be. Let us see whether Elijah comes to take him down.”

³⁷Jesus gave a loud cry, and gave up the spirit. ³⁸The curtain of the temple was torn in two from the top to the bottom. ³⁹And when the centurion, who stood by opposite him, saw that he cried out^a like this and breathed his last, he said, “Truly this man was the Son of God.”

⁴⁰There were also women watching from afar, among whom were both Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the younger and of Josi, and Salome; ⁴¹who, when he was in Galilee, followed him, and served him; and many other women who came up with him to Jerusalem.

⁴²When evening had now come, because it was the Preparation Day, that is, the day before the Sabbath, ⁴³Joseph of Arimathea^b, a prominent council member who also himself was looking for the kingdom of God, came. He boldly went in to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. ⁴⁴Pilate was surprised that he was already dead; and summoning the centurion, he asked him whether he had been dead long. ⁴⁵When he found out from the centurion, he granted the body to Joseph. ⁴⁶He bought a linen cloth, and taking him down, wound him in the linen cloth, and placed him in a tomb which had been cut out of a rock. He rolled a stone against the door of the tomb. ⁴⁷Mary Magdalene and Mary, the mother of Josi, saw where he was placed.

16 When the Sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the^c mother of James, and Salome, bought spices, that they might come and anoint him. ²Very early on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb when the sun had risen. ³They were saying among themselves, “Who will roll away the stone from the door of the tomb for us?” ⁴for it was very big. Looking up, they saw that the stone was rolled back.

⁵Entering into the tomb, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, dressed in a white robe, and they were amazed. ⁶He said to them, “Do not be amazed. You seek Jesus, the Nazarene, who has been crucified. He has risen. He is not here. Look, the place where they put him. ⁷But go, tell his disciples and Peter, ‘He goes before you into Galilee. There you will see him, as he said to you.’”

⁸They went out, and fled from the tomb, for trembling and astonishment had come on them. They said nothing to anyone; for they were afraid.

⁹Now when he had risen early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene,^d from whom he had cast out seven demons. ¹⁰She went and told those who had been with him,^e as they mourned and wept. ¹¹When they heard that he was alive, and had been seen by her, they disbelieved.^f ¹²And after these things he appeared in another form to two of them, as they walked on their way into the country.^g ¹³And they went away and told it to the rest.^h They did not believe them, either.

¹⁴Afterward he was revealed to the eleven themselves as they were reclining,ⁱ and he rebuked them for their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they did not believe those who had seen him after he had risen. ¹⁵And he said to them, “Go into all the world, and proclaim the Good News to the whole creation.^j ¹⁶He who believes and is baptized will be saved^k; but he who disbelieves will be condemned. ¹⁷And these signs will accompany those who believe:^l In my name they will cast out demons;^m they will speak with new tongues;ⁿ ¹⁸they will pick up^o serpents;^p and if they drink any deadly thing, it will not harm them;^q they will place their hands on the sick, and they will be made well.”^r

¹⁹So then the Lord Jesus,^s after he had spoken to them, was taken up into heaven,^t and sat down at the right hand of God.^u ²⁰And they went out and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them and confirming the message by the signs that followed.^{v,w}

The abrupt (16:8) and short ending are both associated with Egypt, and it is not uncommon for ancient codices to have defective endings, e.g. Ms 03, Hebrews 9:14b to end; Ms 012, Philemon 21 to end; Ms 014, Acts 27:4 to end; Ms 019, John 21:15 to end; Ms 042, Mark 16:14 to end; Ms 63, final leaf containing John 21:25. Another possibility is that Egyptian Gnostics who were opposed to physical resurrection excised the text, e.g. Valentinus or Basilides. The most likely explanation in view of the examples of codices with defective endings is that the last leaf of the codex was lost during transportation. The external evidence from very early patristic citations and a wide geographic appearance in all four text-types, along with new internal evidence from linguistic, literary, and thematic analysis, point to vv. 9-20 as part of Mark’s original composition. 1 Since many have undertaken to set in order a narrative concerning those matters which have been fulfilled among us,² even as those who from the beginning were eyewitnesses and servants of the word delivered them to us,³ it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write to you in order, most excellent Theophilus;⁴ that you might know the certainty concerning the things in which you were instructed.

⁵There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zechariah, of the division of Abijah. He had a wife of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.^a ⁶They were both righteous before God, walking blamelessly in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord. ⁷But they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren, and they both were well advanced in years. ⁸Now it happened, while he was performing the priest's office before God in the order of his division, ⁹according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to enter into the temple of the Lord and burn incense. ¹⁰And the whole crowd of people were praying outside at the hour of incense.

¹¹An angel of the Lord appeared to him, standing on the right side of the altar of incense. ¹²Zechariah was troubled when he saw him, and fear fell upon him. ¹³But the angel said to him, "Do not be afraid, Zechariah, because your request has been heard, and your wife, Elizabeth, will bear you a son, and you are to name him John.^b ¹⁴You will have joy and gladness; and many will rejoice at his birth. ¹⁵For he will be great in the sight of the^c Lord, and he will drink no wine nor strong drink. He will be filled with the Holy Spirit, even from his mother's womb. ¹⁶He will turn many of the children of Israel to the Lord, their God. ¹⁷He will go before him in the spirit and power of Elijah, 'to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children,' and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord."

¹⁹The angel answered him, "I am Gabriel, who stands in the presence of God. I was sent to speak to you, and to bring you this good news. ²⁰And look, you will be silent and not able to speak, until the day that these things will happen, because you did not believe my words, which will be fulfilled in their proper time."

²¹The people were waiting for Zechariah, and they were wondering why he was delayed in the temple. ²²When he came out, he could not speak to them, and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple. He continued making signs to them, and remained mute. ²³It happened, when the days of his service were fulfilled, he departed to his house. ²⁴After these days Elizabeth, his wife, conceived, and she hid herself five months, saying, ²⁵"Thus has the Lord done to me in the days in which he looked at me, to take away my disgrace among people."

²⁶Now in the sixth month, the angel Gabriel was sent from God to a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, ²⁷to a virgin pledged to be married to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David. The virgin's name was Mary. ²⁸Having come in, the angel said to her, "Greetings, favored one. The Lord is with you."^d

²⁹But when she saw him, she was greatly troubled at the saying, and considered what kind of salutation this might be. ³⁰The angel said to her, "Do not be afraid, Mary, for you have found favor with God. ³¹And look, you will conceive in your womb, and bring forth a son, and will call his name 'Jesus.' ³²He will be great, and will be called the Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne of his father, David, ³³and he will reign over the house of Jacob forever.^e There will be no end to his kingdom."

³⁴Mary said to the angel, "How can this be, seeing I am a virgin?"

³⁵The angel answered her, "The Holy Spirit will come on you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. Therefore also the holy one who is born will be called the Son of God. ³⁶And look, Elizabeth, your relative, also has conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her who was called barren. ³⁷For with God nothing will be impossible."

³⁸And Mary said, "See, the handmaid of the Lord; be it to me according to your word."

The angel departed from her. ³⁹Mary arose in those days and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Judah, ⁴⁰and entered into the house of Zechariah and greeted Elizabeth. ⁴¹It happened, when Elizabeth heard Mary's greeting, that the baby leaped in her womb, and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit. ⁴²She called out with a loud voice, and said, "Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb. ⁴³Why am I so favored, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? ⁴⁴For look, when the voice of your greeting came into my ears, the baby leaped in my womb for joy. ⁴⁵Blessed is she who believed, for there will be a fulfillment of the things which have been spoken to her from the Lord."

⁴⁶Mary said,
"My soul magnifies the Lord.

⁴⁷And my spirit rejoices in God my Savior,
⁴⁸for he has looked at the humble state of his servant girl.^f

⁸⁰The child was growing, and becoming strong in spirit, and was in the desert until the day of his public appearance to Israel.

2 Now it happened in those days, that a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be enrolled. ²This was the first enrollment^f made when Quirinius was governor of Syria. ³All went to enroll themselves, everyone to his own city. ⁴Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and family of David; ⁵to enroll himself with Mary, who was pledged to be married to him,^g being pregnant.

⁶It happened, while they were there, that the day had come that she should give birth. ⁷And she gave birth to her firstborn son, and wrapped him with pieces of cloth, and placed him in a feeding trough, because there was no guest room^h available for them. ⁸There were shepherds in the same country staying in the field, and keeping watch by night over their flock. ⁹And look, an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terrified. ¹⁰The angel said to them, “Do not be afraid, for see, I bring you good news of great joy which will be to all the people. ¹¹For there is born to you, this day, in the city of David, a Savior, who is Christ, the Lord. ¹²This is the sign to you: you will find a baby wrapped in strips of cloth, lying in a feeding trough.” ¹³Suddenly, there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly army praising God, and saying,

and on earth peace,
good will toward humankind.”ⁱ”

¹⁵And it happened that when the angels went away from them into the sky,^j the shepherds said one to another, “Let us go to Bethlehem, now, and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us.” ¹⁶They came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the baby was lying in the feeding trough. ¹⁷When they saw it, they made known^k the saying which was spoken to them about this child. ¹⁸All who heard it wondered at the things which were spoken to them by the shepherds. ¹⁹But Mary kept all these sayings, pondering them in her heart. ²⁰The shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, just as it was told them.

When the parents brought in the child, Jesus, that they might do concerning him according to the requirement of the Law, ²⁸then he received him into his arms, and blessed God, and said, ²⁹“Now you are releasing your servant, Lord, according to your word, in peace; ³⁰for my eyes have seen your salvation, ³¹which you have prepared before the face of all peoples; ³²a light for revelation to the nations, and the glory of your people Israel.”

³³And his father^d and his mother were marveling at the things which were spoken concerning him, ³⁴and Simeon blessed them, and said to Mary, his mother, “Look, this child is set for the falling and the rising of many in Israel, and for a sign which is spoken against. ³⁵Yes, a sword will pierce through your own soul, that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.”

³⁹When they had accomplished all things that were according to the Law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city, Nazareth. ⁴⁰The child was growing, and was becoming strong,^g being filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was upon him. ⁴¹His parents went every year to Jerusalem at the feast of the Passover.

⁴²When he was twelve years old, they went up^h according to the custom of the feast, ⁴³and when they had fulfilled the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem. His parentsⁱ did not know it, ⁴⁴but supposing him to be in the company, they went a day’s journey, and they looked for him among their relatives and acquaintances. ⁴⁵When they did not find him, they returned to Jerusalem, looking for him. ⁴⁶It happened after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both listening to them, and asking them questions. ⁴⁷All who heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers. ⁴⁸When they saw him, they were astonished, and his mother said to him, “Son, why have you treated us this way? Look, your father and I were anxiously looking for you.”

⁴⁹He said to them, “Why were you looking for me? Did you not know that I must be doing the works of my Father?” ⁵⁰They did not understand the saying which he spoke to them. ⁵¹And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth. He was subject to them, and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart. ⁵²And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and people.

3 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of the region of Ituraea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, ²in the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, the word of God came to John, the son of Zechariah, in the wilderness. ³He came into all the region around the^j Jordan, preaching a baptism of repentance for forgiveness of sins. ⁴As it is written in the scroll of the words of Isaiah the prophet, “The voice of one crying in the wilderness, ‘Prepare the way of the Lord. Make his roads straight. ⁵Every valley will be filled, and every mountain and hill will be made low; and the crooked will be made straight, and the rough ways smooth. ⁶And all humanity will see the salvation of God.’”^k

⁷He said therefore to the crowds who went out to be baptized by him, “You offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from the wrath to come? ⁸Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance, and do not begin to say among yourselves, ‘We have Abraham for our father;’ for I tell you that God is able to raise up children to Abraham from these stones. ⁹Even now the axe also lies at the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that does not bring forth good fruit is cut down, and thrown into the fire.”

¹⁰The crowds asked him, “What then must we do?”

¹¹He answered them, “He who has two coats, let him give to him who has none. He who has food, let him do likewise.”

¹²Tax collectors also came to be baptized, and they said to him, “Teacher, what must we do?”

¹³He said to them, “Collect no more than that which is appointed to you.”

¹⁴Soldiers also asked him, saying, “What about us? What must we do?”

He said to them, “Extort from no one by violence, neither accuse anyone wrongfully. Be content with your wages.”

¹⁵As the people were in expectation, and all were wondering in their hearts concerning John, whether perhaps he was the Christ, ¹⁶John answered them all, “I indeed baptize you with water, but he comes who is mightier than I, the strap of whose sandals I am not worthy to loosen. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire, ¹⁷whose winnowing fork is in his hand, to^l clear his threshing days, being tempted by the devil. He ate nothing in those days.^a When they were completed, he was hungry. ³The devil said to him, “If you are the Son of God, command this stone to become bread.”

¹⁸Then with many other exhortations he preached good news to the people, ¹⁹but Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias, his brother's^b wife, and for all the evil things which Herod had done, ²⁰added this also to them all, that^c he shut up John in prison. ²¹Now it happened, when all the people were baptized, Jesus also had been baptized, and was praying. The sky was opened, ²²and the Holy Spirit descended in a bodily form as a dove on him; and a voice came out of the sky, saying “You are my beloved Son. In you I am well pleased.”

⁵And leading him up to a high mountain, the devil^d showed him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time. ⁶The devil said to him, “I will give you all this authority, and their glory, for it has been delivered to me; and I give it to whomever I want. ⁷If you therefore will worship before me, it will all be yours.”

⁸Jesus answered and said to him,^e “It is written, ‘You are to worship the Lord your God, and serve him only.’”^f

⁹He led him to Jerusalem, and set him on the pinnacle of the temple, and said to him, “If you are the Son of God, cast yourself down from here, ¹⁰for it is written, ‘He will put his angels in charge of you, to guard you;’

¹¹and, ‘On their hands they will bear you up, lest perhaps you dash your foot against a stone.’”^g

¹²And Jesus, answering, said to him, “It is said, ‘Do not test the Lord your God.’”^h ¹³When the devil had completed every temptation, he departed from him until another time.

¹⁴Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee, and news about him spread through all the surrounding area. ¹⁵He taught in their synagogues, being praised by all.

¹⁶He came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up. He entered, as was his custom, into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood up to read. ¹⁷The scroll of the prophet Isaiah was handed to him, and unrolling the scroll, he found the place where it was written,

¹⁸“The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to preach good news to the poor. He has sent me to heal the brokenhearted,ⁱ to proclaim liberty to the captives, recovering of sight to the blind, to deliver those who are crushed, ¹⁹and to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.”^j

²⁰He closed the scroll, gave it back to the attendant, and sat down. The eyes of all in the synagogue were fastened on him. ²¹He began to tell them, “Today, this Scripture has been fulfilled in your hearing.”

²²All testified about him, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth, and they said, “Is not this Joseph’s son?”

²³He said to them, “Doubtless you will tell me this parable, ‘Physician, heal yourself. Whatever we have heard done at Capernaum, do also here in your hometown.’” ²⁴He said, “Truly I tell you, no prophet is acceptable in his hometown. ²⁵But truly I tell you, there were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the sky was shut up three years and six months, when a great famine came over all the land. ²⁶Elijah was sent to none of them, except to Zarephath, in the land of Sidon, to a woman who was a widow. ²⁷There were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet, yet not one of them was cleansed, except Naaman, the Syrian.”

²⁸They were all filled with wrath in the synagogue, as they heard these things. ²⁹They rose up, threw him out of the city, and led him to the brow of the hill that their city was built on, that they might throw him off the cliff. ³⁰But he, passing through the midst of them, went his way.

³¹He came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee. He was teaching them on the Sabbath day, ³²and they were astonished at his teaching, for his word was with authority. ³³In the synagogue there was a man who had a spirit of an unclean demon, and he shouted with a loud voice, ³⁴saying, “Ah. What have we to do with you, Jesus, Nazarene? Have you come to destroy us? I know you who you are: the Holy One of God.”

³⁵Jesus rebuked him, saying, “Be silent, and come out of him.” When the demon had thrown him down in their midst, he came out of him, having done him no harm.

³⁶Amazement came on all, and they spoke together, one with another, saying, “What is this word? For with authority and power he commands the unclean spirits, and they come out.” ³⁷News about him went out into every place of the surrounding region.

³⁸He rose up from the synagogue, and entered into Simon’s house. Now Simon’s mother-in-law was suffering from a high fever, and they appealed to him about her. ³⁹He stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her. Immediately she rose up and served them. ⁴⁰When the sun was setting, all those who had any sick with various diseases brought them to him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. ⁴¹Demons also came out from many, crying out, and saying, “You are the^k Son of God.” But he rebuked them and did not allow them to speak, because they knew that he was the Christ.

For this reason I have been sent.” ⁴⁴And he was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee.^a

5 Now it happened, while the crowd pressed on him and heard the word of God, that he was standing by the lake of Gennesaret.^b ²He saw two boats standing by the lake, but the fishermen had gone out of them, and were washing their nets. ³He entered into one of the boats, which was Simon’s, and asked him to put out a little from the land. He sat down and taught the crowds from the boat. ⁴When he had finished speaking, he said to Simon, “Put out into the deep, and let down your nets for a catch.”

⁵Simon answered him, “Master, we worked all night, and took nothing; but at your word I will let down the nets.” ⁶When they had done this, they caught a great multitude of fish, and their net was breaking. ⁷They beckoned to their partners in the other boat, that they should come and help them. They came, and filled both boats, so that they began to sink. ⁸But Simon Peter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus’ knees, saying, “Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, Lord.” ⁹For he was amazed, and all who were with him, at the catch of fish which they had caught; ¹⁰and so also were James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon.

Jesus said to Simon, “Do not be afraid. From now on you will be catching people.”

¹¹When they had brought their boats to land, they left everything, and followed him. ¹²It happened, while he was in one of the cities, look, there was a man full of leprosy. When he saw Jesus, he fell on his face, and begged him, saying, “Lord, if you want to, you can make me clean.”

¹³And he stretched out his hand, and touched him, saying, “I am willing. Be cleansed.” And immediately the leprosy left him. ¹⁴And he commanded him, “Do not tell anyone, but go your way, and show yourself to the priest, and offer for your cleansing according to what Moses commanded, for a testimony to them.” ¹⁵But the report concerning him spread much more, and large crowds came together to hear, and to be healed^d of their infirmities. ¹⁶But he withdrew himself into the desert, and prayed.

²¹The scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, “Who is this that speaks blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone?”

²²But Jesus, perceiving their thoughts, answered them, “Why are you reasoning so in your hearts? ²³Which is easier to say, ‘Your sins are forgiven you;’ or to say, ‘Arise and walk?’ ²⁴But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins” (he said to the paralyzed man), “I tell you, arise, and take up your cot, and go to your house.”

²⁵Immediately he rose up before them, and took up that which he was laying on, and departed to his house, glorifying God. ²⁶Amazement took hold on all, and they glorified God. They were filled with fear, saying, “We have seen remarkable things today.”

²⁷After these things he went out, and saw a tax collector named Levi sitting at the tax office, and said to him, “Follow me.”

²⁸He left everything, and rose up and followed him. ²⁹Levi made a great feast for him in his house. There was a large crowd of tax collectors and others who were reclining with them. ³⁰The Pharisees and their scribes^h grumbled at his disciples, saying, “Why do you eat and drink with the tax collectors and sinners?” ³¹Jesus answered them, “Those who are healthy have no need for a physician, but those who are sick do. ³²I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.”

³³They said to him, “The disciples of Johnⁱ often fast and pray, likewise also the disciples of the Pharisees, but yours eat and drink.”

³⁴He said to them, “Can you make the friends of the bridegroom fast, while the bridegroom is with them? ³⁵But the days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them. Then they will fast in those days.” ³⁶He also told a parable to them. “No one having torn^l a piece from a new garment puts it on an old garment, or else he will tear the new, and also the piece from the new will not match the old. ³⁷And no one puts new wine into old wineskins, or else the new wine will burst the skins, and it will be spilled, and the skins will be destroyed. ³⁸But new wine must be put into fresh wineskins.^k ³⁹No one having drunk old wine^l desires new, for he says, ‘The old is good.’^m”

⁶It also happened on another Sabbath that he entered into the synagogue and taught. There was a man there, and his right hand was withered. ⁷The scribes and the Pharisees watched him^c, to see whether he would heal on the Sabbath, that they might find an accusation against him. ⁸But he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man who had the withered hand, “Rise up, and stand in the middle.” He arose and stood. ⁹Then Jesus said to them, “I ask you^d, is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good, or to do harm? When a flood arose, the stream broke against that house, and could not shake it, because it had been well built.^a ⁴⁹But he who hears, and does not do, is like someone who built a house on the earth without a foundation, against which the stream broke, and immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great.”

7 After he had finished speaking in the hearing of the people, he entered into Capernaum. ²A certain centurion’s servant, who was dear to him, was sick and at the point of death. ³When he heard about Jesus, he sent to him Jewish elders, asking him to come and save his servant. ⁴When they came to Jesus, they pleaded with him earnestly, saying, “He is worthy for you to do this for him, ⁵for he loves our nation, and he built our synagogue for us.” ⁶Jesus went with them. When he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends,^b saying to him, “Lord, do not trouble yourself, for I am not worthy for you to come under my roof. ⁷Therefore I did not even think myself worthy to come to you; but say the word, and my servant will be healed. ⁸For I also am a man placed under authority, having under myself soldiers. I tell this one, ‘Go.’ and he goes; and to another, ‘Come.’ and he comes; and to my servant, ‘Do this,’ and he does it.”

⁹When Jesus heard these things, he was amazed at him, and turned and said to the crowd who followed him, “I tell you, I have not found such great faith, no, not in Israel.” ¹⁰And when those who had been sent returned to the house, they found the servant^c in good health.

¹¹It happened soon afterwards, that he went to a city called Nain; and many^d of his disciples, along with a large crowd, went with him. ¹²And when he drew near to the gate of the city, then look, a man who was dead was carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow; and a large crowd from the city was with her. ¹³When the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said to her, “Do not cry.” ¹⁴He came near and touched the coffin, and the bearers stood still. He said, “Young man, I tell you, arise.” ¹⁵He who was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he gave him to his mother.

¹⁶Fear took hold of all, and they glorified God, saying, “A great prophet has arisen among us.” and, “God has visited his people.” ¹⁷This report went out concerning him in the whole of Judea, and in all the surrounding region.

¹⁸The disciples of John told him about all these things. ¹⁹John, calling to himself two of his disciples, sent them to the Lord,^e saying, “Are you the one who is to come, or should we look for another?” ²⁰When the men had come to him, they said, “John the Baptist has sent us to you, saying, ‘Are you the one who is to come, or should we look for another?’”

²¹In that hour he cured many of diseases and plagues and evil spirits; and to many who were blind he gave sight.^f ²²Jesus answered them, “Go and tell John the things which you have seen and heard: that the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have good news preached to them.^g ²³Blessed is he who is not offended by me.”

²⁴When John’s messengers had departed, he began to tell the crowds about John, “What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind? ²⁵But what did you go out to see? A man clothed in soft clothing? Look, those who are gorgeously dressed, and live delicately, are in kings’ courts. ²⁶But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and much more than a prophet. ²⁷This is he of whom it is written, ‘Look, I send my messenger ahead of you, who will prepare your way before you.’^h

²⁸“I tell you, among those who are born of women there is none greaterⁱ than John,^k yet he who is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he.”

²⁹When all the people and the tax collectors heard this, they declared God to be just, having been baptized with John’s baptism. ³⁰But the Pharisees and the Law scholars rejected the counsel of God, not being baptized by him themselves.

³¹“To what then will I liken the people of this generation? What are they like? ³²They are like children who sit in the marketplace, and call one to another, saying, ‘We played the flute for you, and you did not dance. We mourned,^m and you did not weep.’ ³³For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and you say, ‘He has a demon.’ ³⁴The Son of Man has come eating and drinking, and you say, ‘Look, a gluttonous man, and a drunkard; a friend of tax collectors and sinners.’ ³⁵Wisdom is justified by all her children.”

³⁶One of the Pharisees invited him to eat with him. He entered into the Pharisee’s house, and sat at the table. ³⁷And look, a woman in the city who was a sinner, when she knew that he was reclining in the Pharisee’s house, she brought an alabaster jar of ointment. ³⁸Standing behind at his feet weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears, and she wiped them with the hair of her head, kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. ³⁹Now when the Pharisee who had invited him saw it, he said to himself, “This man, if he were a prophet, would have perceived who and what kind of woman this is who touches him, that she is a sinner.”

forgave them both. Which of them therefore will love him most?"⁴³Simon answered, "He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most." He said to him, "You have judged correctly."⁴⁴Turning to the woman, he said to Simon, "Do you see this woman? But to whom little is forgiven, the same loves little."⁴⁸He said to her, "Your sins are forgiven."

⁴⁹And those who were reclining with him began to say to themselves, "Who is this who even forgives sins?"

⁵⁰He said to the woman, "Your faith has saved you. Go in peace."

8 It happened soon afterwards, that he went about through cities and villages, proclaiming and bringing the good news of the kingdom of God. With him were the twelve,² and certain women who had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities: Mary who was called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out; ³and Joanna, the wife of Chuza, Herod's steward; Susanna; and many others; who provided for them from their possessions. ⁴When a large crowd came together, and people from every city were coming to him, he spoke by a parable. ⁵"The farmer went out to sow his seed. As he sowed, some fell along the road, and it was trampled under foot, and the birds of the sky devoured it. ⁶Other seed fell on the rock, and as soon as it grew, it withered away, because it had no moisture. ⁷Other fell amid the thorns, and the thorns grew with it, and choked it. ⁸Other fell into the good ground, and grew, and brought forth fruit one hundred times." As he said these things, he called out, "He who has ears to hear, let him hear."

¹⁰He said, "To you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God, but to the rest in parables; that 'seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand.'^b ¹¹Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. ¹²Those along the road are those who hear, then the devil comes, and takes away the word from their heart, that they may not believe and be saved. ¹³Those on the rock are they who, when they hear, receive the word with joy; but these have no root, who believe for a while, then fall away in time of temptation. ¹⁴That which fell among the thorns, these are those who have heard, and as they go on their way they are choked with cares, riches, and pleasures of life, and bring no fruit to maturity. ¹⁵That in the good ground, these are such as in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, hold it tightly, and bring forth fruit with patience.

¹⁶"No one, when he has lit a lamp, covers it with a container, or puts it under a bed; but puts it on a stand, that those who enter in may see the light. ¹⁷For nothing is hidden, that will not be revealed; nor anything secret, that will not be known and come to light. ¹⁸So consider carefully how you listen. For whoever has, to him will be given; and whoever does not have, from him will be taken away even that which he thinks he has."

¹⁹His mother and brothers came to him, and they could not come near him for the crowd. ²⁰It was told him by some saying, "Your mother and your brothers stand outside, desiring to see you."

²¹But he answered them, "My mother and my brothers are these who hear the word of God, and do it."

²²Now it happened on one of those days, that he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples, and he said to them, "Let us go over to the other side of the lake." So they launched out. ²³But as they sailed, he fell asleep. A wind storm came down on the lake, and they were taking on dangerous amounts of water. ²⁴So they came to him, and awoke him, saying, "Master, master, we are dying." And he awoke, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water, and they ceased, and it was calm.^c ²⁵He said to them, "Where is your faith?" But they were terrified and astonished, saying to one another, "Who is this, then, that he commands even the winds and the water, and they obey him?"²⁶They arrived at the country of the Gerasenes,^d which is opposite Galilee.

²⁷And when he came out onto the land he was met by a certain man from the town who had demons. For a long time he had worn no clothes^e, and did not live in a house, but in the tombs. ²⁸When he saw Jesus, he shouted, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, "What do I have to do with you, Jesus, you Son of the Most High God? I beg you, do not torment me."²⁹For Jesus was commanding the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For the unclean spirit had often seized the man. He was kept under guard, and bound with chains and fetters. Breaking the bands apart, he was driven by the demon into the desert.

³⁰Jesus asked him, "What is your name?"

He said, "Legion," for many demons had entered into him. ³¹They^f pleaded with him that he would not command them to go into the abyss. ³²Now there was there a herd of many pigs feeding on the mountain, and they begged him that he would allow them to enter into those. He allowed them. ³³The demons came out from the man, and entered into the pigs, and the herd rushed down the steep bank into the lake, and were drowned. ³⁴When those who fed them saw what had happened, they fled, and told it in the city and in the country.

³⁵Then people went out to see what had happened. They came to Jesus, and found the man from whom the demons had gone out, sitting at Jesus' feet, clothed and in his right mind; and they were afraid. ³⁶Those who saw it told them how he who had been possessed by demons was healed. ³⁷All the people of the surrounding region of the Geresenes^g asked him to leave them, for they were very much afraid; and he entered into the boat and returned. ³⁸But the man from whom the demons had gone out begged him that he might go with him, but Jesus sent him away, saying, ³⁹"Return to your house, and declare what great things God has done for you." He went his way, proclaiming throughout the whole city what great things Jesus had done for him.

⁴⁰When^a Jesus returned, the crowd welcomed him, for they were all waiting for him. ⁴¹And look, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue. He fell down at Jesus' feet, and pleaded with him to come into his house, ⁴²for he had an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she was dying. But as he went, the crowds pressed against him. ⁴³A woman who had a flow of blood for twelve years (who had spent all her living on physicians)^b and could not be healed by any, ⁴⁴came behind him, and touched the fringe of his garment, and immediately the flow of her blood stopped. ⁴⁵Jesus said, "Who touched me?" When all denied it, Peter and those with him^c said, "Master, the crowds press and jostle you."^d

⁴⁶But Jesus said, "Someone did touch me, for I perceived that power has gone out of me." ⁴⁷When the woman saw that she was not hidden, she came trembling, and falling down before him declared to him in the presence of all the people the reason why she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately. ⁴⁸He said to her, "Daughter,^e your faith has made you well. Go in peace."

⁴⁹While he still spoke, one from the ruler of the synagogue's house came, saying to him, "Your daughter is dead. Do not trouble the Teacher."

⁵⁰But Jesus hearing it, answered him, "Do not be afraid. Only believe, and she will be healed."

⁵¹When he came to the house, he did not allow anyone to enter in with him,^f except Peter, John, James, the father of the child, and her mother. ⁵²All were weeping and mourning her, but he said, "Do not weep. She is not dead, but sleeping."

⁵³They were ridiculing him, knowing that she was dead. ⁵⁴But he,^g taking her by the hand, called, saying, "Child, arise." ⁵⁵Her spirit returned, and she rose up immediately. He commanded that something be given to her to eat. ⁵⁶Her parents were amazed, but he commanded them to tell no one what had been done.

that Elijah had appeared, and by others that one of the old prophets had risen again. ⁹Herod said, "John I beheaded, but who is this, about whom I hear such things?" He sought to see him. ¹⁰The apostles, when they had returned, told him what things they had done.

He took them, and withdrew apart to^l a city called Bethsaida. ¹¹But the crowds, perceiving it, followed him. He welcomed them, and spoke to them of the kingdom of God, and he cured those who needed healing. ¹²The day began to wear away; and the twelve came, and said to him, "Send the crowd away, that they may go into the surrounding villages and farms, and lodge, and get food, for we are here in a deserted place."

¹³But he said to them, "You give them something to eat."

They said, "We have no more than five loaves and two fish, unless we should go and buy food for all these people." ¹⁴For they were about five thousand men.

He said to his disciples, "Make them sit down in groups of about fifty each." ¹⁵They did so, and made them all sit down. ¹⁶He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to the sky, he blessed them, and broke them, and gave them to the disciples to set before the crowd. ¹⁷They ate, and were all filled. They gathered up twelve baskets of broken pieces that were left over.

¹⁸It happened, as he was praying alone, that the disciples were with him, and he asked them, "Who do the crowds say that I am?"

¹⁹They answered, "'John the Baptist,' but others say, 'Elijah,' and others, that one of the old prophets is risen again."

²⁰He said to them, "But who do you say that I am?"

Peter answered, "The Christ of God."

²¹But he warned them, and commanded them to tell this to no one, ²²saying, "The Son of Man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders, chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised up."

²³He said to all, "If anyone desires to come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross daily^m, and follow me. ²⁴For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, but whoever will lose his life for my sake, the same will save it. ²⁵For what does it profit a person if he gains the whole world, and loses or forfeits his own self? ²⁶For whoever will be ashamed of me and of my words, of him will the Son of Man be ashamed, when he comes in his glory, and the glory of the Father, and of the holy angels. ²⁷But I tell you the truth: There are some of those who stand here, who will in no way taste of death, until they see the kingdom of God.”

²⁸It happened about eight days after these sayings, that he took with him Peter, John, and James, and went up onto the mountain to pray. ²⁹As he was praying, the appearance of his face was altered, and his clothing became white and dazzling. ³⁰And look, two men were talking with him, who were Moses and Elijah, ³¹who appeared in glory, and spoke of his departure,^a which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem.

³²Now Peter and those who were with him were heavy with sleep, but when they were fully awake, they saw his glory, and the two men who stood with him. ³³It happened, as they were parting from him, that Peter said to Jesus, “Master, it is good for us to be here. Let us make three tents: one for you, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah,” not knowing what he said.

³⁴While he said these things, a cloud came and overshadowed them, and they were afraid as they entered into the cloud. ³⁵A voice came out of the cloud, saying, “This is my Son, my Chosen One.^b Listen to him.” ³⁶When the voice came, Jesus was found alone. They were silent, and told no one in those days any of the things which they had seen.

³⁷It happened on the next day, when they had come down from the mountain, that a large crowd met him. ³⁸And look, a man from the crowd called out, saying, “Teacher, I beg you to look at my son, for he is my only child. ³⁹And look, a spirit seizes him, and all at once he cries out, and it convulses him so that he foams, and it hardly departs from him, bruising him severely. ⁴⁰I begged your disciples to cast it out, and they could not.”

⁴¹Jesus answered, “Faithless and perverse generation, how long must I be with you and put up with you? Bring your son here.”

⁴²While he was still coming, the demon threw him down and convulsed him violently. But Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the boy, and gave him back to his father. ⁴³They were all astonished at the majesty of God.

But while all were marveling at all the things which Jesus did, he said to his disciples, ⁴⁴“Let these words sink into your ears, for the Son of Man will be delivered up into the hands of men.” ⁴⁵But they did not understand this saying. It was concealed from them, that they should not perceive it, and they were afraid to ask him about this saying.

⁴⁶There arose an argument among them about which of them was the greatest. ⁴⁷Jesus, knowing^c the reasoning of their hearts, took a little child, and set him by his side, ⁴⁸and said to them, “Whoever receives this little child in my name receives me.

Whoever receives me receives him who sent me. For whoever is least among you all, this one is great.”

⁴⁹John answered, “Master, we saw someone casting out demons in your name, and we forbade him, because he does not follow with us.”

⁵⁰Jesus said to him, “Do not forbid him, for he who is not against you is for you.^d”

⁵¹It came to pass, when the days were near that he should be taken up, he intently set his face to go to Jerusalem, ⁵²and sent messengers before his face. They went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, so as to prepare for him. ⁵³But they did not receive him, because he was traveling with his face set towards Jerusalem. ⁵⁴And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, “Lord, do you want us to command fire to come down from the sky, and consume them^e?”

⁵⁵And he turned and rebuked them, and said, “You do not realize what kind of Spirit you belong to. ⁵⁶For the Son of Man did not come to destroy people’s lives, but to save them.”^f And they went to another village. ⁵⁷As they went on the way, a certain man said to him, “I want to follow you wherever you go.^g”

⁵⁸And Jesus said to him, “The foxes have holes, and the birds of the sky have nests, but the Son of Man has no place to lay his head.”

⁵⁹He said to another, “Follow me.”

But he said, “Lord,^h allow me first to go and bury my father.”

⁶⁰But Jesus said to him, “Leave the dead to bury their own dead, but you go and announce the kingdom of God.”

⁶¹Another also said, “I want to follow you, Lord, but first allow me to bid farewell to those who are at my house.”

⁶²But Jesus said to him, “No one, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.”

10 Now after these things, the Lord also appointed seventy-twoⁱ others, and sent them two by two^j ahead of him^k into every city and place, where he was about to come. ²Then he said to them, “The harvest is indeed plentiful, but the laborers are few. Pray therefore to the Lord of the harvest, that he may send out laborers into his harvest. ³Go your way. Look, I send you out as lambs among wolves. ⁴Carry no money bag, nor pack, nor sandals; and greet no one on the way. ⁵Into whatever house you enter, first say, ‘Peace be to this house.’ ⁶If a peaceful person is there, your peace will rest on him; but if not, it will return to you. ⁷Remain in that same house, eating and drinking the things they

I will pull down my barns, and build bigger ones, and there I will store all my grain and my goods. ¹⁹I will tell my soul, “Soul, you have many goods laid up for many years. Take your ease, eat, drink, be merry.”’”

²⁰“But God said to him, ‘You foolish one, tonight your soul is required of you. The things which you have prepared—whose will they be?’ ²¹So is he who lays up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.”

²²He said to his disciples, “Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious for your life, what you will eat, nor yet for your body, what you will wear. ²³Life is more than food, and the body is more than clothing. ²⁴Consider the ravens: they do not sow, they do not reap, they have no warehouse or barn, and God feeds them. How much more valuable are you than birds. ²⁵Which of you by being anxious can add a cubit to his height? ²⁶If then you are not able to do even the least things, why are you anxious about the rest? ²⁷Consider the lilies, how they grow. They do not toil, neither do they spin; yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. ²⁸But if this is how God clothes the grass in the field, which today exists, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, how much more will he clothe you, O you of little faith? ²⁹Do not seek what you will eat or what you will drink; neither be anxious. ³⁰For the nations of the world seek after all of these things, but your Father knows that you need these things. ³¹But seek his^g kingdom, and^h these things will be added to you. ³²Do not be afraid, little flock, for it is your Father’s good pleasure to give you the kingdom. ³³Sell that which you have, and give gifts to the needy. Make for yourselves purses which do not grow old, a treasure in the heavens that does not fail, where no thief approaches, neither moth destroys. ³⁴For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

³⁵“Let your waist be girded and your lamps burning. ³⁶Be like people watching for their lord, when he returns from the marriage feast; that, when he comes and knocks, they may immediately open to him. ³⁷Blessed are those servants, whom the lord will find watching when he comes. Truly I tell you, that he will dress himself, and make them recline, and will come and serve them. ³⁸And if he comes in the second watch, or even in the third, and finds them so, blessed are they.ⁱ ³⁹But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what hour the thief was coming, he would have watched

⁴²The Lord said, “Who then is the faithful and wise steward, whom his lord will set over his household, to give them their portion of food at the right time? ⁴³Blessed is that servant whom his lord will find doing so when he comes. ⁴⁴Truly I tell you, that he will set him over all that he has. ⁴⁵But if that servant says in his heart, ‘My lord delays his coming,’ and begins to beat the menservants and the maidservants, and to eat and drink, and to be drunk, ⁴⁶then the lord of that servant will come in a day when he is not expecting him, and in an hour that he does not know, and will cut him in two, and place his portion with the unfaithful. ⁴⁷That servant, who knew his lord’s will, and did not prepare, nor do what he wanted, will be beaten with many stripes, ⁴⁸but he who did not know, and did things worthy of stripes, will be beaten with few stripes. ⁴⁹“I came to throw fire on the earth. I wish it were already kindled. ⁵⁰But I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how distressed I am until it is accomplished. ⁵¹Do you think that I have come to give peace in the earth? I tell you, no, but rather division. ⁵²For from now on, there will be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. ⁵³They will be divided, father against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against her mother; mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.”

⁵⁴He said to the crowds also, “When you see a cloud rising from the west, immediately you say, ‘A shower is coming,’ and so it happens. ⁵⁵When a south wind blows, you say, ‘There will be a scorching heat,’ and it happens. ⁵⁶Hypocrites. You know how to interpret the appearance of the earth and the sky, but why do you not know^b how to interpret this time? ⁵⁷Why do you not judge for yourselves what is right? ⁵⁸For when you are going with your adversary before the magistrate, try diligently on the way to be released from him, lest perhaps he drag you to the judge, and the judge deliver you to the officer, and the officer throw you into prison. ⁵⁹I tell you, you will by no means get out of there, until you have paid the very last penny.”

13 Now there were some present at the same time who told him about the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mixed with their sacrifices. ²And he^d answered and said to them, “Do you think that these Galileans were worse sinners than all the other Galileans, because they suffered these^e things? ³I tell you, no, but unless you repent, you will all perish in the same way. ⁴Or those eighteen, on whom the tower in Siloam fell, and killed them; do you think that they were worse offenders than all the others who dwell in Jerusalem? ⁵I tell you, no, but, unless you repent, you will all perish in the same way.”

⁶He spoke this parable. “A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it, and found none. ⁷He said to the vine dresser, ‘Look, for these^f three years I have come looking for fruit on this fig tree, and found none. Cut^g it down. Why does it waste the soil?’ ⁸He answered, ‘Lord, leave it alone this year also, until I dig around it, and fertilize it. ⁹And if it bears fruit next time, fine; but if not, you can cut it down.’^h”

¹⁰He was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath day. ¹¹And look, a woman who had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and she was bent over, and could in no way straighten herself up. ¹²When Jesus saw her, he called her, and said to her, “Woman, you are freed from your infirmity.” ¹³He laid his hands on her, and immediately she stood up straight, and glorified God.

¹⁴The ruler of the synagogue, being indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath, said to the crowd, “There are six days when work should be done. Therefore come on those days and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day.”

¹⁵Therefore the Lord answered him, “You hypocrites.ⁱ Does not each one of you free his ox or his donkey from the stall on the Sabbath, and lead him away to water? ¹⁶Ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan had bound, look, eighteen years, be freed from this bondage on the Sabbath day?”

¹⁷As he said these things, all his adversaries were disappointed, and all the crowd rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

¹⁸Then he said, “What is the kingdom of God like? And to what can I compare it? ¹⁹It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and put in his own garden. It grew, and became a^j tree, and the birds of the sky lodged in its branches.”

²⁰And again he said, “To what can I compare the kingdom of God? ²¹It is like yeast, which a woman took and hid in three measures^k of flour, until it was all leavened.”

²²He went on his way through cities and villages, teaching, and traveling on to Jerusalem. ²³One said to him, “Lord, are they few who are saved?” He said to them, ²⁴“Strive to enter in by the narrow door,^l for many, I tell you, will seek to enter in, and will not be able. ²⁵When once the master of the house has risen up, and has shut the door, and you begin to stand outside, and to knock at the door, saying, ‘Lord,^m open to us.’ then he will answer and tell you, ‘I do not know you or where you come from.’ ²⁶Then you will begin to say, ‘We ate and drank in your presence, and you taught in our streets.’ ²⁷But he will reply, ‘I do not know where you come from. ³¹In that same hour^a some Pharisees came, saying to him, “Get out of here, and go away, for Herod wants to kill you.”

³²And he said to them, “Go and tell that fox, ‘Look, I cast out demons and perform cures today and tomorrow, and the third day I complete my mission. ³³Nevertheless I must go on my way today and tomorrow and the next day, for it cannot be that a prophet perish outside of Jerusalem.’

14 And it happened, when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the^f Pharisees on a Sabbath to eat bread, that they were watching him. ²And look, a certain man who had dropsy was in front of him. ³Jesus, answering, spoke to the Law scholars and Pharisees, saying, “Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath or not^g?”

⁴But they were silent. He took him, and healed him, and let him go. ⁵He answered them, “Which of you, if your son^h or an ox fell into a well, would not immediately pull him out on a Sabbath day?”

⁶But they could make no reply to this.

⁷He spoke a parable to those who were invited, when he noticed how they chose the best seats, and said to them, ⁸“When you are invited by anyone to a marriage feast, do not sit in the best seat, since perhaps someone more honorable than you might be invited by him, ⁹and he who invited both of you would come and tell you, ‘Make room for this person.’ Then you would begin, with shame, to take the lowest place. ¹⁰But when you are invited, go and sit in the lowest place, so that when he who invited you comes, he may tell you, ‘Friend, move up higher.’ Then you will be honored in the presence of allⁱ who sit at the table with you. ¹¹For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.”

¹²He also said to the one who had invited him, “When you make a dinner or a supper, do not call your friends, nor your brothers, nor your kinsmen, nor rich neighbors, or perhaps they might also return the favor, and pay you back. ¹³But when you make a feast, ask the poor, the maimed, the lame, or the blind; ¹⁴and you will be blessed, because they do not have the resources to repay you. For you will be repaid in the resurrection of the righteous.”

¹⁵Now when one of those who were reclining with him heard these things, he said to him, “Blessed is he who will eat bread^j in the kingdom of God.”

¹⁶But he said to him, “A certain man made a great supper, and he invited many people. ¹⁷And he sent his servant at the hour for supper to tell those who were invited, ‘Come, for everything is ready now.’ ¹⁸They all as one began to make excuses.

“The first said to him, ‘I have bought a field, and I must go and see it. Please have me excused.’

¹⁹“Another said, ‘I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I must go try them out. Please have me excused.’

²⁰“Another said, ‘I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.’

²¹“That servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house, being angry, said to his servant, ‘Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in the poor, maimed, blind, and lame.’

²³“The lord said to the servant, ‘Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled. ²⁴For I tell you that none of those individuals who were invited will taste of my supper.^k”

²⁵Now large crowds were going with him. He turned and said to them, ²⁶“If anyone comes to me, and does not hate^l his own father, mother, wife, children, brothers, and sisters, yes, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. ²⁷Whoever does not bear his own cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. ²⁸For which of you, desiring to build a tower, does not first sit down and count the cost, to see if he has enough to complete it? ²⁹Or perhaps, when he has laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, everyone who sees begins to mock him, ³⁰saying, ‘This man began to build, and was not able to finish.’ ³¹Or what king, as he goes to encounter another king in war, will not sit down first and consider whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him who comes against him with twenty thousand? ³²Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sends an envoy, and asks for conditions of peace. ³³So therefore whoever of you who does not renounce all that he has, he cannot be my disciple. ³⁴Salt is good, but if the salt becomes flat and tasteless, with what do you season it? ³⁵It is fit neither for the soil nor for the manure pile. 15 Now all^a the tax collectors and sinners were coming close to him to hear him. ²The Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, “This man welcomes sinners, and eats with them.”

³He told them this parable. ⁴“Which one of you, if you had one hundred sheep, and lost one of them, would not leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness, and go after the one that was lost, until he found it? ⁵When he has found it, he carries it on his shoulders, rejoicing. ⁶When he comes home, he calls together his friends and his neighbors, saying to them, ‘Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost.’ ⁷I tell you that even so there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents, than over ninety-nine righteous people who need no repentance. ⁸Or what woman, if she had ten drachma^b coins, if she lost one drachma coin, would not light a lamp, sweep the house, and seek diligently until she found it? ⁹When she has found it, she calls together her friends and neighbors, saying, ‘Rejoice with me, for I have found the drachma which I had lost.’ ¹⁰Even so, I tell you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner repenting.”

¹¹He said, “A certain man had two sons. ¹²The younger of them said to his father, ‘Father, give me my share of your property.’ He divided his livelihood between them. ¹³Not many days after, the younger son gathered all of this together and traveled into a far country. There he wasted his property with riotous living. ¹⁴When he had spent all of it, there arose a severe famine in that country, and he began to be in need. ¹⁵He went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country, and he sent him into his fields to feed pigs. ¹⁶And he wanted to fill himself^c with the carob pods that the pigs ate, but no one gave him any. ¹⁷But when he came to himself he said, ‘How many hired servants of my father’s have bread enough to spare, and I’m dying here^d with hunger. ¹⁸I will get up and go to my father, and will tell him, ‘Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in your sight. ¹⁹I am no longer worthy to be called your son. Make me like one of your hired servants.’”

²⁰“He arose, and came to his father. But while he was still far off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. ²¹The son said to him, ‘Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in your sight. I am no longer worthy to be called your son.’^e”

²²“But the father said to his servants, ‘Quickly,^f bring out the best robe, and put it on him. Put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet. ²³Bring the fattened calf, kill it, and let us eat, and celebrate; ²⁴for this, my son, was dead, and is alive again. He was lost, and is found.’ They began to celebrate.

²⁵“Now his elder son was in the field. As he came near to the house, he heard music and dancing. ²⁶He called one of the servants to him, and asked what was going on. ²⁷He said to him, ‘Your brother has come, and your father has killed the fattened calf, because he has received him back safe and healthy.’ ²⁸But he was angry, and would not go in. Therefore his father came out, and pleaded with him. ²⁹But he answered his father, ‘Look, these many years I have served you, and I never disobeyed a commandment of yours, but you never gave me a goat, that I might celebrate with my friends. ³⁰But when this, your son, came, who has devoured your living with prostitutes, you killed the fattened calf for him.’

³¹“He said to him, ‘Son, you are always with me, and all that is mine is yours. ³²But it was appropriate to celebrate and be glad, for this brother of yours was dead and is alive;^g and he was lost, and is found.’”

16 He also said to his disciples, “There was a certain rich man who had a manager. An accusation was made to him that this man was wasting his possessions. ²He called him, and said to him, ‘What is this that I hear about you? Give an accounting of your management, for you can no longer be manager.’

³“The manager said within himself, ‘What will I do, seeing that my lord is taking away the management position from me? I do not have strength to dig. I am ashamed to beg. ⁴I know what I will do, so that when I am removed from management, they may receive me into their houses.’ ⁵Calling each one of his lord’s debtors to him, he said to the first, ‘How much do you owe to my lord?’ ⁶He said, ‘A hundred batos^h of oil.’ He said to him, ‘Take your bill, and sit down quickly and write fifty.’ ⁷Then he said to another, ‘How much do you owe?’ He said, ‘A hundred corsⁱ of wheat.’ He said to him, ‘Take your bill, and write eighty.’

¹⁴The Pharisees, who were lovers of money, also heard all these things, and they scoffed at him. ¹⁵He said to them, “You are those who justify yourselves in the sight of people, but God knows your hearts. For that which is exalted among people is an abomination in the sight of God. ¹⁶The Law and the Prophets were until John. From that time the Good News of the kingdom of God is preached, and everyone is forcing his way into it. ¹⁷But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one tiny stroke of a pen in the Law to become void. ¹⁸Everyone who divorces his wife, and marries another, commits adultery. He who marries one who is divorced from a husband commits adultery.

¹⁹“Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, living in luxury every day. ²⁰A certain beggar, named Lazarus, was placed at his gate, full of sores, ²¹and desiring to be fed with the crumbs that^a fell from the rich man’s table. Yes, even the dogs came and licked his sores. ²²It happened that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by the angels to Abraham’s bosom. The rich man also died, and was buried. ²³In hell^b, he lifted up his eyes, being in torment, and saw Abraham far off, and Lazarus at his bosom. ²⁴He called out and said, ‘Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue. For I am in anguish in this flame.’

²⁵“But Abraham said, ‘Son, remember that you, in your lifetime, received your good things, and Lazarus, in like manner, bad things. But now here he is comforted and you are in anguish. ²⁶Besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that those who want to pass from here to you are not able, and that none may cross over from there to us.’

²⁷“He said, ‘I ask you therefore, father, that you would send him to my father’s house; ²⁸for I have five brothers, that he may testify to them, so they won’t also come into this place of torment.’

²⁹“But Abraham said to him, ‘They have Moses and the Prophets. Let them listen to them.’

³⁰“He said, ‘No, father Abraham, but if one goes to them from the dead, they will repent.’

³¹“He said to him, ‘If they do not listen to Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be persuaded if one rises from the dead.’”

17 He said to the disciples, “It is impossible that no occasions of stumbling should come, but woe to him through whom they come. ²It would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble. ³Watch yourselves. If your brother sins,^c rebuke him. If he repents, forgive him. ⁴And if he sins against you seven times in the day, and seven times^d returns to you^e, saying, ‘I repent,’ you must forgive him.”

⁵The apostles said to the Lord, “Increase our faith.”

⁶The Lord said, “If you had faith like a grain of mustard seed, you would tell this mulberry tree, ‘Be uprooted, and be planted in the sea,’ and it would obey you. ⁷But who is there among you, having a servant plowing or keeping sheep, that will say, when he comes in from the field, ‘Come immediately and sit down at the table’? ⁸But will he not say to him, ‘Prepare my supper, clothe yourself properly, and serve me, while I eat and drink, and afterward you can eat and drink’? ⁹Does he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded?^f ¹⁰Even so you also, when you have done all the things that are commanded you, say, ‘We are unworthy servants. We have done our duty.’”

¹¹It happened as he was on his way to Jerusalem, that he was passing along the borders of Samaria and Galilee. ¹²As he entered into a certain village, ten men who were lepers met him, who stood at a distance. ¹³They lifted up their voices, saying, “Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.”

¹⁴When he saw them, he said to them, “Go and show yourselves to the priests.” It happened that as they went, they were cleansed. ¹⁵One of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, glorifying God with a loud voice. ¹⁶He fell on his face at Jesus’ feet, giving him thanks; and he was a Samaritan. ¹⁷Jesus answered, “Weren’t the ten cleansed? But where are the nine? ¹⁸Were there none found who returned to give glory to God, except this stranger?” ¹⁹Then he said to him, “Get up, and go your way. Your faith has healed you.”

²⁰Being asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God would come, he answered them, “The kingdom of God does not come with observation; ²¹neither will they say, ‘Look, here.’ or, ‘Look, there.’ for^g the kingdom of God is within you.”

²²He said to the disciples, “The days will come, when you will desire to see one of the days of the Son of Man, and you will not see it. ²³And they will tell you, ‘Look, there.’ or ‘Look, here.’ Do not go away, nor follow after them, ²⁴for as the lightning, when it flashes out of the one part under the sky, shines to the other part under the sky; so will the Son of Man be in his day.^h ²⁵But first, he must suffer many things and be rejected by this generation. ²⁶As it happened in the days of Noah, even so will it be also in the days of the Son of Man. ²⁷They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the box-shaped vessel, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. ²⁸Likewise, even as it happened in the days of Lot: they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built; ²⁹but in the day that Lot went out from Sodom, it rained fire and sulfur from the sky, and destroyed them all. ³⁰It will be the same way in the day that the Son of Man is revealed. ³¹In that day, he who will be on the housetop, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away. Let him who is in the field likewise not turn back. ³²Remember Lot’s wife.ⁱ ³³Whoever seeks to keep^j his life will lose it, but whoever loses it will preserve it. ³⁴I tell you, in that night there will be two people in one bed. ³⁷They, answering, asked him, “Where, Lord?”

He said to them, “Where the body is, there will the vultures also be gathered together.”

18 He also spoke a parable to them that they must always pray, and not give up, ²saying, “There was a judge in a certain city who did not fear God, and did not respect people. ³A widow was in that city, and she often came to him, saying, ‘Give me justice against my adversary.’ ⁴He would not for a while, but afterward he said to himself, ‘Though I neither fear God, nor respect people, ⁵yet because this widow bothers me, I will give her justice, or else she will wear me out by her continual coming.’”

⁶The Lord said, “Listen to what the unrighteous judge says. ⁷Won’t God avenge his chosen ones, who are crying out to him day and night, and yet he exercises patience with them? ⁸I tell you that he will avenge them quickly. Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will he find faith on the earth?”

⁹He spoke also this parable to certain people who were convinced of their own righteousness, and who despised all others. ¹⁰“Two men went up into the temple to pray; one was a Pharisee, and the other was a tax collector. ¹¹The Pharisee stood and prayed to himself like this: ‘God, I thank you, that I am not like other people, extortioners, unrighteous, adulterers, or even like this tax collector. ¹²I fast twice a week. I give tithes of all that I get.’ ¹³But the tax collector, standing far away, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, ‘God, be merciful to me, a sinner.’ ¹⁴I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other; for everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but he who humbles himself will be exalted.”

¹⁵Now they were also bringing their babies to him, that he might touch them. But when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them. ¹⁶Jesus summoned them, saying, “Allow the little children to come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these. ¹⁷Truly, I tell you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God like a little child, he will in no way enter into it.”

¹⁸A certain ruler asked him, saying, “Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit everlasting life?”

¹⁹Jesus asked him, “Why do you call me good? No one is good, except one—God. ²⁰You know the commandments: ‘Do not commit adultery,’ ‘Do not murder,’ ‘Do not steal,’ ‘Do not give false testimony,’ ‘Honor your father and your mother.’”^a

²¹And he said, “I have kept all these things from my youth up.”

²²When Jesus heard it,^b he said to him, “You still lack one thing. Sell all that you have, and distribute it to the poor, and you will have treasure in^c heaven; and come, follow me.”

²³But when he heard these things, he became very sad, for he was very rich.

²⁴And Jesus looked at him^d and said, “How hard it is for those who have riches to enter into the kingdom of God. ²⁵For it is easier for a camel to enter in through a needle’s eye, than for a rich person to enter into the kingdom of God.”

²⁶Those who heard it said, “Then who can be saved?”

²⁷But he said, “The things which are impossible with humans are possible with God.”

²⁸And Peter said, “Look, we have left our own^e things and followed you.”

²⁹He said to them, “Truly I tell you, there is no one who has left house, or wife, or brothers, or parents, or children, for the kingdom of God’s sake, ³⁰who will not receive many times more in this time, and in the world to come, everlasting life.”

³¹He took the twelve aside, and said to them, “Look, we are going up to Jerusalem, and all the things that are written through the prophets concerning the Son of Man will be completed. ³²For he will be delivered up to the non-Jews, will be mocked, treated shamefully, and spit on. ³³They will scourge and kill him. On the third day, he will rise again.”

³⁴They understood none of these things. This saying was hidden from them, and they did not understand the things that were said. ³⁵It happened, as he came near Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the road, begging. ³⁶Hearing a crowd going by, he asked what this meant. ³⁷They told him that Jesus of Nazareth was passing by. ³⁸He called out, “Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me.” ³⁹Those who led the way rebuked him, that he should be quiet; but he shouted all the more, “Son of David, have mercy on me.”

⁴⁰Standing still, Jesus commanded him to be brought to him. When he had come near, he asked him, ⁴¹“What do you want me to do?”

He said, “Lord, that I may see again.”

⁴²Jesus said to him, “Receive your sight. Your faith has healed you.”

⁴³And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God. All the people, when they saw it, praised God.

19 He entered and was passing through Jericho. ²And look, there was a man named Zacchaeus. He was a chief tax collector, and he was rich. ³He was trying to see who Jesus was, and could not because of the crowd, because he was short. ⁴He ran on ahead, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him, for he was to pass that way. ⁵And as he came to the place, looking up, Jesus saw him,^f and said to him, “Zacchaeus, hurry and come down, for today I must stay at your house.” ⁶He hurried, came down, and received him joyfully. ⁷And when they saw it, they all

⁸And Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, “Look, Lord, half of my goods I give to the poor. If I have wrongfully exacted anything of anyone, I restore four times as much.”

⁹Jesus said to him, “Today, salvation has come to this house, because he also is a son of Abraham. ¹⁰For the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost.”

¹¹As they heard these things, he went on and told a parable, because he was near Jerusalem, and they supposed that the kingdom of God would be revealed immediately. ¹²He said therefore, “A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. ¹³He called ten servants of his, and gave them ten mina coins,^a and told them, ‘Conduct business until I come.’ ¹⁴But his citizens hated him, and sent an envoy after him, saying, ‘We do not want this man to reign over us.’

¹⁵“It happened when he had come back again, having received the kingdom, that he commanded these servants, to whom he had given the money, to be called to him, that he might know what they^b had gained by conducting business. ¹⁶The first came before him, saying, ‘Lord, your mina has made ten more minas.’

¹⁷“And he said to him, ‘Well done, good servant. Because you were faithful with very little, you will have authority over ten cities.’

¹⁸“The second came, saying, ‘Your mina, Lord, has made five minas.’

¹⁹“So he said to him, ‘And you are to be over five cities.’ ²⁰And another came, saying, ‘Lord, look, your mina, which I kept laid away in a handkerchief, ²¹for I feared you, because you are an exacting man. You take up that which you did not lay down, and reap that which you did not sow.’

²²“He said to him, ‘Out of your own mouth will I judge you, you wicked servant. You knew that I am an exacting man, taking up that which I did not lay down, and reaping that which I did not sow. ²³Then why did you not deposit my money in the bank, and at my coming, I might have earned interest on it?’ ²⁴He said to those who stood by, ‘Take the mina away from him, and give it to him who has the ten minas.’

²⁵“They said to him, ‘Lord, he has ten minas.’ ²⁶“For I tell you that to everyone who has, will more be given; but from him who does not have, even that which he has will be taken away.^c ²⁷But bring those enemies of mine who did not want me to reign over them here, and kill them before me.’” ²⁸Having said these things, he went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem.

²⁹It happened, when he drew near to Bethphage^d and Bethany, at the mountain that is called Olivet, he sent two of the^e disciples,

³⁰saying, “Go your way into the village on the other side, in which, as you enter, you will find a colt tied, whereon no one ever yet sat. Untie it, and bring it. ³¹If anyone asks you, ‘Why are you untying it?’ say to him: ‘Because the Lord needs it.’”

³²Those who were sent went away, and found things just as he had told them. ³³As they were untying the colt, its owners said to them, “Why are you untying the colt?” ³⁴They said, “Because the Lord needs it.” ³⁵They brought it to Jesus. They threw their cloaks on the colt, and set Jesus on them. ³⁶As he went, they spread their cloaks in the way. ³⁷As he was now getting near, at the descent of the Mount of Olives, the whole crowd of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works which they had seen, ³⁸saying, “Blessed is the King who comes in the name of the Lord.^f Peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.”

³⁹Some of the Pharisees from the crowd said to him, “Teacher, rebuke your disciples.”

⁴⁰He answered them, “I tell you that if these were silent, the stones would cry out.”

⁴¹When he drew near, he saw the city and wept over it, ⁴²saying, “If you, even you, had known today the things that make for peace. But now, they are hidden from your eyes. ⁴³For the days will come on you, when your enemies will throw up a barricade against you, surround you, hem you in on every side, ⁴⁴and will dash you and your children within you to the ground. They will not leave in you one stone on another, because you did not know the time of your visitation.”

⁴⁵And he entered into the temple, and began to drive out those who were selling and buying in it,^g ⁴⁶saying to them, “It is written, ‘And my house will be^h a house of prayer,ⁱ but you have made it a ‘den of robbers.’”^j

⁴⁷He was teaching daily in the temple, but the chief priests and the scribes and the leaders among the people sought to destroy him. ⁴⁸They could not find what they might do, for all the people hung on to every word that he said.

20 It happened on one of those days, as he was teaching the people in the temple and preaching the Good News, that the chief^k priests and scribes came to him with the elders. ²They asked him, “Tell us: by what authority do you do these things? Or who is giving you this authority?”

³He answered them, “I also will ask you one question. Tell me: ⁴the baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from people?”

⁵They reasoned with themselves, saying, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ he will say, ‘Why did you not believe him?’ ⁶But if we say, ‘From people,’ all the people will stone us, for they are persuaded that John was a prophet.” ⁷They answered that they did not know where it was from.

⁹He began to tell the people this parable. “A man^a planted a vineyard, and rented it out to some farmers, and went on a journey for a long time. ¹⁰At the proper season, he sent a servant to the farmers to collect his share of the fruit of the vineyard. But the farmers beat him, and sent him away empty. ¹¹He sent yet another servant, and they also beat him, and treated him shamefully, and sent him away empty. ¹²He sent yet a third, and they also wounded him, and threw him out. ¹³The lord of the vineyard said, ‘What am I to do? I will send my beloved son. It may be that^b they will respect him.’

¹⁴“But when the farmers saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, ‘This is the heir. ^cLet us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.’ ¹⁵They threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do to them? ¹⁶He will come and destroy these farmers, and will give the vineyard to others.”

When they heard it, they said, “May it never be.”

¹⁷But he looked at them, and said, “Then what is this that is written,

‘The stone which the builders rejected,
the same was made the chief cornerstone?’^d

¹⁸Everyone who falls on that stone will be broken to pieces;
but on whomever it falls, it will crush him.”^e

¹⁹The chief priests and the scribes sought to lay hands on him that very hour, but they feared the people^f—for they knew he had spoken this parable against them. ²⁰They watched him, and sent out spies, who pretended to be righteous, that they might trap him in something he said, so as to deliver him up to the power and authority of the governor. ²¹They asked him, “Teacher, we know that you say and teach what is right, and are not partial to anyone, but truly teach the way of God. ²²Is it lawful for us to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?”

²³But he perceived their craftiness, and said to them,^g ²⁴“Show me a denarius. Whose image and inscription are on it?”

They answered, “Caesar’s.”

²⁵He said to them, “Then give to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and to God the things that are God’s.”

²⁶They weren’t able to trap him in his words before the people. And amazed at his answer, they fell silent. ²⁷Some of the Sadducees came to him, those who deny that there is a resurrection. ²⁸They asked him, “Teacher, Moses wrote to us that if a man’s brother dies having a wife, and he is^h childless, his brother should take the wife, and raise up children for his brother. ²⁹There were therefore seven brothers. The first took a wife, and died childless. ³⁰The secondⁱ and ³¹the third took her, and likewise the seven all left no children, and died. ³²Afterward the woman also died. ³³Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them will she be? For the seven had her as a wife.”

³⁴Jesus said to them, “The people of this age marry and are given to someone to marry. ³⁵But those who are regarded as worthy of a place in that age and the resurrection from the dead neither marry nor are given to someone to marry. ³⁶For they cannot die any more, for they are like the angels, and are children of God, being children of the resurrection. ³⁷But that the dead are raised, even Moses showed at the bush, when he called the Lord ‘The God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.’^j ³⁸Now he is not the God of the dead, but of the living, for all are alive to him.”

³⁹Some of the scribes answered, “Teacher, you speak well.” ⁴⁰They did not dare to ask him any more questions.

⁴¹He said to them, “Why do they say that the Christ is David’s son? ⁴²David himself says in the scroll of Psalms,

‘The Lord said to my Lord,
“Sit at my right hand,

⁴³until I make your enemies the footstool of your feet.”^k

⁴⁴“David therefore calls him Lord, so how is he his son?”

⁴⁵In the hearing of all the people, he said to his disciples, ⁴⁶“Beware of the scribes, who like to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the marketplaces, the best seats in the synagogues, and the best places at feasts; ⁴⁷who devour widows’ houses, and for a pretense make long prayers: these will receive greater condemnation.”

21 He looked up, and saw the rich people who were putting their gifts into the treasury. ²He saw a certain poor widow casting in two lepta.¹ ³He said, “Truly I tell you, this poor widow put in more than all of them, ⁴for all these put in gifts^m from their abundance, but she, out of her poverty, put in all that she had to live on.”

⁵As some were talking about the temple and how it was decorated with beautiful stones and gifts, he said, ⁶“As for these things which you see, the days will come, in which there will not be left here one stone on another that will not be thrown down.”

⁷They asked him, “Teacher, so when will these things be? What is the sign that these things are about to happen?”

⁸He said, “Watch out that you do not get led astray, for many will come in my name, saying, ‘I am he,’ and, ‘The time is near.’ Therefore do not follow them. ⁹When you hear of wars and disturbances, do not be terrified, for these things must happen first, but the end won’t come immediately.”

There will be terrors and great signs from heaven. ¹²But before all these things, they will lay their hands on you and will persecute you, delivering you up to synagogues and prisons, bringing you before kings and governors for my name's sake. ¹³It will turn out as a testimony for you. ¹⁴Settle it therefore in your hearts not to meditate beforehand how to answer, ¹⁵for I will give you a mouth and wisdom which all your adversaries will not be able to withstand or to contradict. ¹⁶You will be handed over even by parents, brothers, relatives, and friends. ²⁹He told them a parable. “See the fig tree, and all the trees. ³⁰When they are already budding, you see it and know by your own selves that the summer is already near. ³¹Even so you also, when you see these things happening, know that the kingdom of God is near. ³²Truly I tell you, this generation will not pass away until all things are accomplished. ³³Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will by no means pass away.

³⁴“So be careful, or your hearts will be loaded down with carousing, drunkenness, and cares of this life, and that day will come on you suddenly. ³⁵For it will come like a snare on all those who dwell on the surface of all the earth. ³⁶Therefore be watchful all the time, praying that you may be able^b to escape all these things that will happen, and to stand before the Son of Man.”

³⁷Every day Jesus was teaching in the temple, and every night he would go out and spend the night on the mountain that is called Olivet. ³⁸All the people came early in the morning to him in the temple to hear him.

22 Now the feast of unleavened bread, which is called the Passover, drew near. ²The chief priests and the scribes sought how they might kill him, for they feared the people. ³Satan entered into Judas, who was called^c Iscariot, who was numbered with the twelve. ⁴He went away, and talked with the chief priests and captains about how he might deliver him to them. ⁵They were glad, and agreed to give him money. ⁶He consented, and sought an opportunity to deliver him to them in the absence of the crowd. ⁷The day of unleavened bread came, on which the Passover lamb must be sacrificed. ⁸He sent Peter and John, saying, “Go and prepare the Passover for us, that we may eat.”

⁹They said to him, “Where do you want us to prepare?”

¹⁰He said to them, “Look, when you have entered into the city, a man carrying a pitcher of water will meet you. Follow him into the house which he enters. ¹¹Tell the master of the house, ‘The Teacher says to you, “Where is the guest room, where I may eat the Passover with my disciples?’” ¹²He will show you a large, furnished upper room. Make preparations there.”

¹³They went, found things as he had told them, and they prepared the Passover. ¹⁴When the hour had come, he reclined at the table, and the^d apostles joined him. ¹⁵He said to them, “I have earnestly desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer, ¹⁶for I say to you, I will not eat of it again^e until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God.” ¹⁷He received a cup, and when he had given thanks, he said, “Take this, and share it among yourselves, ¹⁸for I tell you, from now on^f I will not drink of the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God comes.”

¹⁹He took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it, and gave to them, saying, “This is my body which is given for you. Do this in remembrance of me.” ²⁰Likewise, he took the cup after they had eaten, saying, “This cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you.^g ²¹But look, the hand of him who betrays me is with me on the table. ²²The Son of Man indeed goes, as it has been determined, but woe to that man through whom he is betrayed.”

²³They began to question among themselves, which of them it was who would do this thing. ²⁴There arose also a contention among them, which of them was considered to be greatest. ²⁵He said to them, “The kings of the nations lord it over them, and those who have authority over them are called ‘benefactors.’ ²⁶But not so with you. But one who is the greater among you, let him become as the younger, and one who is governing, as one who serves. ²⁷For who is greater, one who sits at the table, or one who serves? Is it not he who sits at the table? But I am in the midst of you as one who serves. ²⁸But you are those who have continued with me in my trials. ²⁹I confer on you a kingdom, even as my Father conferred on me, ³⁰that you may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom,^h and you will sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.”

But this is your hour, and the power of darkness.”

⁵⁴They seized him, and led him away, and brought him into the high priest’s house. But Peter followed from a distance.⁵⁵When they had kindled a fire in the middle of the courtyard, and had sat down together, Peter sat among them.⁵⁶A certain servant girl saw him as he sat in the light, and looking intently at him, said, “This man also was with him.”

⁵⁷But he denied it,^f saying, “Woman, I do not know him.”

⁵⁸After a little while someone else saw him, and said, “You also are one of them.”

But Peter answered, “Man, I am not.”

⁵⁹After about one hour passed, another confidently affirmed, saying, “Truly this man also was with him, for he is a Galilean.”

⁶⁰But Peter said, “Man, I do not know what you are talking about.” Immediately, while he was still speaking, a rooster crowed.⁶¹The Lord turned, and looked at Peter. Then Peter remembered the Lord’s word, how he said to him, “Before the rooster crows today^g you will deny me three times.”⁶²And he^h went out, and wept bitterly.

⁶³The men who held him began mocking and beating him.⁶⁴And having blindfolded him, they were striking his face and kept asking himⁱ, saying, “Prophecy, who is the one who struck you?”⁶⁵They spoke many other things against him, insulting him.

⁶⁶As soon as it was day, the council of the elders of the people gathered together, both^j chief priests and scribes, and they led him away into their council, saying,⁶⁷“If you are the Christ, tell us.”

But he said to them, “If I tell you, you won’t believe,⁶⁸and if I ask, you will not answer me, or let me go.^k ⁶⁹From now on, the Son of Man will be seated at the right hand of the power of God.”

⁷⁰They all said, “Are you then the Son of God?”

He said to them, “You say that I am.”

⁷¹They said, “Why do we need any more witness? For we ourselves have heard from his own mouth.”

23 The whole company of them rose up and brought him before Pilate. ²They began to accuse him, saying, “We found this man subverting our^a nation, forbidding paying taxes to Caesar, and saying that he himself is the Christ, a king.”

³Pilate asked him, “Are you the King of the Jews?”

He answered him, “You say so.”

⁴Pilate said to the chief priests and the crowds, “I find no basis for a charge against this man.”

⁵But they insisted, saying, “He stirs up the people, teaching throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee even to this place.” ⁶But when Pilate heard it^b, he asked if the man was a Galilean. ⁷When he found out that he was in Herod’s jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who was also in Jerusalem during those days.

⁸Now when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceedingly glad, for he had wanted to see him for a long time, because he had heard^c about him. He hoped to see some miracle done by him. ⁹He questioned him with many words, but he gave no answers. ¹⁰The chief priests and the scribes stood, vehemently accusing him. ¹¹Herod with his soldiers treated him with contempt and mocked him. Dressing him in luxurious clothing, they sent him back to Pilate. ¹²Herod and Pilate became friends with each other that very day, for before that they were enemies with each other.

¹³Pilate called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, ¹⁴and said to them, “You brought this man to me as one that subverts the people, and see, I have examined him before you, and found no basis for a charge against this man concerning those things of which you accuse him. ¹⁵Neither has Herod, for he sent him back to us^d, and see, nothing worthy of death has been done by him. ¹⁶I will therefore chastise him and release him.” ¹⁷(Now he had to release one prisoner to them at the feast.)^e

¹⁸But they all shouted out together, saying, “Away with this man. Release to us Barabbas.”—¹⁹(one who was thrown into prison for a certain revolt in the city, and for murder.)

²⁰Then Pilate spoke to them again, wanting to release Jesus, ²¹but they shouted, saying, “Crucify. Crucify him.”

²²He said to them the third time, “Why? What evil has this man done? I have found no capital crime in him. I will therefore chastise him and release him.” ²³But they were urgent with loud voices, asking that he might be crucified. And their voices, and those of the chief priests,^f prevailed. ²⁴Pilate decreed that what they asked for should be done. ²⁵He released^g him who had been thrown into prison for insurrection and murder, for whom they asked, but he delivered Jesus up to their will.

²⁶When they led him away, they grabbed one Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, and placed on him the cross, to carry it after Jesus. ²⁷A large crowd of the people followed him, including women who also mourned and lamented him. ²⁸But Jesus, turning to them, said, “Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children. ²⁹For look, the days are coming in which they will say, ‘Blessed are the barren, the wombs that never bore, and the breasts that never nursed.’ ³⁰Then they will begin to say to the mountains, ‘Fall on us,’ and to the hills, ‘Cover us.’^h ³¹For if they do these things in the green tree, what will be done in the dry?”

³²There were also others, two criminals, led with him to be put to death. ³³When they came to the place that is called The Skull,ⁱ they crucified him there with the criminals, one on the right and the other on the left.

³⁴And Jesus said, “Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing.”^j

Dividing his garments among them, they cast lots. ³⁵The people stood watching. The rulers^k also scoffed at him, saying, “He saved others. Let him save himself, if this is the Christ of God, his Chosen One.”

³⁶The soldiers also mocked him, coming to him and offering him vinegar, ³⁷and saying, “If you are the King of the Jews, save yourself.”

⁴⁰But the other answered, and rebuking him said, “Do you not even fear God, seeing you are under the same condemnation? ⁴¹And we indeed justly, for we receive the due reward for our deeds; but this man has done nothing wrong.” ⁴²And he said, “Jesus,^c remember me when you come into your kingdom.”

⁴³And he^d said to him, “Assuredly I tell you, today you will be with me in Paradise.”

⁴⁴And it was now about noon,^e and darkness came over the whole land^f until three in the afternoon,^g ⁴⁵for the sun’s light failed.^h And the curtain of the temple was torn in two. ⁴⁶And Jesus, crying with a loud voice, said, “Father, into your hands I commit my spirit.” Having said this, he breathed his last.

⁵⁰And look, a man named Joseph, who was a member of the council, a good and righteous man ⁵¹(he had not consented to their counsel and deed), from Arimathea^j, a city of the Judeans, who was also waiting for the kingdom of God: ⁵²this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. ⁵³He took it down, and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and placed him in a tomb that was cut in stone, where no one had ever been placed. ⁵⁴It was the day of the Preparation, and the Sabbath was drawing near. ⁵⁵The women, who had come with him out of Galilee, followed after, and saw the tomb, and how his body was placed. ⁵⁶They returned, and prepared spices and ointments. On the Sabbath they rested according to the commandment.

24 But on the first day of the week^k, at early dawn, they^l came to the tomb, bringing the spices which they had prepared. ²They found the stone rolled away from the tomb. ³They entered in, and did not find the body of the Lord Jesus. ⁴It happened, while they were greatly perplexed about this, look, two men stood by them in dazzling clothing. ⁵Becoming terrified, they bowed their faces down to the earth.

They said to them, “Why do you seek the living among the dead? ⁶He is not here, but is risen. Remember what he told you when he was still in Galilee, ⁷saying that the Son of Man must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again?”

⁸Then they remembered his words. ⁹And returning from the tomb, they told all these things to the eleven and to all the rest. ¹⁰Now they were Mary Magdalene and Joanna and Mary the mother of James and the other women with them who told these things to the apostles. ¹¹These words seemed to them to be nonsense, and they did not believe them. ¹²But Peter got up and ran to the tomb. Stooping and looking in, he saw the strips of linen^m by themselves, and he departed to his home, wondering what had happened.

¹³And look, two of them were going that very day to a village named Emmaus, which was about seven milesⁿ from Jerusalem. ¹⁴They talked with each other about all of these things which had happened. ¹⁵It happened, while they talked and questioned together, that Jesus himself came near, and went with them. ¹⁶But their eyes were kept from recognizing him. ¹⁷And he said to them, “What are these words that you are exchanging with each other as you walk?” And they stood still, looking sad.^o

¹⁸One of them, named Cleopas, answered him, “Are you the only stranger in Jerusalem who does not know the things which have happened there in these days?”

¹⁹He said to them, “What things?” They said to him, “The things concerning Jesus, the Nazarene, a man who was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people; ²⁰and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him. ²¹But we were hoping that it was he who would redeem Israel. Yes, and besides all this, it is now the third day since these things happened. ²²Also, certain women of our company amazed us, having arrived early at the tomb; ²³and when they did not find his body, they came saying that they had also seen a vision of angels, who said that he was alive. ²⁴Some of us went to the tomb, and found it just like the women had said, but they did not see him.”

²⁵Then he said to them, “O foolish ones, and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken. ²⁶Did not the Christ have to suffer these things and to enter into his glory?” ²⁷Beginning from Moses and from all the prophets, he explained to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself. ²⁸They drew near to the village, where they were going, and he acted like he would go further.

²⁹They urged him, saying, “Stay with us, for it is almost evening, and the day is almost over.”

He went in to stay with them. ³⁰It happened, that when he had sat down at the table with them, he took the bread and gave thanks. Breaking it, he gave to them. ³¹Their eyes were opened, and they recognized him, and he vanished out of their sight. ³²And they said to one another, “Weren’t our hearts burning within us, while he spoke to us along the way, and while he opened the Scriptures to us?” ³³They rose up that very hour, returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and those who were with them, ³⁴saying, “The Lord is risen indeed, and has appeared to Simon.”

³⁶As they said these things, Jesus himself stood among them, and said to them, "Peace be to you."

³⁸He said to them, "Why are you troubled? Why do doubts arise in your hearts? ³⁹See my hands and my feet, that it is truly me. Touch me and see, for a spirit does not have flesh and bones, as you see that I have." ⁴⁰When he had said this, he showed them his hands and his feet. ⁴¹While they still did not believe for joy, and wondered, he said to them, "Do you have anything here to eat?"

darkness, and the darkness hasn't overcome it. ⁶There came a man, sent from God, whose name was John. ⁷He came as a witness to testify about the light, that all might believe through him. ⁸He was not the light, but was sent that he might testify about the light. ⁹The true light that enlightens everyone was coming into the world.

¹⁰He was in the world, and the world was made through him, but the world did not recognize him. ¹¹He came to his own, and those who were his own did not receive him. ¹²But as many as received him, to them he gave the right to become God's children, to those who believe in his name, ¹³who were born not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. ¹⁴And the Word became flesh and lived among us, and we saw his glory, such glory as of the one and only of the Father, full of grace and truth. ¹⁵John testified about him and shouted out, saying, "This was the one of whom I said, 'He who comes after me has surpassed me, for he was before me.'" ¹⁶For of his fullness we all received, and grace upon grace. ¹⁷For the Law was given through Moses, grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. ¹⁸No one has seen God at any time. The only Son,ⁱ who is at the Father's side,^j has made him known.

¹⁹And this is John's testimony, when the Jewish leaders^k sent priests and Levites^l from Jerusalem to ask him, "Who are you?"

²⁰And he confessed, and did not deny, but he confessed, "I am not the Christ."

²¹And they asked him, "What then? Are you Elijah?"^m And he said, "I am not."ⁿ "Are you the Prophet?"^o And he answered, "No."

²²They said therefore to him, "Who are you? Give us an answer to take back to those who sent us. What do you say about yourself?"

²³He said, "I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, 'Make straight the way of the Lord,'^p as Isaiah the prophet said."

²⁴(Now they had been sent from the Pharisees.) ²⁵And they asked him, "Why then do you baptize, if you are not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the Prophet?"

²⁶John answered them, saying, "I baptize in water, but among you stands one whom you do not know. ²⁷He is the one who comes

They came and saw where he was staying, and they stayed with him that day. ⁴⁸Nathanael said to him, “How do you know me?”

Jesus answered him, “Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you.”

⁴⁹Nathanael answered him, “Rabbi, you are the Son of God. You are King of Israel.”

⁵⁰Jesus answered and said to him, “Because I told you, ‘I saw you underneath the fig tree,’ do you believe? You will see greater things than these.”⁵¹ And he said to him, “Truly, truly,^h I tell you,ⁱ you will see heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of Man.”

2 And the third day there was a wedding in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there. ²Now Jesus also was invited, with his disciples, to the wedding. ³And when the wine ran out, Jesus' mother said to him, “They have no wine.”

⁴Jesus said to her, “Woman, what does that have to do with you and me? My hour has not yet come.”

⁵His mother said to the servants, “Whatever he says to you, do it.” ⁶Now there were six stone water jars set there after the Jewish manner of purifying, containing two or three metretes^j apiece. ⁷Jesus said to them, “Fill the water jars with water.” They filled them up to the brim. ⁸He said to them, “Now draw some out, and take it to the ruler of the feast.” So they took it. ⁹When the ruler of the feast tasted the water now become wine, and did not know where it came from (but the servants who had drawn the water knew), the ruler of the feast called the bridegroom,¹⁰ and said to him, “Everyone serves the good wine first, and when the guests have drunk freely, then that which is worse. You have kept the good wine until now.” ¹¹This beginning of his signs Jesus did in Cana of Galilee, and revealed his glory; and his disciples believed in him.

¹²After this, he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother and brothers, and his disciples; and they stayed there a few days. ¹³The Jewish Passover was near, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. ¹⁴And he found in the temple those who sold oxen, sheep, and doves, and the money changers sitting. ¹⁵And he made a whip of cords, and threw all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the changers' money, and overthrew their tables. ¹⁶To those who sold the doves, he said, “Take these things out of here. Do not make my Father's house a marketplace.” ¹⁷His disciples remembered that it was written, “Zeal for your house will consume me.”^k

¹⁸The Jewish leaders therefore answered him, “What sign do you show us, seeing that you do these things?”

¹⁹Jesus answered them, “Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.”

²⁰The Jewish leaders therefore said, “It has taken forty-six years to build this temple, and will you raise it up in three days?”
²¹But he spoke of the temple of his body. ²²When therefore he was raised from the dead, his disciples remembered that he said this^a, and they believed the Scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

²³Now when he was in Jerusalem at the Passover, during the feast, many believed in his name after seeing his signs which he did.
²⁴But Jesus did not trust himself to them, because he knew everyone, ²⁵and because he did not need anyone to testify concerning man; for he himself knew what was in man.

3 Now there was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jewish people. ²This man came to him at night, and said to him, “Rabbi, we know that you are a teacher come from God, for no one can do these signs that you do, unless God is with him.”

³Jesus answered him, “Truly, truly, I tell you, unless one is born again he cannot see the kingdom of God.”

⁴Nicodemus said to him, “How can anyone be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother’s womb, and be born?”

⁵Jesus answered, “Truly, truly, I tell you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. ⁶That which is born of the flesh is flesh. That which is born of the Spirit is spirit. ⁷Do not be surprised that I said to you, ‘You must be born again.’ ⁸The wind^b blows where it wants to, and you hear its sound, but do not know where it comes from and where it is going. So is everyone who is born of the Spirit.”

⁹Nicodemus answered and said to him, “How can these things be?”

¹⁰Jesus answered him, “Are you the teacher of Israel, and do not understand these things? ¹¹Truly, truly, I tell you, we speak that which we know, and testify of that which we have seen, but you do not accept our testimony. ¹²If I told you earthly things and you do not believe, how will you believe if I tell you heavenly things? ¹³And no one has ascended into heaven, but he who descended out of heaven, the Son of Man, who is in heaven.^c ¹⁴And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up, ¹⁵so that everyone who believes in him may have everlasting life. ¹⁶For God loved the world in this way: He gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him would not perish, but have everlasting life. ¹⁷For God did not send his Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world should be saved through him. ¹⁸The one who believes in him is not judged, but the one who does not believe has been judged already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. ¹⁹And this is the judgment, that the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light, because their works were evil.

²⁰For everyone who does evil hates the light, and does not come to the light, so that his works will not be exposed. ²¹But the one who does the truth comes to the light, that his works may be revealed, that they have been done in God.”

²²After these things, Jesus came with his disciples into the land of Judea. He stayed there with them, and was baptizing. ²³Now John also was baptizing in Aenon near Salim, because there was much water there. They came, and were baptized. ²⁴For John was not yet thrown into prison. ²⁵Now a dispute arose between John’s disciples with a Jew^d about purification. ²⁶And they came to John, and said to him, “Rabbi, he who was with you beyond the Jordan, to whom you have testified, look, he is baptizing, and everyone is coming to him.”

²⁷John answered, “No one can receive anything, unless it has been given to him from heaven. ²⁸You yourselves bear me witness^e that I said, ‘I am not the Christ,’ but, ‘I have been sent before him.’ ²⁹He who has the bride is the bridegroom; but the friend of the bridegroom, who stands and hears him, rejoices greatly because of the bridegroom’s voice. So this joy of mine is now complete. ³⁰He must increase, but I must decrease. ³¹He who comes from above is above all. He who is from the earth belongs to the earth, and speaks of the earth. He who comes from heaven is above all. ³²What he has seen and heard, of that he testifies; and no one receives his witness. ³³He who has received his witness has set his seal to this, that God is true. ³⁴For he whom God has sent speaks the words of God; for he^f does not give the Spirit by measure. ³⁵The Father loves the Son, and has given all things into his hand. ³⁶Whoever believes in the Son has everlasting life, but whoever refuses to believe in the Son won’t see life, but the wrath of God remains on him.”

4 Therefore when the Lord^g knew that the Pharisees had heard, “Jesus is making and baptizing more disciples than John” ²(although Jesus himself did not baptize, but his disciples), ³he left Judea, and departed again^h into Galilee. ⁴He needed to pass through Samaria. ⁵So he came to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son, Joseph. ⁶Jacob’s well was there. Jesus therefore, being tired from his journey, sat down by the well. It was about noon.ⁱ ⁷A woman of Samaria came to draw water. Jesus said to her, “Give me a drink.”
⁸For his disciples had gone away into the city to buy food.

⁹The Samaritan woman therefore said to him, “How can you, being a Jew, ask for a drink from me, a Samaritan woman?” (For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans.)

¹⁰Jesus answered her, “If you knew the gift of God, and who it is who says to you, ‘Give me a drink,’ you would have asked him, and he would have given you living water.”

¹¹The woman said to him, “Sir, you have nothing to draw with, and the well is deep. From where do you get that living water? ¹²Are you greater than our father, Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank of it himself, as did his children, and his livestock?”

¹³Jesus answered her, “Everyone who drinks of this water will thirst again, ¹⁴but whoever drinks of the water that I will give him will never thirst again; but the water that I will give him will become in him a well of water springing up to everlasting life.”

¹⁵The woman said to him, “Sir, give me this water, so that I do not get thirsty, neither come all the way here to draw.”

¹⁶He said to her, “Go, call your husband, and come here.”

¹⁷The woman answered and said to him, ^a“I have no husband.”

Jesus said to her, “You said well, ‘I have no husband,’ ¹⁸for you have had five husbands; and he whom you now have is not your husband. This you have said truly.”

¹⁹The woman said to him, “Sir, I perceive that you are a prophet. ²⁰Our fathers worshiped in this mountain, and you say that in Jerusalem is the place where people ought to worship.”

²¹Jesus said to her, “Woman, believe me, the hour comes, when neither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, will you worship the Father. ²²You worship that which you do not know. We worship that which we know; for salvation is from the Jews. ²³But the hour comes, and now is, when the true worshippers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for the Father seeks such to be his worshippers. ²⁴God is spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth.”

²⁵The woman said to him, “I know that Messiah comes,” (he who is called Christ). “When he has come, he will declare to us all things.”

²⁶Jesus said to her, “I am he, the one who speaks to you.” ²⁷At this, his disciples came. They were surprised that he was speaking with a woman; yet no one said, “What are you looking for?” or, “Why do you speak with her?” ²⁸So the woman left her water pot, and went away into the city, and said to the people, ²⁹“Come, see a man who told me everything that I did. Can this be the Christ?”

³⁰They went out of the city, and were coming to him. ³¹In the meanwhile, the disciples urged him, saying, “Rabbi, eat.”

³²But he said to them, “I have food to eat that you do not know about.”

³⁴Jesus said to them, “My food is to do the will of him who sent me, and to accomplish his work. ³⁵Do you not say, ‘There are yet four months until the harvest?’ Look, I tell you, lift up your eyes and see the fields, that they are white for harvest already. ³⁶He who reaps receives wages, and gathers fruit to everlasting life; that both he who sows and he who reaps may rejoice together. ³⁷For in this the saying is true, ‘One sows, and another reaps.’ ³⁸I sent you to reap that for which you have not labored. Others have labored, and you have entered into their labor.”

³⁹From that city many of the Samaritans believed in him because of the word of the woman, who testified, “He told me everything that I did.” ⁴⁰So when the Samaritans came to him, they asked him to stay with them. He stayed there two days. ⁴¹Many more believed because of his word. ⁴²They said to the woman, “Now we believe, not because of your speaking; for we have heard for ourselves, and know that this is indeed the^b Savior of the world.”

⁴³After the two days he departed from there to Galilee. ⁴⁴For Jesus himself testified that a prophet has no honor in his own country. ⁴⁵So when he came into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things that he did in Jerusalem at the feast, for they also went to the feast. ⁴⁶Jesus came therefore again to Cana of Galilee, where he made the water into wine. There was a certain nobleman whose son was sick at Capernaum. ⁴⁷When he heard that Jesus had come out of Judea into Galilee, he went to him, and pleaded with him that he would come down and heal his son, for he was close to death. ⁴⁸Jesus therefore said to him, “Unless you see signs and wonders, you will in no way believe.”

⁴⁹The nobleman said to him, “Sir, come down before my child dies.” ⁵⁰Jesus said to him, “Go your way. Your son lives.” The man believed the word that Jesus spoke to him, and he went his way. ⁵¹As he was now going down, his servants met him,^c saying that his son was alive. ⁵²So he inquired of them the hour when he began to get better. They said therefore to him, “Yesterday at one in the afternoon,^e the fever left him.” ⁵³So the father knew that it was at that hour in which Jesus said to him, “Your son lives.” He believed, as did his whole house. ⁵⁴This is again the second sign that Jesus did, having come out of Judea into Galilee.

After these things, there was a Jewish festival,^f and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. ²Now in Jerusalem by the sheep area^g there is a pool, which is called in Hebrew Beth ⁷The sick man answered him, “Sir, I have no one to put me into the pool when the water is stirred up, but while I’m coming, another steps down before me.”

⁸Jesus said to him, “Arise, take up your mat, and walk.”

⁹Immediately, the man was made well, and took up his mat and walked. Now it was the Sabbath on that day. ¹⁰So the Jewish leaders said to him who was cured, “It is the Sabbath. It is not lawful for you to carry the mat.” ¹¹But he answered them, “The one who made me well, that one said to me, ‘Take up your mat, and walk.’”

¹²Then they asked him, “Who is the man who said to you to pick it up and walk?”^d

¹³But the one who was healed did not know who it was, for Jesus had withdrawn, a crowd being in the place.

¹⁴Afterward Jesus found him in the temple, and said to him, “See, you are made well. Sin no more, so that nothing worse happens to you.”

¹⁵The man went away, and told the Jewish leaders that it was Jesus who had made him well. ¹⁶For this cause the Jewish leaders persecuted Jesus,^e because he did these things on the Sabbath. ¹⁷But he^f answered them, “My Father is still working, so I am working, too.” ¹⁸For this cause therefore the Jewish leaders sought all the more to kill him, because he not only broke the Sabbath, but also called God his own Father, making himself equal with God. ¹⁹Jesus therefore answered them, “Truly, truly, I tell you, the Son can do nothing of himself, but what he sees the Father doing. For whatever things he does, these the Son also does likewise. ²⁰For the Father loves the Son, and shows him all things that he himself does. He will show him greater works than these, so that you may marvel. ²¹For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, even so the Son also gives life to whom he desires. ²²For the Father judges no one, but he has given all judgment to the Son, ²³that all may honor the Son, even as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent him.

As I hear, I judge, and my judgment is righteous; because I do not seek my own will, but the will of the One^h who sent me.

³¹“If I testify about myself, my witness is not valid. ³²It is another who testifies about me. I know that the testimony which he testifies about me is true. ³³You have sent to John, and he has testified to the truth. ³⁴But the testimony which I receive is not from people. However, I say these things that you may be saved. ³⁵He was the burning and shining lamp, and you were willing to rejoice for a while in his light. ³⁶But the testimony which I have is greater than that of John, for the works which the Father gave me to accomplish, the very works that I do, testify about me, that the Father has sent me. ³⁷The Father himself, who sent me, has testified about me. You have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his form. ³⁸You do not have his word living in you; because you do not believe him whom he sent.

³⁹You search the Scriptures, because you think that in them you have everlasting life; and these are they which testify about me. ⁴⁰But you are unwilling to come to me so that you may have life. ⁴¹I do not receive glory from people. ⁴²But I know you, that you do not have God’s love in yourselves. ⁴³I have come in my Father’s name, and you do not receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. ⁴⁴How can you believe, who receive glory from one another, and you do not seek the glory that comes from the only God?

the^a signs which he did on those who were sick. ³Jesus went up into the mountain, and he sat there with his disciples. ⁴Now the Passover, the Jewish festival, was near. ⁵Jesus therefore lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a large crowd was coming to him, said to Philip, “Where are we to buy bread, that these may eat?” ⁶This he said to test him, for he himself knew what he would do.

⁷Philip answered him, “Two hundred denarii worth of bread is not sufficient for them, that everyone of them may receive a little.”

⁸One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter’s brother, said to him, ⁹“There is a boy here who has five barley loaves and two fish, but what are these among so many?”

¹⁰Jesus said, “Have the people sit down.” Now there was much grass in that place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand. ¹¹Jesus took the loaves; and having given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to^b those who were sitting down; likewise also of the fish as much as they desired. ¹²When they were filled, he said to his disciples, “Gather up the broken pieces which are left over, that nothing be lost.” ¹³So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with broken pieces from the five barley loaves, which were left over by those who had eaten. ¹⁴When therefore the people saw the sign which he did, they said, “This is truly the Prophet who comes into the world.” ¹⁵Jesus therefore, perceiving that they were about to come and take him by force, to make him king, withdrew again^c to the mountain by himself.

¹⁶When evening came, his disciples went down to the sea, ¹⁷and they entered into the boat, and were going over the sea to Capernaum. It was now dark, and Jesus had not yet come to them. ¹⁸The sea was tossed by a great wind blowing. ¹⁹When therefore they had rowed about three or four miles,^d they saw Jesus walking on the sea,^e and drawing near to the boat; and they were afraid. ²⁰But he said to them, “It is I. Do not be afraid.” ²¹They were willing therefore to receive him into the boat. Immediately the boat was at the land where they were going.

²²On the next day, the crowd that stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was no other boat there, except one,^g and that Jesus had not entered with his disciples into the boat, but his disciples had gone away alone. ²³Other boats from Tiberias came near to the place where they ate the bread after the Lord had given thanks. ²⁴When the crowd therefore saw that Jesus was not there, nor his disciples, they themselves got into the boats, and came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus. ²⁵When they found him on the other side of the sea, they asked him, “Rabbi, when did you come here?”

²⁶Jesus answered them, “Truly, truly, I tell you, you seek me, not because you saw signs, but because you ate of the loaves, and were filled. ²⁷Do not work for the food which perishes, but for the food which remains to everlasting life, which the Son of Man will give to you. For God the Father has sealed him.”

²⁸They said therefore to him, “What must we do, that we may work the works of God?”

²⁹Jesus answered them, “This is the work of God, that you believe in him whom he has sent.”

³⁰They said therefore to him, “What then do you do for a sign, that we may see, and believe you? What work do you do? ³¹Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness. As it is written, ‘He gave them bread out of heaven^h to eat.’”ⁱ

³²Jesus therefore said to them, “Truly, truly, I tell you, it was not Moses who gave you the bread out of heaven, but my Father gives you the true bread out of heaven. ³³For the bread of God is that which comes down out of heaven, and gives life to the world.”

³⁴They said therefore to him, “Lord, always give us this bread.”

³⁵Jesus said to them, “I am the bread of life. He who comes to me will not be hungry, and he who believes in me will never be thirsty. ³⁶But I told you that you have seen me, and yet you do not believe. ³⁷All those whom the Father gives me will come to me. Him who comes to me I will in no way throw out. ³⁸For I have come down from heaven, not to do my own will, but the will of him who sent me. ³⁹This is the will of him^j who sent me, that of all he has given to me I should lose nothing, but should raise him up at the last day. ⁴⁰This is the will of my Father,^k that everyone who sees the Son, and believes in him, should have everlasting life; and I will raise him up at the last day.”

⁴¹The Jewish people therefore murmured concerning him, because he said, “I am the bread which came down out of heaven.” ⁴²They said, “Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother^l we know? How then does he say, ‘I have come down out of heaven’?”

⁴³Therefore Jesus answered them, “Do not murmur among yourselves. ⁴⁴No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him, and I will raise him up in the last day. ⁴⁵It is written in the Prophets, ‘And they will all be taught by God.’^m Therefore everyone who hears and learns from the Father comes to me. ⁴⁶Not that anyone has seen the Father, except he who is from God. bread, he will live forever; and the bread which I will give for the life of the world^a is my flesh.”

⁵²The Jews therefore argued with one another, saying, “How can this one give us flesh to eat?”

⁵³Jesus therefore said to them, “Truly I tell you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you do not have life in yourselves. ⁵⁴He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has everlasting life, and I will raise him up at the last day. ⁵⁵For my flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. ⁵⁶He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood lives in me, and I in him. ⁵⁷As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father; so he who feeds on me, he will also live because of me. ⁵⁸This is the bread which came down out of heaven—not as the fathers ate^b, and died. He who eats this bread will live forever.” ⁵⁹He said these things in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

⁶⁰Therefore many of his disciples, when they heard this, said, “This is a hard saying. Who can listen to it?”

⁶¹But Jesus knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said to them, “Does this cause you to stumble? ⁶²Then what if you would see the Son of Man ascending to where he was before? ⁶³It is the Spirit who gives life. The flesh profits nothing. The words that I speak to you are spirit, and are life. ⁶⁴But there are some of you who do not believe.” For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were who did not believe, and who it was who would betray him. ⁶⁵He said, “For this cause have I said to you that no one can come to me, unless it is given to him by the^c Father.”

⁶⁶At this, many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. ⁶⁷Jesus said therefore to the twelve, “You do not also want to go away, do you?”

⁶⁸Simon Peter answered him, “Lord, to whom would we go? You have the words of everlasting life. ⁶⁹We have come to believe and know that you are the Holy One of God.”^d

⁷⁰Jesus answered them, “Did I not choose you, the twelve, and one of you is a devil?” ⁷¹Now he spoke of Judas, the son of Simon Iscariot, for it was he who would betray him, being one of the twelve.

7 After these things, Jesus was walking in Galilee, for he would not walk in Judea, because the Jewish leaders sought to kill him. ²Now the Jewish festival, the Feast of Tabernacles, was near. ³So his brothers said to him, “Depart from here, and go into Judea, that your disciples also may see your works that you are doing. ⁴For no one does anything in secret when he himself seeks to be known openly. If you do these things, show yourself to the world.” ⁵For even his brothers did not believe in him.^e

⁶Jesus therefore said to them, “My time has not yet come, but your time is always ready. ⁷The world cannot hate you, but it hates me, because I testify about it, that its works are evil. ⁸You go up to the feast. I am not yet^f going up to this feast, because my time is not yet fulfilled.”

⁹After he had said this, he stayed in Galilee. ¹⁰But when his brothers had gone up to the feast, then he also went up, not publicly, but as it were in secret. ¹¹The Jewish leaders therefore sought him at the feast, and said, “Where is he?” ¹²There was much murmuring among the crowds concerning him. Some said, “He is a good man.” But others said, “Not so, but he leads the crowd astray.” ¹³Yet no one spoke openly of him for fear of the Jewish leaders. ¹⁴But when it was now the midst of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple and taught. ¹⁵Then the Jewish leaders were astonished, saying, “How does this man know such writings, having never been educated?”

¹⁶Jesus therefore answered them, “My teaching is not mine, but his who sent me. ¹⁷If anyone desires to do his will, he will know about the teaching, whether it is from God, or if I am speaking from myself. ¹⁸He who speaks from himself seeks his own glory, but he who seeks the glory of him who sent him is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. ¹⁹Did not Moses give you the Law, and yet none of you keeps the Law? Why do you seek to kill me?”

²⁰The crowd answered, “You have a demon. Who seeks to kill you?”

²¹Jesus answered them, “I did one work, and you are all amazed. ²²Moses has given you circumcision (not that it is of Moses, but of the fathers), and on the Sabbath you circumcise a boy. ²³If a boy receives circumcision on the Sabbath, that the Law of Moses may not be broken, are you angry with me, because I made a man completely healthy on the Sabbath? ²⁴Do not judge according to appearance, but judge righteous judgment.”

²⁵Therefore some of them of Jerusalem said, “Is not this he whom they seek to kill? ²⁶Look, he speaks openly, and they say nothing to him. Can it be that the rulers indeed know that this is^g the Christ? ²⁷However we know where this man comes from, but when the Christ comes, no one will know where he comes from.”

²⁸Jesus therefore called out in the temple, teaching and saying, “You both know me, and know where I am from. I have not come of myself, but he who sent me is true, whom you do not know. ²⁹I know him, because I am from him, and he sent me.”

³⁰They sought therefore to take him; but no one laid a hand on him, because his hour had not yet come. ³¹But many in the crowd believed in him. They said, “When the Christ comes, he won’t do more signs than those which this man has done, will he?” ³²The Pharisees heard the crowd murmuring these things concerning him, and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent officers to arrest him.

³³Then Jesus said, “I will be with you a little while longer, then I go to him who sent me. ³⁴You will seek me, but won’t find; and where I am, you cannot come.”

³⁷Now on the last and greatest day of the feast, Jesus stood and said in a loud voice, “If anyone is thirsty, let him come to me and drink. ³⁸He who believes in me, as the Scripture has said, from within him will flow rivers of living water.” ³⁹But he said this about the Spirit, which those believing in him were to receive. For the Spirit was not yet given, because Jesus was not yet glorified.

⁴⁰Some^b of the crowd therefore, when they heard these^c words, said, “This is truly the Prophet.”^d ⁴¹Others said, “This is the Christ.”^e But some said, “What, does the Christ come out of Galilee?^f ⁴²Hasn’t the Scripture said that the Christ comes of the seed of David,^g and from Bethlehem,^h the village where David was?” ⁴³So there arose a division in the crowd because of him. ⁴⁴Some of them would have arrested him, but no one laid hands on him. ⁴⁵The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees, and they said to them, “Why did you not bring him?”

⁴⁶The officers answered, “No man ever spoke like this man.”ⁱ ⁴⁷The Pharisees therefore answered them, “You are not also led astray, are you? ⁴⁸Have any of the rulers believed in him, or of the Pharisees? ⁴⁹But this crowd that does not know the Law is accursed.”

⁵⁰Nicodemus (he who came to him before,^j being one of them) said to them, ⁵¹“Does our Law judge a man, unless it first hears from him personally and knows what he does?”

⁵²They answered him, “Are you also from Galilee? Search, and see that no prophet comes from Galilee.”^k ⁵³Then everyone went to his own house,

8 but Jesus went to the Mount of Olives. ²Now very early in the morning, he came again into the temple, and all the people came to him,^l and he sat down and taught them. ³Then the scribes and the Pharisees brought^m a woman taken in adultery, and having set her in the midst, ⁴they said to him, “Teacher, we found this woman in adultery, in the very act. ⁵Now in the Law, Moses commanded us to stone such.ⁿ So what do you say?” ⁶Now they said this to test him, that they might have something to accuse him of. But Jesus stooped down, and wrote on the ground with his finger.^o ⁷But when they continued asking him, he looked up and said to them, “He who is without sin among you, let him throw the first stone at her.” ⁸And again he stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground.

⁹But when they heard it,^p they went out one by one, beginning from the oldest, even to the last, and he^q was left alone, with the woman where she was, in the middle. ¹⁰Then Jesus, standing up,^r said to her, “Woman,^s where are they?^t Did no one condemn you?”

The various relocations of 7:53-8:11 (e.g., Jn 21:24/25 (f1), Lk 21:38 (f13)) in some Mss come from the 10th century and later, and may be either lection-related or attempts to restore the lost text.
Among the text critical reasons to not prefer the shorter reading is if that which was omitted could have seemed “offensive to pious ears” (B. Metzger, TNT, 115), which has been suggested to have been the cause for the missing verses since Ambrose (4th cent.) and Augustine (5th).
Another text critical reason to not prefer the shorter reading is if the longer text could have been lost in a scribal leap. In comparison of the longer and shorter readings it is possible that an early scribe noticed ePOREUthesan near the beginning of 7:53 and skipped to POREUou in 8:11. Note that S OU- EG- occurs previous to POREU at both 7:52 and 8:11 at similar distances. An ekthesis at 8:1 and 8:12 in his exemplar may help explain the extent of the skip. After reading POREUou and the subsequent three words in 8:11, which now did not make good sense after 7:52, he continued copying at 8:12.
Further evidence is the Johannine vocabulary in the verses: (1) “sin no more” (meketi hamartane): Jn 8:11, cf. Jn 5:14, (2) “this they said” (touto de elegen/eipen): Jn 8:6, cf. Jn 6:6, 7:39, 21:19, (3) historic present agousin (“brought”): Jn 8:3, cf. Jn 9:13, 18:28, (4) vocative gunai (“woman”): Jn 8:10, cf. Jn 2:4, 4:21, 19:26, 20:13, 15, (5) scornful use of “this” (outos): Jn 8:4, cf. Jn 6:52, 7:15, 9:29, 18:30.
The internal and external evidence subsequently suggests the authenticity of 7:53-8:11 as part of John’s original composition.

¹²Again, therefore, Jesus spoke to them, saying, “I am the light of the world.^a He who follows me will not walk in the darkness, but will have the light of life.”

¹³The Pharisees therefore said to him, “You testify about yourself. Your testimony is not valid.”

¹⁴Jesus answered them, “Even if I testify about myself, my testimony is true, for I know where I came from, and where I am going; but you do not know where I came from, or where I am going.^b ¹⁵You judge according to the flesh. I judge no one. ¹⁶Even if I do judge, my judgment is true, for I am not alone, but I am with the Father who sent me. ¹⁷It’s also written in your Law that the testimony of two people is valid.^b ¹⁸I am one who testifies about myself, and the Father who sent me testifies about me.”

¹⁹They said therefore to him, “Where is your Father?”

Jesus answered, “You know neither me, nor my Father. If you knew me, you would know my Father also.” ²⁰Jesus spoke these words in the treasury, as he taught in the temple. Yet no one arrested him, because his hour had not yet come. ²¹Jesus said therefore again to them, “I am going away, and you will seek me, and you will die in your sins. Where I go, you cannot come.”

²²The Jewish leaders therefore said, “Will he kill himself, that he says, ‘Where I am going, you cannot come?’”

²³He said to them, “You are from beneath. I am from above. You are of this world. I am not of this world. ²⁴I said therefore to you that you will die in your sins; for unless you believe that I am^c he, you will die in your sins.”

²⁵They said therefore to him, “Who are you?”

Jesus said to them, “Just what I have been saying to you from the beginning. ²⁶I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you. However he who sent me is true; and the things which I heard from him, these I say to the world.”

²⁷They did not understand that he spoke to them about the Father. ²⁸Jesus therefore said to them, “When you have lifted up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am he, and I do nothing of myself, but as the^d Father taught me, I say these things. ²⁹He who sent me is with me. The Father hasn’t left me alone, for I always do the things that are pleasing to him.”

³⁰As he spoke these things, many believed in him. ³¹Jesus therefore said to those Judeans who had believed him, “If you remain in my word, then you are truly my disciples. ³²You will know the truth, and the truth will make you free.”^e

³³They answered him, “We are Abraham’s descendants, and have never been in bondage to anyone. How can you say, ‘You will be made free?’”

³⁴Jesus answered them, “Truly I tell you, everyone who commits sin is the slave of sin. ³⁵A slave does not live in the house forever. A son remains forever. ³⁶So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. ³⁷I know that you are Abraham’s descendants, yet you seek to kill me, because my word finds no place in you. ³⁸I say the things which I have seen with my Father; and you also do the things which you have heard from^f your father.”

³⁹They answered him, “Our father is Abraham.”

Jesus said to them, “If you were Abraham’s children, you would do the works of Abraham. ⁴⁰But now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth, which I heard from God. Abraham did not do this. ⁴¹You do the works of your father.”

They said to him, “We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father, God.”

⁴²Therefore Jesus said to them, “If God were your father, you would love me, for I came out and have come from God. For I have not come of myself, but he sent me. ⁴³Why do you not understand my speech? Because you cannot hear my word. ⁴⁴You are of your father, the devil, and you want to do the desires of your father. He was a murderer from the beginning, and does not stand in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaks a lie, he speaks on his own; for he is a liar, and its father. ⁴⁵But because I tell the truth, you do not believe me. ⁴⁶Which of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? ⁴⁷He who is of God hears the words of God. For this cause you do not hear, because you are not of God.”

⁴⁸Then the Judeans answered him, “Do not we say well that you are a Samaritan, and have a demon?”

⁴⁹Jesus answered, “I do not have a demon, but I honor my Father, and you dishonor me. ⁵⁰But I do not seek my own glory. There is one who seeks and judges. ⁵¹Truly, truly, I tell you, if a person keeps my word, he will never see death.”

⁵²Then the Judeans said to him, “Now we know that you have a demon. Abraham died, and the prophets; and you say, ‘If anyone keeps my word, he will never taste of death.’ ⁵³Are you greater than our father, Abraham, who died? The prophets died. Who do you make yourself out to be?”

⁵⁴Jesus answered, “If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing. It is my Father who glorifies me, of whom you say ‘He is our God.’ ⁵⁵You have not known him, but I know him. If I said, ‘I do not know him,’ I would be like you, a liar. But I know him, and keep his word. ⁵⁶Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day. He saw it, and was glad.”

⁵⁷The Judeans therefore said to him, “You are not yet fifty years old, and have you seen Abraham?”

⁵⁸Jesus said to them, “Truly, truly, I tell you, before Abraham came into existence, I AM.^g”

⁵⁹Therefore they took up stones to throw at him, but Jesus was concealed, and went out of the temple.^h

9 And as he passed by, he saw a man blind from birth.
2And his disciples asked him, “Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he was born blind?”

3Jesus answered, “Neither did this man sin, nor his parents; but, that the works of God might be revealed in him. 4We^a must work the works of him who sent me, while it is day. The night is coming, when no one can work. 5While I am in the world, I am the light of the world.” 6When he had said this, he spat on the ground, made mud with the saliva, anointed the blind man’s eyes with the mud, 7and said to him, “Go, wash in the pool of Siloam^b” (which means “Sent”). So he went away, washed, and came back seeing. 8The neighbors therefore, and those who saw that he was a beggar^c before, said, “Is this not the one who used to sit and beg?” 9Some said, “It is he.” Others said, “He looks like him.”

He said, “I am he.” 10They therefore were asking him, “How were your eyes opened?”

11He answered, “A man called Jesus made mud, anointed my eyes, and said to me, ‘Go to^d Siloam, and wash.’ So I went away and washed, and I received sight.”

12Then they asked him, “Where is he?”

He said, “I do not know.”

13They brought him who had been blind to the Pharisees. 14Now it was a Sabbath on the day^e when Jesus made the mud and opened his eyes. 15Again therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. He said to them, “He put mud on my eyes, I washed, and I see.”

16Some therefore of the Pharisees said, “This man is not from God, because he does not keep the Sabbath.” Others said, “How can a man who is a sinner do such signs?” There was division among them. 17Therefore they asked the blind man again, “What do you say about him, because he opened your eyes?”

He said, “He is a prophet.”

18The Jewish leaders therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him who had received his sight, 19and asked them, “Is this your son, who you say was born blind? How then does he now see?”

20His parents answered them, “We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind; 21but how he now sees, we do not know; or who opened his eyes, we do not know. He is of age. Ask him. He will speak for himself.” 22His parents said these things because they feared the Jewish leaders; for the Jewish leaders had already agreed that if anyone would confess him as the Christ, he would be put out of the synagogue. 23Therefore his parents said, “He is of age. Ask him.”

24So they called the man who was blind a second time, and said to him, “Give glory to God. We know that this man is a sinner.”

25He therefore answered, “I do not know if he is a sinner. One thing I do know: that though I was blind, now I see.”

26They said to him^f, “What did he do to you? How did he open your eyes?”

27He answered them, “I told you already, and you did not listen. Why do you want to hear it again? You do not also want to become his disciples, do you?”

28They insulted him and said, “You are his disciple, but we are disciples of Moses. 29We know that God has spoken to Moses. But as for this man, we do not know where he comes from.”

30The man answered them, “How amazing. You do not know where he comes from, yet he opened my eyes. 31We know that God does not listen to sinners, but if anyone is a worshipper of God, and does his will, he listens to him.^g 32Since the world began it has never been heard of that anyone opened the eyes of someone born blind. 33If this man were not from God, he could do nothing.”

34They answered him, “You were altogether born in sins, and do you teach us?” They threw him out.

35Jesus heard that they had thrown him out, and finding him, he said, “Do you believe in the Son of Man^h?”

36He answered, “Who is he, Lord, that I may believe in him?”

37Jesus said to him, “You have both seen him, and it is he who speaks with you.”

38He said, “Lord, I believe.” and he worshiped him.

39Jesus said, “I came into this world for judgment, that those who do not see may see; and that those who see may become blind.”

40Those of the Pharisees who were with him heard these things, and said to him, “Are we also blind?”

41Jesus said to them, “If you were blind, you would have no sin; but since you say, ‘We see,’ yourⁱ sin remains.

10 “Truly, truly, I tell you, one who does not enter by the door into the sheepfold, but climbs up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. 2But one who enters in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. 3The gatekeeper opens the gate for him, and the sheep listen to his voice. He calls his own sheep by name, and leads them out. 4Whenever he brings out his own sheep, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice. 5They will by no means follow a stranger, but will flee from him; for they do not know the voice of strangers.” 6Jesus spoke this parable to them, but they did not understand what he was telling them.

⁷Jesus therefore said to them again, “Truly, truly, I tell you, I am the sheep’s door. ⁸All who came before me are thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not listen to them. ⁹I am the door. If anyone enters in by me, he will be saved, and will go in and go out, and will find pasture. ¹⁰The thief only comes to steal, kill, and destroy. I came that they may have life, and may have it abundantly. ¹¹I am the good shepherd.^a The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. ¹²He who is a hired hand and not a shepherd, who does not own the sheep, sees the wolf coming and leaves the sheep and runs away; and the wolf snatches them and scatters them. ¹³And the hired hand flees^b because he is a hired hand and the sheep means nothing to him. ¹⁴I am the good shepherd. I know my own, and my own know me^c; ¹⁵even as the Father knows me, and I know the Father. I lay down my life for the sheep. ¹⁶I have other sheep, which are not of this fold.^d I must bring them also, and they will hear my voice. They will become one flock with one shepherd. ¹⁷Therefore the^e Father loves me, because I lay down my life,^f that I may take it again. ¹⁸No one takes it away from me, but I lay it down by myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. I received this commandment from my Father.”

¹⁹A^g division arose again among the Jewish people because of these words. ²⁰Many of them said, “He has a demon, and is insane. Why do you listen to him?” ²¹Others said, “These are not the sayings of one possessed by a demon. It is not possible for a demon to open the eyes of the blind, is it?”^h

²²At that time Hanukkahⁱ took place in Jerusalem. ²³It was winter, and Jesus was walking in the temple, in Solomon’s porch. ²⁴The Jewish leaders therefore came around him and said to him, “How long will you keep us in suspense? If you are the Christ, tell us plainly.”

²⁵Jesus answered them, “I told you, and you do not believe. The works that I do in my Father’s name, these testify about me. ²⁶But you do not believe, because you are not of my sheep. ²⁷As I said to you,^j my sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. ²⁸I give everlasting life to them. They will never perish, and no one will snatch them out of my hand. ²⁹My Father, who has given them to me, is greater than all. No one is able to snatch them out of the^k Father’s hand. ³⁰I and the Father are one.”

³¹Therefore the Jewish leaders took up stones again to stone him. ³²Jesus answered them, “I have shown you many good works from the^l Father. For which of those works do you stone me?”

³³The Jewish leaders answered him, “We do not stone you for a good work, but for blasphemy: because you, being a man, make yourself God.”

³⁴Jesus answered them, “Is it not written in your law, ‘I said, you are gods?’^m ³⁵If he called them gods, to whom the word of God came (and the Scripture cannot be broken), ³⁶do you say of him whom the Father sanctified and sent into the world, ‘You blaspheme,’ because I said, ‘I am the Son of God?’ ³⁷If I do not do the works of my Father, do not believe me. ³⁸But if I do them, though you do not believe me, believe the works; that you may know and understandⁿ that the Father is in me, and I in the Father.”

³⁹Now^o they sought again to seize him, and he went out of their hand. ⁴⁰He went away again beyond the Jordan into the place where John was baptizing at first, and there he stayed. ⁴¹Many came to him. They said, “John indeed did no sign, but everything that John said about this man is true.” ⁴²And many believed in him there.

11 Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus from Bethany, of the village of Mary and her sister, Martha. ²It was that Mary who had anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother, Lazarus, was sick. ³The sisters therefore sent to him, saying, “Lord, look, the one you love is sick.” ⁴But when Jesus heard it, he said, “This sickness is not to death, but for the glory of God, that God’s Son may be glorified by it.” ⁵Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. ⁶When therefore he heard that he was sick, he stayed two days in the place where he was. ⁷Then after this he said to the disciples, “Let us go into Judea again.”

⁸The disciples told him, “Rabbi, the Jewish leaders were just trying to stone you, and are you going there again?”

⁹Jesus answered, “Are there not twelve hours of daylight? If anyone walks in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world. ¹⁰But if anyone walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him.” ¹¹He said these things, and after that, he said to them, “Our friend, Lazarus, has fallen asleep, but I am going so that I may awake him out of sleep.”

¹²Then the disciples said to him^p, “Lord, if he has fallen asleep, he will recover.”

¹³Now Jesus had spoken of his death, but they thought that he spoke of taking rest in sleep. ¹⁴So Jesus said to them plainly then, “Lazarus is dead. ¹⁵I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, so that you may believe. Nevertheless, let us go to him.”

¹⁶Thomas therefore, who is called Didymus, said to his fellow disciples, “Let us go also, that we may die with him.”

¹⁷So when Jesus came, he found that he had been in the tomb four days already. ¹⁸Now Bethany was near Jerusalem, about two miles^a away. ¹⁹Many of the Jewish people had come to^b Martha and Mary, to console them concerning their brother. ²⁰Then when Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went and met him, but Mary stayed in the house. ²¹Therefore Martha said to Jesus, “Lord, if you would have been here, my brother would not have died. ²²Even now I know that whatever you ask of God, God will give you.” ²³Jesus said to her, “Your brother will rise again.”

²⁴Martha said to him, “I know that he will rise again in the resurrection at the last day.”

²⁵Jesus said to her, “I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in me will still live, even if he dies. ²⁶And whoever lives and believes in me will never die. Do you believe this?”

²⁷She said to him, “Yes, Lord. I have come to believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, he who comes into the world.”

²⁸And when she had said this, she went away, and called Mary, her sister, secretly, saying, “The Teacher is here, and is calling you.”

²⁹When she heard this, she arose quickly, and went to him. ³⁰Now Jesus had not yet come into the village, but was still^c in the place where Martha met him. ³¹Then the Judeans who were with her in the house, and were consoling her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, supposing that she was going to the tomb to weep there.^d ³²Therefore when Mary came to where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying to him, “Lord, if you would have been here, my brother would not have died.”

³³When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Judeans weeping who came with her, he was deeply moved in spirit and was troubled, ³⁴and said, “Where have you put him?”

They told him, “Lord, come and see.”

³⁵Jesus wept.

³⁶The Judeans therefore said, “See how he loved him.” ³⁷But some of them said, “Could not this man, who opened the eyes of him who was blind, have also kept this man from dying?”

³⁸So Jesus, deeply moved again, came to the tomb. Now it was a cave, and a stone lay against it. ³⁹Jesus said, “Take away the stone.”

Martha, the sister of the dead man, said to him, “Lord, by this time there is a stench, for he has been dead four days.”

⁴⁰Jesus said to her, “Did I not tell you that if you believed, you would see God’s glory?”

⁴¹So they took away the stone.^e And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, “Father, I thank you that you listened to me. ⁴²I know that you always listen to me, but because of the crowd that stands around I said this, that they may believe that you sent me.” ⁴³When he had said this, he shouted with a loud voice, “Lazarus, come out.”

⁴⁴The man who had died came out, bound hand and foot with wrappings, and his face was wrapped around with a cloth.

Jesus said to them, “Free him, and let him go.”

⁴⁵Therefore many of the Judeans, who came to Mary and had seen the things which he did, believed in him. ⁴⁶But some of them went away to the Pharisees, and told them the things which Jesus had done. ⁴⁷The chief priests therefore and the Pharisees gathered a council, and said, “What are we doing? For this man does many signs. ⁴⁸If we leave him alone like this, everyone will believe in him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation.”

⁴⁹But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said to them, “You know nothing at all, ⁵⁰nor do you consider that it is advantageous for you^f that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation not perish.” ⁵¹Now he did not say this of himself, but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus would die for the nation, ⁵²and not for the nation only, but that he might also gather together into one the children of God who are scattered abroad. ⁵³So from that day on they plotted to kill him. ⁵⁴Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Judeans, but departed from there into the country near the wilderness, to a city called Ephraim; and stayed there with his disciples.

⁵⁵Now the Jewish Passover was near, and many went up from the country to Jerusalem before the Passover, to purify themselves. ⁵⁶Then they sought for Jesus and spoke one with another, as they stood in the temple, “What do you think—that he is not coming to the feast at all?” ⁵⁷Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given orders that if anyone knew where he was, he should report it, that they might arrest him.

12 Then six days before the Passover, Jesus came to Bethany, where Lazarus was,^g whom Jesus^h raised from the dead. ²So they prepared a dinner for him there; and Martha served, but Lazarus was one of those reclining at the table with him. ³Mary, therefore, took a poundⁱ of ointment of pure nard, very precious, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair. And the house was filled with the fragrance of the ointment. ⁴Then Judas Iscariot,^j one of his disciples, who would betray him, said, ⁵“Why was this ointment not sold for three hundred denarii,^k and given to the poor?” ⁶Now he said this, not because he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and having the money box, used to steal what was put into it. ⁷But Jesus said, “Leave her alone, that she may keep^a this for the day of my burial. ⁸For you always have the poor with you, but you do not always have me.”

⁹A large crowd therefore of the Judeans learned that he was there, and they came, not for Jesus’ sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead. ¹⁰But the chief priests plotted to kill Lazarus also, ¹¹because on account of him many of the Jewish people went away and believed in Jesus.

¹²On the next day the large crowd that had come to the feast heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, ¹³they took the branches of the palm trees, and went out to meet him, and were shouting, “Hosanna^b. Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord,^c the King of Israel.”

¹⁴And Jesus, having found a young donkey, sat on it. As it is written, ¹⁵“Do not be afraid,^d daughter of Zion. Look, your King comes, sitting on a donkey’s colt.”^e ¹⁶His disciples did not understand these things at first, but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written about him, and that they had done these things to him. ¹⁷The crowd therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb, and raised him from the dead, was testifying about it. ¹⁸For this cause also the crowd went and met him, because they heard that he had done this sign. ¹⁹The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, “See how you accomplish nothing. Look, the whole^f world has gone after him.”

²⁰Now there were certain Greeks among those that went up to worship at the feast. ²¹These, therefore, came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him, saying, “Sir, we want to see Jesus.” ²²Philip came and told Andrew, and in turn, Andrew came with Philip, and they told Jesus. ²³And Jesus answered them, “The time has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. ²⁴Truly, truly, I tell you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains by itself alone. But if it dies, it bears much fruit. ²⁵He who loves his life loses^g it, and he who hates his life in this world will keep it to everlasting life. ²⁶If anyone serves me, let him follow me; and where I am, there will my servant also be. If anyone serves me, the Father will honor him.

²⁷“Now my soul is troubled. And what should I say? ‘Father, save me from this hour?’ But for this cause I came to this hour. ²⁸Father, glorify your name.”

Then there came a voice out of the sky, saying, “I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.”

²⁹The crowd therefore, who stood by and heard it, said that it had thundered. Others said, “An angel has spoken to him.”

³⁰Jesus answered, “This voice hasn’t come for my sake, but for your sakes. ³¹Now is the judgment of this world. Now the prince of this world will be cast out. ³²And I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw everyone to myself.” ³³But he said this, signifying by what kind of death he should die. ³⁴The crowd answered him, “We have heard out of the law that the Christ remains forever.^h Then how can you say, ‘The Son of Man must be lifted up?’ Who is this Son of Man?”

³⁵Jesus therefore said to them, “Yet a little while the light is with you. Walk while you have the light, that darkness does not overtake you. He who walks in the darkness does not know where he is going. ³⁶While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become children of light.” Jesus said these things, and he departed and hid himself from them. ³⁷But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they did not believe in him, ³⁸that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spoke, “Lord, who has believed our report, And to whom has the power of the Lord been revealed?”ⁱ

³⁹For this cause they could not believe, for Isaiah said again, ⁴⁰He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart, lest they should see with their eyes, and understand with their heart, and turn,^j and I would heal them.^k

⁴¹Isaiah said these things because^l he saw his glory, and spoke of him.^m ⁴²Nevertheless even of the rulers many believed in him, but because of the Pharisees they did not confess it, so that they would not be put out of the synagogue, ⁴³for they loved praise from people more than praise from God.

⁴⁴Then Jesus shouted out and said, “Whoever believes in me, believes not in me, but in him who sent me. ⁴⁵And he who sees me sees him who sent me. ⁴⁶I have come as a light into the world, that whoever believes in me may not remain in the darkness. ⁴⁷And if anyone hears my words and does not keep themⁿ, I do not judge him. For I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. ⁴⁸He who rejects me, and does not accept my words, has one who judges him. The word that I spoke will judge him on the last day. ⁴⁹For I spoke not from myself, but the Father who sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. ⁵⁰I know that his commandment is everlasting life. The things therefore which I speak, even as the Father has said to me, so I speak.”

13 Now before the feast of the Passover, Jesus, knowing that his time had come that he would depart from this world to the Father, having loved his own who were in the world, he loved them to the end. ²And during^o the evening meal, the devil had already put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon’s son, to betray him. ³Because he^p knew that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he came forth from God, and was going to God, ⁴arose from the meal, and removed his outer garments. disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel that was wrapped around him. ⁶Then he came to Simon Peter. He said to him, "Lord, do you wash my feet?"

⁷Jesus answered him, "You do not know what I am doing now, but you will understand later."

⁸Peter said to him, "You will never wash my feet."

Jesus answered him, "If I do not wash you, you have no part with me."

⁹Simon Peter said to him, "Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head."

¹⁰Jesus said to him, "Someone who has bathed only needs to have his feet washed, but is completely clean. You are clean, but not all of you." ¹¹For he knew him who would betray him, therefore he said, "You are not all clean." ¹²So when he had washed their feet, put his outer garment back on, and sat down again, he said to them, "Do you know what I have done to you? ¹³You call me, 'Teacher' and 'Lord.' You say so correctly, for so I am. ¹⁴If I then, the Lord and the Teacher, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another's feet. ¹⁵For I have given you an example, that you also should do as I have done to you. ¹⁶Truly, truly, I tell you, a servant is not greater than his master, neither one who is sent greater than he who sent him. ¹⁷If you know these things, blessed are you if you do them. ¹⁸I do not speak concerning all of you. I know whom I have chosen. But that the Scripture may be fulfilled, 'He who ate my bread^a has lifted up his heel against me.'^b ¹⁹I am telling you this now before it happens, so that when it does happen you may believe that I am he. ²⁰Truly, truly, I tell you, he who receives whomever I send, receives me; and he who receives me, receives him who sent me."

²¹When Jesus had said this, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, "Truly, truly, I tell you that one of you will betray me."

²²The disciples looked at one another, perplexed about whom he spoke. ²³One of his disciples, whom Jesus loved, was reclining against Jesus' chest. ²⁴Simon Peter therefore motioned to him to inquire who it was he was talking about.

²⁵He, leaning back, as he was, on Jesus' chest, asked him, "Lord, who is it?"

²⁶Jesus therefore answered, "It is he to whom I will give this piece of bread when I have dipped it." So when he had dipped the piece of bread, he gave it to Judas, the son of Simon Iscariot. ²⁷After the piece of bread, then Satan entered into him.

Then Jesus said to him, "What you do, do quickly."

²⁸Now none of those reclining knew why he said this to him. ²⁹For some thought, because Judas had the money box, that Jesus said to him, "Buy what things we need for the feast," or that he should give something to the poor. ³⁰Therefore, having received the piece of bread, he went out immediately; and it was night.

³¹When he had gone out, Jesus said, "Now the Son of Man has been glorified, and God has been glorified in him. ³²If God has been glorified in him,^c God will also glorify him in himself, and he will glorify him at once. ³³Little children, I will be with you a little while longer. You will seek me, and as I said to the Jewish leaders, 'Where I am going, you cannot come,' so now I tell you. ³⁴A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another. Just as I have loved you, you also must love one another. ³⁵By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another."

³⁶Simon Peter said to him, "Lord, where are you going?"

Jesus answered, "Where I am going, you cannot follow now, but you will follow afterwards."

³⁷Peter said to him, "Lord, why can I not follow you now? I will lay down my life for you."

³⁸Jesus answered him, "Will you lay down your life for me? Truly, truly, I tell you, the rooster won't crow until you have denied me three times.

14 "Do not let your heart be troubled. Believe in God. Believe also in me. ²In my Father's house are many rooms. If it weren't so, I would have told you; for I go^d to prepare a place for you. ³And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and will receive you to myself; that where I am, you may be there also. ⁴And you know the way^e where I am going."

⁵Thomas said to him, "Lord, we do not know where you are going. How can we know the way?"

⁶Jesus said to him, "I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. ⁷If you know me, you will know my Father also. From now on you do know him and have seen him."

⁸Philip said to him, "Lord, show us the Father, and that will be enough for us."

⁹Jesus said to him, "Have I been with you all this time, and still you do not know me, Philip? He who has seen me has seen the Father. my commandments. ¹⁶I will pray to the Father, and he will give you another Helper,^a that he may be with you forever,—¹⁷the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive; because it neither sees him nor knows him; but you know him, for he lives with you, and will be in you. ¹⁸I will not leave you orphans. I will come to you. ¹⁹Yet a little while, and the world will see me no more; but you will see me. Because I live, you will live also. ²⁰In that day you will know that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you. ²¹The one who has my commandments and keeps them is the one who loves me. And the one who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him, and will reveal myself to him.”

²³Jesus answered and said to him, “If anyone loves me, he will keep my word; and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our dwelling place with him. ²⁴He who does not love me does not keep my words. The word which you hear is not mine, but the Father’s who sent me. ²⁵All this I have spoken to you while I am still with you. ²⁶But the Helper, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things, and will remind you of all that I said to you. ²⁷Peace I leave with you. My peace I give to you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. ²⁸You heard how I told you, ‘I am going away, and I will come to you.’ If you loved me, you would rejoice that^b I am going to the^c Father; for the Father is greater than I. ²⁹Now I have told you before it happens so that, when it happens, you may believe. ³⁰I will not speak with you much longer, for the ruler of this world is coming, and he has no hold on me. ³¹But that the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father commanded me, so I do. Arise, let us go from here.

15 “I am the true vine, and my Father is the gardener. ²Every branch in me that does not bear fruit, he takes away. Every branch that bears fruit, he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. ³You are already clean because of the word which I have spoken to you. ⁴Remain in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it remains in the vine, so neither can you, unless you remain in me. ⁵I am the vine. You are the branches. He who remains in me, and I in him, the same bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. ⁶If anyone does not remain in me, he is thrown out as a branch, and withers; and they gather them, throw them into the fire, and they are burned. ⁷If you remain in me, and my words remain in you,^d ask whatever you desire, and it will be done for you.

⁸“In this is my Father glorified, that you bear much fruit and so prove to be my disciples. ⁹Even as the Father has loved me, I also have loved you. Remain in my love. ¹⁰If you keep my commandments, you will remain in my love; even as I have kept my Father’s commandments, and remain in his love. ¹¹I have spoken these things to you, that my joy may be^e in you, and that your joy may be made full.

¹²“This is my commandment, that you love one another, even as I have loved you. ¹³Greater love has no one than this, that someone lays down his life for his friends. ¹⁴You are my friends, if you do whatever I command you. ¹⁵No longer do I call you servants, for the servant does not know what his master is doing. But I have called you friends, for everything that I heard from my Father I have made known to you. ¹⁶You did not choose me, but I chose you, and appointed you, that you should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that whatever you will ask of the Father in my name, he may give it to you.

¹⁷“I command these things to you, that you may love one another. ¹⁸If the world hates you, you know that it has hated me before it hated you. ¹⁹If you were of the world, the world would love its own. But because you are not of the world, since I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you. ²⁰Remember the word that I said to you: ‘A servant is not greater than his master.’^f If they persecuted me, they will also persecute you. If they kept my word, they will keep yours also. ²¹But all these things will they do to you because of my name, because they do not know him who sent me. ²²If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have had sin; but now they have no excuse for their sin. ²³He who hates me hates my Father also. ²⁴If I had not done among them the works which no one else did, they would not have had sin. But now have they seen and also hated both me and my Father. ²⁵But this happened so that the word may be fulfilled which is written in their law, ‘They hated me without a cause.’^g ²⁶“When the Helper^h has come, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will testify about me. ²⁷And you will also testify, because you have been with me from the beginning.

16 “I have said all these things to you so that you may be kept from stumbling. ²They will put you out of the synagogues, but an hour is coming when whoever kills you will think that he is offering a service to God. ³They will do these things because they have not known the Father or me. ⁴But I have told you these things, so that when theirⁱ hour comes, you may remember that I told you about them. I did not tell you these things from the beginning, because I was with you. ⁵But now I am going to him who sent me, and none of you asks me, ‘Where are you going?’ ⁶But because I have told you these things, sorrow has filled your heart. ⁷Nevertheless I tell you the truth: It is to your advantage that I go away, for if I do not go away, the Helper won’t come to you. But if I go, I will send him to you. ⁸When he has come, he will convict the world about sin, and about righteousness, and about judgment; ⁹about sin, because they do not believe in me; ¹⁰about righteousness, because I am going to the^j Father, and you won’t see me any more; ¹¹about judgment, because the prince of this world has been judged.

¹²“I have yet many things to tell you, but you cannot bear them now. ¹³However when he, the Spirit of truth, has come, he will guide you into all truth, for he will not speak on his own; but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you things that are coming. ¹⁴He will glorify me, for he will take from what is mine, and will declare it to you. ¹⁵All things that the Father has are mine; that is why I said that he takes of mine, and will declare it to you.

¹⁷Some of his disciples therefore said to one another, “What is this that he says to us, ‘A little while, and you won’t see me, and again a little while, and you will see me;’ and, ‘Because I go to the Father?’” ¹⁸They kept asking, “What is this that he says, ‘A little while?’ We do not know what he is saying.”

¹⁹Jesus knew that they wanted to ask him, so he said to them, “Do you inquire among yourselves concerning this, that I said, ‘A little while, and you won’t see me, and again a little while, and you will see me?’” ²⁰Truly, truly, I tell you, that you will weep and lament, but the world will rejoice. You will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will be turned into joy. ²¹A woman, when she gives birth, has pain, because her time has come. But when she has delivered the child, she does not remember the anguish any more, for the joy that a human being is born into the world. ²²Therefore you have sorrow now, but I will see you again, and your heart will rejoice, and no one will take you away from you.

²³“And in that day you will ask nothing of me. Truly, truly I tell you, whatever you may ask of the Father in my name, he will give it to you. ²⁴Until now, you have asked nothing in my name. Ask, and you will receive, that your joy may be made full. ²⁵I have spoken these things to you in figures of speech. The^b hour is coming when I will no more speak to you in figures of speech, but will tell you plainly about the Father. ²⁶In that day you will ask in my name, and I am not saying to you that I will ask the Father on your behalf, ²⁷for the Father himself loves you, because you have loved me, and have believed that I came forth from God. ²⁸I came forth from the Father and have come into the world. Again, I leave the world, and go to the Father.”

²⁹His disciples said to him, “Look, now you are speaking plainly and not in any figure of speech. ³⁰Now we know that you know all things and do not need anyone to question you. By this we believe that you came forth from God.”

³¹Jesus answered them, “Do you now believe? ³²Look, the time is coming, and has^c come, that you will be scattered, everyone to his own place, and you will leave me alone. But I am not alone, because the Father is with me. ³³I have told you these things, that in me you may have peace. In the world you have oppression; but cheer up. I have overcome the world.”

17 Jesus said these things, and lifting up his eyes to heaven, he said, “Father, the time has come. Glorify your Son, that your Son may also glorify you; ²even as you gave him authority over all flesh, he will give everlasting life to all whom you have given him. ³This is everlasting life, that they may know you, the only true God, and him whom you sent, Jesus Christ. ⁴I glorified you on the earth by accomplishing the work which you have given me to do. ⁵Now, Father, glorify me with your own self with the glory which I had with you before the world existed. ⁶I revealed your name to the people whom you have given me out of the world. They were yours, and you have given them to me. They have kept your word. ⁷Now they have known that all things whatever you have given me are from you, ⁸for the words which you have given me I have given to them, and they received them, and knew for sure that I came forth from you, and they have believed that you sent me. ⁹I pray for them. I do not pray for the world, but for those whom you have given me, for they are yours. ¹⁰All things that are mine are yours, and yours are mine, and I am glorified in them. ¹¹I am no more in the world, but they are in the world, and I am coming to you. Holy Father, keep them through your name which you have given me, that they may be one, even as we are. ¹²While I was with them^d, I kept them in your name^e which you have given me, and I guarded them, and not one of them perished, except the son of destruction, that the Scripture might be fulfilled. ¹³But now I come to you, and I say these things in the world, that they may have my joy made full in themselves. ¹⁴I have given them your word. The world hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. ¹⁵I pray not that you would take them from the world, but that you would keep them from the evil one. ¹⁶They are not of the world even as I am not of the world. ¹⁷Sanctify them in the^f truth. Your word is truth.^g ¹⁸As you sent me into the world, even so I have sent them into the world. ¹⁹For their sakes I sanctify myself, that they themselves also may be sanctified in truth. ²⁰Not for these only do I pray, but for those also who believe in me through their word, ²¹that they may all be one; even as you, Father, are in me, and I in you, that they also may be^h in us; that the world may believe that you sent me. ²²The glory which you have given me, I have given to them; that they may be one, even as we are one; ²³I in them, and you in me, that they may be perfected into one; that the world may know that you sent me, and loved them, even as you loved me. ²⁴Father, I desire that they also whom you have given me be with me where I am, that they may see my glory, which you have given me, for you loved me before the foundation of the world. ²⁵Righteous Father, the world hasn’t known you, but I knew you; and these knew that you sent me. ²⁶I made known to them your name, and will make it known; that the love with which you loved me may be in them, and I in them.”

18 When Jesus had spoken these words, he went out with his disciples over the wadi of the Kidron, where there was a garden, into which he and his disciples entered. ²Now Judas, who betrayed him, also knew the place, for Jesus often met there with his disciples. ³Judas then, having taken a detachment of soldiers and officers from the chief priests and the Pharisees, came there with lanterns, torches, and weapons. ⁴Jesus therefore, knowing all the things that were happening to him, went forth, and said to them, “Who are you looking for?”

⁵They answered him, “Jesus the Nazorean.”

Jesus said to them, “I AM.”

Judas also, who betrayed him, was standing with them. ⁶When therefore he said to them, “I AM,” they went backward, and fell to the ground.

⁷Again therefore he asked them, “Who are you looking for?”

They said, “Jesus the Nazorean.”

⁸Jesus answered, “I told you that I AM. If therefore you seek me, let these go their way,” ⁹that the word might be fulfilled which he spoke, “Of those whom you have given me, I have lost none.”^a ¹⁰Simon Peter therefore, having a sword, drew it, and struck the high priest’s servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant’s name was Malchus. ¹¹Jesus therefore said to Peter, “Put the sword into its sheath. Am I not to drink the cup which the^b Father has given me?”

¹²So the detachment, the commanding officer, and the officers of the Jewish leaders, seized Jesus and bound him, ¹³and led him to Annas first, for he was father-in-law to Caiaphas, who was high priest that year. ¹⁴Now it was Caiaphas who advised the Jewish leaders that it was expedient that one man should die for the people. ¹⁵Simon Peter followed Jesus, as did another disciple. Now that disciple was known to the high priest, and entered in with Jesus into the court of the high priest; ¹⁶but Peter was standing at the door outside. So the other disciple, who was known to the high priest, went out and spoke to her who kept the door, and brought in Peter. ¹⁷Then the maid who kept the door said to Peter, “Are you also one of this man’s disciples?”

He said, “I am not.”

¹⁸Now the servants and the officers were standing there, having made a fire of coals, for it was cold. They were warming themselves. Peter was with them, standing and warming himself. ¹⁹The high priest therefore asked Jesus about his disciples, and about his teaching. ²⁰Jesus answered him, “I spoke openly to the world. I always taught in synagogues, and in the temple, where all the Jewish people come together^c. I said nothing in secret. ²¹Why do you ask me? Ask those who have heard what I spoke to them; surely they know what I said.”

²²When he had said this, one of the officers standing by slapped Jesus with his hand, saying, “Do you answer the high priest like that?”

²³Jesus answered him, “If I have spoken evil, testify of the evil; but if well, why do you beat me?”

²⁴Annas sent him bound to Caiaphas, the high priest. ²⁵Now Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. They said therefore to him, “You are not also one of his disciples, are you?”

He denied it, and said, “I am not.”

²⁶One of the servants of the high priest, being a relative of him whose ear Peter had cut off, said, “Did I not see you in the garden with him?”

²⁷Peter therefore denied it again, and immediately the rooster crowed.

²⁸They led Jesus therefore from Caiaphas into the Praetorium. It was early, and they themselves did not enter into the Praetorium, that they might not be defiled, but might eat the Passover. ²⁹Pilate therefore went out to them, and said, “What accusation do you bring against this man?”

³⁰They answered him, “If this man weren’t an evildoer, we would not have delivered him up to you.”

³¹Pilate therefore said to them, “Take him yourselves, and judge him according to your law.”

Therefore the Jewish leaders said to him, “It is not lawful for us to put anyone to death,” ³²that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spoke, signifying by what kind of death he should die.

³³Pilate therefore entered again into the Praetorium, called Jesus, and said to him, “Are you the King of the Jews?”

³⁴Jesus answered him, “Do you say this by yourself, or did others tell you about me?”

³⁵Pilate answered, “I’m not a Jew, am I? Your own nation and the chief priests delivered you to me. What have you done?”

³⁶Jesus answered, “My kingdom is not of this world. If my kingdom were of this world, then my servants would fight, that I would not be delivered to the Jewish leaders. But now my kingdom is not from here.”

³⁷Pilate therefore said to him, “Are you a king then?”

Jesus answered, “You say that I am a king. For this reason I have been born, and for this reason I have come into the world, that I should testify to the truth. Everyone who is of the truth listens to my voice.”

³⁸Pilate said to him, “What is truth?”

When he had said this, he went out again to the Jewish leaders, and said to them, “I find no basis for a charge against him. ³⁹But you have a custom, that I should release someone to you at the Passover. Therefore do you want me to release to you the King of the Jews?”

⁴⁰Then they^d shouted again, saying, “Not this man, but Barabbas.” Now Barabbas was a robber.

19 So Pilate then took Jesus, and flogged him. ²The soldiers twisted thorns into a crown, and put it on his head, and dressed him in a purple garment. ³And they kept coming up to him and^e saying, “Greetings, King of the Jews.” and they struck him with their hands.

⁴Then Pilate went out again, and said to them, “Look, I am bringing him out to you, that you may know that I find no basis for a charge against him.”

⁵Then Jesus came out, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple garment. And he said to them, “Look, here is the man.”

⁶When therefore the chief priests and the officers saw him, they shouted, saying, “Crucify. Crucify.”

Pilate said to them, “Take him yourselves, and crucify him, for I find no basis for a charge against him.”

⁷The Jewish leaders answered him, “We have a law, and by that^a law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.”

⁸When therefore Pilate heard this saying, he was more afraid. ⁹He entered into the Praetorium again, and said to Jesus, “Where are you from?” But Jesus gave him no answer. ¹⁰Pilate therefore said to him, “Are you not speaking to me? Do you not know that I have power to release you, and have power to crucify you?”

¹¹Jesus answered, “You would have no power at all against me, unless it were given to you from above. Therefore he who delivered me to you has greater sin.”

¹²At this, Pilate was seeking to release him, but the Jewish leaders shouted, saying, “If you release this man, you are not Caesar’s friend. Everyone who makes himself a king speaks against Caesar.”

¹³When Pilate therefore heard these words, he brought Jesus out, and sat down on the judgment seat at a place called “The Pavement,” but in Hebrew, “Gabbatha.”^b ¹⁴Now it was the Preparation Day of the Passover, at about noon.^c He said to the Jewish leaders, “Look, here is your King.”

¹⁵They shouted, “Away with him. Away with him. Crucify him.”

Pilate said to them, “Should I crucify your King?”

The chief priests answered, “We have no king but Caesar.”

¹⁶So then he delivered him to them to be crucified. So they took Jesus.^d ¹⁷And he went out, carrying the cross himself, to the place called “The Place of a Skull,”^e which is called in Hebrew, “Golgotha,” ¹⁸where they crucified him, and with him two others, on either side one, and Jesus in the middle. ¹⁹Pilate wrote a title also, and put it on the cross. There was written, “JESUS THE NAZOREAN, THE KING OF THE JEWS.”^f ²⁰Therefore many Jews read this title, for the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city; and it was written in Hebrew, in Latin, and in Greek. ²¹The chief priests of the Jewish people therefore said to Pilate, “Do not write, ‘The King of the Jews,’ but, ‘he said, I am King of the Jews.’”

²²Pilate answered, “What I have written, I have written.”

²³Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his clothes and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the tunic. Now the tunic was without seam, woven from the top throughout. ²⁴Then they said to one another, “Let us not tear it, but cast lots for it to decide whose it will be,” that the Scripture might be fulfilled, which says,

“They divided my clothes among themselves, and for my clothing they cast a lot.”^g

Therefore the soldiers did these things. ²⁵But there were standing by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother’s sister, Mary the wife of Cleopas, and Mary Magdalene. ²⁶Therefore when Jesus saw his mother, and the disciple whom he loved standing there, he said to his mother, “Woman, look, your son.” ²⁷Then he said to the disciple, “Look, your mother.” From that hour, the disciple took her to his own home.

²⁸After this, Jesus, knowing^h that all things were now finished, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, said, “I am thirsty.”^h ²⁹A vessel full of sour wine was set there; so they put a sponge full of the vinegar on hyssop, and held it at his mouth. ³⁰When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, “It is finished.” He bowed his head, and gave up his spirit.

³¹Therefore the Jewish leaders, because it was the Preparation Day, so that the bodies would not remain on the cross on the Sabbath (for that Sabbath was a special one), asked of Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away. ³²Therefore the soldiers came, and broke the legs of the first, and of the other who was crucified with him; ³³but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was already dead, they did not break his legs. ³⁴However one of the soldiers pierced his side with a spear, and immediately blood and water came out. ³⁵He who has seen has testified, and his testimony is true. He knows that he tells the truth, that you may believe. ³⁶For these things happened, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, “A bone of him will not be broken.”ⁱ ³⁷Again another Scripture says, “They will look on him whom they pierced.”^j ³⁸After these things, Joseph of Arimathea^k, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jewish leaders, asked of Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus. Pilate gave him permission. He came therefore and took away his body.^l ³⁹Nicodemus, who at first came to Jesus by night, also came bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about seventy-five pounds.^m ⁴⁰So they took the body of Jesus, and bound it in linen cloths with the spices, according to Jewish burial practice. ⁴¹Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden. In the garden was a new tomb in which no one had ever yet been placed. ⁴²Then because of the Jewish Preparation Day (for the tomb was nearby) they put Jesus there.

20 Now on the first day of the weekⁿ, Mary Magdalene went early, while it was still dark, to the tomb, and saw the stone taken away from the tomb. ²Therefore she ran and came to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and said to them, “They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we do not know where they have put him.”

³Therefore Peter and the other disciple went out, and they went toward the tomb. ⁴They both ran together. The other disciple outran Peter, and came to the tomb first. ⁵Stooping and looking in, he saw the linen cloths lying, yet he did not enter in. ⁶Then Simon Peter came, following him, and entered into the tomb. He saw the linen cloths lying, ⁷and the cloth that had been on his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but rolled up in a place by itself. ⁸So then the other disciple who came first to the tomb also entered in, and he saw and believed. ⁹For as yet they did not know the Scripture, that he must rise from the dead.^a ¹⁰So the disciples went away again to their own homes.

¹¹But Mary was standing outside at the tomb weeping. So, as she wept, she stooped and looked into the tomb, ¹²and she saw two angels in white sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. ¹³They told her, “Woman, why are you weeping?”

She said to them, “Because they have taken away my Lord, and I do not know where they have put him.” ¹⁴When she had said this, she turned around and saw Jesus standing, and did not know that it was Jesus.

¹⁵Jesus said to her, “Woman, why are you weeping? Who are you looking for?”

She, supposing him to be the gardener, said to him, “Sir, if you have carried him away, tell me where you have put him, and I will take him away.”

¹⁶Jesus said to her, “Mary.” She turned and said to him in Hebrew,^b “Rabboni.” which is to say, “Teacher.”

¹⁷Jesus said to her, “Do not touch me, for I have not yet ascended to the^c Father; but go to my brothers, and tell them, ‘I am ascending to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God.’”

¹⁸Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples, “I have seen the Lord,”^d and that he had said these things to her. ¹⁹When therefore it was evening, on that day, the first day of the week^e, and when the doors were locked where the disciples were,^f for fear of the Jewish leaders, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and said to them, “Peace be to you.”

²⁰When he had said this, he showed them his hands and his side. The disciples therefore were glad when they saw the Lord. ²¹Jesus therefore said to them again, “Peace be to you. As the Father has sent me, even so I send you.” ²²When he had said this, he breathed on them, and said to them, “Receive the Holy Spirit. ²³Whoever’s sins you forgive, they are forgiven them. Whoever’s sins you retain, they have been retained.”

²⁴But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. ²⁵The other disciples therefore said to him, “We have seen the Lord.”

But he said to them, “Unless I see in his hands the mark of the nails, and put my finger into the mark of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe.”

²⁶After eight days again his disciples were inside, and Thomas was with them. Jesus came, the doors being locked, and stood in the midst, and said, “Peace be to you.” ²⁷Then he said to Thomas, “Put your finger here, and observe my hands. Reach out your hand, and put it into my side; and do not be unbelieving, but believing.”

²⁸Thomas answered and said to him, “My Lord and my God.”

²⁹Jesus said to him, “Because you have seen me,^g you have believed. Blessed are those who have not seen, and have believed.”

³⁰Therefore Jesus did many other signs in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book; ³¹but these are written, that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have life in his name.

21 After these things, Jesus revealed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias. He revealed himself this way. ²Simon Peter, Thomas called Didymus, Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two others of his disciples were together. ³Simon Peter said to them, “I’m going fishing.”

They told him, “We are also coming with you.” They^h went out, and entered into the boat. That night, they caught nothing. ⁴But when day had already come, Jesus stood on the beach, yet the disciples did not know that it was Jesus. ⁵Jesus therefore said to them, “Children, have you anything to eat?” They answered him, “No.”

⁶And he said to them, “Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and you will find some.”

They cast it therefore, and now they weren’t able to draw it in for the multitude of fish. ⁷That disciple therefore whom Jesus loved said to Peter, “It’s the Lord.”

So when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he wrapped his coat around him (for he was naked), and threw himself into the sea. ⁸But the other disciples came in the little boat (for they were not far from the land, but about one hundred yardsⁱ away), dragging the net full of fish. ⁹So when they got out on the land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish placed on it, and bread. ¹⁰Jesus said to them, “Bring some of the fish which you have just caught.”

¹¹Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land, full of great fish, one hundred fifty-three; and even though there were so many, the net was not torn.

¹²Jesus said to them, “Come and eat breakfast.”

None of the disciples dared inquire of him, “Who are you?” knowing that it was the Lord.

¹³Then Jesus came and took the bread, gave it to them, and the fish likewise. ¹⁴This is now the third time that Jesus was revealed to his disciples, after he had risen from the dead. ¹⁵So when they had eaten their breakfast, Jesus said to Simon Peter, “Simon, son of John,^a do you love me more than these?” He said to him, “Yes, Lord; you know that I love you.” He said to him, “Feed my lambs.”

¹⁶He said to him again a second time, “Simon, son of John, do you love me?” He said to him, “Yes, Lord; you know that I love you.” He said to him, “Tend my sheep.”

¹⁷He said to him the third time, “Simon, son of John, do you love me?” Peter was grieved because he asked him the third time, “Do you love me?” And he said to him, “Lord, you know everything. You know that I love you.” Jesus said to him, “Feed my sheep. ¹⁸Truly I tell you, when you were young, you dressed yourself, and walked where you wanted to. But when you are old, you will stretch out your hands, and another will dress you, and carry you where you do not want to go.”

¹⁹Now he said this, signifying by what kind of death he would glorify God. When he had said this, he said to him, “Follow me.”

²⁰Then Peter, turning around, saw a disciple following. This was the disciple whom Jesus sincerely loved, the one who had also leaned on Jesus’ chest at the evening meal and asked, “Lord, who is going to betray You?” ²¹Peter seeing him, said to Jesus, “Lord, what about this man?”

²²Jesus said to him, “If I desire that he stay until I come, what is that to you? You follow me.” ²³This saying therefore went out among the brothers, that this disciple would not die. Yet Jesus did not say to him that he would not die, but, “If I desire that he stay until I come, what is that to you?” ²⁴This is the disciple who testifies about these things, and wrote these things. We know that his witness is true. ²⁵There are also many other things which Jesus did, which if they would all be written, I suppose that even the world itself would not have room for the books that would be written.

Acts

1 The first account^b I wrote, Theophilus, concerned all that Jesus began both to do and to teach, ²until the day in which he was received up, after he had given commandment through the Holy Spirit to the apostles whom he had chosen. ³To these he also showed himself alive after he suffered, by many proofs, appearing to them over a period of forty days, and speaking about God’s kingdom. ⁴Being assembled together with them, he commanded them, “Do not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which you heard from me. ⁵For John indeed baptized in water, but you will be baptized in the Holy Spirit not many days from now.”

⁶Therefore, when they had come together, they asked him, “Lord, are you now restoring the kingdom to Israel?”

⁷He said to them, “It is not for you to know times or seasons which the Father has set within his own authority. ⁸But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you. You will be my witnesses^c in Jerusalem, in all Judea and Samaria, and to the farthest part of the earth.”

⁹When he had said these things, as they were looking, he was taken up, and a cloud took him out of their sight. ¹⁰While they were looking steadfastly into the sky as he went, look, two men stood by them in white clothing, ¹¹who also said, “You men of Galilee, why do you stand looking into the sky? This Jesus, who was received up from you into the sky will come back in the same way as you saw him going into the sky.”

¹²Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mountain called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, a Sabbath day’s journey away. ¹³When they had come in, they went up into the upper room, where they were staying; that is Peter, John, James, Andrew, Philip, Thomas, Bartholomew, Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, Simon the Zealot, and Judas the son of James. ¹⁴All these with one accord continued steadfastly in prayer,^d along with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brothers.

¹⁵In these days, Peter stood up in the midst of the brothers^e (and the number of names was about one hundred twenty), and said, ¹⁶“Brothers, it was necessary that this Scripture should be fulfilled, which the Holy Spirit spoke before by the mouth of David concerning Judas, who was guide to those who took Jesus. ¹⁷For he was numbered with us, and received his portion in this ministry. ¹⁸Now this man obtained a field with the reward for his wickedness, and falling headfirst his body burst open, and all his intestines gushed out. ¹⁹It became known to everyone who lived in Jerusalem that in their language that field was called ‘Hakel-Dema,’ that is, ‘The field of blood.’ ²⁰For it is written in the scroll of Psalms, ‘Let his habitation be made desolate, And let no one dwell in it;’^f and, ‘Let another take his office.’^g

²¹“Of the men therefore who have accompanied us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us, ²²beginning from the baptism of John, to the day that he was received up from us, of these one must become a witness with us of his resurrection.”

²³They put forward two, Joseph called Barsabbas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias. ²⁴They prayed, and said, “You, Lord, who know the hearts of all people, show which one of these two you have chosen ²⁵to take part in this ministry and office of apostle from which Judas turned away to go to his own place.” ²⁶They drew lots for them, and the lot fell on Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

2 Now when the day of Pentecost^h had come, they were all togetherⁱ in one place. ²Suddenly there came from the sky a sound like the rushing of a mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. ³Tongues like fire appeared and were distributed to them, and one sat on each of them. ⁴They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them the ability to speak. ⁵Now there were dwelling in Jerusalem Jews, devout men, from every nation under the sky. ⁶When this sound was heard, the crowd came together, and were bewildered, because everyone heard them speaking in his own language. ⁷They were all amazed and marveled, saying, ^a“Look, are not all these who speak Galileans?” ⁸How do we hear, everyone in our own native language? ⁹Parthians, Medes, Elamites, and people from Mesopotamia, Judea, Cappadocia, Pontus, Asia, ¹⁰Phrygia, Pamphylia, Egypt, the parts of Libya around Cyrene, visitors from Rome, both Jews and proselytes, ¹¹Cretans and Arabians: we hear them speaking in our tongues the mighty works of God.” ¹²They were all amazed, and were perplexed, saying one to another, “What does this mean?” ¹³Others, mocking, said, “They are filled with new wine.”

¹⁴But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spoke out to them, “You men of Judea, and all you who live in Jerusalem, let this be known to you, and listen to my words. ¹⁵For these are not drunk, as you suppose, seeing it is only nine in the morning.” ¹⁶But this is what has been spoken through the prophet Joel:

¹⁷“And it will be in the last days, says God,
that I will pour out my Spirit on all flesh;
and your sons and your daughters will prophesy,
and your young men will see visions,
and your old men will dream dreams.

¹⁸And even on my servants, both men and women,
I will pour out my Spirit in those days, and they will prophesy.

¹⁹And I will show wonders in the sky above,
and signs on the earth beneath;
blood, and fire, and billows^c of smoke.

²⁰The sun will be turned into darkness,
and the moon into blood,
before the great and glorious day of the Lord comes.

²¹And it will be that whoever will call on the name of the Lord will be saved.^d

²²“Men of Israel, hear these words. Jesus the Nazorean, a man approved by God to you by mighty works and wonders and signs which God did by him in the midst of you, even as you yourselves know, ²³him, being delivered up by the determined counsel and foreknowledge of God,^e by the hand of lawless men, crucified and killed; ²⁴whom God raised up, having freed him from the pains of death, because it was not possible that he should be held by it. ²⁵For David says concerning him,

“I saw the Lord always before me, for he is at my right hand, that I should not be shaken.

²⁶Therefore my heart was glad, and my tongue rejoiced, and moreover my flesh also will dwell in hope; ²⁷because you will not abandon my soul in Sheol,^f

neither will you allow your Holy One to see decay.
²⁸You made known to me the paths of life.
You will make me full of joy in your presence.”^g

²⁹“Brothers, I may tell you freely of the patriarch David, that he both died and was buried, and his tomb is with us to this day. ³⁰Therefore, being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him that one from the fruit of his body^h would sit on his throne,ⁱ ³¹he foreseeing this spoke about the resurrection of the Christ, that neither was he^j abandoned in Sheol, nor did his flesh see decay.^k ³²This Jesus God raised up, to which we all are witnesses. ³³Being therefore exalted by the right hand of God, and having received from the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, he has poured out this, which you^l see and hear. ³⁴For David did not ascend into the heavens, but he says himself,
“The Lord said to my Lord, “Sit by my right hand,
³⁵until I make your enemies a footstool for your feet.”^m

³⁶“Let all the house of Israel therefore know certainly that God has made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom you crucified.”

³⁷Now when they heard this, they were acutely distressed, and said to Peter and the restⁿ of the apostles, “Brothers, what should we do?”

³⁸Peter said to them, “Repent, and be baptized, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your^o sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. ³⁹For to you is the promise, and to your children, and to all who are far off, even as many as the Lord our God will call to himself.” ⁴⁰With many other words he testified, and exhorted them, saying, “Save yourselves from this crooked generation.”

⁴¹Then those who^p received his word were baptized. There were added that day about three thousand souls. ⁴²They continued steadfastly in the apostles’ teaching and fellowship, in the breaking of bread, and prayer. ⁴³Fear came on every soul, and many wonders and signs were done through the^q apostles.^r ⁴⁴All who believed were together, and had all things in common. ⁴⁵They sold their possessions and goods, and distributed them to all, according as anyone had need. ⁴⁶Day by day, continuing steadfastly with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread at home, they took their food with gladness and singleness of heart, ⁴⁷praising God, and having favor with all the people. The Lord added to their number^s day by day those who were being saved.

Beautiful,^a to ask gifts for the needy of those who entered into the temple. ³Seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, he asked to receive gifts for the needy. ⁴Peter, fastening his eyes on him, with John, said, “Look at us.” ⁵He listened to them, expecting to receive something from them. ⁶But Peter said, “Silver and gold have I none, but what I have, that I give you. In the name of Jesus Christ the Nazorean, get up and walk.” ⁷He took him by the right hand, and raised him up. Immediately his feet and his ankle bones received strength. ⁸Leaping up, he stood, and began to walk. He entered with them into the temple, walking, leaping, and praising God. ⁹All the people saw him walking and praising God. ¹⁰They recognized him, that it was he who used to sit begging for gifts for the needy at the Beautiful^b Gate of the temple. They were filled with wonder and amazement at what had happened to him. ¹¹And as he^c held on to Peter and John, all the people ran together to them in the porch that is called Solomon’s, greatly wondering.

¹²When Peter saw it, he responded to the people, “You men of Israel, why are you amazed at this? Why do you fasten your eyes on us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made him walk? ¹³The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God of our fathers, has glorified his Servant Jesus, whom you delivered up, and denied in the presence of Pilate, when he had determined to release him. ¹⁴But you denied the Holy and Righteous One, and asked for a man who was a murderer to be granted to you, ¹⁵and killed the Originator of life, whom God raised from the dead, to which we are witnesses. ¹⁶By faith in his name, his name has made this man strong, whom you see and know. Yes, the faith which is through him has given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

¹⁷“Now, brothers, I know that you did this in ignorance, as did also your rulers. ¹⁸But the things which God announced by the mouth of all his prophets, that the Christ should suffer, he thus fulfilled.

¹⁹“Repent therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out, so that there may come times of refreshing from the presence of the Lord, ²⁰and that he may send Jesus, the Christ who was ordained for you before, ²¹whom heaven must receive until the times of restoration of all things, which God spoke long ago by the mouth of^d his holy prophets. ²²For Moses indeed said to the fathers, ‘The Lord your^e God will raise up a prophet for you from among your brothers, like me. You must listen to him in all things whatever he says to you. ²³It will be, that every soul that will not listen to that prophet will be utterly destroyed from among the people.’^f ²⁴Yes, and all the prophets from Samuel and those who followed after, as many as have spoken, they also told of these days. ²⁵You are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying to Abraham, ‘And through your offspring all the families of the earth will be blessed.’^g ²⁶God, having raised up his Servant,^h sent him to you first, to bless you, in turning away everyone of you from your wickedness.”

As they spoke to the people, the priests and the captain of the temple and the Sadducees came to them, ²being upset because they taught the people and proclaimed in Jesus the resurrection from the dead. ³They laid hands on them, and put them in custody until the next day, for it was now evening. ⁴But many of those who heard the word believed, and the number of the men came to be about five thousand.

⁵It happened in the morning, that their rulers, elders, and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem. ⁶Annas the high priest was there, with Caiaphas, John, Alexander, and as many as were relatives of the high priest. ⁷When they had stood them in the middle of them, they inquired, “By what power, or in what name, have you done this?”

⁸Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, said to them, “Rulers of the people, and elders,ⁱ ⁹if we are examined today concerning a good deed done to a crippled man, by what means this man has been healed, ¹⁰be it known to you all, and to all the children of Israel, that in the name of Jesus Christ the Nazorean, whom you crucified, whom God raised from the dead, in him does this man stand here before you whole. ¹¹This one is the stone which was regarded as worthless by you, the builders, which has become the head of the corner.^j ¹²And there is salvation in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven that is given among people by which we must be saved.”

¹³Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and had perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they were amazed. They recognized that they had been with Jesus. ¹⁴Seeing the man who was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it. ¹⁵But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, ¹⁶saying, “What should we do with these men? Because indeed a notable miracle has been done through them, as can be plainly seen by all who dwell in Jerusalem, and we cannot deny it. ¹⁷But so this does not spread any further among the people, let us severely^k threaten them, that from now on they do not speak to anyone in this name.” ¹⁸They called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.

¹⁹But Peter and John answered them, “Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you rather than to God, judge for yourselves, ²⁰for we cannot help telling the things which we saw and heard.”

²¹When they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding no way to punish them, because of the people; for everyone glorified God for that which was done. ²²For the man on whom this miracle of healing was performed was more than forty years old.

²³Being let go, they came to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and the elders had said to them. ²⁴When they heard it, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said,

³¹When they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were gathered together. They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and they spoke the word of God with boldness. ³²And the full number of those who believed were of one heart and soul. Not one of them claimed that anything of the things which he possessed^f was his own, but they had all things in common. ³³With great power, the apostles gave their testimony of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus. Great grace was on them all. ³⁴For neither was there among them any who lacked, for as many as were owners of lands or houses sold them, and brought the proceeds of the things that were sold, ³⁵and put them at the apostles’ feet, and distribution was made to each, according as anyone had need. ³⁶Joseph,^g who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas (which is translated, Son of Encouragement), a Levite, a native of Cyprus by birth, ³⁷having a field, sold it, and brought the money and put it at the apostles’ feet.

5 But a certain man named Ananias^h, with Sappirah, his wife, sold a possession, ²and kept back part of the price, his wife also being aware of it, and brought a certain part, and put it at the apostles’ feet. ³But Peter said, “Ananias, why has Satan filled your heartⁱ to lie to the Holy Spirit, and to keep back part of the price of the land? ⁴While you kept it, did not it remain your own? After it was sold, was not it in your power? How is it that you have conceived this thing in your heart? You have not lied to people, but to God.”

⁵Ananias, hearing these words, fell down and died. Great fear came on all who heard it.^j ⁶The young men arose and wrapped him up, and they carried him out and buried him. ⁷About three hours later, his wife, not knowing what had happened, came in. ⁸Peter answered her, “Tell me whether you sold the land for so much.”

¹⁰She fell down immediately at his feet, and died. The young men came in and found her dead, and they carried her out and buried her by her husband. ¹¹Great fear came on the whole church, and on all who heard these things. ¹²By the hands of the apostles many signs and wonders were done among the people. They were all with one accord in Solomon’s porch. ¹³None of the rest dared to join them, however the people honored them. ¹⁴More believers were added to the Lord, crowds of both men and women. ¹⁵They even carried out the sick into the streets, and put them on cots and mats, so that as Peter came by at the least his shadow would fall on some of them. ¹⁶Crowds also came together from the cities around Jerusalem, bringing sick people, and those who were tormented by unclean spirits: and they were all healed.

¹⁷But the high priest rose up, and all those who were with him (which is the sect of the Sadducees), and they were filled with jealousy, ¹⁸and laid hands on the apostles, and put them in public custody. ¹⁹But an angel of the Lord opened the prison doors by night, and brought them out, and said, ²⁰“Go stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.”

²¹When they heard this, they entered into the temple about daybreak, and taught. But the high priest came, and those who were with him, and called the council together, and all the elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought. ²²But the officers who came did not find them in the prison. He also perished, and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad. ³⁸Now I tell you, withdraw from these men, and leave them alone. For if this counsel or this work is of man, it will be overthrown. ³⁹But if it is of God, you will not be able to overthrow them^c, and you would be found even to be fighting against God.”

⁴⁰They agreed with him. Summoning the apostles, they beat them and commanded them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. ⁴¹They therefore departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonor for the Name^d.

⁴²Every day, in the temple and at home, they never stopped teaching and proclaiming that Jesus is the Christ.

6 Now in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplying, a complaint arose from the Hellenists against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily service. ²So the twelve summoned the full number of the disciples and said, “It is not appropriate for us to forsake the word of God and serve tables. ³Therefore select from among you, brothers, seven men of good report, full of the^e Spirit and of wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business. ⁴But we will continue steadfastly in prayer and in the ministry of the word.”

⁸Stephen, full of grace^g and power, performed great wonders and signs among the people. ⁹But some of those who were of the synagogue called “The Libertines,” and of the Cyrenians, of the Alexandrians, and of those of Cilicia and Asia arose, disputing with Stephen. ¹⁰They weren’t able to withstand the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spoke. ¹¹Then they secretly induced men to say, “We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses and God.” ¹²They stirred up the people, the elders, and the scribes, and came against him and seized him, and brought him in to the council, ¹³and set up false witnesses who said, “This man never stops speaking blasphemous words against this holy place and the Law. ¹⁴For we have heard him say that this Jesus the Nazorean will destroy this place, and will change the customs which Moses delivered to us.” ¹⁵All who sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face like it was the face of an angel.

7 The high priest said, “Are these things so?”

²He said, “Brothers and fathers, listen. The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia,^h before he lived in Haran, ³and said to him, ‘Go out from your land and from your relatives, and come into a land which I will show you.’ⁱ ⁴Then he came out of the land of the Kasdim, and lived in Haran. From there, after his father died, he moved him into this land, where you are now living. ⁵He gave him no inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on. He promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his descendants after him, when he still had no child. ⁶God spoke in this way, that his ‘descendants would live as foreigners in a strange land, and that they would be enslaved and oppressed for four hundred years. ⁷But I will judge the nation to which they will be in bondage,’ said God, ‘and after that will they come out,^j and serve me in this place.’^k ⁸He gave him the covenant of circumcision. So Abraham became the father of Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day. Isaac became the father of Jacob, and Jacob became the father of the twelve patriarchs.

⁹“The patriarchs, moved with jealousy against Joseph, sold him into Egypt; and God was with him, ¹⁰and delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favor and wisdom before Pharaoh, king of Egypt. He made him governor over Egypt and all his house. ¹¹Now a famine came over all Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction, and our fathers found no food. ¹²But when Jacob heard that there was grain in Egypt, he sent out our fathers the first time. ¹³On the second time Joseph was made known to his brothers, and Joseph’s family became known to Pharaoh. ¹⁴Then Joseph sent, and summoned Jacob, his father, and all his relatives, seventy-five souls. ¹⁵Jacob went down into Egypt, and he died, himself and our fathers, ¹⁶and they were brought back to Shechem, and placed in the tomb that Abraham bought for a price in silver from the children of Hamor in^m Shechem.ⁿ

¹⁷“But as the time of the promise came close which God had made^o to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, ¹⁸until ‘there arose a different king over Egypt,^p who did not know Joseph.’^q ¹⁹The same took advantage of our race, and mistreated our fathers, and forced them to throw out their babies, so that they would not stay alive. ²⁰At that time Moses was born, and was exceedingly handsome. He was nourished three months in his father’s house. ²¹When he was thrown out, Pharaoh’s daughter took him up, and reared him as her own son. ²²Moses was instructed in all the wisdom

He was mighty in his^a words and works. ²³But when he was forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brothers, the children of Israel. ²⁴Seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him who was oppressed, striking the Egyptian. ²⁵He supposed that his brothers understood that God, by his hand, was giving them deliverance; but they did not understand.

They killed those who foretold the coming of the Righteous One, of whom you have now become betrayers and murderers. ⁵³You received the Law as it was ordained by angels, and did not keep it.”

⁵⁴Now when they heard these things, they were furious, and they ground their teeth at him. ⁵⁵But he, being full of the Holy Spirit, looked up steadfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God. ⁵⁶And he said, “Look, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of Man standing at the right hand of God.”

⁵⁷But they shouted out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and rushed at him with one accord. ⁵⁸They threw him out of the city, and stoned him. The witnesses placed their garments at the feet of a young man named Saul. ⁵⁹They stoned Stephen as he called out, saying, “Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.” ⁶⁰He kneeled down, and shouted out, “Lord, do not hold this sin against them.” When he had said this, he fell asleep.

8 Saul was consenting to his death. A great persecution arose against the church which was in Jerusalem in that day. They were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except for the apostles. ²Devout men buried Stephen, and lamented greatly over him. ³But Saul ravaged the church, entering into every house, and dragged both men and women off to prison. ⁴Therefore those who were scattered abroad went around proclaiming the word. ⁵And Philip^s went down to the¹ city of Samaria, and proclaimed to them the Christ. ⁶The crowds listened with one accord to the things that were spoken by Philip, when they heard and saw the signs which he did. ⁷For unclean spirits came out of many of those who had them. They came out, crying with a loud voice. Many who had been paralyzed and lame were healed. ⁸There was great joy in that city.

⁹But there was a certain man, Simon by name, who used to practice sorcery in the city, and amazed the people of Samaria, making himself out to be some great one, ¹⁰to whom they all listened, from the least to the greatest, saying, “This man is that power of God which is called Great.”^a ¹¹They listened to him, because for a long time he had amazed them with his sorceries. ¹²But when they believed Philip as he preached good news concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. ¹³Simon himself also believed. Being baptized, he continued with Philip. Seeing signs and great^b miracles occurring, he was amazed.

¹⁴Now when the apostles who were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent Peter and John to them, ¹⁵who, when they had come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Spirit; ¹⁶for he had not yet fallen upon any of them. They had only been baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus^c. ¹⁷Then they laid their hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit. ¹⁸Now when Simon saw that the^d Spirit was given through the laying on of the apostles’ hands, he offered them money, ¹⁹saying, “Give me also this power, that whomever I lay my hands on may receive the Holy Spirit.” ²⁰But Peter said to him, “May your silver perish with you, because you thought you could obtain the gift of God with money. ²¹You have neither part nor lot in this matter, for your heart is not right before God. ²²Repent therefore of this, your wickedness, and ask the Lord^e if perhaps the thought of your heart may be forgiven you. ²³For I see that you are in the gall of bitterness and in the bondage of iniquity.”

²⁴Simon answered, “Pray for me to the Lord, that none of the things which you have spoken happen to me.”

²⁵They therefore, when they had testified and spoken the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the Good News to many villages of the Samaritans. ²⁶But an angel of the Lord spoke to Philip, saying, “Arise, and go toward the south to the way that goes down from Jerusalem to Gaza. This is a desert.”

²⁷And he arose and went. And look, there was a man from Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Kandake,^f the queen of the Ethiopians, who was in charge over all her treasure. He had come to Jerusalem to worship, ²⁸and he was returning. And sitting in his chariot, he was reading the prophet Isaiah.

²⁹And the Spirit said to Philip, “Go and join up with that chariot.”

³⁰And running near, Philip heard him reading the prophet Isaiah, and said, “Do you understand what you are reading?”

³¹He said, “How can I, unless someone explains it to me?” So he invited Philip to come up and sit with him. ³²Now the passage of the Scripture which he was reading was this, “He was led like a sheep to the slaughter, and like a lamb before its shearer is silent, so he does not open his mouth.

³³In his^g humiliation his justice was taken away.^h Who will declare his generation? For his life is taken from the earth.”ⁱ ³⁴The eunuch answered Philip, “Who is the prophet talking about? About himself, or about someone else?”

³⁵Philip opened his mouth, and beginning from this Scripture, preached to him Jesus. ³⁶And as they went on the way, they came to some water, and the eunuch said, “Look, here is water. What is keeping me from being baptized?” ³⁷And he said to him, “If you believe with all your heart, you may.” And he answered and said, “I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.”^j ³⁸Then he commanded the chariot to stand still, and they both went down into the water, both Philip and the eunuch, and he baptized him.

³⁹When they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught Philip away, and the eunuch did not see him any more, for he went on his way rejoicing. ⁴⁰But Philip was found at Azotus. Passing through, he preached the Good News to all the cities, until he came to Caesarea.

9 But Saul, still breathing threats and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest, ²and asked for letters from him to the synagogues of Damascus, that if he found any who were of the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem. ³As he traveled, it happened that he got close to Damascus, and suddenly a light from the sky shone around him. ⁴And he fell to the ground, and heard a voice saying to him, “Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me?”^k

⁵And he said, “Who are you, Lord?” And he said, “I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting. ⁶But rise up, and enter into the city, and you will be told what you must do.”

⁷The men who traveled with him stood speechless, hearing the sound, but seeing no one. ⁸Saul arose from the ground, but when he opened his eyes he could not see anything. They led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus. ⁹He was without sight for three days, and neither ate nor drank.

¹⁰Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus named Ananias. The Lord said to him in a vision, “Ananias.” And he said, “Look, it’s me, Lord.”

¹¹The Lord said to him, “Arise, and go to the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one named Saul, a man of Tarsus. For look, he is praying,¹² and in a vision he has seen a man named Ananias coming in, and laying his hands on him, that he might receive his sight.”

¹³But Ananias answered, “Lord, I have heard from many about this man, how much evil he did to your saints at Jerusalem. ¹⁴Here he has authority from the chief priests to bind all who call on your name.”

¹⁵But the Lord said to him, “Go your way, for he is my chosen vessel to bear my name before the nations and kings, and the children of Israel. ¹⁶For I will show him how many things he must suffer for my name’s sake.”

¹⁷Ananias departed, and entered into the house. Laying his hands on him, he said, “Brother Saul, the Lord, who appeared to you on the road by which you came, has sent me, that you may receive your sight, and be filled with the Holy Spirit.” ¹⁸Immediately something like scales fell from his eyes, and he received his sight. He arose and was baptized. ¹⁹He took food and was strengthened. He^a stayed several days with the disciples who were at Damascus. ²⁰Immediately in the synagogues he proclaimed Jesus,^b that he is the Son of God. ²¹All who heard him were amazed, and said, “Is not this he who in Jerusalem made havoc of those who called on this name? And he had come here intending to bring them bound before the chief priests.”

²²But Saul increased more in strength, and confounded the Jews who lived at Damascus, proving that this is the Christ. ²³When many days were fulfilled, the Jews conspired together to kill him, ²⁴but their plot became known to Saul. They watched the gates both day and night that they might kill him, ²⁵but his disciples took him by night, and let him down through the wall, lowering him in a basket. ²⁶When Saul had come to Jerusalem, he tried to join himself to the disciples; but they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple. ²⁷But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared to them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how at Damascus he had preached boldly in the name of Jesus. ²⁸He was with them coming in and going out^c in Jerusalem, speaking boldly in the name of the Lord.^d ²⁹He spoke and disputed against the Hellenists, but they were seeking to kill him. ³⁰When the brothers knew it, they brought him down to Caesarea, and sent him off to Tarsus. ³¹So the church^e throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria had peace, and were built up. They were multiplied, walking in the fear of the Lord and in the comfort of the Holy Spirit.

³²It happened, as Peter went throughout all those parts, he came down also to the saints who lived at Lydda. ³³There he found a certain man named Aeneas, who had been bedridden for eight years, because he was paralyzed. ³⁴Peter said to him, “Aeneas, Jesus Christ heals you. Get up and make your bed.” Immediately he arose. ³⁵All who lived at Lydda and in Sharon saw him, and they turned to the Lord.

³⁶Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha (which when translated, means Dorcas).^f This woman was full of good works and acts of mercy which she did. ³⁷It happened in those days that she fell sick, and died. When they had washed her, they placed her in an upper chamber. ³⁸As Lydda was near Joppa, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent two men^g to him, imploring him not to delay in coming to us.^h ³⁹Peter got up and went with them. When he had come, they brought him into the upper chamber. All the widows stood by him weeping, and showing the coats and garments which Dorcas had made while she was with them. ⁴⁰Peter put them all out, and knelt down and prayed. Turning to the body, he said, “Tabitha, get up.” She opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, she sat up. ⁴¹He gave her his hand, and raised her up. Calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive. ⁴²And it became known throughout all Joppa, and many believed in the Lord. ⁴³It happened, that he stayed many days in Joppa with one Simon, a tanner.

10 Now there was a certain man in Caesarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of what was called the Italian Regiment,² a devout man, and one who feared God with all his house, who gave gifts for the needy generously to the people, and always prayed to God. ³At about three in the afternoon,ⁱ he clearly saw in a vision an angel of God coming to him, and saying to him, “Cornelius.”

⁴He, fastening his eyes on him, and being frightened, said, “What is it, Lord?”

He said to him, “Your prayers and your gifts to the needy have gone up for a memorial before God. ⁵Now send men to Joppa, and bring one^j Simon who is surnamed Peter. ⁶He lodges with one Simon, a tanner, whose house is by the seaside.^k”

⁷When the angel who spoke to him^l had departed, he called two of his household servants and a devout soldier of those who waited on him continually. ⁸Having explained everything to them, he sent them to Joppa. ⁹Now on the next day as they were on their journey, and got close to the city, Peter went up on the housetop to pray at about noon. ¹⁰He became hungry and desired to eat, but while they were preparing, he fell into a trance. ¹¹He saw heaven opened and a certain container descending to him, like a great sheet let down^m by four corners on the earth, ¹²in which were all kinds of four-footed animals of the earth,ⁿ crawling creatures and birds of the sky. ¹³A voice came to him, “Rise, Peter, kill and eat.”

¹⁴But Peter said, “Not so, Lord; for I have never eaten anything that is common or unclean.”

¹⁵A voice came to him again the second time, “What God has cleansed, you must not call unclean.” ¹⁶This was done three times, and immediately the vessel was received up into heaven. ¹⁷Now while Peter was very perplexed in himself what the vision which he had seen might mean, look, the men who were sent by Cornelius, having made inquiry for Simon’s house, stood before the gate, ¹⁸and called and asked whether Simon, who was surnamed Peter, was lodging there. ¹⁹While Peter was pondering the vision, the Spirit said to him, “Look, three^a men seek you. ²⁰But arise, get down, and go with them, doubting nothing; for I have sent them.”

²¹Peter went down to the men,^b and said, “Look, I am the one whom you seek. Why have you come?”

²²They said, “Cornelius, a centurion, a righteous man and one who fears God, and well spoken of by all the Jewish nation, was directed by a holy angel to invite you to his house, and to listen to what you say.” ²³So he called them in and lodged them. On the next day he^c arose and went out with them, and some of the brothers from Joppa accompanied him. ²⁴On the next day he^d entered into Caesarea. Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his relatives and his near friends. ²⁵When it happened that Peter entered, Cornelius met him, fell down at his feet, and worshiped him. ²⁶But Peter raised him up, saying, “Stand up. I myself am also a man.” ²⁷And as he talked with him, he went in and found many gathered together. ²⁸He said to them, “You yourselves know how it is an unlawful thing for a man who is a Jew to join himself or come to one of another nation, but God has shown me that I should not call any man unholy or unclean. ²⁹Therefore also I came without complaint when I was sent for. I ask therefore, why did you send for me?”

³⁰Cornelius said, “Four days ago^e until this hour, at three in the afternoon,^f I was praying in my house, and look, a man stood before me in bright clothing, ³¹and said, ‘Cornelius, your prayer is heard, and your gifts to the needy are remembered in the sight of God. ³²Send therefore to Joppa and summon Simon, who is surnamed Peter. He lodges in the house of Simon, a tanner,^g by the seaside.’^h ³³Therefore I sent to you at once, and it was good of you to come. Now therefore we are all here present in the sight of God to hear all things that have been commanded you by the Lord.ⁱ”

³⁴And Peter opened his mouth and said, “Truly I perceive that God does not show favoritism; ³⁵but in every nation he who fears him and works righteousness is acceptable to him. ³⁶The word which^j he sent to the children of Israel, preaching good news of peace through Jesus Christ—he is Lord of all—³⁷that spoken word you yourselves know, which was proclaimed throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached; ³⁸even Jesus of Nazareth, how God anointed him with the Holy Spirit and with power, who went about doing good and healing all who were oppressed by the devil, for God was with him. ³⁹We are witnesses of everything he did both in the land of the Jews and in Jerusalem, whom they also^k killed by hanging on a tree. ⁴⁰God raised him up the third day, and gave him to be revealed, ⁴¹not to all the people, but to witnesses who were chosen before by God, to us, who ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead. ⁴²He commanded us to proclaim to the people and to testify that this is he who is appointed by God as the Judge of the living and the dead. ⁴³All the prophets testify about him, that through his name everyone who believes in him receives forgiveness of sins.”

⁴⁴While Peter was still speaking these words, the Holy Spirit fell on all those who heard the word. ⁴⁵They of the circumcision who believed were amazed, as many as came with Peter, because the gift of the Holy Spirit was also poured out on the non-Jewish people. ⁴⁶For they heard them speaking in other tongues and magnifying God.

Then Peter answered, ⁴⁷“Can anyone withhold the water, that these who have received the Holy Spirit as well as we should not be baptized?” ⁴⁸He commanded them to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ.^l Then they asked him to stay some days.

11 Now the apostles and the brothers who were in Judea heard that the non-Jewish people had also received the word of God. ²When Peter had come up to Jerusalem, those who were of the circumcision contended with him, ³saying, “You went in to uncircumcised men, and ate with them.”

⁴But Peter began, and explained to them in order, saying, ⁵“I was in the city of Joppa praying, and in a trance I saw a vision: a certain container descending, like it was a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners. It came as far as me. ⁶When I had looked intently at it, I considered, and saw the four-footed animals of the earth, wild animals, crawling creatures, and birds of the sky. ⁷I also heard a voice saying to me, ‘Rise, Peter, kill and eat.’ ⁸But I said, ‘Not so, Lord, for nothing unholy or unclean has ever entered into my mouth.’ ⁹But a voice answered^m the second time out of heaven, ‘What God has cleansed, do not call unclean.’ ¹⁰This was done three times, and all were drawn up again into heaven. ¹¹And look, immediately three men stood before the house where we were, having been sent from Caesarea to me. ¹²The Spirit told me to go with them, without discriminating.ⁿ These six brothers also accompanied me, and we entered into the man’s house. ¹³He told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying to him, ‘Send to Joppa, and get Simon, whose surname is Peter, ¹⁴who will speak to you words by which you will be saved, you and all your house.’ ¹⁵As I began to speak, the Holy Spirit fell on them, even as on us at the beginning. ¹⁶I remembered the word of the Lord, how he said, ‘John indeed baptized in water, but you will be baptized in the Holy Spirit.’^o ¹⁷If then God gave to them the same gift as us, when we believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I, that I could withstand God?”

¹⁸When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, “Then God has also granted to the non-Jews repentance to life.”

¹⁹They therefore who were scattered abroad by the oppression that arose about Stephen traveled as far as Phoenicia, Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to no one except to Jews only. ²⁰But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they had come to Antioch, spoke to the Greeks,^p proclaiming the good news of the Lord Jesus. ²¹The hand of the Lord was with them, and a great number believed and turned to the Lord. ²²And the report concerning them was heard by the church in Jerusalem, so they sent

Barnabas to^a Antioch, ²³who, when he had come, and had seen the grace of God, was glad. He exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they should remain true to the Lord. ²⁴For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Spirit and of faith, and many people were added to the Lord.

²⁵Barnabas went out to Tarsus to look for Saul. ²⁶When he had found him, he brought him to Antioch. It happened, that for a whole year they were gathered together with the church, and taught many people. The disciples were first called Christians^b in Antioch.

²⁷Now in these days, prophets came down from Jerusalem to Antioch. ²⁸One of them named Agabus stood up, and indicated by the Spirit that there should be a great famine all over the world, which also happened in the days of Claudius.^c ²⁹As any of the disciples had plenty, each determined to send relief to the brothers who lived in Judea; ³⁰which they also did, sending it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

12 Now about that time, Herod the king stretched out his hands to oppress some of the church. ²He killed James, the brother of John, with the sword. ³When he saw that it pleased the Jewish people, he proceeded to seize Peter also. This was during the days of unleavened bread. ⁴When he had arrested him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four squads of four soldiers each to guard him, intending to bring him out to the people after the Passover. ⁵Peter therefore was kept in the prison, but constant prayer was made by the church to God for him. ⁶The same night when Herod was about to bring him out, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains. Guards in front of the door kept the prison.

⁷And look, an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shone in the cell. He struck Peter on the side, and woke him up, saying, "Stand up quickly." His chains fell off from his hands. ⁸The angel said to him, "Get dressed and put on your sandals." He did so. He said to him, "Put on your cloak, and follow me." ⁹And he went out and followed him. He did not know that what was being done by the angel was real, but thought he saw a vision. ¹⁰When they were past the first and the second guard, they came to the iron gate that leads into the city, which opened to them by itself. They went out, and went down one street, and immediately the angel departed from him.

¹¹When Peter had come to himself, he said, "Now I truly know that the Lord has sent out his angel and delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from everything the Jewish people were expecting." ¹²Thinking about that, he came to the house of Mary, the mother of John whose surname was Mark, where many were gathered together and were praying. ¹³And when Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a servant girl named Rhoda came to answer. ¹⁴When she recognized Peter's voice, she did not open the gate for joy, but ran in, and reported that Peter was standing in front of the gate.

¹⁵They said to her, "You are crazy." But she insisted that it was so. They said, "It is his angel." ¹⁶But Peter continued knocking. When they had opened, they saw him, and were amazed. ¹⁷But he, beckoning to them with his hand to be silent, declared to them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. He said, "Tell these things to James, and to the brothers." Then he departed, and went to another place.

¹⁸Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers about what had become of Peter. ¹⁹When Herod had sought for him, and did not find him, he examined the guards, and commanded that they should be put to death. He went down from Judea to Caesarea, and stayed there. ²⁰Now Herod was very angry with the people of Tyre and Sidon. They came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus, the king's personal aide, their friend, they asked for peace, because their country depended on the king's country for food. ²¹On an appointed day, Herod dressed himself in royal clothing, and^d sat on the throne, and gave a speech to them. ²²But the crowd shouted, "The voice of a god, and not of a man." ²³Immediately an angel of the Lord struck him, because he did not give God the glory, and he was eaten by worms and died.

²⁴But the word of God grew and multiplied. ²⁵Barnabas and Saul returned to^e Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their service, also taking with them John whose surname was Mark.

13 Now in the church that was at Antioch there were some prophets and teachers: Barnabas, Simeon who was called Niger, Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen the foster brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. ²As they served the Lord and fasted, the Holy Spirit said, "Separate Barnabas and Saul for me, for the work to which I have called them."

³Then, when they had fasted and prayed and laid their hands on them, they sent them away. ⁴So, being sent out by the Holy Spirit, they went down to Seleucia. From there they sailed to Cyprus. ⁵When they were at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God in the Jewish synagogues. They had also John as their attendant. ⁶When they had gone through the whole^f island as far as Paphos, they found a certain man, a magician, a Jewish false prophet whose name was Bar-Jesus, ⁷who was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding. This man summoned Barnabas and Saul, and sought to hear the word of God. ⁸But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn aside the proconsul from the faith. ⁹But Saul, who is also called Paul,^g filled with the Holy Spirit, fastened his eyes on him, ¹⁰and said, "Full of all deceit and all fraud, you son of the devil, you enemy of all righteousness, will you not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord? ¹¹Now, look, the hand of the Lord is on you, and you will be blind, unable to see the sun for a time."

Immediately a mist and darkness fell on him. He went around seeking someone to lead him by the hand. ¹²Then the proconsul, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the teaching of the Lord.

¹³Now Paul and his company set sail from Paphos, and came to Perga in Pamphylia, and John departed from them and returned to Jerusalem. ¹⁴But they, passing on from Perga, came to Antioch of Pisidia. They went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and sat down. ¹⁵After the reading of the Law and the Prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent to them, saying, "Brothers, if you have any word of exhortation for the people, speak."

¹⁶Paul stood up, and beckoning with his hand said, “Men of Israel, and you who fear God, listen. ¹⁷The God of this people Israel^a chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they stayed as foreigners in the land of Egypt, and with an uplifted arm, he led them out of it. ¹⁸For a period of about forty years he put up with them in the wilderness. ¹⁹When he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, he gave them their land as an inheritance. ²⁰All this took about four hundred and fifty years.^b And after these things he gave them judges, until Samuel the prophet. ²¹Afterward they asked for a king, and God gave to them Saul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for forty years. ²²When he had removed him, he raised up David to be their king, to whom he also testified, ‘I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after my heart, who will do all my will.’ ²³From this man’s offspring, according to his promise,^c God has brought to Israel a Savior, Jesus,^d ²⁴before his coming, when John had first preached the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.^e ²⁵As John was fulfilling his course, he said, ‘What do you suppose that I am? I am not he. But look, one comes after me the sandals of whose feet I am not worthy to untie.’ ²⁶Brothers, children of the stock of Abraham, and those among you who fear God, the word of this salvation is sent out to us.^f ²⁷For those who dwell in Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they did not know him, nor the voices of the prophets which are read every Sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning him. ²⁸Though they found no cause for death, they still asked Pilate to have him killed. ²⁹When they had fulfilled all things that were written about him, they took him down from the tree, and placed him in a tomb. ³⁰But God raised him from the dead, ³¹and he was seen for many days by those who came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses to the people. ³²We bring you good news of the promise made to the fathers, ³³that God has fulfilled for us, their children, in that he raised up Jesus. As it is also written in the second psalm, ‘You are my Son. Today I have become your Father.’^g

³⁴“Concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he has spoken thus: ‘I will give to you the faithful sacred things of David.’^h ³⁵Therefore he says also in another psalm, ‘You will not allow your Holy One to see decay.’ⁱ ³⁶For David, after he had in his own generation served the counsel of God, fell asleep, and was placed with his fathers, and saw decay. ³⁷But he whom God raised up saw no decay. ³⁸Be it known to you therefore, brothers, that through this man is proclaimed to you forgiveness of sins, ³⁹and by him everyone who believes is justified from all things, from which you could not be justified by the Law of Moses. ⁴⁰So beware, lest what is said in the Prophets should come about: ⁴¹‘Look, you scoffers, and be amazed, and perish; for I am working a work in your days, a work^k which you will not believe, if one tells^k it to you.’^l

up, many of the Jews and of the devout proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas; who, speaking to them, urged them to continue in the grace of God. ⁴⁴The next Sabbath almost the whole city was gathered together to hear the word of the Lord.ⁿ ⁴⁵But when the Jews saw the crowds, they were filled with jealousy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Paul, and reviled him.

⁴⁶Paul and Barnabas spoke out boldly, and said, “It was necessary that God’s word should be spoken to you first. Since indeed you thrust it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, look, we turn to the non-Jewish people. ⁴⁷For so has the Lord commanded us, saying, ‘I have set you as a light to the nations, that you may bring salvation to the farthest part of the earth.’^o”

14 It happened in Iconium that they entered together into the Jewish synagogue, and so spoke that a great number of both of Jews and of Greeks believed. ²But the unbelieving^p Jews stirred up and embittered the souls of the non-Jewish people against the brothers. ³Therefore they stayed there a long time, speaking boldly in the Lord, who testified to the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands. ⁴But the population of the city was divided. Some sided with the Jews, and some with the apostles. ⁵When some of both the non-Jewish people and the Jews, with their rulers, made a violent attempt to mistreat and stone them, ⁶they became aware of it, and fled to the cities of Lycaonia, Lystra, Derbe, and the surrounding region. ⁷There they preached the Good News.

⁸At Lystra a certain man sat, without strength in his feet, a cripple from his mother’s womb, who never had walked. ⁹He was listening to Paul speaking, who, fastening eyes on him, and seeing that he had faith to be made whole, ¹⁰said with a loud voice, “Stand upright on your feet.” He leaped up and walked. ¹¹When the crowd saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the language of Lycaonia, “The gods have come down to us in human form.” ¹²They called Barnabas “Jupiter,” and Paul “Mercury,” because he was the chief speaker. ¹³The priest of Jupiter, whose temple was in front of their city, brought oxen and garlands to the gates, and would have made a sacrifice along with the crowds. ¹⁴But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they tore their clothes, and sprang into the crowd, crying out, ¹⁵“Men, why are you doing these things? ¹⁸Even saying these things, they hardly stopped the crowds from making a sacrifice to them. ¹⁹But some Jews from Antioch and Iconium came there, and having persuaded the crowds, they stoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city, supposing that he was dead.

²⁰But as the disciples stood around him, he rose up, and entered into the city. On the next day he went out with Barnabas to Derbe. ²¹When they had preached the Good News to that city, and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, Iconium, and Antioch, ²²confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that through many afflictions we must enter into the kingdom of God. ²³When they had appointed elders for them in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they had believed.

²⁴They passed through Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia. ²⁵When they had spoken the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia. ²⁶From there they sailed to Antioch, from where they had been committed to the grace of God for the work which they had fulfilled. ²⁷When they had arrived, and had gathered the church together, they reported all the things that God had done with them, and that he had opened a door of faith to the nations. ²⁸And they stayed with the disciples a long time.

15 Some men came down from Judea and taught the brothers, “Unless you are circumcised after the custom of Moses, you cannot be saved.” ²Therefore when Paul and Barnabas had no small discord and discussion with them, they appointed Paul and Barnabas, and some others of them, to go up to Jerusalem to the apostles and elders about this question. ³They, being sent on their way by the church, passed through both Phoenicia and Samaria, describing in detail the conversion of the non-Jewish people. They caused great joy to all the brothers. ⁴When they had come to Jerusalem, they were received by the church and the apostles and the elders, and they reported all things that God had done with them.

⁶The apostles and the elders were gathered together to see about this matter. ⁷When there had been much discussion, Peter rose up and said to them, “Brothers, you know that a good while ago God made a choice among you,^b that by my mouth the nations should hear the word of the Good News, and believe. ⁸God, who knows the heart, testified about them by giving the Holy Spirit, just like he did to us. ⁹He made no distinction between us and them, cleansing their hearts by faith. ¹⁰Now therefore why do you tempt God, that you should put a yoke on the neck of the disciples which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear? ¹¹But we believe that we are saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, just as they are.”

¹²And all the people kept quiet, and they listened to Barnabas and Paul reporting what signs and wonders God had done among the nations through them. ¹³After they were silent, James answered, “Brothers, listen to me. ¹⁴Simeon has reported how God first visited the nations, to take out of them a people for his name. ¹⁵This agrees with the words of the prophets. As it is written,

¹⁶After these things I will return;^c and I will rebuild the tabernacle of David that has fallen, and I will rebuild its ruins, and I will restore it,

¹⁷that the rest of humanity may seek after the Lord,

and all the nations who are called by my name,

¹⁸known from long ago.”^d

¹⁹“Therefore my judgment is that we do not trouble those from among the non-Jewish people who turn to God, ²⁰but that we write to them that they abstain from things defiled by idols, from sexual immorality, from what is strangled, and from blood. ²¹For Moses from generations of old has in every city those who proclaim him, being read in the synagogues every Sabbath.”

²²Then it seemed good to the apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men out of their company, and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas: Judas called Barsabbas, and Silas, chief men among the brothers. ²³They wrote these things by their hand:

“The apostles, the elders, and the brothers, to the non-Jewish brothers who are in Antioch, Syria, and Cilicia: greetings. ²⁴Because we have heard that some who went out^e from us have troubled you with words, unsettling your souls,^f to whom we gave no commandment; ²⁵it seemed good to us, having come to one accord, to choose out men and send them to you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, ²⁶who have risked their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. ²⁷We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who themselves will also tell you the same things by word of mouth. ²⁸For it seemed good to the Holy Spirit, and to us, to lay no greater burden on you than these necessary things: ²⁹that you abstain from things sacrificed to idols, from blood, from things strangled, and from sexual immorality, from which if you keep yourselves, it will be well with you. Farewell.”

³⁰So, when they were sent off, they came to Antioch, and having gathered the congregation together, they delivered the letter.

³¹When they had read it, they rejoiced over the encouragement.

³²Judas and Silas, also being prophets themselves, encouraged the brothers with many words, and strengthened them. ³³After they had spent some time there, they were sent back with greetings from the brothers to those that had sent them forth.^g ³⁴However, Silas decided to remain there.^h ³⁵And Paul and Barnabas stayed in Antioch, teaching and proclaiming the word of the Lord, with many others also.

³⁶After some days Paul said to Barnabas, “Let us return now and visit our brothers in every city in which we proclaimed the word of the Lord, to see how they are doing.” ³⁷Barnabas planned to take John, who was called Mark, with them also. ³⁸But Paul did not think that it was a good idea to take with them someone who had withdrawn from them in Pamphylia, and did not go with them to do the work. ³⁹Then the contention grew so sharp that they separated from each other. Barnabas took Mark with him, and sailed away to Cyprus, ⁴⁰but Paul chose Silas, and went out, being commended by the brothers to the grace of the Lord.^a ⁴¹He went through Syria and Cilicia, strengthening the churches.

16 He came also to Derbe and Lystra. And look, a certain disciple was there, named Timothy, the son of a Jewish woman who believed; but his father was a Greek. ²The brothers who were at Lystra and Iconium gave a good testimony about him. ³Paul wanted to have him go out with him, and he took and circumcised him because of the Jews who were in those parts; for they all knew that his father was a Greek. ⁴As they went on their way through the cities, they delivered the decrees to them to keep which had been ordained by the apostles and elders who were at Jerusalem. ⁵So the churches were strengthened in the faith, and increased in number daily.

⁶When they had gone through the region of Phrygia and Galatia, they were forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia. ⁷When they had come opposite Mysia, they tried to go into Bithynia, but the Spirit of Jesus^b did not allow them. ⁸Passing by Mysia, they came down to Troas. ⁹A vision appeared to Paul in the night. There was a man of Macedonia standing, begging him, and saying, “Come over into Macedonia and help us.” ¹⁰When he had seen the vision, immediately we sought to go out to Macedonia, concluding that the Lord had called us to proclaim the Good News to them. ¹¹Then, setting sail from Troas, we made a straight course to Samothrace, and the day following to Neapolis; ¹²and from there to Philippi, which is a principle city of that district of Macedonia, a colony. We were staying some days in this^c city.

¹³On the Sabbath day we went forth outside of the gate^d by a riverside, where we supposed there was a place of prayer,^e and we sat down, and spoke to the women who had come together. ¹⁴A certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, one who worshiped God, heard us; whose heart the Lord opened to listen to the things which were spoken by Paul. ¹⁵When she and her household were baptized, she urged us, saying, “If you have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and stay.” So she persuaded us.

¹⁶It happened, as we were going to prayer, that a certain girl having a spirit of Python^f met us, who brought her masters much gain by fortune telling. ¹⁷She followed Paul and us, shouting, “These men are servants of the Most High God, who proclaim to you^g the way of salvation.” ¹⁸She was doing this for many days.

But Paul, becoming greatly annoyed, turned and said to the spirit, “I command you in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her.” And it came out at once. ¹⁹But when her masters saw that the hope of their gain was gone, they seized Paul and Silas, and dragged them into the marketplace before the rulers. ²⁰When they had brought them to the magistrates, they said, “These men, being Jews, are agitating our city, ²¹and set forth customs which it is not lawful for us to accept or to observe, being Romans.”

²²The crowd rose up together against them, and the magistrates tore their clothes off of them, and commanded them to be beaten with rods. ²³When they had laid many stripes on them, they threw them into prison, charging the jailer to keep them safely, ²⁴who, having received such a command, threw them into the inner prison, and secured their feet in the stocks.

²⁵But about midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God, and the prisoners were listening to them. ²⁶Suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken; and immediately all the doors were opened, and everyone’s bonds were loosened. ²⁷The jailer, being roused out of sleep and seeing the prison doors open, drew his sword and was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. ²⁸But Paul shouted loudly, saying, “Do not harm yourself, for we are all here.”

²⁹He called for lights and sprang in, and, fell down trembling before Paul and Silas, ³⁰and brought them out and said, “Sirs, what must I do to be saved?”

³¹They said, “Believe in the Lord Jesus,^h and you will be saved, you and your household.” ³²They spoke the word of the Lord to him, and to all who were in his house.

³³He took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes, and was immediately baptized, he and all his household. ³⁴He brought them up into his house, and set food before them, and rejoiced greatly, with all his household, having believed in God.

³⁵But when it was day, the magistrates sent the sergeants, saying, “Let those men go.”

³⁶The jailer reported theseⁱ words to Paul, saying, “The magistrates have sent to let you go; now therefore come out, and go in peace.”

³⁷But Paul said to them, “They have beaten us publicly, without a trial, men who are Romans, and have cast us into prison. Do they now release us secretly? No indeed. Let them come themselves and bring us out.”

³⁸The sergeants reported these words to the magistrates, and they were afraid when they heard that they were Romans, ³⁹and they came and apologized to them. When they had brought them out, they asked them to depart from the city. ⁴⁰They went out of the prison, and entered into Lydia’s house. When they had seen the brothers, they encouraged them, and departed.

Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where there was a Jewish synagogue. ²Paul, as was his custom, went in to them, and for three Sabbath days reasoned with them from the Scriptures, ³explaining and demonstrating that the Christ had to suffer and rise again from the dead, and saying, “This Jesus, whom I proclaim to you, is the Christ.”

⁴Some of them were persuaded, and joined Paul and Silas, as did a large number of the devout Greeks, and not a few of the prominent women. ⁵But the Jews, being moved with jealousy, ^atook along some wicked men from the marketplace, and gathering a crowd, set the city in an uproar. Assaulting the house of Jason, they sought to bring them out to the people. ⁶When they did not find them, they dragged Jason and certain brothers before the rulers^b of the city, crying, “These who have turned the world upside down have come here also, ⁷whom Jason has received. These all act contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying that there is another king, Jesus.” ⁸The crowd and the rulers of the city were troubled when they heard these things. ⁹When they had taken security from Jason and the rest, they let them go. ¹⁰The brothers immediately sent Paul and Silas away by night to Berea. When they arrived, they went into the Jewish synagogue.

¹¹Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of the mind, examining the Scriptures daily to see whether these things were so. ¹²Many of them therefore believed; also of the prominent Greek women, and not a few men. ¹³But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was proclaimed by Paul at Berea also, they came there likewise, inciting and disturbing^c the crowds. ¹⁴Then the brothers immediately sent out Paul to go as far as^d to the sea, and Silas and Timothy still stayed there. ¹⁵But those who escorted Paul brought him as far as Athens. Receiving a commandment to Silas and Timothy that they should come to him very quickly, they departed.

¹⁶Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was provoked within him as he saw the city full of idols. ¹⁷So he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and the devout persons, and in the marketplace every day with those who met him. ¹⁸Some of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers also were conversing with him. Some said, “What does this babblers want to say?”

Others said, “He seems to be advocating foreign deities,” because he preached Jesus and the resurrection.

¹⁹They took hold of him, and brought him to the Areopagus, saying, “May we know what this new teaching is, which is spoken by you? ²⁰For you bring certain strange things to our ears. We want to know therefore what these things mean.” ²¹Now all the Athenians and the strangers living there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new thing.

²²Paul stood in the middle of the Areopagus, and said, “You men of Athens, I perceive that you are very religious in all things. ²³For as I passed along, and observed the objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription: ‘TO AN UNKNOWN GOD.’ What therefore you worship in ignorance, this I announce to you. ²⁴The God who made the world and all things in it, he, being Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in temples made with hands, ²⁵neither is he served by human^e hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he himself gives to all life and breath, and all things. ²⁶He made from one blood^f every nation of the human race to dwell on all the surface of the earth, having determined appointed seasons, and the boundaries of their dwellings, ²⁷that they should seek God,^g if perhaps they might reach out for him and find him, though he is not far from each one of us. ²⁸For in him we live, and move, and have our being.^h As some of your own poets have said, ‘For we are also his offspring.’ⁱ ²⁹Being then the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Divine Nature is like gold, or silver, or stone, engraved by human art and design. ³⁰The times of ignorance therefore God overlooked. But now he commands that all people everywhere should repent, ³¹because he has appointed a day in which he will judge the world in righteousness by the man whom he has ordained; of which he has given assurance to everyone by raising him from the dead.”

³²Now when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked; but others said, “We want to hear you again concerning this.”

³³Thus Paul went out from among them. ³⁴But some people joined with him, and believed, among whom also was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

18 After these things Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth. ²He found a certain Jew named Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, who had recently come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome. He came to them, ³and because he practiced the same trade, he lived with them and worked, for by trade they were tent makers. ⁴He reasoned in the synagogue every Sabbath, and persuaded Jews and Greeks. ⁵But when Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul was compelled by the word,^j testifying to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ. ⁶When they opposed him and blasphemed, he shook out his clothing and said to them, “Your blood be on your own heads. I am clean. From now on, I will go to the non-Jewish people.”

⁷He departed there, and went into the house of a certain man named Titius^k Justus, one who worshiped God, whose house was next door to the synagogue. ⁸Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, believed in the Lord with all his house. Many of the Corinthians, when they heard, believed and were baptized. ⁹The Lord said to Paul in the night by a vision, “Do not be afraid, but speak and do not be silent; ¹⁰for I am with you, and no one will attack you to harm you, for I have many people in this city.”

¹¹He lived there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them. ¹²But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul and brought him before the judgment seat, ¹³saying, “This one persuades people to worship God contrary to the law.”

¹⁴But when Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, “If indeed it were a matter of wrong or of wicked crime, you Jews, it would be reasonable that I should bear with you; ¹⁵but if they are questions about words and names and your own law, look to it yourselves. For I do not want to be a judge of these matters.” ¹⁶He drove them from the judgment seat.

¹⁸Paul, having stayed after this many more days, took his leave of the brothers, and sailed from there for Syria, together with Priscilla and Aquila. He shaved his head in Cenchreae, for he had a vow. ¹⁹They^b came to Ephesus, and he left them there; but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews. ²⁰When they asked him to stay^c a longer time, he declined; ²¹but taking his leave of them, and saying,^d “I will return again to you if God wills,” he set sail from Ephesus.

²²When he had landed at Caesarea, he went up and greeted the church, and went down to Antioch. ²³Having spent some time there, he departed, and went through the region of Galatia, and Phrygia, in order, establishing all the disciples. ²⁴Now a certain Jew named Apollos, an Alexandrian by race, an eloquent man, came to Ephesus. He was mighty in the Scriptures. ²⁵This man had been instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in spirit, he spoke and taught accurately the things concerning Jesus,^e although he knew only the baptism of John. ²⁶He began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him aside, and explained to him the way of God more accurately.

²⁷When he had determined to pass over into Achaia, the brothers encouraged him, and wrote to the disciples to receive him. When he had come, he greatly helped those who had believed through grace; ²⁸for he powerfully refuted the Jews, publicly showing by the Scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

19 It happened that, while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul, having passed through the upper country, came to Ephesus, and found certain disciples. ²He said to them, “Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed?”

They said to him, “No, we have not even heard that there is a Holy Spirit.”

³He said, “Into what then were you baptized?”

They said, “Into John’s baptism.”

⁴Paul said, “John indeed baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying to the people that they should believe in the one who would come after him, that is, in Jesus.”

⁵When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. ⁶When Paul had laid his hands on them, the Holy Spirit came on them, and they spoke with other tongues and prophesied. ⁷They were about twelve men in all. ⁸He entered into the synagogue, and spoke boldly for a period of three months, reasoning and persuading about the things concerning the kingdom of God.

⁹But when some were hardened and disobedient, speaking evil of the Way before the crowd, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus. ¹⁰This continued for two years, so that all those who lived in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

¹¹God worked special miracles by the hands of Paul, ¹²so that even handkerchiefs^f or aprons were carried away from his body to the sick, and the evil spirits went out. ¹³But some of the itinerant Jews, exorcists, took on themselves to invoke over those who had the evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, “¹⁴I adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preaches.” ¹⁴There were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jewish chief priest, who did this.

¹⁵The evil spirit answered, “Jesus I know, and Paul I know, but who are you?” ¹⁶And the man in whom the evil spirit was, having leapt on them, having overpowered them all, prevailed against them so that they fled from that house naked and wounded. ¹⁷This became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, who lived at Ephesus. Fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. ¹⁸Many also of those who had believed came, confessing, and declaring their deeds. ¹⁹Many of those who practiced magical arts brought their books together and burned them in the sight of all. They counted the price of them, and found it to be fifty thousand pieces of silver. ²⁰So the word of the Lord was growing and becoming mighty.

²¹Now after these things had ended, Paul determined in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, “After I have been there, I must also see Rome.”

²²Having sent into Macedonia two of those who served him, Timothy and Erastus, he himself stayed in Asia for a while. ²³About that time there arose no small stir concerning the Way. ²⁴For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver shrines of Artemis, brought no little business to the craftsmen, ²⁵whom he gathered together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, “Sirs, you know that by this business we have our wealth. ²⁶You see and hear, that not at Ephesus alone, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul has persuaded and turned away many people, saying that they are no gods, that are made with hands. ²⁷Not only is there danger that this our trade come into disrepute; but also that the temple of the great goddess Artemis will be counted as nothing, and that she should even be deposed from her magnificence, whom all Asia and the world worships.”

was filled with confusion, and they rushed with one accord into the theater, having seized Gaius and Aristarchus, Macedonians, Paul's companions in travel. ³⁰When Paul wanted to enter in to the people, the disciples did not allow him. ³¹And also some of the Asiarchs, who were his friends, sent to him and urged him not to venture into the theater. ³²Some therefore shouted one thing, and some another, for the assembly was in confusion. Most of them did not know why they had come together. ³³They brought Alexander out of the crowd, the Jews putting him forward. Alexander beckoned with his hand, and would have made a defense to the people. ³⁴But when they perceived that he was a Jew, all with one voice for a time of about two hours shouted, "Great is Artemis of the Ephesians."

³⁵When the town clerk had quieted the crowd, he said, "You men of Ephesus, is there anyone who does not know that the city of the Ephesians is temple keeper of the great^a Artemis, and of the image which fell down from Zeus? ³⁶Seeing then that these things cannot be denied, you ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rash. ³⁷For you have brought these men here, who are neither robbers of temples nor blasphemers of our^b goddess. ³⁸If therefore Demetrius and the craftsmen who are with him have a matter against anyone, the courts are open, and there are proconsuls. Let them press charges against one another. ³⁹But if you seek anything further, it will be settled in the regular assembly. ⁴⁰For indeed we are in danger of being accused concerning this day's riot, there being no cause. Concerning it, we would not be able to give an account of this commotion." ⁴¹When he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

20 After the uproar had ceased, Paul sent for the disciples and, after encouraging them,^c took leave of them, and departed to go into Macedonia. ²When he had gone through those parts, and had encouraged them with many words, he came into Greece. ³When he had spent three months there, and a plot was made against him by Jews as he was about to set sail for Syria, he determined to return through Macedonia. ⁴He was accompanied^d by Sopater son of Pyrrhus^e of Beroea; Aristarchus and Secundus of the Thessalonians; Gaius of Derbe; Timothy; and Tychicus and Trophimus of Asia. ⁵But these had gone ahead, and were waiting for us at Troas. ⁶We sailed away from Philippi after the days of Unleavened Bread, and came to them at Troas in five days, where we stayed seven days.

¹¹When he had gone up, and had broken bread, and eaten, and had talked with them a long while, even until break of day, he departed. ¹²They brought the boy in alive, and were greatly comforted.

¹³But we who went ahead to the ship set sail for Assos, intending to take Paul aboard there, for he had so arranged, intending himself to go by land. ¹⁴When he met us at Assos, we took him aboard, and came to Mitylene. ¹⁵Sailing from there, we came the following day opposite Chios. The next day we landed at Samos,^g and the day after we came to Miletus. ¹⁶For Paul had determined to sail past Ephesus, that he might not have to spend time in Asia; for he was hastening, if it were possible for him, to be in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost.

¹⁷From Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called to himself the elders of the church. ¹⁸When they had come to him, he said to them, "You yourselves know, from the first day that I set foot in Asia, how I was with you all the time, ¹⁹servicing the Lord with all humility, with many tears, and with trials which happened to me by the plots of the Jews; ²⁰how I did not hold back from declaring to you anything that was profitable, and teaching you publicly and from house to house, ²¹testifying both to Jews and to Greeks repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus. ²²And now, look, compelled by the Spirit, I am going to Jerusalem, not knowing what will happen to me there; ²³except that the Holy Spirit testifies in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions wait for me. ²⁴But I make my life^h an account of nothingⁱ precious to myself, so that I may finish my race,^j and the ministry which I received from the Lord Jesus, to fully testify to the Good News of the grace of God.

²⁵"And now, look, I know that you all, among whom I went about proclaiming the kingdom,^k will see my face no more. ²⁶Therefore I testify to you today that I am innocent of everyone's blood, ²⁷for I did not hold back from declaring to you the whole plan of God. ²⁸Watch out for yourselves^l and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to shepherd the church of^m Godⁿ which he purchased with his own blood. ²⁹For I know that after my departure, vicious wolves will enter in among you, not sparing the flock. ³⁰Men will arise from among your own selves, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after them. ³¹Therefore watch, remembering that for a period of three years I did not cease to admonish everyone night and day with tears. ³²Now^o I entrust you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build up, and to give you the inheritance among all those who are sanctified. ³³I coveted no one's silver, or gold, or clothing. ³⁴You yourselves know that these hands served my necessities, and those who were with me. ³⁵In all things I gave you an example, that so laboring you ought to help the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that he himself said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'" and the next day to Rhodes, and from there to Patara.^a Having found a ship crossing over to Phoenicia, we went aboard, and set sail.³ When we had come in sight of Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed to Syria, and landed at Tyre, for there the ship was to unload her cargo.⁴ Having found the^b disciples, we stayed there seven days. These said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.⁵ When it happened that we had accomplished the days, we departed and went on our journey. They all, with wives and children, brought us on our way until we were out of the city. And after kneeling down on the beach and praying,⁶ we said farewell to one another. And we went on board the ship, and they returned to their own.

³⁶When he had spoken these things, he knelt down and prayed with them all. ³⁷They all wept a lot, and fell on Paul's neck and kissed him, ³⁸sorrowing most of all because of the word which he had spoken, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him to the ship.

⁷When we had finished the voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptolemais. We greeted the brothers, and stayed with them one day.⁸ On the next day,^c we departed and came to Caesarea.

We entered into the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of the seven, and stayed with him.⁹ Now this man had four virgin daughters who prophesied.¹⁰ As we stayed there some days, a certain prophet named Agabus came down from Judea.¹¹ Coming to us, and taking Paul's belt, he bound his own feet and hands, and said, "Thus says the Holy Spirit: 'So will the Jews in Jerusalem bind the man who owns this belt, and will deliver him into the hands of non-Jewish people.'"

¹²When we heard these things, both we and the people of that place urged him not to go up to Jerusalem.¹³ Then Paul answered, "What are you doing, weeping and breaking my heart? For I am ready not only to be bound, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus."

¹⁴When he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, "The Lord's will be done."

¹⁵After these days we took up our baggage and went up to Jerusalem.¹⁶ Some of the disciples from Caesarea also went with us, bringing one Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we would stay.

¹⁷When we had come to Jerusalem, the brothers received us gladly.¹⁸ The day following, Paul went in with us to James; and all the elders were present.¹⁹ When he had greeted them, he reported one by one the things which God had worked among the non-Jewish people through his ministry.²⁰ They, when they heard it, glorified God.^d They said to him, "You see, brother, how many thousands there are among the Jews of those who have believed, and they are all zealous for the Law.²¹ They have been informed about you, that you teach all the Jews who are among the non-Jews to forsake Moses, telling them not to circumcise their children neither to walk after the customs.²² What then? The multitude must certainly meet.^e They will hear that you have come.²³ Therefore do what we tell you. We have four men who have taken a vow.²⁴ Take them, and purify yourself with them, and pay their expenses for them, that they may shave their heads. Then all will know that there is no truth in the things that they have been informed about you, but that you yourself also walk keeping the Law.²⁵ But concerning the non-Jewish who believe, we have written our decision that they should^f keep themselves from food offered to idols, from blood, from strangled things, and from sexual immorality."

²⁶Then Paul took the men, and the next day, purified himself and went with them into the temple, declaring the fulfillment of the days of purification, until the offering was offered for every one of them.²⁷ When the seven days were almost completed, the Jews from Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the crowd and laid hands on him,²⁸ crying out, "Men of Israel, help. This is the man who teaches all men everywhere against the people, and the Law, and this place. Moreover, he also brought Greeks into the temple, and has defiled this holy place."²⁹ For they had previously^g seen Trophimus, the Ephesian, with him in the city, and they supposed that Paul had brought him into the temple.

³⁰All the city was moved, and the people ran together. They seized Paul and dragged him out of the temple. Immediately the doors were shut.³¹ As they were trying to kill him, news came up to the commanding officer of the regiment that all Jerusalem was in an uproar.³² Immediately he took soldiers and centurions, and ran down to them. They, when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, stopped beating Paul.³³ Then the commanding officer came near, arrested him, commanded him to be bound with two chains, and inquired who he was and what he had done.³⁴ Some shouted one thing, and some another, among the crowd. When he could not find out the truth because of the noise, he commanded him to be brought into the barracks.

³⁵When he came to the stairs, it happened that he was carried by the soldiers because of the violence of the crowd;³⁶ for the crowd of the people followed after, crying out, "Away with him."³⁷ As Paul was about to be brought into the barracks, he asked the commanding officer, "May I speak something^h to you?"

He said, "Do you know Greek?³⁸ Are you not then the Egyptian, who before these days stirred up to sedition and led out into the wilderness the four thousand men of the Assassins?"

³⁹But Paul said, "I am a Jew, from Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no insignificant city. I beg you, allow me to speak to the people."

⁴⁰When he had given him permission, Paul, standing on the stairs, beckoned with his hand to the people. When there was a great silence, he spoke to them in the Hebrew language, saying,

22 "Brothers and fathers, listen to the defense which I now make to you."

²When they heard that he spoke to them in the Hebrew language, they were even more quiet. He said,³ "I am indeed a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, instructed according to the strict manner of the Law of our fathers, being zealous for God, even as you all are this day.⁴ I persecuted this Way to the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women.⁵ As also the high priest and all the council of the elders testify, from whom also I received letters to the brothers, and traveled to Damascus to bring them also who were there to Jerusalem in bonds to be punished. ⁶It happened that, as I made my journey, and came close to Damascus, about noon, suddenly there shone from the sky a great light around me. ⁷I fell to the ground, and heard a voice saying to me, ‘Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me?’ ⁸I answered, ‘Who are you, Lord?’ He said to me, ‘I am Jesus the Nazorean, whom you persecute.’

²¹“He said to me, ‘Depart, for I will send you out far from here to non-Jewish people.’”

²³As they yelled, and threw off their cloaks, and threw dust into the air, ²⁴the commanding officer commanded him to be brought into the barracks, ordering him to be examined by scourging, that he might know for what crime they yelled at him like that. ²⁵When they^d had tied him up with thongs, Paul asked the centurion who stood by, “Is it lawful for you to scourge a man who is a Roman, and not found guilty?”

²⁶When the centurion heard it, he went to the commanding officer and told him, “What are you about to do?^e For this man is a Roman.”

²The high priest, Ananias, commanded those who stood by him to strike him on the mouth.

³Then Paul said to him, “God will strike you, you whitewashed wall. Do you sit to judge me according to the Law, and command me to be struck contrary to the law?”

⁴Those who stood by said, “Do you malign God’s high priest?”

⁵Paul said, “I did not know, brothers, that he was high priest. For it is written, ‘You must not speak evil of a ruler of your people.’”^g ⁶But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees and the other Pharisees, he shouted in the council, “Men and brothers, I am a Pharisee, a son of Pharisees. Concerning the hope and resurrection of the dead I am being judged.”

⁷When he had said this, an argument arose between the Pharisees and Sadducees, and the assembly was divided. ⁸For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, nor angel, nor spirit; but the Pharisees confess all of these. ⁹A great clamor arose, and some of^h the scribes of the Pharisees part stood up, and contended, saying, “We find no evil in this man. What if a spirit spoke to him, or an angel?”

¹⁰When a great argument arose, the commanding officer, fearing that Paul would be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from among them, and bring him into the barracks.

¹¹The following night, the Lord stood by him, and said, “Cheer upⁱ, for as you have testified about me at Jerusalem, so you must testify also at Rome.”

¹²When it was day,^a the Jews formed a conspiracy, and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink until they had killed Paul. ¹³There were more than forty people who had made this conspiracy. ¹⁴They came to the chief priests and the elders, and said, “We have bound ourselves under a great curse, to taste nothing until we have killed Paul. ¹⁵Now therefore, you with the council inform the commanding officer that he should bring him down to you^b, as though you were going to judge his case more exactly. We are ready to kill him before he comes near.”

¹⁶But Paul’s sister’s son heard of their lying in wait, and he came and entered into the barracks and told Paul. ¹⁷Paul summoned one of the centurions, and said, “Bring this young man to the commanding officer, for he has something to tell him.”

¹⁸So he took him, and brought him to the commanding officer, and said, “Paul, the prisoner, summoned me and asked me to bring this young man to you, who has something to tell you.”

¹⁹The commanding officer took him by the hand, and going aside, asked him privately, “What is it that you have to tell me?”

²⁰And he said, “The Jews have agreed to ask you to bring Paul down to the council tomorrow, as though they intended to inquire somewhat more thoroughly concerning him. ²¹Therefore do not yield to them, for more than forty men lie in wait for him, who have bound themselves under a curse neither to eat nor to drink until they have killed him. Now they are ready, looking for the promise from you.”

²²So the commanding officer let the young man go, charging him, “Tell no one that you have revealed these things to me.” ²³He called to himself two of the centurions, and said, “Prepare two hundred soldiers to go as far as Caesarea, with seventy horsemen, and two hundred spearmen, at nine tonight.”^c ²⁴He asked them to provide animals, that they might set Paul on one, and bring him safely to Felix the governor. ²⁵He wrote a letter like this:

²⁶“Claudius Lysias to the most excellent governor Felix: Greetings.

²⁷“This man was seized by the Jews, and was about to be killed by them, when I came with the soldiers and rescued him, having learned that he was a Roman. ²⁸Desiring to know the cause why they accused him, I brought him down to their council. ²⁹I found him to be accused about questions of their law, but not to be charged with anything worthy of death or of imprisonment. ³⁰When I was told that there would be a plot^d against the man, I sent him to you immediately, charging his accusers also to bring their accusations against him before you. Farewell.”^e”

³¹So the soldiers, carrying out their orders, took Paul and brought him by night to Antipatris. ³²But on the next day they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the barracks. ³³When they came to Caesarea and delivered the letter to the governor, they also presented Paul to him. ³⁴When the governor had read it, he asked what province he was from. When he understood that he was from Cilicia, he said, ³⁵“I will hear you fully when your accusers also arrive.” He commanded that he be kept in Herod’s palace.

24 After five days, the high priest, Ananias, came down with certain^f elders and an orator, one Tertullus. They informed the governor against Paul. ²When he was called, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, “Seeing that by you we enjoy much peace, and that by your foresight reforms^g are coming to this nation, ³we accept it in all ways and in all places, most excellent Felix, with all thankfulness. ⁴But, that I do not delay you, I entreat you to bear with us and hear a few words. ⁵For we have found this man to be a plague, an instigator of insurrections among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes. ⁶He even tried to profane the temple, and we arrested him. And we would have judged him according to our law, ⁷but the chief captain Lysias came, and with great violence took him away out of our hands, ⁸commanding his accusers to come to you.^h By examining him yourself you may ascertain all these things of which we accuse him.”

⁹The Jews also joined in the attack, affirming that these things were so. ¹⁰When the governor had beckoned to him to speak, Paul answered, “Because I know that you have been a judge of this nation for many years, I cheerfully make my defense, ¹¹seeing that you can recognize that it is not more than twelve days since I went up to worship at Jerusalem. ¹²In the temple they did not find me disputing with anyone or stirring up a crowd, either in the synagogues, or in the city. ¹³Nor can they prove to youⁱ the things of which they now accuse me. ¹⁴But this I confess to you, that after the Way, which they call a sect, so I serve the God of our fathers, believing all things which are according to the Law, and which are written in the Prophets; ¹⁵having hope toward God, which these also themselves look for, that there will be a resurrection^j, both of the just and unjust. ¹⁶This being so, I also do my best to always have a clear conscience toward God and people. ¹⁷Now after some years, I came to bring gifts for the needy to my nation, and offerings; ¹⁸amid which certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, not with a mob, nor with turmoil. ¹⁹They ought to have been here before you, and to make accusation, if they had anything against me. ²⁰Or else let these men themselves say what injustice they found in me when I stood before the council, ²¹unless it is for this one thing that I shouted out standing among them, ‘Concerning the resurrection of the dead I am being judged before you today.’”

²²But Felix,^k having more exact knowledge concerning the Way, deferred them, saying, “When Lysias, the commanding officer, comes down, I will decide your case.” ²³He ordered the centurion that he^a should be kept in custody, and should have some privileges, and not to forbid any of his friends to serve him or to visit him. ²⁴But after some days, Felix came with Drusilla, his wife, who was Jewish, and sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ Jesus. ²⁵As he reasoned about righteousness, self-control, and the judgment to come, Felix was terrified, and answered, “Go your way for this time, and when it is convenient for me, I will summon you.” ²⁶Meanwhile, he also hoped that money would be given to him by Paul^b. Therefore also he sent for him more often, and talked with him. ²⁷But when two years were fulfilled, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus, and desiring to gain favor with the Jews, Felix left Paul in bonds.

25 Festus therefore, having come into the province, after three days went up to Jerusalem from Caesarea. ²Then the high priest and the principal men of the Jews informed him against Paul, and they urged him, ³asking a favor against him, that he would summon him to Jerusalem; plotting to kill him on the way. ⁴However Festus answered that Paul should be kept in custody at Caesarea, and that he himself was about to depart shortly. ⁵“Let them therefore,” he said, “that are in power among you go down with me, and if there is anything wrong^c in the man, let them accuse him.”

⁶When he had stayed among them more than eight or^d ten days, he went down to Caesarea, and on the next day he sat on the judgment seat, and commanded Paul to be brought. ⁷When he had come, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem stood around him, bringing against him many and grievous charges which they could not prove, ⁸while he said in his defense, “Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Caesar, have I sinned at all.”

⁹But Festus, desiring to gain favor with the Jews, answered Paul and said, “Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem, and be judged by me there concerning these things?”

¹⁰But Paul said, “I am standing before Caesar’s judgment seat, where I ought to be tried. I have done no wrong to the Jews, as you also know very well. ¹¹For if I have done wrong, and have committed anything worthy of death, I do not refuse to die; but if none of those things is true that they accuse me of, no one can give me up to them. I appeal to Caesar.”

¹²Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, “You have appealed to Caesar. To Caesar you will go.”

¹³Now when some days had passed, Agrippa the King and Bernice arrived at Caesarea, and greeted Festus. ¹⁴As they^e stayed there many days, Festus laid Paul’s case before the king, saying, “There is a certain man left a prisoner by Felix; ¹⁵about whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the Jewish elders informed me, asking for a sentence against him. ¹⁶To whom I answered that it is not the custom of the Romans to give up anyone^f before the accused has met the accusers face to face, and has had opportunity to make his defense against the charge. ¹⁷When therefore they had come together here, I did not delay, but on the next day sat on the judgment seat, and commanded the man to be brought. ¹⁸Concerning whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought no charge of such things as I supposed; ¹⁹but had certain questions against him about their own religion, and about one Jesus, who was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive. ²⁰Being perplexed how to inquire concerning these things, I asked whether he was willing to go to Jerusalem and there be judged concerning these matters. ²¹But when Paul had appealed to be kept for the decision of the emperor, I commanded him to be kept until I could send him to Caesar.”

²²Agrippa said to Festus, “I also would like to hear the man myself.”

“Tomorrow,” he said, “you will hear him.”

²³So on the next day, when Agrippa and Bernice had come with great pomp, and they had entered into the place of hearing with the commanding officers and principal men of the city, at the command of Festus, Paul was brought in. ²⁴And Festus said, “King Agrippa, and all people who are here present with us, you see this man, about whom the whole assembly of the Jews petitioned me, both at Jerusalem and here, crying that he ought not to live any longer. ²⁵But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and as he himself appealed to the emperor I determined to send him. ²⁶Of whom I have no certain thing to write to my lord. Therefore I have brought him forth before you, and especially before you, King Agrippa, that, after examination, I may have something to write. ²⁷For it seems to me unreasonable, in sending a prisoner, not to also specify the charges against him.”

26 Agrippa said to Paul, “You may speak for yourself.”

Then Paul stretched out his hand, and made his defense. ²“I think myself happy, King Agrippa, that I am to make my defense before you this day concerning all the things that I am accused by the Jews, ³especially because you are expert in all customs and questions which are among Jews. Therefore I beg you to hear me patiently.

⁹“In fact, I thought to myself that I ought to do many things against the name of Jesus the Nazorean. ¹⁰This I also did in Jerusalem. I both shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests, and when they were put to death I gave my vote against them. ¹¹Punishing them often in all the synagogues, I tried to make them blaspheme. Being exceedingly enraged against them, I persecuted them even to foreign cities.

¹²“Whereupon as I traveled to Damascus with the authority and commission from the chief priests, ¹³at noon, O King, I saw on the way a light from the sky, brighter than the sun, shining around me and those who traveled with me. ¹⁴When we had all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice saying to me in the Hebrew language, ‘Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me? It is hard for you to kick against the goads.’

¹⁵“I said, ‘Who are you, Lord?’

“He said, ‘I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting. ¹⁶But arise, and stand on your feet, for I have appeared to you for this purpose: to appoint you a servant and a witness both of the things which you have seen me,^a and of the things which I will reveal to you; ¹⁷delivering you from the people, and from the non-Jewish people, to whom I send you, ¹⁸to open their eyes, that they may turn^b from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and an inheritance among those who are sanctified by faith in me.’

¹⁹“Therefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision, ²⁰but declared first to them of Damascus, at Jerusalem, and throughout all the country of Judea, and also to the non-Jews, that they should repent and turn to God, doing works worthy of repentance. ²¹For this reason Jews seized me when I was in the temple, and tried to kill me. ²²Having therefore obtained the help that is from God, I stand to this day testifying both to small and great, saying nothing but what the Prophets and Moses said would happen, ²³how the Christ would suffer, and how, by the resurrection of the dead, he would be first to proclaim light both to these people and to non-Jewish people.”

²⁴As he thus made his defense, Festus said with a loud voice, “Paul, you are crazy. Your great learning is driving you insane.”

²⁵But he said, “I am not crazy, most excellent Festus, but boldly declare words of truth and reasonableness. ²⁶For the king knows of these things, to whom also I speak freely. For I am persuaded that none of these things is hidden from him, for this has not been done in a corner. ²⁷King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know that you believe.”

²⁸Agrippa said to Paul, “With a little persuasion are you trying to make me a Christian?”

²⁹Paul said, “I pray to God, that whether with little or with much, not only you, but also all that hear me this day, might become such as I am, except for these bonds.”

³⁰The^d king rose up with the governor, and Bernice, and those who sat with them. ³¹When they had withdrawn, they spoke one to another, saying, “This man does nothing worthy of death or of bonds.” ³²Agrippa said to Festus, “This man might have been set free if he had not appealed to Caesar.”

27 When it was determined that we should sail for Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion named Julius, of the Augustan band.

²Embarking in a ship from Adramyttium, which was about to sail to places on the coast of Asia, we put to sea; Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us. ³The next day, we landed at Sidon.

Julius treated Paul kindly, and gave him permission to go to his friends and refresh himself. ⁴Putting to sea from there, we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. ⁵When we had sailed across the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia. ⁶There the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing for Italy, and he put us on board. ⁷When we had sailed slowly many days, and had come with difficulty opposite Cnidus, the wind not allowing us further, we sailed under the lee of Crete, opposite Salmone. ⁸With difficulty sailing along it we came to a certain place called Fair Havens, near the city of Lasea.

⁹When much time had passed and the voyage was now dangerous, because the Fast had now already gone by, Paul admonished them, ¹⁰and said to them, “Sirs, I perceive that the voyage will be with injury and much loss, not only of the cargo and the ship, but also of our lives.” ¹¹But the centurion gave more heed to the master and to the owner of the ship than to those things which were spoken by Paul. ¹²Because the haven was not suitable to winter in, the majority advised going to sea from there, if by any means they could reach Phoenix, and winter there, which is a port of Crete, looking northeast and southeast.

¹³When the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor and sailed along Crete, close to shore. ¹⁴But before long, a stormy wind beat down from shore, which is called Euraquilo.^e ¹⁵When the ship was caught, and could not face the wind, we gave way to it, and were driven along. ¹⁶Running under the lee of a small island called Cauda^f, we were able, with difficulty, to secure the boat. ¹⁷After they had hoisted it up, they used cables to help reinforce the ship. Fearing that they would run aground on the Syrtis, they lowered the sea anchor, and so were driven along. ¹⁸As we labored exceedingly with the storm, the next day they began to throw things overboard. ¹⁹On the third day, they^g threw out the ship’s tackle with their own hands. ²⁰When neither sun nor stars shone on us for many days, and no small storm pressed on us, all hope that we would be saved was now taken away.

²¹When they had been long without food, Paul stood up in the middle of them, and said, “Sirs, you should have listened to me, and not have set sail from Crete, and have gotten this injury and loss. ²²Now I exhort you to cheer up, for there will be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship. ²³For there stood by me this night an angel, belonging to the God whose I am and whom I serve, ²⁴saying, ‘Do not be afraid, Paul. You must stand before Caesar. And look, God has granted you all those who sail with you.’ ²⁵Therefore, sirs, cheer up. For I believe God, that it will be just as it has been spoken to me. ²⁶But we must run aground on a certain island.”

²⁷But when the fourteenth night had come, as we were driven back and forth in the Adriatic Sea, about midnight the sailors surmised that they were drawing near to some land. ²⁸They took soundings, and found twenty fathoms.^h After a little while, they took soundings again, and found fifteen fathoms.ⁱ ²⁹Fearing that we would run aground on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and wished for daylight. ³⁰As the sailors were trying to flee out of the ship, and had lowered the boat into the sea, pretending that they would lay out anchors from the bow. ³¹Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, “Unless these stay in the ship, you cannot be saved.” ³²Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the boat, and let it fall off.

³³While the day was coming on, Paul urged them all to take some food, saying, “This day is the fourteenth day that you wait and continue fasting, having taken nothing. ³⁴Therefore I urge you to take some food, for this is for your preservation; for not a hair will perish^a from any of your heads.” ³⁵When he had said this, and had taken bread, he gave thanks to God in the presence of all, and he broke it, and began to eat. ³⁶Then they all cheered up, and they also took food. ³⁷In all, we were two hundred seventy-six souls on the ship. ³⁸When they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, throwing out the wheat into the sea. ³⁹When it was day, they did not recognize the land, but they noticed a certain bay with a beach, and they decided to try to drive the ship onto it. ⁴⁰Casting off the anchors, they left them in the sea, at the same time untying the rudder ropes. Hoisting up the foresail to the wind, they made for the beach. ⁴¹But coming to a place where two seas met, they ran the vessel aground. The bow struck and remained immovable, but the stern began to break up by the violence of the waves.

⁴²The soldiers’ counsel was to kill the prisoners, so that none of them would swim out and escape. ⁴³But the centurion, desiring to save Paul, stopped them from their purpose, and commanded that those who could swim should throw themselves overboard first to go toward the land; ⁴⁴and the rest should follow, some on planks, and some on other things from the ship. So it happened that they all escaped safely to the land.

28 When we had escaped, then we^b learned that the island was called Malta. ²The natives showed us uncommon kindness; for they kindled a fire, and received us all, because of the present rain, and because of the cold. ³But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks and placed them on the fire, a viper came out because of the heat, and fastened on his hand. ⁴When the natives saw the creature hanging from his hand, they said one to another, “No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he has escaped from the sea, yet Justice has not allowed to live.” ⁵However he shook off the creature into the fire, and was not harmed. ⁶But they expected that he would have swollen or fallen down dead suddenly, but when they watched for a long time and saw nothing bad happen to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.

⁷Now in the neighborhood of that place were lands belonging to the chief official of the island, named Publius, who received us, and courteously entertained us for three days. ⁸It happened that the father of Publius lay sick of fever and dysentery. Paul entered in to him, prayed, and laying his hands on him, healed him. ⁹Then when this was done, the rest also who had diseases in the island came, and were cured. ¹⁰They also honored us with many honors, and when we sailed, they put on board the things that we needed.

¹¹After three months, we set sail^c in a ship of Alexandria which had wintered in the island, whose sign was “The Twin Brothers.” ¹²Touching at Syracuse, we stayed there three days. ¹³From there we cast off^d and arrived at Rhegium. After one day, a south wind sprang up, and on the second day we came to Puteoli, ¹⁴where we found brothers, and were entreated to stay with them for seven days. So we came to Rome. ¹⁵From there the brothers, when they heard of us, came to meet us as far as The Market of Appius and The Three Taverns. When Paul saw them, he thanked God, and took courage. ¹⁶When we entered into Rome,^e Paul was allowed to stay by himself with the soldier who guarded him.

¹⁷It happened that after three days he called together those who were the Jewish leaders. When they had come together, he said to them, “I, brothers, though I had done nothing against the people, or the customs of our fathers, still was delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans, ¹⁸who, when they had examined me, desired to set me free, because there was no cause of death in me. ¹⁹But when the Jews spoke against it, I was forced to appeal to Caesar, not that I had anything about which to accuse my nation. ²⁰For this cause therefore I asked to see you and to speak with you. For because of the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain.”

²¹They said to him, “We neither received letters from Judea concerning you, nor did any of the brothers come here and report or speak any evil of you. ²²But we desire to hear from you what you think. For, as concerning this sect, it is known to us that everywhere it is spoken against.”

²³When they had appointed him a day, many people came to him at his lodging. He explained to them, testifying about the kingdom of God, and persuading them concerning Jesus, both from the Law of Moses and from the Prophets, from morning until evening. ²⁴Some believed the things which were spoken, and some disbelieved. ²⁵When they did not agree among themselves, they departed after Paul had spoken one word, “The Holy Spirit spoke rightly through Isaiah, the prophet, to your^f fathers, ²⁶saying,

‘Go to this people, and say,
in hearing, you will hear,
but will in no way understand.
In seeing, you will see,

²⁷For this people’s heart has grown callous.

Their ears are dull of hearing,
Their eyes they have closed.
Lest they should see with their eyes,
hear with their ears,
understand with their heart,
and would turn again,
and I would heal them.’^g

²⁸“Be it known therefore to you, that the salvation of God is sent to the nations. They will also listen.” ²⁹And when he had said these words, the Jews departed, having a great dispute among themselves.^h

Romans

1 Paul, a servant of Christ Jesus,^a called to be an apostle, set apart for the Good News of God, ²which he promised before through his prophets in the holy Scriptures, ³concerning his Son, who was born of the offspring of David according to the flesh, ⁴who was declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead, Jesus Christ our Lord, ⁵through whom we received grace and the office of apostle, for obedience of faith among all the nations, for his name's sake; ⁶among whom you are also called to belong to Jesus Christ; ⁷to all who are in Rome, loved by God, called to be saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

⁸First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for all of you, because your faith is proclaimed throughout the whole world.^b ⁹For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the Good News of his Son, how I constantly mention you ¹⁰always in my prayers, requesting, if by any means now at last I may succeed by the will of God to come to you. ¹¹For I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift to strengthen you; ¹²that is, that you and I may be mutually encouraged by each other's faith, both yours and mine.

¹³Now I do not desire to have you unaware, brothers, that I often planned to come to you, and was hindered so far, that I might have some fruit among you also, even as among the other non-Jewish people. ¹⁴I have an obligation both to Greeks and to barbarians, both to the wise and to the foolish. ¹⁵So, for my part, I am eager to preach the Good News to you also who are in Rome. ¹⁶For I am not ashamed of the Good News,^c for it is the power of God for salvation for everyone who believes; for the Jew first, and also for the Greek. ¹⁷For in it is revealed God's righteousness from faith to faith. As it is written, "But the righteous will live by faith."^d ¹⁸For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of people, who suppress the truth by unrighteousness, ¹⁹because what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them. ²⁰For since the creation of the world his invisible attributes, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made. So they are without excuse. ²¹Because, although they knew God, they did not glorify him as God or give him thanks, but their thinking became nonsense, and their foolish heart was darkened.

²⁶For this reason, God abandoned them to their degrading passions. For their women exchanged natural relations for that which is contrary to nature. ²⁷Likewise also the men, giving up natural relations with women, burned in their lust toward one another, men with men, committing what is shameful, and receiving in themselves the due penalty of their error. ²⁸Even as they refused to have God in their knowledge, God abandoned them to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not right; ²⁹being filled with all unrighteousness, sexual immorality,^e wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, evil habits, secret slanderers, ³⁰slanderers, haters of God, insolent, arrogant, boastful, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, ³¹foolish, promise-breakers, heartless, unforgiving,^f unmerciful; ³²who, knowing the ordinance of God, that those who practice such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but also approve of those who practice them.

2 Therefore you are without excuse, everyone of you who passes judgment. For in that which you judge another, you condemn yourself. For you who judge practice the same things. ²Now we know that the judgment of God is in accordance with truth against those who practice such things. ³And do you think this, you who judge those who practice such things, and do the same, that you will escape the judgment of God? ⁴Or do you despise the riches of his goodness, forbearance, and patience, not knowing that the goodness of God leads you to repentance? ⁵But according to your hardness and unrepentant heart you are storing up for yourself wrath in the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God; ⁶who "will pay back to everyone according to their works:"^g ⁷to those who by perseverance in good works seek glory and honor and immortality -- everlasting life. ⁸But to those who are self-seeking, and do not obey the truth, but obey wickedness -- wrath and anger, ⁹affliction and distress, on every human being who does evil, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

¹⁰But glory, honor, and peace for everyone who does good, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. ¹¹For there is no partiality with God. ¹²For as many as have sinned without the law will also perish without the law. As many as have sinned under the law will be judged by the law. ¹³For it is not the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers of the law will be justified. ¹⁴For when the non-Jews who do not have the law do by nature the things of the law, these, not having the law, are a law to themselves, ¹⁵since they show the work of the law written on their hearts, their conscience bearing witness, and their thoughts either accusing or defending them, ¹⁶in the day when God will judge the secrets of people, according to my Good News, by Christ Jesus.

¹⁷But if you call yourself a Jew, and rely on the law, and boast in God, ¹⁸and know his will, and approve the things that are excellent, being instructed out of the law, ¹⁹and are confident that you yourself are a guide of the blind, a light to those who are in darkness, ²⁰a corrector of the foolish, a teacher of children, having in the law the embodiment of knowledge and truth. ²¹You therefore who teach another, do you not teach yourself? You who preach against stealing, do you steal? ²²You who say that one should not commit adultery, do you commit adultery? You who detest idols, do you rob temples? ²³You who boast in the law, do you, by disobeying the law, dishonor God? ²⁴For because of you the name of God is blasphemed among the nations,^a just as it is written. ²⁵For circumcision indeed profits, if you are a doer of the law, but if you are a transgressor of the law, your circumcision has become uncircumcision. ²⁶If therefore the uncircumcised keep the requirements of the law, won't his uncircumcision be counted as circumcision? ²⁷Won't the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfills the law, judge you, who with the letter and circumcision are a transgressor of the law? ²⁸For he is not a Jew who is one outwardly, neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh; ²⁹but he is a Jew who is one inwardly, and circumcision is that of the heart, by the Spirit, not in the letter; whose praise is not from people, but from God.

3 Then what advantage does the Jew have? Or what is the profit of circumcision? ²Much in every way. Because first of all, they were entrusted with the oracles of God. ³For what if some were without faith? Will their lack of faith nullify the faithfulness of God? ⁴Absolutely not. Let God be found true, but every human being a liar. As it is written, "That you may be justified in your words, and prevail when you judge."^b

⁵But if our unrighteousness commends the righteousness of God, what will we say? Is God unrighteous who inflicts wrath? (I am speaking in human terms). ⁶Absolutely not. For then how will God judge the world? ⁷For if the truth of God through my lie abounded to his glory, why am I also still judged as a sinner? ⁸And why not (as we are slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say), "Let us do evil, that good may come?" Their condemnation is just. ⁹What then? Are we better than they? No, in no way. For we previously warned both Jews and Greeks, that they are all under sin. ¹⁰As it is written,

"There is no one righteous,^c no, not one."^d

¹¹"There is no one who understands.

There is no one who seeks after God.^e

¹²They have all turned aside.

They have together become unprofitable.

There is no one who does good,
there is not even one."^f

¹³"Their throat is an open tomb.

With their tongues they have used deceit."^g

"Viper's poison is under their lips;"^h

¹⁴"Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness."ⁱ

¹⁵"Their feet are swift to shed blood.

¹⁶Destruction and calamity are in their paths.

¹⁷The way of peace, they have not known."^j

¹⁸"There is no fear of God before their eyes."^k

¹⁹Now we know that whatever things the law says, it speaks to those who are under the law, that every mouth may be closed, and all the world may be brought under the judgment of God. ²⁰Because by the works of the law, no flesh will be justified in his sight. For through the law comes the knowledge of sin. ²¹But now apart from the law, a righteousness of God has been revealed, being testified by the Law and the Prophets; ²²even the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ to all^l who believe. For there is no distinction, ²³for all have sinned, and fall short of the glory of God; ²⁴being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus; ²⁵whom God displayed publicly as a mercy seat,^m through faith in his blood, for a demonstration of his righteousness, because in God's forbearance he had passed over the sins previously committed; ²⁶to demonstrate his righteousness at this present time, so that he would be just, and the justifier of him who has faith in Jesus.

²⁷Where then is the boasting? It is excluded. By what manner of law? Of works? No, but by a law of faith. ²⁸For we maintainⁿ that one is justified by faith apart from the works of the law. ²⁹Or is God for Jews only? Is he not the God of the non-Jews also? Yes, of the non-Jews also, ³⁰since indeed there is one God who will justify the circumcised by faith, and the uncircumcised through faith. ³¹Do we then nullify the law through faith? Absolutely not. No, we establish the law.

4 What then will we say that Abraham, our forefather,^o has found according to the flesh? ²For if Abraham was justified by works, he has something to boast about, but not before God. ³For what does the Scripture say? "And Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness."^p ⁴Now to the one who works, the pay is not counted as a gift, but as an obligation. ⁵But to him who does not work, but believes in him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is credited as righteousness. ⁶Even as David also pronounces blessing on the one to whom God counts righteousness apart from works,

⁷"Happy are those whose lawless deeds are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.

⁸Happy is the one whom the Lord will not charge with sin."^q

⁹Is this blessing then pronounced on the circumcised, or on the uncircumcised also? For we say that faith was credited to Abraham as righteousness. ¹⁰How then was it credited? When he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision. ¹¹He received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was in uncircumcision, that he might be the father of all those who believe, though they be in uncircumcision, so^a that righteousness might also be credited to them. ¹²The father of circumcision to those who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had in uncircumcision. ¹³For the promise to Abraham and to his descendants that he should be heir of the world was not through the law, but through the righteousness of faith. ¹⁴For if those who are of the law are heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is made of no effect. ¹⁵For the law works wrath, for where there is no law, neither is there disobedience. ¹⁶For this cause it is of faith, that it may be according to grace, to the end that the promise may be sure to all the descendants, not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all. ¹⁷As it is written, "I have made you a father of many nations."^b This is in the presence of him whom he believed: God, who gives life to the dead, and calls the things that are not, as though they were. ¹⁸Who hoped in spite of hopeless circumstances, with the result that he might become the father of many nations, according to that which had been spoken, "so will your descendants be."^c ¹⁹And not being weak in faith, he considered^d his own body, which was as good as^e dead (he being about a hundred years old), and the deadness of Sarah's womb. ²⁰Yet, looking to the promise of God, he did not waver through unbelief, but grew strong through faith, giving glory to God, ²¹and being fully assured that what he had promised, he was able also to perform. ²²And therefore "it was credited to him as righteousness."^f ²³Now it was not written that it was credited to him for his sake alone, ²⁴but for our sake also, to whom it will be credited, who believe in him who raised Jesus our Lord from the dead, ²⁵who was delivered up for our trespasses, and was raised for our justification.

5 Being therefore justified by faith, we have^g peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; ²through whom we also have our access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God. ³Not only this, but we also rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering works perseverance; ⁴and perseverance, proven character; and proven character, hope: ⁵and hope does not disappoint us, because God's love has been poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who was given to us. ⁶For while we were yet weak, at the right time Christ died for the ungodly. ⁷For rarely does one die for the righteous. Yet perhaps for a good person someone might dare to die. ⁸But God commends his own love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

⁹Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we will be saved from God's wrath through him. ¹⁰For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we will be saved by his life.

¹¹Not only so, but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received the reconciliation. ¹²Therefore, as sin entered into the world through one man, and death through sin; and so death passed to all people, because all sinned. ¹³For until the law, sin was in the world; but sin is not charged when there is no law. ¹⁴Nevertheless death reigned from Adam until Moses, even over those whose sins weren't like Adam's disobedience, who is a foreshadowing of him who was to come. ¹⁵But the free gift is not like the trespass. For if by the trespass of the one the many died, much more did the grace of God, and the gift by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, abound to the many. ¹⁶The gift is not as through one who sinned: for the judgment came by one to condemnation, but the free gift came of many trespasses to justification. ¹⁷For if by the trespass of the one, death reigned through the one; so much more will those who receive the abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one, Jesus Christ. ¹⁸So then as through one trespass, all people were condemned; even so through one act of righteousness, all people were justified to life. ¹⁹For as through the one man's disobedience many were made sinners, even so through the obedience of the one, many will be made righteous. ²⁰The law came in besides, that the trespass might abound; but where sin abounded, grace abounded more exceedingly; ²¹that as sin reigned in death, even so grace might reign through righteousness to everlasting life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

6 What should we say then? Should we continue in sin, that grace may abound? ²Absolutely not. We who died to sin, how could we live in it any longer? ³Or do you not know that all we who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? ⁴We were buried therefore with him through baptism to death, that just like Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in newness of life. ⁵For if we have become united with him in the likeness of his death, we will also be part of his resurrection; ⁶knowing this, that our old self was crucified with him, that the body of sin might be done away with, so that we would no longer be in bondage to sin. ⁷For he who has died has been freed from sin. ⁸But if we died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him; ⁹knowing that Christ, being raised from the dead, dies no more. Death no more has dominion over him. ¹⁰For the death that he died, he died to sin one time; but the life that he lives, he lives to God. ¹¹In the same way, consider yourselves dead to sin, but alive to God in Christ Jesus^h.

¹²Therefore do not let sin reign in your mortal body, that you should obey it in its lusts. ¹³Neither present your members to sin as instruments of unrighteousness, but present yourselves to God, as alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness to God. ¹⁴For sin will not have dominion over you. For you are not under law, but under grace. ¹⁵What then? Should we sin because we are not under law, but under grace? Absolutely not. ¹⁶Do you not know that when you present yourselves to someone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, whether of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness? ¹⁷But thanks be to God, that, whereas you were servants of sin, you became obedient from the heart to that form of teaching to which you were entrusted. ¹⁸Being made free from sin, you became slaves of righteousness.

¹⁹I speak in human terms because of the weakness of your flesh, for as you presented your members as servants to uncleanness and to wickedness upon wickedness, even so now present your members as slaves to righteousness for sanctification. ²⁰For when you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. ²¹What fruit then did you have at that time in the things of which you are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death. ²²But now, being made free from sin, and having become slaves of God, you have your fruit of sanctification, and the result of everlasting life. ²³For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is everlasting life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

7 Or do you not know, brothers (for I speak to those who know the law), that the law has authority over a person for as long as he lives? ²For the married woman is bound by law to her husband as long as he lives. But if her husband dies, she is released from the law concerning the husband. ³So then if, while the husband lives, she is joined to another man, she is called an adulteress. But if the husband dies, she is free from the law, so that she is not an adulteress, though she is joined to another man. ⁴Therefore, my brothers, you also were made dead to the law through the body of Christ, that you would be joined to another, to him who was raised from the dead, that we may bear fruit to God. ⁵For when we were in the flesh,^a the sinful passions which were through the law, worked in our members to bring forth fruit for death. ⁶But now we have been released from the law, having died to that which held us captive, so that we serve in newness of the Spirit, and not in oldness of the letter.

⁷What should we say then? Is the law sin? Absolutely not. However, I would not have known sin, except through the law. For I would not have known covetousness, unless the law had said, “Do not covet.”^b ⁸But sin, taking opportunity through the commandment, produced in me all kinds of covetousness. For apart from the law, sin is dead. ⁹I was alive apart from the law once, but when the commandment came, sin became alive, and I died. ¹⁰The commandment, which was for life, this I found to be for death; ¹¹for sin, taking the opportunity through the commandment, deceived me, and through it killed me. ¹²Therefore the law indeed is holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous, and good.

¹³Did that which is good, then, become death to me? Absolutely not. But sin, that it might be shown to be sin, by working death to me through that which is good; that through the commandment sin might become exceeding sinful. ¹⁴For we know that the law is spiritual, but I am fleshly, sold under sin. ¹⁵For I do not know what I am doing. For I do not practice what I desire to do; but what I hate, that I do. ¹⁶But if I do what I do not want to do, I agree with the law that it is good. ¹⁷So now it is no more I that do it, but sin which dwells in me. ¹⁸For I know that in me, that is, in my flesh,^c dwells no good thing. For the desire is present in me, but the doing of the good^d is not. ¹⁹For the good which I desire, I do not do; but the evil which I do not desire, that I practice. ²⁰But if what I^e do not desire, that I do, it is no more I that do it, but sin which dwells in me. ²¹I find then the law, that, to me, while I desire to do good, evil is present. ²²For I delight in God’s law in my inner being,²³ but I see a different law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity under the law of sin which is in my members. ²⁴What a wretched man I am. Who will deliver me out of the body of this death? ²⁵Thanks be to^f God through Jesus Christ, our Lord. So then with the mind, I myself serve God’s law, but with the flesh, the sin’s law.

8 There is therefore now no condemnation to those who are in Christ Jesus.^g ²For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has set you^h free from the law of sin and of death. ³For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God did, sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh; ⁴so that the requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who do not walk according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. ⁵For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit, the things of the Spirit. ⁶For the mind set on the flesh is death, but the mind set on the Spirit is life and peace; ⁷because the mind set on the flesh is hostile towards God, for it does not submit to God’s law; indeed, it cannot. ⁸And those who are in the flesh cannot please God. ⁹But you are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if it is so that the Spirit of God dwells in you. But if anyone does not have the Spirit of Christ, he does not belong to him. ¹⁰And if Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin, but the Spirit gives life because of righteousness. ¹¹But if the Spirit of him who raised up Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised up Christⁱ from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you. ¹²So then, brothers, we have no obligation to the flesh, to live after the flesh. ¹³For if you live after the flesh, you must die; but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. ¹⁴For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are sons of God. ¹⁵For you did not receive the spirit of bondage again to fear, but you received the Spirit of adoption, by whom we cry, “Abba.^j Father.”

¹⁶The Spirit himself testifies with our spirit that we are children of God; ¹⁷and if children, then heirs; heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ; if indeed we suffer with him, that we may also be glorified with him. ¹⁸For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which will be revealed to us. ¹⁹For the creation waits with eager expectation for the sons of God to be revealed. ²⁰For the creation was subjected to futility, not of its own will, but because of him who subjected it, in hope ²¹that the creation itself also will be delivered from the bondage of decay into the glorious freedom of the children of God. ²²For we know that the whole creation groans and suffers with labor pains together until now. ²³And not only this, but ourselves also, who have the first fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for adoption, the redemption of our body. ²⁴For we were saved in hope, but hope that is seen is not hope. For who hopes for that which he sees? ²⁵But if we hope for that which we do not see, we wait for it with patience. ²⁶And in the same way, the Spirit also helps us in our weakness, for we do not know how to pray as we ought. But the Spirit himself makes intercession for us with inexpressible groanings. ²⁷And he who searches the hearts knows what is on the Spirit’s mind, because he makes intercession for the saints in accordance with God.

²⁸And we know that all things work together for good for those who love God, to those who are called according to his purpose. ²⁹For whom he foreknew, he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. ³⁰Whom he predestined, those he also called. Whom he called, those he also justified. Whom he justified, those he also glorified.

³¹What then are we to say about these things? If God is for us, who can be against us? ³²He who did not spare his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how would he not also with him freely give us all things?³³Who could bring a charge against God's chosen ones? It is God who justifies.³⁴Who is he who condemns? It is Christ who died, and more than that, who was raised, who is at the right hand of God, who also makes intercession for us.

³⁵Who will separate us from the love of Christ? Could oppression, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or danger, or sword?³⁶Even as it is written, "For your sake we are killed all day long. We were regarded as sheep to be slaughtered."^a ³⁷No, in all these things, we are more than conquerors through him who loved us.³⁸For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor rulers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers,³⁹nor height, nor depth, nor any other created thing, will be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

9 I tell the truth in Christ. I am not lying, my conscience testifying with me in the Holy Spirit,²that I have great sorrow and unceasing anguish in my heart.³For I could wish that I myself were accursed from Christ for my brothers' sake, my physical relatives according to the flesh,⁴who are Israelites; whose is the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service, and the promises;⁵of whom are the patriarchs, and from whom is the Christ, as concerning the flesh, who is over all, God, blessed forever. Amen.

⁶But it is not as though the word of God has come to nothing. For they are not all Israel, that are of Israel.⁷Neither, because they are Abraham's descendants, are they all children. But, "In Isaac will your descendants be called."^b⁸That is, it is not the children of the flesh who are children of God, but the children of the promise are counted as descendants.⁹For this is what the promise said, "At the appointed time I will come, and Sarah will have a son."^c¹⁰And not only that, but Rebekah also had conceived by one, our father Isaac.¹¹For being not yet born, neither having done anything good or bad, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him who calls,¹²it was said to her, "The elder will serve the younger."^d¹³Even as it is written, "Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated."^e ¹⁴What should we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? Absolutely not.¹⁵For he said to Moses, "I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion."^f¹⁶So then it is not of him who wills, nor of him who runs, but of God who has mercy.¹⁷For the Scripture says to Pharaoh, "For this very purpose I caused you to be raised up, that I might show in you my power, and that my name might be proclaimed in all the earth."^g¹⁸So then, he has mercy on whom he desires, and he hardens whom he desires.¹⁹You will say then to me, "Why does he still find fault? For who withstands his will?"²⁰But who indeed are you, a human being, to reply against God? Will the thing formed ask him who formed it, "Why did you make me like this?"^h²¹Or hasn't the potter a right over the clay, from the same lump to make one part a vessel for honor, and another for dishonor?²²What if God, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much patience vessels of wrath made for destruction,²³and that he might make known the riches of his glory on vessels of mercy, which he prepared beforehand for glory,²⁴us, whom he also called, not from the Jews only, but also from the non-Jews?²⁵As he says also in Hosea,

"I will call them which were not my people 'my people,' and her who was not loved, 'loved.'"ⁱ

²⁶"It will be that in the place where it was said to them, 'You are not my people,'

²⁹As Isaiah has said before,
"Unless the Lord of hostsⁿ had left us a few survivors, we would have become like Sodom, and would have been made like Gomorrah."^o

³⁰What should we say then? heaven?"^a (that is, to bring Christ down); ⁷or, "Who will go down into the deep?"^b (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead.)" ⁸But what does it say? "The word is near you, in your mouth, and in your heart;"^c that is, the message of faith that we proclaim: ⁹that if you acknowledge with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. ¹⁰For with the heart one believes, resulting in righteousness, and with the mouth acknowledgment is made, resulting in salvation. ¹¹For the Scripture says, "Whoever believes in him will not be put to shame."^d

¹²For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek; for the same Lord of all is rich to all who call on him. ¹³For, "Whoever will call on the name of the Lord will be saved."^e ¹⁴How then will they call on him in whom they have not believed? How will they believe in him whom they have not heard? And how will they hear without someone preaching? ¹⁵And how will they preach unless they are sent? As it is written:

"How beautiful are the feet of those who bring good news of peace, who bring good news^f of good things."^g

¹⁶But they did not all listen to the Good News. For Isaiah says, "Lord, who has believed our report?"^h ¹⁷So faith comes by hearing, and hearingⁱ by the word of Christ.^j ¹⁸But I say, did they not hear? Yes, truly,

"Their voice has gone out to all the earth, their words to the farthest parts of the world."^k

¹⁹But I ask, did not Israel know? First Moses says,
"I will provoke you to jealousy with that which is not a people.
I will make you angry with a foolish nation."^l

²⁰Isaiah is very bold, and says,
"I was found by those who did not seek me.
I was revealed to those who did not ask for me."^m

²¹But as to Israel he says, "All day long I have stretched out my hands to a disobedient and obstinate people."ⁿ

11 I ask then, has God rejected his people?^o Absolutely not. For I also am an Israelite, a descendant of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. ²God did not reject his people, which he foreknew. Or do you not know what the Scripture says about Elijah? How he pleads with God against Israel: ³"Lord, they have killed your prophets, they have broken down your altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life."^p ⁴But how does God answer him? "I have kept for myself seven thousand people, who have not bowed the knee to Baal."^q ⁵Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace. ⁶And

if by grace, then it is no longer of works; otherwise grace is no longer grace.^r

⁷What then? That which Israel seeks for, that he did not obtain, but the chosen ones obtained it, and the rest were hardened. ⁸According as it is written, God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, to this very day. ⁹David says,

"Let their table be made a snare, and a trap,
and a stumbling block, and a retribution to them.
¹⁰Let their eyes be darkened, so that they can't see,
and their backs be bent continually."^t

¹¹I ask then, did they stumble that they might fall? Absolutely not. But by their fall salvation has come to the non-Jews, to provoke them to jealousy. ¹²Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the non-Jews; how much more their fullness? ¹³For I speak to you who are the non-Jews. Since then as I am an apostle to the non-Jews, I glorify my ministry; ¹⁴if by any means I may provoke to jealousy those who are my flesh, and may save some of them. ¹⁵For if the rejection of them is the reconciling of the world, what would their acceptance be, but life from the dead? ¹⁶If the first fruit is holy, so is the lump. If the root is holy, so are the branches. ¹⁷But if some of the branches were broken off, and you, being a wild olive, were grafted in among them, and became partaker with them of the rich root of the olive tree;^u ¹⁸do not boast over the branches. But if you boast, it is not you who support the root, but the root supports you. ¹⁹You will say then, "Branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in." ²⁰True; by their unbelief they were broken off, and you stand by your faith. Do not be conceited, but fear; ²¹for if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. ²²See then the goodness and severity of God. Toward those who fell, severity; but toward you, goodness, if you continue in his goodness; otherwise you also will be cut off. ²³They also, if they do not continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God is able to graft them in again. ²⁴For if you were cut out of that which is by nature a wild olive tree, and were grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree, how much more will these, which are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree? ²⁵For I do not desire you to be ignorant, brothers, of this mystery, so that you won't be wise in your own conceits, that a partial hardening has happened to Israel, until the fullness of the non-Jews has come in, ²⁶and so all Israel will be saved. Even as it is written,

"There will come out of Zion the Deliverer;
he will turn away ungodliness from Jacob.

²⁷This is my covenant to them,
when I will take away their sins."^v

²⁸Concerning the Good News, they are enemies for your sake. But concerning the election, they are loved for the fathers' sake. ²⁹For the gifts and the calling of God are irrevocable. ³⁰For as you in time past were disobedient to God, but now have obtained mercy by their disobedience, ³¹even so these also have now been disobedient, that by the mercy shown to you they may now^a also obtain mercy. ³²For God has shut up all to disobedience, that he might have mercy on all. ³³Oh the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and the knowledge of God. How unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past tracing out. ³⁴For, "Who has known the mind of the Lord, or who has been his counselor?"^b ³⁵Or who has first given to him, and it will be repaid to him again?"^c ³⁶For from him and by him and in him are all things. To him be the glory for ever. Amen.

12 Therefore I urge you, brothers, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is your reasonable service. ²And do not^d be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, so that you may prove what is the good, well-pleasing, and perfect will of God. ³For I say, through the grace that was given me, to everyone among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think, but to think with sober judgment, as God has apportioned to each person a measure of faith. ⁴For even as we have many members in one body, and all the members do not have the same function, ⁵so we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and individually members one of another. ⁶And we have different gifts according to the grace that was given to us. If prophecy, according to the proportion of the faith; ⁷if service, in the service; if teaching, in the teaching; ⁸if exhorting, in exhortation; giving, in generosity; leading, in diligence; showing mercy, in cheerfulness.

⁹Let love be without hypocrisy. Abhor that which is evil. Cling to that which is good. ¹⁰In love of the brothers be tenderly affectionate one to another; outdo one another in showing honor; ¹¹not lagging in diligence; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord; ¹²rejoicing in hope; enduring in troubles; continuing steadfastly in prayer; ¹³contributing to the needs of the saints; given to hospitality. ¹⁴Bless those who persecute you;^e bless, and do not curse. ¹⁵Rejoice with those who rejoice. Weep with those who weep. ¹⁶Be of the same mind one toward another. Do not be arrogant, but associate with the humble. Do not be wise in your own conceits. ¹⁷Repay no one evil for evil. Respect what is honorable in the sight of all people. ¹⁸If it is possible, as much as it is up to you, be at peace with all people. ¹⁹Do not seek revenge yourselves, beloved, but leave room for the wrath. ²¹Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

13 Let every person be subject to the governing authorities, for there is no authority except from God, and those^h that exist are appointed by God. ²Therefore he who resists the authority, withstands the ordinance of God; and those who withstand will receive to themselves judgment. ³For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. Do you desire to have no fear of the authority? Do that which is good, and you will have praise from the same, ⁴for he is a servant of God to you for good. But if you do that which is evil, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword in vain; for he is a servant of God, an avenger for wrath to him who does evil. ⁵Therefore you need to be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but also for conscience' sake. ⁶For this reason you also pay taxes, for they are servants of God's service, attending continually on this very thing. ⁷Give therefore to everyone what you owe: taxes to whom taxes are due; customs to whom customs; respect to whom respect; honor to whom honor. ⁸Owe no one anything, except to love one another; for he who loves his neighbor has fulfilled the law.

⁹For the commandments, "Do not commit adultery," "Do not murder," "Do not steal," "Do not give false testimony,"ⁱ "Do not covet,"^j and whatever other commandments there are, are all summed up in this saying, namely, "You are to love your neighbor as yourself."^k ¹⁰Love does not harm a neighbor. Love therefore is the fulfillment of the law. ¹¹Do this, knowing the time, that it is already time for you to awaken out of sleep, for salvation is now nearer to us than when we first believed. ¹²The night is far gone, and the day is near. Let us therefore throw off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light. ¹³Let us walk decently, as in the daytime; not in carousing and drunkenness, not in sexual immorality and lustful acts, and not in dissension and jealousy. ¹⁴But put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, for its lusts.

14 Now accept one who is weak in faith, but not for disputes over opinions. ²One person has faith to eat all things, but the one who is weak eats only vegetables. ³Do not let the one who eats despise the one who does not eat. Do not let the one who does not eat judge the one who eats, for God has accepted him. ⁴Who are you who judge another's servant? To his own lord he stands or falls. Yes, he will be made to stand, for the Lord^l has power to make him stand.

⁵One esteems one day as more important; and another one esteems every day alike. to God. And the one who does not eat, he does not eat to the Lord, and gives thanks to God. ⁷For none of us lives to himself, and none dies to himself. ⁸For if we live, we live to the Lord. Or if we die, we die to the Lord. If therefore we live or die, we are the Lord's. ⁹For to this end Christ died,^a and lived again, that he might be Lord of both the dead and the living.

¹⁰But you, why do you judge your brother? Or you again, why do you despise your brother? For we will all stand before the judgment seat of God.^b ¹¹For it is written, "As I live," says the Lord, "to me every knee will bow. Every tongue will confess to God."^c

¹²So then each one of us will give account of himself to God. ¹³Therefore let us not judge one another any more, but judge this rather, not to put a stumbling block in a brother's way, or an occasion for falling. ¹⁴I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself; except that to him who considers anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean. ¹⁵Yet if because of food your brother is grieved, you walk no longer in love. Do not destroy with your food him for whom Christ died. ¹⁶Then do not let your good be slandered, ¹⁷for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness, peace, and joy in the Holy Spirit. ¹⁸For he who serves Christ in these things is acceptable to God and approved by people. ¹⁹So then, let us follow after things which make for peace, and things by which we may build one another up. ²⁰Do not overthrow God's work for food's sake. All things indeed are clean, however it is evil for anyone who creates a stumbling block by eating. ²¹It is good to not eat meat, drink wine, or do anything by which your brother stumbles, or is offended, or is made weak.^d

²²The faith you have, keep between yourself and God. Happy is the one who does not judge himself in that which he approves. ²³But he who doubts is condemned if he eats, because it is not of faith; and whatever is not of faith is sin.

15 Now we who are strong ought to bear the weaknesses of the weak, and not to please ourselves. ²Let each one of us please his neighbor for that which is good, to be building him up. ³For even Christ did not please himself. But, as it is written, "The insults of those who insult you fell on me."^e ⁴For whatever things were written before were written for our instruction, that through patience and through encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope. ⁵Now the God of patience and of encouragement grant you to be of the same mind one with another according to Christ Jesus, ⁶that with one accord you may with one mouth glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Greet those who are of the household of Aristobulus. ¹¹Greet Herodion, my kinsman. Greet them of the household of Narcissus, who are in the Lord. ¹²Greet Tryphaena and Tryphosa, who labor in the Lord. Greet Persis, the beloved, who labored much in the Lord. ¹³Greet Rufus, the chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine. ¹⁴Greet Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and the brothers who are with them. ¹⁵Greet Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints who are with them. ¹⁶Greet one another with a holy kiss. The churches of Christ greet you.

¹⁷Now I appeal to you, brothers, look out for those who are causing the divisions and occasions of stumbling, contrary to the doctrine which you learned, and turn away from them. ¹⁸For those who are such do not serve our Lord^f Christ, but their own belly; and by their smooth and flattering speech, they deceive the hearts of the innocent. ¹⁹For your obedience has become known to all. I rejoice therefore over you. But I desire to have you wise in that which is good, but innocent in that which is evil. ²⁰And the God of peace will quickly crush Satan under your feet. The grace of our Lord Jesus be with you.

²¹Timothy, my fellow worker, greets you, as do Lucius, Jason, and Sosipater, my relatives. ²²I, Tertius, who write the letter, greet you in the Lord. ²³Gaius, my host and host of the whole church, greets you. Erastus, the treasurer of the city, greets you, as does Quartus, the brother.^{24g} ²⁵Now to him who is able to establish you according to my Good News and the proclaiming of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery which has been kept secret through long ages, ²⁶but now is revealed, and by the Scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the eternal God, is made known for obedience of faith to all the nations; ²⁷to the only wise God, through Jesus Christ, to whom be the glory forever. Amen.^h

1 Corinthians

1 Paul, called to be an apostle of Christ Jesusⁱ by the will of God, and our brother Sosthenes, ²to the church of God which is at Corinth, to those who are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all who call on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, both theirs and ours: ³Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

⁴I always thank my God concerning you, for the grace of God which was given you in Christ Jesus; ⁵that in everything you were enriched in him, in all speech and all knowledge; ⁶even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you: ⁷so that you are not lacking in any gift, as you wait for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ; ⁸who will also strengthen you to the end, blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. ⁹God is faithful, through whom you were called into the fellowship of his Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord. ¹⁰Now I appeal to you, brothers, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you be in agreement, so that there may be no divisions among you, and to be united by the same mind and conviction. ¹¹For it has been reported to me concerning you, my brothers, by those who are from Chloe's household, that there are contentions among you. ¹²Now I mean this, that each one of you says, "I follow Paul," "I follow Apollos," "I follow Cephas," and, "I follow Christ." ¹³Is^j Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptized into the name of Paul? ¹⁴I thank God^k that I baptized none of you, except Crispus and Gaius, ¹⁵so that no one should say that you had been baptized^l into my own name. ¹⁶(Now I also baptized the household of Stephanas; beyond that, I do not know whether I baptized any other.) ¹⁷For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to proclaim the Good News—not in wisdom of words, so that the cross of the Christ would not be made void. ¹⁸For the message about the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God. ¹⁹For it is written,

"I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and the discernment of the discerning I will nullify."^m

²⁰Where is the wise? Where is the scribe? Where is the debater of this age? Hasn't God made foolish the wisdom of the world? ²¹For seeing that in the wisdom of God, the world through its wisdom did not know God, it was God's good pleasure through the foolishness of the preaching to save those who believe. ²²For Jews ask for signs, and Greeks seek after wisdom, ²³but we preach Christ crucified, a stumbling block to Jews and foolishness to the non-Jews^a, ²⁴but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ is the power of God and the wisdom of God. ²⁵Because the foolishness of God is wiser than man's, and the weakness of God is stronger than man's. ²⁶For consider your calling, brothers, that not many were wise from a human perspective, not many powerful, not many of noble birth. ²⁷But God chose the foolish of the world to shame the wise. And God chose the weak of the world to shame the strong. ²⁸And God chose the lowly of the world, and the despised, what is considered to be nothing, to bring to nothing what is considered to be something, ²⁹that no flesh might boast before God. ³⁰And because of him you are in Christ Jesus, who became for us wisdom from God, and righteousness and sanctification and redemption, ³¹so that, as it is written, "Let him who boasts, boast in the Lord."^b

2 When I came to you, brothers, I did not come with superiority of speech or wisdom, proclaiming to you the mystery^c of God. ²For I determined not to know anything among you, except Jesus Christ, and him crucified. ³When I was with you, I was weak and afraid and I shook. ⁴My speech and my preaching were not in persuasive words^d of^e wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power, ⁵that your faith would not rest on human wisdom, but on the power of God. ⁶We speak wisdom, however, among those who are mature, but a wisdom not of this age or of the rulers of this age, who are passing away. ⁷But we speak God's wisdom in a mystery, the wisdom that has been hidden, which God determined in advance before the ages for our glory, ⁸which none of the rulers of this age has understood. For had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. ⁹But as it is written, No eye has seen, and no ear has heard, and no mind has imagined the things which God has prepared for those who love him.^f

¹⁰But to us God revealed it through the Spirit. For the Spirit searches all things, even the deep things of God. ¹¹For what person knows the things of a person except the spirit of the person that is in him? So also, no one knows the things of God except the Spirit of God. ¹²But we received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is from God, that we might know the things that were freely given to us by God. ¹³And we speak of these things, not with words taught by human wisdom, but with those taught by the^g Spirit, comparing spiritual things with spiritual things. ¹⁴Now the natural person does not receive the things of the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness to him, and he cannot understand them, because they are spiritually discerned. ¹⁵But he who is spiritual discerns all things, and he himself is judged by no one. ¹⁶For, "Who has known the mind of the Lord? Who will instruct him?"^h But we have the mind of Christ.

3 And I, brothers, could not address you as spiritual, but as fleshly, as infants in Christ. ²I fed you with milk, not solid food, for you weren't yet ready. And even now you are still not ready, ³for you are still fleshly. For insofar as there is jealousy and strifeⁱ among you, are you not fleshly, and living by human standards? ⁴For when one says, "I follow Paul," and another, "I follow Apollos," are you not merely human?^j ⁵What then is Apollos? And what is Paul? Servants through whom you believed, and each as the Lord gave to him. ⁶I planted. Apollos watered. But God made it grow. ⁷So then neither he who plants is anything, nor he who waters, but God who makes it grow. ⁸Now he who plants and he who waters are the same, but each will receive his own reward according to his own labor. ⁹For we are God's fellow workers. You are God's field, God's building. ¹⁰According to the grace of God which was given to me, as a wise master builder I laid a foundation, and another builds on it. But let each one be careful how he builds on it. ¹¹For no one can lay any other foundation than that which has been laid, which is Jesus Christ. ¹²But if anyone builds on the foundation with gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, or straw; ¹³each man's work will be revealed. For the Day will declare it, because it is revealed in fire; and the fire itself will test what sort of work each man's work is. ¹⁴If any man's work remains which he built on it, he will receive a reward. ¹⁵If any man's work is burned, he will suffer loss, but he himself will be saved, but as through fire.

¹⁶Do you not know that you are a temple of God, and that God's Spirit lives in you? ¹⁷If anyone destroys the temple of God, God will destroy him; for God's temple is holy, which you are. ¹⁸Let no one deceive himself. If anyone thinks that he is wise among you in this age, let him become a fool, that he may become wise. ¹⁹For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, "He traps the wise in their craftiness."^k ²⁰And again, "The Lord knows the thoughts of the wise,^l that they are futile."^m ²¹Therefore let no one boast about people. For all things are yours, ²²whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come. All are yours, ²³and you are Christ's, and Christ is God's.

4 So a person should consider us as Christ's servants, and stewards of God's mysteries. ²Here, moreover, it is required of stewards, that they be found faithful. ³But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged by you, or by man's judgment. Yes, I do not judge my own self. ⁴For I know nothing against myself. Yet I am not justified by this, but he who judges me is the Lord. ⁵Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord comes, who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and reveal the counsels of the hearts. Then each one will get his praise from God.

⁶Now these things, brothers, I have in a figure transferred to myself and Apollos for your sakes, that in us you might learn not to goⁿ beyond the things which are written, that none of you be puffed up against one another. ⁷For who makes you different? And what do you have that you did not receive? But if you did receive it, why do you boast as if you had not received it? ⁸You are already filled. You have already become rich. You have come to reign without us. Yes, and I wish that you did reign, that we also might reign with you. ⁹For, I think that God has displayed us, the apostles, last of all, like men sentenced to death. For we are made a spectacle to the world, both to angels and people. ¹⁰We are fools for Christ's sake, but you are wise in Christ. We are weak, but you are strong. You have honor, but we have dishonor. ¹¹Even to this present hour we hunger, thirst, are naked, are beaten, and have no certain dwelling place. ¹²We toil, working with our own hands. When people curse us, we bless. Being persecuted, we endure. ¹³Being defamed, we entreat. We are made as the filth of the world, the dirt wiped off by all, even until now. ¹⁴I do not write these things to shame you, but to admonish you as my beloved children. ¹⁵For though you have ten thousand tutors in Christ, yet not many fathers. For in Christ Jesus, I became your father through the Good News. ¹⁶I appeal to you therefore, be imitators of me. ¹⁷Because of this I have sent Timothy to you, who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who will remind you of my ways which are in Christ, even as I teach everywhere in every church. ¹⁸Now some are puffed up, as though I were not coming to you. ¹⁹But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord is willing. And I will know, not the word of those who are puffed up, but the power. ²⁰For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power. ²¹What do you want? Should I come to you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of gentleness?

5 It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and such sexual immorality as is not even^a among the nations, that one has his father's wife. ²You are puffed up, and did not rather mourn, that he who had done this deed might be removed from among you. ³For I most certainly, as being absent in body but present in spirit, have already, as though I were present, judged him who has done this thing. ⁴In the name of our Lord Jesus,^b you being gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus,^c are to deliver such a one to Satan for the destruction of the flesh,^d that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord.^e

⁶Your boasting is not good. Do you not know that a little yeast leavens the whole lump? ⁷Purge out the old yeast, that you may be a new lump, even as you are unleavened. For indeed Christ, our Passover lamb, has been sacrificed for us.^f ⁸Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old yeast, neither with the yeast of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth. ⁹I wrote to you in my letter to have no company with sexual sinners; ¹⁰yet not at all meaning with the sexual sinners of this world, or with the covetous and extortioners, or with idolaters; for then you would have to leave the world. ¹¹But as it is, I wrote to you not to associate with anyone who is called a brother who is a sexual sinner, or covetous, or an idolater, or a slanderer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner. Do not even eat with such a person. ¹²For what have I to do with also judging those who are outside? Do you not judge

those who are within? ¹³But those who are outside, God judges. "Put away the wicked person from among yourselves."^g

6 If any of you has a dispute against another, does he dare go to court before the unrighteous, instead of the saints? ²Do you not know that the saints will judge the world? And if the world is judged by you, are you unworthy to judge the smallest matters? ³Do you not know that we will judge angels? How much more, things that pertain to this life? ⁴If then, you have to judge things pertaining to this life, do you set them to judge who have no standing in the church? ⁵I say this to move you to shame. Is there not even one wise person among you who would be able to decide between a brother and his brother?^h ⁶But brother goes to law with brother, and that before unbelievers. ⁷Actually, it is already a defeat for you, that you have lawsuits among yourselves. Why not rather be wronged? Why not rather be cheated? ⁸No, but you yourselves do wrong, and cheat, and that against your brothers. ⁹Or do you not know that the unrighteous will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived. Neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate,ⁱ nor men who have sexual relations with men,^j nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor slanderers, nor swindlers, will inherit the kingdom of God. ¹¹Such were some of you, but you were washed. But you were sanctified. But you were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ,^k and in the Spirit of our God. ¹²"All things are lawful for me," but not all things are expedient. "All things are lawful for me," but I will not be brought under the power of anything. ¹³"Foods for the belly, and the belly for foods," but God will bring to nothing both it and them. But the body is not for sexual immorality, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body. ¹⁴Now God raised up the Lord, and will also raise us up by his power. ¹⁵Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ? Should I then take the members of Christ, and make them members of a prostitute? Absolutely not. ¹⁶Or do you not know that he who is joined to a prostitute is one body? For he says, "The two will become one flesh."^l ¹⁷But he who is joined to the Lord is one spirit. ¹⁸Flee sexual immorality. "Every sin that a person does is outside the body," but he who commits sexual immorality sins against his own body. ¹⁹Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit which is in you, which you have from God? You are not your own, ²⁰for you were bought with a price. Therefore glorify God in your body.^m

7 Now concerning the things about which you wroteⁿ: it is good for a man not to touch^o a woman. ²But, because of sexual immoralities, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband. ³Let the husband fulfill his marital duty^p to his wife, and likewise also the wife to her husband. ⁴The wife does not have authority over her own body, but the husband. own body, but the wife. ⁵Do not deprive one another, unless it is by consent for a season, that you may give yourselves to^a prayer, and may be together again, that Satan does not tempt you because of your lack of self-control.

⁶But this I say by way of concession, not of commandment. ⁷Yet I wish that all people were like me. However each one has his own gift from God, one of this kind, and another of that kind. ⁸But I say to the unmarried and to widows, it is good for them if they remain even as I am. ⁹But if they do not have self-control, let them marry. For it's better to marry than to burn. ¹⁰But to the married I command—not I, but the Lord—that the wife not leave her husband ¹¹(but if she departs, let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband), and that the husband not leave his wife.

¹²But to the rest I—not the Lord—say, if any brother has an unbelieving wife, and she is content to live with him, let him not leave her. ¹³The woman who has an unbelieving husband, and he is content to live with her, let her not leave her husband^b. ¹⁴For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the brother^c. Otherwise your children would be unclean, but now they are holy. ¹⁵Yet if the unbeliever departs, let there be separation. The brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases, but God has called you^d to peace. ¹⁶For how do you know, wife, whether you will save your husband? Or how do you know, husband, whether you will save your wife? ¹⁷Only, as the Lord has assigned to each one, as God^e has called each, so let him walk. So I command in all the churches.

¹⁸Was anyone called having been circumcised? Let him not become uncircumcised. Has anyone been called in uncircumcision? Let him not be circumcised. ¹⁹Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God. ²⁰Let each person stay in that calling in which he was called. ²¹Were you called being a slave? Do not let that bother you, but if you get an opportunity to become free, use it. ²²For he who was called in the Lord being a slave is the Lord's free person. Likewise he who was called being free is Christ's slave. ²³You were bought with a price. Do not become slaves of people. ²⁴Brothers, let each one, in whatever condition he was called, stay in that condition with God.

²⁵Now concerning virgins, I have no commandment from the Lord, but I give my judgment as one who has obtained mercy from the Lord to be trustworthy. ²⁶I think that it is good therefore, because of the distress that is on us, that it is good for a person to remain as he is. ²⁷Are you bound to a wife? Do not seek to be freed. Are you free from a wife? Do not seek a wife. ²⁸But if you marry, you have not sinned. If a virgin marries, she has not sinned. Yet such will have trouble in this life,^f and I want to spare you. ²⁹But I say this, brothers: the time is short, that from now on, those who have wives should be as though they had none; ³⁰and those who weep, as though they did not weep; and those who rejoice, as though they did not rejoice; and those who buy, as though they did not possess; ³¹and those who use the world, as not using it to the fullest. For the form of this world is passing away. ³²But I desire to have you to be free from cares. He who is unmarried is concerned for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord; ³³but he who is married is concerned about the things of the world, how he may please his wife, ³⁴and is divided. And the woman that is unmarried, or a virgin, is concerned about the things of the Lord, so that she may be holy both in body and in spirit. But the one that is married is concerned about the things of the world, how she may please her husband. ³⁵This I say for your own profit; not that I may ensnare you, but for that which is appropriate, and that you may attend to the Lord without distraction. ³⁶But if anyone thinks that he is behaving inappropriately toward his virgin, if she is past the flower of her age, and if need so requires, let him do what he desires. He does not sin. Let them marry. ³⁷But he who stands steadfast in his heart, having no necessity, but has power over his own heart, to keep his own virgin, does well. ³⁸So then both he who gives his own virgin^g in marriage does well, and he who does not give her in marriage does better. ³⁹A wife is bound^h to her husband as long as he lives; but if the husband is dead, she is free to be married to whomever she desires, only in the Lord. ⁴⁰But she is happier if she stays as she is, in my judgment, and I think that I also have God's Spirit.

8 Now concerning things sacrificed to idols: We know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffs up, but love builds up. ²But if anyone thinks that he knows anything, he does not yet knowⁱ as he ought to know. ³But if anyone loves God, the same is known by him. ⁴Therefore concerning the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that no idol is anything in the world, and that there is no^j God but one. ⁵For though there are things that are called "gods," whether in the heavens or on earth; as there are many "gods" and many "lords;" ⁶yet to us there is one God, the Father, from whom are all things, and we for him; and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom are all things, and we live through him. ⁷However, not all have this knowledge. But some, being so accustomed^k to idols until now, eat as of a thing sacrificed to an idol, and their conscience, being weak, is defiled. ⁸But food will not commend us to God. For neither, if we do not eat, are we the worse; nor, if we eat, are we the better. ⁹But be careful that by no means does this liberty of yours become a stumbling block to the weak. ¹⁰For if someone sees you who have knowledge sitting in an idol's temple, won't his conscience, if he is weak, be emboldened to eat things sacrificed to idols? ¹¹And through your knowledge, he who is weak perishes, the brother for whom the Christ died. ¹²Thus, sinning against the brothers, and wounding their conscience when it is weak, you sin against Christ. ¹³Therefore, if food causes my brother to stumble, I will eat no meat forevermore, that I do not cause my brother to stumble.

9 Am I not free? Am I not an apostle? Have I not seen Jesus^l our Lord? Are you not my work in the Lord? ²If to others I am not an apostle, yet at least I am to you; for you are the seal of my office of apostle in the Lord. ³My defense to those who examine me is this. ⁴Have we no right to eat and to drink? ⁵Have we no right to take along a wife who is a believer, even as the rest of the apostles, and the brothers of the Lord, and Cephas? ⁶Or have only Barnabas and I no right to not work? ⁷What soldier ever serves at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard, and does not eat of its fruit? Or who feeds a flock, and does not drink from the flock's milk? ⁸Do I say these things according to human authority? Or does not the Law also say the same thing? ⁹For it is written in the Law of Moses, “Do not muzzle an ox while it treads out the grain.”^a Is it for the oxen that God cares, ¹⁰or does he say it assuredly for our sake? Yes, it was written for our sake, because he who plows ought to plow in hope, and he who threshes in the hope of having a share^b. ¹¹If we sowed to you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we reap your fleshly things? ¹²If others partake of this right over you, do not we yet more? Nevertheless we did not use this right, but we bear all things, that we may cause no hindrance to the Good News of Christ. ¹³Do you not know that those who serve around sacred things eat from the things of the temple, and those who wait on the altar have their portion with the altar? ¹⁴Even so the Lord ordained that those who proclaim the Good News should live from the Good News. ¹⁵But I have used none of these things, and I do not write these things that it may be done so in my case; for I would rather die, than that anyone should make my boasting void. ¹⁶For if I proclaim the Good News, I have nothing to boast about; for necessity is laid on me; but woe is to me, if I do not proclaim the Good News. ¹⁷For if I do this of my own will, I have a reward. But if not of my own will, I have a stewardship entrusted to me. ¹⁸What then is my reward? That, when I proclaim the Good News, I may present the Good News^c without charge, so as not to abuse my authority in the Good News. ¹⁹For though I was free from all, I brought myself under bondage to all, that I might gain the more. ²⁰To the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain Jews; to those who are under the law, as under the law, not being myself under the law,^d that I might gain those who are under the law; ²¹to those who are without law, as without law (not being without law toward God, but under law toward Christ), that I might win those who are without law. ²²To the weak I became as weak, that I might gain the weak. I have become all things to all people, that I may by all means save some. ²³Now I do all things^e for the sake of the Good News, that I may be a joint partaker of it. ²⁴Do you not know that those who run in a race all run, but one receives the prize? Run like that, that you may win. ²⁵Now everyone who competes in the games exercises self-control in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown, but we an incorruptible. ²⁶I therefore run like that, as not uncertainly. I fight like that, as not beating the air, ²⁷but I beat my body and bring it into submission, lest by any means, after I have preached to others, I myself should be rejected.

10 Now I would not have you ignorant, brothers, that our fathers were all under the cloud, and all passed through the sea; ²and were all baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea; ³and all ate the same spiritual food; ⁴and all drank the same spiritual drink. For they drank of a spiritual rock that followed them, and the rock was Christ. ⁵However with most of them, God was not well pleased, for they were overthrown in the wilderness. ⁶Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted. ⁷Neither be idolaters, as some of them were. As it is written, “The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.”^f ⁸Neither let us commit sexual immorality, as some of them committed, and in one day twenty-three thousand fell. ⁹Neither let us test the Christ,^g as some of them tested, and perished by the serpents. ¹⁰Neither grumble, as some of them also grumbled, and perished by the destroyer. ¹¹Now^h these things happened to them by way of example, and they were written for our admonition, on whom the ends of the ages have come. ¹²Therefore let him who thinks he stands be careful that he does not fall.

¹³No temptation has taken you except what is common to humanity. God is faithful, who will not allow you to be tempted above what you are able, but will with the temptation also make the way of escape, that you may be able to endure it. ¹⁴Therefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry. ¹⁵I speak as to wise people. Judge what I say. ¹⁶The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not a sharing of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not a sharing of the body of Christ? ¹⁷Because there is one loaf of bread, we, who are many, are one body; for we all partake of the one loaf of bread. ¹⁸Consider Israel according to the flesh. Do not those who eat the sacrifices participate in the altar?

¹⁹What am I saying then? That a thing sacrificed to idols is anything, or that an idol is anything? ²⁰But I say that the things which pagans sacrifice, they sacrificeⁱ to demons, and not to God, and I do not desire that you would have fellowship with demons. ²¹You cannot both drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons. You cannot both partake of the table of the Lord, and of the table of demons. ²²Or do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? Are we stronger than he? ²³“All things are lawful^j,” but not all things are profitable. “All things are lawful^k,” but not all things build up. ²⁴Let no one seek his own, but^l his neighbor’s good. ²⁵Whatever is sold in the butcher shop, eat, asking no question for the sake of conscience, ²⁶for “the earth is the Lord’s, and its fullness.”^m ²⁷But if one of those who do not believe invites you to a meal, and you are inclined to go, eat whatever is set before you, asking no questions for the sake of conscience. ²⁸But if anyone says to you, “This was offered to idols,” do not eat it for the sake of the one who told you, and for the sake of conscience.ⁿ ²⁹Conscience, I say, not your own, but the other’s conscience. For why is my liberty judged by another conscience? ³⁰If I partake with thankfulness, why am I denounced for that for which I give thanks? ³¹Whether therefore you eat, or drink, or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God. ³²Give no occasions for stumbling, either to Jews, or to Greeks, or to the church of God; ³³even as I also please all people in all things, not seeking my own profit, but the profit of the many, that they may be saved.

11 Be imitators of me, even as I also am of Christ. ²Now I praise you,^o that you remember me in all things, and hold firm the traditions, even as I delivered them to you. ³But I would have you know that the head of every man is Christ, and the head of the woman is the man, and the head of Christ is God. ⁴Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonors his head. ⁵But every woman praying or prophesying with her head unveiled dishonors her head. For it is one and the same thing as if she were shaved. ⁶For if a woman is not covered, let her also be shorn. But if it is shameful for a woman to be shorn or shaved, let her be covered. ⁷For a man indeed ought not to have his head covered, because he is the image and glory of God, but the woman is the glory of the man. ⁸For man is not from woman, but woman from man; ⁹for neither was man created for the woman, but woman for the man. ¹⁰For this cause the woman ought to have authority on her head, because of the angels.

¹¹Nevertheless, neither is the woman independent of the man, nor the man independent of the woman, in the Lord. ¹²For as woman came from man, so a man also comes through a woman; but all things are from God. ¹³Judge for yourselves. Is it appropriate that a woman pray to God unveiled? ¹⁴Doesn't even nature itself teach you that if a man has long hair, it is a dishonor to him? ¹⁵But if a woman has long hair, it is a glory to her, for her hair is given to her^a for a covering. ¹⁶But if anyone seems to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither do God's churches.

¹⁷But in giving you this command, I do not praise you, that you come together not for the better but for the worse. ¹⁸For first of all, when you come together in the church, I hear that divisions exist among you, and I partly believe it. ¹⁹For there also must be factions among you, that those who are approved may be revealed among you. ²⁰When therefore you assemble yourselves together, it is not the Lord's supper that you eat. ²¹For in your eating each one takes his own supper first. One is hungry, and another is drunk. ²²What, do you not have houses to eat and to drink in? Or do you despise God's church, and put them to shame who do not have? What should I tell you? Should I praise you? In this I do not praise you.

²³For I received from the Lord that which also I delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night in which he was betrayed took bread. ²⁴When he had given thanks, he broke it, and said, "This is my body, which is^c for you. Do this in memory of me." ²⁵In the same way he also took the cup, after the meal, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink, in memory of me." ²⁶For as often as you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes. ²⁷Therefore whoever eats this bread or drinks the Lord's cup in a manner unworthy^d will be guilty of the body and the blood of the Lord. ²⁸But let a person examine himself, and so let him eat of the bread, and drink of the cup. ²⁹For he who eats and drinks^e eats and drinks judgment to himself, if he does not discern the^f body. ³⁰For this cause many among you are weak and sickly, and not a few sleep. ³¹For if we discerned ourselves, we would not be judged. ³²But when we are judged, we are punished by the^g Lord, that we may not be condemned with the world. ³³Therefore, my brothers, when you come together to eat, wait one for another. ³⁴But if anyone is hungry, let him eat at home, lest your coming together be for judgment. The rest I will set in order whenever I come.

12 Now concerning spiritual things, brothers, I do not want you to be ignorant. ²You know that when you were unbelievers, you were led away to those mute idols, however you might be led. ³Therefore I make known to you that no one speaking by God's Spirit says, "Jesus is accursed." No one can say, "Jesus is Lord," but by the Holy Spirit. ⁴Now there are various kinds of gifts^h, but the same Spirit.

⁵There are various kinds of service, and the same Lord. ⁶There are various kinds of workings, but the same God, who works all things in all. ⁷But to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the profit of all. ⁸For to one is given through the Spirit the word of wisdom, and to another the word of knowledge, according to the same Spirit; ⁹to another faith, by the same Spirit; and to another gifts of healings, by the oneⁱ Spirit; ¹⁰and to another workings of miracles; and to another prophecy; and to another discernings of spirits; to another different kinds of tongues; and to another the interpretation of tongues. ¹¹But the one and the same Spirit works all of these, distributing to each one separately as he desires.

¹²For as the body is one, and has many members, and all the members of the^j body, being many, are one body; so also is Christ. ¹³For in one Spirit we were all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and were all given to drink of^k one Spirit. ¹⁴For the body is not one member, but many. ¹⁵If the foot would say, "Because I'm not the hand, I'm not part of the body," it is not therefore not part of the body. ¹⁶If the ear would say, "Because I'm not the eye, I'm not part of the body," it's not therefore not part of the body. ¹⁷If the whole body were an eye, where would the hearing be? If the whole were hearing, where would the smelling be? ¹⁸But now God has set the members, each one of them, in the body, just as he desired. ¹⁹If they were all one member, where would the body be? ²⁰But now they are many members, but one body. ²¹The eye cannot tell the hand, "I have no need for you," or again the head to the feet, "I have no need for you." ²²No, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be weaker are necessary. ²³Those parts of the body which we think to be less honorable, on those we bestow more abundant honor; and our unrepresentable parts have more abundant propriety; ²⁴whereas our representable parts have no such need. But God composed the body together, giving more abundant honor to the inferior part, ²⁵that there should be no division in the body, but that the members should have the same care for one another. ²⁶When one member suffers, all the members suffer with it. Or when one member is honored, all the members rejoice with it.

²⁷Now you are the body of Christ, and members individually. ²⁸God has set some in the church: first apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then miracle workers, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, and various kinds of tongues. ²⁹Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Are all miracle workers? ³⁰Do all have gifts of healings? Do all speak with tongues? Do all interpret? ³¹But earnestly desire the greater^l gifts. Moreover, I show a most excellent way to you.

13 If I speak with the tongues of humans and of angels, but do not have love, I have become sounding bronze, or a clanging cymbal. ²If I have the gift of prophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but do not have love, I am nothing. ³If I dole out all my goods to feed the poor, and if I surrender my body so that I may boast,^m but do not have love, it profits me nothing.

⁴Love is patient and is kind; love does not envy. Love does not brag, is not proud, ⁵does not behave itself inappropriately, does not seek its own way, is not irritable, does not keep a record of wrongs;

⁶does not rejoice in unrighteousness, but rejoices with the truth; ⁷bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. ⁸Love never fails. But where there are prophecies, they will be done away with. Where there are tongues, they will cease. Where there is knowledge, it will be done away with. ⁹For we know in part, and we prophesy in part; ¹⁰but when that which is complete has come,^a that which is partial will be done away with. ¹¹When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child. Now that I have become an adult, I have put away childish things. ¹²For now we see in a mirror, dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part, but then I will know fully, even as I was also fully known. ¹³But now faith, hope, and love remain—these three. The greatest of these is love.

14 Follow after love, and earnestly desire spiritual things, and especially that you may prophesy. ²For the one who speaks in another language speaks not to people, but to God; for no one understands; but in the Spirit he speaks mysteries. ³But he who prophesies speaks to people for their encouragement, strengthening, and comfort. ⁴He who speaks in another language edifies himself, but he who prophesies edifies the church. ⁵Now I would like you all to speak in tongues, but even more that you would prophesy, and^b he is greater who prophesies than he who speaks with other tongues, unless he interprets, that the church may be built up.

⁶But now, brothers, if I come to you speaking with other languages, what would I profit you, unless I speak to you either by way of revelation, or of knowledge, or of prophesying, or of teaching? ⁷Even things without life, giving a voice, whether pipe or harp, if they did not give a distinction in the sounds, how would it be known what is piped or harped? ⁸For if the trumpet gave an uncertain sound, who would prepare himself for war? ⁹So also you, unless you uttered by the tongue words easy to understand, how would it be known what is spoken? For you would be speaking into the air. ¹⁰There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none^c is without meaning. ¹¹If then I do not know the meaning of the sound, I would be to him who speaks a foreigner, and he who speaks would be a foreigner to me. ¹²So also you, since you are zealous for spiritual things, seek that you may abound to the building up of the church. ¹³Therefore let him who speaks in another language pray that he may interpret. ¹⁴For if I pray in another language, my spirit prays, but my understanding is unfruitful.

¹⁵What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also. I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also. ¹⁶Otherwise if you bless with the spirit, how will he who fills the place of the unlearned say the “Amen” at your giving of thanks, seeing he does not know what you say? ¹⁷For you truly give thanks well, but the other person is not built up. ¹⁸I thank^d God I speak in tongues more than you all. ¹⁹However in the church I would rather speak five words with my understanding, that I might instruct others also, than ten thousand words in another language.

²⁰Brothers, do not be children in thoughts, yet in malice be babies, but in thoughts be mature. ²¹In the law it is written, “By people of strange tongues and by the lips of strangers I will speak to this people; but even then they will not listen to me,” says the Lord.^e

²²Therefore tongues are for a sign, not to those who believe, but to the unbelieving; but prophesying is for a sign, not to the unbelieving, but to those who believe. ²³If therefore the whole church is assembled together and all speak in tongues, and unlearned or unbelieving people come in, won’t they say that you are crazy? ²⁴But if all prophesy, and someone unbelieving or unlearned comes in, he is reproved by all, and he is judged by all. ²⁵And thus the secrets of his heart are revealed. So he will fall down on his face and worship God, declaring that God is among you indeed.

²⁶What is it then, brothers? When you come together, each one^f has a psalm, has a teaching, has a revelation, has another language, has an interpretation. Let all things be done to build each other up. ²⁷If anyone speaks in another language, let it be two, or at the most three, and in turn; and let one interpret. ²⁸But if there is no interpreter, let him keep silent in the church, and let him speak to himself, and to God. ²⁹Let the prophets speak, two or three, and let the others discern. ³⁰But if a revelation is made to another sitting by, let the first keep silent. ³¹For you can all prophesy one by one, that all may learn and all may be encouraged. ³²The spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets, ³³for God is not a God of confusion, but of peace.

As in all the churches of the saints, ³⁴let the women^g keep silent in the churches, for it has not been permitted for them to speak; but let them be in subjection, as the Law also says. ³⁵If they desire to learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home, for it is shameful for a woman to chatter in the church. ³⁶What? Was it from you that the word of God went out? Or did it come to you alone? ³⁷If anyone thinks himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him recognize the things which I write to you, that they are the commandment of the Lord. ³⁸But if someone does not recognize this^h, he is not recognized. ³⁹Therefore, my brothers, desire earnestly to prophesy, and do not forbid speaking in tongues. ⁴⁰Let all things be done decently and in order.

15 Now I declare to you, brothers, the Good News which I preached to you, which also you received, in which you also stand, ²by which also you are saved, if you hold firmly the word which I preached to you—unless you believed in vain. ³For I delivered to you first of all that which I also received:

⁸and last of all, as to the child born at the wrong time, he appeared to me also.

⁹For I am the least of the apostles, who is not worthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. ¹⁰But by the grace of God I am what I am. His grace which was bestowed on me was not futile, but I worked more than all of them; yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. ¹¹Whether then it is I or they, so we proclaim, and so you believed.

¹²Now if Christ is preached, that he has been raised from the dead, how do some among you say that there is no resurrection of the dead? ¹³But if there is no resurrection of the dead, neither has Christ been raised. ¹⁴If Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is in vain, and your faith also is in vain. ¹⁵Yes, we are found false witnesses of God, because we testified about God that he raised up Christ, whom he did not raise up, if it is so that the dead are not raised. ¹⁶For if the dead are not raised, neither has Christ been raised. ¹⁷If Christ has not been raised, your faith is vain; you are still in your sins. ¹⁸Then they also who are fallen asleep in Christ have perished. ¹⁹If we have only hoped in Christ in this life, we are of all people most to be pitied.

²⁰But now Christ has been raised from the dead,^a the first fruits of those who are asleep. ²¹For since death came by a man, the resurrection of the dead also came by a man. ²²For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ all will be made alive. ²³But each in his own order: Christ the first fruits, then those who are Christ's, at his coming. ²⁴Then the end comes, when he will deliver up the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he will have abolished all rule and all authority and power. ²⁵For he must reign until he has put all his enemies under his feet. ²⁶The last enemy that will be abolished is death. ²⁷For, "He put^b all things under his feet."^c But when he says, "all things" are put under, it is evident that the one who put all things under is the exception. ²⁸When all things have been subjected to him, then the Son will also himself be subjected to him who subjected all things to him, that God may be all^d in all. ²⁹Or else what will they do who are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why then are they baptized for them^e? ³⁰Why do we also stand in jeopardy every hour? ³¹I affirm, brothers,^f by the boasting in you which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily. ³²If I fought with animals at Ephesus for human purposes, what does it profit me? If the dead are not raised, then "let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."^g ³³Do not be deceived: "Bad company corrupts good morals."^h ³⁴Become sober-minded, and do not sin, for some are ignorant about God. I say this to your shame. ³⁵But someone will say, "How are the dead raised?" and, "With what kind of body do they come?" ³⁶You foolish one, that which you yourself sow is not made alive unless it dies. ³⁷That which you sow, you do not sow the body that will be, but a bare grain, maybe of wheat, or of some other kind. ³⁸But God gives it a body even as it pleased him, and to each seed a body of its own. ³⁹All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one flesh of humans, another flesh of animals, another of fish, and another of birds. ⁴⁰There are also celestial bodies, and terrestrial bodies; but the glory of the celestial differs from that of the terrestrial. ⁴¹There is one glory of the sun, another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differs from another star in glory. ⁴²So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption. ⁴³It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. ⁴⁴It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body and there is also a spiritual body.

⁴⁵So also it is written, "The first man, Adam, became a living soul."ⁱ The last Adam became a life-giving spirit. ⁴⁶However that which is spiritual is not first, but that which is natural, then that which is spiritual. ⁴⁷The first man is of the earth, made of dust. The second man is^j from heaven. ⁴⁸As is the one made of dust, such are those who are also made of dust; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly. ⁴⁹As we have borne the image of those made of dust, let us^k also bear the image of the heavenly. ⁵⁰Now I say this, brothers, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither does corruption inherit incorruption.

⁵¹Look, I tell you a mystery. We will not all sleep, but we will all be changed,⁵² in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised incorruptible, and we will be changed. ⁵³For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. ⁵⁴But when this corruptible will have put on incorruption, and this mortal will have put on immortality, then what is written will happen: "Death is swallowed up in victory."^l ⁵⁵"Death, where is your victory?"^m Deathⁿ, where is your sting?"^o

⁵⁶The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. ⁵⁷But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. ⁵⁸Therefore, my beloved brothers, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the Lord's work, because you know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord.

16 Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I commanded the churches of Galatia, you do likewise. ²On the first day of the week, let each one of you save, as he may prosper, that no collections be made when I come. ³When I arrive, I will send whoever you approve with letters to carry your gracious gift to Jerusalem. ⁴If it is appropriate for me to go also, they will go with me. ⁵But I will come to you when I have passed through Macedonia, for I am passing through Macedonia. ⁶But with you it may be that I will stay, or even winter, that you may send me on my journey wherever I go. ⁷For I do not wish to see you now in passing, but I hope to stay a while with you, if the Lord permits. ⁸But I will stay at Ephesus until Pentecost,^p ⁹for a great and effective door has opened to me, and there are many adversaries. ¹⁰Now if Timothy comes, see that he is with you without fear, for he does the work of the Lord, as I also do. ¹¹Therefore let no one despise him. 2 Corinthians

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy our brother, to the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints who are in the whole of Achaia: ²Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

³Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort; ⁴who comforts us in all our affliction, that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, through the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God. ⁵For as the sufferings of Christ abound to us, even so our comfort also abounds through Christ. ⁶But if we are afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation. If we are comforted, it is for your comfort, which produces in you the patient enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer. ⁷Our hope for you is steadfast, knowing that, since you are partakers of the sufferings, so also are you of the comfort. ⁸For we do not desire to have you uninformed, brothers, concerning our affliction which happened^f in Asia, that we were weighed down exceedingly, beyond our power, so much that we despaired even of life. ⁹Yes, we ourselves have had the sentence of death within ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God who raises the dead, ¹⁰who delivered us out of so great a death, and he will deliver us. On him we have set our hope that he will also deliver us again; ¹¹you also helping together on our behalf by your petition; that, for the gift bestowed on us by means of many, thanks may be given by many persons on our^g behalf. ¹²For our boasting is this: the testimony of our conscience, that with pure motives^h and sincerity of God, not in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God we conducted ourselves in the world, and more abundantly toward you. ¹³For we write no other things to you, than what you read or even acknowledge, and I hope you will fully acknowledge; ¹⁴as also you acknowledged us in part, that we are your boasting, even as you also are ours, in the day of our Lord Jesus. ¹⁵In this confidence, I was determined to come first to you, that you might have a second benefit; ¹⁶and by you to pass into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come to you, and to be sent forward by you on my journey to Judea. ¹⁷When I therefore was planning this, did I do it lightly? Or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be the “Yes, yes” and the “No, no?” ¹⁸But as God is faithful, our word toward you isⁱ not “Yes and no.” ¹⁹For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, by me, Silvanus, and Timothy, was not “Yes and no,” but in him is “Yes.” ²⁰For however many are the promises of God, in him they are “Yes.” Therefore also through him they are “Amen,” to the glory of God through us.

²¹Now he who establishes us with you in Christ, and anointed us, is God; ²²who also sealed us, and gave us the down payment of the Spirit in our hearts. ²³But I call God as a witness to my soul, that to spare you I did not come again to Corinth. ²⁴Not that we rule over your faith, but are fellow workers with you for your joy. For you stand firm in faith.

2 For^j I determined this for myself, that I would not come to you again in sorrow. ²For if I make you sorry, then who will make me glad but he who is made sorry by me? ³And I wrote this very thing^k, so that, when I came, I would not have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, that my joy would be shared by all of you. ⁴For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote to you with many tears, not that you should be made sorry, but that you might know the love that I have so abundantly for you. ⁵But if any has caused sorrow, he has caused sorrow, not to me, but in part (that I not press too heavily) to you all. ⁶Sufficient to such a one is this punishment which was inflicted by the many; ⁷so that on the contrary you should rather^l forgive him and comfort him, lest by any means such a one should be swallowed up with his excessive sorrow. ⁸Therefore I urge you to confirm your love toward him. ⁹For to this end I also wrote, that I might know the proof of you, whether you are obedient in all things. ¹⁰Now I also forgive whomever you forgive anything. For if indeed I have forgiven anything, I have forgiven that one for your sakes in the presence of Christ, ¹¹that no advantage may be gained over us by Satan; for we are not ignorant of his schemes.

¹²Now when I came to Troas for the Good News of Christ, and when a door was opened to me in the Lord, ¹³I had no relief for my spirit, because I did not find Titus, my brother, but taking my leave of them, I went out into Macedonia. ¹⁴Now thanks be to God, who always leads us in triumph in Christ, and reveals through us the sweet aroma of his knowledge in every place. ¹⁵For we are a sweet aroma of Christ to God, in those who are saved, and in those who perish; ¹⁶to the one a stench from death to death; to the other a sweet aroma from life to life. Who is sufficient for these things? ¹⁷For we are not, like so many, peddling the word of God. But as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, we speak in Christ.

3 Are we beginning again to commend ourselves? We do not need, as do some, letters of commendation to you or^a from you, do we? ²You are our letter, written in our hearts, known and read by everyone; ³being revealed that you are a letter of Christ, served by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tablets of stone, but in tablets that are hearts of flesh. ⁴Such confidence we have through Christ toward God; ⁵not that we are sufficient of ourselves, to account anything as from ourselves; but our sufficiency is from God; ⁶who also made us sufficient as servants of a new covenant; not of the letter, but of the Spirit. For the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life. ⁷But if the service of death, written engraved on stones, came with glory, so that the children of Israel could not look steadfastly on the face of Moses for the glory of his face; which was passing away: ⁸won't service of the Spirit be with much more glory? ⁹For if the service of condemnation has glory, the service of righteousness exceeds much more in glory. ¹⁰For truly that which has been made glorious has not been made glorious in this respect, by reason of the glory that surpasses. ¹¹For if that which passes away was with glory, much more that which remains is in glory.

¹²Having therefore such a hope, we use great boldness of speech, ¹³and not as Moses, who put a veil on his face, that the children of Israel would not look steadfastly on the end of that which was passing away. ¹⁴But their minds were hardened, for until this very day at the reading of the old covenant the same veil remains, because in Christ it passes away. ¹⁵But to this day, when Moses is read, a veil lies on their heart. ¹⁶But whenever one turns to the Lord, the veil is taken away. ¹⁷Now the Lord is the Spirit and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. ¹⁸But we all, with unveiled face beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are transformed into the same image from glory to glory, even as from the Lord, the Spirit.

4 Therefore seeing we have this ministry, even as we obtained mercy, we do not faint. ²But we have renounced the hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by the manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. ³Even if our Good News is veiled, it is veiled to those who are perishing; ⁴in whom the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelieving, so they would not see the light of the glorious Good News of Christ, who is the image of God. ⁵For we do not preach ourselves, but Christ Jesus^b as Lord, and ourselves as your slaves because of Jesus. ⁶For it is God, who spoke for light to shine out of darkness,^c who has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ.^d

⁷But we have this treasure in clay vessels, that the exceeding greatness of the power may be of God, and not from ourselves. ⁸We are pressed on every side, yet not crushed; perplexed, yet not to despair; ⁹pursued, yet not forsaken; struck down, yet not destroyed; ¹⁰always carrying in the body the death of^e Jesus, that the life of Jesus may also be revealed in our body. ¹¹For we who live are always delivered to death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus may be revealed in our mortal flesh. ¹²So then death works in us, but life in you. ¹³But having the same spirit of faith, according to that which is written, "I believed, and therefore I spoke."^f We also believe, and therefore also we speak; ¹⁴knowing that he who raised the Lord^g Jesus will raise us also with Jesus, and will present us with you. ¹⁵For all things are for your sakes, that the grace, being multiplied through the many, may cause the thanksgiving to abound to the glory of God. ¹⁶Therefore we do not become discouraged, but even though our outer nature is wearing away, yet our inner nature is being renewed day by day. ¹⁷For this momentary light affliction is working for us a far more exceeding and everlasting weight of glory; ¹⁸while we do not look at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen. For the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are everlasting.

5 For we know that if the earthly house of our tent is dissolved, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, everlasting, in the heavens. ²For truly in this we groan, longing to be clothed with our habitation which is from heaven, ³since, after we have put it on,^h we will not be found naked. ⁴For indeed we who are in this tent do groan, being burdened; not that we desire to be unclothed, but that we desire to be clothed, that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. ⁵Now he who made us for this very thing is God, who also gave to us the down payment of the Spirit.

⁶Therefore, we are always confident and know that while we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord; ⁷for we walk by faith, not by sight. ⁸We are of good courage, I say, and are willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be at home with the Lord. ⁹Therefore also we make it our aim, whether at home or absent, to be well pleasing to him. ¹⁰For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that each one may receive the things in the body, according to what he has done, whether good or bad. ¹¹Knowing therefore the fear of the Lord, we persuade people, but we are revealed to God; and I hope that we are revealed also in your consciences. ¹²For we are not commending ourselves to you again, but speak as giving you occasion of boasting on our behalf, that you may have something to answer those who boast in appearance, and not in heart. ¹³For if we are out of control, it is for God. If we are in a reasonable way, it is for you. ¹⁴For the love of Christ constrains us; because we judge thus, that one died for all, therefore all died. ¹⁵He died for all, that those who live should no longer live to themselves, but to him who for their sakes died and rose again. ¹⁶Therefore we know no one after the flesh from now on. Even though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we no longer know him in this way. ¹⁷Therefore if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old things have passed away. Look, new things have come.^a ¹⁸But all things are of God, who reconciled us to himself through Jesus Christ, and gave to us the ministry of reconciliation; ¹⁹namely, that God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and having committed to us the word of reconciliation. ²⁰We are therefore ambassadors on behalf of Christ, as though God were making his appeal through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God. ²¹For him who knew no sin he made to be sin on our behalf; so that in him we might become the righteousness of God.

6 Working together, we entreat also that you not receive the grace of God in vain, ²for he says, “At an acceptable time I listened to you, and in a day of salvation I helped you.”^b

Look, now is the “acceptable time.” Look, now is the “day of salvation.” ³We give no occasion of stumbling in anything, that our service may not be blamed, ⁴but in everything commending ourselves, as servants of God, in great endurance, in afflictions, in hardships, in distresses, ⁵in beatings, in imprisonments, in riots, in labors, in watchings, in fastings; ⁶in pureness, in knowledge, in patience, in kindness, in the Holy Spirit, in sincere love, ⁷in the word of truth, in the power of God; by the armor of righteousness on the right hand and on the left, ⁸by glory and dishonor, by evil report and good report; as deceivers, and yet true; ⁹as unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and look, we live; as punished, and not killed; ¹⁰as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

¹¹Our mouth is open to you, Corinthians. Our heart is enlarged. ¹²You are not restricted by us, but you are restricted by your own affections. ¹³Now in return, I speak as to my children, you also be open wide. ¹⁴Do not be unequally yoked with unbelievers, for what fellowship have righteousness and iniquity? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? ¹⁵What agreement has Christ with Belial? Or what portion has a believer with an unbeliever? ¹⁶What agreement has a temple of God with idols? For we^c are a temple of the living God. Even as God said, “I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they will be my people.”^d ¹⁷Therefore, “Go out from their midst, and be separate,” says the Lord, “and touch no unclean thing,” and I will receive you.^e ¹⁸And I will be a Father to you, and you will be my sons and daughters,”^f says the Lord of hosts.

7 Having therefore these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. ²Open your hearts to us. We wronged no one. We corrupted no one. We took advantage of no one. ³I say this not to condemn you, for I have said before, that you are in our hearts to die together and live together. ⁴Great is my boldness of speech toward you. Great is my boasting on your behalf. I am filled with comfort. I overflow with joy in all our affliction. ⁵For even when we had come into Macedonia, our flesh had no relief, but we were afflicted on every side. Fightings were outside. Fear was inside. ⁶Nevertheless, he who comforts the lowly, God, comforted us by the coming of Titus; ⁷and not by his coming only, but also by the comfort with which he was comforted in you, while he told us of your longing, your mourning, and your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced still more.

⁸For though I made you sorry with my letter, I do not regret it, though I did regret it. For I see that my letter made you sorry, though just for a while. ⁹I now rejoice, not that you were made sorry, but that you were made sorry to repentance. For you were made sorry in a godly way, that you might suffer loss by us in nothing. ¹⁰For godly sorrow works repentance to salvation, which brings no regret. But the sorrow of the world works death. ¹¹For look at this very thing, that you were made sorry in a godly way. What diligence it produced in you, what clearing of yourselves, what indignation, what fear, what longing, what zeal, what vindication. In everything you proved yourselves to be innocent in the matter. ¹²So although I wrote to you, I wrote not for his cause that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong, but that your earnest care for us might be revealed in you in the sight of God. ¹³Therefore we have been comforted. In our^g comfort we rejoiced the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit has been refreshed by you all. ¹⁴For if in anything I have boasted to him on your behalf, I was not disappointed. But as we spoke all things to you in truth, so our glorying also which I made before Titus was found to be truth. ¹⁵His affection is more abundantly toward you, while he remembers all of your obedience, how with fear and trembling you received him. ¹⁶I rejoice that in everything I am of good courage concerning you.

8 Moreover, brothers, we make known to you the grace of God which has been given in the churches of Macedonia; ²how that in much proof of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded to the riches of their liberality. ³For according to their power, I testify, yes and beyond their power, they gave of their own accord, ⁴begging us with much entreaty to receive this grace and the fellowship in the service to the saints. ⁵This was not as we had hoped, but first they gave their own selves to the Lord, and to us through the will of God. ⁶So we urged Titus, that as he made a beginning before, so he would also complete in you this grace. ⁷But as you abound in everything, in faith, utterance, knowledge, all earnestness, and in the love from us that is in you,^h see that you also abound in this grace. ⁸I speak not by way of commandment, but as proving through the earnestness of others the sincerity also of your love. ⁹For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that you through his poverty might become rich. ¹⁰I give a judgment in this: for this is expedient for you, who were the first to start a year ago, not only to do, but also to be willing. ¹¹But now complete the doing also, that as there was the readiness to be willing, so there may be the completion also out of your ability. ¹²For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable according to what you have, not according to what you do not have. ¹³For this is not that others may be eased and you distressed, ¹⁴but for equality. Your abundance at this present time supplies their lack, that their abundance also may become a supply for your lack; that there may be equality. ¹⁵As it is written, “He who gathered much had nothing left over, and he who gathered little had no lack.”ⁱ ¹⁶But thanks be to God, who puts the same earnest care for you into the heart of Titus. ¹⁷For he indeed accepted our exhortation, but being himself very earnest, he went out to you of his own accord. ¹⁸We have sent together with him the brother whose praise in the Good News is known through all the churches. ¹⁹Not only so, but who was also appointed by the churches to travel with us in this grace, which is served by us to the glory of the Lord himself, and to show our readiness. ²⁰We are avoiding this, that no one should blame us concerning this abundance which is administered by us. ²¹For we have regard for what is honorable, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of others. ²²We have sent with them our brother, whom we have many times proved earnest in many things, but now much more earnest, by reason of the great confidence which he has in you. ²³As for Titus, he is my partner and fellow worker for you. As for our brothers, they are messengers of the churches, the glory of Christ. ²⁴Therefore show the proof of your love to them in front of the churches, and of our boasting about you.

9 It is indeed unnecessary for me to write to you concerning the service to the saints, ²for I know your readiness, of which I boast on your behalf to them of Macedonia, that Achaia has been prepared for a year past. Your zeal has stirred up very many of them. ³But I have sent the brothers that our boasting on your behalf may not be in vain in this respect, that, just as I said, you may be prepared, ⁴so that I won't by any means, if there come with me any of Macedonia and find you unprepared, we (to say nothing of you) should be disappointed in this confidence^b. ⁵I thought it necessary therefore to entreat the brothers that they would go before to you, and arrange ahead of time the generous gift that you promised before, that the same might be ready as a matter of generosity, and not of greediness. ⁶Remember this: he who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly. He who sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. ⁷Each person should give according as he has determined in his heart; not grudgingly, or under compulsion; for God loves a cheerful giver. ⁸And God is able to make all grace abound to you, that you, always having all sufficiency in everything, may abound to every good work. ⁹As it is written,
 "He has scattered, he has given to the poor;
 his righteousness endures forever."^c

¹⁰Now^d he who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food, will supply and multiply your seed for sowing, and increase the fruits of your righteousness; ¹¹you being enriched in everything to all liberality, which works through us thanksgiving to God. ¹²For this service of giving that you perform not only makes up for lack among the saints, but abounds also through many thanksgivings to God; ¹³seeing that through the proof given by this service, they glorify God for the obedience of your confession to the Good News of Christ, and for the liberality of your contribution to them and to all; ¹⁴while they themselves also, with petition on your behalf, yearn for you by reason of the exceeding grace of God in you. ¹⁵Thanks^e be to God for his inexpressible gift.

10 Now I Paul, myself, entreat you by the humility and gentleness of Christ; I who in your presence am lowly among you, but being absent am of good courage toward you. ²But I implore you that when I am present I may not have to be bold with the confidence with which I intend on showing against some, who consider us to be walking according to the flesh. ³For though we walk in the flesh, we do not wage war according to the flesh; ⁴for the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh, but mighty in God for the tearing down of strongholds, ⁵throwing down imaginations and every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ; ⁶and being in readiness to avenge all disobedience, when your obedience will be made full. ⁷Do you look at things only as they appear in front of your face? If anyone trusts in himself that he is Christ's, let him consider this again with himself, that, even as he is Christ's, so also we are Christ's. ⁸For though I should boast somewhat abundantly concerning our authority, (which the Lord gave for building you up, and not for casting you down) I will not be disappointed, ⁹that I may not seem as if I desire to terrify you by my letters. ¹⁰For, "His letters," they say, "are weighty and strong, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech is despised." ¹¹Let such a person consider this, that what we are in word by letters when we are absent, such are we also in deed when we are present. ¹²For we are not bold to number or compare ourselves with some of those who commend themselves. But they themselves, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are without understanding. ¹³But we will not boast beyond proper limits, but within the boundaries with which God appointed to us, which reach even to you. ¹⁴For we do not stretch ourselves too much, as though we did not reach to you. For we came even as far as to you with the Good News of Christ, ¹⁵not boasting excessively in the work done by others, but having hope that as your faith grows, we will be abundantly enlarged by you in our sphere of influence, ¹⁶so as to proclaim the Good News even to the regions beyond you, not to boast in what someone else has already done. ¹⁷But "he who boasts, let him boast in the Lord."^f ¹⁸For it is not he who commends himself who is approved, but whom the Lord commends.

11 I wish that you would bear with me in a little foolishness, but indeed you do bear with me. ²For I am jealous over you with a godly jealousy. For I married you to one husband, that I might present you as a pure virgin to Christ. ³But I am afraid that somehow, as the serpent deceived Eve^g in his craftiness, so your minds might be corrupted from the sincerity and purity^h that is in Christ. ⁴For if he who comes preaches another Jesus, whom we did not preach, or if you receive a different spirit, which you did not receive, or a different "good news", which you did not accept, you put up with that well enough. ⁵For I reckon that I am not at all behind the very best apostles. ⁶Even though I am unskilled in speech, I am not unskilled in knowledge. But in every way we have made this knownⁱ to you in all things. ⁷Or did I commit a sin in humbling myself that you might be exalted, because I preached to you God's Good News free of charge? ⁸I robbed other churches, taking wages from them that I might serve you. ⁹When I was present with you and was in need, I was not a burden on anyone, for the brothers, when they came from Macedonia, supplied the measure of my need. In everything I kept myself from being burdensome to you, and I will continue to do so. ¹⁰As the truth of Christ is in me, no one will stop me from this boasting in the regions of Achaia. ¹¹Why? Because I do not love you? God knows. ¹²But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off occasion from them that desire an occasion, that in which they boast, they may be found even as we. ¹³For such people are false apostles, deceitful workers, masquerading as Christ's apostles. ¹⁴And no wonder, for even Satan masquerades as an angel of light. ¹⁵It is no great thing therefore if his servants also masquerade as servants of righteousness, whose end will be according to their works.

¹⁶I say again, let no one think me foolish. But if so, yet receive me as foolish, that I also may boast a little. ¹⁷That which I speak, I do not speak according to the Lord, but as in foolishness, in this confidence of boasting. ¹⁸Seeing that many boast after the flesh, I will also boast. ¹⁹For you bear with the foolish gladly, being wise. ²⁰For you put up with it if someone makes slaves of you, if someone exploits you, if someone takes advantage of you, if someone exalts himself, if someone strikes you on the face. ²¹I speak by way of disparagement, as though we had been weak. Yet however any is bold (I speak in foolishness), I am bold also. ²²Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they descendants of Abraham? So am I. ²³Are they servants of Christ? (I speak as one beside himself) I am more so; in labors more abundantly, in prisons more abundantly, in stripes above measure, in deaths often. ²⁴Five times from the Jews I received forty stripes minus one. ²⁵Three times I was beaten with rods. Once I was stoned. Three times I suffered shipwreck. I have been a night and a day in the deep. ²⁶I have been in travels often, perils of rivers, perils of robbers, perils from my countrymen, perils from those who are not Jews, perils in the city, perils in the wilderness, perils in the sea, perils among false brothers; ²⁷in labor and travail, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, and in cold and nakedness.

²⁸Besides those things that are outside, there is that which presses on me daily, anxiety for all the churches. ²⁹Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is caused to stumble, and I do not burn with indignation? ³⁰If I must boast, I will boast of the things that concern my weakness. ³¹The God and Father of the Lord Jesus,^a he who is blessed forevermore, knows that I do not lie. ³²In Damascus the governor under Aretas the king guarded the city of the Damascenes, desiring^b to arrest me. ³³Through a window I was let down in a basket by the wall, and escaped his hands.

12 It is necessary to boast^c, though it is not profitable. But I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord. ²I know a man in Christ, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I do not know, or whether out of the body, I do not know; God knows), such a one was caught up into the third heaven. ³I know such a man (whether in the body, or apart^d from the body, I do not know; God knows),⁴ how he was caught up into Paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a human to utter. ⁵On behalf of such a one I will boast, but on my own behalf I will not boast, except in my weaknesses. ⁶For if I would desire to boast, I will not be foolish; for I will speak the truth. But I refrain, so that no one may think more of me than that which he sees in me, or hears from me. ⁷And because of the surpassing greatness of the revelations, therefore, to keep me from exalting myself, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to pound away at me, to keep me from exalting myself. ⁸Concerning this thing, I pleaded with the Lord three times that it might depart from me. ⁹He has said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for^e power is made perfect in weakness." Most gladly therefore I will rather glory in my weaknesses, that the power of Christ may rest on me.

¹⁰Therefore I take pleasure in weaknesses, in injuries, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, for Christ's sake. For when I am weak, then am I strong. ¹¹I have become foolish^f. You compelled me, for I ought to have been commended by you, for in nothing was I inferior to the very best apostles, though I am nothing. ¹²Truly the signs of an apostle were worked among you in all patience, in signs and wonders and mighty works. ¹³For what is there in which you were made inferior to the rest of the churches, unless it is that I myself was not a burden to you? Forgive me this wrong.

¹⁴Look, for the third time I am ready to come to you, and I will not be a burden to you; for I seek not what is yours, but you. For the children ought not to save up for the parents, but the parents for the children. ¹⁵I will most gladly spend and be spent for your souls. If I love you more abundantly, am I loved the less? ¹⁶But be it so, I did not myself burden you. But, being crafty, I caught you with deception. ¹⁷Did I take advantage of you by anyone of them whom I have sent to you? ¹⁸I exhorted Titus, and I sent the brother with him. Did Titus take any advantage of you? Did not we walk in the same spirit? Did not we walk in the same steps? ¹⁹Have you been thinking all this time^g that we have been defending ourselves before you? In the sight of God we speak in Christ; and all things, beloved, are for your edifying. ²⁰For I am afraid that by any means, when I come, I might find you not the way I want to, and that I might be found by you as you do not desire; that by any means there would be strife, jealousy, outbursts of anger, factions, slanders, whisperings, proud thoughts, riots; ²¹that again when I come my God would humble me before you, and I would mourn for many of those who have sinned before now, and not repented of the uncleanness and sexual immorality and lustfulness which they committed.

13 This is the third time I am coming to you. "At the mouth of two or three witnesses will every word be established."^h ²I have said beforehand, and I do say beforehand, as when I was present the second time, so now, being absent,ⁱ to those who have sinned before now, and to all the rest, that, if I come again, I will not spare; ³seeing that you seek a proof of Christ who speaks in me; who toward you is not weak, but is powerful in you. ⁴For indeed^j he was crucified through weakness, yet he lives through the power of God. For we also are weak in him, but we will live with him through the power of God toward you. ⁵Test your own selves, whether you are in the faith. Test your own selves. Or do you not know as to your own selves, that Jesus Christ is^k in you?—unless indeed you are disqualified. ⁶But I hope that you will know that we are not disqualified.

⁷Now we^a pray to God that you do no evil; not that we may appear approved, but that you may do that which is honorable, though we are as reprobate. ⁸For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth. ⁹For we rejoice when we are weak and you are strong. And this we also pray for, even your perfecting. ¹⁰For this cause I write these things while absent, that I may not deal sharply when present, according to the authority which the Lord gave me for building up, and not for tearing down.

Galatians

1 Paul, an apostle (not from humans, nor through humans, but through Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead), ²and all the brothers who are with me, to the churches of Galatia: ³Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the^c Lord Jesus Christ, ⁴who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us out of this present evil age, according to the will of our God and Father—⁵to whom be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

⁶I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting him who called you by the grace of Christ^d to a different “good news”; ⁷and there is not another “good news.” Only there are some who trouble you, and want to pervert the Good News of Christ. ⁸But even though we, or an angel from heaven, should proclaim to you a “good news” other than that which we preached to you, let him be cursed. ⁹As we have said before, so I now say again: if anyone preaches to you a “good news” other than that which you received, let him be cursed. ¹⁰For am I now seeking the favor of people, or of God? Or am I striving to please people? For if I were still pleasing people, I would not be a servant of Christ. ¹¹But I make known to you, brothers, concerning the Good News which was preached by me, that it is not of human origin. ¹²For neither did I receive it from a human source, nor was I taught it, but it came to me through revelation of Jesus Christ. ¹³For you have heard of my former way of life in Judaism,^e how I severely persecuted the church of God, and tried to destroy it. ¹⁴I advanced in Judaism^f beyond many of my own age among my countrymen, being more exceedingly zealous for the traditions of my fathers. ¹⁵But when God,^g who had set me apart from my mother’s womb and called me through his grace, was pleased ¹⁶to reveal his Son to me, that I might proclaim him among those who are not Jewish, I did not immediately confer with flesh and blood, ¹⁷nor did I go up to Jerusalem to those who were apostles before me, but I went away into Arabia. Then I returned to Damascus. ¹⁸Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to see Cephas^h and get information from him,ⁱ and stayed with him fifteen days. ¹⁹But of the other apostles I saw no one, except James, the Lord’s brother. ²⁰Now about the things which I write to you, look, before God, I’m not lying. ²¹Then I came to the regions of Syria and Cilicia. ²²I was still unknown by face to the churches of Judea which were in Christ, ²³but they only heard: “He who once persecuted us now preaches the faith that he once tried to destroy.” ²⁴And they glorified God because of me.

2 Then after a period of fourteen years I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus also with me. ²I went up by revelation, and I explained to them the Good News which I proclaim among those who are not Jewish, but privately before those who were respected, for fear that I might be running, or had run, in vain. ³But not even Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised. ⁴This was because of the false brothers secretly brought in, who stole in to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage; ⁵to whom we gave no place in the way of subjection, not for an hour, that the truth of the Good News might continue with you. ⁶But from those who were reputed to be important (whatever they were, it makes no difference to me; God shows no favoritism between people)—they, I say, who were respected imparted nothing to me, ⁷but to the contrary, when they saw that I had been entrusted with the Good News for the uncircumcision, even as Peter with the Good News for the circumcision ⁸(for he who appointed Peter to be an apostle of the circumcision appointed me also to the non-Jews); ⁹and when they perceived the grace that was given to me, James and Cephas and John, they who were reputed to be pillars, gave to me and Barnabas the right hand of fellowship, that we should go to the non-Jews, and they to the circumcised. ¹⁰They only asked us to remember the poor—which very thing I was also zealous to do.

¹¹But when Cephas^j came to Antioch, I resisted him to his face, because he stood condemned. ¹²For before some people came from James, he ate with those who were not Jewish. But when they came, he drew back and separated himself, fearing those who were of the circumcision. ¹³And the rest of the Jewish believers joined him in his hypocrisy; so that even Barnabas was carried away with their hypocrisy. ¹⁴But when I saw that they did not walk uprightly according to the truth of the Good News, I said to Cephas^k before them all, “If you, being a Jew, live as the non-Jews do, and not as the Jews do, how can you compel the non-Jews to live as the Jews do?”

¹⁵“We, being Jews by birth, and not non-Jewish sinners, ¹⁶yet knowing that no one is justified by the works of the law but through faith in Jesus Christ, even we believed in Christ Jesus, that we might be justified by faith in Christ, and not by the works of the law, because no flesh will be justified by the works of the law. ¹⁷But if, while we sought to be justified in Christ, we ourselves also were found sinners, is Christ a servant of sin? Certainly not. ¹⁸For if I build up again those things which I destroyed, I prove myself a law-breaker. ¹⁹For I, through the law, died to the law, that I might live to God. ²⁰I have been crucified with Christ, and it is no longer I that live, but Christ living in me. That life which I now live in the flesh, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself up for me. ²¹I do not make void the grace of God. For if righteousness is through the law, then Christ died for nothing.”

3 Foolish Galatians, who has cunningly deceived^a you,^b before whose eyes Jesus Christ was openly set forth^c as crucified? ²I just want to learn this from you. Did you receive the Spirit by the works of the law, or by hearing of faith? ³Are you so foolish? Having begun in the Spirit, are you now completed in the flesh? ⁴Did you suffer so many things in vain, if it is indeed in vain? ⁵He therefore who supplies the Spirit to you, and works miracles among you, does he do it by the works of the law, or by hearing of faith? ⁶Even as Abraham “believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness.” ⁷Know therefore that those who are of faith, the same are sons of Abraham. ⁸The Scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the non-Jews by faith, preached the Good News beforehand to Abraham, saying, “Through you all the nations will be blessed.”^d ⁹So then, those who are of faith are blessed with the faithful Abraham. ¹⁰For as many as are of the works of the law are under a curse. For it is written, “Cursed is everyone who does not continue in all things that are written in the book of the law, to do them.”^e ¹¹Now it is evident that no one is justified by the law before God, for, “The righteous will live by faith.”^f ¹²The law is not of faith, but, “The one who does them will live by them.”^g ¹³Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us. For it is written, “Cursed is everyone who hangs on a tree,”^h ¹⁴that the blessing of Abraham might come on the non-Jews through Christ Jesus; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith. ¹⁵Brothers, I am speaking in human terms. Though it is only a human covenant, once it has been ratified, no one annuls it or adds to it. ¹⁶Now the promises were spoken to Abraham and to his offspring.ⁱ He does not say, “And to offsprings,” as of many, but as of one, “And to your offspring,”^j which is Christ. ¹⁷Now I say this: the law which came four hundred thirty years later, does not annul a covenant previously ratified by God,^k so as to cancel the promise. ¹⁸For if the inheritance is of the law, it is no more of promise; but God has granted it to Abraham by promise.

¹⁹What then is the law? It was added because of transgressions, until the offspring should come to whom the promise has been made. It was ordained through angels by the hand of a mediator. ²⁰Now a mediator is not between one, but God is one. ²¹Is the law then against the promises of God? Certainly not. For if there had been a law given which could give life, most certainly righteousness would have been of the law. ²²But the Scriptures imprisoned all things under sin, that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to those who believe. ²³But before faith came, we were kept in custody under the law, confined for the faith which should afterwards be revealed. ²⁴So that the law was our tutor to bring us to Christ, that we might be justified by faith. ²⁵But now that faith has come, we are no longer under a tutor. ²⁶For you are all sons of God, through faith in Christ Jesus. ²⁷For as many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ. ²⁸There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus. ²⁹If you are Christ’s, then you are Abraham’s offspring and heirs according to promise.

4 But I say that so long as the heir is a child, he is no different from a slave, though he is lord of all; ²but is under guardians and stewards until the day appointed by the father. ³So we also, when we were children, were held in bondage under the elemental principles of the world. ⁴But when the fullness of the time came, God sent out his Son, born to a woman, born under the law, ⁵that he might redeem those who were under the law, so that we might receive the adoption as sons. ⁶And because you are sons, God sent out the Spirit of his Son into our^l hearts, crying, “Abba, Father.” ⁷So you are no longer a slave, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God.^m ⁸However at that time, not knowing God, you were slaves to those who by nature are not gods. ⁹But now that you have come to know God, or rather to be known by God, why do you turn back again to the weak and miserable elemental principles, to which you desire to be enslaved all over again? ¹⁰You observe days, months, seasons, and years. ¹¹I am afraid for you, that I might have wasted my labor for you. ¹²I beg you, brothers, become as I am, for I also have become as you are. You did me no wrong, ¹³but you know that in physical weakness I preached the Good News to you the first time; ¹⁴and though my condition was a trial to you, you did not despise nor reject; but you received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus.

¹⁵Where was the blessing you enjoyed? For I testify to you that, if possible, you would have plucked out your eyes and given them to me. ¹⁶So then, have I become your enemy by telling you the truth? ¹⁷They zealously seek you, but for no good purpose; they desire to alienate you, that you may be zealous for them. ¹⁸But it is always good to be zealous in a good cause, and not only when I am present with you.

¹⁹My children,ⁿ of whom I am again in travail until Christ is formed in you—²⁰but I could wish to be present with you now, and to change my tone, for I am perplexed about you. ²¹Tell me, you that desire to be under the law, do you not listen to the law? ²²For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by the slave woman, and one by the free woman. ²³However, the son by the slave woman was born according to the flesh, but the son by the free woman was born through promise. ²⁴These things contain an allegory, for these are two covenants. One is from Mount Sinai, bearing children to slavery, which is Hagar. ²⁵For this Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia and represents Jerusalem that exists now, for she is in slavery with her children. ²⁶But the Jerusalem that is above is free, and she is our mother.^o ²⁷For it is written, “Rejoice, you barren who do not bear.

Break forth and shout, you that do not travail.
For more are the children of the desolate than of her who has a husband.”^p

²⁸Now you,^q brothers, as Isaac was, are children of promise. ²⁹But as then, he who was born according to the flesh persecuted him who was born according to the Spirit, so also it is now. ³⁰However what does the Scripture say? “Cast out the slave woman and her son, for the son of the slave woman will not inherit with the son” of the free woman.^a ³¹So then, brothers, we are not children of the slave woman, but of the free woman.

5 Stand firm therefore in the liberty by which Christ has made us free, and do not be entangled again with a yoke of bondage. ²Listen, I, Paul, tell you that if you receive circumcision, Christ will profit you nothing. ³Yes, I testify again to every man who receives circumcision, that he is a debtor to do the whole law. ⁴You are alienated from Christ, you who desire to be justified by the law. You have fallen away from grace. ⁵For we, through the Spirit, by faith wait for the hope of righteousness. ⁶For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision amounts to anything, nor uncircumcision, but faith working through love. ⁷You were running well. Who interfered with you that you should not obey the truth? ⁸This persuasion is not from him who calls you. ⁹A little yeast grows through the whole lump. ¹⁰I have confidence toward you in the Lord that you will think no other way. But he who troubles you will bear his judgment, whoever he is.

¹¹But I, brothers, if I still proclaim circumcision, why am I still persecuted? Then the stumbling block of the cross has been removed. ¹²I wish that those who disturb you would cut themselves off. ¹³For you, brothers, were called for freedom. Only do not use your freedom for gain to the flesh, but through love be servants to one another. ¹⁴For the whole law is fulfilled in one word, in this: “You are to love your neighbor as yourself.”^b ¹⁵But if you bite and devour one another, be careful that you do not consume one another. ¹⁶But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you will not carry out the desires of the flesh. ¹⁷For the flesh lusts against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; and these are contrary to one another, that you may not do the things that you desire. ¹⁸But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. ¹⁹Now the works of the flesh are obvious, which are:^c sexual immorality, uncleanness, lustfulness, ²⁰idolatry, sorcery, hatred, strife, jealousies, outbreaks of anger, rivalries, divisions, heresies, ²¹envyings, murders,^d drunkenness, orgies, and things like these; of which I forewarn you, even as I also forewarned you, that those who practice such things will not inherit the kingdom of God.

²²But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, ²³gentleness, and self-control. Against such things there is no law. ²⁴Those who belong to Christ^e have crucified the flesh with its passions and lusts. ²⁵If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. ²⁶Let us not become conceited, provoking one another, and envying one another.

6 Brothers, even if someone is caught in some wrongdoing, you who are spiritual must restore such a one in a spirit of gentleness; looking to yourself so that you also are not tempted. ²Bear one another’s burdens, and so you will fulfill the law of Christ. ³For if anyone thinks himself to be something when he is nothing, he deceives himself. ⁴But let each one test his own work, and then he will take pride in himself and not in his neighbor. ⁵For every person will bear his own load. ⁶But let him who is taught in the word share all good things with him who teaches. ⁷Do not be deceived. God is not mocked, for whatever a person sows, that he will also reap. ⁸For he who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption. But he who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap everlasting life. ⁹Let us not be weary in doing good, for we will reap in due season, if we do not give up. ¹⁰So then, as we have opportunity, let us do what is good toward all people, and especially toward those who are of the household of the faith.

¹¹See with what large letters I write to you with my own hand. ¹²As many as desire to make a good showing in the flesh, they compel you to be circumcised; only that they may not be persecuted for the cross of Christ. ¹³For even they who receive circumcision do not keep the law themselves, but they desire to have you circumcised, that they may boast in your flesh. ¹⁴But far be it from me to boast, except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through which the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world. ¹⁵For neither^f is circumcision anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creation. ¹⁶As many as walk by this rule, peace and mercy be on them, and on God’s Israel. ¹⁷From now on, let no one cause me any trouble, for I bear the marks of^g Jesus branded on my body.

¹⁸The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brothers. Amen.

Ephesians

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, to the saints in Ephesus^h who are faithful in Christ Jesus: ²Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

³Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places in Christ; ⁴even as he chose us in him before the foundation of the world, that we would be holy and without blemish before him in love; ⁵having predestined us for adoption as sons through Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his desire, ⁶to the praise of the glory of his grace,ⁱ which he freely bestowed on us in the Beloved One, ⁷in whom we have our redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses, according to the riches of his grace, ⁸which he made to abound toward us in all wisdom and prudence, ⁹making known to us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he purposed in him ¹⁰to an administration of the fullness of the times, to sum up all things in Christ, the things in the heavens, and the things on the earth, in him; ¹¹in whom also we were assigned an inheritance, having been foreordained according to the purpose of him^j who works all things after the counsel of his will; ¹²to the end that we should be to the praise of his glory, we who had before hoped in Christ: ¹³in whom you also, having heard the word of the truth, the Good News of your salvation,—in whom, having also believed, you were sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise, ¹⁴who is a pledge of our inheritance, to the redemption of God’s own possession, to the praise of his glory. ¹⁵For this cause I also, having heard of the faith in the Lord Jesus which is among you, and the love which you have toward all the saints, ¹⁶do not cease to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers, ¹⁷that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give to you a spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him; ¹⁸having the eyes of your heart enlightened, that you may know what is the hope of his calling, and what are the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints, ¹⁹and what is the exceeding greatness of his power toward us who believe, according to that working of the strength of his might ²⁰which he worked in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and made him to sit at his right hand in the heavenly places, ²¹far above all rule, and authority, and power, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this age, but also in that which is to come. ²²He put^a all things under his feet, and gave him to be head over all things for the church, ²³which is his body, the fullness of him who fills all in all.

2 You were made alive when you were dead in your^b transgressions and sins, ²in which you once walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit who now works in the children of disobedience; ³among whom we also all once lived in the lust of our flesh, doing the desires of the flesh and of the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, even as the rest. ⁴But God, being rich in mercy, for his great love with which he loved us, ⁵even when we were dead through our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ^c (by grace you have been saved), ⁶and raised us up with him, and made us to sit with him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, ⁷that in the ages to come he might show the exceeding riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus; ⁸for by grace you have been saved through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God, ⁹not of works, that no one would boast. ¹⁰For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared before that we would walk in them.

¹¹Therefore remember that once you, the non-Jews in the flesh, who are called “uncircumcision” by that which is called “circumcision,” (in the flesh, made by hands); ¹²that you were at that time separate from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and foreigners to the covenants of the promise, having no hope and without God in the world. ¹³But now in Christ Jesus you who formerly were far away have been brought near by the blood of Christ. ¹⁴For he is our peace, who made both one, and broke down the middle wall of partition, ¹⁵having abolished in the flesh the hostility, the law of commandments contained in ordinances, that he might create in himself one new man of the two, making peace; ¹⁶and might reconcile them both in one body to God through the cross, by which he put to death their enmity. ¹⁷He came and preached peace to you who were far off and peace^d to those who were near. ¹⁸For through him we both have our access in one Spirit to the Father. ¹⁹So then you are no longer foreigners and noncitizens, but you^e are fellow citizens with the saints, and of the household of God, ²⁰being built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the chief cornerstone; ²¹in whom the whole building, fitted together, grows into a holy temple in the Lord; ²²in whom you also are built together for a habitation of God in the Spirit.

3 For this cause I, Paul, am the prisoner of Christ Jesus on behalf of you the non-Jews, ²if it is so that you have heard of the administration of that grace of God which was given me toward you; ³how that by revelation the mystery was made known to me, as I wrote before in few words, ⁴by which, when you read, you can perceive my understanding in the mystery of Christ; ⁵which in other generations was not made known to people,^f as it has now been revealed to his holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit; ⁶that the non-Jews are fellow heirs, and fellow members of the body, and fellow partakers of the^g promise in Christ Jesus through the Good News, ⁷of which I was made a servant, according to the gift of that grace of God which was given me according to the working of his power. ⁸To me, the very least of all saints, was this grace given, to proclaim to the non-Jews the unsearchable riches of Christ, ⁹and to bring to light for all what is the administration^h of the mystery which for ages has been hidden in God, who created all thingsⁱ; ¹⁰to the intent that now through the church the manifold wisdom of God might be made known to the rulers and the authorities in the heavenly places, ¹¹according to the purpose of the ages which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord; ¹²in whom we have boldness and access in confidence through our faith in him. ¹³Therefore I ask that you not be discouraged because of my sufferings for you, which is your glory.

¹⁴For this cause, I bow my knees before the Father,^j ¹⁵from whom every family in heaven and on earth is named, ¹⁶that he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, that you may be strengthened with power through his Spirit in the inner person; ¹⁷that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; to the end that you, being rooted and grounded in love, ¹⁸may be strengthened to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, ¹⁹and to know Christ’s love which surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled with all the fullness of God. ²⁰Now to him who is able to do exceedingly abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that works in us, ²¹to him be the glory in the church and in Christ Jesus to all generations forever and ever. Amen.

4 I therefore, a prisoner in the Lord, urge you to lead a life worthy of the calling to which you have been called, ²with all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another in love; ³being eager to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. ⁴There is one body, and one Spirit, even as you also were called in one hope of your calling; ⁵one Lord, one faith, one baptism, ⁶one God and Father of all, who is over all, and through all, and in^k all. ⁷But to each one of us was the grace given according to the measure of the gift of Christ. ⁸Therefore he says, “When he ascended on high, he led captivity captive, and^l gave gifts to people.”^m ⁹Now this, “He ascended,” what is it but that he alsoⁿ descended into the lower parts of the earth? ¹⁰He who descended is the one who also ascended far above all the heavens, that he might fill all things.

¹¹He gave some to be apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; ¹²for the perfecting of the saints, to the work of serving, to the building up of the body of Christ; ¹³until we all attain to the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a mature person, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ; ¹⁴that we may no longer be children, tossed back and forth and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the trickery of people, by cleverness in deceitful schemes; ¹⁵but speaking truth in love, we may grow up in all things into him, who is the head, Christ; ¹⁶from whom all the body, being fitted and knit together through that which every joint supplies, according to the proper working of each individual part, makes the body increase to the building up of itself in love.

¹⁷This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that you no longer walk as the nations also walk, in the futility of their mind, ¹⁸being darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God, because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardening of their hearts; ¹⁹who having become callous gave themselves up to lust, to work all uncleanness with greediness. ²⁰But you did not learn Christ that way; ²¹if indeed you heard him, and were taught in him, even as truth is in Jesus: ²²that you put away, as concerning your former way of life, the old self, that grows corrupt after the lusts of deceit; ²³and that you be renewed in the spirit of your mind, ²⁴and put on the new self, who in the likeness of God has been created in righteousness and holiness of truth.

²⁵Therefore, putting away falsehood, speak truth each one with his neighbor. For we are members of one another. ²⁶“Be angry, but do not sin.”^a Do not let the sun go down on your anger, ²⁷neither give place to the devil. ²⁸Let him who stole steal no more; but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing that is good, that he may have something to give to him who has need. ²⁹Let no corrupt speech proceed out of your mouth, but such as is good for building up as the need may be, that it may give grace to those who hear. ³⁰Do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, in whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. ³¹Let all bitterness, wrath, anger, outcry,^b and slander, be put away from you, with all malice. ³²And be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, just as God also in Christ forgave you^c.

5 Be therefore imitators of God, as beloved children. ²And walk in love, even as Christ also loved us,^d and gave himself up for us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling fragrance. ³But sexual immorality, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not even be mentioned among you, as becomes saints; ⁴nor filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not appropriate; but rather giving of thanks.

⁵Know this for sure, that no sexually immoral or impure or greedy person, that is, an idolater, has any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God.

⁶Let no one deceive you with empty words. For because of these things, the wrath of God comes on the children of disobedience. ⁷Therefore do not be partakers with them. ⁸For you were once darkness, but are now light in the Lord. Walk as children of light, ⁹for the fruit of the light^e is in all goodness and righteousness and truth, ¹⁰proving what is well pleasing to the Lord. ¹¹Have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather even reprove them. ¹²For the things which are done by them in secret, it is a shame even to speak of. ¹³But all things, when they are reprov'd, are revealed by the light, for everything that reveals is light. ¹⁴Therefore he says, “Awake, you who sleep, and rise from the dead, and Christ will shine on you.”

²²Wives, submit to your husbands as to the Lord. ²³For the husband is the head of the wife, and Christ also is the head of the church, being himself the savior of the body. ²⁴But as the church is subject to Christ, so let the wives also be to their husbands in everything.

²⁵Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself up for it; ²⁶that he might sanctify it, having cleansed it by the washing of water with the word, ²⁷that he might present the church to himself gloriously, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish. ²⁸Even so husbands also ought to love their own wives as their own bodies. He who loves his own wife loves himself. ²⁹For no one ever hated his own flesh; but nourishes and cherishes it, even as Christ^g also does the church; ³⁰because we are members of his body, of his flesh and of his bones.^h ³¹“For this cause a man will leave his father and mother, and will be joined to his wife, and the two will become one flesh.”ⁱ ³²This mystery is great, but I speak concerning Christ and of the church. ³³Nevertheless each of you must also love his own wife even as himself; and let the wife see that she respects her husband.

6 Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. ²“Honor your father and mother,” which is the first commandment with a promise: ³“that it may be well with you, and that you may live long in the land.”^j

⁴And fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but nurture them in the discipline and instruction of the Lord.

⁵Servants, be obedient to those who according to the flesh are your masters, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as to Christ; ⁶not in the way of service only when eyes are on you, as people-pleasers; but as servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart; ⁷with good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to people; ⁸knowing that whatever good thing each one does, he will receive the same again from the Lord, whether he is bound or free.

⁹You masters, do the same things to them, and give up threatening, knowing that he who is both their Master and yours^a is in heaven, and there is no partiality with him.

¹⁰Finally,^b be strong in the Lord, and in the strength of his might. ¹¹Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the schemes of the devil. ¹²For our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the powers, against the world's rulers of this darkness,^c and against the spiritual forces of wickedness in the heavenly places. ¹³Therefore, put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and, having done all, to stand. ¹⁴Stand therefore, having the belt of truth buckled around your waist, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, ¹⁵and having fitted your feet with the preparation of the Good News of peace; ¹⁶above all, taking up the shield of faith, with which you will be able to quench all the fiery darts of the evil one. ¹⁷And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the spoken word of God; ¹⁸with all prayer and requests, praying at all times in the Spirit, and being watchful to this end in all perseverance and requests for all the saints: ¹⁹on my behalf, that utterance may be given to me in opening my mouth, to make known with boldness the mystery of the Good News, ²⁰for which I am an ambassador in chains; that in it I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

Philippians

1 Paul and Timothy, servants of Christ Jesus;^e To all the saints in Christ Jesus who are at Philippi, with the overseers and deacons: ²Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. ³I thank my God whenever I remember you, ⁴always in every prayer of mine for all of you, making my requests with joy, ⁵for your partnership in the Good News from the first day until now; ⁶being confident of this very thing, that he who began a good work in you will complete it until the day of Christ Jesus. ⁷It is even right for me to think this way about all of you, because I have you in my heart, because, both in my imprisonment and in the defense and confirmation of the Good News, you all are partakers with me of grace. ⁸For God is my witness, how I long after all of you in the tender mercies of Christ Jesus.

⁹This I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and all discernment; ¹⁰so that you may approve the things that are excellent; that you may be pure and blameless for the Day of Christ; ¹¹being filled with the fruit^f of righteousness, which are through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God.

¹²Now I desire to have you know, brothers, that the things which happened to me have turned out rather to the progress of the Good News; ¹³so that it became evident to the whole praetorian guard, and to all the rest, that my bonds are in Christ; ¹⁴and that most of the brothers in the Lord, being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold to speak the word^g without fear. ¹⁵Some indeed proclaim Christ even out of envy and strife, and some also out of good will. ¹⁶The latter out of love, knowing that I am appointed for the defense of the Good News. ¹⁷The former insincerely proclaim Christ from selfish ambition, thinking that they add affliction to my chains.

¹⁸What does it matter? Only that in every way, whether out of false motives or in truth, Christ is proclaimed. I rejoice in this, yes, and will rejoice. ¹⁹For I know that this will turn out for my deliverance, through your petition and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ, ²⁰according to my earnest expectation and hope, that I will in no way be disappointed, but with all boldness, as always, now also Christ will be magnified in my body, whether by life, or by death. ²¹For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain. ²²But if I live on in the flesh, this will bring fruit from my work; yet I do not make known what I will choose. ²³But I am in a dilemma between the two, having the desire to depart and be with Christ, which is far better. ²⁴Yet, to remain in the flesh is more needful for your sake. ²⁵And since I am persuaded of this, I know that I will remain and continue with all of you for your progress and joy in the faith, ²⁶that your rejoicing may abound in Christ Jesus in me through my presence with you again.

²⁷Only let your manner of life be worthy of the Good News of Christ, that, whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of your state, that you stand firm in one spirit, with one soul striving for the faith of the Good News; ²⁸and in nothing frightened by the adversaries, which is for them a proof of destruction, but to you of salvation, and that from God. ²⁹Because it has been granted to you on behalf of Christ, not only to believe in him, but also to suffer on his behalf, ³⁰having the same conflict which you saw in me, and now hear is in me.

2 If there is therefore any exhortation in Christ, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any tender mercies and compassion, ²make my joy full, by being like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind; ³doing nothing through rivalry or through conceit, but in humility, each counting others better than himself; ⁴each of you not just looking to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others.

⁵Have this in your attitude, which was also in Christ Jesus, ⁶who, existing in the form of God, did not consider equality with God a thing to be grasped, ⁷but emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, being made in the likeness of men. ⁸And being found in human form, he humbled himself, becoming obedient to death, yes, the death of the cross. ⁹Therefore God also highly exalted him, and gave to him the name which is above every name; ¹⁰that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of those in heaven, those on earth, and those under the earth, ¹¹and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord^a, to the glory of God the Father.

¹²So then, my beloved, even as you have always obeyed, not only in my presence, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with awe and reverence. ¹³For it is God who works in you both to will and to work, for his good pleasure. ¹⁴Do everything without complaining or arguing, ¹⁵that you may be blameless and pure, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom you are seen as lights in the world, ¹⁶holding up the word of life; that I may have something to boast in the day of Christ, that I did not run in vain nor labor in vain. ¹⁷Yes, and if I am poured out on the sacrifice and service of your faith, I rejoice, and rejoice with you all. ¹⁸In the same way, you also rejoice, and rejoice with me.

¹⁹But I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you soon, that I also may be cheered up when I know how you are doing. ²⁰For I have no one else like-minded, who will truly care about you. ²¹For they all seek their own, not the things of Jesus Christ. ²²But you know the proof of him, that, as a child serves a father, so he served with me in furtherance of the Good News. ²³Therefore I hope to send him at once, as soon as I see how it will go with me. ²⁴But I trust in the Lord that I myself also will come shortly. ²⁵But I counted it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, fellow worker, fellow soldier, and your apostle and servant of my need; ²⁶since he longed for you all, and was very troubled, because you had heard that he was sick. ²⁷For indeed he was sick, nearly to death, but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, that I might not have sorrow upon sorrow. ²⁸I have sent him all the more eagerly, therefore, so that when you see him again you may rejoice, and that I may be less anxious. ²⁹Receive him therefore in the Lord with all joy, and hold such in honor, ³⁰because for the work of Christ he came near to death, risking^b his life to supply that which was lacking in your service toward me.

3 Finally, my brothers, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you is no trouble to me, and is a safeguard for you. ²Beware of the dogs, beware of the evil workers, beware of the false circumcision. ³For we are the circumcision, who worship God in the Spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh; ⁴though I myself might have confidence even in the flesh. If anyone else thinks that he has confidence in the flesh, I yet more: ⁵circumcised the eighth day, of the nation of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews; concerning the law, a Pharisee; ⁶concerning zeal, persecuting the church; concerning the righteousness which is in the law, found blameless.

⁷However, what things were gain to me, these have I counted loss for Christ. ⁸More than that, I count all things to be a loss compared to the far greater value of knowing Christ Jesus, my Lord, for whom I suffered the loss of all things, and count them nothing but refuse, that I may gain Christ ⁹and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own, that which is of the law, but that which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness which is from God by faith; ¹⁰that I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, becoming conformed to his death; ¹¹if by any means I may attain to the resurrection from the dead. ¹²Not that I have already obtained, or am already made perfect; but I press on, if it is so that I may take hold of that for which also I was taken hold of by Christ Jesus.^c ¹³Brothers, I do not regard myself as having taken hold of it, but one thing I do. Forgetting the things which are behind, and reaching forward to the things which are ahead, ¹⁴I press on toward the goal for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. ¹⁵Let us therefore, as many as are perfect, think this way. If in anything you think otherwise, God will also reveal that to you. ¹⁶Nevertheless, to what we have attained, let us walk by the same rule, being of the same mind.^d ¹⁷Brothers, be imitators together of me, and note those who walk this way, even as you have us for an example. ¹⁸For many, of whom I have often told you, and now tell you with tears, live as enemies of the cross of Christ, ¹⁹whose end is destruction, whose god is the belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who think about earthly things. ²⁰For our citizenship is in heaven, from which we also eagerly wait for a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ; ²¹who will transform our humble body into the likeness of his glorious body, according to the power by which he is able even to subject all things to himself.

4 Therefore, my brothers, whom I love and long for, my joy and crown, so stand firm in the Lord, my beloved. ²I appeal to Euodia and I appeal to Syntyche to agree in the Lord. ³Yes, I ask you also, true companion, help these women, for they labored with me in the Good News, with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the Book of Life. ⁴Rejoice in the Lord always. Again I will say, Rejoice. ⁵Let your gentleness be evident to all people. The Lord is near. ⁶Do not be anxious about anything, but in everything, by prayer and petition with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to God. ⁷And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.

⁸Finally, brothers, whatever things are true, whatever things are honorable, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report; if there is any virtue, and if there is any praise, think on these things. ⁹And the things you learned and received and heard and saw in me, do these things. And the God of peace will be with you. ¹⁰Now I rejoice in the Lord greatly that at last you have revived your concern for me; in which you were indeed concerned, but you lacked opportunity. ¹¹I'm not saying this because I am in need, for I have learned to be content in any circumstance. ¹²I know what it is to be in need, and I know what it is to have a lot. In any and all circumstances I have learned the secret, whether full or hungry, whether having a lot or being in need. ¹³I can do all things through him^e who strengthens me. ¹⁴Still, you have done well to share my hardship. ¹⁵And you Philippians yourselves know that in the beginning of the Good News, when I departed from Macedonia, no church shared with me in the matter of giving and receiving but you only. ¹⁶For even in Thessalonica you sent me aid twice. ¹⁷Not that I seek the gift, but I seek the fruit that increases to your account. ¹⁸But I have received everything in full, and I have an abundance. I am fully supplied, having received from Epaphroditus the things that

Colossians

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy our brother, ²to the saints and faithful brothers in Christ at Colossae: Grace to you and peace from God our Father.^c

³We give thanks to God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, ⁴having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which you have toward all the saints, ⁵because of the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, of which you heard before in the word of truth, the Good News, ⁶which has come to you; even as it is in all the world and is bearing fruit and growing, as it does in you also, since the day you heard and knew the grace of God in truth; ⁷even as you learned of Epaphras our beloved fellow servant, who is a faithful servant of Christ on our^d behalf, ⁸who also declared to us your love in the Spirit. ⁹For this cause, we also, since the day we heard this, do not cease praying and making requests for you, that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, ¹⁰that you may walk worthily of the Lord,^e to please him in every way, bearing fruit in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God; ¹¹strengthened with all power, according to the might of his glory, for all endurance and perseverance with joy; ¹²giving thanks to the Father, who has qualified you^f to share in the inheritance of the saints in the light; ¹³who delivered us out of the power of darkness, and transferred us into the kingdom of the Son of his love; ¹⁴in whom we have our redemption,^g the forgiveness of our sins; ¹⁵who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn over all creation. ¹⁶For by him all things were created, in the heavens and on the earth, things visible and things invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities; all things have been created by him and for^h him. ¹⁷He is before all things, and in him all things are held together. ¹⁸He is the head of the body, the church, who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead;ⁱ that in all things he might have the preeminence. ¹⁹For all the fullness was pleased to dwell in him, ²⁰and through him to reconcile all things to himself, making peace through the blood of his cross through him,^j whether things on the earth or things in heaven.

²¹You, who once were alienated and were hostile in your minds, doing evil deeds, ²²yet now he has reconciled in the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and without blemish and blameless before him, ²³if it is so that you continue in the faith, established and firm, and not moved away from the hope of the Good News which you heard, which is being proclaimed^k in all creation under heaven; of which I, Paul, was made a servant.

²⁴Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and I am completing in my flesh what is lacking in the sufferings of Christ for the sake of his body, which is the church; ²⁵of which I was made a servant, according to the stewardship of God which was given me toward you, to fulfill the word of God, ²⁶the mystery which has been hidden for ages and generations. But now it has been revealed to his saints, ²⁷to them God was pleased to make known the glorious riches of this mystery among the non-Jews, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory; ²⁸whom we proclaim, admonishing everyone and teaching everyone all wisdom, that we may present everyone perfect in Christ Jesus; ²⁹for which I also labor, struggling according to his power, which works in me mightily.

2 For I desire to have you know how greatly I struggle for you, and for those at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh; ²that their hearts may be comforted, they being knit together in love, and gaining all riches of the full assurance of understanding, that they may know the mystery of God,^l namely, Christ, ³in whom are all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge hidden. ⁴Now I say this so that no one will deceive you with persuasive words. ⁵For though I am absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, rejoicing and seeing your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ. ⁶As therefore you received Christ Jesus, the Lord, walk in him, ⁷rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, even as you were taught, abounding in it^m with thanksgiving. ⁸Be careful not to allow anyone to captivate you through an empty and deceptive philosophy, according to human tradition, according to the elementary principles of the world, and not according to Christ. ⁹For in him all the fullness of Deity dwells in bodily form, ¹⁰and in him you are made full, who is the head of all principality and power; ¹¹in whom you were also circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in the putting off of the body ofⁿ the flesh, in the circumcision of Christ; ¹²having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him through faith in the working of God, who raised him from the dead. ¹³You were dead through your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh. He made you alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses, ¹⁴wiping out the handwriting in ordinances which was against us; and he has taken it out of the way, nailing it to the cross; ¹⁵having disarmed the rulers and authorities, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

ⁿ2:11 M TR add "the sins of"

¹⁶Therefore do not let anyone judge you about food and drink, or with respect to a feast day or a new moon or a Sabbath day, ¹⁷which are a shadow of the things to come; but the body is Christ's. ¹⁸Let no one rob you of your prize by a voluntary humility and worshipping of the angels, dwelling in the things which he has^a seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind, ¹⁹and not holding firmly to the Head, from whom all the body, being supplied and knit together through the joints and ligaments, grows with God's growth. ²⁰If you died with Christ from the elementary principles of the world, why, as though living in the world, do you subject yourselves to regulations, ²¹"Do not handle, nor taste, nor touch" ²²(all of which perish with use), according to human commandments and teachings? ²³Which things indeed appear like wisdom in self-imposed worship, and humility, and severity to the body; but are not of any value against the indulgence of the flesh.

3 If then you were raised together with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated on the right hand of God. ²Set your mind on the things that are above, not on the things that are on the earth. ³For you died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. ⁴When Christ, your^b life, is revealed, then you will also be revealed with him in glory. ⁵Put to death, therefore, whatever is worldly in you: sexual immorality, impurity, lust, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. ⁶Because of these, the wrath of God is coming on the children of disobedience.^c ⁷You also once walked in those, when you lived in them; ⁸but now you also put them all away: anger, wrath, malice, slander, and shameful speaking out of your mouth. ⁹Do not lie to one another, seeing that you have put off the old self with its practices, ¹⁰and have put on the new self, who is being renewed in knowledge after the image of his Creator, ¹¹where there cannot be Greek and Jew, circumcision and uncircumcision, barbarian, Scythian, slave, freeman; but Christ is all, and in all.

¹²Put on therefore, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, a heart of compassion, kindness, gentleness, humility, and patience; ¹³bearing with one another, and forgiving each other, if anyone has a complaint against another; even as the Lord^d forgave you, so you also do.

¹⁴Above all these things, walk in love, which is the bond of perfection. ¹⁵And let the peace of Christ^e rule in your hearts, to which also you were called in one body; and be thankful. ¹⁶Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly; in all wisdom teaching and admonishing one another with psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your heart to God^f.

¹⁷Whatever you do, in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father, through him.

¹⁸Wives, be in subjection to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord.

¹⁹Husbands, love your wives, and do not be bitter against them.

²⁰Children, obey your parents in all things, for this pleases the Lord.

²¹Fathers, do not provoke your children, so that they won't be discouraged.

²²Servants, obey in all things those who are your masters according to the flesh, not just when they are looking, as people-pleasers, but in singleness of heart, fearing the Lord^g. ²³And whatever you do, work heartily, as for the Lord, and not for people, ²⁴knowing that from the Lord you will receive the reward of the inheritance; for you serve the Lord Christ. ²⁵But he who does wrong will receive again for the wrong that he has done, and there is no partiality.

4 Masters, give to your servants that which is just and equal, knowing that you also have a Master in heaven.

²Continue steadfastly in prayer, watching in it with thanksgiving; ³praying together for us also, that God may open to us a door for the word, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds; ⁴that I may reveal it as I ought to speak. ⁵Walk in wisdom toward those who are outside, redeeming the time. ⁶Let your speech always be with grace, seasoned with salt, that you may know how you ought to answer each one.

⁷All my affairs will be made known to you by Tychicus, the beloved brother, faithful servant, and fellow slave in the Lord. ⁸I am sending him to you for this very purpose, that you^h may know ourⁱ circumstances and that he may encourage your hearts, ⁹together with Onesimus, the faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They will make known to you everything that is going on here. ¹⁰Aristarchus, my fellow prisoner greets you, and Mark, the cousin of Barnabas (concerning whom you received commandments, "if he comes to you, receive him"), ¹¹and Jesus who is called Justus, who are of the circumcision. These are my only fellow workers for the kingdom of God, and they have been a comfort to me.

¹²Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, salutes you, always striving for you in his prayers, that you may stand perfect and fully assured^j in all the will of God. ¹³For I testify about him, that he has worked hard^k for you, and for those in Laodicea, and for those in Hierapolis. ¹⁴Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas greet you. ¹⁵Greet the brothers who are in Laodicea, and to Nympha^l and the church that is in her^m house. ¹⁶When this letter has been read among you, cause it to be read also in the church of the Laodiceans; and that you also read the letter from Laodicea. ¹⁷Tell Archippus, "See that you fulfill the ministry that you have been given in the Lord."

¹⁸The salutation of me, Paul, with my own hand: remember my bonds. Grace be with you.ⁿ

1 Thessalonians

1 Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy, to the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace^a.

²We always give thanks to God for all of you, mentioning you in our prayers, ³remembering without ceasing your work of faith and labor of love and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, before our God and Father. ⁴We know, brothers loved by God, that you are chosen, ⁵and that our Good News came to you not in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Spirit, and with much assurance. You know what kind of persons we showed ourselves to be among you for your sake. ⁶You became imitators of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Spirit, ⁷so that you became an example to all who believe in Macedonia and in Achaia. ⁸For from you the word of the Lord has been declared, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith toward God has gone out; so that we do not need to say anything. ⁹For they themselves report concerning us what kind of a reception we had from you; and how you turned to God from idols, to serve a living and true God, ¹⁰and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead—Jesus, who delivers us from the wrath to come.

2 For you yourselves know, brothers, our visit to you was not in vain, ²but having suffered before and been shamefully treated, as you know, at Philippi, we grew bold in our God to tell you the Good News of God in much conflict. ³For our exhortation is not of error, nor of uncleanness, nor in deception. ⁴But even as we have been approved by God to be entrusted with the Good News, so we speak; not as pleasing people, but God, who tests our hearts. ⁵For neither were we at any time found using words of flattery, as you know, nor with a pretext for greed (God is witness), ⁶nor seeking glory from people (neither from you nor from others), when we might have claimed authority as apostles of Christ. ⁷But we were gentle^b among you, like a nursing mother cherishes her own children.

⁸Even so, affectionately longing for you, we were well pleased to impart to you, not the Good News of God only, but also our own souls, because you had become very dear to us. ⁹For you remember, brothers, our labor and travail; for working night and day, that we might not burden any of you, we preached to you the Good News of God. ¹⁰You are witnesses with God, how holy, righteously, and blamelessly we behaved ourselves toward you who believe. ¹¹As you know, as a father with his own children, ¹²we exhorted, comforted, and implored every one of you to lead a life worthy of God, who calls you into his own kingdom and glory. ¹³For this cause we also thank God without ceasing, that, when you received from us the word of the message of God, you accepted it not as a human word, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, which also works in you who believe. ¹⁴For you, brothers, became imitators of the churches of God which are in Judea in Christ Jesus; for you also suffered the same things from your own countrymen, even as they did from the Judeans; ¹⁵who killed both the Lord Jesus and the^c prophets, and drove us out, and did not please God, and are hostile to all people; ¹⁶forbidding us to speak to those who are not Jewish that they may be saved; to fill up their sins always. But wrath has come on them to the uttermost.

¹⁷But we, brothers, being bereaved of you for a short season, in presence, not in heart, tried even harder to see your face with great desire, ¹⁸because we wanted to come to you—indeed, I, Paul, once and again—but Satan hindered us. ¹⁹For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Is it not even you, before our Lord Jesus^d at his coming? ²⁰For you are our glory and our joy.

3 Therefore, when we could not stand it any longer, we thought it good to be left behind at Athens alone, ²and sent Timothy, our brother and God's fellow worker^e in the Good News of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith; ³that no one be moved by these afflictions. For you know that we are appointed to this task. ⁴For truly, when we were with you, we told you beforehand that we are to suffer affliction, even as it happened, and you know. ⁵For this cause I also, when I could not stand it any longer, sent that I might know your faith, for fear that by any means the tempter had tempted you, and our labor would have been in vain. ⁶But when Timothy came just now to us from you, and brought us glad news of your faith and love, and that you have good memories of us always, longing to see us, even as we also long to see you; ⁷for this cause, brothers, we were comforted over you in all our distress and affliction through your faith. ⁸For now we live, since you stand firm^f in the Lord. ⁹For what thanksgiving can we render again to God for you, for all the joy with which we rejoice for your sakes before our God; ¹⁰night and day praying exceedingly that we may see your face, and may perfect that which is lacking in your faith? ¹¹Now may our God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus,^g direct our way to you; ¹²and the Lord make you to increase and abound in love for one another and for all, even as we also do toward you, ¹³to the end he may establish your hearts blameless in holiness before our God and Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints.

4 Finally then, brothers, we ask and urge you in the Lord Jesus, that as you received from us how you ought to live and to please God, even as you are living^h, that you excel more and more. ²For you know what instructions we gave you through the Lord Jesus. ³For this is the will of God: your sanctification, that you abstain from sexual immorality, ⁴that each one of you know how to possess himself of his own vessel in sanctification and honor, ⁵not in the passion of lust, even as the nations who do not know God; ⁶that no one should take advantage of and wrong a brother or sister in this matter; because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as also we forewarned you and testified. ⁷For God called us not for uncleanness, but in sanctification. ⁸Therefore he who rejects this does not reject man, but God, who has also given his Holy Spirit to you.

⁹But concerning brotherly love, you have no need that one write to you. For you yourselves are taught by God to love one another, ¹⁰for indeed you do it toward all the brothers who are in all

Macedonia. But we exhort you, brothers, that you abound more and more; ¹¹and that you make it your ambition to lead a quiet life, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, even as we instructed you; ¹²that you may walk properly toward those who are outside, and may have need of nothing.

¹³But we do not want you to be ignorant, brothers, concerning those who have fallen asleep, so that you do not grieve like the rest, who have no hope. ¹⁴For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so God will bring with him those who have fallen asleep in Jesus. ¹⁵For this we tell you by the word of the Lord, that we who are alive, who are left to the coming of the Lord, will in no way precede those who have fallen asleep. ¹⁶For the Lord himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with God's trumpet. The dead in Christ will rise first, ¹⁷then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together^a with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air. So we will be with the Lord forever. ¹⁸Therefore comfort one another with these words.

5 But concerning the times and the seasons, brothers, you have no need that anything be written to you. ²For you yourselves know well that the day of the Lord comes like a thief in the night. ³Now^b when they are saying, "Peace and safety," then sudden destruction will come on them, like birth pains on a pregnant woman; and they will in no way escape. ⁴But you, brothers, are not in darkness, that the day should overtake you like a thief. ⁵You are all sons of light, and sons of the day. We do not belong to the night, nor to darkness, ⁶so then let us not sleep, as the rest do, but let us watch and be sober. ⁷For those who sleep, sleep in the night, and those who are drunk are drunk in the night. ⁸But let us, since we belong to the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and, for a helmet, the hope of salvation. ⁹For God did not appoint us to wrath, but to the obtaining of salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, ¹⁰who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him. ¹¹Therefore exhort one another, and build each other up, even as you also do. ¹²But we ask you, brothers, to recognize those who labor among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you, ¹³and to respect and honor them in love for their work's sake.

Be at peace among yourselves. ¹⁴We exhort you, brothers, admonish the disorderly, encourage the fainthearted, support the weak, be patient toward all. ¹⁵See that no one returns evil for evil to anyone, but always seek what is good both for each other and for all.

¹⁶Rejoice always. ¹⁷Pray without ceasing. ¹⁸In everything give thanks, for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus toward you. ¹⁹Do not quench the Spirit. ²⁰Do not treat prophecies with contempt, ²¹but^c test all things; hold firmly that which is good. ²²Abstain from every form of evil.

²³May the God of peace himself sanctify you completely. May your whole spirit, soul, and body be preserved blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

²⁴He who calls you is faithful, who will also do it. ²⁵Brothers, pray for us also.^d ²⁶Greet all the brothers with a holy kiss. ²⁷I solemnly command you by the Lord that this letter be read to all the holy^e brothers.

²⁸The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.^f

2Thessalonians

1 Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy, to the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ: ²Grace to you and peace from God the^g Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

³We are bound to always give thanks to God for you, brothers, even as it is appropriate, because your faith grows exceedingly, and the love of each and every one of you towards one another abounds; ⁴so that we ourselves boast about you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions which you endure. ⁵This is an obvious sign of the righteous judgment of God, to the end that you may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you also suffer. ⁶Since it is a righteous thing with God to repay affliction to those who afflict you, ⁷and to give relief to you who are afflicted with us, when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with his mighty angels in flaming fire, ⁸giving vengeance to those who do not know God, and to those who do not obey the Good News of our Lord Jesus, ⁹who will pay the penalty: everlasting destruction from the face of the Lord and from the glory of his might, ¹⁰when he comes to be glorified in his saints, and to be marveled at among all those who have believed, because our testimony to you was believed.

¹¹To this end we also pray always for you, that our God may count you worthy of your calling, and fulfill every desire of goodness and work of faith, with power; ¹²that the name of our Lord Jesus^h may be glorified in you, and you in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 Now, brothers, concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and our gathering together to him, we ask you ²not to be quickly shaken in your mind, nor yet be troubled, either by spirit, or by word, or by letter as from us, saying that the day of the Lordⁱ had come. ³Let no one deceive you in any way. For it will not be, unless the rebellion comes first, and the man of lawlessness^j is revealed, the son of destruction, ⁴he who opposes and exalts himself against all that is called God or that is worshiped; so that he sits^k in the temple of God, setting himself up as God. ⁵Do you not remember that, when I was still with you, I told you these things? ⁶Now you know what is restraining him, to the end that he may be revealed in his own season. ⁷For the mystery of lawlessness already works. Only there is one who restrains now, until he is taken out of the way. ⁸Then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord^a will kill with the breath of his mouth, and destroy by the manifestation of his coming; ⁹even he whose coming is according to the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders, ¹⁰and with all deception of wickedness for those who are perishing, because they did not receive the love of the truth, that they might be saved. ¹¹And because of this, God sends them a strong delusion,^b that they should believe the lie, ¹²in order that all might be judged who did not believe the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness. ¹³But we are bound to always give thanks to God for you, brothers loved by the Lord, because God chose you from the beginning^c for salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief in the truth; ¹⁴to which he called you through our Good News, for the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. ¹⁵So then, brothers, stand firm, and hold the traditions which you were taught by us, whether by word, or by letter.

¹⁶Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father, who loved us and gave us everlasting comfort and good hope through grace, ¹⁷comfort your hearts and establish you in every good work and word.

3 Finally, brothers, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may spread rapidly and be glorified, even as also with you; ²and that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil people; for not all have faith. ³But the Lord is faithful, who will establish you, and guard you from the evil one. ⁴We have confidence in the Lord concerning you, that you both do and will do the things we command. ⁵May the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patience of Christ.

⁶Now we command you, brothers, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you withdraw yourselves from every brother who walks in an undisciplined life, and not after the tradition which they received from us. ⁷For you know how you ought to imitate us. For we were not undisciplined among you, ⁸neither did we eat bread from anyone's hand without paying for it, but in labor and travail worked night and day, that we might not burden any of you; ⁹not because we do not have the right, but to make ourselves an example to you, that you should imitate us. ¹⁰For even when we were with you, we commanded you this: "If anyone will not work, neither let him eat." ¹¹For we hear that some among you are living an undisciplined life, who do not work at all, but are busybodies. ¹²Now those who are that way, we command and exhort in the^d Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.

¹³But you, brothers, do not be weary in doing well. ¹⁴If anyone does not obey our word in this letter, note that person, that you have no company with him, to the end that he may be ashamed. ¹⁵Do not count him as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

¹⁶Now may the Lord of peace himself give you peace at all times in all ways. The Lord be with you all.

¹⁷The greeting of me, Paul, with my own hand, which is the sign in every letter: this is how I write. ¹⁸The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.^e

1 Timothy

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus according to the commandment of God our Savior, and Christ Jesus our hope; ²to Timothy, my true child in faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the^f Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

³As I urged you when I was going into Macedonia, stay at Ephesus that you might command certain people not to teach a different doctrine, ⁴neither to pay attention to myths and endless genealogies, which cause speculations,^g rather than God's stewardship, which is in faith—⁵but the goal of this command is love, out of a pure heart and a good conscience and unfeigned faith; ⁶from which things some, having missed the mark, have turned aside to vain talking; ⁷desiring to be teachers of the law, though they understand neither what they say, nor about what they strongly affirm. ⁸But we know that the law is good, if one uses it lawfully, ⁹as knowing this, that law is not made for a righteous person, but for the lawless and insubordinate, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for those who kill their father or mother, for murderers, ¹⁰for the sexually immoral, for men who have sexual relations with men,^h for kidnappers, for liars, for perjurers, and for whatever else is contrary to sound teaching; ¹¹according to the Good News of the glory of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust. ¹²And I thank him who enabled me, Christ Jesus our Lord, because he counted me faithful, appointing me to service; ¹³although I was before a blasphemer, a persecutor, and insolent. However, I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief. ¹⁴The grace of our Lord abounded exceedingly with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. ¹⁵The saying is faithful and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief. ¹⁶However, for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first, Jesus Christ might display all his patience, for an example of those who were going to believe in him for everlasting life. ¹⁷Now to the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only Godⁱ, be honor and glory forever and ever. Amen.

¹⁸This instruction I commit to you, my child Timothy, according to the prophecies which led the way to you, that by them you may wage the good warfare; ¹⁹holding faith and a good conscience; which some having thrust away made a shipwreck concerning the faith; ²⁰of whom is Hymenaeus and Alexander; whom I delivered to Satan, that they might be taught not to blaspheme.

2 I exhort therefore, first of all, that petitions, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings, be made for all people: ²for kings and all who are in high places; that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and reverence. ³For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Savior; ⁴who desires all people to be saved and come to full knowledge of the truth. ⁵For there is one God, and one mediator between God and humanity, a human, Christ Jesus, ⁶who gave himself as a ransom for all; the testimony in its own times; ⁷to which I was appointed a proclaimer and an apostle (I am telling the truth^a, I am not lying), a teacher of the non-Jews in faith and truth.

⁸I desire therefore that the men in every place pray, lifting up holy hands without anger and doubting. ⁹In the same way, that women also adorn themselves in decent clothing, with modesty and propriety; not just with braided hair, gold, pearls, or expensive clothing; ¹⁰but (which becomes women professing godliness) with good works. ¹¹Let a woman learn in quietness with all subjection. ¹²But I do not permit a woman to teach or to exercise authority over a man, but to be in quietness. ¹³For Adam was first formed, then Eve^b. ¹⁴Adam was not deceived, but the woman, being deceived, has fallen into disobedience; ¹⁵but she will be delivered^c through the childbirth, if they continue in faith and love and holiness, with self-control.

3 This is a faithful saying: If someone aspires to the office of overseer, he desires a good work. ²The overseer, therefore, must be beyond criticism, the husband of one wife, temperate, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, good at teaching; ³not a drunkard, not violent,^d but gentle, not quarrelsome, not a lover of money; ⁴one who rules his own house well, having children in subjection with all reverence; ⁵(but if someone does not know how to manage his own house, how will he take care of the church of God?) ⁶not a new convert, lest being puffed up he fall into the same condemnation as the devil. ⁷Moreover he must have good testimony from those who are outside, to avoid falling into disgrace and the trap of the devil.

⁸Deacons, in the same way, must be reverent, not double-tongued, not devoted to a lot of wine, not greedy for money; ⁹holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience. ¹⁰Let them also first be tested; then let them serve as deacons, if they are blameless. ¹¹Their wives in the same way must be reverent, not slanderers, temperate, faithful in all things. ¹²Let deacons be husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well. ¹³For those who have served well as deacons gain for themselves a good standing, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

¹⁴These things I write to you, hoping to come to you shortly; ¹⁵but if I wait long, that you may know how people ought to behave themselves in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth. ¹⁶Without controversy, the mystery of godliness is great:

He^e was revealed in the flesh, justified by the Spirit,
seen by angels,
preached among the nations,
believed on in the world,
and received up in glory.

But the Spirit says expressly that in later times some will fall away from the faith, paying attention to seducing spirits and doctrines of demons, ²through the hypocrisy of liars, branded in their own conscience as with a hot iron; ³forbidding marriage and commanding to abstain from foods which God created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth. ⁴For every creature of God is good, and nothing is to be rejected, if it is received with thanksgiving. ⁵For it is sanctified through the word of God and prayer. ⁶If you instruct the brothers of these things, you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus, nourished in the words of the faith, and of the good doctrine which you have followed. ⁷But have nothing to do with irreverent and silly myths. And train yourself for godliness. ⁸For bodily exercise has some value, but godliness has value in all things, having the promise of the life which is now, and of that which is to come. ⁹This saying is faithful and worthy of all acceptance. ¹⁰For to this end we both labor and strive,^f because we have set our trust in the living God, who is the Savior of all people, especially of those who believe. ¹¹Command and teach these things.

¹²Let no one despise your youth; but be an example to those who believe, in word, in your way of life, in love,^g in faith, and in purity. ¹³Until I come, pay attention to reading, to exhortation, and to teaching. ¹⁴Do not neglect the gift that is in you, which was given to you by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the elders. ¹⁵Be diligent in these things. Give yourself wholly to them, that your progress may be revealed to all. ¹⁶Pay attention to yourself, and to your teaching. Continue in these things, for in doing this you will save both yourself and those who hear you.

5 Do not rebuke an older man, but exhort him as a father; the younger men as brothers; ²the older women as mothers; the younger as sisters, in all purity. ³Honor widows who are widows indeed. ⁴But if any widow has children or grandchildren, let them learn first to show piety towards their own family, and to repay their parents, for this is^h acceptable in the sight of God. ⁵Now she who is a widow indeed, and desolate, has her hope set on God, and continues in petitions and prayers night and day. ⁶But she who gives herself to pleasure is dead while she lives. ⁷Also command these things, so that they will be without fault. ⁸But if anyone does not provide for his own, and especially his own household, he has denied the faith, and is worse than an unbeliever. ⁹Let no one be enrolled as a widow under sixty years old, having been the wife of one man, ¹⁰being approved by good works, if she has brought up children, if she has been hospitable to strangers, if she has washed the saints' feet, if she has relieved the afflicted, and if she has diligently followed every good work.

¹¹But refuse younger widows, for whenever their passions lead them away from Christ, they desire to marry; ¹²having condemnation, because they have rejected their first pledge. ¹³Besides, they also learn to be idle, going about from house to house. Not only idle, but also gossips and busybodies, saying things which they ought not. ¹⁴I desire therefore that the younger widows marry, bear children, rule the household, and give no occasion to the adversary for reviling. ¹⁵For already some have turned aside after Satan. ¹⁶If any believing woman has widows, she must assist them, and do not let the church be burdened; that it might help those widows who are truly in need.

¹⁷Let the elders who rule well be counted worthy of double honor, especially those who labor in the word and in teaching. ¹⁸For the Scripture says, “Do not muzzle the ox when it treads out the grain.”^a And, “The laborer is worthy of his wages.”^b

¹⁹Do not receive an accusation against an elder, except at the word of two or three witnesses. ²⁰Those who sin, reprove in the sight of all, that the rest also may be in fear. ²¹I command you in the sight of God, and Christ Jesus, and the chosen angels, that you observe these things without prejudice, doing nothing by partiality. ²²Do not ordain^c anyone hastily, nor participate in the sins of others. Keep yourself pure. ²³Be no longer a drinker of water only, but use a little wine for your stomach’s sake and your frequent infirmities.

²⁴The sins of some people are obvious, going before them to judgment, but those of others show up later. ²⁵In the same way also there are good works that are obvious, and those that are otherwise cannot be hidden.

6 Let as many as are slaves under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honor, that the name of God and the doctrine not be blasphemed. ²Those who have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brothers, but rather let them serve them, because those who partake of the benefit are believing and beloved. Teach and exhort these things.

³If anyone teaches a different doctrine, and does not consent to sound words, the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness, ⁴he is conceited, knowing nothing, but obsessed with arguments, disputes, and word battles, from which come envy, strife, reviling, evil suspicions, ⁵constant friction of people of corrupt minds and destitute of the truth, who suppose that godliness is a means of gain.^d

⁶But godliness with contentment is great gain. ⁷For we brought nothing into the world, so^e neither can we carry anything out. ⁸But having food and clothing, we will be content with that. ⁹But those who are determined to be rich fall into a temptation and a snare and many foolish and harmful lusts, such as plunge people into ruin and destruction. ¹⁰For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil. Some have been led astray from the faith in their greed, and have pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

¹¹But you, man of God, flee these things, and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, and gentleness. ¹²Fight the good fight of faith. Lay hold of the everlasting life to which you were called, and you confessed the good confession in the sight of many witnesses. ¹³I command you before God, who gives life to all things, and before Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate testified the good confession,^f ¹⁴that you keep the commandment without spot, blameless, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ; ¹⁵which in its own times he will show, who is the blessed and only Ruler, the King of kings, and Lord of lords; ¹⁶who alone has immortality, dwelling in unapproachable light; whom no human has seen, nor can see: to whom be honor and eternal power. Amen.

¹⁷Charge those who are rich in this present world that they not be haughty, nor have their hope set on the uncertainty of riches, but on^g God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy; ¹⁸that they do good, that they be rich in good works, that they be ready to distribute, willing to communicate; ¹⁹laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold of that which is truly life^h.

²⁰Timothy, guard that which is committed to you, turning away from the empty chatter and oppositions of the knowledge which is falsely so called; ²¹which some professing have erred concerning the faith. Grace be with you.ⁱ

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus^j through the will of God, according to the promise of the life which is in Christ Jesus, ²to Timothy, my beloved child: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

³I thank God, whom I serve as my forefathers did, with a pure conscience. How unceasing is my memory of you in my petitions, night and day ⁴longing to see you, remembering your tears, that I may be filled with joy; ⁵having been reminded of the unfeigned faith that is in you; which lived first in your grandmother Lois, and your mother Eunice^k, and, I am persuaded, in you also.

⁶For this cause, I remind you that you should stir up the gift of God which is in you through the laying on of my hands. ⁷For God did not give us a spirit of fear, but of power and love and a sound mind.^l ⁸Therefore do not be ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner; but endure hardship for the Good News according to the power of God, ⁹who saved us and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given to us in Christ Jesus before time began, ¹⁰but has now been revealed by the appearing of our Savior, Christ Jesus, who abolished death, and brought life and immortality to light through the Good News. ¹¹For this, I was appointed a preacher, an apostle, and a teacher^m. ¹²For this cause I also suffer these things.

Yet I am not ashamed, for I know him whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard that which I have committed to him against that day.

¹³Hold the pattern of sound words which you have heard from me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. ¹⁴That good thing which was committed to you, guard through the Holy Spirit who dwells in us.

¹⁵This you know, that all who are in Asia turned away from me; of whom are Phygelus and Hermogenes. ¹⁶May the Lord grant mercy to the house of Onesiphorus, for he often refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain, ¹⁷but when he was in Rome, he sought me diligently, and found me ¹⁸(the Lord grant to him to find the Lord's mercy in that day); and in how many things he served at Ephesus, you know very well.

2 You therefore, my child, be strengthened in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. ²The things which you have heard from me among many witnesses, commit the same to faithful people, who will be able to teach others also. ³You therefore must share in hardship, as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. ⁴No soldier on duty entangles himself in the affairs of life, that he may please him who enrolled him as a soldier. ⁵Also, if anyone competes in athletics, he is not crowned unless he has competed by the rules. ⁶The farmers who labor must be the first to get a share of the crops. ⁷Consider what I say, for the Lord will give^a you understanding in all things.

⁸Remember Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, a descendant of David, according to my Good News, ⁹in which I suffer hardship to the point of chains as a criminal. But God's word is not chained. ¹⁰Therefore I endure all things for the chosen ones' sake, that they also may obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with everlasting glory. ¹¹This saying is faithful:

“For if we died with him,
we will also live with him.
¹²If we endure,
we will also reign with him.
If we deny him,
he also will deny us.
¹³If we are faithless,
he remains faithful,
for he cannot deny himself.”

¹⁴Remind them of these things, charging them in the presence of God,^b not to wrangle about words, to no profit, to the subverting of those who hear.

¹⁵Do your best to present yourself approved by God, a worker who does not need to be ashamed, properly handling the word of truth. ¹⁶But shun empty chatter, for they will proceed further in ungodliness, ¹⁷and their word will consume like gangrene, of whom is Hymenaeus and Philetus; ¹⁸who have erred concerning the truth, saying that the resurrection is already past, and overthrowing the faith of some. ¹⁹However God's firm foundation stands, having this seal, “The Lord knows those who are his,”^c and, “Let every one who names the name of the Lord^d depart from unrighteousness.” ²⁰Now in a large house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of clay. Some are for honor, and some for dishonor. ²¹If anyone therefore purges himself from these, he will be a vessel for honor, sanctified, and suitable for the master's use, prepared for every good work.

3 But know this, that in the last days, grievous times will come. ²For people will be lovers of self, lovers of money, boastful, arrogant, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, ³unloving, unforgiving, slanderers, without self-control, brutal, hateful of good, ⁴traitors, headstrong, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God; ⁵holding a form of godliness, but having denied the power thereof. Turn away from these, also. ⁶For among them are those who crawl into households and take captive weak-willed women weighed down with sins, led away by various passions and pleasures,^e ⁷always learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. ⁸Even as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so do these also oppose the truth; people corrupted in mind, disapproved concerning the faith. ⁹But they will proceed no further. For their folly will be evident to all, as theirs also was. ¹⁰But you did follow my teaching, conduct, purpose, faith, patience, love, steadfastness, ¹¹persecutions, and sufferings: those things that happened to me at Antioch, Iconium, and Lystra. I endured those persecutions. Out of them all the Lord delivered me. ¹²Yes, and all who desire to live godly in Christ Jesus will suffer persecution. ¹³But evil people and impostors will grow worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived. ¹⁴But you remain in the things which you have learned and have been assured of, knowing from whom you have learned them. ¹⁵From infancy, you have known the holy Scriptures which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith, which is in Christ Jesus. ¹⁶All Scripture is God-breathed and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, ¹⁷that the person of God may be complete, thoroughly equipped for every good work.

4 I command you therefore before God and Christ Jesus,^f who will judge the living and the dead, and by^g his appearing and his kingdom: ²proclaim the word; be urgent in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, and exhort, with all patience and teaching. ³For the time will come when they will not listen to the sound doctrine, but, having itching ears, will heap up for themselves teachers after their own lusts; ⁴and will turn away their ears from the truth, and turn aside to myths. ⁵But you be sober in all things, endure hardship, do the work of an evangelist, fulfill your ministry.

⁶For I am already being offered, and the time of my departure has come. ⁷I have fought the good fight. I have finished the course. I have kept the faith. ⁸From now on, there is stored up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will give to me on that day; and not to me only, but also to all those who have loved his appearing. ⁹Be diligent to come to me soon, ¹⁰for Demas left me, having loved this present world, and went to Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, and Titus to Dalmatia. ¹¹Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with you, for he is useful to me for service. ¹²But I sent Tychicus to Ephesus. ¹³Bring the cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus when you come, and the books, especially the parchments.¹⁴ Alexander, the coppersmith, did much evil to me. The Lord will^a repay him according to his works,¹⁵ of whom you also must beware; for he greatly opposed our words.

Titus

1 Paul, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's chosen ones, and the knowledge of the truth which is according to godliness,² in hope of everlasting life, which God, who cannot lie, promised before time began; ³but in his own time revealed his word in the message with which I was entrusted according to the commandment of God our Savior; ⁴to Titus, my true child according to a common faith: Grace^d and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus^e our Savior.

⁵I left you in Crete for this reason, that you would set in order the things that were lacking, and appoint elders in every city, as I directed you; ⁶if anyone is blameless, the husband of one wife, having children who believe, who are not accused of loose or unruly behavior. ⁷For the overseer must be blameless, as God's steward; not self-pleasing, not easily angered, not given to wine, not violent, not greedy for dishonest gain; ⁸but given to hospitality, as a lover of good, sober minded, fair, holy, self-controlled; ⁹holding to the faithful word which is according to the teaching, that he may be able to exhort in the sound doctrine, and to convict those who contradict him. ¹⁰For there are many rebellious people, empty talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision, ¹¹whose mouths must be silenced; who are upsetting whole families, teaching things which they should not, for the sake of dishonest gain. ¹²One of them, a prophet of their own, said, "Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, and idle gluttons." ¹³This testimony is true. For this cause, reprove them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, ¹⁴not paying attention to Jewish myths and commandments of people who reject the truth. ¹⁵To the pure, all things are pure; but to those who are defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their mind and their conscience are defiled. ¹⁶They profess that they know God, but by their works they deny him, being abominable, disobedient, and unfit for any good work.

2 But say the things which fit sound doctrine, ²that older men should be sober-minded, worthy of respect, self-controlled, sound in faith, in love, and in patience: ³and that older women likewise be reverent in behavior, not slanderers nor enslaved to much wine, teachers of that which is good; ⁴that they may train the young women to love their husbands, to love their children, ⁵to be self-controlled, pure, working at home, kind, and being subject to their own husbands, so that God's word may not be discredited. ⁶Likewise, exhort the younger men to be self-controlled; ⁷in all things showing yourself an example of good works. In your teaching show integrity, seriousness,^f ⁸and a sound message that cannot be condemned; that he who opposes you may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say about us^g. ⁹Exhort servants to be in subjection to their own masters, and to be well-pleasing in all things; not contradicting; ¹⁰not stealing, but showing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God, our Savior, in all things. ¹¹For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation to all people, ¹²instructing us to say "No" to ungodliness and worldly desires, and to live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present age; ¹³looking for the blessed hope and appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior, Jesus Christ; ¹⁴who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify for himself a people for his own possession, zealous for good works. ¹⁵Say these things and exhort and reprove with all authority. Let no one despise you.

3 Remind them to be in subjection to rulers and to authorities, to be obedient, to be ready for every good work, ²to speak evil of no one, not to be contentious, to be gentle, showing courtesy to all people. ³For we were also once foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving various lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another. ⁴But when the kindness of God our Savior and his love toward humankind appeared, ⁵not by works of righteousness, which we did ourselves, but according to his mercy, he saved us, through the washing of rebirth and renewing by the Holy Spirit, ⁶whom he poured out on us richly, through Jesus Christ our Savior; ⁷that, being justified by his grace, we might be made heirs according to the hope of everlasting life. ⁸This saying is faithful, and concerning these things I desire that you affirm confidently, so that those who have believed God may be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable for people; ⁹but shun foolish questionings, genealogies, strife, and disputes about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain. ¹⁰Reject a divisive person after a first and second warning; ¹¹knowing that such a one is perverted, and sins, being self-condemned.

¹²When I send Artemas to you, or Tychicus, be diligent to come to me to Nicopolis, for I have determined to winter there. ¹³Send Zenas, the Law scholar, and Apollos on their journey speedily, that nothing may be lacking for them. ¹⁴Let our people also learn to maintain good works for necessary uses, that they may not be unfruitful.

¹⁵All who are with me greet you. Greet those who love us in faith. Grace be with you all.^h

Philemon

1 Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy our brother, to Philemon, our beloved fellow worker, ²and to Apphia our sister^a, to Archippus, our fellow soldier, and to the church in your house: ³Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

⁴I thank my God always, making mention of you in my prayers, ⁵hearing of your love, and of the faith which you have toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all the saints; ⁶that the fellowship of your faith may become effective, in the knowledge of every good thing which is in you^b in Christ.^c ⁷For I have much joy^d and comfort in your love, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed through you, brother.

⁸Therefore, though I have all boldness in Christ to command you that which is appropriate, ⁹yet on the basis of love I rather appeal, being such a one as Paul, the aged, but also a prisoner of Christ Jesus.^e ¹⁰I appeal to you for my child, whom I have become the father of in my chains, Onesimus,^f ¹¹who once was useless to you, but now is useful to you and to me. ¹²I am sending back to you^g, him who is my very heart, ¹³whom I desired to keep with me, that on your behalf he might serve me in my chains for the Good News. ¹⁴But I was willing to do nothing without your consent, that your goodness would not be as of necessity, but of free will. ¹⁵For perhaps he was therefore separated from you for a while, that you would have him forever, ¹⁶no longer as a slave, but more than a slave, a beloved brother, especially to me, but how much rather to you, both in the flesh and in the Lord.

¹⁷If then you count me a partner, receive him as you would receive me. ¹⁸But if he has wronged you at all, or owes you anything, put that to my account. ¹⁹I, Paul, write this with my own hand: I will repay it (not to mention to you that you owe to me even your own self besides). ²⁰Yes, brother, let me have joy from you in the Lord. Refresh my heart in Christ^h. ²¹Having confidence in your obedience, I write to you, knowing that you will do even beyond what I say.

²²Also, prepare a guest room for me, for I hope that through your prayers I will be restored to you.

²³Epaphras, my fellow prisoner in Christ Jesus, greets you, ²⁴as do Mark, Aristarchus, Demas, and Luke, my fellow workers. ²⁵The grace of theⁱ Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.^j

Hebrews

1 God, having in the past spoken to the fathers through the prophets at many times and in various ways, ²in these last days has spoken to us by a Son, whom he appointed heir of all things, through whom also he made the ages.^k ³He is the radiance of his glory, the very image of his substance, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had made^l purification for^m sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high; ⁴having become so much better than the angels, as he has inherited a more excellent name than they have. ⁵For to which of the angels did he say at any time,

"You are my Son.

Today I have become your Father?"ⁿ

And again,

"I will be his Father,

and he will be my Son."^o

⁶And again, when he brings in the firstborn into the world he says, "Let all the angels of God worship him."^p ⁷Of the angels he says,

"Who makes his angels winds, and his servants a flame of fire."^q

⁸But of the Son he says,

"Your throne, O God, is forever and ever,

and the righteous scepter is the scepter of your^r kingdom.

⁹You have loved righteousness, and hated iniquity;

therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness above your companions."^s ¹⁰And,

"In the beginning, Lord, you established the foundation of the earth.

The heavens are the works of your hands.

¹¹They will perish, but you remain;

and they will all wear out like a garment.

¹²As a cloak, you will roll them up, and like a garment^t they will be changed.

But you remain the same, and your years will have no end."^u

¹³But which of the angels has he told at any time,

"Sit at my right hand,

until I make your enemies the footstool of your feet?"^v

2 Therefore we ought to pay greater attention to the things that were heard, so that we will not drift away. ²For if the word spoken through angels proved steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense; ³how will we escape if we neglect so great a salvation—which at the first having been spoken through the Lord, was confirmed to us by those who heard; ⁴God also testifying with them, both by signs and wonders, by various works of power, and by gifts of the Holy Spirit, according to his own will? ⁵For he did not subject the world to come, of which we speak, to angels. ⁶But one has somewhere testified, saying,
“What is man, that you think of him?”

Or the son of man, that you care for him?

⁷You made him a little lower than the angels.

You crowned him with glory and honor.^a

⁸You have put^b all things under his feet.”^c

For in that he put all things under him, he left nothing that is not under him.^d But now we do not yet see that all things are under him. ⁹But we see him who has been made a little lower than the angels, Jesus, because of the suffering of death crowned with glory and honor, that by the grace of God he should taste of death for everyone. ¹⁰For it became him, for whom are all things, and through whom are all things, in bringing many sons to glory, to make the author of their salvation perfect through sufferings. ¹¹For both he who sanctifies and those who are sanctified are all from one, for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brothers, ¹²saying, “I will declare your name to my brothers.

In the midst of the assembly I will praise you.”^e

¹³And again, “I will put my trust in him.”^f And again, “Look, I and the children whom God has given me.”^g ¹⁴Since then the children have shared in flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner partook of the same, that through death he might bring to nothing him who had the power of death, that is, the devil, ¹⁵and might deliver all of them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. ¹⁶For, truly, he did not come to help the angels, but to help the offspring of Abraham. ¹⁷Therefore he was obligated in all things to be made like his brothers, that he might become a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make atonement^h for the sins of the people. ¹⁸For in that he himself has suffered being tempted, he is able to help those who are tempted.

3 Therefore, holy brothers, partakers of a heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, Jesus; ²who was faithful to him who appointed him, as also was Moses inⁱ his house.^j ³For he has been counted worthy of more glory than Moses, just as he who built the house has more honor than the house. ⁴For every house is built by someone; but he who built all things is God. ⁵Moses indeed was faithful in all his house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were afterward to be spoken, ⁶but Christ is faithful as a Son over his house; whose house we are, if we hold fast our confidence and the boast of our hope.^k ⁷Therefore, even as the Holy Spirit says,

“Today if you will hear his voice,

⁸do not harden your hearts, as in the provocation^l, like as in the day of the trial^m in the wilderness,

⁹where your fathers tested me and challenged me,

and saw my works for forty years.

¹⁰Therefore I was displeased with thisⁿ generation, and said, “They always err in their heart, but they did not know my ways;”

¹¹as I swore in my wrath,

“They will not enter into my rest.”^o

¹²Beware, brothers, lest perhaps there be in any one of you an evil heart of unbelief, in falling away from the living God; ¹³but exhort one another day by day, so long as it is called “today;” lest any one of you be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. ¹⁴For we have become partakers of Christ, if we hold fast the beginning of our confidence firm to the end: ¹⁵while it is said, “Today if you will hear his voice,

do not harden your hearts, as in the rebellion.”^p

¹⁶For who, when they heard, rebelled? No, did not all those who came out of Egypt by Moses? ¹⁷With whom was he displeased forty years? Was not it with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? ¹⁸To whom did he swear that they would not enter into his rest, but to those who were disobedient? ¹⁹We see that they were not able to enter in because of unbelief.

4 Let us fear therefore, lest perhaps anyone of you should seem to have come short of a promise of entering into his rest. ²For indeed we have had good news preached to us, even as they also did, but the word they heard did not profit them, because they^q were not united by faith with those who heard. ³For we who have believed do enter into that rest, even as he has said, “As I swore in my wrath, they will not enter into my rest;”^r although the works were finished from the foundation of the world. ⁴For he has said this somewhere about the seventh day, “And God rested on the seventh day from all his works;”^s and in this place again, “They will not enter into my rest.”^t

⁶Since therefore it remains for some to enter it, and they to whom the good news was before preached failed to enter in because of disobedience, ⁷he again appoints a certain day, “Today,” saying through David so long a time afterward (just as has been said),

“Today if you will hear his voice,

do not harden your hearts.”^u

⁸For if Joshua had given them rest, he would not have spoken afterward of another day. ⁹There remains therefore a Sabbath rest for the people of God. ¹⁰For he who has entered into his rest has himself also rested from his works, as God did from his. ¹¹Let us therefore give diligence to enter into that rest, lest anyone fall after the same example of disobedience. ¹²For the word of God is living, and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and is able to discern the thoughts and intentions of the heart.

¹³There is no creature that is hidden from his sight, but all things are naked and laid open before the eyes of him with whom we have to do. ¹⁴Having then a great high priest, who has passed through the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let us hold tightly to our confession. ¹⁵For we do not have a high priest who cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities, but one who has been in all points tempted^a like we are, yet without sin. ¹⁶Let us therefore draw near with boldness to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and may find grace for help in time of need.

5 For every high priest, being taken from among people, is appointed for people in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins. ²The high priest can deal gently with those who are ignorant and going astray, because he himself is also surrounded with weakness. ³Because of this, he must offer sacrifices for sins for the people, as well as for himself. ⁴Nobody takes this honor on himself, but he is called by God, just like Aaron was. ⁵So also Christ did not glorify himself to be made a high priest, but it was he who said to him, “You are my Son.

Today I have become your Father.”^b

⁶As he says also in another place, “You are a priest forever, after the order of Melchizedek.”^c

⁷In the days of his flesh, he offered up prayers and petitions with loud cries and tears to him who was able to save him from death, and he was heard because of his reverence. ⁸Although he was a Son, he learned obedience by the things which he suffered. ⁹Having been made perfect, he became to all of those who obey him the author of everlasting salvation, ¹⁰named by God a high priest after the order of Melchizedek. ¹¹About him we have many words to say, and hard to interpret, seeing you have become dull of hearing. ¹²For when by reason of the time you ought to be teachers, you again need to have someone teach you the rudiments of the first principles of the oracles of God. You have come to need milk, not solid food. ¹³For everyone who lives on milk is not experienced in the word of righteousness, for he is a baby. ¹⁴But solid food is for those who are full grown, who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern good and evil.

6 Therefore leaving the doctrine of the first principles of Christ, let us press on to perfection—not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works, of faith toward God, ²of the teaching of washings, of laying on of hands, of resurrection of the dead, and of everlasting judgment. ³And this we will do if God permits. ⁴For concerning those who were once enlightened and tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Spirit, ⁵and tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the age to come, ⁶and then fell away, it is impossible to renew them again to repentance; seeing they crucify the Son of God for themselves again, and put him to open shame. ⁷For the land which has drunk the rain that comes often on it, and brings forth a crop suitable for them for whose sake it is also tilled, receives blessing from God; ⁸but if it bears thorns and thistles, it is rejected and near being cursed, whose end is to be burned.

⁹But, beloved, we are persuaded of better things for you, and things that accompany salvation, even though we speak like this. ¹⁰For God is not unrighteous, so as to forget your work and the^d love which you showed toward his name, in that you served the saints, and still do serve them. ¹¹We desire that each one of you may show the same diligence to the fullness of hope even to the end, ¹²that you won't be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherited the promises. ¹³For when God made a promise to Abraham, since he could swear by none greater, he swore by himself, ¹⁴saying, “I will indeed bless you, and I will greatly multiply you.”^e ¹⁵Thus, having patiently endured, he obtained the promise. ¹⁶For people^f swear oaths by something greater, and in every dispute of theirs the oath is final for confirmation. ¹⁷In this way God, being determined to show more abundantly to the heirs of the promise the immutability of his counsel, interposed with an oath; ¹⁸that by two immutable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to take hold of the hope set before us. ¹⁹This hope we have as an anchor of the soul, a hope both sure and steadfast and entering into that which is within the curtain; ²⁰where as a forerunner Jesus entered for us, having become a high priest forever after the order of Melchizedek.

7 For this Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of God Most High, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings and blessed him, ²to whom also Abraham divided “a tenth part of everything”^g (being first, by interpretation, king of righteousness, and then also king of Salem, which is king of peace; ³without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like the Son of God), remains a priest continually. ⁴Now consider how great this man was, to whom even Abraham, the patriarch, gave a tenth out of the most valuable plunder. ⁵They indeed of the sons of Levi who receive the priest's office have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the Law, that is, of their brothers, though these have come out of the body of Abraham, ⁶but he whose genealogy is not counted from them has accepted tithes from Abraham, and has blessed him who has the promises. ⁷But without any dispute the lesser is blessed by the greater. ⁸Here people who die receive tithes, but there one receives tithes of whom it is testified that he lives. ⁹We can say that through Abraham even Levi, who receives tithes, has paid tithes, ¹⁰for he was yet in the body of his father when Melchizedek met him. ¹¹Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it the people have received the law), what further need was there for another priest to arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be called after the order of Aaron? ¹²For the priesthood being changed, there is of necessity a change made also in the law. ¹³For he of whom these things are said belongs to another tribe, from which no one has officiated at the altar. ¹⁴For it is evident that our Lord has sprung out of Judah, about which tribe Moses spoke nothing concerning priests^h. ¹⁵This is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Melchizedek there arises another priest, ¹⁶who has been made, not after the law of a fleshly commandment, but after the power of an endless life: ¹⁷for it is testified,^a “You are a priest forever, according to the order of Melchizedek.”^b

¹⁸For there is an annulling of a foregoing commandment because of its weakness and uselessness ¹⁹(for the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in of a better hope, through which we draw near to God. ²⁰Inasmuch as he was not made priest without the taking of an oath, ²¹for they indeed have been made priests without an oath, but he with an oath by him that says of him,
“The Lord swore and will not change his mind,
‘You are a priest forever, according to the order of Melchizedek.’”^{c,d}

²²Accordingly Jesus has become the guarantor of a better covenant. ²³Many, indeed, have been made priests, because they are hindered from continuing by death. ²⁴But he, because he lives forever, has his priesthood unchangeable. ²⁵Therefore he is also able to save completely those who draw near to God through him, seeing that he lives forever to make intercession for them.

²⁶For such a high priest was indeed^e fitting for us: holy, guiltless, undefiled, separated from sinners, and made higher than the heavens; ²⁷who does not need, like those high priests, to offer up sacrifices daily, first for his own sins, and then for those of the people. For he did this once for all, when he offered up himself. ²⁸For the Law appoints men as high priests who have weakness, but the word of the oath which came after the Law appoints a Son forever who has been perfected.

8 Now in the things which we are saying, the main point is this. We have such a high priest, who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, ²a servant of the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord set up, and not man. ³For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices. Therefore it is necessary that this high priest also have something to offer. ⁴Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are priests who offer the gifts according to the Law; ⁵who serve a copy and shadow of the heavenly things, even as Moses was warned when he was about to make the tabernacle, for he said, “See that you make everything according to the pattern that was shown to you on the mountain.”^f ⁶But now he has obtained a more excellent ministry, by so much as he is also the mediator of a better covenant, which on better promises has been given as Law. ⁷For if the first had been faultless, then no place would have been sought for a second. ⁸For finding fault with them, he said, “Look, the days are coming,” says the Lord,
“when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah; ⁹not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day that I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt;
for they did not continue in my covenant,
and I disregarded them,” says the Lord.
¹⁰“For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel.

After those days,” says the Lord;
“I will put my laws into their mind,
I will also write them on their heart.
I will be their God,
and they will be my people.
¹¹They will not teach each one his fellow citizen,^g and each one his brother, saying, ‘Know the Lord,’
for all will know me,
from the least of them to the greatest of them.
¹²For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and I will remember their sins^h no more.”ⁱ

¹³In that he says, “new,” he has made the first old. But that which is becoming old and grows aged is near to vanishing away.

9 Now indeed even the first had ordinances of divine service, and an earthly sanctuary. ²For a tabernacle was prepared. In the first part were the lampstand, the table, and the show bread; which is called the Holy Place. ³After the second curtain was the tabernacle which is called the Holy of Holies, ⁴having a golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid on all sides with gold, in which was a gold jar containing the manna, Aaron’s rod that budded, and the tablets of the covenant; ⁵and above it cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy seat, of which things we cannot speak now in detail. ⁶Now these things having been thus prepared, the priests go in continually into the first tabernacle, performing their duties. ⁷But into the second the high priest alone, once in the year, not without blood, which he offers for himself, and for the sins of the people committed in ignorance. ⁸The Holy Spirit is indicating this, that the way into the Holy Place was not yet revealed while the first tabernacle was still standing; ⁹which is a symbol of the present age, where gifts and sacrifices are offered that are incapable, concerning the conscience, of making the worshipper perfect, ¹⁰but deal only with foods and drinks and various washings; they are regulations for the flesh imposed until the time of setting things right.

¹¹But Christ having come as a high priest of the good things that have come,^j through the greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation, ¹²nor yet through the blood of goats and calves, but through his own blood, entered in once for all into the Holy Place, having obtained everlasting redemption. ¹³For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling those who have been defiled, sanctify to the cleanness of the flesh: ¹⁴how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish to God, cleanse our^k conscience from dead works to serve the living God? ¹⁵For this reason he is the mediator of a new covenant, since a death has occurred for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first covenant, that those who have been called may receive the promise of the everlasting inheritance. ¹⁶Now where there is a will, the death of the one who made it must be proven. ¹⁷For a will is in force where there has been death, for it is never in force while the one who made it lives. ¹⁸Therefore even the first has not been dedicated without blood. ¹⁹For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses to all the people according to the Law, he took the blood of the calves and the goats,^a with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the scroll itself and all the people,²⁰saying, “This is the blood of the covenant which God has commanded you.”^b ²¹Moreover he sprinkled the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry in like manner with the blood. ²²According to the Law, nearly everything is cleansed with blood, and apart from shedding of blood there is no forgiveness. ²³It was necessary therefore that the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. ²⁴For Christ hasn’t entered into holy places made with hands, which are representations of the true, but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us; ²⁵nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest enters into the holy place year by year with blood not his own, ²⁶or else he must have suffered often since the foundation of the world. But now once at the end of the ages, he has been revealed to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. ²⁷Inasmuch as it is appointed for people to die once, and after this, judgment, ²⁸so Christ also, having been offered once to bear the sins of many,^c will appear a second time, without sin, to those who are eagerly waiting for him for salvation.

10 For the Law, having a shadow of the good to come, not the very image of the things,^d can never with the same sacrifices year by year, which they offer continually, make perfect those who draw near. ²Or else would not they have ceased to be offered, because the worshippers, having been once cleansed^e, would have had no more consciousness of sins? ³But in those sacrifices there is yearly reminder of sins. ⁴For it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins. ⁵Therefore when he comes into the world, he says, “Sacrifice and offering you did not desire, but a body you prepared for me. ⁶Whole burnt offerings and sin-offerings you took no pleasure in. ⁷Then I said, ‘Look, I have come. It is written about me in the scroll of a book; to do your will, O God.’”^f

⁸Previously saying, “Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and sin-offerings you did not desire, nor took pleasure in” (which are offered according to the Law), ⁹then he said, “Look, I have come to do your will.”^g He takes away the first, that he may establish the second, ¹⁰by which will we have been sanctified^h through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. ¹¹Every priest indeed stands day by day serving and often offering the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins, ¹²but this oneⁱ, when he had offered one sacrifice for sins forever, sat down on the right hand of God; ¹³from that time waiting until his enemies are made the footstool of his feet. ¹⁴For by one offering he has perfected forever

those who are being sanctified. ¹⁵The Holy Spirit also testifies to us, for after saying, ¹⁶“This is the covenant that I will make with them: ‘After those days,’ says the Lord, ‘I will put my laws on their hearts, I will also write them on their minds.’”^j ¹⁷“And I will remember their sins and their iniquities no more.”^k ¹⁸Now where forgiveness of these is, there is no more offering for sin. ¹⁹Having therefore, brothers, boldness to enter into the holy place by the blood of Jesus, ²⁰by the way which he dedicated for us, a new and living way, through the curtain, that is to say, his flesh; ²¹and having a great priest over the house of God, ²²let us draw near with a true heart in fullness of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and having our body washed with pure water, ²³let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering; for he who promised is faithful.

²⁴Let us consider how to motivate one another to love and good works, ²⁵not forsaking our own assembling together, as the custom of some is, but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as you see the Day approaching. ²⁶For if we sin willfully after we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remains no more a sacrifice for sins, ²⁷but a certain fearful expectation of judgment, and a fierceness of fire which will devour the adversaries. ²⁸Anyone who disregards the Law of Moses dies without compassion on the word of two or three witnesses. ²⁹How much worse punishment, do you think, will he be judged worthy of, who has trodden under foot the Son of God, and has counted the blood of the covenant with which he was sanctified an unholy thing, and has insulted the Spirit of grace? ³⁰For we know him who said, “Vengeance belongs to me; I will repay!”^m Again, “The Lord will judge his people.”ⁿ ³¹It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God. ³²But remember the former days, in which, after you were enlightened, you endured a great struggle with sufferings; ³³partly, being exposed to insults and abuse in public, and sometimes you came to share with others who were treated in the same way. ³⁴For you both had compassion on them that were in^o chains, and joyfully accepted the plundering of your possessions, since you knew that you yourselves had a better^p possession and an enduring one^q. ³⁵Therefore do not throw away your boldness, which has a great reward. ³⁶For you need patient endurance so that, having done the will of God, you may receive the promise. ³⁷“For in just a little while, he who is coming will come and will not delay. ³⁸But the^r righteous will live by faith, and if he holds back, my soul has no pleasure in him.”^s

³⁹But we are not of those who shrink back^t to destruction, but of those who have faith to the saving of the soul.

11 Now faith is being confident of what we hope for, convinced about things we do not see. ²For by this, the people of old were attested. ³By faith, we understand that the ages^a were prepared by the word of God, so that what is seen has not been made out of things which are visible. ⁴By faith, Abel^b offered to God a better sacrifice than Cain,^c through which he was attested as righteous, God testifying with respect to his gifts; and though he died he still speaks through it. ⁵By faith, Hanoah was taken away, so that he would not see death, “and he was not found, because God took him away.”^d For before he was taken he was attested as having pleased God. ⁶Now without faith it is impossible to be well pleasing to him, for he who comes to God must believe that he exists, and that he is a rewarder of those who seek him. ⁷By faith, Noah, being warned about things not yet seen, in reverence prepared a box-shaped vessel for the salvation of his household,^e through which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is according to faith. ⁸By faith, Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out to a^f place which he was to receive for an inheritance.^g He went out, not knowing where he was going. ⁹By faith, he sojourned in a land of promise, as a foreigner, living in tents with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise. ¹⁰For he looked for the city which has foundations, whose architect and builder is God. ¹¹By faith, even barren^h Sarah herself received power to conceive when she was past age, and gave birth, since she considered him faithful who had promised. ¹²Therefore as many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as innumerable as the sand which is by the sea shore, were fathered by one man, and him as good as dead. ¹³These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen themⁱ and embraced them from afar, and having acknowledged that they were foreigners and temporary residents on the earth. ¹⁴For those who say such things make it clear that they are seeking a country of their own. ¹⁵If indeed they had been thinking of that country from which they went out, they would have had enough time to return. ¹⁶Instead, they were longing for a better country, that is, a heavenly one. Therefore God is not ashamed of them, to be called their God, for he has prepared a city for them.

¹⁷By faith, Abraham, being tested, offered up Isaac; and he who had gladly received the promises was offering up his one and only son;^j ¹⁸even he to whom it was said, “In Isaac will your descendants be called;”^k ¹⁹concluding that God is able to raise up even from the dead. Figuratively speaking, he also did receive him back from the dead. ²⁰By faith, Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, even concerning things to come.^l ²¹By faith, Jacob, when he was dying, blessed each of the sons of Joseph, and bowed^m over the top of his staff.ⁿ ²²By faith, Joseph, when his end was near, made mention of the departure of the children of Israel; and gave instructions concerning his bones.^o ²³By faith, Moses, when he was born, was hidden for three months by his parents, because they saw that he was a beautiful child, and they were not afraid of the king’s commandment.^p ²⁴By faith, Moses, when he had grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh’s daughter,^q ²⁵choosing rather to share ill treatment with God’s people, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a time; ²⁶considering the abuse suffered for the Christ^r greater riches than the treasures of Egypt; for he looked to the reward. ²⁷By faith he left Egypt, not fearing the anger of the king; for he endured as seeing him who is invisible.^s ²⁸By faith, he kept the Passover, and the sprinkling of the blood, that the destroyer of the firstborn should not touch them.^t ²⁹By faith, they passed through the Red Sea as on dry land. When the Egyptians tried to do so, they were swallowed up.^u ³⁰By faith, the walls of Jericho fell down, after they had been encircled for seven days.^v ³¹By faith, Rahab the prostitute did not perish with those who were disobedient,^w having received the spies in peace.^x ³²And what more should I say? founder and completer of the faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, disregarding its shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. ³For consider him who has endured such hostility from sinners against himself, so that you may not become tired and give up. ⁴You have not yet resisted to the point of shedding blood in your struggle against sin; ⁵and you have forgotten the exhortation which reasons with you as with sons, “My son, do not take lightly the discipline of the Lord, nor lose heart when you are corrected by him.

⁶For whom the Lord loves he disciplines, and punishes every son he accepts.”^a

⁷If you are enduring discipline, God is dealing with you as sons. For what son is there whom his father does not discipline? ⁸But if you are without discipline, of which all have been made partakers, then you are illegitimate, and not sons. ⁹Furthermore, we had earthly fathers who disciplined us, and we paid them respect. Should we not much rather be subject to the Father of spirits, and live? ¹⁰For they indeed, for a few days, disciplined us as seemed good to them; but he for our profit, that we may be partakers of his holiness. ¹¹All discipline seems for the moment painful, not joyful; yet afterward it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it. ¹²Therefore, lift up the hands that hang down and the feeble knees,^b ¹³and make straight paths for your feet,^c so that which is lame may not be dislocated, but rather be healed. ¹⁴Pursue peace with everyone, and the sanctification without which no one will see the Lord, ¹⁵looking carefully lest there be anyone who falls short of the grace of God; that no root of bitterness springing up cause trouble, and by it many become defiled; ¹⁶that there be no sexually immoral or profane person like Esau, who sold his own^d birthright for one meal. ¹⁷For you know that even when he afterward desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected, for he found no place for a change of mind though he sought it diligently with tears. ¹⁸For you have not come to something^e that might be touched, and that burned with fire, and darkness, gloom, and storm, ¹⁹the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which those who heard it begged that not one more word should be spoken to them, ²⁰for they could not stand that which was commanded, “If even an animal touches the mountain, it must be stoned^f;^g ²¹and so fearful was the appearance, that Moses said, “I am terrified and trembling.”

²²But you have come to Mount Zion, and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to innumerable multitudes of angels, ²³to the assembly of the firstborn who are enrolled in heaven, to God the Judge of all, to the spirits of righteous people made perfect, ²⁴to Jesus, the mediator of a new covenant,^h and to the blood of sprinkling that speaks better than that of Abel.

²⁵See that you do not refuse him who speaks. For if they did not escape when they refused him who warned on the earth, how much more will we not escape who turn away from him who warns from heaven, ²⁶whose voice shook the earth then, but now he has promised, saying, “Yet once more I will shakeⁱ not only the earth, but also the heavens.”^j ²⁷This phrase, “Yet once more,” signifies the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that have been made, that those things which are not shaken may remain. ²⁸So since we are receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, let us give thanks^k, through which we may offer service pleasing to God, with reverence and awe, ²⁹for our God is a consuming fire.^l

13 Let brotherly love continue. ²Do not forget to show hospitality to strangers, for in doing so, some have entertained angels without knowing it. ³Remember those who are in bonds, as bound with them; and those who are ill-treated, since you are also in the body. ⁴Let marriage be held in honor among all, and let the bed be undefiled: for^m God will judge the sexually immoral and adulterers.

⁵Be free from the love of money, content with such things as you have, for he has said, “I will never leave you or forsake you.”ⁿ

⁶So we can confidently say,

“The Lord is my helper;^o I will not fear.

What can humans do to me?”^p

⁷Remember your leaders, who spoke to you the word of God, and considering the results of their conduct, imitate their faith.

⁸Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today, and forever. ⁹Do not be carried away by all kinds of strange teachings, for it is good that the heart be established by grace, not by food, through which those who were so occupied were not benefited.

¹⁰We have an altar from which those who serve the holy tabernacle have no right to eat. ¹¹For the bodies of those animals, whose blood is brought into the holy place by the high priest as an offering for sin, are burned outside of the camp.^q ¹²Therefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people through his own blood, suffered outside of the gate. ¹³Let us therefore go out to him outside of the camp, bearing the abuse he bore. ¹⁴For we do not have here an enduring city, but we seek that which is to come. ¹⁵Through him, then, let us offer up a sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of lips that confess his name.^r ¹⁶But do not forget to be doing good and sharing, for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

¹⁷Obey your leaders and submit to them, for they watch on behalf of your souls, as those who will give account, that they may do this with joy, and not with groaning, for that would be unprofitable for you.

¹⁸Pray for us, for we are persuaded^s that we have a good conscience, desiring to live honorably in all things. ¹⁹I strongly urge you to do this, that I may be restored to you sooner.

²⁰Now may the God of peace, who brought again from the dead the great Shepherd of the sheep with the blood of an everlasting covenant, our Lord Jesus,²¹ make you complete in every good thing^a to do his will, working in us^b that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be the glory forever^c. Amen.

²²But I exhort you, brothers, endure the word of exhortation, for I have written to you in few words. ²³Know that our brother Timothy has been freed, with whom, if he comes shortly, I will see you. ²⁴Greet all of your leaders and all the saints. Those from Italy send you greetings. ²⁵Grace be with you all.^d

James

1 James,^e a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are in the Diaspora: Greetings. ²Count it all joy, my brothers, when you encounter various trials, ³knowing that the testing of your faith produces endurance. ⁴Let endurance have its perfect work, that you may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing. ⁵But if any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all generously and without finding fault; and it will be given to him. ⁶But let him ask in faith, without any doubting, for the one who doubts is like a wave of the sea, driven and tossed by the wind. ⁷For let that person not think that he will receive anything from the Lord. ⁸He is a double-minded person, unstable in all his ways.

⁹But let the brother in humble circumstances glory in his high position; ¹⁰and the rich, in that he is made humble, because like the flower in the grass, he will pass away. ¹¹For the sun arises with the scorching wind, and withers the grass, and the flower in it falls, and the beauty of its appearance perishes. So also will the rich person fade away in his pursuits.

¹²Blessed is the one who perseveres under trial, for when he has been approved, he will receive the crown of life, which he^f promised to those who love him. ¹³Let no one say when he is tempted, "I am tempted by God," for God cannot be tempted by evil, and he himself tempts no one. ¹⁴But each one is tempted, when he is drawn away by his own lust, and enticed. ¹⁵Then the lust, when it has conceived, bears sin; and the sin, when it is full grown, brings forth death. ¹⁶Do not be deceived, my beloved brothers. ¹⁷All generous giving and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom can be no variation, nor turning shadow. ¹⁸Of his own will he brought us forth by the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first fruits of his creatures.

¹⁹This you know^g, my beloved brothers. But let every person be swift to hear, slow to speak, and slow to anger; ²⁰for human anger does not produce^h the righteousness of God. ²¹Therefore, putting away all filthiness and overflowing of wickedness, receive with humility the implanted word, which is able to save your soulsⁱ. ²²But be doers of the word, and not only hearers, deluding your own selves. ²³For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like someone looking at his natural face in a mirror; ²⁴for he sees himself, and goes away, and immediately forgets what kind of person he was. ²⁵But he who looks into the perfect Law of freedom, and continues, not being a hearer who forgets, but a doer of the work, this person will be blessed in what he does.

²⁶If anyone^j thinks himself to be religious while he does not control his tongue, but deceives his heart, this one's religion is worthless. ²⁷Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this: to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unstained by the world.

2 My brothers, do not hold the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ of glory with partiality. ²For if someone with a gold ring, in fine clothing, comes into your synagogue, and a poor person in filthy clothing also comes in; ³and you pay special attention to the one who wears the fine clothing, and say,^k "Sit here in a good place;" but you tell the poor person, "Stand there," or "Sit by my footstool." ⁴Have you not discriminated among yourselves, and become judges with evil thoughts? ⁵Listen, my beloved brothers. Did not God choose those who are poor in this world to be rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he promised to those who love him? ⁶But you have dishonored the poor person. Do not the rich oppress you, and personally drag you before the courts? ⁷Do not they blaspheme the honorable name by which you are called? ⁸However, if you fulfill the royal law, according to the Scripture, "You are to love your neighbor as yourself,"^l you do well. ⁹But if you show partiality, you commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. ¹⁰For whoever keeps the whole law, and yet stumbles in one point, he has become guilty of all. ¹¹For he who said, "Do not commit adultery,"^m also said, "Do not commit murder."ⁿ Now if you do not commit adultery, but murder, you have become a transgressor of the law. ¹²So speak, and so do, as those who are to be judged by a law of freedom. ¹³For judgment is without mercy to him who has shown no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgment.

¹⁴What good is it, my brothers, if someone says he has faith, but has no works? Can faith save him? ¹⁵And if a brother or sister is poorly clothed and may be^o lacking in daily food, ¹⁶and one of you tells them, "Go in peace, be warmed and filled;" and yet you did not give them the things the body needs, what good is it? ¹⁷Even so faith, if it has no works, is dead in itself. ¹⁸But someone will say, "You have faith, and I have works." Show me your faith without works, and I by my works will show you my faith.

¹⁹You believe that God is one. You do well. The demons also believe, and shudder. ²⁰But do you want to know, foolish person, that faith apart from works is useless?^p ²¹Wasn't Abraham our father justified by works, in that he offered up Isaac his son on the altar? ²²You see that faith worked with his works, and by works faith was perfected; ²³and the Scripture was fulfilled which says, "And Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness;^a and he was called the friend of God.^b ²⁴You see^c that a person is justified^d by works and not by faith alone. ²⁵In like manner was not Rahab the prostitute also justified by works, in that she received the messengers, and sent them out another way? ²⁶For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead.

3 Let not many of you be teachers, my brothers, knowing that we will receive heavier judgment. ²For in many things we all stumble. If anyone does not stumble in word, this one is a perfect person, able to bridle the whole body also. ³Now if^e we put bits into the horses' mouths so that they may obey us, we guide their whole body. ⁴And look at the ships also, though they are so big and are driven by fierce winds, are yet guided by a very small rudder, wherever the pilot desires. ⁵So the tongue is also a little member, and boasts great things. See how a small fire can spread to a large forest. ⁶And the tongue is a fire. The world of iniquity among our members is the tongue, which defiles the whole body, and sets on fire the course of nature, and is set on fire by hell.^f ⁷For all kinds of animals, and birds, of reptiles and sea creatures, are being tamed and have been tamed by humankind. ⁸But nobody can tame the tongue. It is a restless^g evil, full of deadly poison. ⁹With it we bless our Lord^h and Father, and with it we curse people, who are made in the image of God. ¹⁰Out of the same mouth comes forth blessing and cursing. My brothers, these things ought not to be so. ¹¹Does a spring send out from the same opening fresh and bitter water? ¹²Can a fig tree, my brothers, yield olives, or a vine figs? Nor is salt water able to produce sweetⁱ.

¹³Who is wise and understanding among you? Let him show by his good conduct that his deeds are done in gentleness of wisdom. ¹⁴But if you have bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your heart, do not boast and do not lie against the truth. ¹⁵This wisdom is not that which comes down from above, but is earthly, sensual, and demonic. ¹⁶For where jealousy and selfish ambition are, there is confusion and every evil deed. ¹⁷But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceful, gentle, reasonable, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality,^j without hypocrisy. ¹⁸Now the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace by those who make peace.

4 Where do conflicts and quarrels among you come from? Do they not come from your passions that war in your members? ²You lust, and do not have. You kill, covet, and cannot obtain. You fight and make war. You do not have, because you do not ask. ³You ask, and do not receive, because you ask with wrong motives, so that you may spend it for your pleasures. ⁴You adulterers and^k adulteresses, do you not know that friendship with the world is hostility toward God? Therefore whoever wants to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. ⁵Or do you think that the Scripture says in vain, "The Spirit which he made to dwell^l in us yearns jealously"? ⁶But he gives more grace. it says, "God resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble."^m ⁷Be subject therefore to God. But resist the devil, and he will flee from you. ⁸Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners; and purify your hearts, you double-minded. ⁹Lament, mourn, and weep. Let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to gloom. ¹⁰Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he will exalt you.

¹¹Do not speak against one another, brothers. He who speaks against a brother orⁿ judges his brother, speaks against the law and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law, but a judge. ¹²Only one is the lawgiver and judge,^o who is able to save and to destroy. But who are you to judge your neighbor^p?

¹³Come now, you who say, "Today or tomorrow let us go into this city, and spend a year there, trade, and make a profit."^q ¹⁴Whereas you do not know what tomorrow will be like. What is your life? For you are^r a vapor that appears for a little time and then vanishes away.

¹⁵For you ought to say, "If the Lord wills, we will both live, and do this or that."^s ¹⁶But now you glory in your boasting. All such boasting is evil. ¹⁷To him therefore who knows to do good, and does not do it, to him it is sin.

5 Come now, you rich, weep and cry aloud for your miseries that are coming on you. ²Your riches are corrupted and your garments are moth-eaten. ³Your gold and your silver are corroded, and their corrosion will be for a testimony against you, and will eat your flesh like fire. You have nourished your hearts^u in a day of slaughter. ⁶You have condemned, you have murdered the righteous one. He does not resist you.

⁹Do not grumble, brothers, against one another, so that you won't be judged.^v Look, the judge stands at the door. ¹⁰Take,^w brothers, for an example of suffering and of patience, the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord. ¹¹Look, we call them blessed who endured. He should call for the elders of the church, and they should pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord. ¹⁵And the prayer of faith will save the one who is sick, and the Lord will raise him up. If he has committed sins, he will be forgiven. ¹⁶Therefore^b confess your sins^c to one another, and pray for one another, that you may be healed. The prayer of a righteous person is powerfully effective. ¹⁷Elijah was a human being with a nature like ours, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain, and it did not rain on the land for three years and six months. ¹⁸He prayed again, and the sky gave rain, and the earth brought forth its fruit.

1 Peter

1 Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the chosen ones who are living as foreigners in the Diaspora in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, ²according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, in sanctification of the Spirit, that you may obey Jesus Christ and be sprinkled with his blood: Grace to you and peace be multiplied. ³Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to his great mercy caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, ⁴to an incorruptible and undefiled inheritance that does not fade away, reserved in Heaven for you, ⁵who by the power of God are guarded through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. ⁶Wherein you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials, ⁷that the genuineness of your faith, which is more precious than gold that perishes even though it is tested by fire, may be found to result in praise, glory, and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ—⁸whom not having seen^f you love; in whom, though now you do not see him, yet believing, you rejoice greatly with joy inexpressible and full of glory—⁹receiving the result of your faith, the salvation of your souls. ¹⁰Concerning this salvation, the prophets sought and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that would come to you, ¹¹searching for who or what kind of time the Spirit of Christ, which was in them, pointed to, when he predicted the sufferings of Christ, and the glories that would follow them. ¹²To them it was revealed, that not to themselves, but to you, they ministered these things, which now have been announced to you through those who preached the Good News to you by the Holy Spirit sent out from heaven; which things angels desire to look into.

¹³Therefore, prepare your minds for action,^g be sober and set your hope fully on the grace that will be brought to you at the revelation of Jesus Christ. ¹⁴As obedient children, do not be conformed to the desires as in your ignorance, ¹⁵but just as he who called you is holy, you yourselves also be holy in all of your behavior; ¹⁶because it is written, “Be holy, for I am holy.”^h ¹⁷If you call on him as Father, who without respect of persons judges according to each man’s work, pass the time of your living as foreigners here in reverent fear: ¹⁸knowing that you were redeemed, not with corruptible things, with silver or gold, from the useless way of life handed down from your fathers, ¹⁹but with precious blood, as of an unblemished and spotless lamb, namely Christ; ²⁰who was foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, but was revealed in these last times for your sake, ²¹who through him are believers in God, who raised him from the dead, and gave him glory; so that your faith and hope might be in God.

²²Seeing you have purified your souls in your obedience to the truthⁱ in sincere brotherly affection, love one another from a pure^j heart fervently: ²³having been born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the living and abiding word of God.^k ²⁴For,

“All flesh is like grass, and all its^l glory like the flower in the grass.
The grass withers, and its flower falls;
²⁵but the word of the Lord endures forever.”^m

This is the word of Good News which was preached to you.

2 Putting away therefore all wickedness, and all deceit, and hypocrisy, and envy, and all slander, ²as newborn babies, long for the pure milk of the word, that you may grow thereby to salvation, ³if indeed you have tasted that the Lord is good, ⁴coming to him, a living stone, though rejected by people but chosen by God, precious. ⁵You also, as living stones, are built up as a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. ⁶Because it is contained inⁿ Scripture, “Look, I am laying in Zion a stone, a chosen precious cornerstone, and the one who believes in him will not be put to shame.”^o

⁷For you who believe therefore is the honor, but for those who do not believe^p,

“The stone which the builders rejected,
has become the chief cornerstone,”^q

⁸and,

“a stone to stumble over, and a rock to trip over.”^r

For they stumble at the word, being disobedient, to which also they were appointed.⁹ But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for his own possession, that you may proclaim the excellence of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light:¹⁰ who once were not a people, but now are God's people, who had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.¹¹ Beloved, I urge you as foreigners and temporary residents, to abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul;¹² having good behavior among the nations, so in that of which they speak against you as evildoers, they may by your good works, which they see, glorify God in the day of visitation.^{13a} Subject yourselves to every human institution for the Lord's sake: whether to the king, as supreme;¹⁴ or to governors, as sent by him for vengeance on evildoers and for praise to those who do well.¹⁵ For this is the will of God, that by well-doing you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people:¹⁶ as free, and not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but as slaves of God.

¹⁷Honor all people. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king.¹⁸ Servants, be in subjection to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the wicked.¹⁹ For it is commendable if someone endures pain, suffering unjustly, because of conscience toward God.²⁰ For what glory is it if, when you sin, you patiently endure beating? But if, when you do well, you patiently endure suffering, this is commendable with God.²¹ For to this you were called, because Christ also suffered for you^b, leaving you an example, that you should follow his steps,²² who "committed no sin, nor was deceit found in his mouth."^c ²³Who, when he was cursed, did not curse back. When he suffered, did not threaten, but committed himself to him who judges righteously;²⁴ who his own self bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we, having died to sins, might live to righteousness; by whose wounds^d you were healed.^e ²⁵For you were going astray like sheep; but now have returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls.

3 In like manner, wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; so that, even if any do not obey the word, they may be won by the behavior of their wives without a word;² seeing your pure behavior in fear.³ Let your beauty be not just the outward adorning of braiding the hair, and of wearing jewels of gold, or of putting on fine clothing;⁴ but in the hidden person of the heart, in the incorruptible adornment of a gentle and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God very precious.⁵ For this is how the holy women before, who hoped in God also adorned themselves, being in subjection to their own husbands:⁶ as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord, whose children you now are, if you do well, and are not put in fear by any terror.

⁷You husbands, in like manner, live with your wives according to knowledge, giving honor to the woman, as to the weaker vessel, as being also joint heirs of the grace of life; that your prayers may not be hindered.

⁸Finally, be all like-minded, compassionate, loving as brothers, tenderhearted, humble^f, ⁹not rendering evil for evil, or reviling for reviling; but instead blessing; because^g to this were you called, that you may inherit a blessing.¹⁰ For,

"He who would love life,
and see good days,
let him keep his tongue from evil,
and his lips from speaking deceit.
¹¹Let him turn away from evil, and do good.
Let him seek peace, and pursue it.

¹²For the eyes of the Lord are on the righteous, and his ears open to their prayer;
but the face of the Lord is against those who do evil."^h

¹³Now who is he who will harm you, if you become zealousⁱ of that which is good? ¹⁴But even if you should suffer for righteousness' sake, you are blessed. "And do not fear what they fear,^j nor be troubled."^k ¹⁵But sanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord^l; and always be ready to give an answer to everyone who asks you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet^m with humility and fear:¹⁶ having a good conscience; so that when they speak evil against you, they may be put to shame who slander your good manner of life in Christ.

¹⁷For it is better, if it is God's will, that you suffer for doing well than for doing evil.¹⁸ Because Christ also suffered for sins once, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring you to God; being put to death in the flesh, but made alive in the spirit;¹⁹ in which he also went and made a proclamation to the spirits in prison,²⁰ who before were disobedient, when God waited patiently in the days of Noah, while the box-shaped vessel was being built. In it, few, that is, eight souls, were saved by means of water.²¹ This is a symbol of baptism, which now saves you—not the removal of dirt from the body, but an appeal to God for a good conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ,²² who is at the right hand of God, having gone into heaven, angels and authorities and powers being made subject to him.

4 Forasmuch then as Christ sufferedⁿ in the flesh, arm yourselves also with the same mind; for he who has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin;² that you no longer should live the rest of your time in the flesh for human desires, but for the will of God.³ For enough time in the past has been spent^o doing the will of the unbelievers, and having walked in lewdness, lusts, drunkenness, orgies, carousings, and abominable idolatries.⁴ They think it is strange that you do not run with them into the same flood of debauchery, blaspheming:⁵ who will give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead.⁶ For this reason also the Good News was preached^p to those who are now dead,^q that they might be judged according to man in the flesh, but might live according to God in the Spirit.^r ⁷But the end of all things is near. Therefore be serious and disciplined in your prayers.^{8s} Above all things be earnest in your love among yourselves, for love^a covers a multitude of sins. ⁹Be hospitable to one another without grumbling. ¹⁰As each has received a gift, employ it in serving one another, as good managers of the grace of God in its various forms. ¹¹If anyone speaks, let it be as it were the very words of God. If anyone serves, let it be as of the strength which^b God supplies, that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom belong the glory and the dominion forever and ever. Amen.

¹²Beloved, do not be astonished at the fiery trial which has come upon you, to test you, as though a strange thing happened to you. ¹³But because you are partakers of Christ's sufferings, rejoice; that at the revelation of his glory you also may rejoice with exceeding joy. ¹⁴If you are insulted for the name of Christ, you are blessed; because the Spirit of glory^c and of God rests on you. On their part he is blasphemed, but on your part he is glorified.^d ¹⁵For let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil doer, or a meddler. ¹⁶But if as a Christian,^e let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in this name.^f ¹⁷For the time has come for judgment to begin with the household of God; and if it begins first with us, what will happen to those who do not obey the Good News of God? ¹⁸And "If the righteous is delivered with difficulty, where will the ungodly and the sinner appear?"^g ¹⁹Therefore let them also who suffer according to the will of God in doing good entrust their souls to him, as to a faithful Creator.

5 I exhort the elders among you, as a fellow elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and who will also share in the glory that will be revealed: ²Shepherd the flock of God which is among you, exercising the oversight, not under compulsion, but voluntarily, as God wants;^h not for dishonest gain, but willingly; ³neither as lording it over those entrusted to you, but making yourselves examples to the flock. ⁴When the chief Shepherd is revealed, you will receive the crown of glory that does not fade away.

⁵Likewise, you younger ones, be subject to the elder. Yes, all of youⁱ clothe yourselves with humility, towards one another; for God resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble.^j ⁶Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time; ⁷casting all your worries on him, because he cares for you.

⁸Be sober and self-controlled. Be watchful. Your adversary the devil, walks around like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour. ⁹Withstand him steadfast in your faith, knowing that your brothers who are in the world are undergoing the same sufferings. ¹⁰And the God of all grace, who called you to his eternal glory in Christ,^k after you have suffered a little while, will himself restore, confirm, strengthen and establish you. ¹¹To him be the^l power forever^m. Amen.

2Peter

1 Simeon^p Peter, a servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, to those who have obtained a like precious faith with us in the righteousness of our God and Savior, Jesus Christ:

²Grace to you and peace be multiplied in the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord, ³seeing that his divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us by his own^q glory and virtue; ⁴by which he has granted to us his precious and exceedingly great promises; that through these you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world by lust. ⁵Yes, and for this very cause adding on your part all diligence, in your faith supply moral excellence; and in moral excellence, knowledge; ⁶and in knowledge, self-control; and in self-control, perseverance; and in perseverance, godliness; ⁷and in godliness, brotherly affection; and in brotherly affection, love. ⁸For if these things are yours and abound, they make you to be not idle nor unfruitful to the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. ⁹For he who lacks these things is blind, seeing only what is near, having forgotten the cleansing from his old sins. ¹⁰Therefore, brothers, be more diligent to make your calling and election sure. For if you do these things, you will never stumble. ¹¹For thus you will be richly supplied with the entrance into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

¹²Therefore I will be ready always^r to remind you of these things, though you know them, and are established in the present truth. ¹³I think it right, as long as I am in this tent, to stir you up by reminding you; ¹⁴knowing that the putting off of my tent comes swiftly, even as our Lord Jesus Christ made clear to me. ¹⁵Yes, I will make every effort that you may always be able to remember these things even after my departure. ¹⁶For we did not follow cunningly devised tales, when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. ¹⁷For he received from God the Father honor and glory, when the voice came to him from the Majestic Glory, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."^s ¹⁸We heard this voice come out of heaven when we were with him on the holy mountain.

¹⁹We have the more sure word of prophecy; and you do well that you heed it, as to a lamp shining in a dark place, until the day dawns, and the morning star arises in your hearts: ²⁰knowing this first, that no prophecy of Scripture is of private interpretation. ²¹For no prophecy ever came by human will, but people spoke from^a God, being moved by the Holy Spirit.

2 But false prophets also arose among the people, as false teachers will also be among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, denying even the Master who bought them, bringing on themselves swift destruction. ²Many will follow their immoral^b ways, and as a result, the way of the truth will be maligned. ³In covetousness they will exploit you with deceptive words: whose sentence now from of old does not linger, and their destruction is not asleep^c. ⁴For if God did not spare angels when they sinned, but cast them down to the lower parts of hell,^d and committed them to chains^e of darkness, to be reserved for judgment; ⁵and did not spare the ancient world, but preserved Noah with seven others, a proclaimer of righteousness, when he brought a flood on the world of the ungodly; ⁶and turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes, condemned them to destruction, having made them an example of what is going to happen to the ungodly; ⁷and delivered righteous Lot, who was very distressed by the lustful life of the wicked ⁸(for that righteous man dwelling among them, was tormented in his righteous soul from day to day with seeing and hearing lawless deeds): ⁹the Lord knows how to deliver the godly out of temptation and to keep the unrighteous under punishment for the day of judgment; ¹⁰but chiefly those who walk after the flesh in the lust of defilement, and despise authority. Daring, self-willed, they are not afraid to blaspheme the glories; ¹¹whereas angels, though greater in might and power, do not bring a railing judgment against them before the Lord. ¹²But these, as unreasoning creatures, born natural animals to be taken and destroyed, speaking evil in matters about which they are ignorant, will in their destroying surely be destroyed, ¹³suffering the penalty as the wages of evil; people who count it pleasure to revel in the daytime, spots and blemishes, reveling in their deceit while they feast with you; ¹⁴having eyes full of adultery, and insatiable for sin, enticing unstable people, having a heart trained in greed. Children under a curse. ¹⁵Forsaking the right way they went astray, having followed the way of Balaam the son of Beor,^f who loved the wages of unrighteousness. ¹⁶But he was rebuked for his own transgression; a donkey that could not talk spoke with a human voice and stopped the irrationality of the prophet. ¹⁷These are wells without water, and mists driven by a storm; for whom the blackness of darkness has been reserved^g. ¹⁸For, uttering great swelling words of emptiness, they entice in the lusts of the flesh, by licentiousness, those who actually^h escape from those who live in error; ¹⁹promising them liberty, while they themselves are slaves of corruption; for a person is brought into bondage by whoever overcomes him.

²⁰For if, after they have escaped the defilement of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in it and overcome, the last state has become worse for them than the first. ²¹For it would be better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after knowing it, to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them. ²²Itⁱ has happened to them according to the true proverb, “The dog turns to his own vomit again,”^j and “the sow that has washed to wallowing in the mire.”

3 This is now, beloved, the second letter that I have written to you; and in both of them I stir up your sincere mind by reminding you; ²that you should remember the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and the commandment of the Lord and Savior through your apostles: ³knowing this first, that in the last days scoffers will come, mocking^k and walking after their own lusts, ⁴and saying, “Where is the promise of his coming? For, from the day that the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.” ⁵For this they willfully forget, that there were heavens from of old, and an earth formed out of water and amid water, by the word of God; ⁶by which means the world that then was, being deluged with water, was destroyed. ⁷But the heavens that now are, and the earth, by the same^l word have been stored up for fire, being reserved against the day of judgment and destruction of ungodly people. ⁸But do not forget this one thing, beloved, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. ⁹The Lord is not slow concerning his promise, as some count slowness; but is patient toward^m youⁿ, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance. ¹⁰But the day of the Lord will come as a thief^o; in which the heavens will pass away with a great noise, and the elements will be dissolved with fervent heat, and the earth and the works on it will not be found.^p ¹¹Therefore since all these things will be destroyed like this, what kind of people ought you to be in holy living and godliness, ¹²looking for and earnestly desiring the coming of the day of God, which will cause the burning heavens to be dissolved, and the elements will melt with fervent heat? ¹³But, according to his promise, we look for new heavens and a new earth, in which righteousness dwells.

¹⁴Therefore, beloved, seeing that you look for these things, be diligent to be found in peace, without blemish and blameless in his sight. ¹⁵Regard the patience of our Lord as salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given to him, wrote to you; ¹⁶as also in all of his letters, speaking in them of these things. In those, there are some things that are hard to understand, which the ignorant and unsettled twist, as they also do to the other Scriptures, to their own destruction. ¹⁷You therefore, beloved, knowing these things beforehand, beware, lest being carried away with the error of the wicked, you fall from your own steadfastness. ¹⁸But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and forever.^q

1 That which was from the beginning, that which we have heard, that which we have seen with our eyes, that which we saw, and our hands touched, concerning the Word of life ²(and the life was revealed, and we have seen, and testify, and declare to you the life, the eternal life, which was with the Father, and was revealed to us); ³that which we have seen and heard we declare to you also^a, that you also may have fellowship with us. Yes, and our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son, Jesus Christ. ⁴And we write these things^b, that our joy may be fulfilled.

⁵This is the message which we have heard from him and announce to you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. ⁶If we say that we have fellowship with him and walk in the darkness, we lie, and do not tell the truth. ⁷But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus^c, his Son, cleanses us from all sin. ⁸If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. ⁹If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us the sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. ¹⁰If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

2 My little children, I write these things to you so that you may not sin. If anyone sins, we have an advocate^d with the Father, Jesus Christ, the righteous. ²And he is the atoning sacrifice for our sins, and not for ours only, but also for the whole world. ³This is how we know that we know him: if we keep his commandments. ⁴One who says, "I know him," and does not keep his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him. ⁵But whoever keeps his word, God's love has truly been perfected in him. This is how we know that we are in him: ⁶he who says he remains in him ought himself also to walk just like he walked.

⁷Beloved^e, I write no new commandment to you, but an old commandment which you had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which you heard^f. ⁸Again, I write a new commandment to you, which is true in him and in you; because the darkness is passing away, and the true light already shines. ⁹He who says he is in the light and hates his brother, is in the darkness even until now. ¹⁰He who loves his brother remains in the light, and there is no occasion for stumbling in him. ¹¹But he who hates his brother is in the darkness, and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

¹²I write to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.

¹³I am writing^g to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning.

I write to you, young people, because you have overcome the evil one.

I write to you, little children, because you know the Father.

¹⁴I have written to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning.

I have written to you, young people, because you are strong, and the word of God remains in you, and you have overcome the evil one.

¹⁸Little children, these are the end times, and as you heard that the antichrist is coming, even now many antichrists have arisen. By this we know that it is the final hour. ¹⁹They went out from us, but they did not belong to us; for if they had belonged to us, they would have continued with us. But they left, that they might be revealed that none of them belong to us. ²⁰But you have an anointing from the Holy One, and you know all things.^h ²¹I have not written to you because you do not know the truth, but because you know it, and because no lie is of the truth. ²²Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. ²³Whoever denies the Son, the same does not have the Father. He who confesses the Son has the Father also.ⁱ

²⁴As for you, let that remain in you which you heard from the beginning. If that which you heard from the beginning remains in you, you also will remain in the Son, and in the Father. ²⁵This is the promise which he promised us, the everlasting life. ²⁶These things I have written to you concerning those who would lead you astray. ²⁷As for you, the anointing which you received from him remains in you, and you do not need for anyone to teach you. But as his^k anointing teaches you concerning all things, and is true, and is no lie, and even as it taught you, you^l remain in him. ²⁸Now, little children, remain in him, that when he appears, we may have boldness, and not be ashamed before him at his coming. ²⁹If you know that he is righteous, you know that everyone also^m who practices righteousness is born of him.

3 See what kind of love the Father has bestowed on us, that we should be called children of God; and we are.ⁿ For this reason the world does not know us^o, because it did not know him. ²Beloved, now we are children of God, and it is not yet revealed what we will be. ³We know that, when he is revealed, we will be like him; for we will see him just as he is. ⁴Everyone who has this hope set on him purifies himself, even as he is pure. ⁵Everyone who sins also commits lawlessness. lawlessness. ⁵You know that he was revealed to take away^a sins, and in him is no sin. ⁶Whoever remains in him does not sin. Whoever sins hasn't seen him, neither knows him.

⁷Children, let no one lead you astray. He who does righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous. ⁸He who sins is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. To this end the Son of God was revealed, to destroy the works of the devil. ⁹Whoever is born of God does not commit sin, because his seed remains in him; and he cannot sin, because he is born of God. ¹⁰In this the children of God are revealed, and the children of the devil. Whoever does not do righteousness is not of God, neither is he who does not love his brother. ¹¹For this is the message which you heard from the beginning, that we should love one another; ¹²unlike Cain, who was of the evil one, and killed his brother. Why did he kill him? Because his works were evil, and his brother's righteous. ¹³Therefore do not be surprised,^b brothers, if the world hates you. ¹⁴We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. He who does not love^c remains in death. ¹⁵Whoever hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has everlasting life remaining in him^d.

¹⁶By this we know love,^e because he laid down his life for us. And we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. ¹⁷But whoever has the world's goods, and sees his brother in need, and closes his heart of compassion against him, how does the love of God remain in him? ¹⁸Little children, let us not love in word only, neither with the tongue only, but in deed and truth. ¹⁹And by this we will^g know that we are of the truth, and persuade our heart^h before him, ²⁰because if our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and knows all things. ²¹Beloved, if our hearts do not condemn us, we have confidence before God; ²²and whatever we ask, we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do the things that are pleasing in his sight. ²³This is his commandment, that we should believe in the name of his Son, Jesus Christ, and love one another, even as he commanded usⁱ. ²⁴He who keeps his commandments remains in him, and he in him. By this we know that he remains in us, by the Spirit which he gave us.

4 Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits, whether they are of God, because many false prophets have gone out into the world. ²By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit who confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is of God, ³and every spirit who does not confess^j Jesus is not of God; and this is that of the antichrist, of whom you have heard that it comes. Now it is in the world already. ⁴You are of God, little children, and have overcome them; because greater is he who is in you than he who is in the world. ⁵They are of the world. Therefore they speak of the world, and the world hears them. ⁶We are of God. He who knows God listens to us. He who is not of God does not listen to us. By this we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

⁷Beloved, let us love one another, for love is of God; and everyone who loves is born of God, and knows God. ⁸He who does not love does not know God, for God is love. ⁹By this God's love was revealed in us, that God has sent his one and only Son into the world that we might live through him. ¹⁰In this is love, not that we have loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son as the atoning sacrifice for our sins. ¹¹Beloved, if God loved us in this way, we also ought to love one another. ¹²No one has seen God at any time. If we love one another, God remains in us, and his love has been perfected in us.

¹³By this we know that we remain in him and he in us, because he has given us of his Spirit. ¹⁴We have seen and testify that the Father has sent the Son as the Savior of the world. ¹⁵Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God remains in him, and he in God. ¹⁶We know and have believed the love which God has for us. God is love, and he who remains in love remains in God, and God remains in him. ¹⁷In this love has been made perfect among us, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment, because as he is, even so are we in this world. ¹⁸There is no fear in love; but perfect love casts out fear, because fear has punishment. He who fears is not made perfect in love. ¹⁹We love^k, because he first loved us. ²⁰If anyone says, "I love God," and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen, cannot love God whom he has not seen. ²¹This commandment we have from him, that he who loves God should also love his brother.

5 Whoever believes that Jesus is the Christ is born of God. Whoever loves the Father also loves the child who is born of him. ²By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and do his commandments. ³For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments. His commandments are not grievous. ⁴For whatever is born of God overcomes the world. This is the victory that has overcome the world: our^l faith. ⁵Who is he who overcomes the world, but he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? ⁶This is he who came by water and blood, Jesus Christ; not with the water only, but with the water and the blood. It is the Spirit who testifies, because the Spirit is the truth. ⁷For there are three who testify^m: ⁸the Spirit, the water, and the blood; and the three agree as one. ⁹If we accept human testimony, the witness of God is greater; for this is God's testimony that he has testified concerning his Son. ¹⁰He who believes in the Son of God has the testimony in himself. He who does not believe God has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that God has given concerning his Son. ¹¹The testimony is this, that God gave to us everlasting life, and this life is in his Son. ¹²He who has the Son has the life. He who does not have God's Son does not have the life. ¹³These things I have written to you who believe in the name of the Son of God, that you may know that you have everlasting lifeⁿ.

¹⁴This is the boldness which we have toward him, that, if we ask anything according to his will, he listens to us. ¹⁵And if we know that he listens to us, whatever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him.

¹⁶If anyone sees his brother sinning a sin not leading to death, he should ask, and he will give him life for those who sin not leading to death. There is a sin leading to death. I do not say that he should make a request concerning this. ¹⁷All unrighteousness is sin, and there is a sin not leading to death. ¹⁸We know that whoever is born of God does not sin, but he who was born of God protects him, and the evil one does not touch him. ¹⁹We know that we are of God, and the whole world lies in the power of the evil one. ²⁰We know that the Son of God has come, and has given us an understanding, that we know him who is true, and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life.

2John

1 The elder, to the chosen lady and her children, whom I love in truth; and not I only, but also all those who know the truth; ²for the truth's sake, which remains in us, and it will be with us forever: ³Grace, mercy, and peace will be with us, from God the Father, and from^b Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

⁴I rejoice greatly that I have found some of your children walking in truth, even as we have been commanded by the Father. ⁵And now I ask you, dear lady, not as though I wrote to you a new commandment, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another. ⁶And this is love, that we should walk according to his commandments. This is the commandment, even as you heard from the beginning, that you should walk in it. ⁷For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who do not confess that Jesus Christ came in the flesh. This is the deceiver and the antichrist. ⁸Watch yourselves, that you^c do not lose the things which we have accomplished, but that you^d receive a full reward. ⁹Whoever goes on^e and does not remain in the teaching of Christ, does not have God. He who remains in the teaching, the same has both the Father and the Son. ¹⁰If anyone comes to you, and does not bring this teaching, do not receive him into your house, and do not welcome him, ¹¹for he who welcomes him participates in his evil works.

3John

1 The elder to Gaius the beloved, whom I love in truth.

²Beloved, I pray that you may prosper in all things and be in good health, even as your soul prospers. ³For I rejoiced greatly, when brothers came and testified about your truth, even as you walk in truth. ⁴I have no greater joy than this, to hear about my children walking in truth.

⁵Beloved, you do a faithful work in whatever you accomplish for those who are brothers and strangers. ⁶They have testified about your love before the church. You will do well to send them forward on their journey in a manner worthy of God, ⁷because for the sake of the Name they went out, taking nothing from the non-believers. ⁸We therefore ought to receive such, that we may be fellow workers for the truth.

⁹I wrote something to the church, but Diotrephes, who loves to be first among them, does not accept what we say. ¹⁰Therefore, if I come, I will call attention to his deeds which he does, unjustly accusing us with wicked words. Not content with this, neither does he himself receive the brothers, and those who would, he forbids and throws out of the church. ¹¹Beloved, do not imitate that which is evil, but that which is good. He who does good is of God. He who does evil hasn't seen God. ¹²Demetrius has the testimony of all, and of the truth itself; yes, we also testify, and you know that our testimony is true.

¹³I had many things to write to you^g, but I am unwilling to write to you with ink and pen; ¹⁴but I hope to see you soon, and we will speak face to face. Peace be to you. The friends greet you. Greet the friends by name.

Jude

1 Jude,^h a servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to those who are called, lovedⁱ by God the Father, and kept for Jesus Christ: ²Mercy to you and peace and love be multiplied.

³Beloved, while I was very eager to write to you about our^j common salvation, I was constrained to write to you exhorting you to contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all delivered to the saints. ⁴For there are certain people who crept in secretly, even those who were long ago written about for this condemnation: ungodly people, turning the grace of our God into sensuality, and denying our only Master^k and Lord, Jesus Christ.

⁵Now I want to remind you, though you already know all these things, that the Lord,^l having saved a people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed those who did not believe. ⁶Angels who did not keep their first domain, but deserted their own dwelling place, he has kept in everlasting bonds under darkness for the judgment of the great day. ⁷Even as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities around them, having, in the same way as these, given themselves over to sexual immorality and gone after strange flesh, are set forth as an example, suffering the punishment of everlasting fire.

⁸Yet in like manner these also in their dreaming defile the flesh, despise authority, and blaspheme the glories. ⁹But Michael, the archangel, when contending with the devil and arguing about the body of Moses, dared not bring against him an abusive condemnation, but said, "May the Lord rebuke you." ¹⁰But these speak evil of whatever things they do not know. What they understand naturally, like the creatures without reason, they are destroyed in these things. ¹¹Woe to them. For they went in the way of Cain, and ran riotously in the error of Balaam for profit, and perished in Korah's rebellion.

¹²These are hidden rocky reefs in your love feasts when they feast with you, shepherds who without fear feed themselves; clouds without water, carried along by winds; autumn leaves without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots; ¹³wild waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, for whom the blackness of darkness has been reserved forever. ¹⁴About these also Hanoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, "Look, the Lord comes with ten thousands of his saints, ¹⁵to execute judgment on all, and to convict every person of all their works of ungodliness which they have done in an ungodly way, and of all the hard things which ungodly sinners have spoken against him."

¹⁶These are murmurers and complainers, walking after their lusts (and their mouth speaks proud things), showing respect of persons to gain advantage.

¹⁷But you, beloved, remember the words which have been spoken before by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ. ¹⁸They said to you that "In the end time there will be mockers, walking after their own ungodly lusts."^a ¹⁹These are they who cause divisions, and are sensual, not having the Spirit. ²⁰But you, beloved, keep building yourselves up in your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Spirit. ²¹Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to everlasting life. ²²And be merciful on those who doubt, ²³and some save,^b snatching them out of the fire, and on some have mercy with fear^c; hating even the clothing stained by the flesh.

²⁴Now to him who is able to keep you^d from stumbling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory in great joy, ²⁵to the only^e God our Savior, through Jesus Christ our Lord,^f be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and forever. Amen.

Revelation

1 This is the Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave him to show to his servants the things which must happen soon, which he sent and made known by his angel^g to his servant, John, ²who testified to God's word, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, about everything that he saw.

³Blessed is he who reads and those who hear the words of the prophecy, and keep the things that are written in it, for the time is near.

⁴John, to the seven churches that are in Asia: Grace to you and peace, from him^h who is and who was and who is to come; and from the seven Spirits who are before his throne; ⁵and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the firstborn of the dead, and the ruler of the kings of the earth. To him who loves us, and freedⁱ us from our sins by his blood; ⁶and he made us to be a kingdom,^j priests^k to his God and Father; to him be the glory and the dominion forever and ever.^l Amen.

¹²I turned to see the voice that spoke with me. Having turned, I saw seven golden lampstands. ¹³And among the^s lampstands was one like a son of man,^t clothed with a robe reaching down to his feet, and with a golden sash around his chest. ¹⁴His head and his hair were white as white wool, like snow. His eyes were like a flame of fire. ¹⁵His feet were like burnished bronze, as if it had been refined in a furnace. His voice was like the voice of many waters. ¹⁶He had seven stars in his right hand. Out of his mouth proceeded a sharp two-edged sword. His face was like the sun shining at its brightest. ¹⁷When I saw him, I fell at his feet like a dead man.

He laid his right hand on me, saying, "Do not be afraid. I am the first and the last, ¹⁸and the Living one. I was dead, but look, I am

The seven stars are the angels^c of the seven churches. The seven lampstands are seven churches.

2 “To the angel of the church in Ephesus write:

“He who holds the seven stars in his right hand, he who walks among the seven golden lampstands says these things:

²“I know your works, and your toil and perseverance, and that you cannot tolerate those who are evil, and have tested those who call themselves apostles, and they are not, and found them false. ³You have perseverance and have endured for my name’s sake, and have^d not grown weary. ⁴But I have this against you, that you left your first love. ⁵Remember therefore from where you have fallen, and repent and do the first works; or else I am coming to you,^e and will move your lampstand^f out of its place, unless you repent. ⁶But this you have, that you hate the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. ⁷He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To him who overcomes I will give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the^g Paradise of^h God.

Be faithful until death, and I will give you the crown of life. ¹¹He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. He who overcomes won’t be harmed by the second death.

“He who has the sharp two-edged sword says these things:

¹³“I know^j where you dwell, where Satan’s throne is. You hold firmly to my name, and did not deny my faith even^k in the days of Antipas, my witness, my^l faithful one, who was killed among you, where Satan dwells. ¹⁴But I have a few things against you, because you have there some who hold the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to throw a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to idols, and to commit sexual immorality. ¹⁵So you also have some who hold to the teaching of the Nicolaitans likewise^m. ¹⁶Repent therefore,ⁿ or else I am coming to you quickly, and I will make war against them with the sword of my mouth. ¹⁷He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. She teaches and seduces my servants to commit sexual immorality, and to eat things sacrificed to idols. ²¹I gave her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her sexual immorality. ²²Look, I will throw her into a sickbed,^q and those who commit adultery with her into great oppression, unless they repent of her^r works. ²³I will kill her children with Death, and all the churches will know that I am he who searches the minds and hearts. I will give to each one of you according to your deeds. ²⁴But to you I say, to the rest who are in Thyatira, as many as do not have this teaching, who do not know what some call ‘the deep things of Satan,’ to you I say, I am not putting any other burden on you. ²⁵Nevertheless, hold that which you have firmly until I come. ²⁶He who overcomes, and he who keeps my works to the end, to him I will give authority over the nations. ²⁷He will rule them with an iron scepter, shattering them like clay pots;^s as I also have received of my Father: ²⁸and I will give him the morning star. ²⁹He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

Be zealous therefore, and repent. ²⁰Look, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him, and will dine with him, and he with me. ²¹He who overcomes, I will give to him to sit down with me on my throne, as I also overcame, and sat down with my Father on his throne. ²²He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.”

4 After these things I looked and saw a door opened in heaven, and the first voice that I heard, like a trumpet speaking with me, was one saying, “Come up here, and I will show you the things which must happen after this.”

²Immediately I was in the Spirit; and look, there was a throne set in heaven, and one sitting on the throne. ³And the one who sat there^b looked like a jasper stone and a sardius. There was a rainbow around the throne, like an emerald to look at. ⁴Around the throne were twenty-four thrones. On the thrones were twenty-four elders sitting, dressed in white garments, with crowns of gold on their heads. ⁵And from the throne came flashes of lightning and sounds and peals of thunder. And there were seven torches of fire burning before the^c throne, which are the seven^d Spirits of God. ⁶Before the throne was something like a sea of glass, similar to crystal. In the midst of the throne, and around the throne were four living creatures full of eyes before and behind. ⁷The first living creature was like a lion, and the second living creature like a calf, and the third living creature had a face like a man, and the fourth living creature^e was like a flying eagle. ⁸The four living creatures, each one of them having six wings, are full of eyes around and within. They have no rest day and night, saying, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord God Almighty, who was and who is and who is to come.”

⁹And when the living creatures give glory and honor and thanks to him who sits on the throne, to him who lives forever and ever, ¹⁰the twenty-four elders fall down before him who sits on the throne, and worship him who lives forever and ever, and throw their crowns before the throne, saying, ¹¹“Worthy are you, our Lord and God,^f to receive the glory, the honor, and the power, for you created all things, and because of your desire they existed, and were created.”

5 I saw, in the right hand of him who sat on the throne, a scroll written inside and on the back^g, sealed shut with seven seals. ²I saw a mighty angel proclaiming with a loud voice, “Who is worthy to open the scroll, and to break its seals?” ³No one in heaven above,^h or on the earth, or under the earth, was able to open the scroll, or to look in it. ⁴And I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open the scroll, or to look in it. ⁵One of the elders said to me, “Do not weep. Look, the Lion who is of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has overcome so that he can open the scroll and looseⁱ its seven seals.” ⁶I saw in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the seven^j Spirits of God, sent out into all the earth. ⁷Then he came, and he took it out of the right hand of him who sat on the throne. ⁸Now when he had taken the scroll, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each one having a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. ⁹They sang a new song, saying, “You are worthy to take the scroll, and to open its seals: for you were killed, and redeemed for God with your blood those from every tribe, language, people, and nation, ¹⁰and made them a kingdom^k and priests to our God, and they^l will reign on earth.”

¹¹I saw, and I heard^m the voice of many angels around the throne, the living creatures, and the elders; and the number of them was ten thousands of ten thousands, and thousands of thousands; ¹²saying with a loud voice, “Worthy is the Lamb who has been killed

6 I saw when^d the Lamb opened one of the seven^e seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures saying, as with a voice of thunder, “Come.”^f ²And I looked,^g and suddenly there was a white horse, and he who sat on it had a bow; and a crown was given to him, and he came forth conquering, and to conquer.

³When he opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying, “Come.”^h ⁴Another came forth, a fiery redⁱ horse. To him who sat on it was given power to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another. There was given to him a great sword.

⁵When he opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature saying, “Come.”^j And I looked, and suddenly there was a black horse, and he who sat on it had a balance in his hand. ⁶I heard something like a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, “A choenix^k of wheat for a denarius, and three choenixes of barley for a denarius. Do not damage the oil and the wine.”

⁷When he opened the fourth seal, I heard the fourth living creature saying, “Come.”^l ⁸And I looked, and suddenly there was a pale horse, and he who sat on it had the name Death. Hell^m followed with him. Authority over one fourth of the earth, to kill with the sword, with famine, with death, and by the wild animals of the earth was given to him.

⁹When he opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of peopleⁿ who had been killed for the Word of God, and for the testimony^o which they had. ¹⁰They called out with a loud voice, saying, “How long, Master, the holy and true, until you judge and avenge our blood on those who dwell on the earth?” ¹¹A long white robe was given to each of them. They were told that they should rest yet for a little longer, until their fellow servants and their brothers, who would also be killed even as they were, should complete their course.

¹²I saw when he opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake. The sun became black as sackcloth made of hair, and the whole moon became as blood. ¹³The stars of the sky fell to the earth, like a fig tree dropping its unripe figs when it is shaken by a great wind. ¹⁴The sky was removed like a scroll when it is rolled up. Every mountain and island were moved out of their places. ¹⁵The kings of the earth, the princes, the commanding officers, the rich, the strong, and every slave and free person, hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains. ¹⁶They told the mountains and the rocks, “Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him who sits on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb, ¹⁷for the great day of their^p wrath has come; and who is able to stand?”

7 And^q after this, I saw four angels standing on the four quarters^r of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, so that no wind would blow on the earth, or on the sea, or on any tree. ²I saw another angel ascend from the sunrise, having the seal of the living God. He called out with a loud voice to the four angels to whom it was given to harm the earth and the sea, ³saying, “Do not harm the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, until we have sealed the servants of our God on their foreheads.” ⁴I heard the number of those who were sealed, one hundred forty-four thousand, sealed out of every tribe of the children of Israel: ⁵of the tribe of Judah were sealed twelve thousand, of the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand, of the tribe of Gad twelve thousand, ⁶of the tribe of Asher twelve thousand, of the tribe of Naphtali twelve thousand, of the tribe of Manasseh twelve thousand, ⁷of the tribe of Simeon twelve thousand, of the tribe of Levi twelve thousand, of the tribe of Issachar twelve thousand, ⁸of the tribe of Zebulun twelve thousand, of the tribe of Joseph twelve thousand^d, of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

¹¹All the angels were standing around the throne, the elders, and the four living creatures; and they fell on their faces before the^t throne, and worshiped God, ¹²saying, “Amen. Blessing, glory, wisdom, thanksgiving, honor, power, and might, be to our God forever and ever. Amen.”

8 When he opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour. ²I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and seven trumpets were given to them. ³Another angel came and stood over the altar, having a golden censer. Much incense was given to him to offer up, with the prayers of all the saints, on the golden altar which was before the throne. ⁴The smoke of the incense, with the prayers of the saints, went up before God out of the angel’s hand. ⁵The angel took the censer, and he filled it with the fire of the altar, and threw it on the earth. There followed thunders, sounds, lightnings, and an earthquake.

⁶The seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound. ⁷And the first^b sounded, and there followed hail and fire, mixed with blood, and they were thrown to the earth. One third of the earth was burnt up,^c and one third of the trees were burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

⁸The second angel sounded, and something like a great mountain burning with fire^d was thrown into the sea. One third of the sea became blood, ⁹and one third of the living creatures which were in the sea died. One third of the ships were destroyed.

¹⁰The third angel sounded, and a great star fell from the sky, burning like a torch, and it fell on one third of the rivers, and on the springs of the waters. ¹¹The name of the star is called “Wormwood.” One third of the waters became wormwood. Many people died from the waters, because they were made bitter.

¹²The fourth angel sounded, and one third of the sun was struck, and one third of the moon, and one third of the stars; so that one third of them would be darkened, and the day would not shine for one third of it, and the night in the same way. ¹³I saw, and I heard an eagle,^e flying in mid heaven, saying with a loud voice, “Woe. Woe. Woe for those who dwell on the earth, because of the other voices of the trumpets of the three angels, who are yet to sound.”

9 The fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star from the sky which had fallen to the earth. The key to the pit of the abyss was given to him. ²He opened the shaft of the bottomless pit, and smoke went up out of the shaft, like the smoke from a great^f furnace. The sun and the air were darkened because of the smoke from the pit. ³Then out of the smoke came forth locusts on the earth, and power was given to them, as the scorpions of the earth have power. ⁴They were told that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only those people who do not have God’s seal on their^g foreheads. ⁵They were given power not to kill them, but to torment them for five months. Their torment was like the torment of a scorpion, when it strikes a person. ⁶In those days people will seek death, and will in no way find it. They will desire to die, and death will flee from them. ⁷The shapes of the locusts were like horses prepared for war. On their heads were something like golden crowns, and their faces were like people’s faces. ⁸They had hair like women’s hair, and their teeth were like those of lions. ⁹They had breastplates, like breastplates of iron. The sound of their wings was like the sound of chariots, or of many horses rushing to war. ¹⁰They have tails like those of scorpions, and stings. In their tails is their^h power to harm people for five months. ¹¹They have over them as king the angel of the abyss. His name in Hebrew is “Abaddon,”ⁱ and in Greek, he has the name “Apollyon.”^j ¹²The first woe is past. Look, there are still two woes coming after this.

¹³The sixth angel sounded. I heard a voice from the four^k horns of the golden altar which is before God, ¹⁴saying to the sixth angel who had one trumpet, “Free the four angels who are bound at the great river Euphrates.”^l

¹⁵The four angels were freed who had been prepared for this hour and day and month and year, so that they might kill one third of humanity. ¹⁶The number of the armies of the horsemen^m was twoⁿ hundred million^o. I heard the number of them. ¹⁷Thus I saw the horses in the vision, and those who sat on them, having breastplates of fiery red, hyacinth blue, and sulfur yellow; and the heads of lions. Out of their mouths proceed fire, smoke, and sulfur. ¹⁸By these three plagues were one third of humanity killed: from the fire, the smoke, and the sulfur, which proceeded out of their mouths. ¹⁹For the power of the horses^p is in their mouths, and in their tails. For their tails are like serpents, and have heads, and with them they harm. ²⁰The rest of humanity, who were not killed with these plagues, did not repent of the works of their hands, that they would not worship demons, and the idols of gold, and of silver, and of bronze, and of stone, and of wood; which can neither see, nor hear, nor walk. ²¹They did not repent of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their sexual immorality, nor of their thefts.

10 I saw another^q mighty angel coming down out of the sky, clothed with a cloud. A rainbow was on his head. His face was like the sun, and his legs^r like pillars of fire. ²He had in his hand a little^s open scroll. He set his right foot on the sea, and his left on the land. ³He shouted with a loud voice, as a lion roars. When he shouted, the seven thunders uttered their voices. ⁴When the seven thunders sounded, I was about to write; but I heard a voice from the sky saying, “Seal up the things which the seven thunders said, and do not write them.”

⁵The angel whom I saw standing on the sea and on the land lifted up his right^a hand to the sky, ⁶and swore by him who lives forever and ever, who created heaven and the things that are in it, the earth and the things that are in it, and the sea and the things that are in it, that there will no longer be delay, ⁷but in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, then the mystery of God is finished, as he declared to his servants, the prophets. ⁸The voice which I heard from heaven, again speaking with me, said, “Go, take the^b scroll which is open in the hand of the angel who stands on the sea and on the land.”

⁹I went to the angel, telling him to give me the little scroll.

He said to me, “Take it, and eat it up. It will make your stomach bitter, but in your mouth it will be as sweet as honey.”

¹⁰I took the little^c scroll out of the angel’s hand, and ate it up. It was as sweet as honey in my mouth. When I had eaten it, my stomach was made bitter. ¹¹They^d told me, “You must prophesy again about many peoples, nations, languages, and kings.”

11 A reed like a rod was given to me. Someone said^e, “Rise and measure God’s temple, and the altar, and those who worship in it. ²Leave out the court which is outside of the temple, and do not measure it, for it has been given to the nations. They will tread the holy city under foot for forty-two months. ³I will give power to my two witnesses, and they will prophesy one thousand two hundred sixty days, clothed in sackcloth.” ⁴These are the two olive trees and the two lampstands, standing before the Lord^f of the earth. ⁵If anyone desires to harm them, fire proceeds out of their mouth and devours their enemies. If anyone desires to harm them, he must be killed in this way.

⁶These have the power to shut up the sky, that it may not rain during the days of their prophecy. They have power over the waters, to turn them into blood, and to strike the earth with every plague, as often as they desire. ⁷When they have finished their testimony, the beast that comes up out of the abyss will make war with them, and overcome them, and kill them. ⁸Their dead bodies will be in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also their^g Lord was crucified.

⁹From among the peoples, tribes, languages, and nations people will look at their dead bodies for three and a half days, and will not allow their dead bodies to be placed in a tomb^h. ¹⁰Those who dwell on the earth rejoice over them, and they will be glad. They will give gifts to one another, because these two prophets tormented those who dwell on the earth. ¹¹After the three and a half days, the breath of life from God entered into them, and they stood on their feet. Great fear fell on those who saw them.

¹²I heard a loud voice from heaven saying to them, “Come up here.” They went up into heaven in the cloud, and their enemies saw them. ¹³In that hourⁱ there was a great earthquake, and a tenth of the city fell. Seven thousand people were killed in the earthquake, and the rest were terrified, and gave glory to the God of heaven. ¹⁴The second woe is past. Look, the third woe comes quickly.

¹⁵The seventh angel sounded, and great voices in heaven followed, saying, “The kingdom of the world now belongs to our Lord and to his Christ, and he will reign forever and ever.”

¹⁶The twenty-four elders, who sit on their thrones before God’s throne, fell on their faces and worshiped God, ¹⁷saying: “We give you thanks, Lord God Almighty, the one who is and who was^j; because you have taken your great power, and reigned. ¹⁸The nations were angry, and your wrath came, as did the time for the dead to be judged, and to give your servants the prophets, their reward, as well as to the saints, and those who fear your name, to the small and the great; and to destroy those who destroy the earth.”

¹⁹God’s temple that is in heaven was opened, and the ark of his^k covenant was seen in his temple. Lightnings, sounds, thunders, an earthquake, and great hail followed.

12 A great sign was seen in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars. ²She was with child. She screamed out in pain, laboring to give birth. ³Another sign was seen in heaven. Look, a great fiery red serpent,^l having seven heads and ten horns, and on his heads seven crowns. ⁴His tail drew one third of the stars of the sky, and threw them to the earth. The serpent stood before the woman who was about to give birth, so that when she gave birth he might devour her child. ⁵She gave birth to a son, a male child, who is to rule all the nations with an iron scepter. Her child was caught up to God, and to his throne. ⁶The woman fled into the wilderness, where she has a place prepared by God, that there they may nourish her one thousand two hundred sixty days.

⁷There was war in the sky. Michael and his angels made war on the serpent. The serpent and his angels made war. ⁸They did not prevail, neither was a place found for them^m any more in heaven. ⁹The great serpent was thrown down, the ancient serpent, he who is called the devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole world. ¹³When the serpent saw that he was thrown down to the earth, he persecuted the woman who gave birth to the male child. ¹⁴Two wings of the great eagle were given to the woman, that she might fly into the wilderness to her place, so that she might be nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent. ¹⁵The serpent spewed water out of his mouth after the woman like a river, that he might cause her to be carried away by the stream. ¹⁶The earth helped the woman, and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed up the river which the serpent spewed out of his mouth. ¹⁷The serpent grew angry with the woman, and went away to make war with the rest of her offspring, who keep God’s commandments and hold to the testimony of Jesus.^a ¹⁸And he^b stood on the sand of the sea.

13 And I saw a beast coming up out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads. On his horns were ten crowns, and on his heads, blasphemous names.^c ²The beast which I saw was like a leopard, and his feet were like those of a bear, and his mouth like the mouth of a lion. The serpent gave him his power, his throne, and great authority. ³One of his heads looked like it had been wounded fatally. His fatal wound was healed, and the whole earth was amazed and followed the beast. ⁴They worshiped the serpent, because he gave his authority to the beast, and they worshiped the beast, saying, “Who is like the beast? Who is able to make war with him?” ⁵A mouth was given to him speaking proud words and blasphemies. There was given to him authority to act^d for forty-two months. ⁶He opened his mouth for blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name, and his dwelling, those who dwell in heaven. ⁷It was given to him to make war with the saints,^e and to overcome them. Authority over every tribe, people, language, and nation was given to him. ⁸All who dwell on the earth will worship him, everyone whose name has not been written from the foundation of the world in the Book of Life of the Lamb who has been killed. ⁹If anyone has an ear, let him hear. ¹⁰If anyone is to go into^f captivity,^g he will go into captivity. If anyone is to be killed with the sword, by the sword he must be killed. Here is the endurance and the faith of the saints.

¹¹I saw another beast coming up out of the earth. He had two horns like a lamb, and he spoke like a serpent. ¹²He exercises all the authority of the first beast in his presence. He makes the earth and those who dwell in it to worship the first beast, whose fatal wound was healed. ¹³He performs great signs, even making fire come down out of heaven to the earth in the sight of people. ¹⁴He deceives those^h who dwell on the earth because of the signs he was granted to do in front of the beast; saying to those who dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast who had been wounded by the sword and yet lived. ¹⁵It was given to him to give breath to it, to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast could both speak and cause those who would not worship the image of the beast to be killed. ¹⁶He causes all, the small and the great, the rich and the poor, and the free and the slave, to be given a markⁱ on their right hand, or on their forehead;^j ¹⁷and that no one could be able to buy or to sell, unless he has that mark, the name of the beast or the number of his name. ¹⁸Here is wisdom. He who has understanding, let him calculate the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man. His number is six hundred sixty-six.

14 And I looked, and suddenly on Mount Zion stood the Lamb, and with him^k one hundred forty-four thousand, having his name, and the name of his Father, written on their foreheads. ²I heard a sound from heaven, like the sound of many waters, and like the sound of a great thunder. The sound which I heard was like that of harpists playing on their harps. ³They sing a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders. No one could learn the song except the one hundred forty-four thousand, those who had been redeemed out of the earth. ⁴These are those who were not defiled with women, for they are virgins. These are those who follow the Lamb wherever he goes. These were redeemed^l from among humanity, the first fruits to God and to the Lamb. ⁵In their mouth was found no lie; they are blameless.^m

⁶I saw anotherⁿ angel flying in mid heaven, having an everlasting Good News to proclaim to those who dwell on the earth, and to every nation, tribe, language, and people. ⁷He said with a loud voice, “Fear God^o, and give him glory; for the hour of his judgment has come. Worship him who made the heaven, the earth, the sea, and the springs of waters.”

⁸Another, a second^p angel, followed, saying, “Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, which has made all the nations to drink of the wine of the wrath of her sexual immorality.”

⁹Another angel, a third, followed them, saying with a great voice, “If anyone worships the beast and his image, and receives a mark on his forehead, or on his hand, ¹⁰he also will drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is prepared unmixed in the cup of his anger. He will be tormented with fire and sulfur in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb. ¹¹The smoke of their torment goes up forever and ever. They have no rest day and night, those who worship the beast and his image, and whoever receives the mark of his name. ¹²Here is the patience of the saints, those who keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.”

¹³I heard the voice from heaven saying^q, “Write, ‘Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on.’”

“Yes,” says the Spirit, “that they may rest from their labors; for their works follow with them.”

¹⁴And I looked, and suddenly there was a white cloud, and on the cloud one sitting like a son of man,^r having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle. ¹⁵Another angel came out from the temple, crying with a loud voice to him who sat on the cloud, “Send forth your sickle, and reap; for the hour to reap has come; for the harvest of the earth is ripe.”¹⁶He who sat on the cloud thrust his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

¹⁷Another angel came out from the temple which is in heaven. He also had a sharp sickle. ¹⁸Another angel came out from the altar, he who has power over fire, and he called with a loud voice to him who had the sharp sickle, saying, “Send forth your sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, for its grapes are fully ripe.” ¹⁹The angel thrust his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vintage of the earth, and threw it into the great winepress of the wrath of God. ²⁰The winepress was trodden outside of the city, and blood came out from the winepress, even to the bridles of the horses, as far as one hundred eighty four miles.^a

15 I saw another great and marvelous sign in the sky: seven angels having the seven last plagues, for in them God’s wrath is finished. ²I saw something like a sea of glass mixed with fire, and those who overcame the beast, his image,^b and the number of his name, standing on the sea of glass, having harps of God. ³They sang the song of Moses, the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, “Great and marvelous are your works, Lord God Almighty. Righteous and true are your ways, King of the nations.^c ⁴Who would not fear you, Lord, and glorify your name? For you only are holy. For all the nations will come and worship before you. For your righteous acts have been revealed.”

⁵After these things I looked, and the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened. ⁶The seven angels came out of the temple^d who had the seven plagues, clothed with pure, bright linen, and wearing golden sashes around their chests.

⁷One of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who lives forever and ever. ⁸The temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power. No one was able to enter into the temple, until the seven plagues of the seven angels would be finished.

16 I heard a loud voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, “Go and pour out the seven^e bowls of the wrath of God on the earth.”

²The first went, and poured out his bowl into the earth, and it became a harmful and evil sore on the people who had the mark of the beast, and who worshiped his image.

³The second one poured out his bowl into the sea, and it became blood as of a corpse. And every living thing in the sea died.

⁴The third poured out his bowl into the rivers and springs of water, and they became blood. ⁵I heard the angel of the waters saying, “You are righteous,^f who is and who was, the Holy One,^g because you have judged these things. ⁶For they poured out the blood of the saints and the prophets, and you have given them blood to drink. They deserve this.” ⁷I heard the altar saying, “Yes, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are your judgments.”

⁸The fourth poured out his bowl on the sun, and it was given to him to scorch people with fire. ⁹People were scorched with great heat, and they^h blasphemed the name of God who has the power over these plagues. They did not repent and give him glory.

¹⁰The fifth poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and his kingdom was darkened. They gnawed their tongues because of the pain, ¹¹and they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores. They did not repent of their works.

¹²The sixth poured out his bowl on the great river, the Euphrates.ⁱ Its water was dried up, that the way might be made ready for the kings that come from the sunrise. ¹³I saw coming out of the mouth of the serpent, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits, something like frogs; ¹⁴for they are spirits of demons, performing signs; which go forth to the kings of the whole inhabited earth, to gather them together for the war of the great day of God the Almighty.

¹⁵“Look, I am coming like a thief. Blessed is he who watches, and keeps his clothes, so that he does not walk naked, and they see his shame.” ¹⁶He gathered them together into the place which is called in Hebrew, Har Megiddo.^j

¹⁷The seventh poured out his bowl into the air. A loud voice came forth out of the temple,^k from the throne, saying, “It is done.” ¹⁸There were lightnings, voices, and peals of thunder; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since man was on the earth, so great an earthquake, so mighty. ¹⁹The great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell. Babylon the great was remembered in the sight of God, to give to her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath. ²⁰Every island fled away, and the mountains were not found. ²¹Great hailstones, about one hundred pounds each,^l came down out of the sky on people. People blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail, for this plague is exceedingly severe.

17 One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and spoke with me, saying, “Come here. I will show you the judgment of the great prostitute who sits on many waters, ²with whom the kings of the earth committed sexual immorality, and those who dwell in the earth were made drunk with the wine of her sexual immorality.” ³He carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness. I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet-colored animal, full of blasphemous names, having seven heads and ten horns. ⁴The woman was dressed in purple and scarlet, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations and the impurities of her sexual immorality.⁵ And on her forehead a name was written, “MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE PROSTITUTES AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.”⁶ I saw the woman drunk with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. When I saw her, I wondered with great amazement.⁷ The angel said to me, “Why do you wonder? I will tell you the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carries her, which has the seven heads and the ten horns.”⁸ The beast that you saw was, and is not; and is about to come up out of the abyss and is going^a to destruction. Those who dwell on the earth and whose names have not been written in the Book of Life from the foundation of the world will marvel when they see that the beast was, and is not, but is to come.⁹ Here is the mind that has wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sits.¹⁰ They are seven kings. Five have fallen, the one is, the other has not yet come. When he comes, he must continue a little while.¹¹ The beast that was, and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he goes to destruction.¹² The ten horns that you saw are ten kings who have received no kingdom as yet, but they receive authority as kings, with the beast, for one hour.¹³ These have one mind, and they give their power and authority to the beast.¹⁴ These will war against the Lamb, and the Lamb will overcome them, for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings. They also will overcome who are with him, called and chosen and faithful.”¹⁵ He said to me, “The waters which you saw, where the prostitute sits, are peoples, multitudes, nations, and languages.¹⁶ The ten horns which you saw, and the beast, these will hate the prostitute, and will make her desolate and^b naked, and will eat her flesh, and will burn her utterly with fire.¹⁷ For God has put in their hearts to do what he has in mind, and to be of one mind, and to give their kingdom to the beast, until the words of God should be accomplished.¹⁸ The woman whom you saw is the great city, which reigns over the kings of the earth.”

18 After these things, I saw another angel coming down out of the sky, having great authority. The earth was illuminated with his glory.² He shouted with a mighty voice, saying, “Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, and she has become a habitation of demons, a prison of every unclean spirit, and a prison of every unclean bird, and a prison of every unclean and detestable beast.”³ For all the nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her sexual immorality, the kings of the earth committed sexual immorality with her, and the merchants of the earth grew rich from the abundance of her luxury.”

⁴I heard another voice from heaven, saying, “Come out of her, my people, that you have no participation in her sins, and that you do not receive of her plagues,⁵ for her sins have reached to the sky, and God has remembered her iniquities.⁶ Return to her just as she returned, and repay her double as she did, and according to her works. In the cup which she mixed, mix to her double.⁷ However much she glorified herself, and grew wanton, so much give her of torment and mourning. For she says in her heart, ‘I sit a queen, and am no widow, and will in no way see mourning.’⁸ Therefore in one day her plagues will come: death, mourning, and famine; and she will be utterly burned with fire; for the Lord God who has judged her is strong.⁹ The kings of the earth, who committed sexual immorality and lived wantonly with her, will weep and wail over her, when they look at the smoke of her burning,¹⁰ standing far away for the fear of her torment, saying, ‘Woe, woe, the great city, Babylon, the strong city. For your judgment has come in one hour.’¹¹ The merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no one buys their merchandise any more;¹² merchandise of gold, silver, precious stones, pearls, fine linen, purple, silk, scarlet, all expensive wood, every vessel of ivory, every vessel made of most precious wood, and of bronze, and iron, and marble;¹³ and cinnamon, spice, incense, perfume, frankincense, wine, olive oil, fine flour, wheat, cattle, sheep, horses, chariots, slaves and human lives.¹⁴ The fruits which your soul lusted after have been lost to you, and all things that were luxury and splendor have perished from you, and you will never ever find them again.¹⁵ The merchants of these things, who were made rich by her, will stand far away for the fear of her torment, weeping and mourning;¹⁶ saying, ‘Woe, woe, the great city, she who was dressed in fine linen, purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls.’¹⁷ For in an hour such great riches are made desolate.’ Every shipmaster, and everyone who sails anywhere, and mariners, and as many as gain their living by sea, stood far away,¹⁸ and exclaimed as they looked at the smoke of her burning, saying, ‘What is like the great city?’¹⁹ They cast dust on their heads, and shouting, weeping and mourning, saying, ‘Woe, woe, the great city, in which all who had their ships in the sea were made rich by reason of her great wealth.’ For in one hour is she made desolate.

²⁰“Rejoice over her, O heaven, you saints, apostles, and prophets; for God has judged your judgment on her.”²¹ A mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone and cast it into the sea, saying, “Thus with violence will Babylon, the great city, be thrown down, and will be found no more at all.²² The voice of harpists, minstrels, flute players, and trumpeters will be heard no more at all in you. No craftsman, of whatever craft, will be found any more at all in you. The sound of a mill will be heard no more at all in you.²³ The light of a lamp will shine no more at all in you. The voice of the bridegroom and of the bride will be heard no more at all in you; for your merchants were the princes of the earth; for with your sorcery all the nations were deceived.²⁴ In her was found the blood of prophets and of saints, and of all who have been slain on the earth.”

19 After these things I heard something like a loud voice of a great multitude in heaven, saying, “Hallelujah. Salvation, glory, and power belong to⁴ our God: for true and righteous are his judgments. For he has judged the great prostitute, who corrupted the earth with her sexual immorality, and he has avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.”

³A second said, “Hallelujah. Her smoke goes up forever and ever.”⁴ The twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshiped God who sits on the throne, saying, “Amen. Hallelujah.”

⁵A voice came forth from the throne, saying, “Give praise to our God, all you his servants, you who fear him, the small and the great.”

⁶I heard something like the voice of a great multitude, and like the voice of many waters, and like the voice of mighty thunders, saying, “Hallelujah. For the Lord our God the Almighty reigns.⁷ Let us rejoice and be exceedingly glad, and let us give the glory to him.

⁹He said to me, “Write, ‘Blessed are those who are invited to the marriage supper of the Lamb.’” He said to me, “These are true words of God.”

¹⁰I fell down before his feet to worship him. He said to me, “Look. Do not do it. I am a fellow servant with you and with your brothers who hold the testimony of Jesus. Worship God, for the testimony of Jesus is the Spirit of Prophecy.”

¹¹And I saw heaven opened, and suddenly there was a white horse, and he who sat on it is called Faithful and True. In righteousness he judges and makes war. ¹²His eyes are a flame of fire, and on his head are many crowns. He had^a a name written which no one knows but he himself. ¹³He is clothed in a garment dipped^b in blood. His name is called “The Word of God.” ¹⁴The armies which are in heaven followed him on white horses, clothed in white, pure, fine linen. ¹⁵Out of his mouth proceeds a sharp^c sword, that with it he should strike the nations. He will rule them with an iron scepter.^d He treads the winepress of the fierceness of the wrath of God, the Almighty. ¹⁶He has on his garment and on his thigh a name written, “King of kings, and Lord of lords.”

¹⁷I saw an angel standing in the sun. He shouted with a loud voice, saying to all the birds that fly in the sky, “Come. Be gathered together to the great supper of God,^e ¹⁸that you may eat the flesh of kings, the flesh of captains, the flesh of mighty people, and the flesh of horses and of those who sit on them, and the flesh of all people, both free and slave, and small and great.” ¹⁹I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him who sat on the horse, and against his army. ²⁰The beast was taken, and with him the false prophet who worked the signs in his sight, with which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshiped his image. These two were thrown alive into the lake of fire that burns with sulfur. ²¹The rest were killed with the sword of him who sat on the horse, the sword which came forth out of his mouth. All the birds were filled with their flesh.

20 I saw an^f angel coming down out of heaven, having the key of the abyss and a great chain in his hand. ²He seized the serpent, the ancient snake,^g which is the devil and Satan,^h and bound him for a thousand years, ³and cast him into the abyss, and shut it, and sealed it over him, that he should deceive the nations no more, until the thousand years were finished. After this, he must be freed for a short time. ⁴I saw thrones, and they sat on them, and judgment was given to them. I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, and such as did not worship the beast nor his image, and did not receive the mark on their forehead and on their hand.

They lived, and reigned with Christ for a thousand years. ⁵The rest of the dead did not live until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection. ⁶Blessed and holy is he who has part in the first resurrection. Over these, the second death has no power, but they will be priests of God and of Christ, and will reign with him one thousand years.

⁷And after the thousand years, Satan will be released from his prison, ⁸and he will come out to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to the war; the number of whom is as the sand of the sea. ⁹They went up over the breadth of the earth, and surrounded the camp of the saints, and the beloved city, and fire came down out of heavenⁱ and devoured them. ¹⁰The devil who deceived them was thrown into the lake of fire and sulfur, where the beast and the false prophet are also. They will be tormented day and night forever and ever.

¹¹I saw a great white throne, and him who sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away. There was found no place for them. ¹²I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne^j, and they opened books. Another book was opened, which is the Book of Life. The dead were judged out of the things which were written in the books, according to their works. ¹³The sea gave up the dead who were in it. Death and hell^k gave up the dead who were in them. They were judged, each one according to his works. ¹⁴Death and hell^l were thrown into the lake of fire. This is the second death, the lake of fire. ¹⁵If anyone was not found written in the Book of Life, he was cast into the lake of fire.

21 I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth have passed away, and the sea is no more. ²^m I saw the holy city, New Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, made ready like a bride adorned for her husband. ³I heard a loud voice from the throneⁿ saying, “Look, the tabernacle of God is with humans, and he will dwell with them, and they will be his people,^o and God himself will be with them and be their God.^p ⁴And he will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, nor will there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, anymore, for^q the first things have passed away.”

⁵He who sits on the throne said, “Look, I am making all things new.” He said^r, “Write, for these words are faithful and true.” ⁶He said to me, “It is done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. I will give freely to him who is thirsty from the spring of the water of life. ⁷He who overcomes, I will give him these things. I will be his God, and he will be my son. ⁸But to the cowards, and unbelieving,^s and detestable, and murderers, and sexually immoral, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, their portion will be in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death.”

⁹One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls, full of the seven last plagues came, and he spoke with me, saying, “Come here. I will show you the bride, the wife of the Lamb.” ¹⁰He carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high mountain, and showed me the holy city, Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, ¹¹having the glory of God. Her light was like a most precious stone, as if it was a jasper stone, clear as crystal; ¹²having a great and high wall; having twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels; and names written on them, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel. ¹³On the east were three gates; and on the north three gates; and on the south three gates; and on the west three gates. ¹⁴The wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. ¹⁵He who spoke with me had for a measure, a golden reed, to measure the city, its gates, and its wall. ¹⁶The city lies foursquare, and its length is as great as its breadth. He measured the city with the reed, one thousand three hundred eighty miles.^a Its length, breadth, and height are equal. ¹⁷Its wall is one hundred forty-four cubits,^b by human measurement, that is, of an angel. ¹⁸The construction of its wall was jasper. The city was pure gold, like pure glass. ¹⁹The foundations of the city's wall were adorned with all kinds of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire^c; the third, chalcedony; the fourth, emerald; ²⁰the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoprasus; the eleventh, jacinth; and the twelfth, amethyst. ²¹The twelve gates were twelve pearls. Each one of the gates was made of one pearl. The street of the city was pure gold, like transparent glass. ²²I saw no temple in it, for the Lord God the Almighty and the Lamb are its temple. ²³The city has no need for the sun, neither of the moon, to shine, for the very glory of God illuminated it, and its lamp is the Lamb. ²⁴The nations will walk^d in its light. The kings of the earth bring their splendor^e into it. ²⁵Its gates will in no way be shut by day (for there will be no night there), ²⁶and they will bring the glory and the honor of the nations into it.^f ²⁷There will in no way enter into it anything profane, or one who causes an abomination or a lie, but only those who are written in the Lamb's Book of Life.

22 He showed me a^g river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God^h and of the Lamb,ⁱ ²in the middle of its street. On this side of the river and on that was the tree of life, bearing twelve kinds of fruits, yielding its fruit every month.^j The leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. ³There will be no curse any more. The throne of God and of the Lamb will be in it, and his servants serve him. ⁴They will see his face, and his name will be on their foreheads. ⁵There will no longer be any night, and they have no need for the light of a lamp or the light of the sun, because the Lord God will shine on them. And they will reign forever and ever.^k

⁶He said to me, "These words are faithful and true. The Lord God of the spirits of the prophets sent his angel to show to his servants the things which must happen soon."

⁷"Look, I am coming quickly. Blessed is he who keeps the words of the prophecy of this book."

⁸Now I, John, am the one who heard and saw these things. When I heard and saw, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel who had shown me these things. ⁹He said to me, "See you do not do it. I am a fellow servant with you and with your brothers, the prophets, and with those who keep the words of this book. Worship God." ¹⁰He said to me, "Do not seal up the words of the prophecy of this book, for the time is near. ¹¹He who acts unjustly, let him act unjustly still. He who is filthy, let him be filthy still. He who is righteous, let him do righteousness still. He who is holy, let him be holy still."

¹²"Look, I am coming quickly. My reward is with me, to repay to each person according to his work.^l ¹³I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End.^m ¹⁴Blessed are they who wash their robesⁿ, that they may have the right to the tree of life, and may enter in by the gates into the city. ¹⁵Outside are the dogs, the sorcerers, the sexually immoral, the murderers, the idolaters, and everyone who loves and practices falsehood. ¹⁶I, Jesus, have sent my angel to testify these things to you for the churches. I am the root^o and the offspring^p of David; the bright morning star.^q"

¹⁷The Spirit and the bride say, "Come." He who hears, let him say, "Come." He who is thirsty, let him come. He who desires, let him take the water of life freely. ¹⁸I testify to everyone who hears the words of the prophecy of this book, if anyone adds to them, God will add to him the plagues which are written in this book. ¹⁹If anyone takes away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God will^r take away his part from the tree of life,^s and out of the holy city, which are written in this book. ²⁰He who testifies these things says, "Yes, I come quickly."

PROPHECY

Psalm 22

For the Chief Musician. Set to "The Doe of the Morning." A Psalm by David.

- 22:1 My God, my God, why have you forsaken me? Why are you so far from helping me, and from my anguished cries?
22:2 My God, I cry in the daytime, but you do not answer; and by night, and have no rest.
22:3 But you are holy, enthroned on the praises of Israel.
22:4 Our fathers trusted in you. They trusted, and you delivered them.
22:5 They cried to you, and escaped. They trusted in you, and were not put to shame.
22:6 But I am a worm, not a man; scorned by men, and despised by the people.
22:7 All those who see me mock me. They insult me with their lips. They shake their heads, saying,
22:8 "He trusts in the LORD; let him deliver him. Let him rescue him, since he delights in him."
22:9 You brought me out of the womb. You made me trust at my mother's breasts.
22:10 I was cast upon you from my mother's womb. You are my God since my mother bore me.
22:11 Do not be far from me, for trouble is near. For there is none to help.
22:12 Many bulls have surrounded me. Strong bulls of Bashan have encircled me.
22:13 They open their mouths wide against me, lions tearing prey and roaring.
22:14 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint. My heart is like wax; it is melted within me.
22:15 My strength is dried up like a potsherd. My tongue sticks to the roof of my mouth. You have brought me into the dust of death.
22:16 For dogs have surrounded me. A company of evildoers have enclosed me. They have pierced my hands and my feet.
22:17 I can count all of my bones. They look and stare at me.
22:18 They divide my clothes among them. They cast lots for my clothing.
22:19 But do not be far off, LORD. You are my help: hurry to help me.
22:20 Deliver my soul from the sword, my precious life from the power of the dog.
22:21 Save me from the lion's mouth. Yes, from the horns of the wild oxen, you have answered me.
22:22 I will declare your name to my brothers. In the midst of the assembly I will praise you.
22:23 You who fear the LORD, praise him. All you descendants of Jacob, glorify him. Revere him, all you descendants of Israel.
22:24 For he has not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted, neither has he hidden his face from him; but when he cried to him, he heard.
22:25 Of you comes my praise in the great assembly. I will pay my vows before those who fear him.
22:26 The humble shall eat and be satisfied. They shall praise the LORD who seek after him. Let your hearts live forever.
22:27 Every part of the earth shall remember and turn to the LORD, and all the families of the nations shall worship before you.
22:28 For the kingdom is the LORD's, and he is the ruler over the nations.
22:29 All the prosperous of the earth shall eat and worship. All those who go down to the dust shall bow before him, even he who can't keep his soul alive.
22:30 Posterity shall serve him. Future generations shall be told about the Lord.
22:31 They shall come and shall declare his righteousness to a people that shall be born, for he has done it.

Isaiah 52:13-53:12

- 52:13 Look, my servant shall prosper, he shall be exalted and lifted up, and shall be very high.
52:14 Just as many were astonished at you (his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men), 52:15 so shall he sprinkle many nations; kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they understand.
53:1 LORD, who has believed our message? And to whom has the power of the LORD been revealed?

^{53:2} For he grew up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of dry ground. He had no beauty or majesty to attract us to him, nor special appearance that we should desire him.

^{53:3} He was despised, and rejected by people; a man of sorrows, and familiar with illness; and as one from whom people hide their face. He was despised, and we did not value him.

^{53:4} Surely he bore our diseases, and took our pains; yet we considered him stricken, and struck down by God, and afflicted.

^{53:5} But he was pierced for our transgressions, and he was crushed for our iniquities. The punishment that brought our peace was on him; and by his stripes we are healed.

^{53:6} All we like sheep have gone astray. Everyone has turned to his own way; and the LORD has laid on him the iniquity of us all.

^{53:7} He was oppressed, yet when he was afflicted he did not open his mouth. He was led like a sheep to the slaughter, and like a lamb before its shearer is silent, so he does not open his mouth.

^{53:8} In his oppression his justice was taken away. Who will consider his generation? For his life was cut off from the earth. For the transgression of my people he was led to death.

^{53:9} And they assigned his grave with the wicked and with the rich in his death; though he had done no wrong, nor was deceit found in his mouth.

^{53:10} Yet the LORD was pleased to crush him and make him ill. When you make his soul an offering for sin, he will see his offspring, he will prolong his days, and the pleasure of the LORD will prosper in his hand.

^{53:11} After the suffering of his soul he will see light and be satisfied. By his knowledge will my servant, the righteous one, make many righteous, and he will bear their iniquities.

^{53:12} Therefore I will divide him a portion with the great, and he will divide the spoil with the strong; because he poured out his soul to death, and he was numbered with transgressors; yet he bore the sins of many, and made intercession for their transgressions.

Zechariah 12

¹⁰I will pour on the house of David, and on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of petition; and they will look to me whom they have pierced; and they shall mourn for him, as one mourns for his only son, and will grieve bitterly for him, as one grieves for his firstborn.

Jeremiah 31

³¹Look, the days come, says the LORD, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah:

³²not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they broke, and I disregarded them, says the LORD.

³³But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the LORD: I will put my law in their minds, and write it on their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people:

³⁴and they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the LORD; for they shall all know me, from the least of them to the greatest of them, says the LORD: for I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin will I remember no more.

SALVATION

“...choose this day whom you will serve...” (Joshua 24:15)

God created humankind, but in the beginning Adam and Eve sinned. The sin nature has been passed down to everyone. In addition, we all have chosen to do sins. Our sins separate us from God and we stand condemned. But God declares that he loves us and wants to have a personal relationship with us always.

If we want to be with God forever, he has provided a way to have forgiveness of our sins and bring reconciliation with him. If one chooses to stay in rebellion against God, that is a choice also. We are to choose this day whom we will serve.

If you want to be with God forever and want to have your sins forgiven, the way he has provided is through faith in his atonement, in the finished work of his Son, the lamb of God, the promised Messiah. He gave up his life willingly, taking the punishment for our sins, past, present, & future, so that we can have fellowship with a Holy God forever.

Here is how to invite Christ Jesus (Hebrew: Messiah Yeshua) into your heart and life as an act of faith to receive his atonement for your sins. Pray this:

“Dear God, I realize that I am a sinner in need of a Savior. I believe that Jesus died on the cross to pay the penalty for my sins, and that you raised him from the dead. I ask you, Jesus, to come into my heart and life. Thank you, Jesus.”

Grow in the knowledge of the Lord, and in your walk with him. Be transformed from a self-centered life to a God-centered life. As you surrender your own plans and will for your life, God’s Holy Spirit will guide you in every aspect of your life to fulfill the specific plan that God has for you. Put the word and your faith into action. The Christ is our supreme example. Read the Bible daily, and locate a congregation that believes that the Bible in its entirety is the word of God. Encourage one another, even more as you see the Day approaching.

Assurance of Salvation

“Truly, truly, I tell you, he who hears my word and believes him who sent me has everlasting life and does not come into judgment, but has passed out of death into life.” (John 5:24)

“Now it is God who makes both us and you stand firm in Christ. He anointed us, set his seal of ownership on us, and put his Spirit in our hearts as a deposit, guaranteeing what is to come.” (2 Corinthians 1:21-22)

“yet now has reconciled in the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and without blemish and blameless before him,” (Colossians 1:22)

“If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.” (1 John 1:9)

“My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. I give everlasting life to them. They will never perish, and no one will snatch them out of my hand.” (John 10:27)

Sins Forgotten

As far as the east is from the west, so far has he removed our transgressions from us. Psalm 103:12

Look, for peace I had great anguish, but you have in love for my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption; for you have cast all my sins behind your back. Isaiah 38:17

‘I will remember their sins and their iniquities no more.’ Now where forgiveness of these is, there is no more offering for sin. Hebrews 10:17-18 {Jeremiah 31:34}

“Therefore go, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to obey all things that I commanded you. And look, I am with you every day, even to the end of the age.” (Matthew 28:19-20)

Healing Examples

One ministry gives the following examples.

For ‘hands on,’ place your hands on the person (Mark 16:18; e.g. shoulders), and say, “Father, in the name of Jesus I lay my hands on this person. Be healed of [x] [or, ‘from the top of your head to the bottom of your feet’]. I release my faith, and expect a miracle.”

For ‘hands off’ (Matthew 8:8; Psalm 107:20; person in front of you, or not present), say, “Father, in the name of Jesus I send the word for this person to be healed of [x] [or, ‘from the top of your head to the bottom of your feet’]. I release my faith, and expect a miracle.”

Sometimes added, “Come out, in the name of Jesus!” Or, “I rebuke this satanic attack in the name of Jesus! Come out!”

For addition of oil (James 5:14-15). Anoint and pray one of above prayers. Oil is symbolic of the power of God.

For prayer cloths (Acts 19:12). Person touches cloth and prays, releases faith. Give to person that needs to be healed. “A point of contact for people to release their faith.” “Symbolic of the name of Jesus.”

Also, pray for the healing of one another (James 5:16).

While one should believe for instantaneous healing, an example was given of healing occurring ten days later. Another example was given of praying many verses on healing from the Bible a day, and healing came some time later.

Word of Knowledge

“For to one is given...the word of knowledge according to the same Spirit;” (1 Corinthians 12:8)

Types of word of knowledge that have been experienced by someone concerning someone else before or during healing:

- Feel it (feel pain or discomfort somewhere)
- Think it (thought)
- See it (a vision)
- Read it (vision of a word(s))
- Say it (a word during speaking)
- Dream it (a dream prior)
